THE WASHINGTON MANOR HOUSE, GARDSDON.

Wiltshire Notes and Queries,

MARCH, 1911.

THE WASHINGTON MEMORIALS AT GARSDON.

LAURENCE Washington, the first Registrar of the High Court of Chancery of that name, died in 1619. By his will, dated 10th May, 1619, proved Jan., 1619-20 (Soame, 3, P.C.C.), he bequeathed all his "lands, tenements, and hereditaments" to his "well-beloved son, Lawrence Washington, his heirs and assigns for ever", also all his "goods and chattels", apart from certain legacies to his "loving daughter, Mary Horspoole, wife to William Horspoole, gent.", and other persons, his son Lawrence being made sole executor. His funeral certificate contains so much information about him and his family that it is worth quoting in full, as given in Miscellanea Genealogica et Heraldica, 2nd ser., vol. i, p. 173:—

Lawrence Washington, of Maydeston, in Kent, gent., and Registrar of his Ma^{ties} high Court of Chauncerie, second sonne of Lawrence Washington, of Sowlegrave, in the County of Northampton, gent., and daughter of William Pargiter, of Gritworth in the County of Northampton aforesaid gent., deceased the 21st day of December, 1619, at his house in Chauncerie Lane and was buried in the parishe Church of . . . in Maydeston in Kent aforesayd, his body being thither translated on the 24th of the same moneth. He married two wyves, the first was Martha, daughter of Clement Nuse,¹ of Haddam, in the County of Hartf., gent., and had issue by her six sonnes and two daughters, viz.: Lawrence, his eldest sonne and heire, who also succeeded his father in the Office of Register, married to Anne Lewine, the da. of William Lewine, Doctor of the Civil Lawe and Judge of the prerogative Court; Clement, his second sonne and Clement his 3^d sonne, who dyed both without issue, Ralphe 4 sonne, William 5 sonne, and an other all dyed before their father. He had also two daughters by the sayd Martha, his first wife, the first was Mary married² to William Horsepool, of Buckland, neere Maydeston, in Kent, gent., the second daughter was Martha, married to Arthur Beswick, sonne and heir apparent of William Beswick, gent., of Spilmandine, in the parishe of Horsemandine, in the Countie of Kent aforesayd. The second wife of Lawrence Washington deceased was Mary, the daughter S^r Thomas Scott, of Scotts Hall, in the County of Kent aforesaid, Knight, and by her had no issue. This certificate was taken by William Penson, Lancaster Herald, the 14th of January, 1619, and is testified to be true under the hand of Lawrence Washington, the heire of the sayd Lawrence, deceased.

William Lewyn, whose daughter Anne Lawrence Washington, the younger, married, was of Ottringden, co. Kent, and became Master of Chancery about 1595. From the Register of St. Dunstan's in the West, it appears that there were three children of this marriage:—

Lawrence, son of Lawrence Washington, junior, buried 29 December, 1617.

Anne, daughter of Lawrence and Anne Washington, baptized 29 August, 1621.

Lawrence Washington baptized 30 September, 1622.

Lawrence Washington had succeeded to his father's post in 1619, and, no doubt, his business prospered. He received the honour of being made a knight³ in 1627, and became desirous of acquiring property in the country. What turned his attention particularly to Wiltshire we have no means of knowing for certain, but it seems probable that relatives of his had been settled near Malmesbury for some time. In the latest pedigree of the Washington family, as given by Mr. Waters, two unnamed uncles of Lawrence Washington occur. We have evidence that a Henry Washington and George Washington, who might well be these two uncles, were living near Malmesbury early in the seventeenth century. The will of Henry Washington is as follows:—

In the name of God, Amen, the seconde of July in the yeare of our lorde God 1570. I, henrye Washington, sike of bodye yet thankes be to god holle of memorye do make my laste will and testament in maner and forme followinge: firste I bequeath my soule to Almightye God and my bodie to be buried wthin the parishe church-yarde of St. Poule's of Malmesburie. Item I bequeath to my daughter, Elynor Washington, my presse. Itm., to my daughter Elynor, a fether bede and flocke bede and a paire of fine sheytes and a paire of canvas shetes. Itm., a fine diaper metclothe. Itm., two coffers. Itm., 8 platters, 4 sawsers and 3 candelstickes. Itm., the beste chaffeyndishe, a latin Bassen. Itm., a cistren and a querne. Itm., mi best crocke. Itm. I my [make?] Supervisers of my will: Willia[m] Shellard and Rauffe Meale.

(Consistory Court of Sarum, Book i, fo. 32.)

In the Malmesbury Abbey Parish Registers, which are not extant prior to 1590, occurs this entry of marriage:—

July, 1601. George Washington and Johan Hatt were maryed the 20th daye.

1625, Maye 2. George Washington.

There is, too, in Garsdon Church, a flat stone with the remains of an inscription which Mr. J. H. Lea, when he visited Garsdon in 1887, deciphered.

The earlier portion of the inscription contained these few letters:—

. . . ce the Bod . . . of Lawrence and D . me Jone . .

Beneath this place the Bodies of Lawrence the son and Dame Jone the wife of George Washington are buried.

There is no trace of a date upon the slab, but the entries from the Malmesbury Registers show that it must be between 1601 and 1625, probably near the earlier date. Certainly members of the Washington family had been in this district many years before Sir Lawrence became the purchaser of the Manor of Garsdon, and this connection may have forwarded the transaction. The Manor of Garsdon was part of the ancient possessions of Malmesbury Abbey, to which it was given in 1801, together with the Rectory and Patronage of the Church, by Matilda, Queen of William the Conquerer. According to the well-known story in Aubrey, at the Dissolution it was given by Henry VIII to "one Mody, his footman" for rescuing him when in danger of being suffocated to death through falling from his horse head foremost "into mudde". Anyhow, a grant of the Abbot's estate in Garsdon was made to Richard Moody in 36, Hen. VIII. In the Inq. Post Mort. of Sir Henry Moody, who was created Baronet in 1621, taken 4th Jan., 1630, he is stated to have died seised, together with other estates, of—

The manor of Garesdon and 20 messuages, 10 cottages, 10 tofts, one dovecote, one water mill, 1,500 acres of land, 200 acres of meadow, 1,000 acres of pasture, 100 acres of wood, 500 acres of furze and heath, and 40s. rent with appurtenances in Garesdon and of view of frank pledge and all things pertaining thereto in Garesdon, co. Wilts; of the advowson of the Church of Garesdon and of the tithes of corn, grain, and hay in Garesdon, formerly parcel of the possessions of the late monastery of Malmesbury.

This was declared to be—Held of the King in chief, by the service of a 20th part of a knight's fee and the yearly rent of £4 0s. 8d. for all services and demands, and are worth yearly, beyond reprises, £36 10s.

Sir Henry Moody died 23 April, 1629, at Garesdon, leaving a widow, Deborah (née Dunch), and heir, Henry. The property was apparently much encumbered, and was sold almost immediately. The following note of the fine between Sir Laurence Washington and Sir Henry Moody made in Hilary Term, 7 Chas. I (1631) gives the exact date:—

Sir Lawrence Washington, knight, Simon Horspoole, gent., Charles Escott, gent., and Francis Cliffe, gent., and Henry Mody, baronet, and Debora Mody, widow, manor of Garesdon, alias Garsdon, messuages and lands in Garesdon, Lee, Cloverton, Milborne, and Malmesbury, with advowson of the Church of Garesdon.¹

The younger Sir Henry Moody suffered severely in the Civil Wars. In the Calendar of State Papers, Dom. Series, is the entry:—

28 Nov., 1646. Sir Henry Moody, Bart., Garsdon, Wilts. Order on his petition discharging him from sequestration, he having taken the National Covenant and Negative Oath and deposed that he is not worth £300.

He is said to have afterwards settled in New England and died s.p. about 1662. The Deed by which the transfer of the Garsdon property to Sir Lawrence Washington was executed is not available, but in a Deed of Settlement, dated 19th Jan. 1677-8, the earliest referring to this Estate which can now be traced, it is thus described:—

All that the Manor of Garesdon, als. Garsdon, als. Garsden, in the County of Wilts, with the rights, members and appurtenances thereof, and all that the Scite and Capitall Messuage or Tenement of the Manor, and all houses, outhouses, etc., lands, meadows, etc., parcel of the same, and also all the Inclosed Ground with the appurtenances lyeing in Garesdon, etc., and in Lea, Cleverton, Whitchurch, Milborne, and Malmesbury, in the said county of Wilts, etc., called the Parke, containing by estima'con two hundred and one acres, etc., and certain closes of meadow and pasture, etc., within the parishes of Garesdon, Lea, etc., called and known by the several names of Flattingleyes, Shafhill, Cow Leyes, Fernelhill and Longemeade, containing together by estima'con four score and ten acres, three roods and four perches, and also several closes, etc., likewise in parishes of Garesdon, Lea, etc., known by the several names of Woodlands, Woodland Coppice, Longcroft, The Old Coney, Grey Thomas, Millards Bargain, Burgiss Bargain, Neaphill, Neaphill Mead, Fishers' Mead, Overs Churchleys and Gingells Churchleys, containing together by estima'con two hundred three-score and thirteen acres, and also all that one messuage and garden, etc., in Garesden, etc., called the Church House and Garden, and also all that one Watermill, etc., in Garesden, etc., and also the advowson, etc., and right of Patronage to the Rectory and Church of Garesden, etc., and also all those several closes, etc., in the parish of Mynty in the County of Gloustershire heretofore part of the late Forest of Bradon, etc., and by estima'con fourscore acres, late in tenure of Thomas Keene, etc., and that messuage etc., upon the same, and all those closes, etc., in late Forest of Braden, in the several tenures of the Copyholders and Leaseholders of the Manor of Garesden, etc., conteyning by estimac'on one hundred ninety and five acres, all which premisses in Mynty were allotted to Sir Lawrence Washington, etc., to be held in severalty in lieu of their rights within the Forest of Bradon, etc.

NORMAN PENNEY.

THE FAMILY OF SOUTH.

The pedigree of South was entered at the Visitation of Wilts in 1565. It is quite brief and runs as follows:—

William South, of Amesbury, co. Wilts, gent. married Margery, sister of Thomas Byflett of Basing Byflett, co. Hampshire, gent. and by her hath issue Thomas, son and heir, Gyles and Peter now living, Elizabeth married to Thomas Gawen, of Norrington, co. Wilts, gent., Ann married to Lawrence Dyer, of Wyncanton, co. Somerset, esquire, Dorothe and Alys.

Thomas South of Swallow Clyff, co. aforesaid, esquire, son and heir of William, married Isod daughter of [—] Rogers of Bradford, co. aforesaid esquire and by her had issue Thomas, son and heir; after the said Thomas married to his second wife the Lady Margery Pawlett, daughter of William, marquess of Winchester and widow of Richard Waller of Old Stoke, co. Southampton.

Memorandum that Thomas Byflett married Jone daughter of John Erneley, of Bishop's Cannings, esquire, and by her had issue John, son and heir, Jane, and Elizabeth.

The fact that a pedigree is entered at a Visitation is really nothing against it. Here a man states that his father's name is William, that he has two brothers and a son, that he has several sisters, and has been twice married; if the English is strictly correct, his father, doubtless aged, was still living—"hath issue" is the expression; and it is difficult to understand why "J. J. H." should have considered it reasonable to emend (vol. vi, p. 382 and p. 384) this simple contemporary statement of fact.

With an existence extending over centuries, illustrated at every turn by documents which are extant, what a history remains to be written of Salisbury and of its citizens! of the trades and the commerce upon which they thrived; of their investments, and the merchant turned squire; of that society which inhabited the Close, and was not the less pious or intellectual for its intimate connexion with generations of a pious and educated clergy! With this civic life the family of South was closely associated. They were important people in Salisbury in their day and passed early into the ranks of the squires. Supposing that there is no detailed account of them in existence, or in the hope that some of their numerous descendants may be tempted to disclose it, a few additions, from obvious sources, may be made to the very valuable notices of the name already contributed (vol. vi, pp. 381-384) by "J. J. H."

In Tropenell's time there were two men, Thomas and Robert South, who occur (see Cartulary), usually together, as jurors, witnesses to deeds and attorneys to deliver seisin, in relation to land in Laverstock, Chicklade, Hindon, East Harnham, and Durnford, between 1464 and 1485 as extreme dates. With regard to their status, they are not qualified as "gentlemen", still less as "esquires", but in the charters they follow hard, as witnesses, on the heels of the great men. They were obviously already highly respectable. We may assume that they were brothers, and not unreasonably suppose that they were born somewhere about 1430. It is very probable that they were citizens of Salisbury—Robert South was Mayor of Salisbury in 1479—and parishioners of St. Edmund's. We are still a little ahead of definite information, so there is no harm in supposing that from these two men descended two distinct families. "Robert" is a name which repeats itself in one line, "Thomas" in the other. Accordingly we select Robert as putative father of a John, mayor of Salisbury in 1502, and a Robert, and reach firm ground with the last will and testament of John. This second generation, according to our calculation, was born in or about 1460.

In the Churchwardens' Account of St. Edmund's and St. Thomas' of Salisbury, edited by the late Mr. Swayne and published in 1896, the name of South is of frequent occurrence. Robert Suth, or Southe, is mentioned as one of the churchwardens of St. Edmund's, 1468-70. A Robert South was again churchwarden there, 1481-3. In the account for the year 1483-4, 4*d.* is entered as received of Robert South "ffor a bequest", while there is an entry in an account of uncertain date, but referable to this period, of a sum received from Robert South and William —— [? South] for the souls of Thomas and Christian [? South] to be put in the bede roll (libro precum)—an entry which possibly may give us the names of a yet earlier generation, if Thomas and Christian were the parents of Robert and William. In 1484-5, in consideration of 6*s.* 8*d.*, "a place of a sepulchre" was "assigned and graunted to R. Sowth by fore the pite of Seynt Gregori by twix the sepulture of W. Harryes on the on' side of the same and the figure of Seynt Nectan on the odyr side by fore the quere dore and under the bellfrey".

Robert South, or Mr. Robert South, continues to be mentioned in accounts between 1490-1496. There can be very little doubt from the entries which follow that his wife (Alice) died in 1499 and he himself three years later.

Giftes for namys to be put in the bederolle this yere. Item resseyvyd of the gift of Robert Southe gent' [for] the namys of hym Alys his wiffe their faders and their moders to be set in the bederolle of the seide church of Seynt Edmunde that the pepulle ther beyng present may pray for ther Sowlys amongst all Christyn [sowlys] every Sunday when the parisshe preste rehersithe tham ther—in alle xls.

The above entries occur in the account of John Southe, and others, for the year, March 31, 1499 to 19 April, 1500. In the account for the year 1502-3 there is an entry of 13s. 4d. received from Robert South: also—and an entry, also in Latin, of 40s. received for registration of the names of Robert Southe and [blank] his wife in "le bederolle" among the names of benefactors there, that their names may be recited in the pulpit every Sunday because the custom is that all those qui habeant nomina sua ibidem registrata pay for themselves and wife 40s. at least.

All the above entries may be taken to refer to our first Robert, mayor in 1479, and father, as we suppose, of John and Robert to whom we now come. Of John we know that he accounted (above) 1499-1500, and that he was mayor of Salisbury in 1502. His will is as follows:—

19 May, 1505. I, John Sowthe, citizen of the city of New Sarum; to be buried in the church of St. Edmund; to Cathedral church, 6s. 8*d.*; to the high altar in the church of St. Edmund, 3s. 4*d.*; to the fabric of said church, 40s.; to church of St. Mary, Quarley [?]; parish church of Alyngton; parish church of Boscombe; parish church of Idmyston; chapel of St. Margaret in said parish; chapel of St. Thomas in said parish; servants Elizabeth, Sibille, and Edith; to William Sowthe, 20 ewes; to servant Robert Sowthe, 60 ewes; to Edmund Eyre, 100 ewes; to Edmund Eyre, all lands and tenements in Broughton, Winterslow, and Boscombe, after death of wife Johan; to Henry Hunt, his curate, 6s. 8*d.*; residue to wife Johan, sole executrix; brother Robert Sowth and John Selwode, supervisors; witnesses, Henry Hunt, curato meo, Robert Newe, Richard Grene, John Bedwell and other. Proved at Lameheth, 27 June, 1505, by proctor of Johan, relict and executrix. (C.P.C. Holgrave, fo. 33.)¹

Here went off some of the South fortune, to enrich the Eyres. If Edmund Eyre was a grandson of the testator, the dates suggested must be revised; but other kinship is possible, such as sister's son, or step-son. His widow, Joan, apparently long survived him, if the following entries in the account for 1543-4 refer to her:—"For the bequeste and the grave of Mastres Southe xxs. . . . Mastres Southes knyлле xxd."

Robert South, named as brother in the will, was, presumably, like his brother before him, mayor of Salisbury, in 1506. He occurs in 1506 and 1508 as auditor of the account of the stewards of the fraternity of Jesus Mass founded in St. Edmund's.

John South, in his will, mentions his servant, Robert South. There is nothing violent in supposing that this Robert was his nephew, son of his brother Robert, born about 1485-90, aged about 20 at the date of his uncle's will, and aged 45 or so when, in 1531, he in his turn was mayor of Salisbury.¹ "J.J.H." states that he married "Joane". His wife, at the date of his will, was "Beatrice". Possibly he was twice married, possibly "Joane" was the wife of the earlier Robert, and is the lady referred to above, who died 1543-4.

I, Robert South, of the City of New Sarum, co. Wilts, gentleman, 29 April, 1540; to be buried in the Hospital of Savoye, if it please God to call me to his mercie in this present sickness; eldest son Thomas my years to come in the fferme of Winterbourne Erlez, co. Wilts, held of the earl of Hertford, and cattle there; son Robert my years to come in the fferme of Straitford under the olde Castell of Sarum, held of the Subchaunter of the Cathedral Church of Sarum, and all cattle there, except two geldings bequeathed to said son Thomas; to said son Thomas my years to come in the parsonage of Pitton and ffarley held of the treasurer of the Cathedral Church of the Citie of Newe Sarum aforesaid; to wife Beatrice 100*l.* and household goods in the house in the Citie; also the years to come in the fferme in the Hunderth of Downton held of Master ffracncis Lowell and all goods and stock there; and all ffermeholds in ffisherton Anger held by indenture of Sir John Hamdon, Knight, except the lease of a mease called the Gaile in ffisherton Anger; if wife die before the end of the terme the residue of the term in ffishangerton to come to son Robert; daughters Sibell and Johan 100*l.* each; to every one of my five natural children; residue to sons Thomas South and Robert South, executors. Witnesses, William South, Thomas Cowdrington, John Make and other. Proved at London, 11 May, 1540, by proxy for the executors (C.P.C. Alenger, fo. 5).¹

Thomas South, born in accordance with the dates above supposed about 1515, and aged 25 and over at the time of his father's death, is mentioned by "J.J.H." as living 18 June, 1552, when he is described as "Thomas Sowthe of Falleston, Wilts, gentleman, son and heir of Robert Sowthe, late of Salisbury, gentleman, deceased." There is nothing further to be recorded of him at present.

That one of Robert's daughters married, as "J. J. H." says, Thomas Chaffin, appears by the will of her brother Robert. Inasmuch as Robert, the father, speaks of "my five natural children" and specifies four only, Thomas, Robert, Sibell, and Johan, in his will, it suggests itself that the child unnamed was already the wife of Chaffin and already provided for.

We now come to the will of Robert, the son, and with it to an end of our notes relating to this branch of the family of South.

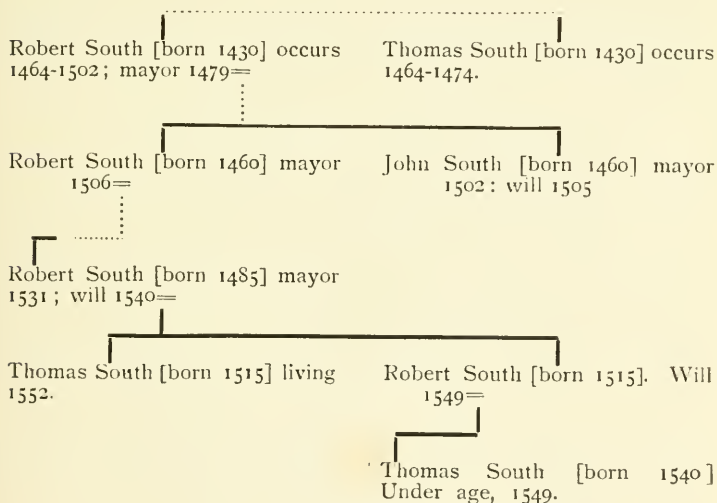

16 October, 1549.—I, Robert Sowght, of Stratford under the olde Castell, co. Wilshire, gentleman; to be buried in the parish church of Stratford, aforesaid; wife Elizabeth 60*l.*, etc. and lands in newe Sarum for life; son and heir Thomas Sowght; daughter Sybbel Sowght; wife to have custody of said children Thomas and Sibbell till they attain 17 years of age; brother-in-law Thomas Chaffyn, draper, of Sarum, and his children; servants; if wife die before children attain age of 17 brother-in-law Thomas Chaffyn, draper, to have custody of the children; residue to son Thomas Sowght, hooll executor; brother-in-law Thomas Chaffyn, draper, and George Snellgar, coadjutours to son and daughter till 17; said Thomas Chaffyn and George Snellgar, overseers. 11 February, 1549[-50] commission to Elizabeth, relict of deceased, to administer according to tenour of will during the minority of Thomas Sowght, the executor. (C.P.C. Coode, fo. 4).¹

The testator was presumably born about 1515: the boy the executor, about 1540, aged about 9 at his father's death.

"J.J.H." mentions a Thomas South, of Salisbury, grocer, living 13 James I (1615), whom he identifies with Thomas South, of Swallowcliff, esquire, assigns him a widow, Martha, and to Martha a son and heir, Richard. It appears, however, that the will of Thomas South, of Swallowcliff, esquire, was proved in 1606. Martha was the widow of Thomas of Swallowcliffe. After her husband's death she lived in Salisbury, in St. Thomas' parish. Her executor was her son Richard, but Edward South, of Swallowcliff, esquire, was her son and heir. Thus the grocer, Thomas South, was some other person than the squire of Swallowcliff, conceivably a son of the squire, who had a son Thomas, or a descendant of those other Souths whose wills are given above.

THE WILTSHIRE PROTESTATION RETURNS OF 1641-2.

By the courtesy of the Clerk of the Parliaments, Sir Henry John Lowndes Graham, K.C.B., I have been permitted to copy the documents containing the names of those who took the oath for so much of the County of Wilts as are still preserved at the House of Lords.

It will be noticed from the list of parishes that it is a very incomplete return for the whole County, only the south-eastern portion of the County being in existence, so far as at present known. It is possible that returns for other parishes may be in the keeping of the Clerks of the Peace, or, as in the case of some parishes in Leicestershire, they may have been copied into the Parish Registers. The oath was taken by all men of the age of eighteen and upwards.

The Protestation itself runs in the following terms:—

"I (A. B.) doe, in the presence of Almighty God, promise, vow, and protest to maintaine and defend, so farre as lawfullie I may, with my life, power, and estate, the true Reformed Protestant Religion expressed in the Doctrine of the Church of England, against all Poperie and Popish Innovations within this Realme contrarie to the same Doctrine and according to the dutie of my Allegiance [to] his Ma'ties Royall person, honor, and estate. As also the Power and Privileges of Parliament, the lawfull rights and Liberties of the subject, and every person that maketh this Protestation in whatsoever hee shall doe in the lawfull pursuence of ye same. And to my power, and as farre as lawfullie I may, I will oppose, and by all good waies and meanes indeavor to bring to condigne punishment all such as shall either by Force, Practise, Counsell, Plotts, Conspiracies, or otherwise do anie thing in this present Protestation contained. And further, that I shall in all Just and honorable waies endeavor to preserve ye Vnion and Peace between the three Kingdomes of England, Scotland, and Ireland. And neither for hope, feare, nor other respect, relinquish this promise, vow, and Protestation."

To quote the Appendix to the fifth Report of the Historical MSS. Commission, p. 3, "This Protestation was reported and agreed to in the Commons, and ordered to be made by every member of that House on the 3rd of May, 1641. It was agreed to by the Lords, and ordered to be made by every member of their House on the following day. On the 5th of May, the Commons ordered the Protestation and preamble to be printed, the copies to be attested by the clerk, and then sent by the members to their several counties and boroughs, with an intimation with what willingness the members of this House made this protestation and as they justify their taking of it themselves, so they cannot but approve it in them that shall likewise take it. Subsequently it was resolved that the Protestation is fit to be made by everyone, and that what person soever shall not make the protestation is unfit to bear office in the Church and Commonwealth, and that it is a "Shibboleth to discover a true Israelite". In January, 1641-2, the Speaker recommended by letter the making of the protestation to the Sheriffs, Mayors, and others in general. The returns of the names of those who had made the protestation appear to have come in rapidly after this, for on the 8th of March they are referred to a committee instructed to receive them, and to consider what is fit to be done with those that refuse the protestation. The returns are, for the most part, dated February and March, 1641-2, and contain, in almost all cases, the names of those persons who have subscribed the protestation, and sometimes also the names of any who have refused. In a few cases the minister of the parish certifies that "all have subscribed without giving the names".

At pp. 120 to 134 of the Appendix may be seen the names of the Counties and Parishes from which returns are extant.

OLIVER CROMWELL'S WILTSHIRE RELATIVES.

Numerous Cromwell entries appear in various Wiltshire and neighbouring parish registers from the sixteenth century onwards, and Mr. G. Waylen¹ gives numerous extracts of such entries. He remarks on p. 197 :—

“ It seems difficult now to ascertain what was the link of connection between members of the family in Wiltshire and Somersetshire, and those in the Eastern counties and London.”

The present article does not attempt to trace out these relationships, which are at least doubtful, but shows—it is believed for the first time—that both Cromwell and his wife were connected with Wiltshire, and that it was possibly through both families being already related to the Cranes of Newton Tony, that they first met.

It also opens up a possible connection between the Bouchers of Salisbury and the Bouchiers of Worcestershire, and it is hoped that any readers who know of further facts relating to the Boucher, Crane, Jones, Kent, Mallen, or Helme families about this period, will communicate them to the writer.

The connection of the Cromwells with Wiltshire was twofold.

(1) On August 22, 1620, Oliver Cromwell married Elizabeth Bouchier, at St. Giles's Church, Cripplegate, London.

A pedigree of this Bouchier family is given in the Visitation of Essex, 1634, in which it is stated that Elizabeth's father, Sir James Bouchier, Knt., married Frances, daughter of Thomas Crane of co. Suffolk.

While it is probably true that Thomas Crane originally belonged to the Cranes of Suffolk, he lived at Newton Tony, Wilts, and the registers there record the marriages of his two eldest daughters, as follows :—

1594 Aug. 26. David Waterhous & Elizabeth Crane.

1596 June 19. James Bowcher & Frances Crane.

(2) The second connection was also through the Cranes.

The youngest daughter of Thomas Crane married, as her second husband, the Protector's uncle, Henry Cromwell of Upwood, Hunts (3rd son of Sir Henry of Hinchinbrook "the golden knight"), and through this marriage (Thomas Crane having left the advowson of Newton Tony to his youngest daughter) Henry Cromwell appears as Patron of this Rectory in 1617.

Hoare² gives a list of the patrons of Newton Tony, in which the following names appear :—

1594 Thomas Craine, arm., de N. Tony.

1617 Henricus Cromwell, alias Williams, arm., et Eliza, uxor.

1633 Francis Jones, de N. Tony, arm.

It is interesting to note that Henry Cromwell as late as 1617 was still calling himself "alias Williams".

Some particulars of the Crane family may now be given:—

Thomas Crane of Newton Tony, Wilts, Esquire, who died in Oct. 1596, is said to have possessed a large secret estate³ besides the property mentioned in his will, a short abstract of which is here given. He was related to "Margery Grove of Chisenbury, gent.",³ and married Dorothy, eldest daughter of John Lockey⁴ of St. Albans, and of Holmes, par. Ridge, co. Herts, Esquire, by whom he left four daughters and coheirresses, as follows:—

- (1) Elizabeth, married at Newton Tony 1594, David Waterhouse of Oakwell Hall, p. Busstall, co. Yorks (7th son of John of Halifax and Shibden, co. Yorks, Esq.)⁵ Baptisd 3 March 1564; Bar.-at-Law of Inner Temple 1593; Bencher 1605; M.P. Aldborough 1588/9; M.P. Berwick-upon-Tweed 1601.
- (2) Frances, married at Newton Tony 1596, Sir James Bouchier, Knt., of Tower Hill, London, of Little Stambridge, and of Grandcourts, p. Felstead, co. Essex (only son of Thomas of Lombard Street, London, haberdasher). Perhaps the "James Bowcher of London" who became a student of the Inner Temple Nov. 1593; aged about 20 in Nov. 1594⁶; knighted at Whitehall 23 July 1603; died 1634 or 1635.
- (3) Sarah, married William Brockett.³
- (4) Eluiza, married (1) John Jones of Newton Tony, Wiltshire.³ She married (2) Henry Cromwell of Upwood, co. Hunts; B.C.L., and Fellow of St. John's Coll., Oxford; J.P. co. Hunts; M.P. for Borough of Huntingdon 1603-11; buried Upwood

The fact that Sir James Bouchier married in Wiltshire raises the further question:—

Were the Bouchers of the Close, Salisbury, connected with the Bouchiers of Worcestershire, whose representative Sir James was?

The tradition in the Salisbury family is that they were descended from an uncle (more likely a great uncle) of Sir James.

The arms used by the Wiltshire family, from at any rate the latter part of the seventeenth century to the present day⁹

⁸ Of Holmes, p. Ridge, Herts. Died, Apr. 1622.

⁹ With the exception that Wm. Boucher, of the Close, Salisbury, and of Thornhill House, Dorset (High Sheriff of Dorset, 1829) who died in 1836, aged 83, for some unknown reason in his old age suddenly gave up (viz. : Sa., a chevron ermine, between three leopards passant or) are those granted 23 Sept. 1587 by Robert Cooke, clarencieux, to "Thomas Bourcher of London, son of Richard Bourcher, son of Thomas Bourcher or Boucher of Poukestone,¹⁰ co. Worc., gent." The grantee was the father of Sir James, but the proof that the above patent was made retrospective and included all the descendants of the grantee's grandfather is that in the Visitation of Essex, 1634, the above arms are allowed to Thomas Bouchier, gentleman pensioner to King Charles I, who was descended from the grantee's grandfather, but not from the grantee himself.

It is, surely, unlikely that the Bouchers of Salisbury, if they had no right to any arms and merely assumed them, would have chosen the comparatively recently granted coat of the Worcestershire family. Would they not rather have taken the arms of the great feudal Bouchiers, as some Bouchers in more modern times seem to have done ?

The problem of unearthing the early history of the Bouchers of Salisbury is made more difficult by the fact that there were numerous families of this name connected with Wiltshire about this period. The feudal Bouchiers were represented by the Earls of Bath who owned property in the county, and possibly also by descendants of John Bouchier, second and last Lord Berners of this name, who died in 1533, leaving part of the Manor of Seend, Wilts, to his youngest illegitimate son George Bouchier,¹¹ who may perhaps have left children. Then there were numerous yeoman families of Boucher and Butcher scattered over the county; also the Bowchers of Bristol and East Harptree, co. Somerset, the using these Arms, and not only assumed the Feudal Bouchier Arms, but in 1836 erected a monument to several of his Ancestors in Fisherton Anger Church, on which he placed these latter Arms. In 1823 he had recorded his original Arms in Berry's Encyclopaedia Heraldica.

¹⁰ i.e. Puxton, near Kidderminster.

¹¹ His name appears in 1543 in Feet of Fines for Wilts. See W. N. S. Q., vol. iii, p. 126.

Bouchiers of Barnesley, co. Glouc., and the Bowsers of Tortworth, co. Glouc., all had relatives in Wiltshire during this period.

It may be objected that the spelling of the name in Wiltshire sometimes as Butcher is a great variation from Bouchier, but it can be shown that some of Sir James Bouchier's numerous uncles and great uncles used this form of spelling.

It is possible that the first member of this family who came into Wiltshire was the "Edward Bowcher" who died in 1665, aged 77, and to whom there was formerly a monumental inscription in Fisherton Anger Church,¹² though the registers there do not record his burial. The earliest known ancestor of the Salisbury family was Robert Boucher, Bouchier, or Butcher, who leased land in Ditchampton in 1642 and again in 1651 from the Earl of Pembroke, and died during the Commonwealth, leaving a mancipative will, an abstract of which is as follows:—

693 WOTTON.

Mem. the 14th Dec. 1657, that Robert Butcher of Ugford, co. Wilts, gent., published & declared his last Will, etc. £50 to each of his daus., Elizabeth, Joan,¹³ and Anne "after the decease of Mary their mother forth of a certaine meadow called great meade lying in Ditchampton in the possession of one Robert Carpenter". To son William B. his property in Ditchampton (except Great Mead Meadow, until he has paid off the legacies to his sisters) which said premises are contained in a chattell lease "bearing date the last day of Sept., 17 Chas. I. Married daughter Margaret.¹⁴ Wife Mary to be sole executrix. Steven Twogood¹⁵ and John Bushfield,¹⁶ gent., to be overseers. In presence of Stephen Twogood, John Busfield, John Twogood.

Proved at London 9 Dec. 1658 by Mary Boutcher, the relict.

¹⁴ Said to have married John Mallen (Malin?) (Family Deeds).

¹⁵ His will proved 1660 as "of Bulbridge and Ugford, gent." (Archd. Sarum).

¹⁶ His will proved 1671/2 as "of North Burcombe, Wilts, gent." (Archd. Sarum).

His widow, Mary Boucher, is almost certainly the "Mrs. Butcher, widdow," who was buried at Wilton, 27 July, 1667.¹⁷

Their son, William Boucher of the Close, Salisbury, who died 5 May 1676, is said by tradition to have been a lawyer (as so many of his descendants were) and to have been steward to some nobleman in Wiltshire. He married, probably about the time of his father's death, Margaret, daughter (and probably heiress) of the Rev. Richard Kent, M.A. (1615-1692), Rector of Fisherton Anger, 1644-92 (except that he was deprived of his living during the Commonwealth); Prebendary, 1664; Sub-Dean of Sarum, 1667; Rector of Odstock, 1668.

A possible clue to the connection of these two Boucher families is obtained from Dorothy Crane's will. It will be noticed that one of the witnesses is Elizabeth Kent of Newton Tony, Wilts. As the will was made in Essex, Elizabeth Kent was almost certainly a fairly intimate friend or relation, who was probably on a visit at the testator's house.

It seems highly likely that the Kents of the two neighbouring parishes of Newton Tony and Boscombe were of the same family, because, although Tristram Ashley of East Deane, Hampshire, is said in the 1623 Visitation of Wilts to have married Dorothy Kent of Boscombe, the marriage actually took place, 5 Dec. 1597, at Newton Tony.

It may also be worth noting that Wm. Boucher of Salisbury's father-in-law, the Rev. Richard Kent (son of Richard of Boscombe) married Margaret, daughter of the Rev. Wm. Helme, B.D., Vicar of Bishopston, Wilts 1613-39, who in 1610 had been Rector of Evendale, co. Worcester, so that possibly the Bouchers and Helmes had also known each other before the former migrated to Wiltshire.

The Registers of Combe Bissett, Wilts, records Mr. Kent's marriage as follows:—1639, Sept. 15, "Mr. Richard Kent, of Boscombe, and Mistress Margaret Helme."¹⁸

¹⁸ Kindly communicated by Baroness Von Roemer.

In conclusion the writer would like to correct an error he made about the Kent family on p. 432 W. N. & Q. He there gave the marriage entry at Fisherton Anger of Mr. Geo. Clements and Mrs. Anne Kent, and said that she was perhaps a daughter of Rev. Richard Kent. He has since discovered that this is not so,¹⁹ she being daughter of Thomas Kent, of Devizes, who died in 1656.

CRAWLBOYS.

A statement in the London papers announced recently (January 1911) that the estate of Crawlboys, near Ludgarshall, had been sold. This estate is not mentioned in Hoare, and there is only one reference to it in the Wiltshire Notes and Queries (Vol. II, pp. 14-16), but it is marked on Andrews and Dury's Map, of 1773, a little eastward of Ludgarshall.

The only further reference to it I have met with is contained in a private Act of Parliament (20 Geo. II, cap. 19), when it was in the possession of a family named Garrard. The history furnished by the Act extends over little more than a year, and is shortly as follows:—On 30th January, 1745/6, Thomas Garrard, of Lamborne, a widower with six sons, made a will, and after giving certain legacies, bequeathed his real estate in Essex, Berks, and Wilts to trustees for his sons. On the two following days indentures were drawn up between him, his eldest son Thomas, and the trustees, executed only by the two Thomas Garrards, father and son; by which, after reciting that the father was far advanced in years and heavily in debt, but anxious to pay off his debts and make provision for his children and grand-children, the estate real and personal was to be conveyed to the trustees for the payment of the debts, with the exception of property at Lamborne, the estate at Crawlboys, in Wilts, and £400 a year which he reserved to himself for life. In December, 1746, by which time one of the trustees, John Earle, of Chute Forest, Wilts, Esq., and the eldest son had paid off upwards of £3,000 of the debts, another settlement was thought desirable. The sons, it was stated, had all behaved with great duty and affection towards their father: Thomas, the eldest, was entitled to the reversion of the Lamborne property; the others, except the youngest, had had about £700 each expended upon them by way of portions or advancement; the youngest had had nothing. It was consequently agreed that the existing settlement was not proportionable with expectations of the younger sons "from the Education he [the father] had thought fit to give them or from their Behaviour towards him" and should be revoked. A fresh settlement was made reserving to the father the estate at Crawlboys, part of the Lamborne property and £400 a year for life; giving to the eldest son the rest of the Lamborne property, in fee simple in possession, charged with payment of the father's annuity; and to the other sons legacies of £920 each to George, Robert, and Christopher: £875 to Nicholas: and £750 to Richard, as well as £700 which he had not received by way of advancement like his brothers; and the real estate, including Crawlboys, in the parish of Collingborn, in reversion, was vested in the eldest son, charged with payment of the debts and legacies. Thomas Garrard, the father, died on 5 February, 1746/7, and the Act was passed to confirm a final settlement, under which Crawlboys passed to the eldest son, subject to certain charges.

The family of Thomas Garrard consisted of seven sons, six living: Thomas, George, Robert, Nicholas, John (deceased), Christopher, and Richard, and three daughters, Frances living, another, presumably dead, who had married Charles Goodlake, and Elizabeth (dead) who had married ——— Thompson. Their grandfathers are mentioned as Charles Garrard and George Willoughby. Nicholas had a son Thomas; John had children, Thomas, John, and Elizabeth, and the father had charged the estate with £1,000 for them, in case either Christopher or Richard should come into possession of it. Christopher had a wife, Mary; and Richard a wife, Sarah, and a son, Richard; Elizabeth Thompson had left a daughter, Mary, and other children. Two of the sons, Christopher and Richard, had been sent to Oxford—Pembroke College—and took Holy Orders. Christopher died in 1777, having apparently married a second wife and settled at Ramsbury; in his will (P.C.C. 266 Collins) he mentions his wife Hannah, and under the settlement confirmed by the Act his wife Mary was given an annuity if she survived him. He also bequeathed property to Sarah, the wife, and Christopher the son, of his brother Richard.

Wiltshire M.P.'s (vol. vi, p. 476).—Thomas Boucher, M.P. for Chippenham in 1723, born at Twickenham 1701, was only son of Thomas Boucher, Esq., of Ogbourne St. George, Wilts, and of Twickenham, Middlesex. He married, April 1724, Judith, daughter of Sir James Bateman, Knt., Lord Mayor of London in 1717, and died at Bath, Feb. 1772. His father, Thomas Boucher, who died at Bath, Sept. 1708, was M.P. for Malmesbury in 1702. (See Wills N. & Q., Vol. V., p. 142).

Notes on the Hydes of Wilts and Cheshire (vol. vi, p. 501)—“Because his father did not do so”: I cannot accept the assumption that the first Earl Clarendon was not entitled to quarter the coats of the heiressess his ancestors married; as there are many instances in a family where they dropped quarterings or bore different ones, besides it must be remembered that the heiressess brought into the achievement their family heiress marriages. 2. Norbury is good tradition. 3. Sybbels, should be Sibell; Philipott, p. 151, says of Chimbham that “an Edward Sibell, last of that name, resolved into a daughter and heir married to Hide” (this might be added to the Chart pedigree in a note); and on page 46, that the Sibells bore "the tyger viewing himself in a mirrour"; also that Anne would bring into the achievement the quartering of the heiress of Cowdale, viz. "Argent, a chevron gules between three bulls' heads cabossed sable"; 4. Langford from his mother: and inescutcheon Aylesbury from his wife. Query: might the Alice Denham, widow, be Alice Denman, as Frances Aylesbury's mother was eldest daughter and coheir of Francis Denman.

Association Oath Rolls for Wiltshire (vol. vi, 485).—

Seeing that there was some doubt as to certain names of the Aldermen and Assistants of the Common Council of Salisbury, I referred to the leger-book of the Corporation, and at that date found the following entry:—

1695, 3^o. Martij.—"Mr. Mayor and some of the Aldermen having considered and prepared an humble address to be presented to his Ma^{tie}. to congratulate the safety and preservation of his Ma^{ties}. Sacred person from the late intended assassination conspired against him by his malicious enemyes. Also, the same being now read, this Councill doe vnanimously approve thereof, and do order the same to be ingrossed, and that the Common Seal of this Councill be thereunto affixed, and this Councill doth desire Mr. Mayor to take care that the same be sent (as speedily as may be) to St. Thomas Mompesson, Knt., and Thomas Hoby, Esq., Representatives for the City in the present Parliamt. And this Councill doth also desire them to present the same to his Ma^{tie}. accordingly.

Also the Association lately entred into by the members of the Hon^{ble}. House of Com'ons being now read, This Councill doth order and agree that the same be ingrossed in Parchment in the same words, and that Mr. Mayor and the senior Aldermen of this City, or any 2 or more of them, are desired to take the subscriptions of each member of this Corporac'on thereunto, and every member here present are desired to meet att the New Councill House to-morrow, att four in the afternoon, to signe the same, and the Serjeants are ordered to give notice to all absent members to appear then and there to make their subscrip'ons or give their reasons particularly why they doe not donne it. And if any person or persons shall make default to-morrow (by reason of any accident) this Councill doth desire Mr. Mayor and the Justices aforesaid, or any Two or more of them as aforesaid, to send to them particularly to signe the same or to give their reasons to the contrary."

Wiltshire M.P.'s (vol. vi, p. 476).—John Cooper, M.P. for Downton in 1774. In St. Thomas' Church, Salisbury, on the floor of the Nave are the following inscriptions:—

Rachel, the wife of John Cooper, Esq., and Daughter of Edward Poore, Esq., Died the 6th of March 1770, aged 37 years. Also her Infant Daughter.

John Cooper, Esq., died the 7th of August, 1779, aged 62 [? 52] years.

In the Salisbury Journal of Sept. 6th, 1779, is this advertisement: "If any person has or knows of a will made by John Cooper, of the Close, of Salisbury, Esq., deceased, late member for Downton, it is requested that information thereof may be given Mr. Elderton, attorney-at-law, in Salisbury." John Cooper was son of Thomas, by his second wife, who was Mrs. Priaulx, aunt to Sir Alexander Powell. This Thomas Cooper was son of John, of Freshford (born 1691, died 1760), who was son of Robert Cooper, an alderman of Salisbury, born 1660, died 1733.

Duston Arms (vol. vi, p. 523).—Will the following help? The name Duston came from the place in Northamptonshire, and is fully described in Baker's history of that county; the Arms he gives, corroborated in the Armories, has the difference of a "buck's head" instead of a "bull's head" as at Churchill. How the Jennings family were entitled to quarter the Churchill Duston is proved in the Harleian Hertfordshire Visitation, p. 147, where Thomas Jennings, of Sandridge, heads the pedigree, as marrying ". . . da. and heir of . . . Duston"; and is there given, as the third, with Burdett as the second quartering. Bernard Jennings of Churchill was the fourth and Ralph the fifth generation. Thomas Jennings, the third generation, married ". . . da. and heir of Robert Burdett". Ralph should have had another quartering, as his father, Bernard, married Elizabeth, sister and coheir of Sir Ralph Rowlett, Knt.

Hillman (vol. vi, pp. 430, 525).—Mr. Were is, I think, correct in his supposition that the arms impaled are those of Goddard. Francis Goddard, late of Cliffe Pypard, whose will was proved 1725, P.C.C. 86, Romney, leaves a bequest to his brother-in-law, Robert Hilman, of Priors Court, parish of Chieveley, co. Berks; and in the will of Edward Goddard, of Hungerford, a younger brother of Francis, proved 1729, P.C.C. 224, Abbott, brother-in-law Robert Hilman is also mentioned.

A Marlborough Poet.—In the Parish Register of St. Mary's, Marlborough, is the following entry of burial—the name being written in large letters :—

1742. "Samuel Stickland the Poet—Dec. 15."

Is anything further known of this individual?

E. K.

"Deadmaid."—The spot at which the Bath road and the main road from Westbury to Frome cross each other, close to the village of Chapmanslade, is known as "Deadmaids," or "Deadmaids Cross-road," and "Deadmaid Farm." What is the origin of the name. Is it from an interment at the cross-roads, after a verdict of felo de se?

E. K.

Merchants' Marks.—Would it not be possible for your correspondents to make a list of these and where they are to be found, with perhaps a tracing, so that they might be classified; this is being attempted in other counties.

Morse of Rodbourne Cheney, etc. (vol. vi, pp. 364, 503).—The following occur in Bigland's Gloucestershire, can they be linked up to a main pedigree? In Cam., two shields, Morse impaling Holders; viz.: Nicholas and Ann Morse, 1770-1784; and Thomas, 1781; and Mary Morse, 1764. In King's Stanley, the same Arms, impaled with Paul; Susanna, wife of Obadiah Paul, 1737. In Stone, the same Arms impaling Wilkins [?], 1728. In Aure, a different coat of Arms; Rev. Jackman Morse, 1765, and Anne his wife. Henbury, a different coat of Arms from either of the above; 2 and 3 quarterings of Astry; which monument, Rudder says, is inscribed—Sir Samuel Astry, Knt., 1704, married Elizabeth, daughter and heir of George Morse, of Henbury. In Newent there is the same coat of Arms as at Aure, which the monument says is to Edward Morse, mercer, of this town, and Jane, 1779, his wife. The name appears also in a Somerset church, with a very pathetic epitaph.

Davenport and Kent.—There were two William Davenports connected with Reading about 1707. The one was a captain in the navy, whose ship went down in Oct. 1707, and who married a Sarah Kent, sister of Clement and Lyford Kent, of Reading and Thatcham connection; she obtained letters of admin. in June, 1708, and lived till 1714. The other was an ancestor of mine who settled in Reading, in or before 1709, with his wife Grace. There is at Salisbury a marriage license bond very much decayed, dated Jan. 1707-8, in which the words William Davenport and Grace are clear, but the surname of the bride is indistinct. I am anxious to find the marriages of these two William Davenports (especially the latter), and have reason to believe that they both married Kents, also that Grace . . . was of Boscombe or Avington, near Hungerford.

JAMES DAVENPORT.

Ingram.—Henry Ingram, b. 1740, d. 1815, and Sarah,¹ his wife, had seven children born, 1767-1780 in a parish not ascertained. Henry Ingram held lands at Codford St. Peter, under the Earl of Ilchester, for the lives of himself and his children Mary and John, but in his sister's (Mary Lacey) will is described "of Stonepaine." He and his wife, also his daughter Mary, who died in 1789, were all buried at West Knoyle. It is thought that John, b. 1769, died about 1833. Any information about him or giving the birthplace of the family would be most acceptable.

Notes on Books.

The Library Press, 1911.

This is an interesting and careful study of the meaning of the names attached to the towns and villages in Wiltshire. The Keltic, Roman, Saxon, Scandinavian, and Danish elements in these words is traced out, and names are classed together according as they are derived from (i) enclosures (ii) open spaces (iii) water (iv) special circumstances connected with the locality. Mr. Longstaff has done his best to obtain the views of the highest authorities, but is not afraid to form an independent judgement, making use of the Saxon charters and other documents in which place-names occur. He is, we think, right in his conclusion that in case of doubt a personal name has most probably led to the place-name. It is a common experience to find the names of former owners or occupiers clinging to the fields which they once cultivated, and the additions in such cases as Stanton St. Quintin, Winterbourne Bassett, etc., all point to a tendency in human nature which has been observed of old . . . "they call the lands after their own names". Although Mr. Longstaff has included some 380 names in this book, he would add much to the value of it if, in another edition which we trust will be called for, he would include all the hamlets in the villages. The names of these are in many cases full of interest, e.g., Chedgelow in Crudwell, Whitchurch in Malmesbury, etc. The same may be said of old manorial names, e.g., Idovers and Smithcote in Dauntsey, Vastern in Wootton Bassett, etc.

However, we must be grateful for the book as it stands, which we can strongly recommend as dealing in a thoroughly attractive and scientific manner with its subject.

We notice one or two omissions in the index, e.g., Christian Malford, Sterkley, etc.

AN ILLUSTRATED GUIDE TO THE PARISH CHURCH OF SHERSTON MAGNA, WILTS, by Rev. W. Symonds, M.A., Vicar. Tetbury, 1905.

This little brochure is an excellent piece of work by Mr. Symonds and only makes us sorry that he has not taken in hand a general sketch of the history of the Parish. Sherston has an attractive Church, which has, unfortunately, suffered much through the injudicious zeal of the restorer. There are, however, many noteworthy features remaining, especially the celebrated Rattlebone figure without, and the corbel heads on the Early English arches of the central tower within. Some interesting heraldic suggestions are thrown out by the writer, who gives short notes on some of the famous clergy and benefactors of the Church. He records also the loss to the Church of what Canon Ellacombe described "as the finest parish chest in England".

THE REV. THOMAS HICKMAN.

Wiltshire Notes and Queries,

JUNE, 1911.

NOTES ON A PORTRAIT OF THE REV. THOMAS HICKMAN.

THE Portrait of the Rev. Thomas Hickman which illustrates these notes belonged to the late Mrs. Polden of Blandford; the artist's name is not known. The Rev. Thomas Hickman's penalty for his loyalty is mentioned in Walker's Sufferings of the Clergy, and there are two contributions to the Wills Arch. Magazine referring to him, one by the late Mr. John Harding, the other by Mr. Robert Goldsbrough, both in volume xxxii.

Thomas Hickman was instituted to the Rectory of Upton Lovell in 1619. The baptisms of three of his children are recorded in the Upton Lovell Register, namely, Thomas on the 25 Sept. 1624, Nathaniel on the 1 Nov. 1627, and Daniel on the 21 March 1629/30, it may therefore be presumed that his two elder children, Samuel and Elizabeth, were born before he came to Upton Lovell.

At the outbreak of the Civil War he raised a troop of horse for the King and sent with it his two sons, Samuel and Daniel; the former, who was in command, was killed at the Battle of Newbury on the 20th Sept. 1643.

Hickman was deprived of his living in 1647, and no doubt suffered persecution for "his delinquency". The Falstone Day Book by Mr. Waylen, Wills Arch. Magazine, vol. xxvi, p. 346, has this entry:—

1645, May 10. Thos. Hickman, Minister of Upton Lovell, hath for delinquency paid £10 to Major Long at Hampton [then follow the words] took cloth. Received the same from Major Long.

He appears to have had a small estate at West Knoyle, but it seems doubtful whether he died there, for his burial at Boyton is recorded in the Register of that Parish.

1659. Thomas Hickman, Rector of Upton Lovell, who was sequestered of his living was buried the 22 of April in the Chancel of the Church of Boyton.

This entry was evidently made by the Rev. Thomas Lambert then Rector there. It is not recorded in the Commonwealth Register of the Parish, but is written on the first page or fly leaf of the Register.

Elizabeth Hickman, his widow, presented a petition to Lord Clarendon praying for some relief, and Nathaniel, her son, seems to have presented a petition to the same effect to Charles II and James II all in vain.

Mr. Goldsbrough contributes a Pedigree to his article in Wills Arch. Magazine which shows the descent of Elizabeth wife of Thomas Hickman from Bishop Pilkington.

Thomas Hickman's third son Nathaniel lived at West Knoyle and died there on the 19th September 1703, leaving four sons and four, if not five, daughters.

His eldest son Edmund was in Orders, and was Chaplain of St. Nicholas' Hospital, Salisbury, from 1704 to 1728 when he died. His will, proved on the 29th April 1729, P.C.C., seems to show that he died without issue, as he leaves his possessions to his nephew Edmund, his brother Nathaniel and a nephew Henry, desiring to be buried in the Cathedral Churchyard "as near Frances my last wife as conveniently may be".

He is referred to in Canon Wordsworth's St. Nicholas Hospital where his valuable MS. Notes on the Hospital are given at length.

The nephew Edmund was Vicar of Cranborne in 1729, and Vicar of Gussage in 1749. On the occasion of his father Nathaniel Hickman's death he wrote the verses, some of which are published in the late Mr. John Harding's article.

Of the daughters, Katherine married Robert Goldsbrough of Silton, and died there; Mary married John Mitchell; and their daughter Sarah married Henry Ingram. Mrs. Polden, the late owner of the portrait, was one of the grandchildren of Sarah and Henry Ingram.

J. J. H.

THE FAMILY OF SOUTH.

Son, perhaps, of that Thomas South who occurs 1464-74 (born 1430), was one Osmund South, born apparently about 1460. He was dead before 1522, when his daughter and heir (born about 1490), then wife of John Benge, levied a fine with her husband of a holding in Baverstock.

Final concord made in the octave of St. Hilary, 13 Henry 8 (February, 1521-2), between Thomas Gawen, Baldwin Malet, and Thomas Coker, esquires, Henry Pauncefote, gentleman, John Meryke, chaplain, and Thomas Howeper, querents, and John Benge and Elizabeth his wife, daughter and heir of Osmund Southt, gentleman, deforciant, of a messuage, garden, 4*6a.* arable, 8*a.* pasture and 2*a.* meadow, in Baverstoke. John and Elizabeth acknowledged the said tenements to be the right of Thomas Gawen as those which Thomas, Baldwin, and the others have of their gift, and have released and quit-claimed them, for themselves and the heirs of Elizabeth, to the said Thomas, Baldwin, and the others, and the heirs of Thomas Gawen for ever. They have also granted for themselves and the heirs of Elizabeth that they will warrant the said tenements to the said Thomas, Baldwin, and the others, and the heirs of Thomas Gawen against all men for ever. For this acknowledgement, release, quitclaim, warranty, fine and concord, the same Thomas, Baldwin, and the others have given the said John Benge and Elizabeth 40 marks.—Feet of Fines, Wilts. 13-20 Henry VIII. Bundle 46, File 319, m. 5.

Ten years later, John Benge being dead and his widow re-married, she occurs levying a fine with John Bulkeley, her then husband, of a further portion of her inheritance, in Salisbury.

Final concord the morrow of St. Martin, 24 Henry 8 (12 November, 1533), between Thomas Holme of the city of Salisbury, tanner, querent, and John Bulkeley and Elizabeth his wife, daughter and heir of Osmond Sowthe, deforciant, of three messuages in the city of Salisbury. John and Elizabeth acknowledged the said tenements to be the right of Thomas as those which he has of their gift; release and warranty against all men for themselves and the heirs of Elizabeth. Consideration, 30*l.*—Feet of Fines, Wilts. 21-24 Henry VIII, Bd. 46, File 320, m. 40.

Elizabeth and her husband were still living in 1537, when they levied a fine of further property in Salisbury. On this occasion she is described not as daughter and heir of Osmund, but sister and heir of Edmund South, which in so formal an instrument is not likely to be a misdescription.

Final concord made in the quinzaine of Michaelmas, 29 Henry 8 (October, 1537), between Robert Southe, querent, and John Boukeley and Elizabeth his wife, sister and heir of Edmund Southe, deforciant, of two messuages, three tofts and five gardens in the city of Salisbury. John and Elizabeth have acknowledged the said tenements to be the right of Robert as those which Robert has by their gift, and released and quitclaimed them, for them and their heirs, to Robert and his heirs for ever. John and Elizabeth have granted for themselves and the heirs of Elizabeth that they will warrant the said tenements to Robert and his heirs against all men for ever. For this acknowledgement, etc., Robert gave the said John and Elizabeth 80 marks.—Feet of Fines, Wilts. 25-29 Henry VIII, Bundle 46, File 321, m. 36.

The only other mention met with of Elizabeth daughter of Osmund South, is particularly interesting, genealogically speaking, showing, as it does, that she had issue by her (first) husband a son, whose daughter was her eventual heiress. It is also interesting as indicating some close connexion between Osmund South and the Swallowcliff family—he and they alike being free tenants within the manor of Dinton.

The entry occurs in the “Survey of the lands of William, first earl of Pembroke”, presented by the present earl, in 1909, to the Roxburghe Club. It was found by an inquisition taken Wednesday, 29 January, 9 Elizabeth (1566-7) of the free tenants of Donyngton alias Dynton and Tefonte, that (vol. i, p. 218):—

Henry Modgeridge holds in right of Anne his wife, daughter and heir of John Benges, son and heir of Elizabeth daughter of Osmund Sowthe, two virgates of land with their appurtenances, late Sowthes, by what service is unknown, and from of old he shall keep for his holding 120 sheep and shall do suit of court and renders yearly 17*d.*

Thus we obtain the following pedigree:—

It was found by an inquisition taken after the death of Thomas South, of Swallowcliff, esquire, in 1606, that he died seised of a messuage in the parish of St. Peter, in the borough of Shaftesbury, of the clear value yearly of 6*s.* 8*d.*, held of William, earl of Pembroke, as of his manor and borough of Shaftesbury, in free socage and burgage, viz., by fealty and 12*s.* rent yearly.

We can trace this messuage (though the rest has varied) in the Roxburghe Club “Survey”, already cited. Thus (pp.

510-513) in a rental and extent of the borough, made by Robert Grove, gentleman, 16 Elizabeth (1574), in the list of free tenants, we find Thomas Sowthe, gentleman, holding certain lands and tenements in the borough of Shaftesbury, late Thomas Codrington's, at the rent of $\frac{1}{2}d.$, which was paid by John Carre's wife.

Following the holding, yet further back, we find (ibid., pp. 487-491) by a survey taken by Robert Grove, steward and surveyor of Sir Thomas Arundell, 2 Edward VI, and renewed 6 Edward VI (1548-1552) that Thomas Codrington pays yearly for free rent from his land in Shaftesbury, now paid by John Sengor and formerly by John Carre, $\frac{1}{2}d.$

Upon these entries one would conclude that, by purchase or as heir, Thomas South, of 1574, succeeded Thomas Codrington, of 1552, and transmitted the messuage in Shaftesbury to his son, Thomas South, of 1606. Aliunde it may be stated that Thomas Codrington was certainly dead in 1565. The succession then may have been upon death; but it is quite certain that Thomas South was not Thomas Codrington's heir.

Further, it may be noted that twice over in the "Survey", under the date 1567, Thomas South is stated to hold land in Dinton, late Giles South's. Bearing this in mind, it is somewhat remarkable to find that a Giles South had been possessed of a messuage in Shaftesbury. In the octave of St. Martin, 2 Richard III (November, 1484), James Broune and Joan his wife, levied a fine to William Twynco of a messuage and garden in Shaftesbury, which William Twynco thereby granted to the said James and Joan for the term of their lives, with remainder to Giles South and Elizabeth his wife, and the heirs of their bodies, with remainder in default to the heirs of the body of Elizabeth, with remainder in default to the right heirs of Joan. (Feet of Fines, Dorset).

The probable meaning of all which is that a lady, Joan by name, was possessed of a house and land in Shaftesbury. That she married and had a daughter and heir Elizabeth.

That her husband died and she re-married with one James Browne. That, in 1484, her daughter Elizabeth married one Giles South, and that upon this occasion she settled her house upon her daughter, retaining the enjoyment of it for herself and her then husband for life, but, arranging that, after their death, her daughter and her husband should have it with remainder to their issue, or, if they had no children, that it should go to her daughter's children by any other husband, or, if her daughter died without issue, that it should revert to her own heirs.

With these facts in hand, what is to be deduced from them? Was the tenement held by Thomas South in 1574, apparently in fee, the same tenement, the reversion of which, in tail, belonged to Giles South in 1484? And, if yes, how did Thomas Codrington come by it in 1552?

We have already referred to the inquisition taken in 1606, after the death of Thomas South of Swallowcliff, esquire, whereby it was found that he died seised of a messuage in St. Peter's, Shaftesbury, which messuage we presume to be the same as that held by Thomas South, gentleman, in 1574. By this same inquisition of 1606 it is found that Thomas South, esquire, died seised of the manor of Swallowcliff, in Swallowcliffe and Tisbury. Swallowcliffe itself does not come within the scope of the "Survey", but under the heading of the free tenants of Sutton Mandeville, which does, it is recorded (p. 114), that Thomas Sowthe, gentleman, held there, in 1567, certain lands in Swalecliff, late Lovelles, now in the occupation of Rabbattes, and pays 8*d.*—that is to say (presumably) a parcel of land actually in the parish of Swallowcliffe was held of Sir Thomas Arundell's manor of Sutton Mandeville, in the adjoining parish of that name. From these two entries in the inquisition of 1606 and the "Survey" respectively, we may fairly conclude that from as early as 1567 both the messuage in Shaftesbury and the manor of Swallowcliffe were descending in the family of South, of Swallowcliffe. The former, as we know, had, in 1552, been in the possession of Thomas Codrington, and could we show that Thomas Codrington had also been in possession of the manor, Swallowcliffe, and why, we should certainly feel at liberty to conclude that the title to the manor and the messuage was the same, and to treat as common to both any facts known about one or the other alone.

As much as this may be inferred from the following fine:—

Final concord from Easter into one month, 20 Henry VIII (May, 1529), between Bartholomew Husey and Christopher Codrynton, querents, and Edward Codrynton and Elizabeth his wife and William South, deforciant, of the manor of Swaloclyff, three messuages, a toft, 200*a.* land, 40*a.* meadow, 200*a.* pasture, 10*a.* wood, 10*a.* furze and heath and 2*s.* rent, in Swaloclyff, Toderhull and Tissebury; Edward, Elizabeth and William have acknowledged the said manor, etc., to be the right of Bartholomew, as those which Bartholomew and Christopher have of their gift, and have quitclaimed them from (de) them and the heirs of William to the said Bartholomew and Christopher and the heirs of Bartholomew. And besides have granted for themselves and their heirs that they will warrant the said manor, etc. to the said Bartholomew and Christopher and the heirs of Bartholomew against all men; for this Bartholomew and Christopher have granted to the said Edward and Elizabeth the said manor, etc. to hold of the chief lords by the services due for the term of their lives in survivorship, with remainder to Thomas Codrynton son of the said Edward and Elizabeth, for the term of his life, with remainder after Thomas' decease to the said William and his heirs.—Feet of Fines, Wilts. 13-20 Henry VIII (No. 34).

Even without the fine of 1484, of a messuage in Shaftesbury, to assist us, we should have proposed to interpret the above fine in one way, and one way only; namely, that Edward Codrington and Elizabeth his wife were seised in her right, of the manor of Swallowcliffe, with remainder to William South, her son and heir by a previous husband, and that the purport of the fine was, with William's consent, to postpone his estate, whether in tail or in fee, to a life estate thereby created in favour of Thomas Codrington, his half-brother ex parte materna.

If this construction is correct, we get the following pedigree:—

Much remains to be said about both these men—William South and Thomas Codrington—and their descendants. None of it, however, conflicts with the filiation, as above suggested, and what there is may well be reserved for the Editor's good pleasure and some future occasion.

THE WILL OF JOAN TRYE.

In publishing the Will of Joan Trye (vol. vi, p. 558), Mr. Kite has certainly introduced us to a document of great interest.

That the Lady Chapel which was added to the Abbey Church of Lacock, in the fourteenth century, was erected in connection with the transfer of Sir John Bluet's share of the advowson to the Abbess, is matter of certainty.

I found the original deed of transfer many years ago, and I think it has been published in the Wiltshire Archaeological Magazine. It is a short but beautifully written document, and I found it tied up with other deeds of less interest. To the best of my recollection, there is a stipulation that Sir John Bluet and his successors should have the right of nominating one lady to become a member of the community, and I have long thought it probable that Joan Temmes may have entered the Abbey in that way.

The Will of Joan Trye mentions the Lady Chapel and the Chapel of Saint Edmund. The Lady Chapel was to the south of the Nuns' choir, and its east end ranged with the east end of the Abbey Church which was a little beyond the east face of the tower, built later by Sir William Sharington.

With regard to the "Chapel of St. Edmund", I have long been familiar with the name from a very curious document in the older volume of the Cartulary of Lacock Abbey. I believe it has been published in the Wiltshire Archaeological Magazine. It relates to "the old custom between the Abbey of Lacock and the Vicar of the 'Town", and it says that the Vicar shall only have, within the gate of the Abbey, a few officers (who are specified) as his parishioners, and that all other persons within the gate of the Abbey shall be parishioners of the Chapel of Saint Edmund, "of old custom".

This shows that the Chapel of St. Edmund was considered parochial in a certain sense. It may have been mainly a question of burial fees. In that document the word "Church" does not occur. It appeared to me that the "Chapel of St. Edmund" might probably be the western part of the Abbey Church, but I never supposed that it could mean the whole Church. I think my supposition is consistent with the words used in the Will of Joane Trye, viz., "the Church or capell of Seint Edmond's within the said Abbye of Lacocke".

In one place I suspect a clerical error. There is a bequest of "one of my best kerchyffes to the entent that the one half thereof shall make a corporas to the high aulter of Lacoke Abby, and the other halfe to make a corporas for the highe altar for the highe Church of Lacoke".

These last words must refer to the Parish Church as the high altar of Lacock Abbey, that is to say of the Abbey Church, had been already provided for.

In the document bequeathed to me by Mr. Job Edwards, which I published, the Abbey Church is spoken of as the "high church", but that expression would not be likely to be applied to the Parish Church, though it is lofty, without some further explanation. I therefore suspect that, in this case, "highe" may be a clerical error for "parish", written in a contracted form.

Mr. Kite speaks of "the firm rule" of the Abbess, Joan Temmes. I confess that the expression surprised me. The Abbey was certainly well conducted and the rule of the last Abbess may have been firm, but what evidence is there on that point one way or the other? I have always supposed that, when the end was coming, the Abbess rather favoured her own relations. At any rate, it was not one of those cases in which the Dissolution was very strongly resisted.

William Sharington was not a relation of the Abbess, but both he and Edward Baynard married ladies of the Walsingham family, who were cousins with the same Christian name, Eleanor. The second wife of William Sharington, Eleanor, daughter of William and sister of Sir Francis Walsingham, was still living when her husband acquired the Abbey of Lacock. The Commissioners who received the surrender handed the keys to Sharington at once. One writer, I think, ascribes his acquisition of Lacock Abbey to the Walsingham influence.

The Mildmay, Walsingham, and Sharington families, who were connected by marriage, were all of the new opinions or reforming party in religion, nor need the sincerity of any of them in the matter be doubted.

The 21st of July 1539 is given by Bowles and Nichols as the date of the surrender, but it is a mistake which has been corrected elsewhere. The true date is given in Rymer's Fœdera, and I believe it is the 21st of January 1539.

THE MEMORANDUM BOOK OF THOMAS GARDINER, OF TYTHERTON LUCAS.

In the Parish Chest at Chippenham is a small ledger, of 112 paper pages, bound in parchment, 14 in. by 6½ in. At first sight it looks official, and because it contains lists of ratepayers, tithingmen, and overseers, and also references to many other parish matters, has been supposed to be a Churchwardens' Book. These lists, etc., are, however, part of the memoranda which the intelligent farmer, who began the book, thought it was to his interest to keep. It is difficult to say when it was begun, because many of the entries are evidently retrospective, but the date lies near 1680. Certain pages were originally allotted to certain classes of entries, and as the intervening pages and spaces were afterwards filled up with later matters, the chronological sequence is much obscured. The entries refer principally to the Tithing of Tytherton Lucas, the inhabitants of which live, work, hold local offices, and occasionally die, in these pages. But there is also something about Foxham and Langley [Burrell], where the compiler held land, and a little about the parish of Chippenham, to which Tytherton has long been attached.

The compiler tells us of his parentage and origin (p. 33), thus: "My dear father [Thos. Gardiner, sen.] departed this life the 16th da of September, beeing Wansday, And in the year of our lord 1663, And was buried the 18th da of the sam month, beeing friday," [as "of Titherton," Chip. Reg.]. "My mother-in-law" [step-mother], Mary Gardiner, widdow, was "borne 24 Sept. 1617", and "died 1693". Of himself the compiler says:—"I, Thomas Gardiner, was borne in the year of our lord 1628, and in the 24th of Agust, beeing bartholomew day" [Bapt. at Chip. 30 Aug. 1629]. "I was married the 25th day of March, beeing tuesday, and in the year of our lord 1651." His wife's Christian name was Joan [Chip. Reg., bur. 1707], and as he speaks of "my mother-in-law Wisdome", perhaps his wife was Joan Wisdome, which seems to be a Corsham name. Their children were: (1) John, b. 1652, who remained a bachelor, succeeded his father at Titherton, and is the continuator after 1702 till his death, 1728, of these memoranda; (2) Thomas, the second of two sons of that name, b. 1658, who married a wife [unnamed here] in 1694 and left a numerous family: He settled on a farm at Foxham, purchased, as we shall see, by his father in 1686/7, and died, like John, in 1728; (3) Rachel, b. 1654, drowned at night in Jan. 1717/8; and (4) Mary, b. 1659/60, died in her father's lifetime in 1692, "and in the two and 30th year of her adge, which was to the great sorrow and gref of mee, her father, her brothers and sister".

Thomas Gardiner, our compiler, and the father of the above family, tells us: "I cam[e] from Charlcot", a tything of Bremble. Probably he came to Tytherton at his father's death in 1663, and took on the house and farm, but the earliest transaction between him and his landlord, Mr. Gabriel Gouldney, which he records is the taking, or, perhaps, re-taking in 1677 (p. 111) of certain lands. "Bee it Remembred I entred to goddenes hill and mead and the beanlease the morrow after ladiday, in the yeare 1677, at which time mellfeld bargain was new taken and I was then to hould from thence for the terme of seaven yeares, at the rent Agreed uppon, bothe the aforesaid bargaines, which terme is ended ladiday 1684." As Gardiner proceeds at once to "the trew account of what Gabriell Gouldney have gave mee backe of the rent since the taking of the bargain", it may be inferred that Goddenes [Godwins] hill and mead and Beanlease were rented from Mr. Gouldney as well as Millfield. The Millfield "bargaine" included the dwelling house and Upper and Lower Newleaze, and is always referred to in the Accounts as "Gabriell Gouldney's meanes", except for one year when "meanes" becomes "estate". He gives (17 June 1681) "An Account of the measure of the ground that I rent and lickwise of my owne neate's pach with the lane and the bownse [bounds] beetwene the lane and pach [patch] and the bownse at the end next the hill is seaven score loug [lug]; Goddines hill is something wanting of 21 ackres; goddines mead is 7 ackres and 3 quarers; the beanlease is 4 ackres and fifty-five loug; lower Newlease is 10 Ackres and 18 loug; Ufer [upper] Newlease is 4 Ackres and 3 quarters; Millfield with the house and backside is 22 ackres and 40 loug; Hates [Great Hatts] wantes About 10 loug of 4 Ackres; Ufer Cogselles lease is som thing wanting of 6 ackres but very litell". As in this very year, 1681, Gardiner gives an account of the sowing of Lower Cogselles, continued till 1690, he must also have been occupying that and also that year was occupying the Six Acres, and later he was paying rent for the Six Acres and Griffins Close to the rector of Tytherton, Mr. Lake. Lower Cogselles was evidently very much larger than Upper, so he must have been renting about 110 acres, all, I think, in Tytherton Lucas, except one of the New-leazes, probably Lower Newlease, which was tithed and rated in Langley [Burrel], the tithe being paid 1690 and 1691 to Parson Linche, then in 1691 and 1692 to Mr. Pette or Petye, and in 1693 to "Mr. Stamp, rector of Langly", a quick succession of rectors which we get incidentally.

Gardiner thus early saw the advantage of a commutation of tithe; "June the 8th 1681: Then bargained with William lacke Rector [of Tytherton, V. of Chippenham] for the tithe of my own bargaine for three yeares at the prise of twenty fower shillings A yeare the time beegining our lady day beefor the date herof And to be payed halfe yearly by eqall perporciones fower shillings beeing payed in hand and too bee Abated out of the too first half yeares rent." The next day he and Mr. Lake "bargained" the tithe on The Six Acres at 4s. that year.

Gardiner prospered on his farm and was able to invest. "The 11th of february 1686 then bargained with Mr. richard midwinter for the bargain at Foxham at the prise of 350^{li} pounds 350^l. The 5th of september next After, beeing 1687, then bargained with Henrey Baynton Esq. for the reversion of the Widdow Harper's house And Close at the prise of 23^l pound And a brooard pese of owld gould which brod pese of gould was geve in earnese." We read nothing more about this latter "bargain," but perhaps it was adjacent to the former. The farm purchased at Foxham was at once put in order, the house there re-built and the whole let to Thos. Wites or Wits, whose death is recorded Jan. 1693, and whose widow gave it up the next year, when Gardiner put in his newly-married 2nd son Thomas.

An earlier investment had been the lending of money on bonds, 1687-9, in all about £100. Apparently all paid up, but this kind of investment was discontinued.

Thomas Gardiner occasionally records remarkable weather. He tells us of two suns very visible on the morning of 24th Feb. 1689-90; also of "The great And mighty prodigious wind uppon the 18th day of february beeing tuesday, the exterordinary great Voilence of it held from 6 of the Clock in the morning till after 9, And in the year of our lord 1661." He records a disastrous drought April, May, and till the 20th of June 1681, after which "the rain cam with thunder stormes and showing weather . . . the harvist verey raynney," and until March "continued with A most Abundance of rayne And very tempesteouse windes." Also the following April "a most Unwonted flood for hith of water . . . ther have been no shuch rain by the dayes of Any of this generation, nor I suppose in lat Ages beefor us." However "the greatest flood that ever have been knowne in these Adge" was yet to come in July 1696. The Spring of 1698 was "more than ordinary teribl for voiolent windes, raine, and could"; and on St. George's Day "it snewed exceding hard with very great blosumes."

His account of crops shows the usual fluctuations, Lower Cogselles varying from a profit of £26 in 1685 to the loss of all the rent paid for it in 1691.

Our Author, Thomas Gardiner, tells us of his misfortunes. "That dredfull feaver that I had, begun uppon mee the 10th of Januar[y] in the yeare 168¹/₂, which held mee long, and with much harserd of my life." Another "distemper," 3 Dec. 1683, "proveth very painfull and greivous to me and not curable whill I live." "This great missefortin of tearing or breacking of my right arme was the 12th da of December 1689." "My reeb was broocke the 12th da of July 1690." "The sad and bad distemper of the gought cam uppon me the 16th day of Aust, beeing Wansday, and in . . . 1699; the month is Agust all though mise-spealled." His death is recorded by his elder son John Gardiner thus:—"My dear father Thomas Gardiner the elder departed this life the 30th day of July 1702, about five a Cloack in the afternoone, and was burryet the seacond day of Agust being Sunday," "my mother [Joan] departed this life the 30th day of Agust being Satterday, about One of the clocke in the afternoone, and wase buryed the seacond day of September being tuesday . . . 1707."

John Gardiner, the elder son, continues the lists of parish offices and some other classes of entries from 1702. He tells us how he adopted his nephew George, the eldest son of his brother Thomas, 15 Oct. 1698, when three years old, and also of the sins by which George forfeited his favour. John Gardiner died unmarried 1728 at Tytherton, and his brother Thomas, of Foxham, in the same year. The lists and entries were then, apparently, continued by another John Gardiner, brother of George, and 2nd son of Thomas Gardiner of Foxham. Except for two belated entries of 1753, the records are not carried beyond 1749. John Gardiner, junior, thus records the deaths of his uncle and father and mother:—

"May 29, 1728, my unkeall John daparted this life and was bauried Jun the 2 day being Sunday folling."

"Feb. 21, 1728, my fathar [Tho. Gardiner of Foxham] departed this life and was bauried 25 day being Sunday folloing."

"Aug. 16, 1734, my mothear departed this life and was bauried 18 day being Sunday folloing."

He also records the deaths of three of his brothers : Andrew, d. 18th, bur. 19th April 1731 ; Humphry d. 7th, bur. 10th Dec. 1737 ; and George d. 30 Nov. 1748. His sister Mary married, 1728, Joseph Reeve.

So much about the Gardiner family. In the next number will be given the principal contents of their book.

THE COPPYE OF THE COMITION.

Marmaduke Lynne, Doctor of Lawe, Chauncellor of the Dioces of Saru'. To all to home these p'sents shall come greeting. Wheras wee are in formed that the Pulpitt¹ and the Ministers readinge place in the parish Church of Steeple Ashton, in the Dioces aforesaid, ar not fitt and convenient nor fitly and conveniently placed, and that by some late ereccon of new Seates in the said Church the accustomed ways and passages to certain old and auncient Seates in the saide Church are stopt upp, and that some other thinges in the Church about the Seates there are out of order and fitt to bee reformed. Knowe yee that wee not being nowe able to travill thither in our owne parson, and yet much desiring the premisses to be Rightly ordered, trusting therefore one the discreet and circumspect Carraige of Mr. Henry Carpenter,² vicar there, Have authorized and by these presents Doe authorize him, by and with the advise of the Churchwardens of that parish, to remove the said Pulpitt and readinge place, and to make and place the same otherwise and in some other place or places of the said Church where the Minister may more Conveniently and in more fitt and decent manner execute his office in preachinge and Reading of God's word unto the people, and by removeing those new-erected Seates or otherwise as he in his good discrecon, by and w'th the advise aforesaid, shall think fit to open the said heretofore accustomed passages to those auncient Seates, and alsoe to reforme and putt in good order such other things as are amisse and out of order about the Seates in the same Church, and to Doe all other things requisite and necessary in and concerninge the premisses as

SOME NOTES ON THE DEATH OF HUMPHREY, DUKE OF GLOUCESTER, A.D. 1447,

And the subsequent Murder of William Ascough, Bishop of Salisbury.

Besides a portion of their original charters and leases of Borough property, the Mayor and Corporation of Devizes possess a few other documents of the 14th and two following centuries, mostly illustrative of the domestic history of the town, the contents of which, having apparently escaped the notice of its local historian, may not be without interest to the readers of W. N. & Q.

One of these documents, belonging to the reign of Henry VI, seems to require a separate notice, as having an historical as well as a local interest. It was probably deposited in the Guildhall of the Mayor and Burgesses of Devizes as a place of safe custody during the unsettled period to which it belongs—that of Jack Cade's rebellion.

The document, dated 12th December 1452, is a quitclaim from John Depeden, clerk, executor of the will of the Reverend Father in Christ, William Ayscogh, Bishop of Salisbury, to the following individuals, of all actions he may have against them, viz., William Wigmore, of West Asshton, John Lillond, Richard Grenelane, Richard Sar' [Salisbury], John Whateley, of the same, husbandmen; Peter Broun, laborer; Robert Hill, husbandman; Thomas Boys, milner; Nicholas Hiket, husbandman; John Hiket, labourer; John Canyng, husbandman; John Hatter, carpenter; Henry Carter, John Carter, William Hoper, husbandmen; John Hoper, Robert Knabe, laborers; and Thomas and Robert, servants of the aforesaid William Wigmore, laborers.

West Ashton, the home of these villagers, was included in the principal parish or manor of Steeple Ashton, which belonged, at this date, to Romsey Abbey. The See of Salisbury is not known to have possessed property in West Ashton which could render these individuals liable to any claim of a pecuniary kind from the executor of one of its Bishops, and consequently an explanation of this document must be looked for among the events of the time—some notes on two of the principal of which will form the subject of this communication.

The first of these—the death of Humphrey, Duke of Gloucester, possesses a local interest—for “his strong Castle of Devizes” was the place which he left on the 10th of February 1447, to attend the Parliament at Bury St. Edmunds, from which he never returned. According to Burke, his death happened in 1446; but a volume in the British Museum [MS., Cotton Vespasian D. xvii, fol. 80b.], containing some notes respecting the births of Henry IVths. sons, “out of a rowle of y^e chronicle of y^e Duke of Bedford” gives the following dates as those of his birth and death:—

“1390.—Humfray, Duke of Glocester, ye 4 son was borne ye 3 of October.”

“1447.—Humfray, Duke of Glocestre, died the 23 of February.”

In 1418-19, Duke Humphrey obtained from his brother Henry V letters patent, granting to him the Castle and town of Devizes, which had previously formed part of the dower of his mother-in-law, Queen Joan of Navarre (Michael Record 7 Hen. V., Roll I); and the castles of Devizes and Marlborough became two of his principal residences. On the death of the King in 1442, he was appointed Regent of England during the minority of his youthful nephew, afterwards Henry VI.

It is well known that the usually placable mind of this latter monarch afterwards became possessed by a strong resentment against Duke Humphrey his uncle, whom he believed to have formed some serious design against his crown and person. The hostility of Cardinal Beaufort and the Marquis of Suffolk towards Duke Humphrey had also long been undisguised. The King was induced to summon a Parliament to meet, not at London, but at Bury St. Edmunds, where his enemies trusted that he would be more entirely at their mercy. The Duke seems to have left Devizes Castle on the 10th February to attend this Parliament, and was present at its opening. The next day he was arrested on a charge of high treason by the Lord Beaumont, Constable of England, and, on the 23rd of the same month, according to the manuscript above referred to, was found dead in his bed, without any external marks of violence; and his remains were interred in the Abbey Church of St. Albans, where his monument forms a striking feature among the architectural enrichments of the interior of that venerable fabric.

Both of Duke Humphrey's principal residences, the Castles of Devizes and Marlborough, were in the Diocese of Salisbury, which See was presided over, from 1438 until after the Duke's death, by William Ascough, also Clerk of the Privy Council, and the King's Confessor.

In a manuscript volume preserved among the Rawlinson Collection in the Bodleian Library [No. 813] there is, at folio 11, a poem of eight verses on the "mutability of fortune", written, apparently, not later than 1462, and containing allusions to several contemporary personages which tend to throw a little additional light upon some of the obscurer events of the period.¹ One of the examples of the "mutability of fortune" here referred to is the downfall of Duke Humphrey of Gloucester, which is thus described:—

"The noble duke off whiche I spake before,
I meane Humffrey of Glocestre alsoo,
Which of thys lande was lymyted protectore,
And made the duke of Burgoyne and muche moo
To flee from Caleys vnto hes highe honoer,
Upon a tale made by a bisshoppe, a brybor.
A wretched prest as deeffe nere as a stoune,
Which he shulde haue harde as a confessor,"

"And to the kinge he vttered itt anone ;
Wherfore at Burye in a full parlyament
By a grete lorde ore he came to the towne
He was arrestede by the commandement
Off Kinge Henrye for suspesctione of treasone
Thought and wrought agaynst hes crowne ;
For shame and anguyshe of whiche, Jelousy
Toke him sone after and soo lowe broughte hym downe,
That in short while itt caused hym to dye."

A new cause is here suggested for the deep rooted prejudice of Henry VI against his uncle. It appears to have been believed that one of the bishops had revealed to the King some information respecting Duke Humphrey's acts or intentions, which he had learned in the confessional. This scandalous imputation, which has slept for so many centuries, was probably aimed at none other than Bishop Ascough, the King's confessor. It is certain that Ascough, together with the Duke of Suffolk, and the Lord Treasurer Say, all of whom had been accused by the Commons of having been instrumental in delivering up the provinces of Maine and Anjou, in exchange for Queen Margaret the royal bride, were in especial disfavour with the popular party, which desired to revenge Duke Humphrey's death. Suffolk and Lord Say were the first victims to popular excitement—the latter having fallen by the hand of Jack Cade in Cheap-side—and it was probably the story related in the poem above quoted which led to Bishop Ascough's murder at Edyngdon, and his almost simultaneous indictment by the Commons of Kent. An expression in a political ballad of the time, which has been misunderstood, probably alludes to this rumour. In some verses directed against the Duke of Suffolk during his imprisonment in the Tower, in February 1450, the two following lines occur:—

“Now is the tyme of lent, the fox is in the towre, Therefore send him Salesbury to be his confessoure.”

Bishop Ascough, as is well known, soon shared the same fate with his two ministerial colleagues—Suffolk and Lord Say. His enemies, taking advantage of the disturbed state of the country, attacked him in his palace at Salisbury, from whence he fled for refuge to the Convent of the Bon-hommes at Edyngdon. On his way thither he was robbed of 10,000 marks, and the next day, whilst celebrating Mass in Edyngdon Church, was dragged by the mob from the High Altar to the top of the neighbouring hill, where they clave his head in sunder.

The Bishop's murder took place on the feast of SS. Peter and Paul¹ (29th June) 1450; and it is probably to something connected with that event that the Devizes document refers. Possibly the nineteen individuals enumerated therein, including eleven husbandmen, and six labourers, with the village carpenter and miller, may, on hearing of the uproar at Edyngdon, have started from their home at West Ashton, four miles distant, and become entangled in the affray which took place there. We can hardly suppose that the document refers to any participation in the actual murder of the bishop,¹ but it evidently does refer to some serious charge—perhaps to the robbery of the 10,000 marks from his person—of which they may have innocently become the victims. As they were not of themselves likely to have had interest enough with the bishop's executor to demand the execution of this formal document of pardon at his hands, we may perhaps infer that it was extracted by pressure from the popular party. This would account for its having been deposited with the Mayor and Burgesses of Devizes—who having been connected with the "Good Duke" Humphrey during his tenure for nearly thirty years of their town and castle—and incensed by his then recent arrest and untimely death—would be most likely to declare in his favour.

John Depeden, clerk, whose name appears as executor of Bishop Ascough, held the Prebend of Torleton in Salisbury Cathedral about the year 1443. He was also Canon of Chichester and Windsor, 1449; and Registrar of the Order of the Garter. See Ashmole's Berks. The following fragment of pedigree may refer to a near relative, of the same name:—

William Canynges [the restorer of the=Joan, bur. in St. Mary Church of St. Mary Redcliffe, Bristol]. | Redcliffe, 1466.

William Canynges=Isabel, or Elizabeth,=John Depedene, Esq.

EDWARD KITE.

¹ Soon after the restoration of order, the King appears to have visited Winchester—from whence he came to Clarendon, and during his stay he is reported to have inflicted condign punishment on the parties concerned in the bishop's murder. After Cade's execution, part of his remains are said to have been exposed at Salisbury, where the populace had given so sanguinary a proof of an evil disposition.

TERRIERS OF THE GLEBE IN MINETY.

There are five of these documents in the Registrar's Office at Salisbury. Copies of some of them are inserted in the Parish Registers.

MYNTIE, 1608.

I.—The Viccaridge there hath of Glebe Land and tythe, close adjoyninge, contayninge by estimacion two acres or thereabout, and the Churchyard adjoyninge thereto, mounded with the com'on on the one side and the parsonage and the Glebe Land of the parsonage on the other sydes.

The Vicar there hath also all other tyeths except corne and hay. Richard Munder.

II.—A true Note or Terrier of all the knowne Glebe lands that belonge to the Vicaridge of Mintie, In the Diocese of Sarum.

Imprim': The Vicaridge house with a small garden and orchard thereunto belonging and also a little stable.

Imp's: A Vicarage house with a small Garden and Orchard and a small Stable thereunto belonging.

Item: The Church yard with the appurtenances except what the Impropiator hath enclosed out of it to enlarge his ricke-barton.

Item: A little close adjoining to the Vicarage house, about one acre.

Rich. Brown, Vicar of Minty.

John Frankham }
Nicholas Taylor } Churchwardens.

IV.—This is dated 7th December 1683, and is signed by Godfr. Jenkinson, Vicar, and John Norgrove, George Barrett, Churchwardens. It is almost the same as the previous one. But the Parsonage house with its two Paddocks and three Closes, Reads living and six small Tenements, also the Vicaridge house with Paddock and Close and Church yard), are noted as "in co'm Wilts", and the other pieces of land "in co'm Glos". The Vicaridge little Stable is "adj^s to ye West end of ye Church yard"; the boundaries of the little Paddock and close are—"E. the Parsonage Close and part of the Church yard, S. the Vicarage Orchard and part of Church yard, N.W. the High way"; the boundaries of Flistrich are—"E. the Com'on ground now in possⁿ. of John Norgrove, S. the Highway called Flistrich-lane, W. the Flistrich ground now in possⁿ. of Robert Taylor, N. the Great Cowleaz now in possⁿ. of John Norgrove".

V.—This is dated 15th December 1704 and signed by Godfr. Jenkinson, Vicar, and Tho: Browne, William Parsons, Churchwardens; also by Geo. Price, Jos. Nott, Henry Rendell, John Francome, Rob. Browne, Henry Helling, John Mason. It differs little from the two previous Terriers. The first item of the Parsonage possessions is, however, "The Chancel joining the Church" and of the Vicarage, "The Frank tenement or Freehold of the Church". Also Flistreech is "now divided in two grounds" and in its boundaries "George Pitt, Esq.," replaces "John Norgrove" and "Mr. Waller" replaces "Robert Taylor", also the S. boundary is given as "road towards Tydbury".

Queries.

Havers Family.—There is a mural monument in Ashley Church with a quaintly worded inscription to the memory of Alice Havers. No date is given and the name does not occur in the Registers. The inscription appears on a brass plate, above which on the stone is cut the coat of arms—in a lozenge, Havers (or, on a fesse sable 3 chess rooks of the field) impaling (?) The tinctures are obliterated. Can anyone give any information which might lead to determining the date of the monument and the connection of the Havers family with Ashley?

Bezant Family.—I should be grateful if any reader could inform me whether anything is known of the history of the Bezant family of Wiltshire. The name is spelt in a variety of ways. Fifty years ago the Rector of Devizes brought an antiquarian friend to see my mother, who told her he had been for years working up the history of the family, and told her the charge on her arms was a fish—I have since been told it is a dolphin—and that they were Counts of Flanders, one of them being a contemporary of Simon de Montfort. I have also been told that there is a most interesting account of the history of the family in some old French Records, any reference to which would be most gratefully appreciated.

The Good Old Days of Pluralism.—An Act of Parliament, passed in the first year of Edward VI, granted chantries and free chapels to the king. A commission issued in 1552 drew up an inventory of the chapels and their annual value. In Wilts Arch. Mag., vol. xii, page 380, we find No. 80 Beckhampton, in the parish of Avebury, a free chapel, incumbent John Warner, Warden of All Souls College, Oxford, value £4 10s. per annum.

Dr. Warner had a distinguished career, 1520 fellow of All Souls, warden 1536-1556 and 1558-1565, Senior Proctor 1529 and 1530, Regius Professor of Medecine 1546-1554, Commissary 1554 and 1559, Vice-Chancellor 1554. Outside Oxford he held a few preferments, 1546-1564 Archdeaconry of Cleveland, 1549-1550 Stalls at Winchester and Ely, 1557 a Rectory, 1559 a Stall at Salisbury, and 1559-1565 the Deanery of Winchester. In 1565 he died.

How gracious of him to hold the free chapel at Beckhampton with canonries, Professorship, Headship, Archdeaconry! Is anything known of the personal history of Dr. Warner?

Horslebreadegate (vol. vi, p. 571).—This is probably the place that is mentioned under a variety of names, some of them apparently corrupt. One of these is "Horsley Upright Gate", which comes very near in sound.

It occurs, I think, in an old Act of Parliament, relating to the road from Lacock to Sandy Lane. The locality appeared to be somewhere near the easternmost point of the civil parish of Lacock.

This is near Nethermore, which was a tithing of Chippenham parish in Pewsham Forest, and is now in the civil parish of Pewsham. This again is near the ancient parish of Calne.

I am writing from memory, not being able to refer to authorities.

Another curious extract from the same Register is the following "On tuesday night October 21st 1662 there hapened about the middest of the night, a sodeine feareful and lamentable fyer in the dwelling house, of Henry Seymore of Sunton, gent., aged as they saye about 90 years of age which said fyer the said Henry was burned in his bed but some smale part of him beinge afterwards found was buried the fryday followinge being October 24th 1662.—Thos. T. H. BAKER.

Wiltshire M.P.'s (vol. vi, p. 477).—Robert Hyde, M.P. for Hindon, 1677, was the son of Alexander Hyde, Bishop of Salisbury, vide vol. vi, p. 389. J. J. HAMMOND.

Nathaniel Barton, M.P. for Westbury, 1820, was an attorney at Warminster. In Corsley Church are memorials to his family:—

“Nathaniel Barton, Esq., died 22nd November 1828, aged 64.

Elizabeth his wife died 27th December 1847, aged 81.

John Barton, Esq. father of the above, died 1784, aged 83, buried at Upton Scudamore, and his wife, who died 1809, aged 89.¹

Mrs. Mary Watts, a relative, died 1820, aged 76.

Elizabeth Barton died 1851, aged 45.

Sarah Frances, daughter of Nathaniel and Elizabeth Barton, and wife of Joseph Lax, Esq., of Clifton.

In Corsley church is also a brass—

“In loving memory of Nathaniel Barton, of Corsley House, only son of Nathaniel and Elizabeth Barton, born Jan. 20th, 1813, called to his rest Sept. 2, 1878.”

He married at Great Cheverell, 12th January 1847, Mary, only surviving child of Captain John Nicholas, R.N., and Louisa his wife, daughter of the Rev. N. Fletcher, of Lee House, co. Hants, issue one son Nathaniel Fletcher Barton, who died s.p. F. H. BAKER.

Notes on the Hydes of Wilts and Cheshire (vol. vi, p. 501; vol. vii, p. 41).—Mr. Were has, I think, mistaken my statement. It is not a question of what arms the Earl of Clarendon was entitled to quarter, but a question of fact what he did actually quarter. The evidence is the coat of arms illustrated in Dugdale's Origines and on the piece of plate in St. Martin's Church, Salisbury. The arms ascribed to him by the Editor or Compiler of his Life were never apparently in fact borne by him in his life-time. J. J. H.

Davenport and Kent (p. 46).—Will it be any help to point out that the names Davenport and Dampier are the same? W. C. D. Whetham, Esq., New Lodge, Cambridge, is an authority on the subject, and might be able to give much information. E. R. NEVILL, F.S.A.

ARMS OF THE MAYOR AND CORPORATION OF THE CITY OF SALISBURY AS CONFIRMED IN 1565.

Wiltshire Notes and Queries,

SEPTEMBER, 1911.

ARMS OF THE COUNTY OF WILTS.

AMONG the stone carvings on the south front of the Town Hall at Trowbridge is the shield of arms with supporters, engraved as the frontispiece of this number, and underneath it a label inscribed "COUNTY OF WILTS".

Wiltshire, however, in common with many other counties, has no registered coat of arms, and the late Mr. Carrington¹ years ago called attention to the fact that among more than fifty thousand coats of arms blazoned in Sir Bernard Burke's "General Armory", not one of any county is there given.

But in the Herald's Visitation of Wiltshire, taken by William Harvey, Clarenceux King of Arms, in the year 1565, there is a drawing of the shield of arms and supporters as sculptured at Trowbridge, with the following entry, showing them to have been the ancient arms of the Mayor and Commonalty of the City of New Sarum, and not those of the County of Wilts:—

"These Armes with the two Eagles supporting the same are the auntient armes belonging and apperteining to the

Mayor his bretheren and Coñonaltie of the Cittie of New Sarum: The which I have registered and recorded at the tyme of this Visitaçon made within the Countie of Wilts. And at this Visitaçon was Thomas Jacob, Mayor: Robert Griffith, Richard Bryan, and William Webb, Justices of Peace, and also George Snelgar, Robert Eyre, John Webb, Tho. Catare, and John Eyre the younger, have been Mayors of that Cittie, and Robert Tuck, Towne Clerk, An^o 1565."

In Burke's General Armory they are thus blazoned:—
 "Salisbury, City of, or New Sarum. Azure, four bars or. Supporters, on either side an eagle displayed with two heads or, ducally gorged, beaked and legged azure."

The sculptor of the arms of the City of New Sarum on the Town Hall at Trowbridge, although the first person openly to label them "County of Wilts", was not the first to mistake them as such, for they are also found on the front of the Assize Courts at Devizes, built in 1835—their appearance here, on County property, naturally giving an impression that they must be none other than the arms of Wiltshire itself, and not only those of its Cathedral City.

On the subsequent erection of the Wilts County Asylum, the arms of the County were again looked for, and Mr. Swayne, the then Clerk of the Peace, who took considerable interest in the matter, having consulted the Herald's College and found that there was no registered coat of arms—it was decided to introduce over the entrance a shield sculptured with a dragon—the arms attributed to the ancient Kingdom of Wessex, of which Wiltshire formed a portion.

But besides the arms confirmed to the Mayor and Corporation at the Herald's Visitation of 1565, and still borne as those of the City of Salisbury, there is another armorial bearing apparently of much earlier date, engraved by Guillim, in his Display of Heraldrie as the arms of Salisbury (see illustration). This also has been occasionally attributed to the County of Wilts. It is thus blazoned:

—Azure, a sword argent, hilt and pommel or, surmounted by a key, of the last, in saltire; on a chief argent three fusils in fess gules.

The history of this latter bearing can apparently be traced without much difficulty. The late Mr. Hatcher, in an Historical Account of Old and New Sarum, published in 1834, says:—"A shield, with the sword and key in saltire, or without the bearing in chief, was originally placed in one of the windows of the Chapter House; but is now (1834) behind the Gorges monument, at the end of the North Aisle of the Choir, in the Cathedral." This probably represented the earliest arms of the City.

In 1337, William de Montacute, then Marshal of England, was created Earl of Salisbury, the title remaining in that family for four generations, until the death of Thomas de Montacute, in 1428; and among the stained glass in the windows of "The Hall of John Hall" (fifteenth century), on the Canal, we find another shield, the dexter half bearing the same sword and key in saltire [for the City of Salisbury], and impaling Montacute and Monthermer quarterly [for John de Montacute, the third Earl; whose mother was a Monthermer heiress]. Montacute bore Argent, three fusils conjoined in fess gules.

Lastly we have the shield as engraved by Guillim, and here reproduced, viz. :—the sword and key of Salisbury, with the three fusils of Montacute (as seen on the tomb of John de Montacute in the Cathedral)—the latter introduced, on a chief, into the same shield, as a compliment to the distinguished family who for nearly a century had represented the Earldom.

In a Chapter on "Official and Corporate Heraldry"; by the Rev. Charles Boutell, in his well known work on this subject, he says:—"Shields of arms are considered to belong to the different counties of the United Kingdom, and they are habitually used in documents and publications having a direct reference to the several counties. It is difficult, however, to understand how a county can be supposed to have a corporate existence, or to be able to bear arms. Accordingly I do not include in this chapter the so called Arms of the Counties—arms which appear to have been adopted from the heraldic insignia of the early Earls or Counts." This must have been precisely the case with the shield now under notice.

The Rev. W. K. Riland Bedford, in his Blazon of Episcopacy, attributes the entire shield as here blazoned to Nicholas Shaxton, Bishop of Salisbury, 1535-9, on the authority of the Wriothesley MSS. at Clumber—but it would be interesting to learn on what authority the Bishop thus assumed, as his own armorial bearing, the ancient—though probably at that date disused—arms of the City.

EDWARD KITE.

THE MEMORANDUM BOOK OF THOMAS GARDINER, OF TYTHERTON LUCAS.

In 1680 we have Abjohn Stoakes Esq., more for Woodrufes, and Mr. Stoakes for Chapmanes; Jonathan Gyar [Giare] Rector; Mr. Foundes; Wm. Coullman [later "gent."]; John Townsend, also for Harise's and Stockmane's; Gabriel Gouldney; Henry Gouldney; Edward Crooke, also for Longe's and Tranter's; Thomas Gardiner [our Author]; Thomas Beames, also for Angelles; Walter Essington; Christopher Colybee; and James Colet for the 6 akres. Here we have not only the occupiers of 1680 but also the names of some of the tenants, Woodroofe, Chapman, Harris, Stockman, Long, Tranter, Angel, and also the widow Chapman, for a holding is rated as "that which was the wid: Chapmanes", which, since it is ascribed to no occupier, was probably still in the hands of her executors; she being buried as Grace Chapman, widow, 23 Mar. 167⁸₉.

Shortly after this a new valuation was made. It is undated, but from internal evidence seems to have been either made early in 1681, when Mr. Lake became Rector and before James Colet died in April, or within the next three years at least. In it all the valuations are higher than in 1680, I think. Here it is¹:—

Abjohn Stoakes Esq.	174	8	2
Mr. [Wm.] Lacke, rector	20	17	0
Mr. Foundes	126	0	0
William Coullman	82	15	0
John Townsend	69	12	0
Gabriel Gouldney	48	19	0
Edward Croocke	21	5	0
Thomas Beames	13	11	0
Walter Es[s]ington	6	0	0
Widow Wates	3	15	0
James Colet, for the 6 akres	4	5	0

The two rates in April 1680 had been made (1) "For the Militia or Trophy mony", (2) "for the disbanding of the Army the sum charged for 3 monthes pay". Henry Gouldney and Christopher Colybee disappear in this new valuation, though the former lived till August 1684. The Rev. Jonathan Giare also disappears, having died Dec. 1680.

A rate made 24 Sept. 1683 for "the Repayring of the Chappell, paying for the surpluse, and mending of the highwayes" has Daniel Every as a payer, Walter Essington pays for Olife's, Edward Crooke "or his sonn" for Mr. "Founses" and Wm. Coullman is designated "gent". A rate made 22 June 1685 "for the repaire of the Armes, pouder, and bulletes, and twenty eaight dayes' pay for the seting forth of the souldier for the Kinge's servise" produced £3 8s. od. from nine payers, while Mr. Stokes, Mr. Foundes, W. Coullman, J. Townsend, and Jas. Colet seem to have escaped the collector. They all re-appear 13 May 1689 in the rate then made and Walter Weeb appears for the first time, and a new Gabriel Gouldney in place of the one who died 1683-4, who pays now on "Hates", while John Townsend has added "Colibee's" to his holding, but Dan. Every is not in either. The rate made 4 Nov. 1689 again designates Wm. Coullman as "gent." and omits W. Weeb. A rate made 28 July 1690 "for the monthe's pay for the souldier and repairing of the Armes and pouder, Clarck's fees and other charge" catches W. Weeb and lets the same people escape as in 1685, except Colet. In the following February "Mrs. Mary Cally widow" appears, Mr. Lake has taken over "Chapman's ground" and Mr. Foundes is not found, but instead we have "Mrs. Foundes widdow". Here Widow Wates is designated Joane. In the rate of March 7, 169 $\frac{2}{3}$ John Scats has taken Mr. Coulman's land, and a new payer is George Townsend and the rate collected has gone up to £85 12s. Further on there is a note of Wm. Coullman's death 6 Oct. 1691, and of John Townsend's 14 March 169 $\frac{1}{2}$, and this is all there is about the ratepayers of Tytherton.

"A m[e]morandum of the serving of TITHING MANSHIPE for our TITHING of TITHERTON LUCAS yeare after yeare, and house after house and Whoo served every mane's house, begining at my owne house" gives a list of the successive officers, which I give in an abridged form:—

NOTES ON THE HYDES OF WILTS AND CHESHIRE.

(Vol. vi, p. 343.)

The discovery of the Inquisition Post Mortem of Amphyllis Hyde, which has been kindly communicated to me by a correspondent, proves the date of her death, and also proves that she was the first wife of Laurence Hyde, and that it was his second wife Katharine who sheltered Charles II at Heale, during the flight after the battle of Worcester. It also explains the entry in the Falstone Day Book, p. 343 ; it will be observed that Katharine Hyde does not refer to Robert Hyde as her child, but as "Robert Hyde, orphan", and describes the estate, "which is now in her possession, and belongeth to the said Robert, the heir, or to some other of the children of the said Laurence Hyde". The Pedigree must be corrected by this addition.

Amphyllis (daughter and heiress of	=	Laurence	=	Katherine [.]
Sir Richard Tichbourne and				second wife.
Helena White his first wife) ;
married at Kensington, 1 Dec.
1619 ; died 24 Feb. 1631/2.

The children of Laurence and Amphyllis Hyde were:—

Amphyllis, born 25 Jan. 1625/6 [married as stated in Pedigree].

Ann, born 30 Sept. 1627.

Robert [not Laurence, as stated in the Pedigree], born 28 July 1629; living in 1646/7, but died before attaining his majority; date of death unknown.

Helena, born 27 December 1630 [married as stated in Pedigree].

During the period of his first marriage Laurence Hyde appears to have lived at, or in the neighbourhood of, Andover, where the Inquisition Post Mortem of Amphyllis Hyde was taken 9 Charles I (1633) [I. P. M. Chancery Series, Vol. 565, No. 199].

It is desired to find the date of Laurence Hyde's second marriage and the name of his wife. She survived the Restoration, and was buried in Salisbury Cathedral, where there is a gravestone:—

reconditur quæ | Obit 10 die Augusti Anno | Dni 1661 | Ano ætatis 54.

1661, Aug. 10, Mrs. Katherine Hyde, of St. Martin's Parish, buried.

NOTES ON WILTSHIRE PARISHES.

ASHTON KEYNES.

Ashton Keynes seems to be one of the parishes in North Wilts which have so far escaped the attention of the local historian, and these notes are offered in the hope that they may bring forth something more, particularly as regards the period between 1636 and 1767.

There are two manors in the parish, Ashton Keynes and Leigh, and both originally belonged to Tewkesbury Abbey. Dugdale mentions them as "Aishton Keyns et Ligh", but by what must be called a clerical error he includes them with Pyrton, Oxehey, Overwroughton, Turneys et Uffecote, Pulton juxta Marlborough, under the heading of Gloucestershire. In the time of Edward VI. they, or at least one of them, became the property of a branch of the Hungerford family. In the British Museum Library are three deeds referring to the parish. The first (ms. 40083) is a lease granted by Sir John Hungerford of Down Ampney in 1576; it recites that Sir Antony Hungerford, deceased, father of Sir John had, and Sir John then had, all the demise and grant of the late King Edward VI. by his letters patent dated 28 November in the fourth year of his reign [1550] of the entire manor of Ayshton Keynes, sometime belonging to the late dissolved monastery of Tewkesburie, for four-score and seven years; and grants a lease of a house and mill, with mead and arable land adjoining the mill, and a close called Startelatts, otherwise the Lord's Close, together with the water, fludyeatts, bancks, fyshings, etc., to Antony Ferris and Elyzabethe, his wife, for 60 years if they--Antony Ferris and his wife--or either of them should live so long, at an annual rent of 36s. 8d. for the house, mill, etc., and 10s. for the close called Startelautts (the spelling varies here) otherwise the Lord's Close. What is the meaning of "the entire manor" of Ashton Keynes is not clear, unless it means Ashton Keynes and the Leigh. The lease is endorsed with a surrender, dated 21 February, 1631, to Sir Thomas Sackville, Kt., "nowe Lord of the Mannor of Ashton Keynes." One of the witnesses to this surrender was Alan Bishop, cler., who had been instituted to the Vicarage seven years before on the presentation of Sir Thomas Sackville, of Bybury, co. Glos.

How long the Manor, subject to the above-mentioned grant for eighty-seven years, remained Crown property does not appear, but in 1605 it was granted to Philip, first Earl of Montgomery, and he in 1612 sold it to Sir John Hungerford. The transfer is recorded in the Close Rolls (10 James I., pt. 32, No. 20), from which it appears that King James, on 1 February, 1605, granted to Sir Philip Herbert, Kt., younger son of the late Henry, Earl of Pembroke, deceased, the manor of Aisheton Keynes, the rectory, and the advowson of the vicarage. Sir Philip was created Lord Herbert of Shurland and Earl of Montgomery, and on 8 October, 1612, sold all the property included in the King's grant to Sir John Hungerford of Down Ampney.

Not long afterwards Sir John Hungerford apparently got into money difficulties, and conveyed the manor to his brother, Sir Anthony Hungerford of Stock, and afterwards of Black Bourton, and Sir William Lysley of Wootton, in the Isle of Wight, as security for such debts as they were or might be liable for jointly with him. This deed does not seem to have been carried into effect, but a little more than three years later the manor and other property were the subject of a further arrangement for the same purpose. The substance is given here in abstracts of the two other deeds preserved at the British Museum.

Ms. 40096 is an indenture dated 28 February, 18 James [1619-20] made between Sir John Hungerford of Downe Ampney, Kt., of one part, and Sir Anthony Hungerford of Stock, Kt., brother of Sir John Hungerford, and Sir William Lysley of Wootton, in the Isle of Wight, Kt., of the other part; by which Sir John Hungerford as well for the payment of his debts as for further discharging his brother and Sir William Lysley from such debts as they are bound for, or may be bound for, with him at his death; and for the payment of £1,300 to his daughter Mary at 21 years of age or marriage, and £2,000 to his granddaughter Bridget, daughter of his eldest son, Sir Anthony Hungerford, at such time as by a lease to Sir Henry Walloppe, Kt., and others, it is appointed to be paid; granted the manor of Ashton Keynes with its appurtenances to Sir Anthony Hungerford, his brother, and Sir William Lysley, and their heirs, etc., for ever; subject to a proviso that on payment of his debts, etc., by himself or his next heir, and £100 to each of the grantees this grant should cease and be void. The deed is endorsed as signed, sealed, and delivered to the use of Sir Anthony Hungerford and Sir William Lysley; but a further endorsement says ". Deeds were never executed But were afterwards cancelled and made voide."

The third deed at the Museum, another indenture [ms. 40098], made 4 September, 21 James I. [1623], between Sir John Hungerford, of Downe Amney, Kt., George Hungerford, of the Leighe, gent., and Giles Hungerford, of Stocke, gent., of one part, and Sir Anthony Hungerford, of Blacke Bourton, co. Oxon., Kt., brother of Sir John Hungerford, and Anthony Hungerford, of Hanckerton, Wilts, gent., of the other part; is much to the same effect. It recites that two days before Sir John, George and Giles Hungerford had granted to Sir Anthony and Anthony Hungerford the manors of the Leighe and Asheton Keynes and other property in the vicinity, together with the manors of Stocke and Great Bedwin for a year, in trust, and declares that the property mentioned was granted to Sir Anthony Hungerford and Anthony Hungerford, their heirs, etc., for ever, in trust that they should employ the profits in payment of the debts of Sir John Hungerford mentioned in a schedule annexed to the indenture, and of legacies mentioned in his will, and afterwards convey the property to such uses as he should direct in writing. The schedule is missing. It will be noted that in this indenture both the manors, Leigh and Ashton Keynes, are mentioned.

Perhaps in order to carry out the trusts of the last deed the next step followed quickly, for in the following November all the Hungerfords who were parties to the deed of September joined in a conveyance of the manor of Ashton Keynes, the rectory and the advowson of the vicarage to Sir Thomas

Sackville of Westminster, for £4,072 (Close Rolls, 21 James I., pt. 9, No. 22). Before ten years had elapsed the manor changed hands again, being sold in April, 1632, to George Evelyn of West Dean (Close Rolls, 8 Charles I., pt. 1, No. 14). There is one peculiarity in the conveyance on this occasion which is obscure to the lay mind. In the deed of 21 November, 1623, the property was sold to Sir Thomas Sackville, his heirs, etc., to the only proper use and behoof of the said Sir Thomas Sackville, his heirs, etc., for ever; and in this conveyance of 18 April, 1623, Sir John Hungerford, who sold in 1623, is joined with Sir Thomas Sackville in selling again. But perhaps the explanation may lie in an improper understanding of the deeds by the lay mind. This deed is interesting: the property sold is the manor of Ayshton Keynes, the rectory, and the advowson of the vicarage—all the property sold to Sir John Hungerford by Philip, Earl of Montgomery (now become Earl of Pembroke and Montgomery) or by the Hungerfords to Sir Thomas Sackville, but it excepts certain leases, including one made in 19 James I. by Sir John Hungerford to Sir Thomas Sackville for 61 years, to commence on the determination of the lease granted by King Edward VI. to Sir Anthony Hungerford, great-grandfather of Sir John; and it affords a limited pedigree in so far as it also excepts customary leases granted by Sir John Hungerford, Kt., grandfather, and Anthony Hungerford, father of Sir John Hungerford, party to the conveyance, and makes mention of his son and heir apparent, Sir Anthony Hungerford. The name of Ferris, the lessee of 1576, re-appears in John Ferris, who had the lease of a mill, probably the same, as the rent is the same, from the previous 21 February for the lives of himself, Anne his wife, and John his son. Henry Hawkins held three messuages or tenements, sometime parcel of the copyhold or customary lands of the manor, under a reserved rent of 12s. a year and a relief of 24s., payable on the death of every tenant dying seised of the same. The exception from the purchase of the lease of 19 James I. to Sir Thomas Sackville raises a question as to how far George Evelyn enjoyed the full ownership of the manor, but the inquisition taken at his death affords no light on that point; it gives the annual value of the manor as £20, curiously near the value placed on it in 1802. George Evelyn, who was son of John Evelyn of West Dean, died 19 January, 1636, leaving a widow and a son and heir, Sir John Evelyn, aged then 33 and more.

The next note refers to a period over a century later when a private Act of Parliament (7 George III., cap. 39) was passed authorizing the closure of the open common fields and waste grounds of the manor of Leigh. The lords of the manor at that time were George Duke of Montagu, John Lord Montagu, commonly called John Marquis of Monthermer, Thomas Lord Bruce, and Sir John Hynd Cotton. How they came to be joint lords is not shown, but three of them were Wiltshiremen. Elizabeth, sister of Charles, third Earl of Ailesbury, had married the Earl of Cardigan; her eldest son George succeeded his father as Earl of Cardigan and married the daughter of the Duke of Montagu; after the death of his father-in-law he was created Duke of Montagu and his son John was styled Marquis of Monthermer; the son died in 1770 and he himself in 1790, when the dukedom became extinct. Thomas Lord Bruce was the youngest son of Elizabeth, Countess of Cardigan, and on the death of his uncle, the Earl of Ailesbury, s.p. in 1747, succeeded him under special remainder as Baron Bruce of Tottenham; he was created Earl of Ailesbury in 1776 (G.E.C. Peerage).

Ten years later another private Act (17 George III., cap. 139) was passed for the enclosure of the common fields, etc., of the manor of Ashton Keynes. Henry Whorwood was then lord of the manor and owner of the impropriate rectory; the advowson of the vicarage had become disconnected from the rectory, and the Rev. Thomas Wicks, D.D., was the patron; the Rev. Samuel Barnes was the vicar. Dr. Wicks was vicar of Tetbury, and, in 1783, of Ashton Keynes; he died in 1786, and is buried at Tetbury, near his father and mother. By his will (as Thomas Croome Wickes), proved in 1786 (P.C.C. 358, Norfolk), he directed that the advowson should be sold. This inclosure was complicated by a claim made by the adjoining parish of Minty. There was a piece of ground called South Moor, adjoining Cripp's Leaze in the manor of Minty, and on that part of it next to Cripp's Leaze, and containing some 312 acres, cattle from both parishes had from time immemorial "inter-communed"; moreover, that part of South Moor was claimed as belonging to the manor of Minty. With the consent of the lords of both manors the Commissioners for the inclosure were authorised to divide that part of South Moor on which the cattle from the two manors so "inter-communed" and to set out 147 acres for the manor of Minty. The Commissioners were also to settle a dispute about the boundary between Ashton Keynes and Somerford Keynes. There was also a Common called Tudmoor, over which a right of Common was claimed by Ashton Keynes, Sharncote, and the consolidated parishes of Siddington St. Mary and Siddington St. Peter, just over the Gloucestershire border; this was, however, to be left unsettled. A piece of the lands to be enclosed had then lately been purchased for the augmentation of the perpetual curacy of Ampney St. Peter. When the Common fields of Siddington were enclosed in the following year the commissioners for that enclosure were directed to settle the rights of the respective manors in regard to Tudmoor.

By 1786 the manor of Ashton Keynes had found another owner. John Paul of Tetbury, who had then "recently" bought it of the trustees or assigns of Henry Whorwood, and was also occupying it, made his will on 20 September of that year; he devised it to trustees with instructions to pull down as much of the mansion house as they might think too large for the estate belonging to it, and to hold the manor in trust for the sons of his nephew Josiah Paul Tippetts, making it a condition that the beneficiaries should take and use the name and arms of Paul only. The testator died in 1787, and John Paul Tippetts, eldest son of his nephew, on attaining twenty-four years of age entered into possession and took the name of Paul; he married Mary Matthews, and on 30 June 1797 settled Westham Farm (in Ashton Keynes and Sharncote) on her in lieu of jointure if she should survive him. John Paul Paul (previously Tippetts) in right of his wife was also possessed of a freehold property in Doughton, alias Dufton, in the parish of Tetbury, of the estimated value of over £400 a year. In course of time the Manor House of Ashton Keynes had fallen into a dilapidated and ruinous condition, and was considered uninhabitable. In 42 George III, a private Act of Parliament (cap. 105) was obtained freeing the manor from the uses of the will of John Paul and other settlements, charging the property at Doughton with them, and vesting part of the Ashton Keynes estate in trustees for sale. The manor was valued at £19 8s. 10½*d.*—chief quit rents £19 3s. 10½*d.*, and average fines 5s.; Westham Farm, 454a. 1r. 35p., and parts of Dairy Farm and North End Farm, bringing the acreage up to 567a. 1r. 27p., were valued at £590 os. 2*d.* a year—together £609 9s. 0½*d.* The outgoing were £19 9s. 9½*d.*, leaving the net yearly value of this part of the property £589 19s. 3*d.* These were to be sold. The other property in Ashton Keynes and Sharncote—the remainder of Dairy Farm and North End Farm, 381a. 1r. 12p.—was of the yearly value of £377 16s. 4*d.* These were retained. The sons of Josiah Paul Tippetts, afterwards Josiah Paul Paul, were John Paul Paul the eldest, who, as already stated, was married and had two sons, John Paul, aged seven years, and Walter Matthew Paul, aged six years; Robert Clarke Paul, who had attained twenty-four years of age, was married and had two sons, Edward Brown Paul, aged five years, and Josiah Tippetts Paul, aged six months; Josiah Paul who had died unmarried; Samuel Paul Paul, George Paul, and Richard Paul, who were under age.

Presumably, the sale authorized by the Act of 42 George

III was carried out, at all events the manor changed hands again. It and the manor of Leigh were part of the property of Robert Nicholas, who died in 1826. This Robert Nicholas was, it is believed, grandson of Edward Nicholas of Devizes; he made his will, dated 20 May 1818, and gave his property to trustees for the benefit of his wife and children, with ultimate remainder to his brother the Rev. John Nicholas, D.D., vicar of Charlton and Westport. Robert Nicholas who was, or had been, Chairman of the Board of Excise, left a widow his second wife—and a large family. His first wife was Charlotte, daughter of Admiral Sir Thomas Frankland, bart., by whom he had five sons and six daughters—Edward, Charlotte, Sophia, Frances, and Harriet who had married Henry Theodosius Browne Collier, and had a son George Baring Browne Collier; these survived him, and were all over 21 years of age; the remaining six were Robert, William, Thomas, Charles, Eleanor, and Maria; of these Charles and Maria were living in 1818, but died before their father; the other four are mentioned in an Agreement of June 1809, quoted in the schedule to a private Act of Parliament (7 and 8 George IV, cap. 51), but are not mentioned in his will, or included among his surviving children. William met his death from wounds received at the storming of Badajos in 1812, where he behaved with conspicuous bravery. By his second wife, Anne, he had three sons and four daughters: Griffin, Richard, James, Anne, Elizabeth, Emily, and Clara, all under age at his death. Richard was born 7 May 1820, and James 23 August 1822; the names of the other five occur in the will of 1818. The private Act above mentioned authorized the sale of the real property, including the manors of Ashton Keynes, Shorncliffe, Leigh, South Cerney, and Cerney Wick. The names of Robert and John Nicholas, then minors, appear in the Inclosure Act of 17 George III amongst those of owners of the lands to be inclosed, in addition to Henry Whorwood, then lord of the manor.

KEMBLE, OAKSEY, AND POOLE.

These three manors were formerly held by the Pooles, and Canon Jackson, in his edition of Aubrey, tells us that Oaksey was sold in 1710 to Sir Francis Westley. Kemble and Poole remained in the family a few years longer—until 1732. Henry Poole, who died on 9th November 1726, left them by will to trustees for the benefit of his two daughters, Finetta, the wife of Benjamin Bathurst, and Elizabeth, who was unmarried. Benjamin Bathurst, with the consent of his wife, had contracted to purchase property at Lydney, in Gloucestershire, and it became necessary to realize the estate. Three of the four trustees had died and Elizabeth Poole was still single; consequently recourse was had to a private Act of Parliament (5 Geo. II, cap. 5) to authorise a sale; and by an Indenture of 22nd July 1732 the manors of Kemble and Poole were conveyed to Robert Westley, of Oaksey, for no less a sum than £20,000. Robert Westley was probably of the same family as Sir Francis, who, as already mentioned, purchased Oaksey in 1710; he was Lord Mayor of London in 1744, died 24th September 1745, and was buried at Kemble. There is a monumental inscription in Kemble Church to his memory, as Sir Robert Westley, Kt., and to that of his third wife Elizabeth and John his son. Dame Elizabeth died 1 June 1746, and in her will (P.C.C. 195 Edmunds) speaks of her son-in-law and daughters-in-law (meaning of course step-son and step-daughters) John, Alice, and Elizabeth Westley. John Westley died 10 June 1748, aged 39, and by his will (P.C.C. 198 Strahan) left the manor of Oaksey to his sister Alice, now become the wife of Benjamin Adamson, and to her children, with remainder to her sister Elizabeth; the manors of Kemble and Poole he left to his sister Elizabeth and her children, with remainder to his sister Alice and her sons; with ultimate remainder in both cases to his cousin Thomas Westley Smith, only son of Thomas Smith, of Salisbury, and Alice his wife, and his heirs for ever. There was a marriage at St Thomas', Salisbury, on 12th January 1728-9, between Thomas Smith and Alice Westley. John Westley bequeathed an annuity of £40, charged on the manors of Kemble and Poole, to another sister, Rebecca Parker, whose name does not appear in Dame Elizabeth's will. Canon Jackson seems to have been misled in stating that Oaksey was left by Sir Francis Westley to his daughter Mrs. Adamson; it is plain from the above that Mrs. Adamson was daughter of Sir Robert, and that Oaksey came to her from her brother. So far the evidence is clear enough; but what followed is not so clear.

Elizabeth Westley, lady of the manors of Kemble and Poole, appears to have married Charles Coxe, for at the time of the enclosure of the common fields (Pte. Act 12 Geo. III, cap. 70) Charles Coxe was lord of both manors in right of Elizabeth his wife, and amongst those named as otherwise interested in the enclosure are Charles Coxe, in right of Elizabeth his wife, and Benjamin Adamson, in right of Alice his wife. The Gentleman's Magazine for 1749 reports the marriage of ——— Coxe, Esq., and Miss Westley, daughter of the late Alderman Westley, on 1st April—the same Magazine reports the death of Charles Westley Coxe, at his seat at Kemble, 10 Mar. 1806; and in Foster's Alumni Oxon. is an entry stating that Charles Coxe, son of Charles Coxe, of Kemble, Wilts, arm., matriculated from Corpus Christi College, 9 July 1771, aged 17.

In 1809 Robert Gordon and Elizabeth Anne Coxe were married. The Gentleman's Magazine reports the marriage of Robert Gordon, Esq., of Leweston, Dorset, with Elizabeth Anne, only daughter and heiress of the late Charles Westley Coxe, Esq., of Kemble House, Wilts, on 11 July, 1809. The bride was a minor and the Articles of Agreement entered into previously to the marriage had to be legalised in consequence; this was done in the following year by a private Act of Parliament (50 George III, cap. 61), and in a schedule annexed to the Act the property of Elizabeth Anne Gordon was stated to include the manors of Kemble and Poole, the advowson of Kemble and other property in that parish and Poole; the property of Robert Gordon was in Dorset and Scotland.

It is therefore suggested, as a fair assumption, but open to proof or disproof, that Elizabeth Westley, who was lady of the manors of Kemble and Poole, married Charles Coxe in 1749; that Charles Coxe, who matriculated at Oxford in 1771, was their son, born (say) in 1754; that he took the additional name of Westley, and died in 1806; that Elizabeth Anne Coxe, who married Robert Gordon in 1809, was his only daughter; and that the manors of Kemble and Poole passed accordingly from Elizabeth Westley to Robert Gordon in right of his wife. He is named as lord of these manors, about 1821, by Sir Thomas Phillipps in his Monumental Inscriptions in Wilts. Perhaps some readers of the Wills Notes & Queries can throw further light on the subject.

Veighes in Wilts.—In the First Fruits Composition Books preserved in the Public Record Office I find an entry stating that John Northey on his institution to the Vicarage of Hinton Magna [Broad Hinton] in 1620 made a composition for the payment of the First Fruits, and gave as his sureties William Northey of the parish of All Saints, in Bredstreete, London, girdler, and Philip Stronge of Veighes, in the county of Wilts, bruer. Can anyone tell me where Veighes is?

John Inglesant.—In this well-known novel there are several allusions to Malmesbury and the neighbourhood. Some instances may be given: Cromwell, Earl of Essex, says to Richard Inglesant, "I have in this Commission appointed you Visitor of the Priory of Westacre, six miles south of Malmesbury, on the way to Somerset, which they call the Priory in the wood". Having slept at Malmesbury, Richard Inglesant starts and, crossing the brow of a hilly common, saw beneath him the roofs of the Priory surrounded by its woods. The Prior preaches; the Mayor of Malmesbury is there but not the Abbey clergy. We are told later that "old and precious manuscripts were used everywhere by the schoolboys for covering their books and for the covers of music and the glovers of Malmesbury wrapped their goods in them." In the year 1633 Eustace Inglesant arranged for his son John to go to school at Ashley where the Vicar with whom he was to live was a scholar, a Rosicrucian and an Alchemist. He taught his boys in the hall of the Vicarage—a large room with a porch and with armorial bearings in the stained glass of the windows. I should be glad to know upon what basis of facts the above statements made by Mr. Shorthouse rest. Where was the Priory of Westacre and the hilly common near Malmesbury? Was Malmesbury ever a centre of the glove trade? Was the Vicar of Ashley, in 1633 in any way distinguished as a Rosicrucian? About that date there was much publishing of (so called) Rosicrucian works in England, France, etc.; this time was the "floruit" of Robert Flood, John Heyden, Thomas Vaughan, etc., but what ground is there for connecting Ashley with this mysticism? The present Vicarage at Ashley is a modern building.

Ingram (p. 47).—In this Query for "Stonepaine" read "Stourpaine", and in footnote to same for "Sarah" read "Mary", and for "Nathaniel" read "Thomas".

Arundel Penruddocke.—Can any reader give authentic information of the date of Arundel Penruddocke's (née Freke) death and where she was buried? Her Royalist husband, Col. John Penruddocke, executed by Cromwell in 1655, is buried in the vault at Compton Chamberlayne Church, but her name is not on the tablet with his. There is a tradition that she planted "The King's Elm" in Compton Park at the Restoration, when her son succeeded to the property; if so, she died after 1660.

INCISED SLAB AT STEEPLE LANGFORD.

Wiltshire Notes and Queries,

DECEMBER, 1911.

DIMINUTIVE INCISED EFFIGY AT STEEPLE LANGFORD.

THE somewhat remarkable memorial, represented in the accompanying illustration, was discovered some fifty years since in rebuilding the Chancel of Steeple Langford Church. It is an incised slab of Purbeck marble, of diminutive size, the effigy being only two feet in height, and the entire slab 26 inches in length, by 14 inches at the top, and $9\frac{1}{2}$ at the foot. It was found within the Chancel, on the south side, near the east end—buried about two feet below the surface—its position, perhaps, indicating that the deceased individual was either a benefactor or founder of this part of the building, which was an early specimen of the architecture of the Early English period—the beginning of the thirteenth century.

The effigy appears habited in a long loose robe partly open in front. The upraised hands hold a shield-shaped object, which, partly covered by the fingers, could scarcely have been intended as an armorial escutcheon, and may, therefore, as suggested by the late Mr. Albert Way in the Journal of the Archæological Institute, vol. xv, p. 75, represent a receptacle enclosing the heart of the deceased—or, the diminutive size of the memorial may, perhaps, indicate that the heart only was interred beneath.

There is one feature in the effigy which may afford a clue to its identity. On the right side, suspended from a belt round the neck, hangs a horn—denoting that the deceased individual was a hunter—probably an official in the neighbouring forest of Grovely.

At the time of the Domesday Survey (A.D. 1083-86) there was a considerable landowner close by, who is described as Waleran "Venator" (the hunter). His descendants, of the same name—perhaps hereditary foresters of Grovely—continued here until early in the thirteenth century, when the last Walter Waleran died, leaving three daughters, co-heiresses. Sir John de Monmouth, husband of the elder of these, was Sheriff of Wilts 1228-9, and died 1256-7, leaving a son John, who was hung for murder in 1280. After his execution, an inquisition was made at Devizes touching his forfeited estates of Steeple Langford and East Grinstead, which seem eventually to have passed to the families of Ingham and St. Martin, as representatives of the other co-heiresses of Waleran.

To one of the later members of the family of Waleran, as patron of the living of Steeple Langford, this singular memorial may probably be ascribed. The costume is not in itself sufficiently distinctive to fix an exact date; but, if it were considered to belong to a somewhat later period, we find in a perambulation of the Wiltshire forests, made in the year 1300, the name also of Alan de Langford, evidently a native of this village, occurring as one of the Verderers of the same forest of Grovely, and as such the hunting horn would not be an inappropriate appendage. He was also, at that time, the owner of adjacent property, for among the forest boundaries mentioned in the perambulation is "the mere between the land of Adam de la Ford and the land of Alan de Langford".

In the Church of Skegby, co. Notts, is an incised effigy with the hunting horn as in the Langford example; it is engraved in Thoroton's History of that County, vol. ii, p. 302.

A sculptured effigy in stone, also representing a forester—Jon or Jenkyn Wyrrel, who died in 1457—still remains in the churchyard of Newland in the forest of Dean. Later examples of effigies with hunting horns—mostly park keepers—are also found in monumental brasses of the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries.

In some notes on the Langford slab, by the late Mr. Way, which have been already referred to, he says:—"The design strikes me as presenting a considerable similarity to that of many incised memorials in France, which may be assigned to the same period. The stiff character of the outlines may in some measure be owing to the hard material of the slab."

Here ends the list of those who served as Overseer in Chippenham parish for the Tytherton Lucas Tything. The spelling during the later years is so bad that some editing of names has been necessary. When I say that served is spelt seareafed, it will be understood what strange forms some personal names take.

PENN OF RODBOURNE.

Aubrey mentions this family several times. He connects them with the Penns of Minety, from whom sprung the founder of Pennsylvania, and also claims a distant relationship with them himself. He tells us that "old Mr. Penn of Rodbourne", temp. Jas. I, was "an ingeniose man and a good chymist", also, that "Alice, dau. of Edward Pen of Rodburn", married about 1590 one of the family of Power of Stanton St. Quintin, which inter-married with his mother's family, the Lytes of Easton Piers. The following entries in the Malmesbury Abbey Church Registers, which commence in 1590, show that the Penns' connection with Rodborne continued until shortly after the Restoration.

- 1606, 17 Aug., bapt. Elizabeth, dau. of Thomas Penne of Rodbourne.
 1608, 30 Oct., bapt. Edward, son of Thomas Penne of Rodborn.
 1610/11, 23 Jan., bapt. Joane, dau. of Thomas Penne.
 1613, 29 May, bapt. Anne, dau. of Thomas Penn.
 1615, 30 Dec., bapt. Jane, dau. of Thomas Penn of Rodborne.
 1619, 16 Sept., bapt. William, son of Thomas Penne.
 1619, 23 Oct., bur. Joane Penn of Rodbourne.
 1622, 2 Dec., bur. Elizabeth, dau. of Thomas Pen of Rodburne.
 1626, 23 July, bapt. George, son of Thomas Penne of Rodborne.
 1633, 23 Sept., Walter Wastfelde and Joan Penne.
 1657, 24 May, bur. Thomas Penn of Rodborne: deceased 20 May.
 1664, 8 Nov., bur. in ye Chappell, Rodborne, widdow Penn, the elder.
 1681, 4 Apr., marr. Jeremiah Godwin and Ann Penn.

The Thomas Penn, whose name occurs so frequently in these entries, is probably the "old Mr. Penn" of Aubrey's acquaintance.

Another member of this family seems to be mentioned in the following extract from the Great Somerford Registers (Bishop's Transcripts) for 1606.

Imprimis the xxixth day of Aprill, Richard Atwood, clerke, and Margaret Pen were married.

Within a few months Mr. Atwood's burial is recorded.

It'm the xviith day of January Richard Atwood, clerke, was buried.

An entry in the Malmesbury Registers shows that there was one child of this marriage, and points to Mrs. Penn's residence after her husband's death at Rodbourne with her relatives.

1611, July. The xiith Daye was buried Francis Atwood, the sonne of Mr. Atwood, once parson of Broade Somerford.

At Minety, the only memorial that Aubrey could find of the Pennes was, he tells us, a broken gravestone near the south door of the Chancel, on which no more was visible than the letter P., but which he knew marked the spot where lay William Penn, the ancestor of the founder of Pennsylvania. Canon Jackson, some 200 years after, was able to decipher the inscription as "WILIAM —ENN DYED THE 12 OF MARCH IN THE OF OUR LORD 1591". Unfortunately, this stone seems now to have disappeared, probably in the course of some alterations made in the Chancel within the last 20 years. As the Minety Registers previous to the Restoration have vanished, we have no means of tracing the different members of the family who were baptized or buried in the Church. Their Minety estate is said to have been sold soon after 1591 to the Pleydells. "Penn's Lodge, in the parish of Brinkworth", mentioned by Aubrey, still bears that name, but he seems to imply that it was not identical with their Minety estate. This in 1665 is described as "worth about £100 per ann., with a genteel ancient house upon it. Mr. Nicholas Pleydell the present owner of it". In the transcripts of the Registers at Salisbury is the following entry, "1632, Mr. George Penne of y^e parish of Brinkworth, was buried at Minety 5th day of Nov.". No doubt, this is the George Penne whose name appears among those of other "Preservators, Keepers and Officers of the Forest of Braden" in some proceeding connected with a case between "Sir Robert Heath, Knt., his Maj^{ty}s Att^y General, and Philip Jacobson, Esq., complainants, and Henry, Erle of Derby, and als. defts." in 1630. Aubrey's interest in the Penn family was, we may be sure, all the greater owing to the fact that he was on friendly terms with the celebrated William Penn, from whom, in 1686, he obtained, quite unexpectedly, a grant of land in Pennsylvania, and with whom he corresponded. Perhaps some reader of W. N. & Q. can give further information as to the Penn property in Minety and Brinkworth?

NOTES ON THE HYDES OF WILTS AND CHESHIRE.

(Vol. vi, p. 343, &c.)

WOODFORD REGISTER OF BAPTISMS.

1624. Edward St. Low, the son of Mr. Edward St. Low, the 27th of May.
1625. Amphillis Hide, the daughter of Laurence Hide, Esquire, was baptized the 5 of February.
1629. Robert Hyde, son of Mr. Laurence Hyde, Esquire, was baptized the 9th day of August.
1630. Hellen Hyde, daughter of Laurence Hyde, Esquire, baptized the 29th of December.

The Register of Burials is very deficient from 1620 to 1653, but a search in the Bishop's transcripts might reveal the burial of Mrs. Hyde and her son. A lease of a messuage granted by Robert Hyde dated 26 Jan. 1654, "Between Robert Hyde, of Dinton, serieant at lawe of the one parte, and Robert Atkins, of Heale, of the other part. Whereas Sr Laurence Hyde, Knight, deceased (father of the said Robert Hyde) by his indenture, 10 August, 17 year of King James of England, did grant unto Robert Atkins, &c." I submit this argues that the purchaser of Heale was Sir Laurence Hyde, the father; and that the son, Mr. Laurence Hyde, resided at Heale is shewn by an indenture of apprenticeship, written at the end of the Woodford Register, whereby on 12 May, 1633, Philip Dakins binds himself to Laurence Hyde, of Heale, Esquire, signed—Laur. Hyde.

There is an endorsement to the above lease: "Mem. That 20*l.* of the 80*l.* secured to be paid to mee by the proviso of this lease is the moneye of my sister, Hyde of Heale, due unto Her by John Atkins when Hee dyed. And Shee is to have 10*l.* of each of the 40*l.* when those somes are payd. 27 Jan. 1654. Ro. Hyde"

I think this is probably the widow of Laurence Hyde, Esquire; if so it argues that Laurence Hyde never left Heale, but I believe he was the only one of the family of Hyde who made Heale their abiding home. Heale House, called 'le Court place,' was built by Wm. Green, of Standlynch, and granted by him to his son-in-law, Gerard Errington, of Salterton, whose grandson sold Salterton to John Duke in 1609 and Heale to Laurence Hyde in 1599.

Writing of the Avon Valley, let me add that the Woodford water-meadows and weir were made in 1654-5 by Wm. Bowles, agent to the Bishop, the Lord of the Manor and Wm. and John Bowles being seized for lives of the Rectory and the freeholders; it afterwards ended in a law suit between Bowles and Duke, 7 July 1679, see Chancery Proceedings, Bridges 456/65. The date of all the water-meadows might be obtained from the Chancery Suits, so invariably did vested rights get into law. Milston and Hendurrington meads in Bulford were turned into water-meadows in 1660—see Hamilton 605 (Duke versus Munday).

¹ Was appointed Chaplain of Whelpeley, in Whiteparish, on the presentation of Thomas Ryngwode, arm., in 1459. In 1469 he became a Canon of Salisbury, being collated to the Prebend of Blewbery. He held both these pieces of preferment until his death in 1478. Thomas Ringwood, the patron of Whelpeley in 1459, was of Ringwood, co. Hants. His daughter Lora married John Ludlow, of the Salisbury and Hill Deverill family, who died in 1488—another Thomas Ringwood, of Southampton, being also the second husband of John Ludlow's sister. This would connect Ringwood with Wiltshire, and, through Ludlow, with Tropenell, of Chalfield. Aubrey, plate vii, shield No. 117, gives the coat of Ringwood—a chevron checky between three cocks—impaled with Ludlow, from one of the windows of the Tropenell Chapel in Corsham Church.

He was a graduate in medicine, physician to King Henry VI and Humphrey, Duke of Gloucester, also author of "Dictarium Salutis". As Dean of Sarum he was also Rector of Mere, and according to Sir R. C. Hoare (p. 11) the arms of Kymer, three wolves within a border, are on one of the stalls in the Church of Mere. He died 16 May 1463, and was buried in Salisbury Cathedral, where in one of the windows is his effigy, with an inscription. Mr. Kite mentions that in 1442 he was one of the feoffees of Walter, Lord Hungerford, for the manor and advowson of Great Cheverell, which his son Robert, Lord Hungerford, released to them in 1458 (see Tropenell Cartulary).

STATE TRIALS OF EDWARD I (1289-1293).

The Royal Historical Society has recently published a volume, edited by Professor T. F. Tout and Miss Hilda Johnstone, dealing with two Plea Rolls preserved in the Public Record Office, containing the official proceedings of the trials of the judges and other royal officers before a Special Commission appointed by Edward I in 1289. This action on the part of the King was the consequence of the complaints made to him that, during his absence for the past three years in Gascony, gross abuses had crept into the administration of justice. The Commissioners were to hold their court of inquiry at Westminster, to which any man with a grievance might come, and a report was to be made by the Commissioners to the King at his next Parliament. The result of the inquiry placed beyond doubt the guilt of some of the highest law officials, and was followed by a weeding out of the judicial bench which must have had a salutary effect upon the administration of justice throughout the realm for a considerable time.

We give the abstracts of the cases which had to do with Wiltshire.

Calendar of State Papers : Domestic Series.

1662, May 7.—Reference to the Lord Treasurer of the petition of Frances Jacobson, widow, of a lessening of the rent of Braydon Forest, granted in lieu of a debt of £1,600, due to husband as jeweller to the late king and of £1,100 more paid to him for the said forest, which is encumbered with divers suits and great rents.

1663, May 14.—Reference to the Lord High Treasurer, Southampton, on the petition of Frances Jacobson, widow, for lessening the rent of Braydon Forest, purchased by her late husband who was jeweller in ordinary on consideration of several sums due to him : or else for payment of same debt.

A Return of Crown Lands ordered by the House of Commons, to be printed 9 and 10 February 1831 (Accounts and Papers, 1830-1, vol. 13)¹ shows in Part I.—The Disposition of Crown Lands in 1786.

IN WILTSHIRE.

A messuage called the Great Lodge, in the Forest of Braydon, and certain lands called Checker Woods were held under lease dated 1662, by Catherine Nott, widow—the lease would expire on 11 January 1816—at an annual rental of £28 11s. 4d., fine or fines amounting to £620 had been paid. The yearly value was £210 12s.

Slyfield Lodge and Land held under lease dated 1663, expiring 11 October 1815, by Charles Hippisley Cox, Esq., at an annual rent of £42 17s. The annual value was £200, and fines amounting to £345 10s. had been paid.

A messuage and land in the same forest, part of an estate called Checker Cockstalls and Turnhow Meer, held under a lease dated 1664, expiring 6 April 1802, by John Pitt at a yearly rent of £6 4s. 9d. The yearly value was given as £20 8s.

Other land in the said forest called East Ravenhurst and Burstad, als. Bursland, held under the same lease, but the date of expiring in this case is 11 April 1802, by John Pitt, at a yearly rent of £4 11s. 2d. The yearly value was £16. Fines on these two properties amounted to £62.

Several farms in the said Braydon Forest held under lease dated 1664, expiring 6 April 1802, by Robert Lawrence and Yerrow Arrowsmith, Esq^s., at a yearly rent of £24 15s. 1d. The yearly value was £82 8s., and the fines amounted to £326.

Part II shows the estates disposed of between 1786 and 1830.

IN WILTSHIRE.

The property leased by Mrs. Nott was sold by public auction on 28 August 1817 to Joseph Poole, junr., Esq., for £10,144 18s. It was in hand at the time of sale and comprised 430a. or. 26p.

Slyfields Lodge and land, leased by Chas. Hippisley Coxe, Esq., was sold, also by public auction, on the same day to Joseph Poole, junr., Esq., for £5,592 10s., it comprised 295a. 2r. 10p; and a parcel of Slyfields Lodge Farm, 406a. 3r. 24p., to Michael Poole, Esq., for £7,620 10s. Both lots were in hand.

Lands at Cricklade held in 1786 by John Pitt, Esq., 506a. 2r. 27p., part of Braydon Forest, were sold by public auction on 8 February 1823 to William Vernon, Esq., for £4,650; and other lands there, 103a. 3r. 5p., held in 1786 by R. Lawrence G. Arrowsmith, Esq., were sold at the same auction to John Miller Vernon, Esq., for £1,600.

Leases of these properties, then unexpired, had been granted to Messrs. Turk and Baker and to Mr. John White for 31 years from 10 October 1806 at rents amounting together to £348.

SHERSTON MANOR ROLLS.

Canon Jackson (Aubrey 108) states that the Court Rolls of Sherston Magna 1585-8 are among the Rawlinson MSS. in the Bodleian Library, B. 440. A part of the roll of the Lady Day Court 1584, probably a copy, as it contains one transaction only, is in the Sherston parish chest, and was lately printed in Wilts Notes and Queries, No. 70, p. 450. F. F. Fox, esq., of Yate House, Gloucs., purchased a bundle of Sherston Court Rolls at the 1903 portion of the sale of Sir Thomas Phillipps' library at Thirlestaine House, and most generously presented them to the writer. These are contained on seven long parchment strips, and on two parts of similar rolls, and contain the record of the following¹ Courts, 1670-1679:—

(1) 13 Oct. 1670; (2) 25 Apr.² 1671; (3) 12 Apr. 1672; (4) 11 Apr. 1673; (5) 14 Oct. 1673; (6) 8 May 1674, Court Baron only; (7) 1 Oct. 1674; (8) 8 Apr. 1675, Court Baron only; (9) 14 Oct. 1675; (10) 9 Oct. 1676; (11) 8 Oct. 1677; (12) 9 May 1678, Court Baron only; (13) 7 Oct. 1678; (14) 28 Oct. 1678, Court Baron only; (15) 6 Oct. 1679.

Thus, this set is not complete for the nine years, the Michaelmas rolls, 1671-1672, and the Lady-Day rolls, 1670, 1676, 1677, and 1679 being absent. One of the rolls is endorsed "20 Court Rolls, Sherston, Box D., No. 6, 10 skins". As there are here parts of nine skins, the other may have contained five of the missing Courts. The Lady-Day Court Baron rolls of 1674 and 1675 are together on the same strip, as likewise on another strip are the Michaelmas rolls of 1675 and 1676, and the Michaelmas Court rolls of 1677, 1678, and 1679 are together on a third strip. It is curious there should have been two Mich^s Courts, 7 and 28 Oct., in 1678. The whole of the Oct. 13, 1670, roll is here printed in extenso. The rest will be summarized.

NOTES ON THE FAMILY OF JASON OF BROAD SOMERFORD.

In these notes an effort will be made to give a correct pedigree of this family whose connection with our county, although a brief one, led to the baronetcy bestowed upon it in 1661 being located here. The older pedigrees are inaccurate and even the one given in the Complete Baronetage (1903) is not free from errors. Mr. E. M. S. Parker,¹ of Welford House, Weston-super-Mare, who is a lineal descendant, has, however, gone fully into the matter, and with his assistance we are in a position to establish the accuracy of most of the facts which will be mentioned.

The family of Jason was apparently a north country one, but at the close of the sixteenth century a branch was established at Enfield, co. Middlesex, in the person of Robert Jason,¹ with regard to whom much information may be gathered from the document which he obtained from the Heralds' College, London, in 1588, for the confirmation of his coat-of-arms. A copy of this document, the original of which is still in existence,² is given below :—

"To all and Singlar Nobles & Gentles of what Estate Dignitie or Degree bearing Arms To whom these presents shall come. I William Dethick, Garter principall King of Armes, send my due salutations & greetings. Know yee that by the Authority and Custome of my Office from the Queen's most Excellent Ma^{tie} & her Highness most Noble and Princely progenitors I am to take generall notice & to make testimony and records for all matters & causes of Armes Honor and Chivalry & for all Pedigrees and descents of Nobles and Gent' throughout all her Ma^{ties} Kingdoms, Dominions, Principalities, Isles, & Provinces To thende that Auntient Names and Families and descents may have and enjoy their due Ensignes of their Armes. So it is that Robert Iason now of Enfielde, in the Countie of Middlesex, Esquire, being descended of Auntient name and Family in the North but now settled his Estates in theis parts of this Realme, in right Worshipfull degree and calling brought unto me theis his Armes and depicted in an Old parchment Booke of his Pedigrees left unto him by his Auncessors required me the said Garter according to the Authority of my Office to take notice and to make generall testimony of record for him the said Robert Iason of the shielde of his Armes and Creast lawfully to be enjoyed and borne by himself his children Issue and posteritie for ever as of due right belonging unto their Auntient name and Famile. In regard whereof I have blazed and exemplified the same by theis presents Viz.: he beareth Azure a Golden Fleece within a double Tressure counterflore of the same and for a crest a Pegasus d'or

¹ Mr. Parker gives as the earliest reference to any member of this family which he has found the following :—P.R.O. Duchy of Lancaster, Miscellanæ, xii, 21. "A.D. 1547, This Bill indentyd made the xxii day of July, A^o Primo Edwardi Sexti witnesseth that I, ffrauncs Jason haue receyued of Mr. Andrew Duddleley a chene of Golde wrethed, conteyng eyght score and seven lynks.—In wittens wharof eyther parties interchangably have sette ther sealles the day and yere above wrytten p' me Franciscu' Jason." bearing in his mouth a Burr proper mounted on a Shapeau upon the Helme with Mantles azure doubled Or, together as I haue thought good with the Shielde of Armes of Susan his wife (daughter of John Lyon, Esquire, of the parts beyond the Seas in Holland, naturalized of England in the tyme of King Henry the 8th) viz. : y^e field gules a Lyon passant gardent d'argent with a Cantou of the Redcross, for that their sole childe Robert Jason the younger is likewise heire unto the house of the said Lyon and is for ever to have and to beare these two severall Coates of Armes quartered as his true Auntient and lawfull Ensignes of Armes and Crest, also to be borne and used by their Children, seede and posterity to their proper use and behoofe for ever, with their due differences, in all vertuous warlike facts and civill use or exercise according to the Lawes of Arms and Customes that to all Gent' belongeth.

In witnes and perpetual remembrance whereof I have registered in the office of Armes (for true testimony of record) these pre'nte and hereunto subscribed my name and fastened the Seale of my Office endorsed with the Signet of my Armes, Geuen at y^e office of Armes London y^e 10th of March & in y^e 30th yeare of y^e Raigne of O^r Sovereigne Lady Elizabeth Queene of England & Ireland defendor of the faith, &c. Anno Domini 1588.

Twenty-two years, after having established his right to bear arms, Robert Jason died, having made a will, which is recorded in the following terms :—

P.C.C. 90 WINGFIELD.

Memorandum, that in and uppon the seconde daie of Maie, &c., Anno domini 1610, Robert Jason the elder of Enfelde in the County of Middlesex Esq. beinge sicke in bodie but in good and perfect remembrance, thanks be to God, therefore made and declared his last will and testament nuncupative in manner and form followinge or to the lyke effect, that is to say first he willed and appointed Susan, his well-beloved wife to pay and allowe unto Margaret Androwes als. Jason his naturall sister ten pounds a yeare during her naturall life And also further willed and appointed the saide Susan his beloved wife to pay and allow to the poore inhahitants for the tyme beinge of the Towne of Kendall in the County of Westmerland five pounds yearlie for ever. The reste and residue of all his estate, etc., he did wholie give, etc., unto the saide Susan Jason . . . whom he did ordaine sole and full executrix . . . in the presence and hereinge of divers credible witnesses.

This will was proved by the widow on 6th Oct. 1610, and administration was granted to her "with the consent of Robert Jason, junior, the son of the deceased".

Mrs. Susan Jason survived her husband for many years, and was married again twice. First, within a few months of being left a widow, to a certain Henry Bowles, as appears from an entry in the "Allegations for Marriage Licences" issued by the Bishop of London (Harl. Soc.)—

1610, 22 Nov. Henry Bowles of Standon, Essex, Bachelor, 37, and Susan Jason of Enfield, Middlesex, 52. widow of Robert Jason, Esq., of the same who died $\frac{3}{4}$ year since; attested by Thomas Bowles, gent., of St. Margaret's, Westminster, at Enfield aforesaid.

and later in life to a certain John West, who survived her as is shown by a note on the copy Robert Jason's will given above.

Adm'on was granted 21 March 1636-7 to John West, Esq., the Husband of Suzanne West als. Jason, deceased, whilst living the relict and executrix named in the will of the said deceased, to admfnister the goods left unadministered by the said Suzanne.

Dickensiana—In The Holly Tree, Dickens writes of “a good inn down in Wiltshire in the days of the hard Wiltshire ale, on the skirts of Salisbury Plain, and the midnight wind came moaning at me from Stonehenge. There was a hanger on with long white hair, and a flinty blue eye, who claimed to have been a shepherd; he had a weird belief that no one could count the stones twice, and make the same number of them; that anyone who counted them three times nine times and then stood in the centre, and said ‘I dare’ would behold a tremendous apparition and would be stricken dead I awoke one night to find him in the dark at my bedside, repeating the Athanasian Creed in a terrific voice.” This man had a curious and improbable story about the bustard. Has he or this inn ever been identified?

Notes on Wiltshire Parishes.—Robert Nicholas (p. 130) M.P. Cricklade 1785-90, Commissioner of Excise 1790-1822, was a barrister and eldest son of Edward Richmond Nicholas of Devizes, physician. He is said to have married (2ndly) in July 1805, Sally, dau. of ——— Clerke of Stanmore. What relation was he to John Nicholas, M.P. for Devizes 1713-15?

Benjamin Adamson (p. 131) was of Henley, Oxon, and it was his son, Robert Adamson of Oaksey, who was elected together with Charles Westley Coxe, in 1784, M.P. for Cricklade, but both were unseated on petition in April 1785, when Robert Nicholas obtained one of the seats. Robert Adamson died 17 Sept. 1817, aged 64, having married, 19 March 1790, Miss Bruce of Lower Grosvenor Street. Who was she and, as he is said to have married twice, who was his other wife?

Charles Coxe of Over Lypiatt, Glos., who was M.P. for Cirencester 1698-1705, and 1708-13, and for Gloucester 1713-22, and died 17 Oct. 1728, was second Justice for the Counties of Brecknock, Glamorgan and Radnor, 9 June 1702-3, and first Justice thereof 7 Jan. 1704 to 5 Jan. 1715 (see History of the Great Sessions in Wales, 1542-1830, p. 144). Who was his second wife? His eldest son John Coxe, who was a Bencher of Lincoln's Inn, and M.P. for Cirencester, June 1749-54 (see Gloucestershire Members, p. 168), married a Miss Eyre—whose daughter was she?—and died 14 April 1785. His son and heir, Charles Coxe, matric. Ball. Coll., Oxon, 22 March 1739, aged 16, and was admitted to Lincoln's Inn, 4 June 1739, and married 1 April 1749 “the dau. of Ald. Westley of London, an Army tailor, who left Oaksey and Kemble manors to his two daughters, co-heiresses, married to Anderson (sic, but should be Adamson) and —— Cox, who divided the property, which the latter was prevented from settling on a second wife”—who was this second wife? His son, Charles Westley Coxe, who was M.P. for Cricklade 1784 until unseated in April 1785, was a Captain in the Monmouthshire Militia, 25 July, 1778-81, and Lieutenant in the Wilts Gentlemen and Yeomanry Cavalry, 30 July 1794, until at least 1803 if not until his death in 1806. He married at Clifton, 10 Dec. 1789, Ann (who died 31 Jan. 1797), eldest daughter of Robert Gordon of Auchendolly, Kirkcudbrightshire, who was Mayor of Bristol 1773. His daughter Elizabeth Anne married, 11 July 1809, her cousin Robert Gordon (only son of William Gordon of Clifton and Lowston), who was M.P. for Wareham 1812-18, Cricklade 1818-37, and Windsor 1837-41, a Commissioner of the Board of Control, June 1832 to Dec. 1834, Secretary thereof 1835-9, Secretary of the Treasury 1839-41, and died 13 May 1864.

John Inglesant (p. 143).—Aubrey is the authority for the ruthless manner in which the priceless manuscripts of Malmesbury Abbey were destroyed. When being taught Latin at the Grammar School at Yatton Keynell, he says : “the fashion then (i.e., 1633) was to save the forules of their books with a false cover of parchment, si. old manuscript” and records that the Rector made use of a “sheet of manuscript” to stop the bunghole of his beer barrels. “All musick bookes, etc.”, he says, “were covered with old manuscripts ; and the glovers at Malmesbury made great havock of them, and gloves were wrapt up no doubt in many good pieces of antiquity.”

Wiltshire M.P.'s (vol. vi., p. 477).—John Nicholas, M.P. for Devizes in 1713, was no doubt John, born 1st July 1691, second son of Robert Nicholas by his first marriage with Martha, daughter of Henry Knight of “Newhall”, co. Suffolk. The senior member for Devizes in 1713-14 was Robert Child, and at this period the Childs and the Nicholas family were intimately connected, Robert Nicholas having married as his second wife Jane, daughter of John Child. Their son Edward inherited Roundway, which had been purchased by his father Robert Nicholas from the representatives of his great-uncle and namesake the Judge, who left no son. John Nicholas was unmarried and in the later years of his life lived with his half-sister in “The Brittox”, Devizes, where he died 31 August 1746.

EFFIGY OF VIRGIN AND CHILD, ST. MARY'S, DEVIZES.

Wiltshire Notes and Queries,

MARCH, 1912.

SOME DOCUMENTS RELATING TO THE CHURCH OF THE B.V. MARY, DEVIZES, AND ITS RE-FOUNDER, A.D. 1410-1458.

THE nave, aisles, and tower of this Church—re-built in the fifteenth century—are well known as an interesting specimen of the ecclesiastical architecture of the “perpendicular” period.¹ Of the earlier Norman Church, the chancel, with its groined roof and arcaded inner walls, is all that now remains, with the exception of the outer arch of the south porch, which was apparently added to the original building at a somewhat later date, during the transition from Norman to the Early English style of the thirteenth century.²

On one of the bays of the boldly-carved oak roof of the nave (the second from east) is an inscription, painted in black letter, which has preserved to us the name of the re-founder, and the date of his death, thus giving the exact date also to this portion of the building :—

² The fifteenth century walls of the north aisle were evidently rebuilt on the earlier Norman foundations—the base, with the course of stones above it, being distinctly visible on the outside, above the ground level. In the east wall of this aisle the Norman masonry, to the height of some six feet, has also been preserved,

“ORATE · PRO · ANIMA · WILL'I · SMYTH · QUI · ISTA' · ECCL'IAM · FIERI · FECIT · QUI · OBIIT · PRIMO · DIE · MENSIS · IUNII · ANNO · D'NI · MILL'O CCCCXXXVI.”

[Pray for the soul of William Smyth, who caused this Church to be built; who died on the first day of the month of June,¹ Anno Domini 1436.]

It is to the Church, at this date, scarcely seven months after its re-founder's death, that the first of these documents refers:—

“It' rec' unu' hanfelt.

It' unu' sleyge.

It' unu' an'ulu' de aurat'.

It' alia patell cu' lagenar'.

¹ The late Mr. Britton, in the Wiltshire volume of Beauties of England and Wales (1814), gives “the month of May”, but June is apparently the more correct reading.

This document, which has been, with some difficulty, deciphered, may be thus translated :—

Memorandum that A.D. 1436, and the 15th year of Henry VI after the Conquest, on the Monday next after the feast of the Nativity of our Lord, John Deryng and Edward Danyel rendered their final account before John Coventre, then Mayor, William Salter, John Saundres, Thomas Reginal, and many others, of the moneys received the whole time in which they were in the office of Procurators of the Church of the Blessed Mary, and, having reckoned accounts, the aforesaid Edward [Danyel], the same day, owes to the Church and parish of St. Mary—£6 3s. 1¼d.

Item, Robert Bulkington owes to the Church aforesaid the same day of reckoning, 5s. 4d. Item, he owes to the Church 18 pounds of lead.

Item, the same day Henry Bowyer owes £1 16s. 4d., whence he is allowed by all the parishioners to pay to John Skarvant, clerk, a yearly pension in four instalments reckoned at 6s. 8d. each.

Item, John Covyntre owes 43 pounds of lead.

Item, William Smyth owes 44 pounds of lead.

Item, William Covyntre owes to the Church 400 pounds of lead, less 15 pounds.

Item, the same day the parishioners owe to the Clerk of the Works at the Castle 400 pounds of lead.

Memorandum that William Salter received of Edward Danyel of this account at sundry times, £6 14s. 0d., of which the aforesaid William Salter has not as yet come to a settlement.

On the back of the parchment :—

Item, received one hanfelt [anvil].¹

Item, one sleyge [sledge hammer].

Item, one ring of gold.

Item, two dishes, a flagon, and another.

Item, another dish, with flagon.

Item, fourscore and seven pounds of lead.

Some of the names which occur here are also found in other Devizes deeds of the same period. John and William Coventre appear in a list of Wilts gentry, 12 Henry VI [1433]; their names constantly occur as Mayors and landowners here in the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries, and it is to their liberal bequests of property in pre-Reformation times, for the foundation of chantries, that the Church of St. Mary owes much of its income at the present day. Edward Danyel and his wife Joan were also remembered in a yearly obit, at the altar of St. Katherine, in the same Church. The Salters were Devizes clothiers, and Robert Bulkington—of a family originally sprung from that village—could, no doubt, be connected with the Thomas Bulkington mentioned by Leland as one of the principal benefactors to Edington Monastery, where, in the south transept of the Church, his supposed tomb yet remains. John Skarvant, the pensioned priest, may have belonged to a Bromham family, for we find in old leases of property there—"Over" and "Lower Skarvants", also "Skarvants Coppice"—names evidently derived from an ancient owner.

Of William Smyth, the re-founder of the Church of the B. V. Mary, who died in 1436, we should like to know something more. The dole stone, of "Perpendicular" date, outside the now blocked up south door of the chancel, is traditionally known as the "Founder's tomb", but, as such, he would most probably have found a burial place within the Church. Possibly the nave, with its clerestory, and the two aisles, may have been the only part of the new work for which he was really responsible—for the tower, apparently somewhat later than the nave, seems at first to have been constructed quite independently of the rest of the fabric, and afterwards connected with it, as shown by the masonry at the juncture of the diagonal buttresses of the tower with the nave arcade, within the Church. The arrangement of the western portion of the nave roof seems also to justify the same conclusion.

A striking feature in the work completed by William Smyth—which is notably of a high order—is the canopied niche surmounting the east gable of the nave, containing a finely sculptured figure, nearly life size, of the B. V. Mary, holding in her arms the Infant Saviour, the base of the pedestal beneath the effigy bearing two shields on which are carved the initials "W. S."—at once identifying it with the re-founder.

It has been suggested that the figure, as it now stands, is not the original one, but a later carving, of Renaissance type, similar to that over the doorway at St. Mary's, Oxford, which distinctly belongs to the Laudian period, and is known to have been sculptured by Stone, and set up in 1637. Both are here reproduced from photographs, by way of comparison, and, with these before him, the reader will be able to draw his own conclusion.

The name "RA: MOOR · 1624 · MA: 13" deeply cut on the back of the niche, as seen from the nave roof, in the Devizes example, is somewhat puzzling. It seems to suggest a repair of some kind, but cannot possibly mean that an effigy of the Virgin and Child would be even repaired—much more newly set up—at this date, within the diocese of Salisbury, during the prelacy of Bishop Davenant (1621-41). All that the present writer can add is, that if the Devizes example belongs to the Renaissance period, that type of work is much more fully developed in the effigy at St. Mary's, Oxford.

The Rev. Compton Reade, in his volume on the history of the Smith family (1902), speaking of the west country Smiths of the fourteenth and later centuries, says:—"John le Smyth was member for Chard, co. Somerset, in 1327, and probably the first of his name in England to acquire social distinction, albeit we find the name Faber among early lists of knights, but in connection with the North and Midlands rather than the West. Of his blood is assumed to be Robert, Mayor of Exeter in 1469, who had the honour of entertaining King Edward IV, with his Consort, during his year of office. Between 1469 and 1553, when William Smyth was mayor, there are no traceable family links, but inasmuch as they were wool-staplers in the chief towns of Devonshire and Dorset, from whose ports the wool was shipped to Flanders, the probabilities are in favour of the Smiths holding a commanding position in the trade. The Flemish merchants in the later middle ages were paying such large prices for English wool, that men of the highest social status, such as the Dormers and Grevilles, embarked in the trade. At all events we note, about the Reformation period, that the Smiths of the West, while retaining their connection with Exeter, had already advanced from being mere yeomen to become large and influential landowners. Wool indisputably was the source from whence their wealth accumulated, and it is affirmed that already they had begun to manufacture cloth on their own account. This may be; but a profitable and extensive export trade was the making of the West, and incidentally of its notable manufacturers, the Smiths."

The merchant's mark on his seal, which will presently be noticed, seems evidence that the Devizes William Smyth, of 1436, was also connected with the wool trade, either as a merchant of the staple, or a manufacturer of cloth—for it must not be forgotten that as early as 1315 we find Devizes merchants exporting their manufactured goods, described as "cloth of Ghent", to the French town of St. Omer, where the English merchants, at that time, had their staple.

There seems to have been a close connection between the Devizes families of Smyth and Covyntre, the principal benefactors to the Church of St. Mary. Of the former the name of Robert Smyth occurs as Mayor, 6 Henry V (1417-18), and the following hitherto unpublished deeds in possession of the Devizes Corporation, will throw some additional light on the history of both families. In the first of these we find Robert Smyth, a joint grantee of property in St. Mary's parish, early in the fifteenth century :—

A.D. 1410. Thomas Dodeman esquire to John Everdon, clerk, and Robert Smyth, of Devyses. Grant of a toft in the Oldport (i.e. St. Mary's parish), between the tenement late of John Garewille on one part, and a tenement of the Mayor and Burgesses—late of Ralph Gosselyn on the other. Witnesses—William Hendlove, James Wheler, Simon Skynner, Roger Barbour, Richard Litelcote, and others. Dated at Devyses 20 October, 12 Henry IV.

A.D. 1430. William Coventre, of Devyses, to William Smyth, and Joan his wife, of the same town. Grant of a burgage, with appurtenances, in Newport [i.e., St. John's parish]—between a burgage of the said William Smyth on one part, and a burgage of the burgesses of Calne, occupied by John Smyth, on the other part. Witnesses—Thomas Coventre maior, John Coventre, William Bremesgrove, Robert Chandeler, John Faulkener, and others. Dated at Devyses, 20 May, 8 Henry VI.

Seal—a rebus for W. Covy'[tree].

In the next deed, fifteen years after William Smyth's death, we find the same, with an adjoining property, given to the Church, and in the hands of feoffees :—

A.D. 1451. John Coventre, of Devises, and William Watkins, of Hedyngton,¹ to John Sterlyng. Grant of a burgage, with appurtenances, in Newport—between a burgage of the said John and William on the one part, and a burgage of the burgesses of Calne on the other part—which we lately have of the gift and feoffment of William Smyth, of Devises aforesaid—jointly with Elia Erlestoke, late vicar of Calne,²

² This vicar of Calne is not mentioned in the list printed in Wilts Magazine, vol. xxiv, p. 184-5. A chantry in Calne Church, dedicated to now deceased. Witnesses—William Bowke mayor, John Hosyar, John Raynold sen., then Constables there, Thomas Raynold, Thomas Heath, then bailiffs, William Hendelove, Henry Pole, and others. Dated at Devises, 2nd April, 30 Henry VI.

Next we have several documents, apparently relating to the same, or an adjoining property, in St. John's parish, between Thomas, son and heir of William Smyth,¹ his wife Edith, and Nicholas Mere, a Devizes clothier :—

A.D. 1457. Thomas Smyth, of Devyses, and Edith his wife bound to Nicholas Mere in the sum of £100. Dated, Feast of St. Michael, 36 Henry VI.

Bond from same parties not to disinherit the said Nicholas Mere, his heirs and assigns, of and in one tenement in Newport, between a tenement of John Starlyng north—tenement of John Ernele south. Provided that if the said Thomas and Edith, or their heirs, should at any time disinherit the said Nicholas of the tenement aforesaid, then it shall be lawful for the said Nicholas to enter and take possession of two tenements of the aforesaid Thomas—one situate in the Oldeporte, between a tenement of the Mayor and Burgesses, in which Isabella Dayster lately dwelt—the other tenement situate in Southbrome, at the east end of the house of the Hospital of St. John, and the King's highway on the other part. Witnesses—John Reynold maior, William Hendelove, John Dekyn, Henry Pole, William Botteley, and others. Dated at Devises, 30 September, 36 Henry VI.

Seal—the initial W, surmounted by a merchant's mark, and a mullet of five points. [Probably the seal of William Smyth, afterwards used by Thomas, his son and heir.]

A.D. 1457. Thomas Smyth, of Devises, and Edith his wife, to Nicholas Mere, of the same town, and Joan his wife. Lease of a burgage in "le Newport de Devises"—between a burgage of John Starlyng north, and a burgage of John Arneleigh [Ernele] south. For 80 years, paying 12*d.* yearly. Witnesses—William Bowke mayor, St. Mary Magdalene, possessed several houses in Devizes. See Val. Eccl. Calne Hospital also paid an annual rent of 20 pence at Devizes Castle.

William Hendelove, John Dekyn, and others. Dated at Devizes in the vigil of St. Thomas, 36 Henry VI.

A.D. 1458. Thomas Smyth, son and heir of William Smyth, of Devizes, gentelman, and Edith, wife of the said Thomas, to Nicholas Mere, of the same town, clothier. Bond for £100. Dated 14 October, 37 Henry VI.

Bond from same parties not to disinherit Nicholas Mere of same premises mentioned in former bond, 30 September, 36 Hen. VI. Witnesses—Henry Pole maior, William Hendelove, John Dekyn, John Raynold, William Botley, and others. Dated 15 October, 37 Henry VI.

Seal—the initial W, with merchant's mark and mullet, as above.

Lastly we have a conveyance from feoffes, of property in Southbroom given by Thomas Smyth to the Church of the B. V. Mary, which can apparently be recognized at the present day:—

A.D. 1558. John Raynolds, senr., of Devyses, and William Botteley, enfeoff to Thomas Raynolds and William Nayshe, a tenement, with appurtenances, in Southbrome—between the King's highway on both sides [Sidmouth Street, and Gain's lane?¹]—which we, the said John and William have in perpetuity of the gift and feoffment of Thomas Smyth. Witnesses, Henry Pole maior, John Helyar, Thomas Spycer, Thomas Hawkyn, and many others. Dated at Devyses 1 April, 37 Henry VI.

The purpose for which these properties were given to the Church will be fully explained by the following item from an Inquisition taken at Chippenham 13th March, 16 Elizabeth (1574), before Henry Sharington, Edward Baynton, and others, by virtue of a commission from the Crown to enquire into the property bequeathed for the maintenance of obits, lights, and anniversaries, which had been suppressed by Edward VI. The jurors say:—

Item. We do present that the tenement which Thomas Hull, of Devizes, now inhabiteth in, with the appurtenances; and the house or tenement in Southbrome, in the tenure of John Knapp; sometime the lands and tenements of William Smythe, and Thomas Smythe his son, were given by the said William and Thomas for the maintenance of the sepulchre taper, and the font taper,² and also that one obytt should

² The Easter Sepulchre was a temporary erection set up in the chancel, for the performance of certain ceremonies typical of the Entombment and be celebrated yearly in the Parish Church of St. Marie, of Devyzes, to pray for the souls of the father and mother of the said Thomas, and the soul of the said Thomas, and renteth by the yere xs.

By the Statute, 1 Edward VI, the property belonging to these foundations passed to the Crown, by whom the Devizes Chantry lands were granted to various persons during this and succeeding reigns. Eventually, however, the Mayor and Burgeses, as previous trustees of some of the property, succeeded in obtaining from James I, in 1609-10, letters patent confirming their title, and it is now held on separate trusts for church maintenance, and relief of the poor.

The accompanying illustration represents the seal of the Church of St. Mary, appended to a lease of A.D. 1567. The device is apparently a steeple with trefoil headed window, or doorway, beneath, and a smaller pinnacle on either side.

THE FAMILY OF SOUTH.

The following Bill and Answer make clear the connexion which existed between the various branches of the family of South (pp. 9-15 and 51-57 ante), and at the same time necessitate a very considerable revision of the dates suggested above.

To the most reverent ffader in God William Archebissshop of Caunterburye and Chaunceler of England.

Mekely besechith your gode Lordschyp your oratour Edmund South coseyn and heire of Robert South late of the Cite of Newe Sar' in the Countie of Wiltes' that is to sey son of Osmund son of the seid Robert that where as a communicacion was had betwene the seid Robert of that oon partye and one John Gawen Esquyer of that oder partye of and for a maryage to be had between the seid Osmund and one ffredysswyde doughter of the seid John Gawen hit was promysed by the same Robert for the complisement of the seid maryage to be had that the same Robert shold leve unto the seid Osmund and to his heires all suche landes and tenementes wherof the seid Robert or any oder person to his use were then seased in fee symple or in fee taill And that the same Osmund and his heires shold have the premysses to hym and to his heires after the deceسه of the seid Robert And that the same Robert shold noo londs nor tenementes put from the seid Osmund and his heires but that he shold suffre the same landes to discend revert remayn and comme to the seid Osmund and to his heires after his deceسه. After and uppon which promys so by the seid Robert South made the seid Osmund toke to wif the seid ffredysswyde and they had issue between theym your seid oratour yet beyng within the age of vij yerys So hit is gracious lord that contrarye to the seid promys the same Robert by the synestre meanes of oon Willyam South and of oon Elizabeth late wyf of the seid Robert and stepmoder to the seid Osmund they knowyng of the seid promys hath alyened part of the seid landes and tenementes to the seid Willyam

South oon Robert South the yonger and to the seid Elizabeth, that is to say a tofte xl acres of arable land xl^{ti} acres of pasture xx^{ti} acres of wood xx^{ti} acres of mede called Uptons with the appurtenaunces set and lyeng in Donyngton in the Countie aforeseid, And a capitale meise vj tenementes set and lyeng in the seid Cite of Newe Sar' unto the seid William South son of oon Gyles South broder to the seid Robert And a capitall meise vj tenementes set and lyeng in the seid Cite of Newe Sar' to the seid Elizabeth And a capitall meise set and lyeng in the Castlestrete of the seid Cite of Newe Sar' to the seid Robert South son of the seid Gyles wherof the seid Robert at the tyme of the seid promyse made was owener and seised in his demeane as of fee And also the evidences chartours and mynnymentes concernyng ij capitall meses and vj meses with the appurtenaunces in the seid Cite of Newe Sar' A mese xl acres of pasture xl acres of arrable land xx^{ti} acres of wood xx^{ti} acres of mede called Upton in Donyngton in the seid Countie ij meises c acres of land xl acres of pasture and xl acres of mede with the appurtenaunce in Baberstoke and Donyngton aforeseid in the seid Countie of which premysses the seid Robert South was seased at the tyme of the seid promys by the seid Robert the ffader made to the seid John Gawen Esquyer ben severally comen to the handes and possession of the seid Elizabeth South widowe William South and Robert South the yonger of which evidences your seid oratour knoweth not the nombre nor certeynte nor wherin they be conteyned And howe be it that your seid Oratour hath dyvers tymes requyred the seid Elizabeth Wylliam and Robert South the yonger to suffre hym and his ffryndes for hym to occupie and take the profites of the premisses accordyng to the seid promys and to delyver to hym the seid evidences chartours and mynnymentes yet they that to do at all tymes have refused and yet refuse contrarye to good conscience ffor reformation whereof your seid oratour is without remedy at the comen lawe

Pleas it therefore your gode lordship to graunt severall writtes of sub pena to be direct to the seid Elizabeth South widowe, William South and Robert South the yonger commaundyng theym and everye of theym by the same to appere before the King in his Chauncerye at a certyn daye and under a certeyn payn by your lordship to be lymitted ther to aunswer to the premysses accordyng to right and gode conscience and this for the love of God and in the wey of charyte.

[In cancellaria] sua in quindena Pasche proximo futura.

Writ to John West and Henry Pauncefote. Whereas Robert (sic.) Suth has exhibited a petition before us in our Chancery against Elizabeth South widow, and we ordered the said Elizabeth to be in our Chancery on a certain day now passed under a certain pain to answer &c., and the said Elizabeth is so infirm (impotens) that without peril of her body, as we have learned, she cannot come, &c. they are to take her deposition and return same into Chancery on the quinzaine of the Trinity next.

Westminster, 29 April, 4.
Henry [VIII].

Endorsed that the Commissioners have taken the reply of Elizabeth Sowthe as appears in schedule annexed.

KENT OF BOSCOMBE.

The following notes are written to partially answer queries that have from time to time appeared in Wilts N. & Q. regarding Kents of Wiltshire. They also supplement the rather poor pedigree of this family given in Sir Richard Colt Hoare's Hundred of Ambresbury, p. 115.

The following pedigree shows the relationship between the two separate branches of the family that owned the manor of Boscombe East, and that Richard Kent, M.P. for Chippenham, and the Rev. Richard Kent, Sub-Dean of Salisbury, were members of this family.

It will be noticed that the heir of the Clifford family (who had owned the manor of Boscombe for several generations) had married into the Kent family before the manor was sold by them to William Kent.

Sir Richard Colt Hoare gives some interesting particulars about the manor of Boscombe East as follows:—

William Kent, "of Dinton", bought the manor, 28 July 1629, for £2,500. His grandson, William Kent, becoming embarrassed, sold it to John Kent, 9 Jan. 1675, for £4,900, and he, by an entail created in 1699, left it by will to his nephew John, second son of his brother Robert Kent. This latter John Kent's son John Kent, sold the manor, advowson, and all his estates in Boscombe for £12,000 to Robert Eyre, of Newhouse, esq., only son of the Right Hon. Sir Robert Eyre, Lord Chief Justice of the Court of Common Pleas.

During the Civil Wars the Kents appear to have been staunch Royalists and to have suffered severely for their loyalty. William Kent, of Boscombe, was heavily fined as a delinquent, and in 1655 was taken prisoner by Col. Ludlow and again fined;¹ the Rev. Richard Kent was turned out of his living at Fisherton Anger, and Robert Kent, of Winterbourne Dantsey, who "was engaged in the wars" on King Charles's side, after fleeing the country to France, "was imprisoned and arraigned for his life and condemned to die for his service to his said late Ma^{ty}, and in the end lost his life."²

There are a large number of Chancery Proceedings relating to various members of this family, and the following pedigree has been drawn up almost entirely from information contained in either these suits or from wills, abstracts of which latter are here given.

PEDIGREE.

I. Thomas Kent,³ of Newton Tony, Wilts, and, later, perhaps of Boscombe, living in 1596,⁴ left at least three sons and two daughters, by his wife Elizabeth, as follows:—

1. William Kent, of Boscombe, Wilts, gent. (II), of whom presently.
2. Richard Kent, of Boscombe, gent., who married Anne Perin, at Newton Tony, 15 Sept. 1600, and had by her—

(1) Richard Kent,⁵ M.A., born 1615; Rector of Fisherton Anger; Prebendary and Sub-Dean of Sarum. Buried at Fisherton Anger, 13 Oct. 1692. He left, by his wife Margaret, only daughter, of the Rev. Wm. Helme, B.D., Vicar of Bishopston, Wilts (she was born 1612, married 1639, died 1711) an only daughter Margaret (bur. Fisherton Anger, 24 May 1724, aged 83) who married Wm. Boucher, of the Close, Sarum, gent., who was buried at Fisherton Anger, 8 May 1676.

(2) Stephen Kent, of Boscombe, gent.;⁶ living in 1672⁷; dead in 1685.

(3) William Kent, of Boscombe, gent.,⁶ B.A., of

cousin, John Kent (V) in 1675. By his wife, Jane,¹³ daughter of Thos. Brookes, of co. Cheshire, he had a son, William Kent, of Wadham Coll., Oxford, born 1657-8.

We now return to Robert Kent, of Winterbourne Dant-sey, Wilts, gent. (third son of Thomas Kent, of Newton Tony), who, after being imprisoned for his services to Charles I, died in or about 1658. By his wife, Dorothy,¹⁴ he had three sons and one daughter, as follows:—

- V. 1. John Kent¹⁵, of Boscombe, Esq.. In 1675 he purchased the manor of Boscombe East from his cousin Wm. Kent (IV). He died unmarried.
11 Apr. 1710, aged 84. M.I. at Boscombe.
2. Robert Kent, of Winterbourne Dantsey; living in 1687. By his wife, Elizabeth, he left three sons and three daughters, viz. :—
- (1) Robert Kent, living in 1710; died s.p.
 - (2) John Kent, of Boscombe (VI).
 - (3) Richard Kent, living in 1687.

3. Richard Kent, of Corsham, co. Wilts, esq., born 1643, M.P. for Chippenham 1684; died 23 Nov. 1690.¹⁶ He married, by licence (Vic. Gen.), Feb. 1665-6, Bridgett Harris, of St. Paul, Covent Garden, London (she was born 1643; buried at Corsham 10 Aug. 1692¹⁷), and by her had two children:

(1) John Kent, buried Corsham, 5 Apr., 1687,¹⁷ unmarried.

(2) Bridgett Kent, died unmarried 1691.

1. Jane Kent, living in 1707, who married Nicholas Johnson, esq. He was dead in 1687.

VI. John Kent, of Boscombe, esq. (second son of Robert). He inherited Boscombe from his uncle, John Kent. He had no issue by his second wife Hannah Ellis, who died in 1730, but he left two sons by his first wife, Elizabeth, the younger of whom,

VII. John Kent, of Boscombe, esq., sold the Manor of Boscombe 6 Apr. 1733, and appears to have left the county. In 1727 he administered his father's goods in P.C.C. He left issue, by his wife Hannah, who died in 1736.

NOTES.

Ancient Stained Glass.—At a recent exhibition of Ancient Stained Glass, in the rooms of the Fine Art Society in New Bond Street, there was on view a panel from Salisbury Cathedral, which is described in the introduction to the Catalogue as in some ways the most interesting piece in the show, a magnificent example of Early English Grisaille.

A geometrical pattern, on a greenish-white ground of cross-hatching and foliage. The panel is crossed from corner to corner by narrow bands cutting the circumference of a large outer circle, and a small inner circle, in the very middle, of pot-metal blue with a border of flash ruby. At the corners the outer circle is met by the segments of further circles, the circumferences formed of bands of ruby and blue respectively. A very fine panel, with all the special characteristics of glazing and leading of the type and period; it is 30 ins. by 18 ins., and its date about 1220.

Queries.

Portrait of John Tidcombe.—This is by Kneller, and was engraved by Faber in 1735; where is now the original? The subject was born in 1643, and died in Bath in 1713, a son of Peter Tidcombe, of Calne. There is a short notice of him in D. N. B., a servitor of Oriel, a colonel in the army accompanying William of Orange to England, D.C.L., a member of the Kit-Cat Club, and the original of Sir Charles Lovemore in Mrs. Manley's memoirs. Beneath the engraving are the arms borne by Tidcombe, or, a bend azure between two fox heads erased gules, a crescent for difference. What relation, if any, was he to the well-known Michael Tidcombe?

A. S.

Church Plate of Fisherton Delamere.—Upon the chalice at Fisherton Delamere there is engraved a coat of arms [], three martlets [], on a chief [] three annulets [], above is an esquire's helm and mantling and a crest out of a coronet [], a griffin's head erased [], and below the motto, "Sed Sanguine", also an inscription, "Fisherton Delamor in Wiltshire, A^o D^m 1631". Upon the paten the crest only is engraved.

According to Papworth's Ordinary of British Armorial, the arms appear to be those of Cooper (Salop), namely, Argent, three martlets gules, on a chief gules three annulets or: can the connection of any member of this family with Fisherton Delamere be traced?

From 1613 to 1634, when he died, Thomas Crockford was Vicar of Fisherton Delamere; he was also Curate of Wylve, and had been formerly Curate of Stockton; in each of these parishes he transcribed the first part of the Register in Latin, giving very detailed information of the persons mentioned; a notice of him is to be found in the History of the parish of Stockton by the Rev. T. Miles (Wilts Arch. Mag., vol. xii, p. 210). The Marquess of Winchester was Lord of the Manor and Patron of the Living. Thomas Crockford was presented by William, Marquess of Winchester, in 1613, on the death of Joel Doughtie. J. J. H.

Wiltshire M.P.'s (p. 190, 192).—John Nicholas, member for Devizes, 1713-15, was, without doubt, John, son of Robert Nicholas of Roundway, by his first wife as stated in the last number of Wiltshire Notes & Queries.

Robert Nicholas' second wife was Jane Child, and Edward Richmond Nicholas was their grandson, who could not afford to live at Roundway Park and practised as a physician at Devizes. He died 1770, and his eldest surviving son Robert sold Roundway about 1780 and went to live at Ashton Keynes, which came to him through his grandmother, Bridget, daughter of Oliffe Richmond and wife of Edward Nicholas.

Robert Nicholas was called to the bar, 1783, seated by petition as M.P. for Cricklade 1785, and appointed a Commissioner of Excise in 1790, of which Board he was afterwards Chairman. He married, firstly, Charlotte, daughter of Admiral Sir Thomas Frankland, Bart., and secondly, Ann, daughter of John Shepherd Clark. He had 18 children in all. He was born, 22nd April 1758, at Devizes, died, 27th December 1826, at Clifton, and was buried at Ashton Keynes.

Hundred of Malmesbury (p. 189).—I can partially answer Mr. W. Symonds' enquiry as to the successive holders of the above Hundred. Having been in the Crown, I looked at the Land Revenue Calendars, where I found the following references :—

(1) 11 Jan., 30 Elizabeth, 1587-8. Letters patent granted to Sir John, Charles, Henry Danvers for their 3 lives of the Hundreds of Malmesbury, Sterkley, and Chegeslowe, with divers rents there at a yearly rent of £8 11s. 2d., and a heriot on each death of £3 6s. 8d.

(2) 18 July, 37 Elizabeth, 1595. Letters patent granted to Sir Henry Knyvett of same Hundreds for 21 years, at same rent.

(3) 1 June, 5 James I, 1609. Letters patent granted to Thomas, Earl of Suffolk, the Lady Katherine his wife, and Sir Thomas Howard their son, for their 3 lives of same Hundreds, at annual rent of £10 4s.

(4) 23 March, 8 James I, 1610-11. Letters patent granted to George Whitmore and Thomas Whitmore, of London, arm. for ever of said Hundreds.

Concerning these Hundreds, "Aubrey", p. 206, says that they were distinct before the dissolution, but after that event were merged into one. I do not think they were granted out of the Crown previous to 30 Elizabeth, or I should have found references. The Danvers were implicated in the murder of Henry Long at Corsham on 4 October 1594, and I have no doubt this was sufficient to cancel the grant, for, in 1595, the Hundreds were granted to Sir Henry Knyvett, who died, I believe, in 1598, when, I suppose, they again reverted to the Crown, to be regranted in 1607 to Thomas Howard, 1st Earl of Suffolk, who had, in 1583, married Katherine, daughter of Sir Henry Knyvett. For some reason the Hundreds seemed to have been surrendered again to the Crown, for, in 1610-11, they were granted to George and Thomas Whitmore for ever. This was before Suffolk was accused of embezzlement and other grave offences.

Having been granted outright for the Crown, it will be necessary to search other records to ascertain how the Hundreds got into Sir Richard Grobham's hands, which I may be able to do later on, perhaps.

If Mr. Symonds does not know it already, it may interest him to hear that a possible ancestor of his, William Symonds, brewer, had a grant, 11 July, 3 Edw. VI, 1511, for 90 years, of lands and tenements in Marlborough, which formerly had been granted for the support of a priest in St. Peter's Church, Marlborough.

And in 19 April, 34 Elizabeth, 1592, John Symonds had a grant of presumably the same lands for 21 years.

THE ARMS OF ROBERT JASON, AS REGISTERED IN THE COLLEGE OF ARMS, LONDON, IN MARCH 1781.

Wiltshire Notes and Queries,

NOTES ON THE FAMILY OF JASON OF BROAD SOMERFORD.

MRS. Susan Jason had issue by her first husband, the son Robert mentioned in the confirmation of arms of 1588, but no other issue of her marriages is recorded. She died at Broad Somerford, 20th February, 1636-7, and her nuncupative will, proved at Malmesbury, 20th April, following, is given below.

Memorandum that Mrs. Susan West, als. Jason, late of Somerford, in the County of Wilts, in the time of her last sickness whereof she died within 2, 3, or 4 days next before the day of her death, which happened in, upon, or near upon the 20th day of February, in the year of our Lord God, according to the Computation of the Church of England, one thousand six hundred thirty and six, was asked who should have all her goods and effects when she died, and the sd Susan replied, "Who should have them but my sonne Jason, I doe give or I doe leave them all unto my sonne Jason", meaning and speaking of Robert Jason, Esquier, her grandson, which sd words or the like were soe uttered and spoken in the presence and hearing of divers, credible witnesses, and the sd Mrs. Susan West, als. Jason, was in her perfect mind and memory. (Arch. of Wilts' Court.)

Immediately on hearing of her death, her husband, Mr. John West, in London, obtained the administration of her estate, as if intestate 22nd Feb. 1636-7 (P.C.C.), but litigation followed, and the will being produced in London administration was ultimately granted to her grandson, 20th March, 1637-8 (26 Lee), the previous administration being renounced. The dispute led to further trouble, and in consequence of a suit in the Exchequer Court between John West, Esq., pl., described as "First Secondary in the Office of the Remembrancer of the Court of Exchequer", and Robert Jason, with others, as defs., depositions were taken at Wotton Bassett, 24 August, 13 Car. i, which contain answers to questions directed to ascertain the circumstances of Mrs. Susan Jason's death, also the amount of her estate, and what position she occupied at Somerford. The witnesses were called before Richd. Constable, gent., and Willm. Morse, gent., and made the following statements (P.R.O., Exchequer Depositions, 13 Car. i, Mich., No. 39 Wilts).

Wm. Knapp, of Brode Somerford, yeo., æt. 60, knew the defendants: about 11 years ago Susan Jason removed from her husband to live at Somerford, and brought goods with her: at her death possessed goods to the value of £247 as set forth in an Inventorie; her goods left in custody of Robt. Knowles and John Winkworth and their wives.

Thos. Seely, of Brode Somerford, yeo., æt. 50, had heard that in lifetime of Robert Jason, her son, she did send a Truncke full of goods to Robert Jason, the defendant: at time of her death there were in the house widdow Combley and Robt. Knowles and a little girl that dwelt in the house with her: Robt. Knowles shortly after her death went to sd Robt. Jason and acquainted him of her death, who presently came down, and about 10 days after procured an Inventorie to be taken: everything put down in it except one hat bond affirmed to be the goods of Robt. Jason, her sonne, in his lifetyme, now deceased: £15 or more received by Robt. Knowles for animals sold also put down.

John Yowe, of Brode Somerford, gent., æt. 44, about 2 yrs. since at request of sd Susan Jason paid to def. Jason in London £50, which was repaid to him by her on his return: when her goods were being appraised def. Jason confessed that he had received as part of Susan's estate some £56, which said sum was included in the Inventorie.

Jonas Lawrence, of Somerford, clerk, æt. 24, was present when Inventorie was made, John Yowe, Wm. Knapp, and Thos. Seely being the appraisers; done by the direction of def. Jason: all goods included in it except one Clock worth about 50s., which was forgotten: the original Inventorie still in his hands.

Anne Combley, of Brode Somerford, wid., æt. 60, heard that Susan Jason came to live at Somerford by persuasion of Robert Jason, her sonne, deceased: saw money and plate in one of her boxes after her death: was present when some of them were opened by Robt. Knowles, full of wollen, linnen, plate, etc.

Benj. Haynes, of Brinkworth, yeo., æt. 28, Susan Jason did during her lifytyme received the rents of the farme at Somerford worth about £140 per ann.: her whole estate disposed of very much by her sonne Robt. Jason during his life, and since his death by def. Jason: she lived very privately, and did not spend more than £40 a year: often heard her say def. Mr. Jason did have her white money: at time of death owed her by Robt. Knowles £15, Robt. Younge 40s., John Yowe £4 1s., Wm. Yowe 20s., also Robt. Knowles owed her rent for a meadow ground and a ground called the Marsh and he deponent £6.

Rebecca Cromwell, of L. Som., sp., æt. 20, deponent her servant: she lived very closely and privately and farre below her degree and calling: was in the house at the time of her death.

Anne Wayte, of Brd. Somd., sp., æt., 14, deponent was for two years her servant: often heard her say that Mr. Jason, the def., had all her money as often as he came to the house: often seen her mistress tell money both gold and silver and put some of itt into a pot of tynne and some into bags, how much she knew not: keys of her trunckes came into hands of Knowles and Winckworth after her death.

The final decision in this suit has not been discovered. The property at Broad Somerford, being the Manor of Somerford Maltravers, was purchased¹ by Robert Jason in 1623, and from the above evidence it appears that his mother shortly afterwards took up her residence at the Manor House, where she remained until her death. This Robert Jason, according to Burke (Landed Gentry, ed. 1838, vol. iii, p. 417), married Frances, eldest daughter of Henry Wollaston, Alderman of London (who died in 1617), he being then of Greenstreet, near Enfield. There were at least three children of this marriage—Robert, who afterwards became the first baronet; Frances, who married Thomas Gale, of Stratford Langthorpe, Essex, and died apparently without issue in 1635; and Susan, who married Henry Whiterowe. Jason died in 1634, intestate, administration being granted to his son Robert on 29th July in that year (P.C.C.). Mrs. Francis Jason died in 1640, her latter years having been embittered by constant disputes with her son about money matters connected with her husband's estate.

PRESENTMENT OF THE JURORS FOR THE KING.

First the sd. Jurors present upon their oath That the ditches belonging to the close of Robt. Wallis on one side and to the close of Nich. Ford on the other next the public road leading from Sherston Magna towards Willesley (commonly called Leach lane) have not been cleaned out according to the order of the last Court and that the penalties of xs. apiece appointed by the same order are forfeited to the lord by them separately, And further That a water-course through (per) the same public road (flowing) into the Close of the sd. Robert Wallis is obstructed by a pond (stagnum) lately made in the sd. Robt. Wallis's close, And therefore it is ordered by the Court that the sd. ditches be properly cleansed and the obstruction of the sd water-course be removed before the F. of Pentecost next ensuing under a penalty of xs. for whichever of them shall make default in the premises.

Also they present that the public road Surveyors have not repaired the high road (via Regia) leading from Sherston Magna towards Malmesbury near the parish of Pinckney according to the order of the last Court, and it is ordered that the sd road be properly repaired by the sd Surveyors before the F. of Holy Trinity next ensuing under a penalty of vjs. viij*d*.

Also . . That Anne Holborough widow and Ethelbert Neale have ploughed up part of the highway leading from Sherston Mag. towards Aldrington, And it is ordered by the Court that the sd. Anne and Ethelbert shall each separately restore to the highway what is ploughed up before May 1 next, under penalty of vs.

Also . . That Edmund Hort has shot rubbish on the High Street (platea) of Sherston Mag. to the injury of the public road and of Nathaniel Ady's burgage and that Edmund has not removed the sd rubbish according to the order of the last Court and therefore has forfeited the penalty of vs. and it is now ordered that the sd Edmund remove the sd. rubbish before the F. of St. James the Apostle under penalty of vs.

Also . . That the Highway Surveyors for the past year have not repaired the road from Sherston towards Chippenham according to order of last Court and have forfeited vs. penalty and the present Surveyors are ordered to repair it properly next the bridge by the house of Will. Paradise before the next F. of St. James Ap. under vs. penalty.

Also . . . that the water-course under the wall of Will. Goslet's garden needs cleaning out to the injury of the highway And William is ordered to cleanse it before 1 July next under iij*s.* iiij*d.* penalty.

Also . . . that the water-course at the place called "le Backland End" under the wall of the close of Edith Wallis widow needs cleaning out to the injury of the highway and of the water-mill and that the sd. Edith not having cleansed it by order of last Court has forfeited iij*s.* iiij*d.* to the lord and she is ordered to cleanse it before 1 July next under xs. penalty.

Also . . . That the Pillory and Cuckingstool (collistrigium et tumbrillum) are defective and the Constable and Tithingman are ordered to make and erect at the expense of the parishioners a proper Pillory and Cuckingstool before F. of Nativity of St. John Bapt. next under vs. penalty.

Also that the posts and rails (postes et Asserculi) next Gullow's Pill are defective to the great peril of those traversing the bridge on the highway there and the road surveyors are ordered to make proper repair and to erect posts and rails before 20 May, under xs. penalty.

Also . . . that the ditches of Phil. Sebourne's close, called le Lower Ridings, next the highway leading from Sherston Mag. towards Weston Birt, need cleaning out, and are a grave nuisance to those passing along the sd. way, and Philip is ordered to cleanse them before 1 June next, under iij*s.* iiij*d.* penalty.

Also that the ditches of Richard Estcourt, Esquire, and John Deverill, next the highway leading from Sherston towards Tedbury, need cleaning out to the injury of the sd. way, and they were ordered to be cleansed by 1 June, under penalty for default of either of them vs.

Also the Constable and Bailiff are ordered to weigh, every month of the following year, the bakers' bread so as to keep the Assise of Bread under iij*s.* iiij*d.* penalty.

Also they present Robt. Wingot and Richd. Bayley to be searchers and sealers of Leather within the precinct of this View of Frankpledge for the following year. And they were sworn.

PRESENTMENT OF THE HOMAGE.

First, the sd. Homage present upon their oath that Richd. Estcourt, esquire, Robt. Codrington, esq., Richd. Lewis, esq., Tho. Gore, gen., and Phil. Sebourne, are free suitors (liberi sectatores) at this Court, and at this day made default, wherefore each of them is in mercy iiij*d.*

(The rest is on the dorse as follows :—)

At this Court the sd. lord granted to Tho. Peters and to Dorothy Peters, spinster, and to either of them (who hold of the lord successively according to the custom of the sd. manor by virtue of a copy of Court Roll bearing date xith day of October 16[40?], a tenement with appurtenances, called Rough Leaze Tenement, containing xlij acres of land, meadow, and pasture), licence to demise or farm out (ad firman locandi) all and singular the premises to any honest person or persons for any term or terms of years during the life of them and of the one of them that is the longer liver successively. (Provided, however, that the customary rent and the services due to the lord are made and paid, and so that no waste be made in the premises), any custom of the sd. manor to the contrary notwithstanding, And for such Licence the sd. Thomas and Dorothy have given the sd. lord ls. (50 shillings).

At this Court the sd. lord granted to Alice Holborowe, widow, and to Alexander Holborowe, son of the sd. Alice, [? who hold] of the lord successively according to the custom of the Manor, a customary messuage or tenement called Hall-house [? with appurtenances], together with all meadows, feedings, common of pasture, whatsoever to the sd. messuage looking or belonging (late in the tenure of Roger Long, deceased), Licence of demising or letting to farm all and singular the premises to any honest person or persons for any term or terms of years during the widowhood of the sd. Alice and the life of the sd. Alexander. [Same proviso as above from "provided" to "notwithstanding".]

At this Court came Nath. Watts, who held of the lord by virtue of copy of Court Roll bearing date xxijrd Dec. A.D. 1654, one messuage or tenement and one virgate of land and a cottage, containing in all $39\frac{1}{2}$ acres of land, meadow, and pasture, whereof in a garden, orchard, and close behind the sd. tenement is one acre, in a close called Wick-slade, 2 acres and one rood; in a close called le Croft, $2\frac{1}{2}$ acres; in a close called Challowbrook, 1 acre; and in a close of meadow called Widley, 1 acre and 1 rood; in a close of arable and pasture land called Widley, 10 acres; in a close of arable land called Oatfurlong, 11 acres; in a close of arable land at Thorne-gate, $2\frac{1}{2}$ acres, in a close of arable land called Saiter, 5 acres; together with Le Lot of underwood in Silkwood with common of pasture for 14 beasts and elsewhere, according to the schedule (secundum extantum), with appurtenances, now in the sd. Nathaniel's tenure, And all these he rendered up into the lord's hand here in full Court, and all his estate, title, and interest of and in the premises, with intent that the lord may therein do his will, whence falls to the lord a heriot which is remitted (condonatur). And afterwards, at this same Court, the sd. Nathaniel came again and took of the lord here in full Court, by delivery of the Steward, the sd. messuage or tenement and virgate of land and cottage and all and singular the premises above specified with the appurtenances, to Have and to Hold to the sd. Nathaniel Watts and to John Watts and Mary Watts, son and daughter of sd. Nathl., for term of their lives, and the longest liver of them at the will of the lord successively according to the custom of the sd. Manor, paying therefor annually to the lord and his heirs 25 shillings, and for cert 10 pence, and for Le Lot of underwood 10 pence, and a heriot when it falls due, and all other burdens, works, customs, and services therefrom formerly due and of right accustomed. And for such estate so to be had in the premises the sd. Nathl. gave the lord by way of fine, £6 13s. 4d., because the lord granted the premisses in consideration of the aforesaid render. And the sd. Nathl. did fealty to the lord and so is therein admitted tenant, but the fealty of the sd. John and Mary is respited until, etc. And the sd. lord, by the fine aforesaid, further granted to the same Nathaniel, John, and Mary, and to each of them, Licence of demising or letting to farm all and singular the premises above granted, and any part thereof, to any honest person or persons for any term or terms of years during their lives or the longest. (Proviso as in the 2 former grants of demise.)

At this Court came Alice Holborough widow and took of the lord here in full Court by delivery of his sd. Steward one toft of a tenement with appurtenances $16\frac{1}{2}$ acres and one rood [roda] late in the tenure of Winifred Goodcheap, whereof 3 acres and a small close called Buthay containing one rood are pasture and lie in a close formerly called Walter's Grove and $3\frac{1}{2}$ acres are meadow 3 of which lie in two parcels called Blackwell Mead and $\frac{1}{2}$ an acre lies in Austin's Mead, And $\frac{1}{2}$ an acre of underwood called formerly Walter's Grove lately Cannop's Grove and $10\frac{1}{2}$ acres are arable whereof $4\frac{1}{2}$ acres lie in le South feild and 3 acres lie in le Windmill feild and 2 acres in le North feild and common of pasture for sheep and animals according to the schedule viz. ; —at the rate of 3 sheep to the acre in the fields and of one beast to two acres (except $2\frac{1}{2}$ acres of land and pasture more or less lying near Le Windmill feild next the highway leading towards Luckington on the North now in tenure of Phil. Hayes) which all and singular (except as before excepted) the sd. lord by his sd. steward granted to the aforesaid Alice Holborough by rod according to the custom of the sd. manor to Have and to Hold the said toft and all and singular the other premises above specified (except as before excepted) to the aforesaid Alice Holborough and to Alexander and John Holborough her sons for term of their life and of the longest liver of them successively according to the custom of the sd. manor, Paying annually to the lord and his heirs 13s. 4d. at the usual terms and all other burdens works customs and services thence formerly due and of right customary and not any heriot. And for such estate so to be had in the premises the sd. Alice Holborough gave the lord for a fine £170 and did fealty and so was thereto admitted tenant, but the fealty of Alexr. and John is respited until, &c. And the sd. lord for the sd. fine further granted to A. A. and J. licence to demise for term or terms of years (in form as in former paragraphs).

At this Court came Philip Hayes and took of the lord here in full Court by delivery of his sd. steward $2\frac{1}{2}$ acres, more or less, of land and pasture late in tenure of Winifred Goodcheap, widow, lying near le Windmill feild next the road leading towards Luckington on the north, lately enclosed by a stone wall from the sd. Le Windmill feild, now in tenure of the sd. Phil. Hayes, which the sd. lord granted to the sd. Philip by his sd. steward by rod according to the custom of the sd. manor, to Have and to Hold to the sd. Philip and to John and Thomas Hayes, sons of the sd. Philip, for the term of their life, and of the longest liver of them in succession according to the custom of the sd. manor, rendering annually to the lord and his heirs 2 shillings at the usual terms, and all other burdens, works, customs, and services thence previously due and of right customary. And for such estate so to be had in the sd. premises Phil. Hayes gave the lord £22 fine, and did fealty, and so was admitted tenant, but the fealty of John and Thomas was respited until, etc.

BULSTRODE TOMB FORMERLY IN ERLESTOKE CHURCH.

In Aubrey's Topographical Collections for North Wilts, edited by the late Canon Jackson (p. 298), are a few heraldic notes, taken in April 1680, by William Aubrey—a younger brother of the Wiltshire Antiquary—from the old church of St. Margaret, at Erlestoke.¹

There stood at this time, within the chancel, an altar tomb of freestone. It seems to have occupied the north-east angle, with two of its sides abutting against the chancel walls, the remaining two—on the west and south—having carved panels enclosing shields of arms.

In the year 1778, the chancel, as seen a century before by William Aubrey, was taken down and rebuilt,² the tomb being also taken down, but never afterwards replaced. William Aubrey had copied both the inscription and arms, but neither of them quite accurately, and there being at the time of the publication of the Aubrey volume, by Canon Jackson, in 1862, no trace whatever of the tomb in Erlestoke Church, the inaccuracies in the heraldic blazon could not then be corrected.

¹ For some valuable additions to, as well as corrections of this article, the writer is indebted to the kindness of Mr. John Watson Taylor.

² The chancel of this date, rebuilt by Mr. Peter Delme, was probably the most unecclesiastical looking piece of building in the diocese. The windows were said to have been copied from those of the stables at the manor house.

The inscription, as copied by William Aubrey, was:—
“Of your Charity pray for ye Soule of Thomas Bolstred, and Edith his wife, Lord of this Mannour”; but the name of Bulstrode not occurring in any other authentic record as Lord of the Manor of Erlestoke, the matter became a difficulty, which was eventually solved by the accidental discovery of some papers in the library of the Society of Antiquaries of London,¹ containing another copy of the inscription taken about 1757, a few years before the rebuilding of the chancel at Erlestoke. From this it appeared that the words copied by Aubrey as Lord of this mannour, were really Lord of thy mercy on them have pity, Amen.

Of the four shields of arms, one was at the west end, and the remaining three on the south side of the tomb. They are numbered 427 to 430 in the Aubrey volume.

In the year 1880 a new church was built at Erlestoke, on a different site, by the late Lady Hannah Charlotte Watson Taylor; and in taking down the old chancel, the arms from the Bulstrode tomb were found buried beneath the paving, and are now built into an inner wall of the new structure.² The

Mr. Theobald says:—“In the Chancel, on the north side of the Communion Table, is a Table Monument, raised about four feet from the floor, round the edge of which, in the old character, is the following inscription cut:—“Of your Charity pray for ye Soul of Thomas Bollstryd and Edythe hys wyff and Lord of thy Mercy on them have Pity, Amen.”

“In Dei Nomine, Amen. In the yere of our Lorde, M^v and xvii, the viith day of Octob'r. I, Thomas Bulstrode, being of hole minde ordeyn and make my testament and last will in fourme folowing, First I bequeth my soule to Almighty God and to our Blessed Lady Saint Mary and to all the holy company of Angells; First I woll that my body be buried in the Church of Herryll Stoke, afore the ymage of Alhalowen, as nygh to the place wher lieth late my wife as ye may; also I bequeth to the Cathedrall Church of Sar' iiii*s.* iiiii*d.*; also I bequeth to the Bilding and making of the Cetyes of the same church xx*s.*; also I bequeth to the paving of the same church¹ xx*s.*; also I bequeth to the said ymage of Alhalowen an oxen to maynteyn a tapre contynuelly afore the said ymage; also I bequeth to the ymage of Saint Margaret a kowe to th'entente afore rehersed; also I woll that myn executours paye to John Trewe² of the Fyse Grene xxx*s.*; also I woll that they paye to the Vicar of Cossh'm xx*s.*; also I will that they paye to Sir John Fletcher of Cossh'm xiii*s.* iiiii*d.*; also I will to every god-child that I have xii*d.*; also I bequeth to Thomas Hall xx*s.*; Item, I bequeth to Osmonde Hall xx*s.*; and to Alice Haille wife to John Turney x m'rcs and that to be delivered to her at the day of her espowse; also I wille that myn executours have the govern'nce receyte and rule of the lands that belongeth to the said John Turney by the reason of his noneage; also I bequeth to the said John Turney at such tyme as he cometh to housholde xl m'rcs; also I will yf the said Turney be not ruled by myn executours during his nonage then I will that they shall geve him iiiii m'rcs during the said nonage and to have no p'cell of the said xl m'rcs above rehersed; also I bequeth to John Witcom xx*s.*; also I bequeth to ev'y housho'de serv'unt that I have xx*d.* a peece; also I will that Alice my wyfe have and enjoye almaner of suche stuffe of housholde as she brought unto me, also I bequeth unto her myn owne proper goods to be paide by myn executours xx*li.*; also I bequeth to Maistres Isabell Bowser x*li.*; also the residue of my goods not bequethed I wolle that it be equally devided betweene my ii sonnes William and John, and that the said goods be solde and made in redy money by myn executours, and that doon to be laide into the sauf keping of som Abbey to the use of the said William and John till they com to the age of xxiiii yeres. Also I will that William Bulstrode my elder sonne [have?] all such plate as I shall leve behynde me; also I will yf it fortune the said William or John to dye, as God forbidde, then I will that he that overlyveth have the hole; also I woll yf it fortune the said Will'm and John to dye, as God forbidde, then I will that the said money be equally devided betwene the children of my brother Ludlowe and my suster Philip his wife. Also I woll by this my testament that all such lands as I have lying in London and at Dowgate called Cosson Lane, and two howses lying in the ryall the which I will that my executors receyve and p'ceyve till my son come to his full age.

² Aubrey says “perhaps cullumbines rudely cutt”—the arms of Hall, of Sarum—but the bearing is distinctly three squirrels. In the absence of colours, it is not easy to assign this coat with certainty. Besides Lovell, Papworth also gives Greenford ; Goosetree, co. Bucks ; Kensing ; and Littler, London and Middlesex.

² John Drewe, of Southbroom—the name being occasionally thus spelt. He is the first individual in the recorded pedigree.

Also I woll that a preest be founde wt ix m^{rs}cs of the said money to pray for my soule, and the soule of Edith my wife, during the nonage of the said William my son; also I bequeath to the Maister of the house of Hedington vis. viii*d.*; also I bequeath to the Co'vent of the forsaid howse xxs.;¹ also I bequeath to the howse of Henton vis. viii*d.*;² also I bequeth to Maister John Bowser, Esquier, xls.; also to my suster Dame Jane Bulstrode xls.; also I wool that myn executours take almaner issues, profits, receyts, and receyvurgs of all suche londs that I, the said Thomas Bulstrode, am nowe seased of, during the nonage of the said William and John, and the profits thereof to be kept to th^e use of the said William and John, almaner of charges deducted, also I woll that myn executours have the rule, warde, and keping of the said William and John during there nonage; also I bequeth to my neveve Edward Ludlowe and my nese Dorathe v m^{rs}cs equally to be devidid; also I bequeth to the pou' men of the Almes Hous of Hettysbyre³ xiii*d.* apece, and to the woman of that same howse xii*d.*, and to the scole maister for seyng of a masse iiiii*d.*; also I bequeth to the blak freres of Sar' xxs.; also I woll that myn executours have the warde, rule, and keping of John Turney during his nonage. PEDIGREE.

- I. William Bulstrode,⁴ of London, marr. Joan, dau. of . . Franklin, and had issue.
- II. (1) Thomas Bulstrode, of Erlestoke; will, 7 Oct. 1517, pr. 27th same month; monument formerly at Erlestoke; marr. (a) Edith (Bonham?), who died before 1517 and was bur. at Erlestoke; (b) Alice (Hall?) survived her husband; and had issue William Bulstrode and John Bulstrode, who both ob. s.p.

² The Carthusian Priory of Hinton Charterhouse, co. Somerset.

³ The Hungerford Almshouse, at Heytesbury.

⁴ In 1510 we find a William Bulstrode, overseer of the will of Thomas Ramsey, gent., of Hucham, co. Bucks.

- (2) Philippa Bulstrode, dau. and heiress, marr. John Ludlow of Hill Deverill (will 6 Oct. 1519, pr. 14 Nov. following), and had issue William Ludlow, Edward Ludlow, Dorothy Ludlow.
- (3) Dame Jane Bulstrode living 1517.

In 1520, the Site of the Manor of Erlestoke, with its appurtenances, "then lately held and occupied by Thomas Bulstrode, late the tenant dwelling and inhabiting there", was leased for 60 years, by Margaret Plantagenet, Countess of Salisbury, niece of Edward IV, to Robert and Henry Brouncker. The former dying in 1536, his son Henry, who was M.P., for Devizes, on the attainder of the Countess of Salisbury in 1539, had a grant of a new lease from the Crown (31 Henry VIII).

On the death of his two sons, without issue, Thomas Bulstrode's property, in accordance with his will, passed to the children of John Ludlow, of Hill Deverill, and his wife Philippa [neè Bulstrode], the testator's sister. Thomas Bulstrode, as we have seen, died in 1517, and his brother-in-law, John Ludlow, in 1519. William Ludlow, son and heir of the latter, in his will, dated 1533, desires burial in the Church of the White Friars of London, and his executors to cause "a remembrance" to be made, "that is to say, a picture of me",¹ at Hill Deverill. On the fine altar tomb which still remains here, some of the Bulstrode heraldry, as at Erlestoke, is again repeated, the style of the carving at once suggesting, in both cases, the hand of one and the same sculptor.

An interesting relic of John Ludlow, and his wife Philippa [Bulstrode], is now in possession of Miss Eleanor Ludlow-Bruges, at Rodney House, Trowbridge. It is a fine piece of heraldic stained glass, taken from an old house at Tadley, near Silchester, co. Hants, and given to her late brother, Mr. H. Hungerford Ludlow-Bruges, by Sir Michael

Hicks Beach (Lord St. Aldwyn). A shield enclosed within a circle, a foot in diameter, bears the arms of Ludlow, impaling Bulstrode, correctly blazoned, as recorded in the Herald's College :—

Argent, a chevron between three marten's heads erased sable—LUDLOW ; impaling, Sable, a stag's head cabossed Argent, between the attires Or, a cross of the last, and pierced above the nostrils by an arrow in fess, point to the sinister, also Or, feathered of the second, the nostrils dropping blood proper—BULSTRODE. The surrounding circle bears the following inscription in black letter —

“I. ludlow. son. &. [heir?]. of. I. ludlow. &. phelypp. hys. wyf. dowghter. of. W. bulstrowde.”

The Manor of Withford alias Tadley, with the Mansion and park there, held of the Bishop of Winchester, apparently came into possession of the Ludlow family through the marriage of William, son and heir of the above John and Philippa, with a coheirress of Nicholas Moore, of Withford, and their great grandson Henry Ludlow, born 1577, was sometime resident here, the glass, in all probability, having been removed by him from the older family residence at Hill Deverill.

E. A. FRY.

*(To be continued.)MANOR OF AXFORD, Co. WILTS.

On going through some De Banco Rolls at the Public Record Office, London, I came across the following pleadings which I think will be of interest to your readers, as they give various genealogical particulars of early owners of this manor. From these pleadings I have been able to compile the following pedigree, which I have supplemented from other sources named.

E. A. FRY.

DE BANCO ROLL, No. 665, m. 302. Easter 5 Henry VI, 1426.

The case opens by quoting a Feet of Fine¹ dated 9 Edward II, 1315, between Hildebrand de London, and ¹ Printed in full in Dorset Feet of Fines, vol. i, 323. Ref. Divers Counties, 9 Edw. II, 115. Wilts & Dorset.

Margaret his wife, querents, and Margaret de Morle, deforciant, of the manor of Axeford, co. Wilts, and one messuage and two carucates of land in Heydone, co. Dorset, by which Margaret de Morle grants to Hildebrand and Margaret his wife the said manor and lands, and after their deaths to remain to Robert, son of the said Hildebrand and heirs of his body, with remainder, should Robert die without heir of his body, to Richard his brother, with remainder, if Richard die without heir of his body, to Matilda, sister of Richard and heirs of her body, with remainder, if Matilda die without heirs of her body, to the right heirs of Hildebrand.

The plaintiffs in the case are William Darell and Elizabeth his wife, who say that Hildebrand and Margaret his wife are dead, also Robert and Richard are dead without leaving heirs of their bodies, and Matilda their sister is likewise dead, and that Elizabeth, the wife of William Darell, is kin and heir of Matilda, and that Humphry, Duke of Gloucester, John Stafford, Bishop of Bath, Thomas Polton, Bishop of Worcester, Robert Erle, John Sturmeay, William Tournay, and others named have entered on said manor of Axeford against the form of the gift, and ask for judgment against the intruders.

This is as far as pleadings in this Roll proceed, and the case is adjourned.

In Roll 669 for Easter, 6 Henry VI, 1427, m. 371, the case is recapitulated, and the plaintiffs now state that Elizabeth, wife of William Darell, is daughter of Thomas, son of Felicia, daughter of said Matilda the sister of Robert and Richard. There is evidently some uncertainty as to who is in actual possession, as the Duke and Robert Erle are not proceeded against, but John Sturmeay answers and says the Duke and the others granted the manor, except two acres thereof, to him for seven years beginning Michaelmas, 3 Henry VI, 1424, and as to the said two acres, he says that with respect to one acre thereof, long before the levying of the fine in Edward II, said Hildebrand de London was affianced to said Margaret in front of the church of Heydon, in co. Dorset, and banns were published three successive feast days as canonically required, and they were legally married and had issue Robert. John Sturmei acknowledges that Elizabeth Darell is kin and heir of Matilda in the manner declared, but that Robert, son of Hildebrand, by the name of Robert de London (or Loundres), knt., after Hildebrand's death by a charter, which he produces in Court, dated, Axeford, 10 Feb., 6 Richard II, 1382-3, granted to Hildebrand Barre, Richard Fode, Richard Wadenho, vicar of Preschuyt, and John Syward, clerk, the said manor, and it is by right of said Barre, Fode, Wadenho, and Syward, that he, John Sturmei, has his "status" in said one acre. And by another charter, dated 10 March, 6 Richard II, 1382-3, also shown in Court, between said Robert de London, and Barre, and the others, John Sturmei has his "status" in the other acre.

Then William Tournay comes and says he and the Duke and the others, on the day of issuing the writ, jointly with Ralph Lenham, who is omitted from the writ, and who is still alive, held the manor of Axeford, and confirms the two charters of 10 February and 10 March, 6 Richard II.

William Darell and Elizabeth then repeat their assertions that on the day of issuing the writ of "scire fac" the said Duke and the others held the manor as of free tenement and put themselves on the country, and as to the plea of John Sturmei which relates to the said two acres of land, and also of the Duke and the others (though apparently they were not called upon to plead) as regards the manor they say that the said Hildebrand de London, long before the said espousals with said Margaret, married a certain Nichola, daughter of Adam de Longebrygge, at Axford, by whom he had the son Robert named in the Fine, so that Robert was son of Hildebrand and Nichola and not son of Hildebrand and Margaret as stated by the two Bishops and the others.

The two Bishops maintain that Robert was son of Hildebrand and Margaret.

The Sheriff of Dorset was then ordered to have twelve men of the view of Heydon in Court on the Octaves of St. John Baptist.

DE BANCO ROLL, No. 675, m. 112. Michaelmas,
8 Henry VI, 1429.

In this roll we get another version of the story, and it relates to the Dorset property. The Plaintiffs William Darell and Elizabeth his wife, repeat the Fine of 9 Edward II, and state, as before, that Hildebrand, Margaret, Robert, Richard and Matilda are all dead, and that a certain William Wadham, arm., has entered on the one messuage and two carucates of land in Heydon, and hold it against the form of the fine, and that this property ought to descend to Elizabeth as kin and heir of Matilda, viz., daughter of Thomas, son of Felicia, daughter of Matilda.

William Wadham replies and says that long before the levying of the Fine, Hildebrand de London married a certain Petronilla and had issue, Robert and Matilda mentioned in the Fine. He acknowledges that Elizabeth is descended from Matilda as described by the Plaintiffs, but that Robert, after the death of Hildebrand and Petronilla, enfeoffed Hildebrand Barre, Richard Fode, Richard Wadenho, vicar of Preschuyt, and John Syward, clerk of the Manor of Heydon (of which the one messuage and two carucates of land formed part). After which by a deed, shown in Court, dated Saturday next after the feast of St. Thomas the Martyr, 9 Richard II (29 Dec. 1385), the said Robert by the name of Robert de Londres, knt., after reciting the above enfeoffment, granted to John Wadham, John Hull, William Hankeford, Henry Tyrell and their heirs, all his right in said manor, by which charter the said William Wadham (presumably son or direct descendant of John Wadham) has his "status" in the one messuage and two carucates of land in Heydon.

To this William Darell and Elizabeth reply that after Petronilla's death, Hildebrand de London took to wife the said Margaret named in the Fine and had issue the said Robert, who was therefore "of the half blood" to said Elizabeth Darell.

Finally the matter went before the Assizes, held at Shaftesbury in December last past (1428), and the verdict of the jury is that Robert, son of Hildebrand de London, was son of Hildebrand and Petronille his wife as stated by William Wadham.

Therefore it is considered that William Darell and Elizabeth have nothing and William Wadham go without a day, or in other words, William Darell and Elizabeth lost their case.

RELEASE OF THE CHURCH HOUSE, LITTLE SOMERFORD.

There are in the Church Chest at Little Somerford two old deeds (copies of which are inserted in the earliest Register now extant) referring to premises adjoining the village School—a cottage, shed, and land,¹ the rent of which is now distributed among the poor. There is no further record of the manner in which this trust property was conveyed thro' the centuries to successive trustees until it was finally appropriated for its present purpose. We give the first of these deeds in full as follows.

This Indenture made the second day of August in the ffirst yeare of the Reigne of our Sov'gn Lord and Lady William and Mary by the Grace of God, King and Queen of England, Scotland, France and Ireland, &c., Annoq' Dni 1689, Between William White of the parish of Little Somerford in the County of Wilts, Esq., of theone part And Edmund Pleydel, Esq., Thomas Powell, gent., Francis Baskerville, gent., Lucian Brown, gent., Henry Smith, gent., Henry Jacob,² Clerke, John Stump, Thomas Sloper, Richard Stump, the young'r, John West the young'r, and John Mills, All of them parishioners of or Owners of Lands within the aforesaid parish of Little Somerford of thother parte Witnesseth That the said William White for and in consideration of the sum of Ten shillings of lawful money of England in hand at and before thensealing hereof well and truly paid by and on the behalfe of all the Inhabitants and parishioners of the said parish of Little Somerford to the said William White, The Receipt whereof he doth hereby acknowledge And to the End that the Trust herein after mentioned may be manifested and declared, Established and Continued and for other Causes the said William White thereunto moveing Hath Granted, Aliened, Released and Confirmed and by these presents at and by the nomina'on and appointm't of the parishioners of the said parish doth absolutely Grant, Alien, Release and Continue unto the said Edward Pleydel, Thomas Powell, Francis Baskerville, Lucian Brown, Henry Smith, Henry Jacob, John Stump, Thomas Sloper, Richard Stump, John West and John Mills (in their actual possession now being by vertue of a Bargain and Sale to them thereof made for one year by Indenture bearing date the day before the date of these p'sents and by force of Statute for Transferring Uses into po'ssion) All that Mesuage and Tenement with th'appurten'ces situate and lying in Little Somerford aforesaid and late parcell of the Mannor of Little Somerford in the said County of Wilts com'only called the Church-house¹ now in the tenure and poss'ion of several poor Inhabitants of the said parish of Little Somerford, And all that plott and portion of ground adjoining to the said Church-house com'only called the Church-house Close Containeing by estima'on one acre be the same more or less now enjoyed by the poor Inhabitants of the said Church-house And all that plott or portion of meadow or pasture lying in Little Somerford aforesaid and late parcell of the manor containeing by estima'on one Quarter of an acre be same more or less com'only called the Haywards plott and usually enjoyed by the Hayward of the said parish And all outhouses, buildings, &c., and appurtein'es whatsoever to the said Messuage lands and ¹ The Church-house was the building in which, in pre-Reformation times, parish and guild meetings were held, also various festivities, which were means of raising funds for Church purposes and the relief of the poor, such as Church Ales, etc. It was, no doubt, also used as a place for rest and refreshment by those coming from a distance to the Church services, and was provided with cooking utensils, etc. Every parish probably had one. After the Reformation and the legal enactment of a poor rate, these buildings fell into desuetude. There are notices of the repair of the Church-house in the Churchwardens' Accounts of Calne (1533), and Steeple Ashton (1558), etc.: of the pulling down of the Church-house in those of St. Mary's, Devizes (1531): of moneys being left for the building of a Church-house in those of Mere (1568, 1575), which, however, does not seem to have been erected. Aubrey mentions the Church-house at Kington St. Michael as being in use in his grandfather's days. The ownership of the Church-house was often the subject of dispute. At Chippenham, where it became the Town Hall, the Lord of the Hundred and Manor claimed it against the Bailiff and Burgesses of the town (1566). At Calne, from the time of Elizabeth it was used by the Burgesses for the same purpose, and repaired at their expense, but being claimed by the parish at large and having become ruinous, it was, in 1829, given up by them. At Broughton Giffard, the Church-house was built on the waste of the Lord of the Manor, and ultimately appropriated by him. When pulled down in 1732 the stones and timber were used for building a farm-house. At Great Somerford, its fate seems to have been the same. A messuage called "Fletchers" or "Church-house" was leased, 40 Eliz., by Philip Batten, of Thomas Mompesson, Esq. On its site is now the "Red House". At Little Somerford, the Church-house was apparently regarded as the property of the Lord of the Manor, though used as a poor house until William White, who purchased the Manor from Sir Stephen Fox, handed it over to trustees for the parishioners. The old building was pulled down about 1850. At Steeple Ashton, the Churchwardens paid an annual rent for the Church-house (1558, etc.), at times (1585, etc.), also receiving a rent from various persons for its use.

Notes on Books.

THE GENEALOGIST, New Series, Vols. XXV, XXVI, 1909
1910. Edited by H. W. Forsyth Harwood, of the Middle Temple, Barrister-at-Law. George Bell &
Sons, London; and Pollard & Co., Exeter.

This illustrated quarterly continues to hold its own under its able and learned editor. The frontispieces that adorn these two volumes are the portraits of the late Hon. General Wrottesley, with a memoir (W. N. & Q., IV, 429), and William Hervey, the well-known Clarenceux, of the time of Queen Mary. The indexes as usual are full and accurate.

We will concern ourselves only with the Wiltshire matter that is contained in these volumes.

The Rev. E. Nevill continues his Marriage Licences of Salisbury, a note on Nevill of Bigby and Hale, and in another note corrects Burke in saying that Frances was the youngest daughter of Lord Seymour of Trowbridge, whereas she was his eldest. "Why does Burke call the first Baron, Lord Seymour of Trowbridge, and the second Lord Trowbridge only?"; he has also an article on Nevill of Herts, with a short pedigree.

The late editor of W. N. & Q. concludes his long Roll of Arms, 1673, consisting of 881 shields, and obtains an appreciative notice of his Notes on the Stokes Family. Our readers will pardon us for quoting a few words from the Review of W. N. & Q. :—

There is always much that is interesting, and, better still, much that is worth remembering in the triennial volume of Wiltshire Notes & Queries, which maintains its reputation as one of the best local archaeological periodicals the Index of places, as it always is in this magazine, has been compiled with great care The Chrysom book of St. Thomas is of itself sufficient to recommend the volume to antiquaries.

In Dugdale's Visitation of Yorkshire, which is "still running", we find that Sir Thomas Strickland, of Boynton, Yorks., marries Elizabeth,¹ dau. and coh. of Sir Francis Pyle, of Compton Beauchamp, co. Berks (Vis. of Wilts 1623; Vis. of Berks 1664), 9 Nov. 1659, at Kensington, died 13 June 1674, M.I. at Boynton,

In Jewer's Grants of Arms occur :—

SHUTER, John, of Winterbourne Cherburgh, July 1614; azure, an escocheon argent within an orle of crosses paty fitchy or. Crest, on a mount vert a leopard sejant proper gorged with a coronet with line.

SKINNER, John, of Longleate; argent, a lion rampant gules, armed and langued azure, on the shoulder a linnnet or within an orle of crosses crosslet of the second. Crest, two arms embowed in armour gules, the gauntlets grasping a flintstone proper.

SMITH (SMYTHE), Thomas,² of Westerhanger, co. Kent. Azure, a chevron engrailed between three lions passant guardant or. Crest: A lion's head erased argent semy of ogresses collar and lion or.

SOUTH, Thomas, of Swallowcliff. 1 and 4, Argent, three horse-shoes sable; 2, Sable, two bars and on a chief argent a lion passant guardant of the field; 3, Argent, three bars wavy gules. Crest: A dragon's head couped proper gorged by a coronet per pale or and azure from the mouth fire proper.

¹ She was the second dau., and her father was dead at the time of her marriage.

SOUTH, Thomas, of Swallowcliff, conf. 8 Oct. 1564. Azure, on a fess humetty between three billets argent a garland vert flowered gules. Crest: A dragon's head couped vomiting flames of fire all proper gorged by a coronet azure.

In an article on Sir William Wheler it is stated that Elizabeth, wife of Simon Aston, of St. Peter's Westcheap, citizen and grocer (W. N. & Q., ii, p. 249 and vi, p. 278), was dau. of John Wheler by his first wife Ann Hervey, sister of the first Lord Hervey.

Amongst the licences to pass from England beyond the seas are found the names of Ursula Stokes, to her husband Stephen Stokes, merchant, resident at St. Luear, in Spaine, to take her child, 28 Feb. 1633. Edward Stapleton and Jeffrey Tipper,¹ both of Wilts, 16 July 1633. Thomas Kingsmill, son to Lady Kingsmill, to Holland, to waite upon the Queene of Bohemia (W. N. & Q., v. 540, 568). The writer of the article on the Rodneys of Rodney Stoke, suggests that their family assumed the arms of Bluett, of Lacock, in the time of Edward II, having married into that family.

The Supplements contain the Marriage Licences of Bath and Wells, also with their allegations, and admon., P.C.C., 1559, from which we shall continue to print the Wiltshire entries.

PORTRAIT OF DANIEL WHITBY, D.D., FROM AN OLD ENGRAVING.

Wiltshire Notes and Queries,

DANIEL WHITBY, S.T.P., 1638-1726.

THE subject of this portrait and the following short memoir was the son of Thomas Whitby, clerk, of Rushden, co. Northants, being born at that place 24th March 1638; a member of Trinity College, Oxford, he matriculated 23rd July 1653, became a scholar 13th June 1655, B.A. 20th April 1657, M.A. 10th April 1660, B.D. and D.D. 13th September 1672; curate of St. Thomas, Salisbury, and Precentor; he afterwards held the prebends of Hurstbourne, Yatesbury, and Teynton; chaplain to Bishop Seth Ward, Rector of St. Edmund's, Salisbury, and Residentiary Canon.

There is a long account of him and his works in the Dict. of Nat. Biog. A violent polemical writer—nicknamed by his opponents “Whigby”—he produced from 1664 several anti-Catholic controversial works of considerable popularity, which, however, he lost by the publication of The Protestant Reconciler in 1682, pleading for concessions to Dissenters, which caused much excitement, and brought upon him the wrath of the authorities, Chief Justice Jeffreys even directing the indictment. His works¹ include A Paraphrase and Com- mentary on the New Testament, 1703, numerous sermons and theological treatises. He preached the day before his death, which Canon Jones, in his Fasti, says occurred in March 1726, aged 90. He is described as very short and thin; "always studious, and using no recreation except tobacco". There was another Daniel Whitbee a son of Thomas, of Poddington, co. Beds., clerk, who matriculated, as of B.N.C., Oxford, in 1628-9.

The arms and crest on his portrait are, according to Burke, those of WHITBY of York and Chester.

Any further information concerning him, his relationship to the Swanton family and place of burial, would be acceptable.

HIS WILL.

[DEANERY OF SARUM, REGISTER 2.]

In the name of God, Amen. I, Daniel Whitby, Doctor of Divinity and Chanter of the Cathedrall Church of Sarum, being of disposing and sound memory and understanding blessed be God, do make this my last Will and Testament, revoking all others and First and principally I bequeath my soul into the hands of my gracious and mercifull God entreating him for his rich mercy to pardon all my sins and to accept me thro' his well beloved Son my only Saviour Jesus Christ, and my body to the earth to be decently buried at the discretion of my executors hereafter named. Item, I give, &c., to William Swanton,¹ of the Close of New Sarum, gent., all my goods, chattles, and p'sonall estate whatsoever subject nevertheless to the uses, trusts, intents, and purposes hereafter menc'oned, or which shall be contained in any codicill to be annext and taken as part of my last Will and Testament, (that is to say) in the first place in trust for the payment of my funerall expenses and all such just debts as I shall owe to any person at the time of my decease, and afterwards in trust that the said William Swanton shall by equal quarterly payments, out of the produce and interest of my p'sonall estate pay to my sister Mary Whitby one annuity of thirty-three pounds for her better support during her naturall life. Item, in trust to pay to Sarah Waters the sume of ten pounds if she shall be living with me at the time of my decease or married in my service. Item, to the said William Swanton ten pounds and his father's and mother's pictures. Item, I give to my niece Elizabeth Swanton, my nephew

NOTES ON THE FAMILY OF JASON OF BROAD SOMERFORD.

Robert Jason, the third of that name with whom we have to do, was, we may presume, a man of energy and capacity, but his relations with his mother and sisters present him in an unfavourable light. The cause of the quarrel we do not know—anyhow it involved him in serious litigation, entailing a conflict with the Star Chamber. He seems to have met his mother's claim for her share of his father's estate with continuous evasion, and his obstinacy led to imprisonment in the Fleet. He was later accused of criminal offences—"scandalous speeches against his Majesty and the Privy Council"—but, the Court having accepted his statement of his father's affairs [P.C.C., Harvey 134] and his humble submission, he obtained a full pardon. His troubles, however, were not at an end. Again he was charged with "speaking of dangerous words against the King, and bishop, and earls of Arundel and Dorset", and was for sixteen weeks a prisoner in the Fleet. On this occasion he had to pay a fine of £2,600, besides entering into conditions burdening his estate, before he was granted a pardon. These proceedings illustrate the harsh proceedings of the Star Chamber and the dangers which at that time beset those who were not careful of the language in which they criticised the public authorities. It is interesting to observe that Prynne, whose own sufferings under the Star Chamber were still more severe, endorses the last entry.

² Amongst the M.I. in the Cathedral, with other members of this family, occur Frances, widow of Henry Hedges, of the Close, surgeon, ob. 1732; her husband died in 1689; Prudence Hedges, ob. 1743.

The inventory and accounts of his father's estate, supplied by Robert Jason, of which only a few entries are given below, show that the Jasons' business had to do with the advancing of loans and was no doubt of the nature of banking.

CALENDAR OF STATE PAPERS.

(Domestic Series, 1635 to 1641.)

1635, March 31.—Order of the Board on hearing a difference between Mr. Jason and his mother about a will and his mother's thirds, that their counsel should agree on an indifferent order between the mother and the son.

1635, Nov. 31.—Francis Jason, widow, petitions the Council against Robert Jason her son, who detains from her all her third of her husband's land, it being now a year and a half since his decease. She had already petitioned, and £2,000 was ordered to be paid, 1,000 marks at St. James' Day—paid . . . , the second at All Saints' Day, not paid . . . and the third before Candlemas . . . , also all the deeds of his property to be produced in Court of Chancery, and the son to enter into bond of £20,000 to stand to the order of the Court . . . this not done.

1635, Dec. 2.—Young Jason to be send for.

1635, Dec. 9.—Mr. Jason to perform what was ordered by Friday or the Lords will take further order, and he in the meantime to remain in the custody of the messenger.

1635, Dec. 18.—The keeper of the gatehouse to take into his custody the person of Robert Jason; he has not paid the thirds and is to be kept in custody until he obeys the orders of the Court.

1636, Jan. 21.—Grant upon the petition of Col. Ludovic Lysley to John Latch of the benefit accruing to his Majesty by the outlawry of Robert Jason after judgement at the suit of Richard Harris, with proviso that Richard Harris be first paid his debt and the grantee be subject to the order of the Court of Exchequer touching the mitigation of the forfeiture.

1636, March 9.—Order of the Council upon the petition of Frances Jason, widow. It appearing that petitioner's claim to her one-third was just, and Robert Jason, her son, consenting to perform such order therein as the Lords should direct, but alledging certain inconveniences in case she should interrupt the possession of the tenants and take out her one-third of the lands—it was ordered that petitioner should accept the value of her $\frac{1}{3}$ rds, that Sir Henry Marten should examine the value thereof and Robert Jason should give security to pay the same and his mother's arrearages, and that upon certificate of the performance thereof the Lords will give order for Robert Jason's discharge.

1636, March 23 —Order of Council on petition of Robert Jason. Petitioner states that his mother not being satisfied with the particulars delivered her by him to Sir Henry Marten, Judge of the Prerogative Court, concerning the land out of which she claims dower, petitioned that the deeds thereof might be produced. Petitioner being ready to yield conformity to their directions, represented that his most material deeds were in the country for the finding of an office in Hants, which being performed, he would produce them before Sir Henry Marten, and therefore besought the Lords for that it imported him to be present at the finding of the office, to set him at liberty on security. The Lord ordered that Jason giving bond to bring in the deeds to Sir Henry Marten between this and the beginning of next term, and then to give his attendance on the Board, should be at liberty to go into the country for the business desired.

1636, Mar. 25.—Bond of Robert Jason, of Broad Somerford, Wilts, and John Arscott, of Annary, Devon, to the King in 1,000 marks with condition that if Jason before the beginning of next term present to Sir Henry Marten all his deeds of land out of which his mother is to have dower, and from that time give his attendance on the Council Board until discharged then the said bond.

1636, March 29.—Draft entry on the Council Register of a Minute of a warrant to the keeper of the gatehouse to set at liberty Robert Jason.

1637, Jan. 10.—Minute of a warrant to George Carter to fetch before the Lords Robert Jason.

1637, Jan. 11.—Minute of appearance of Robert Jason at the Council Board this day: he is to remain in the custody of the messenger.

1637, Jan. 12.—An order of the Council that the Attorney General should consider a complaint of Edmund Conquest against Robert Jason, and examine the parties and witnesses adduced by Conquest, and certify the Board what he finds to be the truth.

1637, Jan. 17.—Divers examinations having been taken by the Attorney Genl. of misdemeanors charged against Robert Jason, it was ordered that the Lord Chief Justice of the King's Bench receive from the Attorney Genl. such proofs as concern criminal offences and proceed legally against Robert Jason as he think fit.

Minute of a warrant to the Warden of the Fleet to take into his custody Robert Jason and keep him close prisoner until further order.

1637, Jan. 26.—By order of the Board of the 17th inst. the Lord Chief Justice was required to proceed against Robert Jason concerning certain criminal offences by him committed. It was ordered that the Attorney Genl. should likewise proceed against Jason in the Star Chamber for other offences contained in the examinations taken or laid to his charge by Edmund Conquest and others.

1637, Jan. 26.—The Lords being moved on behalf of John West who has a suit in the Exchequer against Robert Jason, prisoner in the Fleet, that he may serve Jason with process ad audiendum judicium, and being further moved that Jason might go with his keeper to instruct his Counsel for the said hearing; it was ordered that the Warden of the Fleet permit Jason to be served with the said process and suffer him to repair to his counsel and after the hearing to keep him close prisoner until further order.

1638, Jan. . .—Petition of Frances Jason and her two daughters, the unhappy mother of Robert Jason, now prisoner in the Fleet, to the Council. Petitioner's unnatural son in pursuit of his former intention resolves to remain in prison rather than relieve petitioner and his sisters with their dues, having taken rooms in the Old Bailey and their settled, his family and petitioner and her daughters suffer heavily thro' want. Prays relief.

1638, Jan. 26.—Minute of an order of the Privy Council that the Lord Chief Justice of his Majesty's Bench having been required upon proofs received from the Attorney Genl. to proceed against Robert Jason accused by Edmund Conquest of certain criminal offences, the Attorney Genl. shall likewise proceed against the said Jason in the High Court of Star Chamber.

1639, July 13.—Indenture whereby Robert Jason, of Broad Somersford, co. Wilts, bequeaths in reversion under certain eventualities specified, three several sums of £300, £200, and £100 to be annually levied on his lands and manors, viz., the manors or lordships of Somerford Maltravers, the farm and demesne of Tadyford, the manor of Hordle, the manor of Duncton, the manor of Walkhampton, the rectory, advowson and patronage of the parish church of Broad Somerford, the messuage and tenements in London, and all and singular his messuages and lands, to be expended by Bishop Juxon, of London, and the other lessees, towards the re-edifying and keeping in repair of the Cathedral Church of St. Paul's, London.

Aug. 8.—Pardon to Robert Jason for scandalous speeches against his Majesty and the Privy Council, wherewith he was charged by information in the Star Chamber and for other offences committed before 16th October last, as amply as is granted by his Majesty's Coronation¹ pardon.

Dec. 7.—Minute of the appearance of Robert Jason this day before the Council. He is to remain in custody of the messenger until discharged.

1640, Jan. 31.—Notes by Nicholas of Council business, being references on petition of widow Jason, etc.

1641, May.—Mr. [Robert] Jason, upon the petition of two women and one man to the Council table, was committed close prisoner in the Fleet for the supposed speaking of dangerous words against the King, and bishop, and Earls of Arundel and Dorset. After sixteen weeks' close imprisonment he was, upon security of £400, discharged and bound to answer the complaint in the Star Chamber, where, after information exhibited and depositions taken, there was a proposition of agreement. The conditions were these—payment of 2,000*li.* to the King; 300*li.* each to the Archbishop and Earls of Arundel and Dorset, besides an engagement of all his estate, to leave to St. Paul's Church 300*li.* per ann. in case he died w'thout issue, 200*li.* per ann. leaving issue female, and 100*li.* per ann. leaving issue male. His estate was to continue for 99 years and this he was forced to do by the Archbishop's means before he would have his pardon [endorsed by Prynne $\frac{3}{4}$ pp.].

Making a total of £3,429 6s. 8*d*.

Abstract of sentence pronounced 16 July, 1639, on the exhibition of an inventory and rendering of an account of the goods, etc., of Robert Jason, late of Enfield, co. Midd., Esq., in a suit pending between Frances Jason, relict, and Susan Whitrowe, als. Jason, dr. of the dec., the plaintiff, and Robert Jason, Esq., son and administrator of the goods of the said dec., defendant, declaring that the plaintiffs have failed to establish any just ground of complaint against the inventory and accounts submitted by the def., who is hereby discharged of all such complaint. He has established that the goods of the dec. which have come to his hands, amounted to £3,429 6s. 8*d*. and no more. Of this sum he has been allowed by the Court £2,300 in payment of the portions of the abovesaid Frances and Susan and of Frances Gael, als. Jason, his sister, now dec.; and to £781 4s. 8*d*. in payment of funeral expenses, debts, and deeds of piety.

Robert Jason's first marriage was, according to the Tyssen Library Pedigree, to a daughter of Ascough, of Anning, co. Devon. This is probably a mistake for Arscott, a well-known Devonshire family of Annery, near Bideford. John Arscott becomes bond for Robert Jason in 1636. In the Enfield Church Register occurs the entry:—

which seems to refer to issue of this marriage.

Robert Jason married, secondly, a daughter of Sir Henry Rowe, of Shackewell, Hackney:—

1639-40, Jan. 2.—Robert Jason, Esq., and Mis Cicilea Roe were married by a license from ye facu.

by whom he had a numerous family :—

Robert Jason, despite his unpleasant experience with the Star Chamber, was a Royalist, and suffered accordingly, although we do not know what particular action he took to show his sympathy with the royal cause. His refusal to pay a sum of £500 at which he was assessed caused him to be treated as a delinquent, but he afterwards, 4 Nov., 1645, petitioned to compound by his father-in-law, Sir Henry Roe (Cal. State Papers Dom. Series), and escaped for a payment of £50. He had, no doubt, a powerful friend in the Earl of Warwick, Admiral in command of the Fleet for the Parliament, who by his second marriage to Susan, daughter of Sir Henry Rowe, and widow of a rich alderman named William Halliday, had become a close connection.

¹ Rowe Jason, sonne of Robert Jason, Esq., and grandchild of Henry Rowe, Knigt., departed this life the fifth of May, being a Sunday, and buried in ye Valte the 6th of the same Monthe, being a Monday, 1650.

³ She married John Cox, citizen of London (Tys. Lib. Ped.); no issue recorded. The same Ped. gives another daughter Cisley as bu. 16 Feb., 1654-5, but this is an error—see later.

In 1648, he was nominated Sheriff of Hants but refused to act (Complete Baronetage, 1903).

Chris. Clarke gave the lord for a fine £70 and did fealty to the lord and so was thereby admitted tenant, but the fealty of the sd. Robert and Elizabeth was respited until, &c., and further the lord granted them leave to demise (with the usual provisoes as to rent and waste).

[Then there follows in English] "Memorandum that the sd. Sir Thomas Estcourt, Lord of the Mannor aforesaid doth hereby promise that he and his heirs will at any time Within three years now next ensuing, at the Request of the said Christopher Clark exchange any one of the two lives of the said Robert Clarke or Elizabeth Clarke for any other life of any child of the said Christopher Clarke, so as the said life shall be exchanged for the life of a daughter and not of a son and so as such person whose life shall be put out and exchanged for another be at the time of such request in good health, and so as the sd. Christopher surrender the Coppy and pay for a new Coppy and admittance the usual fees to the Steward. And moreover the sd. Lord of the sd. Mannor doth promise and agree that the sd. Christopher Clarke, Robert Clarke, and Elizabeth Clarke shall have to their owne use successively the Lopps and Shrowds of the trees growing upon the premises as Coppyholders usually take such Lopps and Shrowds and to spend and dispose therof in such manner as they shall think meet notwithstanding that there is no house on the premisses wherein the same ought to be spent."

At this Court came Thomas Gore gentleman, who held of the lord by Copy of Court Roll bearing date 15 Apr. 21 Chas. II, common of pasture for 12 cattle in Luckleigh, And rendered up into the hand of the lord of the sd. Manor the aforesaid common of pasture for 12 cattle and all his estate, title, claim, and demand, of and in the premises, to the intent that the lord may therein do his will, whence there fell to the lord 10s. for heriot which were paid to the lord. And afterwards at this same Court the lord granted by his sd. steward to the sd. Thomas Gore the sd. common of pasture for 12 cattle in Luckley aforesaid with appurtenances To Have and to Hold to the sd. Thomas Gore, and to Robert and Elizabeth Gore, son and daughter of the sd. Thomas, for the term of their life and of the longest liver of them successively according to the Customs of the sd. manor, Rendering thence annually to the lord and his heirs 6s. 8d. at the usual terms and 10s. heriot when it shall fall in and all other burdens, works, customs, and services therefrom formerly due and of right accustomed, And for such estate so held in the premises, the same Thomas Gore gave the lord for a fine [not entered]: And he did fealty to the lord and so was admitted tenant, but the fealty of the sd. Robert and Elizabeth was respited until, &c.

At this Court came Charles Gale, who holds of the lord by virtue of Copy of Court Roll, bearing date 12 Apr. W. SYMONDS.

DREW, OF SOUTHBROOM.

Drew, a branch of the descendants of a great Norman favourite of King William I, is a name abundantly found in the western counties, and still adheres as an adjunct to that of three parishes, viz. :—Drew's Teignton, Devon (in which county, according to Domesday Book, no less than seventy-seven manors were at that time held by Drogo, or Drew, the great Norman founder of the family); Stanton Drew, Somerset; and Littleton Drew, Wilts; of which manors or parishes, as at Drew's Teignton, they were also owners at an early date. We have a deed by Walter Dru, Lord of Litelton, in our own county, as early as the year 1290 (see Wilts Collections, Aubrey and Jackson, p. 104). At Seagry they were also owners in the time of Edward III, and at Ogbourne St. George in 1565.

The name of Drew appears at Southbroom, in the parish of Bishop's Cannings, about the year 1498—probably a little earlier—and from a memorandum in the Heralds' Visitation of the county, A.D. 1623, where their pedigree of five generations is duly entered, we learn that they claimed to be descended from Drew, of Devon, and bore for their arms:—Ermine, a lion passant gules, with an antelope's head holding in its mouth three wheat ears, as a crest. (See Harleian MSS. Nos. 1165 and 1443.)¹

JOHN DREW, the first member of the Southbroom family whose name appears on the Heralds' pedigree, was twice married, one of his wives being the daughter and heiress of Richard Cuffe, of Devizes—a marriage which may have introduced him into this neighbourhood, where, once settled, he seems soon to have acquired other property near at hand. In 1504, he obtained from William Rengebourne the elder, a lease of the manor of Rengeborne,² with the appurtenances, and all his lands, tenements, mills, meadows, leases, pastures, copse-woods, and underwoods in Rengeborne, Poterne, and lez Devyses. To hold for the lives of the said John Drew, Maud his wife, and Lucy their daughter, or the longest survivor of them, at a yearly rent of five marks; maintaining sufficiently all houses, hedges, and ditches; and “also finding to the said William Rengeborne, his heirs, and their servants, meat and drink, bedding and horsemeat at such times as they shall come to the said manor to gather the rent, unto the time the rent be contented and paid”. The lease, which bears date 3 June, 19 Henry VII (1504), is signed by “Wyll'm Renge-borne ye elder", and "Wyll'm Rengeborn the yonger confirms the same". Seal, a pelican in her piety.

¹ The Devon Visitation gives William Drew, of Sharpham, who married Joan, daughter and coheir of John Prideaux, and had three sons—William, John, and a second William. This last, whose pedigree is entered in the Visitation, died in 1548—and the brother John might very well have been the John who settled at Southbroom.

Besides the daughter Lucy mentioned in the lease, who married . . . Cooke, of Ruslington, Sussex, this John Drew had another daughter, Maud, and a son—ROBERT DREW, of Southbroom. His wife was sister to William Rede—a family whose pedigree is thus given in Harl. MS. No. 1443, fol. 163.

From The Booke of Constitutions of the Boroughe of Devizes, an illuminated MS. written in 1628, it appears that William Rede was sometime one of the Council of the Borough, and that during his lifetime, from about the year 1568, gave yearly to the Mayor and Burgesses threescore yards of freese, for clothing poor men, women, and children, of the Borough; which gift Edward Rede, his son and heir, has continued since the death of his father to this date (1628). William Rede was M.P. for Devizes in 1553.

In 1544, Robert Drew obtained from the then Bishop of Salisbury (John Salcot, alias Capon) a new lease for seventy years, of certain lands in Devizes, Wick, and Nurstead, "of long tyme holden by his ancestors, by grant of the bishop's officers for the time being".¹ Here his father, as former lessee, had erected, on property close adjoining, which he held of the family of Brewyn, of Rownor, co. Hants, the two mills, known as Drew's Pond Mills, long used within living memory, and finally removed only a few years since.

"This Indenture made the xxvijth day of Novembre, in the xxxvjth yere of the reigne of o'r sou'aigne lorde Henry the viijth, by the grace of God of Englande, ffrance, and Irlonde, Kinge defender of the faithe and in earthe of the churche of Englonde and also of Irlonde the supreme hedd. Betwene the right rev'ende ffather in god John, Busshopp of Sar', of that one partie, and Roberte Trewe,¹ of Southbrome, in the countie of Wiltes, gent., of that other partie. Witnessithe that the said Busshoppe hath demised, graunted, and to ferme letten, etc., vnto the said Robert Trewe, a meese and halfe a yarde lande called a Cossett of lande, wt. a cotaige sett lyinge and beyng in Netherwike, beside the Devisez, and also twoo litle busshie closes or smale groves of wood and vndrewood, conteynng by estimacion twoo acres and a halfe, lying on the north syde of Lyme hills,² wt. th'app'tenances, and also the streme water, and water course, that renneth by and betwene the grounde and wood of the said busshopp, called Lyme hyll, on the south syde, the whiche Ambrose Dawntesey, gent.,³ of the said busshopp now holdeth, and the grounde of John Bruyne, gent., on the north side, the whiche the said Roberte Trewe nowe holdeth, wt. all the seu'all pistarie and ffysshing in of and vpon the same, wt. th'app'tenances.⁴

like the Vicar of Bray, to hold firmly to his preferment, and, if possible, "to live and die Bishop of Salisbury", which he really did at the close of Queen Mary's reign, in 1557. He was buried in the Cathedral.

Among a series of deeds relating to Hyde Abbey, now in the muniment room of Winchester College, is a grant from Abbot Capon to Thomas Neve, gentleman, of a pension of 20s. per annum "pro bona consilio et servicio suo michi et abbatie mee predicte antehac impense"—advice and service which, though it did not avert the fate which befell the abbey, may have dictated that course of action which led to his subsequent promotion.

³ Of West Lavington, which he also held of the Bishops of Salisbury. He died 29 Sept. 1554-5.

[Marginal Note in a later hand:—"This by ye scituation is Widnam's coppice and ye ground on w'ch the greate pond stands."]

And also the said Reu'end ffather hathe demised, etc., unto the said Robert Trewe, thirtie and foure acres of arable lande, whereof eightene acres lieth togethers in one peece on the north syde of Seynt Maries Church of the Devizez forsaide, called the eightene acres: And nyne acres also lieth togethers in the tithing of Wyke, ffyve acres also on the backesyde of the dwelling house of the said Robert, on the south syde therof, in the said tithyng of Wyke: And twoo acres lieth in the tithyng of Newsted:¹ All whiche xxxiiijth acres of arable lande the said Robert Trewe and his awncestors hathe of long tyme holden and occupied by graunte of the busshoppe's officers for the tyme beyng To have and to holde all the abovesaid meese, halfe a yarde lande, cotaige, closes of wood and vndrewood, streme water and water course, seu'all pistarie ffysshing, xxxiiijth acres of arable lande, etc., to the said Robert Trewe and to his assignes from the feast of Seynt Michell th'archangell last past vnto th'ende and terme of three scoore and teen yeres then next ensuyng and fully to be completed and ended. Yeldyng and payinge yearly to the said Busshopp and to his successors at the feasts of Ester and Seynt Michell th'archangell for the said meese and halfe yarde lande, cotaige, and closes of wood and vndrewoode, 10s. 9½^d. sterling; for the said streme water, water course, and severall pistarie, 2s.; for eightene acres, p'cell of the said xxxiiij acres, called the eightene acres, 18s.; and for the xvj acres residewe of the said xxxiiij acres, 15s. sterlinge. And the said Reu'end ffather for hym and his successors covenanteth and granteth by these p'sents that it shall be lawfull vnto the said Robert Trewe, his executors and assignes and eu'y of theym duryng the said terme to fence and diche all the said xxxiiijth acres of arable lande as they lie in seu'all peaces, And also to turne and chaynge the said streme water point to the construction of the pond soon after this date (1544), and to set at rest a vexed question as to its origin and name, in which a learned writer in an earlier volume of the Wilts Archæological Magazine has imagined that he saw traces—much more remote—of Druids, and Druidism!

The author of the History of Devizes is also wide of the mark, in his query at p. 81, whether a certain fishpond (vivarium), stated in the Hundred Rolls, 3 Edw. I (1274) to have been made, at the King's command, by John de Havering, Constable of Devizes Castle, does not suggest the date of the formation of Drew's Pond. But the King's fishpond was no doubt constructed in the Old Castle Park on his own soil, and its site may more probably be looked for in the valley to the west of the Castle, not far from Devizes Prison.

A confirmation (in Latin) by the Dean and Chapter is appended. The seals of the Bishop and Dean and Chapter appear to have been attached to it, but both are now lost.

Endorsed in a later hand :

"The Bishop of Sarum's lease to Mr. Drew in w'ch hee setts forth Wyduan's Coppice to bee Bruyns land."

NOTES ON WILTSHIRE PARISHES.

BLUNSDON ST. ANDREW.

In 1695, Sir Anthony Keck, in his will, recited that, being bound by the settlement made on his son's marriage to settle lands, etc., to the value of £40,000, he had then lately purchased the manor of Bluntesdon for £11,000; and directed his executors to purchase property to the value of £29,000 to make up the full amount of £40,000, and to settle it accordingly. The precise circumstances under which the manor was acquired do not appear. It is stated by Canon Jackson, in his edition of Aubrey, that it was the property of the Brydges family in the sixteenth century; that the Earls of Clarendon had it in the seventeenth; and that Henry, Earl of Clarendon, presented to the rectory in 1684. The manor and rectory seem to have gone together. The only other information at present to hand is derived from two indentures; the first, dated 13 June, 15 Charles II, 1663, by which "the manors" of Blountesdon Andrew, Blountesdon Elmers and Blountesdon Gay, otherwise called the West Court, together with the advowson of the rectory of Blountesdon Andrew, and other property in Blunston and Cricklade, were conveyed by the Earl of Clarendon to John Clotterbooke and Thomas Kipps, both of London, to the use of the Earl and his heirs for ever (Close Rolls, 15 Charles II, pt. 3, No 25). It was, then, already the property of the Earl in 1663. The other indenture is dated 26 January 1693 (Close Rolls, 5 Wm. and Mary, pt. 10, No. 3), and by it all the property mentioned in the previous indenture was, on payment of £8,000 to Sir Anthony Keck, by direction of the Earl of Clarendon for money owing by him to Sir Anthony on the security of the property, and £3,000 to the Earl of Clarendon himself, conveyed to Richard Freeman and Henry Penton; subject to two terms of 1000 years each, granted to Edward Backwell of London, since deceased, by two indentures of 17 December, 20 Charles II [1668], for securing £6,000, both of which terms had become vested in Sir Anthony Keck for securing payment of £8,000 and interest. In one of several suits in Chancery during the next century, permission was given (Chancery Orders, 1731, fo. 130) to read this indenture of 1693, and a deed poll of 9 February in the same year, whereby Richard Freeman and Henry Penton declared that they held the property in trust for Sir Anthony Keck and his heirs; but this deed poll has not been found. It would appear, therefore, that the Earl of Clarendon, having made some alteration in his tenure by the indenture of 1663, borrowed £6,000 from Edward Backwell, on the security of the estate, in 1668; and that in 1693, when the first Earl was dead, and the debt had increased to £8,000, the estate was parted with to get rid of the liability. The two sums paid, £8,000 and £3,000, make up the total which Sir Anthony said he paid for the property.

It may be interesting for the purpose of identification to give the names of the property mentioned in the two indentures. They are in addition to the manor and advowson:—lands called the West Wood Hill, the Hill, the Cowlease, the Picked Field, the Pidgeon Close, Cowlease, West Court, Middle Leaze, the Furzey Leaze, New Meade, the Breach, Turne, Leyes, Ham, the Meadow below the Grove, and Smyth Meade, all apparently in Blunsdon; and two parcels of meadow in North Wydhill, in Cricklade, one lying in Yorke Meadow and the other in Wydill Meade; and a Grove or Woodground in Blunsdon of about 31 acres.

Sir Anthony Keck was the fifth son of Nicholas Keck, the fourth son of John Keck of Long Marston, co. Glos. (see Le Neve's Knights), and presumably had to make his own way in the world. He was born in 1630; was called to the bar in 1659, and must have attained some eminence as he was appointed a Commissioner of the Great Seal in March 1689; he was knighted about the same time, and held office till May 1690. He was married, between 20 April 1660 and 1 May 1661, to Mary, daughter of Francis Thorne. His will was proved 28 April 1696 (P.C.C., 238 Inby), and at his death he left a widow, who died in 1702, one son, Francis, and nine daughters. The Wiltshire property to which our interest is confined was devised to the trusts of his son's marriage settlement, with remainder to his son's and his own daughters as tenants in common. Francis Keck was already married and had a son Anthony. He died 29 September, 1728, and his will was proved 28 January following (P.C.C., 14 Abbott); his wife, Mary, daughter of ——— Dunch of Pusey, Berks, was already dead, and buried at Blunsdon; he was then of Great Tew, Oxfordshire, a property which his father's exors. had purchased, laying out £29,000 on that and Little Tew in 1698 and 1700, to complete the terms of the marriage settlement. The property was left to his son John and his heirs with remainder, as regards the Wilts property, to his daughter Mary, lately married to Sir John Dutton; and afterwards to the sons of his nephew, John Tracy, son of his eldest sister Katherine. The young Anthony was alive in 1706, but died before his father; and the only children in 1728 were the son John and the daughter Dame Mary Dutton. Mary Dutton died 5 June 1729, leaving an only child, a daughter, who survived but a few days. In 1726, Francis Keck with John, then his eldest son, had executed a deed, by which, apparently, the settlement of his father's will was altered, limiting the reversion to his own heirs. John Keck married, in 1727, Margaret Poole, and died without issue in August 1729, his will was proved 23 September 1729 (P.C.C. 251 Abbott); his widow married John Nicoll, son of Sir Anthony's daughter Winifred and consequently her husband's cousin. Margaret Keck, now Nicoll, had a life estate in Blunsdon, she presented to the rectory in 1738 and died in 1740. After her death the estate came to the sons of John Tracy in an irregular order of succession beginning with the third and ending with the second ; on the death of the last of them in 1773, a long series of disputes was ended by a division of the property amongst the claimants under the authority of the Court of Chancery. The claimants were the representatives of the daughters of Sir Anthony Keck, who were living, or had issue living, at the time of the death of Francis Keck in 1728 ; two of the nine daughters, Macrina and Martha, had died without issue before their brother, and the claimants were consequently reduced to seven. The daughters of Sir Anthony Keck were :—

- (1) Katherine, married first Ferdinando Tracy, of Stanway, co. Glos., and afterwards Edward Chute, of the Vine, Hants; died about 1722, having had issue by her first marriage—
 - (i) John, married Anne, daughter of Sir Robert Atkyns, and sister of the historian of Gloucestershire, and had issue—
 - (a) Robert, married Anne Maria Hudson, died s.p., will proved 1768 (P.C.C., 85 Secker).
 - (b) John, the last to hold Blunsdon, at one time took the name of Atkyns in addition to Tracy. Appointed Cursitor Baron of the Exchequer 1775; made his will in 1767 as John Tracy, and added a codicil in 1768 as John Tracy lately called John Tracy Atkyns; died 23 July 1773, s.p.; will proved 4 August 1774 (P.C.C., 322 Bargrave).
 - (c) Ferdinando, died 1729, s.p.
 - (d) Anthony, succeeded to Blunsdon on the death of Margaret Nicoll, in 1740; took the name of Keck; married Susan, daughter of the Duke of Hamilton, and died s.p.m. in May 1767; will proved 9 July 1767 (P.C.C., 272 Legard); had two daughters, Henrietta Charlotte wife of Viscount Hereford, and Susannah wife of Francis Charteris.
 - (e) Thomas, succeeded his brother at Blunsdon, married, had a son Dodwell who died v.p. within a few months of 21 years of age. Thomas Tracy died s.p.s. in 1770, leaving his widow who was still alive in 1778.
 - (f) William, who died before his brother Thomas s.p.m.

John Tracey's daughters were Martha, Elizabeth, Frances, wife of Gustavus Guydickens, and Ann, wife of John Travell.

By her second marriage Katherine Keck had a large family, all of whom eventually died without issue.

- (2) Mary, married Thomas Vernon, of Haubury, Worcestershire, who died in 1720 or 1721. She died s.p. in 1733, and by her will (P.C.C., 210 Price) left the residue of her property, including her share of the reversion of Blunsdon, to her nephew, Walter Edwards and her niece Mary, his wife.
- (3) Anne, married Richard Whithed, and died before John Keck, having had issue—
- (i) Henry, died s.p. December 1721.
 - (ii) Richard, died also s.p. 25 December 1733, and by his will (P.C.C., 74 Ockham) left his property, which was considerable and chiefly in Hants—he was of Norman's Court—to the younger sons of his only sister.
 - (i) Mary, married Alexander Thistlethwayte, and died 1761, having had issue—

GOLDSTON, OF ALDERBURY.

There is a fine shield of arms in Alderbury Church which appears to be the one referred to, noted by Sir Thomas Phillipps, in Hoare's Modern Wilts "Hundred of Alderbury", page 8, but there is a considerable difference between its present state and the description there given.

The old Church, of which there is a plan in Hoare's Modern Wilts, was pulled down in 1857 and the present church erected upon its site. It may be that the arms were then restored and altered, but a careful examination of them does not leave the impression that they have undergone such a serious alteration as the removal of the chief azure and escallops thereon. The description of this monument in Hoare's Modern Wills is, of itself, rather strange, because, between the date, which is part of the inscription, and the description of the arms a curious and apparently not very appropriate remark is interposed about a stone coffin: moreover, the initials underneath the shield of arms are not mentioned at all:—

“MONUMENTAL INSCRIPTIONS”

ANNO DOMI 1612.

“On the outside opposite, in 1814, a stone coffin was found deposited, perhaps at that time and to which the above date may refer. Arms, Barry of 8 or and gules on a chief azure, 3 escallops or impaling argent on a bend gules, cotised 3 lozenges ermine.”—[Hoare's Modern Wills “Hundred of Alderbury”, p. 8.]

The present description is as follows:—

R G M

The arms are Or, six bars gules, namely, three above and three below the fess point (this gives the appearance of two coats of arms or, three bars gules placed one on the top of the other). Impaling argent, on a bend cotised gules three lozenges ermine.

The arms and inscription have not the appearance of having belonged to a monument, but rather of having been placed over a mantel-piece or doorway in a house. The initials below emphasize this suggestion.

Richard Goldston married Margaret, daughter of Robert Ryves, of Ranston, Dorset, for whom the impaled coat should be argent, on a bend cotised sable three lozenges ermine, but it is submitted that this shield is meant to represent the arms of Richard Goldston, impaling, for his wife Margaret, the arms of Ryves of Ranston.

There does not appear to have been a death in the Goldston family in the year 1612. The register at Alderbury only begins in 1680, the earlier register is lost to the parish and is in the British Museum, where it is catalogued Additional MS., 1854-1875, 27,441; it contains "entries from 1606-1648, with scattered entries to 1672". An endorsement upon its cover, states that it was produced in evidence in a law suit, Zouch v. Barron, by the Rev. Mr. Thomas Rodden, clerk, on 5 January, 1715-6. It may have been lost upon that occasion; its strayings ended by its inclusion in the sale by auction at Sotheby's in 1865 of Dr. Wellesley's MSS., when it was purchased by the Trustees of the British Museum.

The parishioners seem content to leave it there.

From this earlier register the following items were obtained :—

1610, October 7—John Goldson buried.

1616, June 19—Mrs. Margaret Goldstone, wife of Richard Goldstone, buried.

1634, February 14.—Mr. Richard Gouldstone buried.

If John "Goldson" was a son of Richard and Margaret, it may be that these arms were set up with an inscription or brass to his memory, which was not removed from the old church.

The Visitation of Wilts, 1623, contains a short pedigree of Goldston, but no arms are given. The pedigree is signed by Richard Goldston, the husband of Margaret Ryves; his parents' names are given as Richard Goldston, of London, and Margaret daughter of Rawlins. The children of Richard Goldston and Margaret Ryves are given as—Christian, who married Henry Foell; Thomas, aged 22, in 1623, who married Joane, daughter of George Ireton of Burford (Britford), Wilts (then, already in 1623, the father of three children, Jane aged 2, Elizabeth aged 1, and Richard aged 2 months); and James, aged 21, in 1623.

The following entries in the earlier Register of Alderbury relate to the Goldston family:—

- 1610, October 7—John Goldson buried.
1611, May 4—Symeon Fight of Fishatonne, and Dorothy Cake, servant to Mr. Goldstone of Alwardsbury, were married.
1617, June 19—^{Mr^{is}}. Margaret Goldstone, wife of Richard Goldstone, buried.
1630, October 10—James and Joane, twin son and daughter of Mr. James Gouldstone, baptized.
„ March 17—Thomas, son of Mr. Thomas Gouldstone, baptized.
1634, Feb. 14—Mr. Richard Gouldstone buried.
1640, Feb. 6—Mr. Thomas Gouldston buried.
„ Mar. 8—Steven, son of Mr. Thomas Gouldston, buried.
1648, June 7—Mr. Henry Gouldstone buried.
1666, . . . Henry, son of Richard Goldston, gent., buried.

Although Richard Goldston in the pedigree is stated to have hailed from London, he may possibly have been of the Salisbury family of that name to whom numerous references are made in “the Churchwardens’ Accounts of St. Edmund, and St. Thomas”, by the late Mr. H. J. F. Swayne. Henry Goldston was churchwarden of the Parish of St. Edmund in 1521, and is perhaps the same person as the Henry Goldstone who was Clerk of the Statute Merchant Bonds from 37 Henry VIII to 2 Edward VI.

One James Golstone of Sarum “generosus”, was party to a Statute Merchant Bond dated 17 August, 5 Charles I (1631).

Thomas Boucher, who was M.P. for Malmesbury 1702-05, was of Ogborne St. George and Christian Malford, Wilts, and was buried at Twickenham, 4 Sept. 1708. Could Mr. R. Boucher tell me his parentage or anything about him?

Bishopstowe.—? Vaughan and Newton (Cradock) marriage. A friend sent me some time ago a sketch of a shield which he had read at Bishopstowe and there seemed to be no inscription connected with it. He thought the first dexter quartering represented three maidens heads, but I believe them to be the three boys heads, entwined about necks with snakes, there or not; whilst the first quartering of the impaling reads as on a chevron three garbs. The first would be Vaughan (a family located there for some time); and the second would be Newton of Somerset; the rest of the thirty-two quarterings fitting in very well with these two families. I have been unable to find any reference to this marriage and therefore ask whether anybody has been more fortunate.

Raleigh of Downton, Wilts.—Sir Carew Raleigh, who had a lease of the Parsonage Manor at Downton, under Winchester College, married, according to Wilts Visitation, 1623 (Dr. Marshall's edition) Dorothea, sister of Thomas Wroughton, and widow of John Thinne, of Longleat.

Over the mantel piece in the dining-room at Downton are three shields of arms, which are now very indistinct. The dexter shield (of circular shape) is for Raleigh. The sinister for Wroughton (also circular in shape). The centre shield is a Raleigh achievement of six quarters.

The sinister shield is identified by reference to Wiltshire Notes & Queries, vol. ii, p. 541, as 1 Or, a chevron gules between three boars heads proper. Wroughton.

2 Argent, a chevron between three ravens heads, erased sable. Ravenscroft (adopted by Norreys).

3 Bendy of six azure and or, a bordure gules. Merbroke.

4 Argent, a chevron gules between three unicorns heads erased azure, mentioned as a Wroughton quartering. Aubrey and Jackson, p. 337, but unnamed.

The dexter shield appears to be

1 and 4 Gules, five lozenges in bend argent Raleigh.

2 Azure, six martlets three, two, and one, or, on a canton argent a mullet gules. Stockhey.

3 Or, a chevron gules between three mullets sable. [Query Stafford.]

The centre shield, which appears to be a Raleigh achievement, requires identification.

The quarterings are

1 Raleigh.

2 Stockhey.

3 Or, a fess between two chevrons sable. [Query Baynard.]

4 Sable, three garbs argent a chief or. [Query Peverell or Foxlay].

5 *Gules, a bend vair between [?] three escallops or three spearheads.*¹ [Query spearheads Vaughan or Query escallops Kempe].

6 Sable, an eagle displayed or.

Above this shield is a crest : on a wreath above a knights helm, a stag lodged proper : this appears to be the Wroughton crest ; if so, why was it placed over the Raleigh achievement ?

Havers Family (p. 92).—The three chess rooks upon a fess, engraved on p. 93, occur in the panelled room of The Grange, Tetbury—there, in an achievement above the mantelpiece, are carved the arms of Gastrell impaling Havers, with date 1665. In the cornice above are carved two crests, viz., (1) Gastrell (a lion's head erased, collared) and (2) a four-legged animal, apparently a horse, or elephant, with some kind of pannier upon its back (? Havers).

and of the fate of some of these parish buildings. The writer has remarked that "every parish probably had one", and I have little doubt that he recollected John Aubrey's remark on the subject of Church Ales and Church Houses, made, if I recollect rightly, about 1686 or a little earlier. It must have been about 10 or 15 years previously that Bishop Seth Ward recorded in the remarkable Notitia, which he compiled about 1668 and subsequent years for his diocese, the fact of the existence of a Church-house, a "Freeschool", a "Schoole", Hospital or an Almshouse wherever he found such an institution existing in any one of the parishes in his then Diocese of Salisbury. Through the kindness of Dr. Page Roberts, the Dean of Salisbury, who allowed me to examine the beautifully-written nineteenth century transcript of the Bishop's more perishable original M.S., I am able to give the list of such "Church Houses" in Wilts as were known to be in existence about ten years after the Restoration of Church and King.

FIREPLACE IN GARSDON MANOR HOUSE.

Wiltshire Notes and Queries,

DECEMBER, 1912.

THE WASHINGTON MEMORIALS AT GARS DON.

ONE of the attractions for Sir Lawrence Washington in the property at Garsdon, which he purchased from Sir Henry Moody, was, no doubt, the ancient Manor House, standing on high ground adjoining the Church and looking southward over a broad expanse of fertile country. This house must have been a substantial one when it came into the hands of the Moody family, with a noble mediæval hall open up to the roof, but it was undoubtedly considerably improved by them and handsome ornamentation added to its principal rooms. Sir Lawrence, however, made such considerable additions that Aubrey says, "it was for the greatest part re-edified by him about the beginning of the Civil-Warres". When he could escape from the duties of his office he made, we may be sure, his residence here. Some trace of this is to be found in the following extract from the Malmesbury Abbey Church Registers:—

Bu: ye same day (26 Apr. 1640) servant to Sr. Lawrence Washington, of Garsdon, whose legg was taken off by Mr. Phillipps, Chirurgeon.

Until about fifty years ago the mansion retained many of its ancient features, although having been long used as a farmhouse it had fallen into decay. Then large portions of it were pulled down and the remainder made more suitable for the purposes to which it is now given over. Shorn, however, of its ancient glory, it still has much about it to attract attention. The following description of its present condition has been kindly supplied by Mr. H. Brakspear, F.S.A., and the illustrations are by the kind permission of Mr. B. de Bertodano, of Cowbridge House, Malmesbury, taken from photographs in his possession.

When Garsdon Manor belonged to the abbey of Malmesbury the house must have been one of considerable size, and appears to have been grouped round a court with the hall to the south.

The road from Malmesbury and on through Garsdon is an old one, and the house would probably have an outer court, now represented by the farmyard, with an entrance gate from this road.

There are no indications that the house was moated, but there is a stream a short distance to the south.

The hall roof of the fourteenth century yet remains and is divided into four bays by massive framed principals. Each of these principals, or couples as they are more usually termed in this district, are formed of side blades and cambered collar beam, having deep arched braces beneath, while above the collar are smaller arched blades meeting at the ridge with another collar at half height. There are square purlins at the level of the main collar which were supported by curved wind-braces from the wall plates. A most interesting feature of the roof is that the majority of the original rafters remain, and these have each a collar at two-thirds their height under which runs a continuous plate, supported by a king post with braces at each couple. A similar brace springs from the main collar to the lesser collar of the couple. Each of the main timbers are chamfered. The roof is in a wonderful state of preservation for its age, but requires carefully strengthening, with as little new timber as possible, when it would be secure for many years to come.

All the original walls of the hall have been removed or cased with later work, but the dais seems to have been at the west end with the solar in a cross wing beyond. At the east end of the hall the two-storied wing, corresponding to the solar, remains, but it was built in the sixteenth century, apparently just after the transfer of the property to Richard Moody, and though since much altered, retains some of the original windows with four centred arched heads to the lights. The lowest storey has now been converted into a kitchen.

Sometime in the last quarter of the sixteenth century the house was enlarged by the addition of an entirely new façade on the south side in advance of the old front, and of which the present sixteenth century block is less than one half. What remains is the eastern end of this façade, it is of three storeys, and is covered with a stone-tiled roof, having a double ridge with a middle gutter, an unsatisfactory, but by no means an uncommon feature in the neighbourhood.

The first floor is occupied by a fine room. In the north wall of which is a large stone chimney piece reaching to the ceiling. It is of two stages, the lower having coupled Corinthian columns on each side of the fire-place, which carry a richly ornamented entablature; the upper stage has a pair of demi-figures over the columns, and a fine achievement of arms of Moody quartering Wolfenden in the middle, with a large arabesque panel on either side. The whole is surmounted by a deep stone cornice. The ceiling is a fine example of Elizabethan strap work ornamented with terminals of roses and pears, and with studs of Tudor roses at the intersections.

The second floor contains two rooms with their original wattle and daub partitions, and both seem to have had ceilings like the room below. The original doors remain, and are of eight panels with moulded styles and rails, and hung with double S shaped hinges to solid rebated frames.

Careful examination will reveal that the original windows were larger than the present ones, and that there was a large window in the east end of each storey. The west end of the present block contains a staircase of which the upper flight is of the seventeenth century, but the lower is modern.

John Aubrey records that "The Mannour House was for the greatest part re-edified by Sir Laurence Washington about the beginning of the Civil-Warres. In the Closet window in the Parlour remains this one Scutcheon (fig. No. 355¹) with the Crest (fig. No.

355 [BASELY].

354 CREST OF [BASELY].

354¹) which is an arme dexter in armour holding a Lance".² This closet window must have been of the Elizabethian part of the house as the arms are said by Canon Jackson to be those of William Basely, who was knight of the shire 1555 and resident at Garsdon in 1565.³

Why the greatest part of this house had to be re-edified by Washington is difficult to see, but it is obvious he did a considerable amount of work—all the present three-light windows on the south side seem to have been inserted by him in the earlier openings, and the staircase was made by him with the curious archway leading from the landing towards the hall, which seems to have been at the head of a staircase from the front door towards the Elizabethian façade. Doubtless other work was done in the destroyed parts of the house as there still remains, but loose, a stone¹ bearing the Washington arms.

Fifty years ago, the house was of much greater extent than at present. In line with the present kitchen was a range of old buildings extending northward almost to the road, and said to have contained "an old kitchen with a fireplace big enough to roast an ox". On the west side of the court, where are now pigsties, was another range of buildings. Westward of the house, in the middle of "the Cowleaze", was an extensive building, known as the old stables, the stone foundations of which are still under the turf. All these buildings were destroyed sometime in the seventies by order of Mr. J. Lynch Fletcher, the agent of Lord Suffolk at that time.²

In the orchard on the east side of this house are traces of ponds, but whether for fish or in connexion with Washington's garden is impossible to say.

Sir Lawrence Washington was the owner of another interesting property in Wiltshire—the manor of West Amesbury upon which stands Stonehenge. In the boundaries of the Manor of Amesbury Earls examined on Monday 5th Aug., 1539, mention is made of the several fishings of Sir

Lawrence Washington, lately called Mr. Dawbony's Mill Pond, and of Stonage down, parcell of West Amesbury, Sir Lawrence Washington's Hold. In the boundaries of the Manor of Amesbury Priory a similar notice of Sir Lawrence Washington occurs. It appears that this manor was in 1620 in the hands of a Mr. Newdick and later in the hands of a Mr. Dawbony (Wilts Arch. Mag., vol. xvi, p. 237, 238). Under what circumstances Sir Lawrence Washington obtained possession is not clear but the two following Feet of Fines were probably part of the transaction which brought about his ownership:—

[FEET OF FINES, WILTS, TRINITY, 4 CHAS. 1.]

Hugh Roberts generosum and Lawrence Isaac generosum and Robert Newdik, armiger, and Marian his wife, Katherine Newdik, widow, and Silas Tyte and Constance his wife, the manors of West Ambresburie als. West Amsburie, and Dawbneys, alias Bedles with appurtenances and fourteen messuages, a water mill and dovecote, 520 acres of land, 50 acres of pasture and 30 acres of prairie, 18s. 9d. rent, and common pasture for 1,000 sheep in West Ambresburie, alias West Amsburie, East Ambresburie, alias East Amesburie, and Farley, as well as free fishing in the waters of West Ambresburie, alias West Amsburie, and East Ambresburie, alias East Amsburie, £600.

[FEET OF FINES, WILTS, HILARY, 8 CHAS 1.]

John Churchill, generosum, and Laurence Isaak, generosum, and Elizabeth Dawbney, widow, a third part of the manor of Little Amesbury, alias West Amsbury, with appurtenances, with seven messuages, one dovecote, seven gardens, seven orchards, one hundred acres of land, twenty acres of prairie, three hundred acres of pasture, and thirty-three shillings rent in Little Amesbury, alias West Amesbury, East Aymesbury, alias Amesbury Magna, with free fishing in the waters of Aymesbury, £100.

In an inscription on a mural monument in East Hornodon Church, Essex, which will be given later, Sir Lawrence is described as of "Stonage in the County of Wilts."

Sir Lawrence Washington's family¹ consisted of a son Lawrence and two daughters—Martha and Ann. Of these, Martha married, in June 1630, Sir John Tyrrell, of Springfield, Essex; Lawrence married Eleanor, second daughter of Wm. Gyse, of Elmore, co. Gloucester, and Anne another member of the same family—Christopher Gyse.¹ The married life of the last named was a short one, as the following inscription, on a stone slab in Garsdon Church, where probably the marriage would have taken place, shows that she was buried there at the early age of twenty:—

*(To be continued.)FAMILY OF TYSE.

From time to time enquiries have been made in W. N. & Q., as to Elias Tyse, curate of Seend, signing the first pages of the registers in 1615, and rector of Biddeston St. Peter, patron the King, from 1620 to 1663; at least three of his children were baptized at Seend, viz.: Rachael, July 15, 1615; Abigail, 8 Aug., 1616; and Abigail, Oct. 7, 1618. He seems to have been the son of John Tyes, of Rowde, but beyond the names of Philip and Elias, on the face of these documents there seems nothing to connect them with Tyes of Rowde. The name has often been mentioned in the Goddard Wills printed in these pages, and Miscell. Gen. et Her.

We give the inventories—to some perhaps unnecessary, and a waste of space and printing—because they graphically depict the furniture in use, together with its value, and the internal appearances of the houses of the period.

[ARCHDEACONRY OF WILTS.]

1628, Jan. 27.—John Tyes,¹ of Rowde, Wilts, Clerke, to Parish Church of Rowde, a new Communion book of the largest volume; poor of said parish, 10s.; each of my godchildren, not of my kindred, ijs.; dau. He was son of Leonard Ferris of Sutton Benger, pleb. New Inn Hall, Oxford, matric. 1 Apr. 1631, æt. 18; B.A., 7 June 1633; Rector of Kington St. Michael, 1663; Vicar of Sutton Benger, 1642-1664; succeeded Elias Tyse at Biddeston, patron, Thomas Mountjoy, gent., 3 June 1663. Mr. Elias Tise, of Biddestone St. Peter, & Elizabeth Bennet, of Biddestone St. Nicholas, wid. Mr. Elias Ferris, of Malmesbury, marries at Sherston Magna Mrs. Ann Kidgell, of Old Sadbury, 15 July 1686; at Grittleton, John Ferris, of Sutton Benger, marries Mary Boshop, of Yatton Kenell, 6 Aug. 1665.

³ Presented to Orcheston, 1638, by Robert Tyse, of Sedgell, yeoman, and Nicholas Goddard, of Sedgell, gents., hac vice concessu Thomæ Lam- commend my soul, etc., and to be decently interred in the chauncell of the parish church of Orcheston St. George; my loving and dutifull dau. Mary Goddard, widow, £10; Margery Bateman, 5s.; my domestick servants, 5s. each; poor of the several parishes of Orcheston St. George, Sedghehill, and Gillingham, 40s. each; grandson John Goddard, my silver tankard and silver saltseller, to be delivered to him on the death of his grandmother, my wife, and his mother, my will being that my wife shall have use thereof dureing her life and my daughter afterwards for her life; and whereas I lately purchased of Lord Henry Pawlett and his two sons the inheritance in fee simple of severall closes and grounds called the Croftes, lying on Chickett ridge or hill in Corton, within the parish of Boyton, co. Wilts, now in my brother Edward Tyse's possession or occupation, I give the same with all their appurtenances unto my loving wife Mary Tyse and her assignes for her life, and then to my said daughter Mary Goddard and her assignes for her life, and after their decease, to my said grandson John Goddard and the heirs of his body lawfully to be begotten, and in default of such issue, to my said daughter Mary Goddard and the heirs, etc., and in default of such issue, to the heirs and assigns of my said daughter for evermore; nephew Robert Tyse, of Sedghehill, £5, as a gift to him as my godson. Whereas I am possessed of the remainder of a terme of 99 years in a tenement called Hayes, in Sedghehill, and various other lands, etc., by virtue of an Indenture tripartite, dated 17 Oct., in the 24th year our late King Charles I, with power of disposal by will or other writing, I give the same to my said wife Mary Tyse, and she sole ex'ix; also I give her all my severall parcell of grounds, etc, within the precincts of Gillingham, and she residuary legatee; aforesaid loving brother Edward Tyse, overseer, and for his paynes, 20s.; signed, John Tyse; witnesses, Jone Coker, the marke of Mary Crooch, Wa. Fitz, Mary Goddard. Pd. 14 Feb., 1670-1.

[CONSISTORY COURT OF SALISBURY.]

1672, Oct. 22.—Appointment by the Bishop of Salisbury of John Frowde, of Sedghehill, yeoman, and Edward Tise, of Hindon, yeoman, to be Guardians of Jane Scammell, of Tisbury, grandchild of Nicholas Tyse, late of Tisbury, deceased, a legatee of £100, and his will made bert de Boyton. Buried in Orcheston Chancel, "Rector for 32 years, Dec. 22, 1670". He matriculated as pleb. of Wilts, at Exeter Coll., Oxford, 22 Feb. 1621-2, æt. 19; B.A. 31 Jan. 1621-2; M.A., 10 June 1624. According to a pedigree in Som. & Dors. N. & Q., iii, 72-4, he married Mary, dau. of Richard Perne, gent., by Rachel, sister of Peter Green; she had lease of Easthaines, in Gillingham. His dau. Mary married as her first husband John Goddard of Gillingham (to whom her mother, Mary Tise, bequeathed everything) and her grand-daughter, Mary Goddard, became eventual heiress.

12 July, 1672, they being her uncles, and she being a minor, viz., 14 years old.

Appointment of the same to be Guardians of their nephew, John Scammell, of Tisbury, grandson of the said Nicholas, and legatee under the said will of £50, and all his lands and goods, he being a minor, viz., 11 years old.

With bond of the Guardians in each case to pay the sum of £100, and of £50, of which they have had tenders from Susannah Tise, daughter and administratrix of said Nicholas on majority of their wards.

[ARCHDEACONRY OF SALISBURY.]

1675, June 26.—Robert Tyse, of Sedgell, yeoman, commend my soul, etc., and my body to be interred in the church or churchyard of Sedgell, as my ex'ors shall see fit; poor of Sedgell parish, 10s.; each of my ex'ors, 20s. to buy a gold ring to be worn in remembrance of me; the two children of Robert King, of Hindon, who married my sister Margaret, each 20s.; Ann King, daughter of Edward King, of Meere, who married my sister Ann, £30, to be given to her if she live to be married, within ten days after her marriage or if she live to the age of 21 years unmarried, which shall first happen; meantime the interest of the said £30 my ex'ors shall pay to the proper use of Katherine King my sister and wife of Stephen King, of Sedgell, but not to him. If the said Ann King dies before she marries, or attains 21 years, then the said £30 shall be paid to my sister Katherine for her sole and separate use, and if she be dead, to her children equally; said Katherine King, £50 more for her sole and separate use, and this not to be paid to Stephen King, or any other person by his order; my good friends William Swanton,¹ of New Sarum, Esq., John Stevens, of New Sarum, Esq., Mrs. Mary Tise, of Gillingham, widow, Edward Tise, of Hindon, chandler, ex'ors; these said four and Robert King, their heirs, etc., my messuage, etc., and half yard land, all my portion of land containing 15½ acres heretofore assigned, enclosed or appointed to be enclosed² out of the common ground of the manor of Sedgell, and all other lands, etc., in Sedgell, on trust to sell the inheritance in fee simple, the money to be paid in discharge of my funeral, debts and legacies, all which being satisfied, the remainder with my other personal estate to such of the children of my said Katherine King as shall be living at the time of death, equally at their several days of marriage or ages of 21 years, and until it is paid my ex'ors shall make the best use thereof for the children's advantage. Witnesses, Samuel Clifford, Edward Coward, Mary Goddard, Charles Combe, Nicholas Maten.

NOTES ON THE FAMILY OF JASON OF BROAD

From certain *Chancery Proceedings*¹ (P.R.O.) we get further evidence of the manner in which Robert Jason's affairs were affected by the unsettlement of the times. He had advanced money to and become surety for Sir Thos. Willesford, of Ildinge, in the County of Kent, a wealthy man in the King's Army, owner of lands in Kent and leases in York, connected with the East India Co. of Merchants, and interested in the Persia trade. On the death of Sir Thos. in 1639, his widow, Dame Elizabeth, put forward "some pretended settlement" of the property and concealed his will, which provided for the payment of his debts. In consequence, Robert Jason became chargeable for his liabilities; judgment was obtained against him, and he imprisoned in the Fleet. At length, in 1651, Dame Elizabeth was compelled to prove her husband's will, and Robert Jason took action to obtain redress for his grievances.

However, on the Restoration, he received his reward in the dignity of a Baronet.

CALENDAR OF STATE PAPERS (Domestic Series).

1661, May.—Grant to Robert Jason, of Broad Somerford, co. Wilts, dignity of a Baronet, with the usual discharge for the fine of 1095*l*.

Hitherto the Jasons' principal residence had been at Enfield, but the locality chosen for the baronetcy points to an intention of making Broad Somerford the family home. In Lyson's Environs of London, under Enfield, we are told "Sir Robert Jason, anno 1686, had a mansion at Enfield Green". The name of this mansion we learn from the following Counterparts of Leases now in the possession of Mr. E. M. S. Parker was Westmores.

And alsoe likewise yeelding . . . unto said Robert Jason . . . upon the first day of January . . . or within seaven days next after . . . in the name of a New Yeere's gifte a good, refined, well conditioned white sugar loafe, weighinge the full weight of twelve pounds or Thirteen shillings and fourpence in liew and stead thereof at the elec'on or choyce of the said Robert Jason, &c. (Signed) ROBT. CRAWLEY.

Sir Robert Jason does not seem ever to have lived at Broad Somerford. The Manor House was for many years let by him to Giles Bird and Joane his wife, and from 1673 to John Mayo, who paid a ffyne of £800 when taking up the tenancy of the "Mannor House, ffarme, and demese lands and grounds of Broad Somerford, als. Somerford Matravers", on a lease for "full term of 99 years, if Rebecca Mayo and Helen Mayo, daughters of the said John Mayo, and John Browne, son of Lucian Browne, the younger, of Somerford Parva, yeoman, or either of them should so long live, paying £10 yearly at two usual feasts" (N. & Q., vol. ii, p. 545). The Manor House standing near the Church shows no sign of ever having been made a substantial residence.

Another property of which he became possessed in the latter years of his life apparently pleased him more. This was the manor of Hinton on the Green in Gloucestershire, which in 1608 belonged to Sir Thomas Baker, from whom it passed to Sir John Hanmer, and from him was purchased by Sir Robert Jason. Here a large and commodious house standing near the Church, built earlier in the century, was improved by Sir Robert,¹ and became later on the country residence of the family.

One more lawsuit in which he became involved remains to be mentioned. In 1637, while he was under the ban of the Star Chamber, the Rectory of Broad Somerford fell vacant, and his right of patronage was appropriated by the King, who appointed Samuel Kinaston. On the death of Samuel Kinaston in 1667, Sir Robert appointed Nathaniel Aske; but on Aske's death in 1676, his right to appoint was contested by Edmund Bruning, Esq., of Hambleton, Hants, who was the owner of the Manor of Somerford Bolles, also part of the parish. What ground Bruning had for his claim is not apparent, as the Rectory had always gone with the Manor of Maltravers, which Sir Robert held, and the Court gave the decision in his favour.

Sir Robert had lost his second wife in 1654, she dying shortly after the birth of her only daughter and being buried at Hackney, and for many years he remained unmarried but shortly before his death he made his third venture. This was to a certain Miss Ann Raves of Dunstew, co. Oxon:—

NOTES ON WILTSHIRE PARISHES.

BLUNSDON ST. ANDREW.

By an agreement made in 1734 (addl. ch. 46,397, British Museum) it appears that Winifred Nicoll, then a widow, was the only surviving sister of Antonina Keck, and that two years before the Court of Chancery had ordered that the then remainder of the personal estate of Sir Anthony Keck should be divided into seven equal parts, one for each of his seven daughters, whose representatives, as already stated, claimed the real estate.

After the death of John Tracy in 1773, Thomas Edwards Freeman brought an action in Chancery for the division of the real estate, and this was ordered accordingly. The share of Katherine, the eldest daughter, went to the Viscountess Hereford, with remainder, on failure of male issue, to her sister, Susan Charteris; that of Mary Vernon to Thomas Edwards Freeman, a son of Mary and Walter Edwards, to whom it had been willed; that of Anne Whithed to Robert Thistlethwayte, son of the second devisee under the will of Richard Whithed; that of Margaret Baber to Diana Mary Barker, her great granddaughter, Diana, the widow of her grandson Hugh, and Thomas Wyld, her second husband; that of Elizabeth Freeman to Thomas Edwards Freeman, her grandson, who also took the share of Mary Vernon; that of Winifred Nicoll to the Duke of Chandos, under the provisions of a private Act of Parliament (32 Geo. II, cap. 24), sanctioning the settlement made on his marriage with Margaret Nicoll; and that of Antonina was divided into five parts, one each going to the Viscountess Hereford, with remainder to Susan Charteris; to Catherine Thistlethwayte and Anne Somers Cocks, daughters of Alexander Thistlethwayte, the eldest son of Mary, sister of Richard Whithed, and heir-at-law of Anne Whithed; to Diana Mary Barker; to Thomas Edwards Freeman; and to the Duke of Chandos. Diana Mary Barker thus obtained six thirty-fifth parts of the real estate of Francis Keck, and had allotted to her the manor or reputed manor of Blountesdon Andrew, als. Blountesdon Elmers, als. Blountesdon Gay, als. West Court, and the Advowson of Blountesdon Andrew, als. Little Blunsdon, nearly all of a farm of 425ac. 3r. 10p., let to Robert Strange, and of another of 290ac. 2r. 21p., let to Thomas Ayres, and about 108ac. of a third, 382ac. 2r. 22p. let to John Akerman, together with about 35ac. of Woodland, and Bridge Cottage, in the occupation of Robert Bates Woodward; the remainder of the Wilts property in Blunsdon and some 26 acres of meadow in Cricklade, with the property in Oxfordshire, was assigned to the other claimants, but was not divided at the time. This partition was confirmed by a private Act of Parliament (18 Geo. III, cap. 109), which also gave authority for the sale of any part of the property not allotted to Diana Mary Barker.

The report of the Commissioners for the partition is incorporated in the Act, and describes the Wiltshire property as follows:—

The manor and lordship or reputed manor and lordship and the advowson of Blountesdon, etc., and land in Blountesdon Andrew als. Little Blunsden als. Blountesdon Elmers als. Blountesdon Gay, West Wood Hill als. Wydhill and Cricklade Saint Samson—that is to say—all that messuage or tenement with outhouses and lands, together 382ac. 2r. 22p. in the tenure of John Akerman.

And the message or cottage called *Bridge Cottage in the occupation of Richard Bates Woodward.

The manor was subject to an annual quit-rent of 16s., payable to the Crown, and, together with the advowson and the lands marked (*) in the foregoing list, was allotted to Thomas Wyld and Diana, his wife, and Diana Mary Barker; to be vested in Diana Mary Barker to the use of her and her heirs, etc., for ever, subject to the uses of the will of Francis Baber, her grandfather.

Forty years later another private Act was passed (59 Geo. III, cap. 34) to authorize the sale of the Freeman estates. Thomas Edwards Freeman had an only son, another Thomas Edwards Freeman, who had died in 1788, leaving an only daughter, Elizabeth, who married Thomas, son of Sir William Heathcote, Bart., and died 16 March 1808, s.p. Thomas Edwards Freeman the elder died a month previously; he had settled his property so strictly that this Act was necessary before a sale could be affected. A schedule annexed to it includes in the property to be sold a farm in Bluntesdon Saint Andrew, otherwise Blunnsden Saint Andrew, and Cricklade, containing 315ac. 1r. 35p., let to Moses Akerman, tenant at will, at a rent of £430, and as the Act mentions that Thomas Edwards Freeman had purchased this property under the authority of an Act authorizing the sale of the estates of Francis Keck, it is probable that there was an intervening owner.

In 1809, Diana Mary Barker presented to the rectory; and in 1856, when the manorial estate of Blunnsden St. Andrew, consisting of Blunnsdon House and upwards of 535ac. of land, valued at £700 a year, was advertised for sale, it was laid down as a condition that the vendor need only show his title commencing with a conveyance in fee to his late father in November 1839, or the probate of the will of Miss Barker, a prior owner, in whose family the estate had been for many years previously (see Sir T. Phillipps' Collectanea de Fam. Div. de Phillipps, p. 681). The manor is thus accounted for from 1663 to the death of Diana Mary Barker—when the advowson was detached from it does not appear—but there were other transactions regarding the land; for the property in 1778 included in all 1,136ac. 3r. 35p. Of this, 810ac. 3r. 38p. were allotted to Diana Mary Barker, leaving 325ac. 3r. 37p. to the other claimants. This, apparently, was purchased by Thomas Edwards Freeman, and is fairly represented by the 315ac. 1r. 35p. authorized to be sold in 1819; but there are still to be accounted for 275ac. before we arrive at the measurement of 535ac. given in 1856.

There was another Anthony Keck in 1696, nephew of Sir Anthony and cousin of Francis, to whom some interest attaches. He made his will in 1736, and died not long afterwards, leaving his property, which does not appear to have been in Wilts, to his grandson Anthony, son of his daughter Martha and the Rev. David James. This Anthony James took the name of Keck; his son, Anthony James Keck, of Staughton Grange, Leicestershire, married Elizabeth, granddaughter of Thomas Benet, of Salthrop, and their daughter married Thomas Calley, of Burdrop.

Also . . . that John Martin and Thomas Filder, last year's highway surveyors, have not made their accompt, and that beyond their expenses they retain xx^s. in cash collected for repairing the roads. Full accompt ordered before the end of next Pentecost week on pain of xxx^s.

Also that John Martin has not removed the tiles deposited on the highway called Common-Wood Lane. Removal ordered and repair of the places dug out at the side of the road there before May 10 next on pain of iij^s. iiij^d.

PRESENTMENT OF THE HOMAGE.

They present on oath that Richard Lewes, esq., Richard Estcourt, esq., and William Codrington, gent., are free suitors of this Court and have this day made default, and so each of them is in mercy iij^d.

That Philip Seabourne, who held of the lord freely by fealty and xlv^s. annual rents, has died since last Court, whence there falls to the lord for relief as of one holding in socage xlv^s.

Also that the gate and bounds of the common mead called Shortmead are insufficient, and therefore it is ordered in these English words, viz. :—"That the severall persons who have land or herbage in the said Common Meadow called Shortmead shall repair and make sufficient the Gate of the said Meadow, And that before the first day of May next, the Foreman of this Homage with the consent of any five of the persons who have such land or herbage shall make an indifferent equall rate upon all the persons concerned in the said lands or herbage for setting up and making a sufficient Gate unto the said Meadow, And it is further ordered that every person who shall refuse to pay his rate or proportion for the same or shall neglect to make payment herof by the space of five dayes after demand made by the person whom the said Foreman shall appoint to collect the said rate shall forfeit to the lord of the Mannor vs. And it is ordered that every person who hath bounds in the said Meadow shall make it sufficient before the third day of May next upon pain of ijs. iiij*d.*"

Also it is ordered that no horse or any other cattle be put or fed in the common-wood called Silkwood on pain of ijs. iiij*d.* for each horse or beast so put.

Also . . . that everyone having bounds between the Northfeild of Willesley, within this manor and the highway called Weston Laue, sufficiently repair his bounds before October 1st on pain of vs.

Also that no one put or feed his pigs except they be ringed and yoked within the common fields on pain of 1*s.* each pig.

Also that the way called Le Green way "leading from the house of Sir Thomas Estcourt towards Tedbury, which is straightened, shall be abated and layd of a sufficient widenesse before the first day of November next by the owners of the land hereunto adjacent upon pain that everyone making default shall forfeit ijs. iiij*d.*"

They also present that Mary Idoles, widow, who held of the lord by Copy of Court Roll bearing date 20 May 23 Charles I a close lying in Sherston Magna next John Long's house of about one acre, another close in Southfield of S.M. called Le Clift of about half an acre three acres of arable in Southfield and a close called Stonebridge mead in Northfield of about an acre and a half and another close in Northfield called Rowborough of five acres and $2\frac{1}{2}$ acres in Northfield with their appurtenances, has died since last Court, for which no heriot falls to the lord, and they present Nicholas Idoles son of the sd Mary to be next holder by virtue of Copy Roll who is present here in Court and did fealty to the lord and is thereby admitted tenant.

Also . . . that Alice Holborow widow, relict of Israel Holborough, lately defunct, who held of the lord for her widowhood according to the custom of the sd manor a Messuage or Tenement called Hall House with appurtenances, meadows, feedings, pastures and commons whatsoever belonging to the sd messuage &c., has been married to Henry Francklyn, gent., and so the sd Alice has determined her estate in the customary premises, and they further present that Alexander Holborough, son of the sd Israel, is next holder, who is here present in Court, and did fealty and so is admitted tenant.

And the aforesaid Alexander Holborough, who is under the age of 21 years, has nominated the sd Henry Francklyn to be his guardian and the sd Henry was admitted guardian of Alexander and his customary premises during his minority.

Concession of Mary wife of Robert Powell. To this Court came Joan Watts, alias Martin, widow, and Robert Powell, senior, and Mary his wife (formerly called Mary Watts, alias Martin) and the sd Mary, being previously examined alone and privily by the Steward, rendered up into the hands of the lord here in full Court one cottage lying in Sherston on the north side of the street there together with curtilage, garden, orchard, and a little close lying behind the sd cottage containing two roods and one Le Lott of underwood with appurtenances, all and singular the which premises were late in tenure of Richard Watts, alias Martin, defunct, by virtue of Copy Roll date 15 Apr. 1651, and all estate &c., in the sd premises, &c. And afterwards at this same Court the lord by his steward granted to the same Mary wife of Rob. Powell the sd premises [detailed] to Have and Hold to the sd Mary wife of Rob. Powell, senior, and to Robert Powell, junior, their son for term of the lives of Mary and Robert, junior, and of the longer liver of them at annual rent of 3s. 1d. and of 10d. for the Lott of underwood [with services, &c.], and for such estate therein Mary and her husband have given for fine £7, and Mary did fealty and was admitted, but Robert junior's fealty was respited until, &c.

³ Alexander Hyde (afterwards Bishop of Salisbury) held the livings of Wylve and Little Langford from 1634-1660.

Laurence Hyde, the patron of Stratford Tony in 1560-1564, probably presented in 1551 John Rediche or Redishe to the living of Ashmore, Dorset [Watson's Parish of Ashmore, pp. 63 and 69]. In 1578 he sold the advowson to Roger Keylwaye (Close Roll, 21 Eliz., 26 Aug.).

Douglas Castilian, who was presented in 1618 to Stratford Tony, was a brother-in-law of Robert Hyde, and also of Laurence Hyde who married, respectively, Ann and Barbara Castilian, see Pedigree. (Vol. vi, p. 344), Douglas Castilian, according to the Pedigree of that family in the Genealogist, was born in 1573, and was the fifth son of John-Baptist Castilian, of Benham, Berks; Douglas Castilian married on the 17th April 1611, at Salisbury Cathedral, Margaret Bower; in the Register he is described as "Douglas Castilian, gent.", so that he had not then probably taken Holy Orders. He died at Stratford Tony; the Register of that Parish contains this entry:—

1659-60. Douglas Castilian, Rector of this Parish of Stratford Tony, who dyed the 15th, was buryed the 24 day of January.

His eldest children, Margaret, Anne and Richard, must have been born before he came to Stratford Tony in 1618, for their baptisms are not recorded in the Register there. Margaret married at Tisbury, on 20 September 1630, George Luttrell; the baptisms of three of their children are recorded at Stratford Tony, viz., Elizabeth on 22 April 1632; Marye on 8 June 1634, and George on 16 December 1639. Anne married at St. Thomas Church, Salisbury, on 6 May 1652, Edward Drake. Richard married a wife whose Christian name was Katherine, the baptisms of their children, Katheren on 18 June 1637, and Dowlas on 18 October 1639, are recorded in the Stratford Tony Register.

The baptisms of other children of the Rev. Douglas

Castilian, recorded in the Stratford Tony Register, appear to be Barbara on 13 May 1620, Martha on 29 September 1621, Douglas on 8 June 1624, Peter on 26 May 1626—he appears to be the Peter Castilian who was presented to Dinton in 1663—Thomas on 7 August 1631, and Isaac on 16 June 1633.

Lancelot Addison, presented to Milston in 1670, afterwards Dean of Lichfield, was the father of Joseph Addison “eminent as a statesman, as a scholar, a wit, a poet, and as a moralist and good Christian”, who was born at Milston on the 1st May 1672, and baptized there on the same day.

Queries.

Giffard Family.—Can any of your correspondents give the writer information concerning a member of the Giffard family who held land at “Shearntune” (now Sherrington), in Wiltshire, and was a fourteenth century crusader. Tradition says he had a castle in that village. The Manor Farm at Sherrington, in which the late Thomas Alford resided during his life, bears evidence of a large moat round a high mound behind the present dwellinghouse, on which the castle might have stood?

THOS. ALFORD.

Chivers' Family.—In the south aisle of the church of Leigh Delamere, Wilts, there are monumental inscriptions to two members of the family of Chivers—one to Secole Chivers “Lord of this Mannour”, who died 1653, and another to Henry Chivers “late of Quemmerford in this County, esquire”, who died 1720, with his arms—Argent, a chevron engrailed gules—quartering another coat, and impaling his wife's arms.

Can any of your readers give me any information about this family of Chivers?

E. B.

Montagu.—I should be much obliged to readers of Notes and Queries if they would send me any letters which may be in their possession written by Colonel George Montagu the famous Wilts marine zoologist and ornithologist, a biographical memoir of whom is now occupying my spare time in the hope that the result will do fuller justice to Montagu than he has hitherto received. Cunnington's Memoir in Wilts Mag. (1857) seems to be the only notice of his life and labours available. Any information will be gladly accepted and duly acknowledged. All letters or other documents will be carefully used and quickly returned.

Church Houses in Wilts (p. 335).—The Church House at Sherston Magna may be added to Canon Wordsworth's list. The contract for its re-building in 1511 was lately printed in Wilts N. & Q. (vol. vi, p. 448). Of this Aubrey says¹ "the Church howse is in the street, a good howse. A howse, query if it be the Church howse aforesaid, and land, of the value of six or ten pounds p. ann. was given to the Church, and I think now like to be imbezelled".

It still exists, partly rebuilt, and belongs to the Parish Church.

At Long Newnton² Aubrey mentions, in connection with the "Custome here on [Trinity Sunday]", the Hayward's House next the Churchyard, which, he says, "is called the Eale-House". "In the evening [of Trinity Sunday] every Commoner sends his supper up to this house, which is called Eale-House; and having before layed in there equally a stock of Malt which was brewed in the house, they sup together, and what was left was given to the poor." This house is now gone, and the common which first gave it existence.

In a note Canon Jackson refers to a Paper on "Ancient Ales in Co. Wilts" printed in Wilts Archæological Magazine, ii, 198.

(Engraved by A. Soly, 1690.)

Wiltshire Notes and Queries,

MARCH, 1913.

TOBIAS CRISPE, D.D., RECTOR OF BRINKWORTH (1629-42).

IN a controversial age Tobias Crispe attracted attention through the vehemence with which he advocated certain theological opinions, not altogether orthodox. A modern writer has styled him "the primipilus of the more modern scheme of Antinomianism". He was the third son of Ellis Crispe,¹ who died as Sheriff of London in 1625. His elder brother Sir Nicholas Crispe was a great city merchant, standing high in the royal favour and strongly supporting the royal cause. Tobias was born in Bread Street, London, in 1600 and educated at Eton; proceeding to Cambridge he took his B.A. there, but in 1626 removed to Balliol College, Oxford, where in the same year he took his M.A.; some years later he took his D.D.

Presented by lessee under the Bishop of Worcester to the Rectory of Newington Butts, he was obliged to abandon this preferment as having been party to a simoniacal transaction, but in 1629 became Rector of Brink-worth, on the presentation of "Rowland Wilson de London, Mercator, and Nicholas Crispe, hac vice". Settled down at Brinkworth, he discharged the duties of his office with strictness and devotion, but after a while became strongly antinomian in his teaching, expressing his views in very unguarded language although he certainly had no wish to encourage licentiousness. He had married¹ Mary daughter and eventually heiress of Rowland Wilson,² a wealthy London merchant, and he must have been in affluent circumstances. He became noted not only for his "edifying way of preaching"³ but also for his great hospitality, it is said that "he would entertain 100 persons and many more at his house at one and the same time". In 1642 he was compelled to leave Brinkworth owing to frequent annoyance by royalist soldiers, and returned to London where he was at once drawn into a disputation⁴ with 52 opponents. Soon afterwards, having worn out his strength by his ministerial labours he fell a victim to an attack of smallpox, his death being a most edifying one, 27th February 1642-3, and was buried in St. Mildred's Church, Bread Street, London. Of his thirteen children, most of whom must have been baptised⁵ at Brinkworth, eleven survived him. His widow afterwards married Colonel Owen Roe⁶ and died 20th September 1673. Various volumes of his sermons were published after his death, the earliest, entitled "Christ alone exalted", in 1643

² His only son, Rowland, was alderman and Sheriff of London, one of the members of the Long Parliament, in command of a city regiment, and of the Council of State, 1648-9, but predeceased his father in 1650. Will [P.C.C. 56 Pembroke].

⁴ See Nelson's Life of Bishop Bull.

⁵ The Registers prior to 1651 are lost. Mr. B. de Bertodano, of Cowbridge House, Malmesbury, counts Tobias Crispe among his ancestors.

(vide Wood's Ath. Oxon., the prefaces to his sermons and Dict. of Nat. Biog.).

His nuncupative will, dated 22 February 1642, was proved 15 March 1644-5, by Rowland Wilson, the executor, and reads as follows:—"Doctor Crispe declared as followeth by word of mouth this to be his last will and Testam't. Imprimis that his land in Kent after his wives decease should be sould and that his eldest sonne should have one hundred pound more then his part, and his sonne Tobie to haue fiftie pound more then his part, and his daughter Mary should haue fiftie pound more then her part, and the rest to be equally divided amougst them Onely his three youngest children should haue something lesse then the rest. And for his personall estate he sayed his wife should haue one half of it, and his children the rest, equally devided Onely he gave Richard Odion five pound, Timothy foure, his two maides three pound apeece, and that his wife and father-in-lawe, Row. Wilson, senior, should be his executors." Signed "Tobias Crispe". Wits. "Elizabeth Charnock, Mary Bowles, Richard Dey". [51 Rivers.]

Three of his sons had families—Ellis, Rowland, and Samuel. The latter, a city merchant, who was one of the Governors of Christ's Hospital, was earnest in defending his father's reputation against the charge that his teaching favoured licentiousness, editing a collected volume of his sermons in 1690. In his will [P.C.C. 182 Degg] he leaves:—"To my sonne Samuel, my ffather's Bible, printed 1631, in the margent of which, from 1675 to 1680, etc., I made annotations from 1 Cor. to the end. To the poore of Brinkworth where I was borne 21 January 1632, £5" (vide F. A. Crisp's Family of Crispe).

RECORDS OF WILTSHIRE PARISHES.

INTRODUCTION.

In an open breezy country, three hundred feet or more above sea-level on the great out crop of the green sand which is so remarkable a geological feature of these parts, lies the village of Marden situated in the County of Wilts, Hundred of Swanborough, and Diocese of Salisbury, $6\frac{1}{2}$ miles from Devizes off the Andover road.

The parish is a long narrow strip, bounded on the west by Chirton, on the east by Wilsford, on the north by Beechingstoke, and on the south extending for nearly three miles over the Plain; and through it the Christchurch Avon, all unconscious as yet of the "sea tides tossing free", passes on its journey down the bourne.

Fifty years ago the village must have been almost as picturesque as its eastern neighbour Wilsford (most happily) is to-day, but alas! the hand of man has been laid heavily upon it—no less than fifteen ancient thatched cottages standing for the most part in groups of two's and three's, have been utterly destroyed, and their places taken (in part only) by red brick erections, which, though not so objectionable as many, are nevertheless a poor exchange for their venerable predecessors.

Only three groups of cottages and a part of Marden House, the residence of Mr. W. T. K. Atherton,² can lay claim to any antiquity.

But though Marden is now only a straggling village of population about 150, with several houses of the better class in it, and a most venerable and beautiful church, nevertheless it has more antiquarian and historical interest than any place for a long way round.

² Mr. Atherton has recently died.

Camden, writing in 1590, says that Marden "might probably enough be the Meredune or Meretune, mentioned in the Saxon Annals, famous for the battle¹ between King Ethelred and the Danes". He adds that "the largest barrow² in these parts, except Silbury, exists" in the parish. A few years ago, I had a call from the late Rector of Woodborough on behalf of an Oxford antiquary, asking me for any particulars I could give with regard to traditions of a battle in Marden, the question having been re-opened as to the locality of the decisive fight of Ashdown,³ in which Alfred the Great routed the Danes, and there seeming to be some good ground for fixing it at Marden. I have heard nothing since, but as the theatre of that most elusive struggle has been shifted from the vale of the White Horse to Edington to bring it back a few miles east, may possibly be to hit upon as likely a spot as any other. There is, however, no doubt that a great combat was fought in this quietest of quiet places long ago, if any value is to be attached to local tradition.

Some time since, a young woman of the village, a member of one of the very few families who have resided on the spot continually for upwards of a century, told my son that a great battle had been fought ages ago on Marden down between men with red heads and men with black heads, and that the red-headed men won, she added that the dead were buried in a large cave on the down, and that nobody had ever dared to enter it. I have not been able to identify the cave, but it seems exceedingly probable that after the fight the slain were collected and buried with more than usual care, because the closest enquiry I have made has failed to trace any record of human remains, armour or weapons having been unearthed at any time in the neighbourhood. But Marden has clearly in its day been a remarkable place, for it is set in the heart of ancient fortifications extending across the Avon into the parish of Beechingstoke where, just outside Pookshipton Gate, in the fields, can be traced the ditch and rampart for a considerable distance.

² The allusion is to Hatfield Barrow which Sir R. C. Hoare says is "the third in size after Silbury and the Castle Hill at Marlborough", Wills Arch. Mag., vol. xxii, p. 236. [ED.]

³ According to the Anglo-Saxon Chronicle, the battle of Ashdown was fought four days after the repulse of the Saxons in their attack upon the Danish encampment at Reading. The Saxons fell back into Wessex followed by the Danes, who seemed to have endeavoured to form another encampment at Ashdown. King Ethelred and Alfred at once attacked them and were victorious, one Danish King and five of their Earls being left dead on the field. This was however a mere temporary check. A fortnight afterwards in a battle at Basing the Danes were victorious and two months after that the Saxons were again worsted at Marden, where King Ethelred was apparently mortally wounded. Green (Conquest of England, p. 104) locates this last battle at Merton in Surrey. [ED.]

In the barrow fields, beneath Camden's great sepulchral monument, tradition says that great treasure is buried, and an old inhabitant assured me that once or twice it had been searched for,¹ but though I do not imagine much "treasure" in the usual sense of the word awaits the coming of the explorer, still I think a more careful investigation of this remarkable relic of the past might be made with considerable advantage.

The documents printed later form the only records of the past history of Marden now available. The series is fairly complete until towards the end of the seventeenth century. After that date it has not been found possible to obtain access to any sources of information which would enable us to trace the changes of property during the eighteenth century. Marden, being a small manor, was in early days, it seems, in the hands of bailiffs and farmers, ruled by its lord from a distance without becoming the abiding-place of any family of importance. In the reign of Henry VIII a race of small families began to arise, intermarrying one with another and occasionally becoming farmers of the manor itself. The Carpenters, the Baileys, the Bartletts and the like can be identified with the neighbourhood, but hardly with the parish itself. The Haywards were perhaps more closely connected with it, their monuments in the church dating as they do from 1703 to 1864. Early in the nineteenth century the existing Manor House was built by Mr. John Young, the then owner of the property, on the site of some old cottages. He died at the age of 64, in July 1837, and was buried at Marden. His daughter and heiress, Elizabeth Susanna, married Mr. Stephen Richmund Neate, and died in December 1840, aged 30 years: her husband survived until July 1874: both rest at Marden. The property at his death passed to his daughter and heiress, Mrs. Johnson, who eventually parted with it to Mr. George Harris, of Calne, whose trustees sold it by auction in July last, the Manor House being purchased by Mr. J. Warwick Kingstone, who had occupied it for many years, and the Manor Farm by Mrs. Wells, widow of Mr. James Wells, of Wedhampton. The family of Bott formerly possessed the Grange estate. At the present time the landowners (in the order of their acreage) are, Mr. W. T. K. Atherton, Marden House; Mrs. James Wells; the War Office; the Misses Niven, the Grange; and Mr. J. Warwick Kingstone, the Manor. Mr. B. Hayward, Haybrook, Pewsey, is the owner of a small farm. The Manor House is a well-situated edifice of grey stone, at the southern end of the village, in the midst of pretty park-like meadows. The Grange, a picturesque thatched house about half-way down the street, is set in beautiful gardens. Marden House, on the other side of the way, near the Manor, is in part seventeenth century or possibly earlier, and the farm house, now occupied by Mrs. Wells and recently by Mr. G. L. Cooke, is a pretty thatched building amid agreeable surroundings. The mill, of ancient foundations, but with modern buildings (the old ones having been destroyed by fire) is the property of Mr. Hamlin.

On looking over the Parish Registers for the last century, only a few old names survive among the inhabitants, namely, the ubiquitous Smith, Naish, White, Benger, and Bratchell.

The farms at present are in the occupation of the following: Manor Farm, Mrs. James Wells (owner of the property): Mr. Atherton's Farm, Mr. G. L. Cooke; Grange Farm, Mr. Palmer, and Mr. Hayward's Farm, Mr. W. Perrin. The Rectorial Tithes are the property of the Dean and Chapter of Bristol, who are also the patrons of the living.

If, however, ancient Marden has almost passed away, there still remains that which here (as in so many English parishes) is its chief and abiding glory, the Parish Church of All Saints.

Not a large or elaborate building, consisting only of nave and chancel and seating but 120, it, nevertheless, has features which entitle it to a position quite out of proportion to its magnitude. The tower,¹ singularly graceful and ornate, is perpendicular architecture, and so is the very beautiful and perfect timber roof of the nave; the South door, a very large one, is early Norman of fine conception and workmanship, and the chancel arch is a splendid specimen of Norman design, with elaborate dog-tooth mouldings. The traveller on the main road who catches sight of the stately tower of Marden Church will do well to forget for a moment the beaten track and make a small detour, for, in its way, he will find nothing finer than that which awaits him here, and which is so typical of the wonders hidden away in our broad shires among forgotten villages and lonely hamlets, relics of the days when Englishmen were "craftsmen" and not "labourers" in stone and metal and timber, true artists each honouring his own "mystery" and each with skilful hands doing his utmost to materialize the dreams of his reverent heart!

We are singularly wanting in imagination if it gives us no gratification to learn what manner of men our fore-fathers were, especially when we discover how very like ourselves they must have been in all the essentials, as against the accidentals, of life. In the wonderful store of records existing in various places we can pick up the threads of the past in a remarkable degree. We can learn the name of the Saxon landowner who held the parish acres before the Norman conquest, and who supplanted him. We can read, age after age, the story of the changing tenures, who the principal inhabitants were, what occupations were carried on, who were the patrons of the living, and who the priests to whom the care of souls was committed. We can gather from the various rolls the nature of the imposts and taxes levied from time to time, what sides were taken in the various tumults and uprisings that mark our history. We have enough here for the re-construction of a picture of the past, full of animation and instruction, and for a comprehension of that steady development and growth which has made us what we are.

NOTES ON THE FAMILY OF JASON OF BROAD SOMERFORD.

MARRIAGE LICENCES OF THE FACULTY OFFICE.

1675, 22 September, Sir Christopher Eyre, Kt., of Northall, Middlesex, widr., and Dame Anne Jason, of Hinton, co. Gloucester, widow; at Hinton aforesaid, or Lincoln's Inn Chapel or the Temple Church.

but soon again became a widow—Sir Christopher Eyre dying on 11 September 1676—with one infant son Christopher Eyre.

Her third husband, to whom she was married in or before 1686, was David Warren, Esq., of Greet, co. Gloucester, by whom she had at least one daughter, Anne Warren, whose marriage will be mentioned later. She survived her third husband some five years, dying the 29th January 1713, and was buried at Hinton:—

[P.C.C. LLOYD 74.]

1676, Sept. 1.—Instructions for making the last Will and Testament of me, Sir Christopher Eyre, Knight.

First I bequeath unto Anne, Lady Eyre, my deare wife all my Real estate whatsoever within the parish of Northall, co. Midd., for her natural life, also use of plate and furnishing of my house at Northall and after her death to my heirs, also my coach and coach-horse; I bequeath all my stock of corn, hay etc. to my good Nephew Giles Eyre, Esq., and my loving friend Mr. John Baldwyn for them to obtain an Annuity for themselves for my sonne Christopher Eyre his life at their discretion for my son's maintenance during my said wife's life: my wife to be sole executrix and this writing to be my last Will, if I live not to make my will more at large. Witn: Jo: Baldwin, mark of Fra. Harris, Margaret Raves. Proved in London 12 June 1686, on oath of Lady Ann Eyre, als. Warren, widow and only executrix named in said will, and administration granted to her.

REGISTERS OF PARISH CHURCH, NORTHALL.

The Lady Elizabeth Eyre, of this Parish, died at Gyfford's Farm. Nov. 13 and was buried at Camberwell in Surrey, Nov. 14. 1674. Christopher, son of Sir Christopher Eyre and the Lady Anne (Jason) his lady, baptized Sept. 10, 1676.

Sr. Christopher Eyre, Knt., died Sept. 11 and was buried at Camberwell, Sept. 13, 1676.

[MEMORIAL INSCRIPTIONS IN PARISH CHURCH, HINTON ON THE GREEN.]

Here lyeth the Body of Anne, wife of Sir Robert Jason, of Broad Somerford, in Wiltshire, Baronet, Relict of David Warren, Esquire. of Greet, in the County of Gloucester, who was born July 1644, and departed this life 29 Jany. 1713.

Here rests the Body of David Warren, Esquire, the son of John Warren, of Greet, in the County of Gloucester. He died 28th September, in the year of our Lord 1708, aged 56.

Here lyeth the Body of Catherine, Relict of John Warren of Greet, in the County of Gloucester, Dr. of Law. She was the daughter of Thomas, the second son of Sir David Williams, Bart., of Guernevet, in the County of Brecon, and one of the Barons of the Exchecquire. She died May 30, 1709, aged 84.

II. Sir Robert Jason, the second Baronet, eldest son of Robert Jason by his second wife Cisely Rowe, was educated for the Bar. The Admission Registers of Grey's Inn, under date 18th March 1655-6, have the entry:—

Robert Jason, son and heir of Robert Jason, of Broad Somerford, Wilts, Esq.

The following extract from the Hackney Pedigrees gives us his marriage:—

Sir Robert of Broad Somerford, co. Wilts, Bart. : now living (1687). In Ward of Castle Baynard, Æt. 47, married Anne d. of George Dacres, of Cheshunt, co. Herts.

From certain Chancery Proceedings (Jason v. Jarvis, 1683¹) it appears that "he having little or noe allowance from his father" purchased a property in Suffolk called Hinton Hall Farm by arrangement of paying £4,000 for it on his father's death. He pleads that advantage was taken of his ignorance so that he found himself unable either to take possession of it or dispose of it and was obliged to appeal to the Courts for redress. He and his brother Henry are stated to be the only surviving sons of his father.

Some deeds are still extant in reference to his property at Great Somerford, of which we give brief abstracts:—

3rd July 1675.—Lease between Sir Robert Jason, of Broad Somerford, Bart., and Richard Lawrence, the elder, yeoman, of messuage with 4 acres of land near the Lower Marsh, with feeding of 2 beasts in the Marsh for 99 years.

Robert Jason

21 June 1678.—Lease between Sir Robert Jason, of Grayes Inn, Middlesex, Bart., and Isaacke Knapp, of Somerford Magna, of late John Ashtons ground and feeding for 2 rother beasts in the Marsh.

12 July 1687.—Lease by Sir Robert Jason, Bart., and Richard Hawkins, Esq., of copyhold tenement and land called Sealy's to Richard Tuck for £300 on lives of Richard Tuck; John, son of Henry Tuck; and Henry, son of Samuel Tuck.

Sir Robert died in December 1687, and was laid, no doubt, in accordance with the directions given in his will, in the family tomb in Great Somerford Church. Although the Registers of that date are lost, the following entry among the Palmer Memoranda (vol. vi, p. 445) gives the exact date:—

An. 1687, Dec : 14.—Sir Robert Jason, Bart., was buried.

1687, Dec. 3.—Tm. Dni. Roberti Jason, Barrti. In the name of God, Amen, I, Sir Robert Jason, of Broad Somerford, co. Wilts, Barrt. being sicke and weak, etc. To be buried there. To daughter Anne Jason on day of her marriage or at age of 18, £500. To Loveing wife Anne Jason £500, Household Furniture, China, etc. To sonne George all residue of my estate at age of 21. The writings of my estates purchased shall be kept by my couzin Richard Milner or my couzin John Hall. My said cousins and my wife to be executors. To the Poor of St. Benett's, Paul's Wharf, Broad Somerford, Hackney and Enfield, £5 each Parish. Bond from my couzin Whitrowe, etc., his two sisters Susannah and Frances, etc. To my wife my Bibles and Comon Prayer Bookes.—Robert Jason. Witn: A. Dacres, Hen. Brice, Robt. Soresbie, John Partington. Proved at London, 8 Dec., 1685, by Anne Jason, the relict, and one of the executors. Power reserved for the others. Proved at London, 1 October 1696, by Richard Milner. Power reserved for Robert Hall.

Sir Robert's eldest son predeceased him in the previous year, much we may be sure to the grief of his father. In the Hackney Pedigrees he is said to have died unmarried at the age of 20.

REGISTER OF ST. BENET AND ST. PETER, PAUL'S WHARF, LONDON.

1686, March 26.—Robert, son of Sir Robert Jason, in ye Church.—Aff. made. (Burials.)

His wife, who afterwards married a certain Samuel Bretton, died before 3 March 1697-8, while his daughter married Mr. Thomas Partington, who died before 7 May 1725, but the date of her death has not been ascertained, nor whether there was any issue of the marriage.

[P.C.C., 3RD MARCH 1697/8.]

Dame Anne Jason, als. Bretton. Comm. issued to Ann Partington, als. Jason, wife of Thos. Partington, nat. and leg. daughter of Dame Anne, late of the parsh of St. Bridgett, London, dec., and adm. gr. to her, Samuel Bretton the husband of the dec. first renouncing.

REGISTERS OF PARISH CHURCH, KENSINGTON.

Mr. Thomas Partington and Mrs. Anne Jason, daughter of Sir Robert Jason, Bart. (deceased), by the Lady Anne, married Oct. 6, 1692.

[P.C.C., 7 May 1725.]

Thomas Partington. Comm. issued to Ann Partington, widow and relict of the deceased, late of parish of St. Bridgett, London, and adm. gr. to her,

III. Sir Robert's only surviving son, George, succeeded as third Baronet. He seems to have parted with the Somerford property, which no doubt had been mortgaged by his father to the Richard Hawkins mentioned in the last deed given above. His name does not occur in any of the extant deeds. He died unmarried and intestate in the year 1697, his estate being administered by his sister Anne.

[P.C.C., 22 Dec. 1697.]

Sir George Jason. Comm. issued to Anne Partington, als. Jason, the nat. and leg. sister of Sir George Jason, Bar., late of parish of St. Bridgetts, als. Brides, London, and adm. gr. to her.

IV. Of Henry Jason, the second son of the first Baronet, little is known. Like his brother he was educated for the Bar. The Admission Registers of Grey's Inn, under date 18th March 1655-6, have the entry:—

Henry Jason, second son of Robert Jason, of Broad Somerford, Wilts, Esq.

The Hackney Pedigree states that he was married to "Cath : d. of Harris, co. Lincoln". His children as given in the Visitation of London, 1687, were then Robert æt circ. 13, Samuel æt circ. 10, Cecilia æt 11. Burke (Extinct and Dormant Baronetcies) states that Samuel became an officer in the Army and died unmarried. Cecilia married Garford and is mentioned in her brother's will, as also in the will of her niece Ann Jason, 3 May 1731. On the death of the third baronet without issue the title came to the eldest son of Henry Jason, the Robert mentioned above.

Sir Robert Jason, fourth Baronet, married Anne daughter of Captain David Warren (Burke's Ext. & Dorm. Bar.), who is generally assumed to be the David Warren of Greet, husband of the relict of the first Baronet, this Anne being a child of the marriage. He died in 1723, leaving, as shown by his will, a family of two sons, Warren and Robert, and five daughters, Anne (whose will is given below), Cecilia (mentioned also in will of her sister, 3 May 1731), Joan,

[P.C.C. 77 RICHMOND.]

1720, Feb. 28.—Tm. Roberti Jason. In the name of God Amen. I Sir Robert Jason, of Hinton on the Green, co. Gloucester, Barronet, &c. To son Robert Jason £500 and all my Estate at Dunstew, Northaston Meadow and Bestmore Meadow at 21 or marriage. To daughter Anne Jason £1,000 at 21 or marriage. To daughter Frances Jason £500, being what I have received of her Estate at Northashtowne in Oxfordshire. To daughter Katharine Jason £1,000 at 21 or marriage. To daughter Selia Jason £1,000 at 21 or marriage. To daughter Joane Jason £1,000 at 21 or marriage. To son Warren Jason all furniture, &c., at Hinton. He to be sole executor. My youngest son Robert Jason, &c.

Robert Jason.

Codicil, 22 Feb. 1722.—“Whereas £800 was left me by my mother Mrs. Catherine Jason after the decease of my sister, Mrs. Cecilia Garford, &c.”

Proved at London, 18 Ap. 1723, by Sir Warren Jason, Bart., the son. Adm. 24 Dec. 1728 to Anne Jason, sp., and adm. of Sir Warren Jason, Bart. Adm. 23 Dec. 1732 to Sir Robert Jason, Bart., the brother and admr. of the goods of Sir Warren Jason. Adm. 26 July 1798 to John Stanford Perrott, the admr. of the goods twice unadmin. of sd. Sir Warren Jason, Bart., dec.

V. Sir Warren Jason succeeded, on the death of his father in 1723, as fifth Baronet. He is noted as patron of the living of Hinton on the Green, in Bigland's History of the County of Gloucester, under date 1727. He died unmarried, 12 Nov. 1728 (Burke's Ext. & Dorm. Bar.), and intestate.

[P.C.C. 28th Nov. 1728.]

Sir Warren Jason. Comm. issued to Anne Jason, spinster, the nat. and lawful sister and nearest of kin to Sir Warren Jason, late of Hinton-upon-the-Green, co. Gloucester, Baronet, a bachelor, dec., and adm. gr. to her.

[P.C.C. 23 Dec. 1732.]

Sir Warren Jason. Comm. issued to Sir Robert Jason, Bart., the nat. and lawful brother of Sir Warren Jason, &c., to adm. goods left unad. by Anne Jason the sister, &c.

Adm. with will twice unadmin., passed July 1798.

¹ Register of St. George's Chapel, Mayfair, “1745, May 14, Mr. George Spark & Mrs. Catherine Jason, of St. James, Westmr.”

VI. Sir Robert Jason, the second son of the fourth Baronet, succeeded, on the death of his brother in 1728, as sixth Baronet. He was educated at Balliol College, Oxford, and married Miss Mary Collins, of Herts, 20 June 1736, but died without issue in May 1738, when the Baronetcy became extinct. Owing to some youthful indiscretions he was, after a trial in Court of Common Pleas at Westminster, cast in damages of £1,000 to Dingley Goodere, Esq., son of Sir Robert Goodere, Bart. (Gent. Mag., May 10, 1732).

Jason, Robert, son of Robert, of Hinton Green, co. Gloucester, Baronet, Balliol Coll. Matric. 29th March 1729, æt. 17 (Foster's Alumni Oxon).

5 May 1738, died Sir Robert Jason (lately) in Worcestershire (Gent. Mag.).

REGISTER OF PARISH CHURCH, HINTON-ON-THE-GREEN.

[P.C.C. 57, HENCHMAN.]

1737, March 6. Sr. Robert Jason. I, Sr Robert Jason of Hinton on the Green, co. Gloucester, Barronet, &c., last will, &c. I give, &c. unto my dear wife Dame Mary Jason all my lands, &c., within the Counties of Gloucester and Oxford or elsewhere . . . also all the rest and residue of my estate as well real as personal . . . whom I make and constitute sole executrix.
Robert Jason.

Witns., John Stephens, Willm. Whisell, Anthony Hyde.

Proved at London 27 March 1738/9 by Dame Jane Jason, otherwise Swayne (wife of Joseph Swayne, Esq.), the sole executrix.

A few months after her husband's death, Lady Mary Jason was married to Mr. Joseph Swayne, who thus became possessed of the bulk of the Jason property. According to Rudder's Gloucestershire, ed. 1779, "Mr. Joseph Swayne, of Bristol", sold before 1750 the Manor of Hinton on the Green "with the rest of the Jason estate to Dr. Stephens, who left it to his brother Philip Stephens the present owner".

1738, Oct. 1.—Joseph Swayne of Herefordshire, Esq., marry'd to Lady Jason, widow of Sir Robert Jason of Gloucestershire, Bart. (Gent. Mag.).

REGISTERS OF ST. GEORGE'S, HANOVER SQUARE.

1738, Oct. 1.—Joseph Swayne of Weston, co. Heref., Esqr., B., & Dame Mary Jason of Hinton on the Green, co. Glouc., W., Lic., Arch. Cant.

Frances Jason is the only sister of the last Baronet of whom any issue is recorded. From private memoranda in his possession, Mr. E. M. S. Parker gives the note, "Frances Jason born February ye 13th 1706". She was married to Mr. John Stanford Perrott,¹ of Highfield, Bitton, co. Gloucester, at Evesham, 16th April 1727, and was buried at Brislington (Somerset) 25 Aug. 1776. A daughter Cæcilia Perrott was married, 12th May 1768, at Old Sodbury, to William Parker, of Upton House, Upton Cheyney, Bitton, co. Gloucester, from whom descend the present owners of this property (vide, Pedigree of the Parker Family, by Mr. E. Milward Seede Parker).

ROLL V.

14 Oct. 1673.—View of Frank pledge with the Court Baron of Thomas Estcourt, knight, held there 14 Oct., 25 Charles II, a.d. 1673, before Richard Goodenough, then steward there.

ESSOIN.

Jurors of our Lord the King.

Giles Millard	John Collins
Thomas Isgar	William Tompson
William Goslet	Philip Hayes
John Martin	Alexander Hayes
Richard Harris	Richard Davis
Isaac Manning	John Neale
John Long	Thomas Hobbs
Robert Hayes

The Homage.

Robert Wallis	William Cove
Charles Gale	Thomas Peeters
Robert Davis	William Powell
Nathaniel Deverill	Thomas Chapman
Giles Humphrys	John Holborow

PRESENTMENT OF THE KING'S JURORS.

First, the aforesaid Jurors present upon their oath that the Constable and Tithingman have not repaired the pillory and cucking-stool as ordered by the last Court, wherefore they have forfeited 10s. penalty. And it is ordered that the Bailiff of the Borough of Sherston repair and set up a pillory and "Le whipping post", and that the Constable and Tithingman set up a cuckingstool before May 1st next on pain of xs. for each of them that shall make default.

Also . . . that the bridge at Gulwell Pill is in decay [which the highway surveyors are ordered to repair before January 1st on pain of iij*s.* iij*d.*].

John Martin has not removed his tiles from Common-wood Lane, nor filled in the pits and repaired the road as ordered. [Penalty iij*s.* iij*d.* due.]

The ditches of Philip Francklyn next the highway called Sopworth Lane leading between Sherston and Sopworth need cleansing. [To be done before May 1st on pain of iij*s.* iij*d.*]

The highway in Southfield from Le Crosseway to Le Crabtree towards Will. Paradise's house is in decay. [Surveyors to repair before Dec. 21st on pain of i*s.*]

The watercourse from the gate of the curtilage of Edith Good-enough, widow, to the bridge next Will. Paradise's house needs cleansing. [The said Edith, Edmund Hort, Nathaniel Watts, Anthony Bigley, and Will. Paradise must repair each their own part before Feast of St. Andrew on pain of iij*s.* iij*d.*]

They also present that one sheep, price 2*s.* 4*d.*, another price 1*s.* 2*d.*, and two others price 2*s.*, are taken for estrayes.

They also present upon the oath of William Cove that a man called Richard Presteyn brake the common pound (parcam publicam fregit) on Dec. 14 last by breaking the gate of the s'd pound and took out of the s'd pound ten sheep therein impounded which had been caught doing damage in the common fields, And therefore the s'd Richd. Presteyn has a fine imposed on him by the Court of x*l*s.

Also they present Richard Harris to be Constable of this town for the ensuing year, and he was sworn.

Also . . . William Goslet, John Collins, or Isaac Manning to be Bailiff of the Borough of this town for the ensuing year. And the lord, by his steward, chose from them John Collins to be Bailiff. And he was sworn.

PRESENTMENT OF THE HOMAGE.

First the Homage aforesaid present on their oath that Richard Estcourt, Esquire,¹ who held of the lord freely, has died since last Court and that Thomas Estcourt, Knight, his eldest brother, lord of this Manor, is next heir.

Also it is ordered that no one depasture horses, cattle, or sheep in the sown field this year after the 24th day of June next until the clearance of the field (usque ad aperturam agri) on pain of 6s. 8d. for each offence.

Also they present, in these English words, viz., "That the Custome for breaking of the common feilds after harvest is that the tenant of the ffarm or Court-house do immediately give notice by the hayward of the riddance of the field and do break the field on the riddance herof"

Also it is ordered that no one depasture pigs in the common field before its riddance on pain of xs. a pig to be paid by its owners.

Also that no one put in the common fields any unringed pig on pain of is. a pig unringed to be paid as above.

Also they present that John Cook ought to be tithingman by custom for his copyhold tenement in whose place Richard Davis has been substituted to be tithingman for the ensuing year. And he was sworn.

The Homage lastly present that Nicholas Davis, who held of the lord by Copy Roll dated 10 Apr. 1656 a cottage and a parcel of land lying at Le Court gate containing in length 50 feet and in breadth 21 feet with appurtenances, has died since last Court, whence is no heriot, and that Thomas Davis, son of the sd. defunct, is next tenant by virtue of sd. Copy Roll, who is here present in Court and has been admitted tenant and made fealty.

Admission. To this Court came also Barbara Francklyn widow relict of Richard Francklyn, who held of the lord a messuage or tenement with appurtenances in land, meadow and pasture xxxiiij acres and one rood and common pasture for six animals in Luckley with appurtenances, and seeks to be admitted tenant of the premises by custom for her widowhood as was before presented, and she did fealty to the lord and so has been thereby admitted tenant.

Licence. At this Court the aforesaid lord granted to John Cook, who holds of the lord by Copy Roll dated 14 Apr. 1651 a holding containing a messuage and forty acres and two roods of land, meadow and pasture whether more or less, specified in the same Copy of

Court Roll, and one Le Lott of underwood with appurtenances, licence of demising or letting to farm all and singular the premises to any honest person or persons for any term or terms of years during the life of that John Cook [Proviso for render of rent and services without waste]. And for this Licence the sd. John gave the lord ij l. fine.

Queries.

Eyre of Wilts.—The following entries from the Register of Codford St. Peter, Wilts, refer to Christopher Eyre and his family. Can he be identified with any Eyre mentioned in Mr. Hartigan's notes on the Eyre family? (Wilts Notes & Queries, vols. iv and v.)

1611, September 9, Alice wife of Christopher Eyre, gent., buried.

1613, February 6, Ann daughter of Christopher Eyre, buried.

1614, February 8, Elizabeth wife of Christopher Eyre, buried.

1623, July 31, Christopher Pouldon and Elizabeth Eyre married.

The Poulden entries in the Register are scanty; it seems from a Monumental Inscription in the Church that the Pouldon Family belonged to Imber. Mr. Hartigan mentions the marriage of Martha, daughter of Robert Eyre and Elizabeth his wife daughter of Edward Warre, and Thomas Polden, of Imber, Wilts. Martha Eyre was baptised 28 July 1670; the date of this marriage is not given.

1625, May 9, Thomas son of Christopher Poulden, baptized.

1626, April 11, Christopher Poulden, gent., buried.

1700, Sept. 30, Thomas Pouldon, gent., of Trowbridge, buried.

South Wall of Tower in Codford St. Peter Church. M.I.

Banning Family.—Councillor Banning, of Chicago, is engaged in tracing out the English origins of the Bannings, some of whom have made their mark in the history of the United States. Mr. Banning seeks to connect with John Banning, of Burbage, B.A. 1630 and M.A. 1634, whose grandfather was John Banning, also of Burbage. The will of the latter is given below.

I should be glad of any information about one James, who emigrated from Milton, or is supposed to have done so. The chief clue is a sampler worked by Mary Ayres or Eyre, whose maiden name was Griffiths, and who married secondly John Banning, born 1705 and died at Milton 1772. A relative visited England from America and returned there with the sampler, which still exists.

Havers' Family (p. 333).—The Visitation of London, 1634, gives a return made by Gilbert Havers of Bridge Within as follows:—"Gilbert Havers, of Swansthorpe in com. Norfolk, married Francis, da. of Thomas Nash, of Swansthorpe (vide Vis. of Norfolk) and the third son of this marriage was Gilbert Havers, of London, draper, 'now living 1633', who by his marriage with Jane, da. of Sir Hugh Hammersley, knt. and alderman, had a family—Hugh Havers (eld. son), Gilbert Havers, Mary Havers, Jane Havers.

Church-Houses in Wilts (p. 335).—The Church-House at Lacock was still standing in 1776. In a survey of the estate of John Talbot, Esq., and of lands in the Parish of Lacock, subject to the payment of Tithes, made by John Overton, Land Surveyor, and other assistants, in 1764, which is in my possession, it is described as "the Church House, over which is a Vestrey Room & Hall, where is keep't y^e Court Baron and Leet, for the Mannor of Lacock". The measure is given as 5 perches, and the reference number to the map, also in my possession, is 460.

The site was to the west of and immediately adjoining the churchyard, which the building appears to have touched. On its north side it was close to and faced Church Street, which in that part is of considerable width and was the original Market Place.

When the Courts were held, on the 16th of October

1776, the Homage of the Court Baron made this presentment:—"Also they Present that by Divers complaints of the Parish of a nuisance of the Inhabitants in the Church Yard called the Church House to be removed under the Penalty of twenty shillings". I suppose that this means that the Church House was presented as "a nuisance of the Inhabitants", though I have heard those words interpreted otherwise, as implying that persons were living in the Church House. That is possible, and there certainly is a note, written a few years later, against Number 460, of the Survey of 1764, as follows:—"The Parish claims this Dwelling, as well as Mr. Talbot and Mr. Montagu; it has been repair'd at y^e Parish Expençe"—but I should hardly expect the Church House to be described as "this Dwelling", and the note may perhaps have been intended to refer to the immediately preceding entry (No. 462)—"A Tenement in occupation of the Parish Clerk, by Permission of Mr. Talbot"—which measured 4 perches. The nature of Mr. Montagu's claim is not stated.

Whether the site was ever actually included within the limits of the churchyard or not, I do not know. The entry in the Court Roll, which I have quoted above, is the only instance in which I have seen it apparently so described.

After the demolition of the Church House, these two adjacent holdings (numbers 460 and 462) were thrown into one, forming a yard of 9 perches, which was known as the Manor Yard, and for some considerable time after, when the Courts were held, they used to "open Court" at the "old Manor Yard", and then adjourn to the Red Lion Inn. The site is now garden ground.

There is a good deal more that I might say, arising indirectly out of this subject, but on the present occasion I confine myself to pointing out the former existence of a Church-House at Lacock, and the approximate date of its removal.

Aubrey (Wilts Collections, ed. 1862) writes under Christian Malford, "Here is, in the green, a very faire Church-howse, where at Midsummer is a famous Revell". Canon Jackson in a note says that it "after being long used as a Poor-House, has been taken down". This then must have been standing at the time Bishop Seth Ward drew up his Notitia, though not mentioned in them. Aubrey also tells us that the Church-house at Nettleton was standing in his day, but apparently occupied as a private residence—"The Church-howse was the handsome stone house thereby (i.e. the church), with a cross on the end of it".

Bishopstone, South Wilts (p. 331).—Charles Vaughan married Bridget, daughter of Sir John Newton, Knight. The shield of Arms referred to by Mr. Were is on the west wall of the north transept of Bishopstone Church: at some earlier restoration, the Vaughan monument, of which it formed part, was, for some reason or other, divided, the arms set up on the west wall and the inscription on the east wall opposite.

When the Revd. George Augustus Montgomery undertook an extensive restoration of the Church [See Wilts Arch. Mag., vol. x, p. 237], the inscription was removed: probably it was in a very dilapidated condition. Mrs. Montgomery made a copy of it and this copy is pasted into the cover of the current Burials Register of the Parish, which begins in 1813; under this copy of the inscription, in Mr. Montgomery's writing, are these words, "In the north transept of Bishopstone Church, almost effaced. The Arms opposite". The inscription, all in capitals, runs:—

"Here lyeth the body of Charles Vaughan of Toune Esquire, sonne of Sir Richard Vaughan of Brodwardine in the County of Heref' Knight and of Bridget, wife of the sayde Charles, daughter of Syr John Newton Knight and also of An Vaughan, wife of Walter Vaughan Esquire, daughter of the saide Bridget and sole heyre of Richard Hannam of Wimborne Minster in the County of Dorset Esquire obiit Carolus . . . Vaughan 22 M . . . et ætatis suæ . . . 2"

I have examined the arms since reading Mr. Were's Query, comparing them with a sketch made some years ago : they are not all very distinct ; it would be of interest if Mr. Were could kindly identify them.

1 Sable, 3 boys heads coupéd proper crined or en-wrapped about the necks with snakes vert, Vaughan ; but Burke gives, sable, a chevron argent between 3 boys' heads etc., there is now no chevron on the coat at Bishopstone.

4. Gules, a fesse or between 3 lymphads argent.

5. Gules, 2 lions passant or.

6. Argent, a chevron gules in chief 3 torteaux.

7. Sable, a chevron between 3 spear heads argent.

8. Or, on a chief sable 3 martlets or. This coat is very indistinct and it is possible that there are fesses wavy or some such charge on the shield.

11. Gules, [?] 3 eagles displayed ; this is very indistinct.

12. Gules, 3 trefoils slipped in bend argent in chief a lion passant or [?] another in base ; but this coat too is indistinct.

The above 12 quarterings form a coat impaling one made up of the 12 quarterings given below ; but it must be observed that there is no more line of separation than between all the other coats on the shield:—

1. Argent, on a chevron azure 3 garbs.

2. Argent, 3 lozenges in fesse sable in chief and in base 4 ermine tails.

3. Or, 3 lozenges in fesse azure overall a bend gules.

4. Gules, 3 pears or.

5. Sable, a lion rampant or in chief and in base 3 billets or.

6. Sable, on a chevron argent between 3 lymphads argent 5 ermine tails.

7. Azure, a bend or between 6 fleurs de lys argent.
8. Argent, a fesse gules between 6 ermine tails.
9. Azure, a bend or between 6 crosses crosslet argent.
10. Sable, on a chevron or between 3 covered cups [?] an eagle displayed sable ; this charge is small and indistinct.
11. Paly of six, or and azure.
12. Argent, a saltire fleurette gules.

Charles Vaughan, the fourth son of Sir Richard Vaughan, was of Shapwick, Dorset, and Falstone, in the Parish of Bishopstone. Is Toune of the inscription an abbreviation of Falstone?

Thomas Boucher (p. 331).—I regret that I can give Mr. Pink little information beyond that contained in my article in vol. v, p. 142-4. Thomas Boucher seems to have been a gamester of some note, as Cobbett in his "Memorials of Twickenham" calls him "the famous gamester", and in Suttrell's "Historical Relation of State Affairs (vol. vi, p. 346) appears the following item:—"Thurs. 2 Sept. 1708.—Mr. Boucher, the gamester, is dead at the Bath". Thomas Boucher must not be confused with Richard Bouchier, a successful gamester or, more correctly, trickster of the same period, who died in Tothill Street, Westminster, in 1702, aged 45. Swift, in his Directions to Servants mentions the latter, and Cobbett wrongly assumes that he was referring to Thomas Boucher, of Twickenham. A long account of Richard Bouchier is given in Lucas's Memoirs of Gamesters, published in 1714, but Thomas Boucher is not mentioned.

The Close Rolls (4 Anne, pt. 10, 8) shew that "the Rt. Hon^{ble} Thomas, Lord Wharton and Lady Lucy, his wife" sold to "Thomas Boucher of Twickenham, co. Mid^t, Esquire", for £17,070, the Manor¹ of Christian Malford, the Rectory of Seagry, a close called Scarlett's in Minty, Manors and Lordships of Lee and Cleverton, and other messuages in Wiltshire, by an Indenture dated 11 July 1705.

As Boucher was M.P. for Malmesbury in 1702 he presumably owned property in Wiltshire at that date. He may perhaps have been the "Thomas Boucher" who was a Cornet in Col. Berkeleys Dragoons (4th Hussars) in 1685, this Regiment being raised mainly from West Wiltshire.

I should like to take this opportunity of correcting a clerical error in my former article in vol v. Sir Peter Vandiput bought Standlynch in 1726—not in 1736.

A Curious Door.—At Charlton next Malmesbury, in a house on the North side of "Park Street", is a door painted internally with stiff arabesque patterns, among which long old fashioned clay pipes are twice introduced among the decorations. The style seems to be seventeenth century. As the door has evidently been cut down to fit its present place, it is possible it may have come from Lord Suffolk's house and have belonged to the smoking room.

Wiltshire Notes and Queries.

JUNE, 1913.

NOTES ON THE LINEAGE OF RICHARD DE COMBE, Lord of Fitelton, Combe, and Todeworth, Sheriff of Wilts, 18 Edward I.

THE following series of extracts from original charters and other evidences relating to the De Combe family are not intended to be taken as a fully worked-out genealogy, but rather as stepping-stones to prepare the way for a more elaborate account on some future occasion. In the meantime the writer would be very grateful for any additional information, particularly as regards the descendants of the two younger sons of Richard the Sheriff, and the provenance of Edward and John Combe, who settled at Tisbury in the early part of the reign of Queen Elizabeth.

22 Henry II.—In the Pipe Roll of this year (A.D. 1175-6) there is a list of ameracements for the King's Forest in Wiltshire, in which John de Cumba accounts for xl. marks. In the treasury xxm. And he owes xxm. (Pipe Roll Society, xxv, 176.)

Original charter, undated (early thirteenth century), by which John de Cumbe grants to Thomas, son of Philip, two crofts, etc., "in my fee of Fitelton". Witnesses:—"Ric. de Herd', Ric. de Cumb, Ric. fil' Ric. de Herd', Baldewin' de Cumb, Rog. de folia, Simon' de Littlecot, Nicol' de fidelton", and others. (Ancient Deeds, P.R.O. ; C. 2,023.)

Original charter, undated (early thirteenth century), by which "Richard de Cumbe, son of John de Cumbe", grants to William, son of William, son of Osbert, one-and-a-half virgates of land in Fitelthune, with free pasture and pannage, etc. Witnesses :—Walter and Simon de Lutelcote, William Trencheforde de Netherhavene, Nicholas de Fitelthun', Reimund de Fihide, and many others. (Ancient Deeds; C. 2,227.)

14 John.—In the great 'Inquest of Service' made in the year 1212, among the holders of Knights' Fees in Wilts, it is recorded that "Simon de Cumba and Baldwin de Veer hold at Fichelton of Hubert de Burgh, and he of the King". (Testa de Nevill, p. 142.)

14 Henry III.—John Lovel and other Justices appointed to hold an assize of 'novel disseisin' at Wilton, concerning Simon de Cumba and the mill-pond at Cumbe (near Fitelton). Tested at Winchester, 15 April 1230. (Cal. Pat. Rolls, Hen. III, p. 356.)

16 Henry III.—Confirmation of sundry grants to the Prior and Canons of Bradenestoke, co. Wilts, including "the gift of Gerard, son of Simon de Cumbe", of eight-and-a-half virgates of land in Tudeworth. Dated 25 June 1232. (Cal. Charter Rolls, vol. i, p. 161.)

35 Henry III.—Nicholas de Cumbe was juror on an Inquisition concerning lands at Odestok (near Salisbury); writ dated at Clarendon, 8 June 1251. (Wilts Inquisitions, vol. i, p. 11.)

7 Edward I.—Original charter by which Simon de Combe, "son and heir of Richard de Combe", grants lands "in the ville of Fytelton" to John Gylis. (Ancient Deeds; C. 3,625.) The seal, in brown wax (no trace of impression), is still attached to the deed, and the date is quite distinct:—"Dat. anno Regni Regis Edward' septimo" (A.D. 1278-9). Assuming that the dating clause is correct (and I see no reason to doubt its accuracy), it would appear that this Simon was the father, and Richard de Combe the grandfather, of Richard the Sheriff; for the latter is styled "son and heir of Simon de Cumbe" in a deed dated at Fitelton, 9 February 1289-90. (Ancient Deeds; C. 1,991.)

Richard de Cumbe was juror on an Inquisitio post mortem taken at Clarendon; writ dated 28 October, 1279. (Wilts Inquisitions; i, 123.)

8 Edward I.—Gift to Richard de Cumbe of all the lands which Henry de Candevre, lately deceased, held of the King for life in Fitelton, to be held by the said Richard and his heirs by rendering yearly at the Exchequer 12*l*. Dated at Marlborough, 26 Feb. 1279-80. (Cal. Charter Rolls, ii, 221.)

17 Edward I.—Richard de Cumbe appointed Sheriff of Wilts, 17 October 1289. He appears to have held that office until shortly before his death, as his name occurs as Sheriff in an Inquisition at Sherston, 20 Edw. I (1292), and he died before 23 August 1293. (Cal. Fine Rolls, i, 327.) The appointment of Thomas de Sancto Omero, who succeeded him as Sheriff, is dated 2 August 1293.

From an Inquisitio post mortem, taken at Netheravon 10 September 1293, it appears that Richard de Cumbe was seised of a messuage and carucate of land at Fitelton, held of the King at fee-farm, and two carucates held of the Prior of Neufmarche; a carucate in the ville of Cumbe, held of the lord John (de Pontois), Bishop of Winchester; six bovates in Cump-ton (by Enford), held of the heirs of John de Bremmor, and a carucate held of Sir John Lovel; also a messuage and carucate of land at Todeworth, held of Sir Henry de Lacey, Earl of Lincoln; and the advowson of the Church of Fitelton. The jurors found that "Simon his son, aged 18, is his next heir"; and that the lands at Cump-ton and Todeworth were "jointly enfeoffed to the said Richard and Richard his son, and the heirs of Richard the son". (Cal. Inquisitions, iii, 66.)

Richard the Sheriff had three sons:—(1) Simon, of Fitelton, son and heir. (2) John, of Lavington, aged 22, at death of his brother Simon in 1300. His name occurs in the Nomina

Villarum, compiled 9 Edw. II (1316), as holding lands at Gore (near Market Lavington). He is probably the John de Combe, of Wilts, who was summoned to attend the muster at Berwick-upon-Tweed, 24 June 1301, "arrayed with horse and arms", and to take part in the expedition against the Scots. Dated at Northampton, 12 March 1300-1. (Parliamentary Writs, i, 350.) This John was presumably the father of Ralph de Combe, who, with Margaret his wife, conveyed "the manors of La Lee and La Gore, by Lavynton", in 1340, to Sir John de Molyns. (Fines, Wilts; Easter, 14 Edward III.) (3) Richard, of Todeworth; of whom hereafter.

Simon de Combe, son and heir of Richard the Sheriff, was admitted to his father's lands "at Fytilton", 27 January 1293-4, having done fealty for same. (Cal. Fine Rolls, i, 335.)

In 1297, Robert de Warena was presented to the living of Fitelton by Simon de Cumb, "son and heir of the lord Richard de Cumb". (Wilts Institutions.)

Simon de Combe died before 24 October 1300, seised of lands at Fitelton, held of the King and of the Prior of Neufmarche; two marks rent at Compton, held of the Earl of Leicester,¹ by service of one-seventh knight's fee, and lands at Combe, held of the Bishop. The jurors found that John de Combe, his brother, aged 22, was his next heir apparent, but that Alice his widow was then with child. (Inquisitio post mortem, "at Ambresbyry", 4 December, 29 Edw. I.) A writ of Plenus certiorari was accordingly issued; and an Inquisition held at Netheravon, 8 June 1301, which states that "the said Alice has borne a son by the same Simon, named Richard, who is aged ten weeks, and next heir of Simon". (Cal. Inquisitions, iii, 503.)

Richard de Combe, posthumous son of Simon and Alice, born 1301, was in wardship to Master Richard de Abenden, who, as his custodian, presented to the living of Fitelton in 1307.

¹ Thomas, Earl of Lancaster and Leicester; married, in 1294, Alice, sole heiress of Henry de Lacy, Earl of Lincoln; and was beheaded in 1322.

He was still in the charge of "Richard Dabynton" in 1316. (Nomina Villarum; and Parliamentary Writs, ii, 710.) In 1322, being then of age, he presented to the living of Fitelton; and, in 1323, he gave a portion of the tithes of Hakeneston, in the same parish, to Thomas de London.

In 1324, "Simon de Combe, de Fitelton", was summoned to attend the Great Council at Westminster, "on Wednesday next after Ascension Day". (Parliamentary Writs, ii, 710.) I cannot account for this entry, unless the name "Simon" was inadvertently substituted for "Richard" in making out the writ.

In 1325, "Richard de Coumbe, junior", recognized the right of John de Cyrencester and Thomas de London, to lands and rents in Coumbe by Fitelton, and Compton by Eneford, by fine levied in Mich. Term, 19 Edw. II. This transaction was evidently by way of settlement. He married Maud (alias Matilda), daughter and eventual heir of Hildebrand de London, Chevalier, lord of Axford, co. Wilts,¹ by Margaret his wife, daughter of Sir Geoffrey de Morley. Sir Robert de London, her brother, is stated to have married Elizabeth, daughter of John, Lord Lovel; and died without issue. (Lans. MS., 205, f. 61.)

Richard and Maud had issue:—Richard, son and heir; Walter, died without issue; and Felicia, eventual heiress, married to Laurence de Calston, lord of Littlecote, and had a son, Thomas de Calston, who, by Joane, daughter and co-heir of Thomas Chelcey, had an only daughter Elizabeth, heiress of Littlecote, "baptized in the second year of Henry IV", and married in 1415 to William Darell, under Treasurer of England. (Lans. MS., 205, f. 62; and Add. MS., 14,311, f. 29.)

properties being held jointly with Maud his wife, "by fine levied in the King's court". The jurors found that Richard, his son, aged 9 years, was his next heir. (Cal. Inquisitions, 3 Edw. III.)

Maud, his widow, married secondly, Robert de Rammesbury, and held the above lands, with part of Fitelton, for life. She was living in 1352, when Sir Richard de Combe, her son, undertook to grant "to Robert de Remmesbiry, and John his son, the grange towards the north, with the rooms in which Maud his mother dwells", for term of their lives. "Dated at Salesbiry, Sunday before the Purification", 26 Edward III. (Ancient Deeds ; C. 3073.)

In 1346, Sir Richard de Combe presented Robert de Ablyngton to the living of Fitelton ; and, in 1354, "Sir Richard de Combe, knight, lord of Fitelton, and Margaret his wife", granted certain lands "to Master Robert de Ablynton, Rector of the Church of Fytelton". (Ancient Deeds ; C. 1062.)

By charter, dated at Fitelton, "on Monday after the feast of St. James the Apostle", 26 Edw. III, i.e. 30 July 1352, Sir Richard granted "to Robert de Remmesbury" (his step-father) 360 acres of land at Fitelton, together with certain bondmen, their issue, and all their goods ; also the fishing in his mill-pond at Fitelton, "which Henry de Candevre formerly held as part of the Manor of Fitelton". Witnesses:—"Joh'ne Euerard, Joh'ne de Harnam, Waltero de Combe, Henrico de Todeworth, Joh'ne Cammois", and others. (Ancient Deeds ; C. 2455.) The fine armorial seal appended to this interesting document is in excellent preservation. An enlarged reproduction of same forms the Frontispiece to this Volume.

In Lansdown MS. 205,¹ the Arms assigned to the De Combes of Fitelton are:—"Sable, three lions passant gold", and I understand that this coat was quartered by the Calstons in right of Felecia de Combe, sister and heir to Sir Richard, and wife of Laurence de Calston. (See also Glover's Ordinary.) But the armorial bearings upon the seal are clearly "Ermine, three leopards (gules)", and this blazon is confirmed by the following entry on Jenyns' Roll of Arms (late fourteenth century), which reads:—"Richard de Combe, port d'ermynne a Trois leopards leonceaulx passantz de goules" (Cotton MSS., Tib. E. ix, f. 239). It should be noted, however, that there is another entry on the same Roll, which differs slightly from the above, viz:—"Richard de Combe, d'ermynne a trois leonceaux passantz de goules"—the difference being that, in the first example, the lions are intended to be drawn "full face" (as in the seal), and in the second they are "in profile". I am informed that, in early heraldry, "the lion looking sidelong towards the spectator is called a leopard". Why the Elizabethan copyist should have made these two entries, for the same individual, remains a mystery. Both entries are on the same page, but one is near the top and the other at the bottom.

In Hutchins' Dorset (1st edition, 1774) there is an "Index of Arms of Nobility and Gentry residing in the County of Dorset", in which this latter coat, viz.: "Erm., 3 lions passant G.", is attributed to the Combes of Hanley,¹ who also owned property at Frome St. Quintin and Mapperton in that county. The same Arms are said to have been impaled by Robert Grove, of Donhead, co. Wilts, gent., who married Joane, daughter of John Combe of Canne, near Shaston, circa 1530;² and they were also borne by Dr. Matthew Combe, of Winchester (great-grandson of John Combe, of Place House, in Tisbury), who died in 1749, and was buried in Winchester Cathedral, where his Arms of Combe, impaling Oglander, may still be seen. And the descendants of Edward Combe, of Bridesor in Tisbury, and of Norton Ferrers Manor, co. Somerset, have used the same armorial bearings for many generations.

After this somewhat lengthy digression, we return to Sir Richard de Combe, who, by deed dated at Kyngesmill 26 Jan. 1357-8, appears to have undertaken to exchange certain lands "in the Ville and fields of Compton by Enforde", with Adam de Kyngesmill, for lands belonging to the latter at Kyngesmill and Bricor.

A transcript of the above deed is preserved in Harleian MS. 1,623, f. 22, and, from another document in the same collection of Combe muniments, we gather that the relations between the Squire and Parson of Combe, at this period, were not particularly cordial. For we read that "Sir Richard de Combe, then lord of Fydelton and Combe, presented Sir Thomas Cok, who served the said Chapel [of Combe] until the first Pestilence, which was in the year 1348.¹ And, shortly after, the aforesaid Sir Richard expelled the said Sir Thomas, on account of some fault placed on him by Sir Thomas. He then presented Sir Ralph de Dounton, whom he also expelled, by reason of some scandal attributed to him by Sir Ralph, and then presented John de Arderne, whom he expelled after a whole year and recalled Sir Ralph, whom he also expelled after a year, and then presented Sir Roger Bacon, and agreed with him to remain and serve the said Chapel for all his life. Both Sir Richard and the priest died in the Second Pestilence, viz., in the year of our Lord 1361. After which, in the following year, William Holbech was then lord of Fydylton and Combe".

The exact date of Sir Richard's death is not known, but there is a charter at the P.R.O. in Norman French, executed "on Sunday after St. Peter in Cathedra", 35 Edw. III (25 Jan. 1360-1), by "Mons. Richard de Combe, Chevr." concerning the partition of the Manor of Fytelton, and the advowson of the Church there. (Ancient Deeds, C. 1,120.) And he was living in April of that year, when "Sir Richard de Coumbe, Chevr., and Margaret his wife", were parties to a Fine of the same Manor and advowson. (Fines, Wilts; Easter, 35 Edw. III.)

As he died without issue (Lans. MS., 205, f. 62), the senior male line of the family became extinct, and the representation devolved upon the descendants of the two younger sons of Richard the Sheriff, his great-grandfather. (See p. 435-6.)

DREW, OF SOUTHBROOM.

JOHN DREW, of Southbroom, son and heir of Robert, last mentioned, became the purchaser from Henry Brewyn, of Rownor, co. Hants (son of Sir John Brewyn, knt., then deceased), of the manor of Rangeborne, with its appurtenances, which had been previously leased to his grandfather, in 1504, by William Rengeborne. The conveyance is dated 21 November, 20 Elizabeth [1582], the amount of the purchase money being £370. By his wife Elinor, daughter of William Cooke, of Lacock,¹ who was buried at St. James's, Southbroom, 4 May 1586, he had four sons, Robert, Michael (who married Mary, daughter of Thomas Baylye, of Devizes), John, and Henry, the latter of whom, as B.A. from Corpus Christi College, Oxford, was admitted to the Middle Temple in 1608. By his will, dated 25 June 1614, this owner of Southbroom bequeathed to the poor the sum of eighteen shillings yearly, out of a tenement in Devizes, to be distributed on Good Friday. This is now a rent charge on land known as "Bell Close", part of the Southbroom property. He was buried 16 August 1614, at St. John's, Devizes, and his funeral sermon, preached there on the 30th of that month by the Rev. George Ferebie, Vicar of Bishop's Cannings,¹ from II Samuel, xiv c, 14 verse, was published in the following year.² His eldest son and heir,

ROBERT DREW, baptized at St. James's Southbroom, 18 January 1574, matriculated at Oxford in 1591. He was several times elected as one of the representatives of the Borough of Devizes, in the Parliaments of Elizabeth, James I, and Charles I, and held, jointly with John Grubbe, of Potterne, a lease of the episcopal manor of Bishop's Cannings, from the Bishop of Salisbury. He also held, jointly with Thomas Lambert,³ the manor or farm in Coulston called "Fostrill Ferme". He married Jane, second daughter of John Jackman, citizen and grocer, son of Edward Jackman, Alderman and Sheriff of London.⁴ Of their family—numbering at least thirteen children—six sons and five daughters, were living at the Herald's Visitation of the County in 1623. From Robert, of Devizes, the second son, baptized 1604, who matriculated at Oxford 1621, was a barrister-at-law, admitted to the Middle Temple 1632, and buried at St. James's, Southbroom 1671, descended a younger branch afterwards represented by the Warminster and Devizes families of Marsh, and

Hughes. The sixth son, Thomas, who matriculated 1632, was B.A. in 1633. Of the five daughters, Elinor, the eldest, married John Sanforde; Frances, first the wife of Sefton Jones, of Keevil, married secondly John Wadman, of Imber, and was buried at Westbury in 1681; Margaret married Henry White; and to Sarah, a younger daughter, at the age of 15, belongs apparently the licence to eat flesh in Lent, granted by the curate of Southbroom in 1632, and printed below. Their mother Jane (neè Jackman) was buried at St. James's, Southbroom, 23 January 1642, as was also their father, two years later on 24 January 1644.

JOHN DREW, the eldest son and heir, baptized 13 November 1602, matriculated at Oxford 1621, a barrister-at-law, was, like his younger brother, Robert, admitted to the Middle Temple in 1632, and in the same year had license to marry Elizabeth, daughter of Sir Humphrey Lynd, Knt. After his marriage he seems to have resided at Poulshot (1640),¹ and, four years later, on his succeeding to the Southbroom property at his father's death, came the outbreak of the Civil War, when, in the summer of 1645, his house there, described as "a stately place," is said to have been demolished by Sir Charles Lloyd, to whom the king had committed the military governorship of Devizes castle and borough. He had lived to see evil days, and may be the "Mister John Drew" whose burial on 21 May 1647, is recorded in St. John's Parish Register. He left an only son, still a boy,

JOHN DREW, of Southbroom, baptized 22 June 1635, at St. James', Southbroom, and married there, 13 November, 1654, to Elizabeth Mitchell, apparently of the family of Mitchell, of Calston. Their two children, both predeceased their father, who died, at the early age of 26, on 23 September 1660, and was buried at St. John's, which he describes in his will as "my family's ancient burial place," implying perhaps that his father, as well as his great grandfather, had also been interred there.

With his death the elder line of Drew, who, from the time of Henry VII had been resident at Southbroom, became extinct. A posthumous daughter, Elizabeth, baptized in 1661, most probably died young, and his widow married, as a second husband, Sir Henry Andrews, of Lathbury, co. Bucks. Two of their children, Anne and Elizabeth, who died young, were buried at St. John's, in 1669 and 1671, Margaret, the only survivor, also dying 4 May 1680.¹

At this latter date the Drew property at Southbroom had passed, by purchase, to John Eyles, of the City of London, who, in 33 Charles II (1680-1) also purchased from Edward Hope, of Devizes, some two acres of coppice ground, in the parish of Potterne "abutting the king's highway leading from Devizes to Potterne on the north, and upon the Greate pond, late the pond of Sir Henry Andrewes Bart., and now of the said John Eyles, on the east, and upon a parcel of ground called Lymehills on the south".

The pleadings in the suit¹ given below show that Sir Lawrence Washington, soon after he came into possession of Garsdon Manor, had a serious dispute with his powerful neighbour at Charlton Park. The disafforesting of Bradon must have affected so many interests that we cannot be surprised many vexed questions had to be settled even after the Commissioners had given their award. Incidentally we learn that the date of the disafforesting was about 1630.

TO THE RT. HON. THOS. LORD COVENTRY, LORD KEEP'R OF THE GREAT SEALE OF ENGLAND. 21 JUNE, 1632.

Your orator Sir Lawrence Washington, Knt., Register of this hon. Court and lord of the manor of Garsdon, co. Wilts; Richard Woodroffe, ¹*Chancery Proceedings* Chas. I, W. 2, No. 17, Bills and Answers.

Clerk, Rector of Garsdon; Anthony Hungerford, gent.; Bartholomew Hawkes; John Hurlebat; Wm. Mudge; John Millard; Simon Otteridge; Nichs. Munden; Thos. Hayward; Ferdinando Gingell; Katherine Cobbe, wid.; Robert Downe, als. Buckland; John Griffin; Hugh Strongford; Nichs. Pantinge; David Gray; Thos. Gingell; Hen. Garlicke and Richd. Woodroffe, copyholders and leaseholders of sd. manor, complain that they used to enjoy com'on of pasture for all manner of beasts levant and courant in the wastes, woodgrounds, marrishes and purlieus within the severall manors and parishes of Brinkworth, Brokenboro and Charlton, and by all the time within the memory of man had right to drive cattle into these wastes, etc., to fodder, etc., at all times of the year without disturbance, except that the lords of the sd. manors time out of mind caused certaine drifts to be made of all beasts feeding there and did drive them to their several pounds and impound the owners, who if they had a right of com'on there could take them out free of charge and drive them back again, but otherwise being strangers had to pay a fine to take their cattle out of the pound your orator can prove that time out of mind the tenants of Garsdon manor and parson of the glebe in Garsdon did take their cattle out of the pound without payment . . . nevertheless now of late, about the Feast of St Michael tharchangel, last past, the Rt. Hon. Thos. Earle of Berkshire, now lord of the manors of Brinkworth, Brokenboro' and Charlton, being misinformed by some ill-disposed persons as to the rights of the lord, tenants and rector of Garsdon manor, or pretending that they are now extinct by some pretended unitie of poss'n heretofore in the sd. manors together with the manor of Garsdon upon the dissolution of the Abbie, hath caused the sd. Hon. Earle to enclose the severall wasts, etc., so that your orators are entirely debarred from putting their cattle in . . . for your orators Bartholomew Hawkes and John Hurlebat have put in cattle which twice have been impounded to their great inconvenience, and threats have been made that if necessary they will be impounded twenty times . . . your orator prayeth that the Hon. Earle may be called upon to discover by what right he has made these enclosures and interrupted the sd. rights of com'on seeing that he took the sd. manors charged with the sd. com'ons and they were enjoyed by your orators when the sd. Hon. Earle came into possession of them.

An answer to the above Complaint was filed by Thomas, Earl of Berkshire, on 3rd December 1632, to the following effect:—

The sd. manor of Garsdon and this defendent's manors of Brinkworth, Brokenboro' and Charlton were parcell of the possessions of the late dissolved monasterie of Malmesbury, each having their own wastes, etc., and known by their several bounds, all adjoininge his Majestie's late forest of Bradon . . the lords of the above manors and also of several others, having wastes adjoining the forest of Bradon, used and claymed for themselves and their tenants com'ons in sd. forest before the same was disafforested about two years since; at which time these several lords were barred from their com'ons in the sd. forest upon His Majestie's enclosure of his soil by decree of the Hon. Court of the Exchequer. It is true that during such usage of com'ons in the forests the several wastes of the manors being purlieus of the forests were by the several lords of the manors used for com'ons . . . Sir Laurance Washington and the other complainants did formerly com'on their beasts in the wastes, etc., mentioned in the Bill and also in those of other lords of manors adjoining the forest, but your defendant doth not think this was of right but only for convenience in their use of com'ons in the forest of Bradon according to forest laws . . during this confusion of com'oning your defendant thinketh the com'oning was little worth and often beasts having no right there got in. It is true that your defendant hath caused his wastes, woods, etc. to be enclosed to make some improvement thereof, which he hopeth is lawful, the cause moving him is that the forest of Braydon being disafforested by His Majesty and his soil therein enclosed and also other lords having enclosed their wastes adjoining the forest, the said complainants would have made a prey of this defendant's wastes otherwise. It is true that your defendant did from time to time order drifts to be made over these wastes, but this was not to distinguish who had right of com'ons there, but rather to find the cattle of strangers who had no right of com'on in the forest of Braydon. Your defendant is imformed that any right of com'ons of the lord of Garsdon manor over wastes of the other sd. manors is extinct by unity of possession according to the Rules of Law . . . it is true that by his orders the cattle of those placed on his wastes have been impounded . . he denieth that he took the sd. manors charged with these com'ons, also if the plaintiffs have any right of com'ons remaining yet their right is to have equal rights in wastes of other manors adjoining the forest as well as his, which amount not to a third part of the wastes contributing to such their pretended right of com'ons . . notwithstanding, for the good of the countrie and for quietness sake your defendant will allow a third part of such wastes in sd. manors on behalfe of the tenants of the Manor of Garsdon, together with the tenants of other manors adjoining as have been demanded.

¹ Chancery Proceedings, Chas. I, W. 71, No. 52; also W. 120, No. 91, Bills and Answers.

Lawrence was the owner of the Manor of Westbury, in the county of [?] Bucks.

Sir Lawrence lived to see the outbreak of the struggle which brought ruin and disaster to so many families and often divided those most closely connected by the ties of blood and friendship.

All the Washingtons were, however, united in their allegiance to the King and from the petition¹ put in by his son-in-law, Sir John Tyrrell, when he was obliged to compound we obtain particulars of Sir Lawrence's illness and death at Oxford in May 1643.

May it please this honorable Com'ittee to take notice that I was Sequestered for being at Oxford, and the occasions of my going thither weare these :—Sir Lawrence Washingto', my wife's father (haueing noe more children besides my wife and one son'e, then under age), carried my wife fro' my house att Springfield, in Essex, to his house at Garsden, in Wilts, that midsmo'er before the warrs began, and she being with child sent for me about Christmas after, whereuppo' I p'cured a Passe from the Lords and Com'ons of ye Close Com'ittee to travel to her, and about Shrouetide after I got to Garsden, where the King Com'anded by his Garison in Malmesbury; soone after Sir Lawrence went to attend the Seale at Oxford, being ill before and at ye tyme of his goeing, but ye disease being quicker uppo' him (for it began w'th a gentle flux), and his sonne lying there also desperately sick, and his man sending m' word he spake of my com'ing, for ye settleing of his Estate by deed (w'ch accordingly he did) uppo' his sonne and after uppo' his daughter, I went to Oxford; where Sir Lawr. shortly died, and his sonne hardly escaped, and then I returned to Garsden. Then my wife being sick at ye Bath and haueing spent o'r mon'ys, I went shortly after to Bracly to my Tenant; and then p'cureing a Passe fro' my L. of Essex, I came to Londo' last January was twelve months and found my estate sequestered, and soone after my goods and stock weare sold; and I attended the L. and Com'ons of ye honar'ble Com'ittee for Sequestratio's till I was heard, and after aboad in Londo' till mich. lost, when haueing no means longer to subsist I repaired to Springfield, in Essex, to my wife and childre', where I aboad till about 3 weeks since.

I gave £10 to the first Propositions. I have payd the 5th and 20th p't to the full, as appears by Certificate of ye Com'ittee at Chelmsford. I have taken ye National Covenant. I have payd all Rates without distresse before I was sequest'ed; and . . . except £50 to Habber-dasher's Hall last Mich. for 20th p't, which I hope I am . . . that my Certificate saith I haue payd to the Full. My goods have been sold and stock. My estate in Northamto'sheire lost and utterley spoiled. I had a Passe to goe into ye K. Quarters, and was at Ox. before or when the Ordenance for Sequestratio's bears date; the occatio' was a greate Concerne unto me, to wit ye settleing Sir Lawr. whole estate by intaile; And my owne land near Brackley. I never boar Arams; nor assisted ye K. Nor kissed his hand whilst I was there.

Y'r humble Servant,

24^o April 1645.

At that time [Ogilby's Britannia Depicta] the main road from Oxford to Bristol lay through Highworth and Malmesbury, passing the entrance gates of Garsdon Churchyard and the Manor. By this route the funeral cortege would have passed conveying the mortal remains of Sir Lawrence Washington, Knt., to his last earthly resting place in the quiet village church where shortly before his daughter had been buried, and where some two years afterwards his wife also was interred.

Sir Lawrence's will, dated 11 May 1643, and proved the 23rd following at Oxford where he died by his son, is given below :—

WILL OF SIR LAWRENCE WASHINGTON, KNIGHT.

[Now at Somerset House.]

In the name of God, Amen. This is the last will and Testament of mee, Sir Lawrence Washington, of Garsden, in the County of Wilts, knight, made the eleventh day of May, Anno D'ni 1643, and in the nyneteenth yeare of the reigne of our soveraigne Lord King Charles over England. Imprimis, I comend my Soule into the hands of God that gave it and my body to Christian buryall in the parish church of Garsden aforesaid, And my will is that such decent solempnityes bee vsed at my funeralls, as in the discrecion of my executor hereafter named shalbee thought fitting and therein to bee moderate without excesse. Item, I give and bequeath to my loving daughter, the Lady Tirrell, my dyamond Ring. Item, I give and bequeath vnto my nephew, Symon Horsepoole, the somm of One Hundred pounds. It'm, I give and bequeath to my faithfull servant, Francis Cliffe, the somme of Twoe hundred pounds. Item, I give and bequeath vnto Allen Moore, my servant, Fifty pounds. Item, I give and bequeath to my servants, Thomas Benson and William Frame, to each of them Twenty pounds a piece. All w'ch said severall Legacyes my will and pleasure is shalbee paid w'thin the space of Twoe yeares after my decease. Item, I give unto the Poore of Garsden the Somme of Twelve pence a weeke for ever, to bee distributed either in money or bread every Sunday morning ym'eadyately after divine service at the p'ish Church of Garsden aforesaid, Either by some person to bee appoynted by my heires for that purpose or otherwise by the Minister, churchwardens and overseers of the poore for the same p'ish or some of them whoe shall yearly accompt for the same to the Justices of the Peace for the said County of Wilts vpon their Accompts for the Poore. And my further will is that the same twelve pence a weeke for ever bee charged vpon my Mannor and Lands in Garsden or vpon some parte thereof by my sonne and heire by sufficient assurance or decree in Chancery w'thin one year after my disease. Executor of this my last will and testament I make and ordayne my lovinge sonne Lawrence Washington, desiring him to see this my will in all things performed. Revoaking hereby all former and other wills in witnes wherof I have hereunto sett my hand and Seale the day and yeare first above written.

[Signed] WASHINGTON.

Signed, sealed, published and declared by the said Sir Lawrence Washington, to be his last will and testament in the presence of us, Vnton Croke, Charles Erton [?], Esay Laaken, Wal : Wightman.

NOTES ON THE FAMILY OF JASON OF BROAD SOMERFORD.

There remain a few further matters to be mentioned which have been accidentally omitted. Although the exact date of the sale by the Jasons of the Manor of Somerford Mautraves has not been ascertained, the following recitement of deeds in the draft of an Indenture Quadripartite, drawn up on the occasion of the purchase of the Advowson in 1704 by the Rev. Richard Hutchins, B.D., throws some light upon the point.

By Indenture bearing date 23 March 1671, made between Sir Robert Jason of Enfield, co. Middlesex, Barron't, of the one part, and Robert Morris, citizen and scriv'r, of London, of the other part, the sd. Robert Jason did graunt, bargain, &c., unto to the sd. Robert Morris the Mannor of Somerford Mautravers and the Rectory of the parish Church and divers lands in the sd. parish, To have and to holde for the full term of 500 years, &c. Also the sd. Sir Robert Jason and Robert Jason, Esq., his son and heir apparent, by their recognizance in ye nature of a Statute Staple bearing date 7 June 1673 became bound unto s'd Robert Morris in £3,000, And the sd. term of years and estate of the sd. Robt. Morris in the sd. Mannor, &c., and also the sd. Statute Staple did since come unto and vest in Richd. Chiswell, citizen and scaconer [sic], of London, and Joseph Avis, citizen and merchant taylor, of London, in trust for Matthew Bluck of Hunsdon, co. Hertford, Esq., and Richd. Webb of ye Inner Temple. London, Esq., And the absolute freehold inheritance, &c., of the premises being purchased by Sir Richard Hawkins of London, Knt., in his lifetime, the same by virtue of his last will, &c., were vested in the sd. Matthew Bluck and Richd. Webb.

In the Hackney Pedigree, Henry Jason is said to have died in 1686.

Bills and Answers] occur Whitrowe v. Jason, W. 37, No. 27; Whitrowe v. Jason, W. 124, No. 57; Jason v. Prideaux, I. and J. 5, No. 5; Jason v. Jason, I and J. 33, No. 88; Jason v. Raynton, I and J 33, No. 91; also among Chancery Proceedings (P.R.O. These suits have to do either with money matters or disputes between Sir Robert Jason and members of his family in the settlement of his father's affairs. Chancery Proceedings (P.R.O. Milford), Jason, als. Jackson and wife, v. Woollaston Middlemore, and Price, 4 Feb. 1621, is of more interest. This action was brought by Robert Jason (als. Jackson) and his wife Frances, eldest daughter of Henry Woollaston, late citizen and draper of London, dec., for themselves and Robert and Susan their children (under 21) to enforce their claims under the will of Henry Woollaston, who died about 23 Nov. 1616, against Wm. Woollaston, eldest son of Henry, and Samuel Middlemore, son-in-law of Henry, exors. of the will, and Roger Price. This information confirms the entry in Burke's Landed Gentry, ed. 1843, under Wollaston of Shenton.

PATENT ROLL. 14 Henry III, m. 7.

A.D. 1229.—The King grants that Gilbert Basset, for the manor of Mereden, which belonged to Robert Boneboc, a Norman, and which Ralph Gernun holds as king's bailiff, shall receive at Ralph's hands yearly 15*li.*, viz., 7*li.* 10*s.* at Easter and Michaelmas until the king restore the manor to Robert Northampton. 3 December.

CLOSE ROLL. 14 Henry III, pt. 1, m. 20.

A.D. 1229.—The King commits during his pleasure to Gilbert Basset for his sustenance in the royal service, the manor of Mereden which Ralph Gernun held, and which was sometime in the hand of William de la Ferté. The sheriff is ordered to give him seisin thereof with its appurtenances saving to Ralph his chattels. Grimston, 19 December.

CHARTER ROLL. 14 Henry III, pt. 1, m. 2.

A.D. 1230.—The King grants to Gilbert Basset the manor of Mereden, formerly of Robert Beneboz, a Norman, to hold as Robert held it, until the king restore it to Robert of his free will or by a peace. Newark, 6 January.

CLOSE ROLL. 14 Henry III, pt. 1, m. 14.

A.D. 1230.—Gilbert Basset having shown to the king that the sheriff of Wilts delays putting him in seizin of a messuage with its appurtenances in Wilton which belongs to that land in Mereden which Gilbert has of the Normans, because Wilton is in the hand of the Earl of Cornwall, the king orders the sheriff, notwithstanding, to give him full seizin without delay. Porstock, 12 March.

CLOSE ROLL. 14 Henry III, pt. 2, m. 7.

A.D. 1230.—The King orders the Chancellor and S. de Segrave to inquire whether Ralph Gernun received the manor of Merden sown with crops when king John committed it to him, or whether bare, as Ralph himself says, and if by inquest it shall be found that manor was sown when he received it, then the corn which Ralph has sown this 14th year of the king's reign shall remain to Gilbert Basset, but if found to have been bare and waste as Ralph asserts, then of the corn of the present year, they are to give seizin to Ralph to dispose of at will. Nantes, 7 June.

Queries.

Long Family.—Can anyone help me to identify and place in the Long pedigree of Wilts the following members of the Long family?

- (i) Wm. Manbye, of St. Hallows, London, heir to his uncle Hy. Manbye, of Cirencester, in 1633 married Alice daughter of Henry Long, of Milsham (? Melksham).
- (ii) Henry Long married a daughter of Sir Edward Bayntun
- (iii) Horrod or Herodias Long married John Hicks, in St. Faith's, under the old St. Paul's Cathedral.

W. CHITTY.

Orientation of Churches.—Certain churches are said to be orientated so that the centre line of the chancel points to the true sunrising on the day of the Dedication, as e.g., Churches dedicated to All Saints would lie to the point at which the sun rises on November 1. But it is found that not only is there no such orientation in numerous cases, but there are instances in which the inclination is in the opposite direction, i.e., that churches which, according to this supposed rule should incline south of true east, are actually found to incline north. Can any reader state the extent or limitations of the supposed rule, or account for the exceptions as illustrated by the orientation of Wiltshire Churches? This of course is distinct from an inclination to represent our Saviour's head upon the Cross, as at Lichfield.

St. Thomas, Salisbury.—1. Where can I find an account of William Ludlow's tomb, destroyed in 1813? Is there any sketch extant?

2. Is it known where the beautiful ironwork in front of the Eyre Monuments in the Swayne Chapel came from?

3. What is the history (if any) of the crucifix, now, I think, enclosed with glass, carved on the buttress at the east end of the above chapel?

Buckley Family.—My great-grandfather's great-grandfather, John Buckley, jun., came to this country in 1682, having bought, in London, a large tract of land in Pennsylvania from William Penn. When he reached here he sold the land he had bought, and bought another very large tract some miles south of the original purchase. His two sisters, Mary and Martha, came over here with him in 1682, and stayed with him until he had built a fine large house on the land he bought, when they returned to England with him, he to marry a lady to whom he had been engaged before he came over here in 1682. After his marriage he returned here and lived on the estate which he had bought. His father was John Buckley of Melksham Parish, whose Will (of which I have a copy) is on file at Salisbury, and begins as follows: "I, John Buckley, yeoman, of Melksham Parish, Wilts, co.," etc. In this Will he expresses a desire to be buried with his ancestors, and he was buried August 1650 in the graveyard of S. Michael's Church, Melksham Parish. I should be glad if anyone could locate for me his residence which was at Woodrow in Melksham, also give information of his son John prior to his going to America, or of the marriage of his daughters, Mary and Martha.

Wroughton Common (vol. ii, p. 239).—The common fields and waste lands of Wroughton were enclosed under the authority of two private Acts of Parliament, 35 Geo. III, cap. 40, and 36 George III, cap. 26, but these Acts contain nothing to show their acreage. The first Act referred to that part of the parish in the Hundred of Elstub and Ersley, and the Commissioners appointed to arrange the enclosure were John Thelgold of Chilbolton, Hants; Richard Davis, of Lewknor, Oxfordshire; and John Gale, of Stert, Wilts, The second referred to the manor of Elcombe, and the Commissioners were John Chamberlin, of Cropredy Lawn, Oxfordshire, and the same Richard Davis and John Gale. The Awards, I am informed, are or were preserved in the Parish Chest.

J. S.

Hillman (vol. vi, p. 429).—A branch of this family lived at Quidhampton, in the parish of Fuggleston, during most of the seventeenth century.

The nuncupative P.C.C. Will (73 Harvey) of John Hillman, of Quidhampton, fuller, mentions daughter Mary, wife of John Feltham; daughter Alice, wife of Edmond Targett; wife Marian; son Jarvis; also Robert Hillman, gent. (relationship not stated). This Will is dated 9 Sept. 1638, and was proved 21 May 1639.

Mr. Hillman will find four Hillman marriages in the Salisbury Marriage Licences, now being published in the Genealogist, including:—

“1632/3, John Feltham, of Quidhampton, yeo., 22, & Mary Hillman, of same, sp., 21.”

He will also find Hillman entries in the marriage Registers of Fuggleston and St. Thomas', Sarum, both of which have been published by Messrs. Phillimore & Co.

Robert Hayter, of Great Wishford, and late of Fuggleston, yeo., “aged over eighty”, in his Will, proved 1628, in P.C.C. (26 Ridley), mentions that his daughter Dennis married over thirty years ago Robert Hilman, of Great Wishford, and that she has a son Rawlins Hilman, and other children. He also mentions a chancery suit, Hilman v. Hayter, circa 1624.

Rawlins Hillman was an overseer of the P.C.C. Will of William Pinckney, of Rushall, gent, proved 1650.

Thomas Hancock, of Sarum, gent., in his P.C.C. Will (155 Pembroke) proved 1650, mentions his daughter Mary Hillman.

R. B.

Chivers Family (p. 380).—There is no monumental inscription to Secole Chivers in Leigh Delamere Church. The one alluded to is to “Elizabeth, eldest daughter of Secole Chiver, Esquier, Lord of this Mannour”. She died 10th Aug. 1653. A short pedigree of this family is given in Wilts Arch. Mag., vol. xxiv, p. 218a. Henry Chivers, “late of Quemerford”, was son of Secole Chivers. He married Bridget Stonehouse, and, dying in 1720, left an only daughter Frances, who married into the family of Vince. The Chivers of Quemerford were wealthy clothiers, and their early pedigree is to be found in Harl. MS., 1165, p. 35.

Notes on Books.

THE MARLBOROUGH COUNTRY, Notes Geographical, Historical, and Descriptive, by H. C. Brentnall and G. C. Carter. Oxford University Press, 1912.

This only professes to be a school book, but it will be found interesting and instructive by many who have left their school days behind them. The novel idea in it is the use which it requires of an Ordinance Survey Map for the district. The information given is throughout connected with a constant reference to one of these maps, and all that may be learnt from it. Though it deals chiefly with the Marlborough locality it is just the book to develop an intelligent interest in local country life and history anywhere.

THE REGISTERS OF THE PARISH OF WYLYE, in the County of Wilts, published by Revd. G. R. Hadow, M.A., from Transcripts made by T. H. Baker and J. J. Hammond. Devizes, 1913.

In this handsomely printed volume we have not only the Registers of Wylye from 1581 to 1837, given in extenso, but also notes on the church, its incumbents, plate, bells, and charities, with the monumental inscriptions in the church and churchyard. The whole forms a valuable and permanent record of local history. Although the Registers which must have been kept for some forty years (1538 to 1580) have perished, yet the ten volumes remaining form an exceptionally complete series, the only serious hiatus being that during the Civil War (1644-1653).¹ The Revd. Thomas Crockford, who was responsible for the entries from 1581 to 1620, produced a really model register, giving full details as to the family and status of those whose names he had to record. His work forms the special feature of these registers. Among the families whose names appear most frequently may be mentioned Potticary, Scammel,

Lock, Doughty, Bennett, Henwood, Patient; few peculiar Christian names appear. There is a short list of Briefs, on which collections were made in 1660-1662. Sundry notes in Register IV tell us about alterations in the Church towards the end of the eighteenth century. Several of the incumbents of Wylke have occupied positions of some importance in the Church, in particular Alexander Hyde (1634-1665), who became Bishop of Salisbury in 1665, and Thomas Dampier (1759-1777), who became Dean of Durham in 1774. There is a preface giving much information about the parish and registers, and a very full index. We trust that Mr. Hadow's public spirit in printing these registers will receive sufficient support to encourage others to imitate his example.

THE VILLAGE LABOURER (1760-1832). A Study in the Government of England before the Reform Bill, by J. L. Hammond and Barbara Hammond. London, 1911.

In this book we have described for us the serious effect which the great change produced by the general enclosure of common lands in England during the end of the eighteenth and beginning of the nineteenth century had upon the fortunes of the poorer residents in the country. The writers do not discuss the question of how far the policy of enclosure increased the productivity and resources of the state, their business is to show how this gigantic disturbance, which broke up the old village life, was actually carried out by those in power in such a way as to plunge a great number of contented persons into permanent poverty and despair. Unquestionably, in framing and carrying through Enclosure Acts scant justice was, as a rule, meted out to the poorer members of the village community. Much of it is painful reading, suggesting thoughts of the ineptitude of statesmen. A full and illuminating account of the labourers' rising in 1830, the causes which led up to it, and the terrible severity with which it was crushed, is given, the proceedings in Wiltshire coming in for special notice.

RECORDS OF THE SEASONS, Prices of Agricultural Produce and Phenomena observed in the British Isles—collected by T. H. Baker. Simpkin, Marshall, & Co., London. n. d.

At the suggestion of numerous friends Mr. P. H. Baker has issued a supplementary volume to his book "Records of the Seasons, Prices of Agricultural Produce, and Phenomena observed in the British Isles", which he published in 1883, thus bringing his notes down to Sept. 1911. In the preface to his first volume he explains why he published this interesting collection of facts and statistics. It was often asserted after the succession of adverse seasons, which culminated in 1879, that our English climate had deteriorated to a very great extent. Mr. Baker resolved to search for evidence to determine this question, and extracted records from old chronicles and other standard works on statistics, generally noting his authority for every statement, adding records and observations made by himself. The answer to the question, resulting from this interesting search, is that apparently the English climate has always been much the same as it is at present. Mr. Baker gives us a great deal of information, naturally somewhat condensed, not only concerning the weather and the crops, but incidentally concerning the general history of the country and the gradual development of the science of agriculture. The book and the continuing volume are well printed; a complete table of the authorities quoted would have been a useful addition.

SIR LAWRENCE WASHINGTON, OF GARSDON.

(By permission of Messrs. Colnaghi and Obach.)

Wiltshire Notes and Queries,

SEPTEMBER, 1913.

THE WASHINGTON MEMORIALS AT GARSDON.

THROUGH the courtesy of Messrs. Colnaghi and Obach, we are able to give a reproduction of a photograph of a most interesting portrait in their possession. It is an oil painting on panel (26½ in. by 22½ in.), probably by a Dutch artist of the school of Janssens or Mytens, having the Washington coat of arms depicted on the left hand side of the portrait. It was for many years in the Townshend Gallery, at Raynham Hall, Norfolk, and was purchased by Messrs. Colnaghi and Obach at the sale of the Townshend heirlooms at Christie's in 1904. The catalogue described it as the portrait of "Lawrence Washington, of Garsdon, Wilts, Judge of the Court of Common Pleas; father of Elizabeth Shirley, Countess Ferrers, and ancestor of Charlotte Compton, who brought into the Townshend family the baronies of Chartley and Compton by her marriage with George, first Marquess Townshend". There does not seem to be any evidence that Lawrence Washington was a "Judge of the Court of Common Pleas", though his father, as Registrar of the High Court of Chancery, might have been, and in the judgment of Messrs. Colnaghi and Obach the portrait really represents Sir Lawrence Washington and not his son and namesake. Anyhow we have here a genuine portrait of one of the Washingtons of Garsdon, the descent of which to the Townshend family from its first owner can be clearly shown. We may also observe that from Lady Pargiter's will (see p. 487) it appears that a portrait of her father came into possession of Lady Ferrers. This was probably a miniature, of which all trace is for the present lost.

From the mural monument in Garsdon Church, previously described (vol. vi, p. 482), it appears that Dame Anne survived her husband about two years, as she died 13th June 1645, and was laid by his side three days afterwards. Martha, their eldest surviving child, had become, as we have already recorded, the second wife of Sir John Tyrrell, of Springfield. In the Visitation of Essex, 1634, one son of the marriage—"Lawrance Tyrrell about 2 years old"—only is mentioned, who died young. The second son Charles, born about 1637, became a baronet, but predeceased his father. Two other sons, Thomas and Charles, and a daughter Martha, completed the family. Sir John Tyrrell's loyalty, according to the inscription placed upon his tombstone¹ in East Horndon Church, involved him in serious trouble:

Semel decimatus | Bis carceratus | Ter sequestratus |
Tacet quoties spoliatus | Hic jacet inhumatus | Johannes
Tyrrel | Eques Auratus | obiit die Martis Aprilis 3^o A. Dom.
1675, ætat. 82.

Besides his petition to compound already given, we find the following notes on his case in the Calendar of State Papers, among the proceedings before the Committee for Advance of Money:

9 Aug. 1644.—Sir John Tyrrell, Chancery Lane, assessed at £1,000.

26 Aug. 1644.—Sir John Tyrrell, allowed 14 days respite, he averring that his estate is under sequestration.

15 Sept. 1644.—He to be brought in custody to pay.

After his petition to compound had been considered by the authorities, he was reported (2 May 1645) to have shown much disaffection to the Parliament, but, on the 12th Aug., a fine of £800 was accepted from him by the House in settlement of all claims upon him.

There is still on the South wall of the Tyrrell Chapel, which is at the East end of the South aisle of East Horndon Church, a memorial tablet to Sir John and his wife, upon which is the following inscription¹:

Near this place is deposited the Body of the Worshipful Sir John Tyrell of the County of Essex Knt.
Who died 5th April 1676
Aged 82 years
Together with the reliques of Dame Martha, his wife, daughter of the worshipful Sir Laurence Washington of Stonage in the County of Wilts, Knt.
Who deceased Decemr. ye 17th 1679
in ye 90th year of her age.

The age assigned to Dame Martha is certainly wrong, probably it should read 70, but, the record of her baptism not being found, the exact age cannot be ascertained.

Sir Lawrence's son and heir, Lawrence, came in possession of the Garsden and other estates in Wiltshire on his father's death, having just attained his majority. He married Elianor, second daughter of Wm. Guise, of Elmore. Although Malmesbury was a district in which the loyalist and parliamentary forces constantly came into collision, he does not seem to have taken any prominent part in military matters. His sympathies with the royalist cause were, however, known, and, after a time, definite information was laid against him with a view to proving his delinquency. Thus a certain

Richard Price, of High Holborn, forwarded a deposition to the Committee for the advance of money (5 Sept. 1648), that Laurence Washington, son of Sir Laurence Washington, late Register of Chancery, went to Oxford when a garrison for the king and paid £800 to his kinsman, George Washington, who waits on the Duke of Richmond, to be sworn of the Priory Chamber of the king. Also, that at the siege of Gloucester he quartered with the Duke of Richmond's gentlemen within two miles of the leaguer.

On the next day, Colonel Butler gave corroborative evidence, stating that Mr. Laurence Washington is a delinquent by being at Oxford when it was a garrison for ye King.

A significant note is added :—

This information is for the benefit of Colonel Butler upon his arrears.

Some months afterwards (17th May 1649) the following letter was read to the Committee :—

To the Rgt. Honble. the Committee for Advance Money.

The humble Certificate of Edward Curtts.

That Captain Jones, of Newton Toney, in the County of Wilts, was in Armes agt. the Parliament, his estate about 400*l.* per ann., as I am informed. That Mr. Washington, of Gersey, neere Mamsbury, in the County of Wilts, set forth 4 men and horses in the late King's service agt. the Parliament, and was himself in Armes at Newbery fight, and had his horse shott off at ye Chyne behind him, his estate 1,200*l.* per ann., or thereabouts, I am informed. I humbly desire to have ordr. to the Committee of Wilts to examine witnesses agt. them and farther directions concerning them, and that your Honrs. will give me this allowance of the ordinance of Parliament for this discovery.
—Yr. hours. humble and faithful servant,

EDWARD CURTTS.

There is no record of a fine being imposed, so we may assume that Lawrence Washington was able, in some way, to clear himself of these charges and to prove his readiness to accept the new order of things. No doubt he resided at Garsdon Manor House, and there, in all probability, his one child Elizabeth was born. In 1651, we find him acting as High Sheriff of Wilts. Some ten years after, he was buried at Garsdon, where, on the floor of the Chancel, is a memorial slab with the following inscription :—

His will drawn up three days before his death 14 January 1661 and proved 15 May 1662, is given below :—

[P.C.C. LAUD 73.]

I, Lawrence Washington, of Garsdon, in the County of Wilts, Esq.

My body to be buried in the chancel of the Parish Church of Garsdon. . . . To the poor of Garsdon, ten pounds, to be distributed to householders by five shillings to a house; and to the poor of Westamsbury and Bulford, Wilts, ten pounds to each parish. . . . “Alsoe I doe give and devise vnto my cozen, John Washington, sonne of Sir John Washington, of Thrapson, in the Countie of Northampton, knt., one annuities yearely Rent of ffortie pounds of Currant English money ffor and dureing the terme of his naturale life, To be issueing and goeing forth out of all my messuages, lands, tenements, and hereditaments, and ffrarne in Westamsbury, as. Littleamsbury, in the Countie of Wilts aforesaid, to be paid vnto him at the ffeasts of Thanunciation of the blessed Virgin St. Mary and St. Michael Tharchangell by euen and equall portions, the ffirst payment thereof to beginne and to be made at the ffirst of the said ffeasts which shall happen, come and be next after my decease, and if and so often as it shall happen the same yearely Rent of ffortie pounds to be behinde and unpaid by the space of Tenne dayes next after any of the said ffeasts in the which as aforesaid the same ought to be paid, that then and soe often it shall be lawful to and for the said John Washington into the said Messuages, Lands, Tenements, and hereditaments to enter and distreyne, and the distresse and distresses then and their had formed and taken to lead, drive, take and carry away, and the same to impound, deteyne, and keepe vntil the said Annuity or yearly rent of fforty pounds and all the arrears thereof (if any be) shall be vnto my said cozen, John Washington, fully satisfied and paid". . . . To Charles Tyrrell, youngest son of Dame Martha Tyrrell, of Herne House, in the Co. of Essex, one annuity of twenty pounds. . . . To my cousin, Symon Horsepoole, of London, gent., one annuity of thirty pounds. . . . To my beloved sister, Dame Martha Tyrrell, twenty pounds to buy her a ring; and to my nephews John, Thomas, and Charles Tyrrell, ten pounds apiece; and to my niece, Martha Tyrrell, twenty pounds to buy each of them a ring. . . . To John Elton, of Tedbury, Glouc., physician, for his great care and pains towards me and my family for several years past, forty pounds. . . . To servants . . . the residue unto Elianor my wife, whom I make sole executrix.

His wife Eleanor married secondly Sir William Pargiter, of Gretworth, knt., a family with which the Washingtons were already connected by marriage, and survived her first husband more than twenty years. According to the directions given in her will she was buried at Garsdon, where in the chancel is a flat stone with the following inscription upon it to her memory :—

Here lyes ye body of Dame
ELIENOR PARGITER 2nd Daughter of Wm. Guise of Elmore in ye County of Gloucester Esqr
First married to Lawrence Washington Esq. afterwards to Sr Wm. Pargiter of Grittworth in ye County of North Hampton kt. Who departing this life the 19th Day of July in the Year of Our Lord 1685 ordered her remains to be deposited here in hopes of a Blessed Resurrection.

Her will, dated 17 July 1685, and proved 2 June 1687, contains an interesting bequest to the parish of Garsdon:—

[P.C.C. 82 Foot.]

I, Dame Elianor Pargiter, relict of Sir William Pargiter, late of Gretworth, knight, deceased, make this my last will. . . .

My body I desire may be carried in a decent and private way to Garsden in Wiltshire, and interred there by my former husband Lawrence Washington, Esqr. . . . I will and bequeath to my dearly beloved daughter Ferrars, my necklace of pearl, being two strings of pearl, which her father gave to me, one saphire ring, which he likewise gave to me, and her father's picture set in gold. . . . To the parish of Garsden, thirty pounds, to be bestowed in decent plate for the Co'minion Table there, to be kept by the Minister of the place for the time being . . . to the poor of that parish, ten pounds . . . to servants . . . the residue to my daughter, Elianor Pargiter, whom I make, constitute, and ordain sole executrix.

Proved 2 June 1687, by Eleanor Dering, als. Pargiter, daughter and executrix.

The handsome and massive Communion plate¹ thus presented to the parish is still in use. It consists of a pair of plain chalices, 8½ in. in height; a paten, 8½ in. in diameter resting on a foot; and a flagon, 10½ in. in height, of tankard shape with flat cover. The hall marks are for 1684, the maker's is C. K. with a mullet beneath and a pellet above, all enclosed in a shield. Each piece is inscribed with the sacred monogram within rays, also "This was given by the Lady Pargiter to Garsden Church, shee² was formerly wife to Lawrence Washington, Esqr., who both lye buried here".

¹ In Nightingale's Church Plate of Wilts is an illustration of the Chalice, also the curious story of the loss of the plate for many years . . . it having been placed in a chest at the Manor House, which remained long unopened because it was said that a ghost had formerly been laid in the chest.

² This on the paten is "she".

of this manor, has died since last Court, and that Millicent Francklyn, widow, relict of the said Richard, is next customary tenant of that holding for her widowhood by custom, who is absent, and therefore it is ordered that she attend at the next Court to be admitted tenant therein.

Render of Giles Morseley.—To this Court came Giles Morseley, who held of the lord by Copy of Court Roll bearing date 22 March, A.D. 1653, one messuage or tenement in Willesley and one close called Ashfeild with lxxvj acres and one Le Lot of underwood, whereof on the site of the messuage aforesaid in a curtilage, garden, and orchard, and in two closes lying behind the sd. messuage, 5 acres; in a close called Perne-hill, 6 acres; in a close called Spot-hedge Leasue, 5 acres; in a close called Lyncks Croft, 3 acres; and the first crop (primam vesturam) of one acre of meadow lying in Austen's Mead, and 29 acres of the premises are arable lands lying in South Field, and 13½ acres are meadows and arable lands lying in North Field, and one Le Lot of meadow lying in Shortmead, containing by estimation, one acre and a half of arable land lying in the South Field of Sberston, called Gaston feild, and common of pasture for sheep and animals agisted there, according to ancient extent and custom. And he also holds a close of pasture lying on the north side of Silkwood, called Ashfeild, containing 10 acres, and one Le Lot of underwood with appurtenances. And the said Giles rendered up all those in full Court into the hands of the lord, and all his estate, title, and interest of, and in all and singular the premises, together with the Copy of Court Roll aforesaid, that the lord might therein do his will, whence there fell to the lord for heriot the best animal of the same Giles, which is remitted by agreement. And afterwards at this same Court the lord aforesaid granted here in full Court to the sd. Giles Morseley the sd. messuage or holding, and all and singular the premises above specified, with all and singular their appurtenances (except the aforesaid close called Perne hill, containing 6 acres, and the aforesaid close called Spot-hedge, containing 5 acres, and the first crop of one acre in Austen's mead aforesaid, and the sd. one Le Lott of meadow lying in Shortmead called Gaston feild, and a half acre of arable land lying in South Field at Portway, with appurtenances, for which premises so excepted the lord gave the sd. Giles Morseley [—] pounds), to have and to hold the sd. messuage or tenement, and all and singular the premises above specified, with all and singular their appurtenances (except as before excepted) to the said Giles Morseley for the term of his life according to the custom of the sd. manor, rendering therefor annually to the lord and his heirs, xxvs. viii℥., and for Le Lot of underwood, x℥., and all other burdens, 9 Apr. 1651 (incorporated at Cambridge 1652); proctor, 1655; died 1674". He also mentions another Rev. Richd. Franklyn, M.A. of Merton, successively rector of Bromham, Rolleston, and Houghton.

NOTES ON THE LINEAGE OF RICHARD DE COMBE,

Sheriff of Wilts, 18 Edward I.

II. The Descendants of Richard de Combe, of Todeworth.

RICHARD DE COMBE of Todeworth, third son of Richard the Sheriff, and younger brother to Simon de Combe of Fitelton (see p. 436), succeeded, at his father's death in 1293, to property at Todeworth and Compton, which had previously been settled upon him. (Cal. Inq., iii, 66.)

By Fine, Trinity Term 1313, Peter de Forestbury settled 2 carucates and 5 virgates of land, with 100s. rent, in North Todeworth, upon Richard de Combe and Anastasia his wife, and the heirs of Richard; with remainder "to Richard, the son of Simon de Coumbe (of Fitelton), and his heirs". (Harl. MS., 1623, f. 10.)

In 1324, "Richard de Combe of Tudeworth" was summoned by the Sheriff of Wilts to attend the Great Council at Westminster, on Wednesday next after Ascension Day, 17 Edw. II (Parliamentary Writs, ii, 710).

In the "Proof of Age" of John Paynel, made at Maydene Nyweton,¹ co. Dorset, 25 Jan. 1318-19, John de Chauntemarle stated "that he married Anastasia his daughter to one Robert de Combe, at the Feast of St. Michael, 24 Edw. I" (29 Sept. 1296). It has been suggested that the name "Robert" may have been entered on the Inquisition by mistake for "Richard", and that it was probably Richard de Combe, of Todeworth, who married Anastasia Chauntemarle. The suggestion seems worth noting, as the Arms of Chauntemarle were Silver, a cheveron between three 'merles' sable (Harl. MS. 1451, f. 168), and, from an entry in Powell's copy of a fourteenth century Roll of Arms in the Ashmolean Library, we learn that "Sir John de Coumbe" bore Silver, a cheveron engrailed between three blackbirds, which is an almost identical coat.² (Add. MS. 26677, p.f. 9.) If, therefore, it was Richard of Todeworth who married Anastasia Chauntemarle, it would appear that he had a younger son, John de Coumbe, who assumed the

Chauntemarle arms (differenced with an engrailed cheveron) on succeeding to his mother's Somerset property.

Sir John de Coumbe died 19 June 1362, seised of two parts of the Manor of Baudrip, co. Somerset, with other lands held of the Abbot of Cleeve, leaving John his son and heir, aged 22 in 1372, and married to Emeline, daughter of Robert Partrich. (Inq. p. m. at Bridgwater, 27 May 1372.) Any further information relating to this Chauntemarle alliance, or to the descendants of Sir John de Coumbe, would be very welcome; his adoption of the Armes parlantes of his mother's family may, perhaps, afford a clue to his provenance.¹

In 1327, Elias de Combe conveyed 2 carucates of land, etc., "in Codeford and Ercheston,² with the advowson of the Church of St. Peter at Codeford", to Walter de Coumbe and Margaret his wife and their heirs; with remainder to the right heirs of Margaret. (Fect of Fines, Wilts; 254/40.)

By deed dated at Compton, 3 Nov. 1337, John Goion and others (who were probably feoffees in trust) conveyed "to Walter, son of Richard de Combe, of North Todeworth, and to Edith his wife" and their heirs, a messuage and carucate of land, with 100s. rent, and the moiety of a mill "in Compton, by Uphaven"³; with remainder to the right heirs of Walter. (Ancient Deeds; C. 185.) From an entry in an Elizabethan pedigree book at the Heralds' College (I.H., Misc. Ped., xi, 62), it appears that a certain Agnes, relict of William Everard, married as her second husband one Goion, ¹ The manor of Dalwood, near Chardstock, held by the Chauntemarles temp. Edw. III, afterwards came to John Combe, whose daughter and heir, Joane Combe, was married to John Warre before 1430. And, in the De Banco Roll for Mich. Term, 13 Henry VI (1434), "William Combe, of Childefrome, co. Dorset, Gentilman", occurs as surety for "William Weston, of Cherdestoke, clericus". Childfrome is close to Maiden Newton and Frome St. Quintin, and about 16 miles from Chardstock, which is on the Somerset border.

³ Upavon is three miles north of Fitelton, and Compton lies between the two.

by whom she had a daughter Edith, who was the wife of Walter Combe and mother of another Walter. No date or place is mentioned, but as the previous entry on same page refers to Joh'es de Lavington and Lucia his wife, living 14 Edw. III (A.D. 1340), I think we may identify this Walter Combe, who married Edith Goion, with Walter the son of Richard de Combe above mentioned.¹

In 1348, Walter de Coumbe was witness to a deed of John, son and heir of Roger de Calston, concerning lands in Great and Little Durnford. (Tropenell Cartulary; ii, 272.) And, in 1352, he witnessed two charters of Sir Richard de Combe, of Fitelton, his first cousin once removed.

In 1356, the Sheriff of Wilts was ordered "to cause a coroner to be elected in place of Walter de Coumbe, who is insufficiently qualified". (Cal. Close Rolls; 30 Edw. III.)

The following year Walter de Combe was querant in a Fine of lands at Milston, near Ambresbury.

From Chancery Proceedings, 39 Edw. III (1365) we learn that the sheriff of Wilts was ordered to ascertain, by Inquisition, what lands belonged to Walter de Coumbe on the 15th July 1356, "except such lands as would descend to an heir being a minor".

In 1379, Walter de Combe, "mercator", held 2 carucates of land at North Todeworth; also a carucate and 6 virgates at Compton by Enford, with the moiety of a water mill there. (De Banco, 475, m. 417.)

The following year Thomas and Walter Combe were sued by John Griffith, for having come "with force and arms" and driven off 300 of his sheep, at Aumbresbury, "contrary to the law and custom of this realm". Not content with this exploit, they added insult to injury, "and so maltreated his servants that they were unable to work for a great time, to the serious damage of said John and against the King's peace". (De Banco, 480, m. 535.)

Thomas appears to have died in or before 1387, when "Edith, widow of Thomas Combe, and Robert her son", are mentioned as holding a house and land in Great Ambresbury. (De Banco Roll, 507, m., 398.)

Walter Combe was witness to a feoffment of the Manors of Great and Little Durnford, near Ambresbury, by Nicholas Woodhull, dated 24 Sept. 1382; and Robert Combe (presumably his son) witnessed a grant of the same Manors to Thomas Woodhull, son of Nicholas, 30 April 1411. (Trop. Cart., ii, 274, 284.) "Nicholas de Wodehull" was Sheriff of Wilts in 1381. At some time previous to 1386 "Robert Coumbe of Compton" appears to have acted as land steward for William Gode of Bright Walton. This was probably during his father's lifetime, and before he succeeded to the property. (De Banco, 503, m. 131.)

This Robert is evidently identical with the Robert Combe whose name occurs in a list of landowners of Wilts, in 12 Henry IV (1411), as holding lands, etc., at Compton, near Eneford, Ambresbury, and Todeworth, valued yearly beyond reprises at £20. (Lay Subsidies, Wilts; 196/68.)

From the De Banco Roll for Easter Term, 8 Henry V (1420), we learn that "the marriage and custody of John Combe, son and heir of Robert Combe of Todeworth, being under age", had been granted by Thomas de Montagu, Earl of Salisbury,¹ to John Ingram, Hugh Bailly, and Thomas Davy, 20 Feb. 1415-16, which they held until 1 June 1419, when John Bremele, husbandman, Peter Uphavene, Notary, John Smyth, clericus, and Thomas Anketill, Armiger, all of New Sarum, came to Ambresbury and abducted the heir, who was still under age. The plaintiffs stated that "Robert, the father of the heir, held of the said Earl the Manors of

¹ Thomas de Montagu was summoned to Parliament, as Earl of Salisbury, in 1409, and died, s.p.m., 3 Nov., 1428. (Doyle's Baronage; iii, 241.)

Todeworth and Combes, with the appurtenances in Ambresbury, by homage and fealty, the payment of scutage to the King when it shall happen, and a yearly rent to the Earl". They further reported that "the aforesaid Robert died in the homage of the Earl", and they claimed £1,000 damages for the abduction of the heir. The defendants, of course, denied that they were in any way culpable, and the case was accordingly adjourned. (De Banco, 637, m. 319.)

It appears, however, from an entry in Mich. Term, 1 Henry VI (1422), that the Squire the Parson and the Notary were subsequently compelled to restore the heir (and incidentally his estate of inheritance) to the custody of his lawful guardians; for John Ingram and his associates then sued William Odam of North Todeworth, husbandman (presumably one of the tenants), for 40s., due to them as guardians of John Combe, son and heir of Robert. (De Banco, 647, m. 92.)

I have not been able to ascertain the date on which the said John obtained livery of his father's lands, but he was evidently of age in 1428, when his name occurs as juror on an Inquisition taken at New Sarum, 11 June, 6 Henry VI. The jurors found that the Prioress of Ambresbury and John Combe were tenants in chief of certain lands and tenements in West Ambresbury; and that John Combe, with the Prior of [Maiden] Bradelegh and Richard le Heyr, held in their demesne as of fee certain lands and tenements in Tudeworth, "which formerly belonged to Anastasia who was the wife of Richard de Combe", by service of half a knight's fee. (Feudal Aids; vol. v, 240, 241.) This is a most important link in the chain of evidence, as it undoubtedly seems to connect these fifteenth century Combes, of Todeworth and Ambresbury, with their thirteenth century ancestor, Richard of Todeworth, youngest son of the Sheriff.

In 1432, "John Combe of North Todeworth, Gentilman", was involved in legal proceedings, together with Robert Peny, of South Todeworth, Gentilman, and John Egremond, of Westgrenestede, co. Sussex, yeoman, at the suit of Sir John Skelton, knight. (De Banco, 685, m. 406.)

In 1436-7, William Ludlow and John Combe were Members of Parliament for Ludgershall, co. Wilts.¹

In 1437, "John Combe of Ambresbury, Gentilman", is mentioned on the De Banco Roll for Mich. Term, 16 Henry VI, at the suit of Sir Stephen Popham, knight; and, two years later, we learn from the same source that he was again in trouble.

He appears to have died before 1451, as in Mich. Term, 30 Henry VI, Thomas Forest, warden of the Hospital of Holy Cross, by Winchester, summons Robert Unwyn and others, "to surrender to him the custody of the land and heir of John Combe, late of Ambresbury, which to him the Warden belongs, because the aforesaid John held his land of him by Knight service; and they do not come". (De Banco, 763, m. 348.) Unfortunately, neither the name of the heir, nor the situation of his property, is mentioned in the records of this court; but the following Chancery suit may perhaps supply the missing link.

In Early Chancery Proceedings (undated, but assigned by the Record Office authorities to 35-38 Henry VI, i.e., 1456-1460, when William Waynflete, Bishop of Winchester, was Chancellor), "John Combe, brother and heir to Richard Combe", demands a writ of sub pena against Harry Long, Richard Woodhill (see above, p. 503), and others, feoffees in trust of "the manoirs of Estambresbury, Westambresbury, Northtudworth, Compton beside Enford, Devisez, and other places within the Countie of Wiltshire", under the will of the said Richard his brother, "to thentent that they shuld refeoffe thereof your said Beseecher when he came to his lawful age", with remainder to Robert, brother of the said Richard, and to Johan his sister. He further complains that

"the said feoffees hav don grete wast and destruccion in the said maners and nought found yor said Beseecher, nor Robert his brother, nor performed the said last Wille, onto the grete hurt of your said Beseecher". (Early Chancery Proceedings; Bdl. 26, No. 453.)

Whether John Combe succeeded in rescuing his various manors and lands from the grip of these unjust stewards, and whether he or his younger brother Robert left sons to inherit the ancestral acres, are problems that still await solution; and any information bearing upon the ownership of any portion of this property, in the latter half of the fifteenth century, would be most gratefully received by the writer.

From various scattered references it appears that a family of this name was settled for many generations at Chisledon,¹ near Swindon, and although no connexion has been traced with the lords of Fitelton and Todeworth, it may be that they represent one of the cadet branches of that house.

In 1432, "Walter Coumbe of Chesilden" was sued by Arthur Ormesby, esquire, for a debt of 40s. (De Banco, 687, m. 504). And, from a quaintly worded deed enrolled in the same court, in Mich. Term, 39 Henry VI, we learn that "Richard Combe of the paryssh of Chesylde, of the age of 50 yere, the sonne of Wault^r Combe which was of the age of fourscore yere or he deied", was one of the witnesses in a De Banco suit concerning the legitimacy of a certain John Sely, eldest son of John Sely of Chesylde and Denys his wife, who "departed from Chesilden aforesaid and went in to the Cuntre besyde Wyndesore and ther dwelled with an Eme² of his moder Syde". The principal witness was "Ingelramus Walron of Aldebourne, Gentilman, son of John Walron late of the same place", and their depositions were taken before John Prysot, Chief Justice of the Common Pleas, in the parish of St. Andrew "extra barras vet'is Templi", London, on the xv day of October, 39 Henry VI (1460).

In 1539, Robert Combe occurs at Chiseldon, in a military muster of that date.¹ In 1587, Thomas Combe of "Cheseldone" died, leaving issue, by Joane his wife, a son William, then a minor, to whom he bequeathed his lands; his will is dated 30 May 1587 (Arch., Wilts; Reg. A., f. 4). In 1649, this William, styled "William Combe the elder of Chesselden, yeoman", makes his last will, in which he mentions his son William, and his grandson of the same name (P.C.C.; 81 Fairfax).

In 1516, Thomas Combe, late of Stapleford, co. Wilts, was summoned by William Bonham, Esquire, late Sheriff of Wilts, who claimed 100 marks which said Thomas had undertaken to pay on the 25th Dec. 1514 (De Banco, 1015, m. 560). It would be interesting to learn where he settled, on leaving Stapleford. Perhaps he removed to Canne (see p. 508).

Early in the sixteenth century, a certain John Combe appears at Shaston, co. Dorset,² as a tenant of Abbey lands. He was assessed in the Subsidy of 1524 (15 Henry VIII) at £10 in goods, and he seems to have possessed other property at East Orchard, where "John Combe, Senr.", was assessed at £14, "William Combe his son" at 1xs., and "John Combe, Junr." (presumably another son) at £10 (Lay Subsidies, Dorset; 103/121).

John Combe, senior, had several sons, of whom Walter was a tenant of the Abbess in 1533, and of Sir Thomas Arundell (grantee of the Abbey lands) in 1545; Walter was lessee of the Manor farm of Ashmore, between Canne and Henley, in 1563. Richard Combe, the younger son of Walter, purchased this property, in 1619, from Sir William Paulet, of Eddington, co. Wilts, for £2,482. The purchaser is styled "Richard Combe, of Ashmore, in the County of Dorset, Generosus", in a Statute Merchant Bond, dated 7 December 1619.¹ Sir William Paulet was the eldest son of the third Marquess of Winchester, by Mistress Jane Lambert, daughter of William Lambert, of Hide Street near Winchester, Esquire.²

John Combe, the younger, was Bailiff of the Manor of Barton by Shaston, in 1545, and joint tenant with his father of lands in Canne, near Shaftesbury, called Formages and Barkers, with a "Gryndstone myll" and the Mill-close, by copy of Court Roll, dated 5 October 1537. Ethelred and Christopher Combe, sons of John the Bailiff, and grandsons of John Combe, senior, were admitted to the above lands at a Court held 4 October 1549, which they still held at the Survey of the Manor in 1574. (Roxburgh Club Publications, 1909; passim.) John Combe, "an householder", was buried at Canne, 25 August 1577.

"Ethelrede Combe and Margaret Byssshop" were married at Mere, co. Wilts, 27 Sept. 1568, and they had several children baptized at Canne between 1572 and 1580. "Margaret, wife of Ethelred Combe", was buried at Mere, 26 Nov. 1610; and Ethelred Combe was buried at Canne, 28 June 1612.

Christopher Combe and Joane Frithe were married at Canne, 16 July 1572. In the Survey of 1574 he is entered as tenant of "a Capital messuage, called Kymer's Place", to which he had been admitted with his sister Joane, 28 April 1572.

In 1525, Thomas Combe (who was probably related to John Combe of Canne) was admitted, with Joane his daughter, to a house and 30 acres of land in Canne; and the same Thomas, with Christina his daughter, was admitted in 1529 to other 10 acres in Canne, with common of pasture for 80 sheep; all of which they held at the Survey of 1545. These lands were in the possession of Nicholas Combe and William his brother at the Survey of 1574.

² William Lambert was a grandson of Edmond Lambert, of Maiden Bradley, co. Wilts, and nephew to Sir Nicholas Lambert, Lord Mayor of London in 1532. Shortly after the death of the Marquess, in 1598, Mistress Jane married Sir Gerard Fleetwood, of Woodstock, co. Oxford, whose sister, Hester Fleetwood, was the wife of Sir Oliver Lambert, first Lord Lambert of Cavan. "The Lady Jane Fleetwood" was buried, in Winchester Cathedral, 12 March, 1618-19.

Joane, the daughter of John Combe of Canne, and sister to the Bailiff of Barton Manor, was married, circa 1530, to Robert Grove, of Donhead (St. Andrew), co. Wilts, Gent., feodary to Queen Elizabeth; he was Seneschal of the above Manor to Sir Thomas Arundell in 1545, and to Sir William Herbert, Earl of Pembroke, in 1574. In his will, dated 31 Dec. 1579,¹ he leaves directions that he is to be buried "in the churchyard of Dounched, where my Wief and father and mother were before this time buried". To his second son, Matthew Grove, he bequeaths "my houses and groundes within the Manor of Dounched", with £200 in gold "remayning in my chest at Shaftesbury", and "a silver Cupp wth a cover w^{ch} my Lo. of Pembroke gave me".

From Hoare's Modern Wilts (Vol. IV, i, 58) we learn that the old Manor-house of Donhead, called Berry Court, "was under lease to the family of Grove at the dissolution of the religious houses, and was for some time afterwards their place of residence". Now, Donhead is only two miles from Bridesor (an ancient Manor, adjacent to Wardour Park and Castle), where a certain Edward Combe had his abode early in the reign of Queen Elizabeth; and if, as there seems good reason to believe, this Edward and his brother John (of Place House in the same parish) were grandsons of old John Combe of Canne, it may well have been through the recommendation of Robert Grove (who was intimately associated with the Arundells) that Joane Grove's young kinsmen came to Tisbury, and were granted leases of the two Manor-farms above mentioned.

The Manor of Bridsor, or Brudeserthe, was formerly held by a family of that name, under the Abbess of Shaftesbury. It was granted to Sir Thomas Arundell in 1539, and in 1571 it formed part of the estate settled upon Dame Margaret Arundell,¹ his widow. (Chanc. Proc., Series II, Bdl. i, No. 18.)

Place House was originally the court lodge, or grange, of the Manor of Tisbury, which also belonged to the Abbess of Shaftesbury, and was granted to Sir Thomas Arundell in 1540. The Manor-farm consists of 680 acres, and has long been considered one of the best corn farms in the county. (Hoare's Wilts, IV, i, 129.)

John Combe, of Place House, was married before 1568, when his son Anthony was baptized at Tisbury; he was assessed for the Subsidy of 1576, in the Tithing of Tisbury, at £10 "in goods", and he paid on the same assessment in 1593. He was Churchwarden of Tisbury in 1580, and in his will (proved Arch. Sarum, 14 Oct. 1600) he leaves bequests "to my parishe church of T[isbury], to the Cathedrall church of S[arum], to the church of ffountmell, and vnto the poore people there Tenne shillings".² He mentions Alice his wife, Anthony his son (who was Vicar of Tisbury, 1611-1644), and other children and grandchildren; he appoints as executor his eldest son John, and desires "my brother Edwarde Combe, my sonne in lawe Antonie [Targett], and my cosyn Willm Combe of Bishopston, to be overseers".

Edward Combe, of Bridsor, married (before 1570) Alice, daughter of Thomas Lewys, of Matherne, co. Monmouth, and sister to Barnaby Lewys, of Stock Gaylard, co. Dorset, and Wincanton Manor, co. Somerset, Esquire. Their eldest son, Thomas Combe of Chicks Grove, was baptized at Tisbury, 21 August 1570.

² The parish of Fontmell, co. Dorset, adjoins East Orchard. (See above, p. 507.)

It is evident, therefore, that both John and Edward Combe were born before 1550, and they were probably about the same age as the two grandsons of John Combe of Canne, above mentioned, i.e., Ethelred Combe of Canne, who was married in 1568, and Christopher Combe, married, in 1572. Unfortunately for our purpose, neither John Combe, senior, nor John the Bailiff of Barton Manor, appear to have left a will; and, as the parish register of Canne only dates from 1563, and that of Tisbury commences in the same year, there is no means of ascertaining whether John and Edward Combe of Tisbury were baptized at either of these churches. There is, indeed, another source of information, viz., the Court Rolls and Surveys of the Manors of Barton in Shaftesbury, and of Bridsor in Tisbury, in which the deaths of the various tenants, and the admission of their heirs, were presumably entered. But these contemporary records, so invaluable to anyone interested in Wiltshire genealogy, are not available in this instance; and, until the muniment room of Wardour Castle yields up its treasured secrets, it is very unlikely that the problem will ever be solved.

In compiling these notes on the De Combes of Fitelton and Todeworth, and their descendants, I have been greatly assisted by Mr. R. G. FitzGerald-Uniacke, of Millfield House, Upminster, F.R.S.A., whose researches at the British Museum and Public Record Office have enabled me to supplement my own collections with much interesting information derived from contemporary records.

In a subsequent issue I hope to contribute some notes on the descendants of Edward Combe of Bridsor, in the seventeenth century, and their matrimonial alliances.

HUNDRED ROLLS (vol. ii, pp. 274, 275).

A.D. 1274.—[Hundred of Swanbergh.] Inquisition at Wilton, Thursday, before Feast of St. Gregory, 3 Edward I. The manor of Merdene used to be in the hands of King Henry, father of present King, by the escheat of Robert Baneboz, a Norman; it was alienated in the same manner as the manor of Huphaven, and the same Ela wife of Philip Basset holds it now. [Henry III gave Uphaven to Gilbert Basset; after his death Fulk Basset his brother held it; afterwards Philip Basset their brother purchased a charter of enfeoffment from Henry III to himself and his heirs and to Ela his wife for term of her life.]

When Philip Basset died, Eustace de la Hull, then sub-schactor of the king had the manors of Huphaven and Merden in the king's hands for fifteen days and received a mark for the use of the king.

ASSIZE ROLL (1005 Easter 9, Edward I, m. 1210).

A.D. 1280.—[Hundred of Swaneburgh.] The Jurors present that the manors of Uphaven and Merden were of the escheats of King Henry, father of the king now, out of the lands of the Normans and Ela countess of Warwick holds them now, they know not by what warrant; the manor of Uphaven is worth yearly 15*li.*, and the manor of Merden 10*li.* And she does not come now, therefore the manors are taken into the king's hands in the name of a distress, so that the sheriff may answer of the issues from the Feast of the Translation of St. Thomas. And Ela the countess comes by her attorney and says that she holds the manors in dower of the heretage of Hugh le Despenser who is within age and in the king's custody; therefore at present as to this, the countess goes without a day.

ASSIZE ROLL 1006, m. 52. (Hillary, 17 Edward I.)

A.D. 1288.—[Hundred of Swanebergh.] The Jurors say that the manor of Meredenne was the escheat of Henry III from a certain Banneboys, a Norman; Ela Basset holds it and the manor of Uphaven. She comes by her attorney and says that she holds them in dower of the heretage of Hugh le Despenser, without whom she cannot answer. Hugh comes and shows charter of Henry III to Philip Basset (vide, Charter Roll, 45, Henry III, m. 3). Therefore she goes without a day.

IBID.

Ela countess of Warwick claims view of frankpledge and to have the fines of the breaches of assize of bread and ale in Merden, they know not by what warrant. She comes by her attorney and says (as above).

Queries.

John Ivey or Ivie, Mayor of Salisbury in 1626-7, and 1647-8.—Was he a member of the Ivie family of Kingston? His pedigree or any information about him before 1611 would be acceptable. He appears to have been twice married, first, on 23 February 1611, to Jane Puxstone, and secondly on 9 Dec. 1652, when described as "The Worshipful Mr. John Ivy, the Elder," to Mrs. Joane Harwood, widow; both marriages are recorded in the Register of St. Edmund's, Salisbury. He had a son John whose wife's Christian name was "Elenor"; his marriage is not recorded in the Registers either of St. Edmund's, St. Thomas', St. Martin's, or the Cathedral at Salisbury, but the baptisms of his children are recorded in the Register at St. Edmund's.

A. S.

The early ownership of the Manor of Lake.—By a Fine dated 17 Edw. II [1323] Sir Elias Cotel and Margaret his wife (who was the daughter and coheir of John de Peverell, of Samford Peverell, in Devon) buys for 100 marks from John de Monteforti, parson of the church of Combe-Hawey, Somerset, and Walter of Samford Peverell, the Manor of Lake, which Robert of Talworth and Mary his wife held for her life; after the death of Mary the manor ought to return to John and Walter who sell to Elias and Margaret who further settle the manor after their death on John de Palton and Jane his wife and on their issue. It appears to have continued in the Paltons. It is in the inquisition on the death of Robert de Palton, 2 Henry IV, who was succeeded by his brother William, whose inquisition was taken at Bradford, 28 Henry VI. He being seized of the Manor of Lake by deed, 29 June, 24 Henry VI, conveyed it to Philip Courtenay, Jas. Chudleigh, John Cheyne, & Thomas Knighton, and they, 2 Oct., 27 Henry VI, settled it on Sir Wm. Palton & Anne his wife, (she survived him without issue); his heirs were his cousins

Jane, wife of John Kelly, and Agnes, wife of Nicholas St. Loe, daughters of Margaret, who was daughter of Margery, sister of Joan the mother of Robert, father of the said Sir Wm. Palton.

I cannot find any more of the Manor till the Patent Roll and the Particulars of Grants, 2 Edw. VI, No. 2008, when it was late the property of the dissolved Guild of Corscombe, Michael Duke being the tenant. Can someone kindly tell me where I can find the benefactors of the guild?—it is only the manor and the demesne lands. I am aware there were two other small properties in Lake; there was one yard land belonging to Bradenstoke Priory, also another property, for in 4 Edw. III John Aucher, sen., and James de Croye sell to John son of Thos. Aucher 9 messuages, 1 mill, 2 carucates, 2 virgates, 20 acres of meadow in Normanton, Lake, Durnford, and Wilsford, of which one messuage and one virgate were in Lake, which Nicholas le Coak held for his life and one messuage with a virgate which Joan wife of Thos. Umfray held for her life, all of which was settled on Walter Norrays and his children, Thomas, Robert, and Alianora. This last property is in the inquisition on the death of John Trenchard, 21 Oct., 11 Henry VII, as being held by him of the Abbey of Amesbury and later Rich Trenchard was seized of the manor of Normanton and lands in Lake and Durnford in the tenure of John Daye, and, 22 Eliz., William Trenchard conveyed one messuage, one orchard, 40 acres of land, 3 of pasture, 3 of meadow in Lake to George Duke.

I should be grateful for the connection between John Palton and Elias Cotel. The inquisition, 10 Edw. III, on the latter is printed in the Genealogist, vol. i, p. 341, but there is no allusion to his Wilts and Somerset estates, mention is made only of those in Devon which he acquired by his marriage and which went to his daughter Edith, wife of Oliver de Dynham; it is not clear whether he had other daughters.

Bradford-on-Avon.—The following is copied from "Bradford Church Book, Anno Dom., 1725".

Monday, October ye 22d., 1759. At a vestry this day held agreeable to notice given yesterday the twenty-first instance in the Parish Church to consider of the properest methods for putting an end to the disorders lately committed in the said Church and whereas it appears that the Reverend Mr. Glynn, Clerk, was on Sunday the Fourteenth of this present October by threats detained and by force hindered from performing Divine Service in the said Parish Church of Bradford, to which he is lawfully appointed by Licence from our worthy Diocesan, and was likewise by insulting Language and otherwise interrupted at the Font whilst he was administering the Holy Sacrament of Baptism and many other Disorders and indensesens were there and then comited as well as by Strangers as Parishioners, to the dishonour of God and our most Holy Religion and to the shame and scandal of all sober-minded people. We do therefore authorise and require Mr. Thomas Rogers, our present Churchwarden, to prosecute the Offender or offenders in the Ecclesiastical Court or otherwise, in testimony whereof we have hereunto set our Hands the Day and Year first above written.

What was the cause and sequel of this Disorder?

Hillman Family (vol. iv, p. 429).—In West Knoyle Church are the following inscriptions:—

“Here lyeth the Body of William | Jonas, Esq., and Mary his wife | who was the Daughter of William | Willoughby, Esq., by Mary his wife | This Tomb was deposited | by their affectionate Daughter | Alice Hillman, in the year 1739.”

“Sacred to the Memory | of Mrs. Mary Hillman | Daughter of Willm. Hillman | of Sarum, Gent. | and Alice his wife, daughter of | Willm. Jonas of ye Inner Temple | Esqr., And Mary his wife | Daughter of William Willoughby | Esqr., of this place | And Mary his wife | She was born Febry. 9th 1711 | And died Decr. 19th 1736.”

In St. Martin's Register, Salisbury, are these entries:—

1708, October 5.—Roger Hillman and Anne Wraxworth, both of Wily, were married by licence.

1802, October 19.—Benjamin Hillman and Charlotte Barnet were married.

In St. Thomas' Register, Salisbury, are these entries:—

1697, December 28.—Mr. William Hillman and Mrs. Martha Waterman were married by license.

1761, October 4.—Richard Hillman, of Fisherton, and Esther Gosney.

In Idmiston Register is the entry:—

1655.—Hugh Hillman, of Thuxton, Hants, aged 30, and Ann Thomas, of Durnford Magna, aged 24, were married 21st September.

There is an inscription on a stone now covered by the organ in St. Thomas' Church, Salisbury, to the memory of William Hillman, who died 1768. In the Wylve Registers, recently published, where the family was in humble circumstances, are some forty-five Hillman entries.

CEILING AT GARSDON MANOR HOUSE.

Wiltshire Notes and Queries.

DECEMBER, 1913.

THE WASHINGTON MEMORIALS AT GARSDON.

AND now the mansion which Sir Lawrence Washington has no doubt hoped would for many years remain the principal seat of his family was to pass to another with higher titles of honour, but was itself gradually to be less and less thought of until neglected and decayed it became merely a farm-house.

Elizabeth Washington, the only child of Lawrence Washington and his wife Elianor, was married (possibly at Garsdon, but of this there is no record) to Sir Robert Shirley, Bart., of Staunton Harold, co. Leicester, the youngest son of Sir Robert Shirley, fourth Bart., who had succeeded to the title in 1668 as seventh Baronet owing to the death of his elder brother, Sir Seymour Shirley, and infant nephew. The exact date of this marriage has not been ascertained, but from the settlement given below it would seem to have taken place in December 1671. Lady Elizabeth became the mother of a large family. Their names, with date of birth, are entered in the registers¹ of Breedon-on-the-Hill, in which parish Staunton Harold, the seat of the Shirleys, is situated. The eldest Lady Elizabeth Ferrers died within a week of the birth of her youngest son, the entry in the registers of Breedon on the Hill being "The Right Honourable Lady Elizabeth wife to the Right Honourable Lord Ferrers, dyed upon the 2nd day of October and was buried October the third 1693". There can be no doubt that she was buried in the private chapel of the Shirley family at Staunton Harold, which was built by Sir Robert Shirley during the Commonwealth, before whose time the Shirley burials took place in Breedon Church. Lord Ferrers eldest son, Robert,¹ died in 1699, leaving issue a son Robert, who died unmarried in 1714, and a daughter, Elizabeth.² Thus Lord Ferrers, who in 1711 had been made an Earl with the title of Viscount Tamworth and Earl Ferrers, found it necessary to revise the settlement of 1677, and by the indenture given below he devised Garsdon to his youngest son, Lawrence, in tail male, apparently with the intention that this property should not form part of the estates of the Earldom.

² "Elizabeth, daughter of the Hon'ble Robert Shirley and Anna his wife, born Aug. 19th, 1694." (Breedon Register.) This lady, as heir of her brother, succeeded on his death to the Baronies of Ferrers of Chartley, etc., and to her any Washington heirlooms would naturally have come. She married James, 5th Earl of Northampton, and the only issue of this marriage was a daughter, Charlotte, who in consequence succeeded her father in the Barony of Compton, and her mother in the Baronies of Ferrers of Chartley, etc. By marriage with George, Marquess Towshend, she carried these dignities into the Townsend family, and also no doubt the Washington portrait (p. 481) which henceforth became one of the Townshend heirlooms. (Burke's Peerage.)

This Indenture made 28 Jan. 1714 (1 Geo. I) between the Right Hon. Robert, Earl Ferrers of the one part, and Samuel Shephard, the elder, of London, merchant, and George Townsend, the elder, of Lincolns Inn, of the other part. Whereas by Indenture Tripartite, etc. (recital of previous deed). Now this Indenture Witnesseth that for the considerations aforesaid and of the sum of 10/0 to the said Robert, in pursance of the powers, etc., given in the said Indenture Tripartite, etc., Hath revoked, etc., the uses, etc., by the said recited Indenture limited, etc., unto the said Washington Shirley, now Washington, Lord Viscount Tamworth, etc., and his sons. And this Indenture further witnesseth that the said Robert, Earl Ferrers, doth limit. etc, the said premises, etc., after his decease To the use, etc., of the Hon. Lawrence Shirley, Esq., one of his sons by the Lady Elizabeth, etc., in tail male with remainder as mentioned in previous deed. Provision for Lawrence Shirley, to make a joynture of £200 per annum, and to raise £2000 on the property for portions of daughters and younger sons.

Owing to the 2nd Earl, Washington,¹ who died 14 Apr. 1729 leaving no male issue, and his brother Henry, the 3rd Earl, dying unmarried in 1745, the honours of the Earldom devolved upon Lawrence as 4th Earl, he being the eldest son of Lawrence Shirley mentioned above, who thus inherited the Garsdon property with certain charges upon it. This nobleman, who has the melancholy distinction of suffering the extreme penalty of the law owing to his murder, in a paroxysm of rage, of his own confidential land steward, parted with the Garsdon estate, in 1758, to Paul Methuen, Esq., of Corsham, by an Indenture of Bargain and Sale drawn up between Sewallis Shirley and Lawrence, Earl Ferrers, of the 1st part, Ann Shirley, the elder, of the 2nd part, the Hon Washington Shirley, Robert Shirley, Walter Shirley, Thomas Shirley, Elizabeth Shirley, and Ann Shirley, the younger of the 3rd part, and the said Paul Methuen of the 4th part, dated 27 Dec. 1758 (Enrollt. of Record at Westr., Easter Term, 32 Geo. II). The property remained in the hands of the Methuen family until about the middle of the last century when its proximity to the estates of the Earls of Suffolk and Berkshire led to its natural fate of incorporation with them. By an indenture of Conveyance, dated 10 Oct. 1843, between the Rt. Hon. Paul Methuen, Lord Methuen of the one part, and the Rt. Hon. Thomas, Earl of Suffolk and Berkshire on the other part, the Manor of Garsdon, co. Wilts, also the Advowson and Presentation to the Rectory and Church of Garsdon, and the Consold. Vicarages of Lea and Cleverton, and all the lands, etc., in Garsdon, Lea, and Cleverton, Whitchurch, Milborne and Malmesbury, amounting to 1216 acres 3 r. 39 p. passed into the possession of the latter nobleman. In his family the manor and estate still remains, but the ecclesiastical patronage is in other hands.

A few words may be added about a memorial of the Washington connection with Garsdon to which allusion has been made in a note on p. 341. This is a stone¹ upon which is painted a coat of Washington arms similar to that in the Church (vol. vi, p. 483). The coat is surmounted by the figure of an eagle or raven with outstretched wings, issuing from a coronet, carved in the stone, the crest of the Washington family. The arms are those of Washington quartering another which is probably a variant of a Lawrence coat. [See Burke's Armory under Lawrence (Hampshire) and Lawrens (Dorset and Winchester).] Canon Jackson (Aubrey's Wilts, p. 243) suggests that the latter is the coat of the Mercury family. But it seems much more likely as the name Lawrence so persistently recurs in the Washington nomenclature, that a marriage between a Washington and a Lawrence heiress¹ which has not yet been traced actually took place. This stone apparently at one time occupied a conspicuous position on one of the buildings attached to the Manor. It afterwards, for many years, was preserved in the Manor House by the tenant of the Manor, Mr. S. Woody, and at present is in the possession of his son, Mr. E. Woody, of Coln St. Aldwyn, Fairford. Mr. Moncure D. Conway, in an article² published in The Graphic, May 6th, 1893, considers the special interest of this Washington relic to be that this is the only early example of the Washington coat "which has also the Washington crest—out of a coronet a raven with wings displayed". Mr. Conway shows how little foundation there is for the common idea that the stars and stripes of the United States flag have been derived from the Washington coat.

MINISTERS IN THE MALMESBURY DISTRICT ABOUT THE TIME OF THE CIVIL WARS AND RESTORATION.

Some years ago Canon Wordsworth contributed to the Wilts Arch. Mag. (vol. xxxiv, p. 159-192) an article on "Wilts Ministers (A.D. 1643-1662)". At the end of the article he expresses a wish that in each rural deanery in Wilts the registers of the parish should be examined with a view to supplementing and correcting the lists of clergy which he has given. Unfortunately in many parishes the registers for this period have disappeared or are imperfect. The Malmesbury registers are, however, quite complete and in this note the results of examining these registers and a few others in the district will be given. The same reference letters for standard works will be used as in Canon Wordsworth's article, viz. :—

J="Register of Church Livings in Wilts in the time of the Commonwealth" (MS. Brit. Mus., Lansd. 459, ff. 154-165), ed. by Canon W. H. Jones in Wilts Arch. Mag., vol. xix, pp. 182-216.

W=J. Walker. "An attempt towards recovering an account of the numbers and sufferings of the Clergy," etc. Fol. 1714.

C=E. Calamy. "An abridgement of Mr. Baxter's History, etc., with an account of the Ministers, etc., ejected after the Restoration," etc. 8vo., vols. i and ii, 1713; vols. iii and iv, 1727.

Shaw="A History of the English Church," etc. (1640-60), by W. A. Shaw, Litt.D. 8vo., two vols., 1900.

The names of the clergy occurring in the Malmesbury register as therein described will be given first, also the service taken by them with the date, and then some occurring in other registers. Those mentioned in J would have accepted the Commonwealth ecclesiastical arrangements :—

ALCOCK, THOMAS—Minister of Broad Hinton; a witness at his daughter's marr. 10 Oct. 1654; wife's name Sarah; takes a baptism 4 Sept. 1662. [Phill. Inst., d. V. of Broad Hinton, 1664.] Brazenose Coll., Ox., matr. 24 Nov. 1609, cler. fil. 16, B.A. 1612, M.A. 1614

BRIDGES, [EDWARD]—Minister of Seagry: a witness at marr., 6 Apr. 1655. In J, incumbent, i.e., vicar of Seagry, and rector of Bremilham. [In Phill. Inst., V. of Seagry 1626-1666. R. of North Wraxall 1660-1666, R. of Bremilham 1627-1666.]

CHARNBURY, [WILLIAM]—Minister of Stanton; takes a bapt. 21 Sept. 1662, do. 25 Jan. 1662. In J, "sequestered," . . . this agrees with W, ii, p. 373. [Phill. Inst., R. of Stanton Quinton 1639; John Byrom is appointed in 1677, but no predecessor is mentioned.]

² A later edition in three vols., edited by S. Palmer, appeared in 1802, under the title "The Nonconformists Memorial".

- DOLMAN, WILLIAM—Rector of Christian Malford; wife's name Francis; his children bapt. at M., Francis (dau.) 12 June 1645, William 25 June 1646. PATENT ROLL. 47 Edward III, pt. 2, m. 12.

A.D. 1363.—Enrolment of a grant by charter indented of Edward III to Sir John Dautesey, knight, and Joan his wife, of the manor of Merden, co. Wilts, to hold to them and their issue, with all homages and services of the free-holders, with view of frankpledge and all other liberties and appurtenances thereto belonging, for the yearly rent of a rose at the Feast of the Nativity of St. John the Baptist, on condition that John and Joan and their heirs shall observe all the agreements touching the manors of Norton Skydemor, Fyfhide, Trowe, Hatchesham, Brandeston, and Combes, in cos. Wilts, Surrey, and Suffolk, held by the Prioress of Dertford, by the king's concession, mentioned in an indenture between the Prioress and Sir John, dated at Dertford, 4 November, 47 Edward III. The observance thereof being in any way defective, the manor of Merden may be taken back into the hands of the king or of his heirs. On failure of issue of John and Joan, the reversion of the manor shall be to the king and his heirs. Witnesses—S., Bishop of London; W., Bishop of Winchester; Edmund, Earl of Kent, the king's son; Richard, Earl of Arundell; John Knyvet, Chancellor; Richard Le Scrope, Treasurer; William de Latymer, Chamberlain; Nicholas de Carreu, Keeper of the Privy Seal. Dated at Westminster, 13th November.

Afterwards, on 6th December, the King appointed Michael Skylling to give full seisin of the manor to John and Joan.

Miscellanea.

Aldbourne.—The following appeared in the Standard of 23rd October :—

The restoration of the peal of bells at St. John's, Deritend, Birmingham, has brought into prominence a dead industry of the little Wiltshire village of Aldbourne. In many parts of the country are constantly found castings from the old-world village, but it is not often in one tower that whole "rings", from treble to tenor, are found made by the Wells family, as is the case at Birmingham. It is thoroughly typical of the time when the bells were made that there is no motto referring to the Almighty or His Church on them. The period recalls the turbulent reign of George III and the struggle for independence in America.

The inscriptions are as follows :—

Treble.—We are placed here in the year 1777.

Second.—Health and happiness to all our subscribers.—R. Wells, Fecit. 1777.

Third.—R. Wells, Aldbourne. Fecit.

Fourth.—May the town of Birmingham be ever held in esteem for its manufact.—R. Wells, Fecit.

Fifth.—R. Wells, Aldbourne, Fecit. 1777.

Sixth.—Wisdom to the Council of the State. Success to the British Fleet.—R. Wells, Fecit. 1777.

Seventh.—May Great Britain ever stand unrivalled in her commerce.—R. Wells, Fecit. 1777.

Tenor.—R. Wells, of Aldbourne. Fecit.

The tenor is 11 cwt. 2qr. 14 lb., and it is noteworthy that the third and fourth are lighter than the second.

Swindon Tithes.—The following document is in a dilapidated condition in the Municipal Muniment Room at Salisbury.

To the Kinges most ex[cellent M]aiestie

The supplication of Miles Ken[dail],¹ clearke, Vicar of Swindon

In most humble manner sheweth unto your Highness that Thomas Stevens of Brook[ford] in the said par[r]ish . . . a lease or composition from King Henry the Eight which he hath not to show hath taken alw[ays] of Swindon all the wool, lambs and all manner of tithes of one farm called Broomford to the yearely value of twenty five pounds and wold paye nothings to the said Vicarage. After the death of the said Thomas Stephens his sonne and executor John Stephens . . . far from . . . oppression of his father hath had used, that he himself likewise did take and urge his tenant to take . . . times . . . taken but also hath detained the space of five years together that yearely payment of five pounds six shillings which his father was wont to pay And in this manifest violent manner he now with holdeth all the tithes and commodities of tithe in both the farmes due to the said vicarage to the great impoverishing of yo^r most humble Orator now incumbent of the said Vicarage besides the great wronge yo^r poore Supp^t susteyne and in his fathers daie the tithes that his sonnes now in the last five years have violent taken away are worth [. . . lb.] of which your poore supp^t shall be utterly defrauded and frustrated for ever hereafter unless it may please yo^r highness of yo^r accustomed clemencie to grant that both the foresaid John Stevens and all others that have by the space of many yeares in like sort oppressed yo^r poor Supp^t may answer their doings and be ordered herein by such commissioners as yo^r Maiestie shall be [pleased] to appoint for the h[earing] and ending here of And yo^r poore Supp^t (as in duty bound) shall ever pray unto god for the long ioy and prosperitie of yo^r Royal mai[estie].

It is his maties pleasure that the Lord Byshepp of Saru', Doctor Hyde, chancellor [of] Saru' and Doctor Will^m Wilkinson or anie two or one of them [c]alling such [persons] of good . . . and indifference as the petitioner will chouse to their assistance shall heare and [impound] this cause according to equitie and justice that the Petitioner may have [no] further iust cause to trouble his Ma^{tie} if so yo^r . . . certifie yo^r pro And by whose obstinacie they could not order this complaint that . . . of the truth hereof may signifie his . . . of this petitioner, yf there be cause.

Whichcote.—The following is an extract from the London Chronicle, Thursday, March 16—Saturday, March 18 1780:—

“On Thursday last died Isaac Larpent, Esq., of Whichcote, in Wiltshire, formerly a wine merchant in Henrietta Street, Covent Garden.”

Can anyone say where Whichcote is situated, and whether it is or was a manor or hamlet within another parish? All known topographical dictionaries and gazetteers have been searched, and no such place can be found in Wiltshire.

Orientation of Churches (p. 474-5).—In The Ground Plan of the English Parish Church, by A. Hamilton Thompson, M.A., F.S.A. (Cambridge Manuals of Science and Literature), pp. 131-3, will be found remarks upon the fact that in many churches the axis of the chancel is out of line with the axis of the nave. Mr. Thompson dismisses the popular explanation for this deviation, "that it symbolises the leaning of our Saviour's head upon the cross", and also the suggestion that "the orientation of the chancel followed the direction in which the sun rose on the morning of the patronal feast". His conclusion is that the divergence is really accidental and general due to rebuilding. His words are "In medieval work it will seldom be found in a chancel where no enlargement upon an early site has taken place; and it seems safe to conclude that, like so much else in medieval buildings which is irregular, it generally arises from the rebuilding of a fabric upon an encumbered site".

A. M. WATERMAN.

Thomas Crockford (p. 478) merits a somewhat longer notice in these pages; he was born in 1580, son of Richard Crockford, yeoman, of Wargrave, Berks; graduated B.A. 8 July 1603, of Magdalen College, Oxford, of which he was a scholar in 1597; ordained in 1603 by Bishop Cotton, of Sarum; schoolmaster at Stockton, where he married in 1612 Johanna, daughter of Thomas Alford, of Mere, clothier; in 1613 Vicar of Fisherton-de-la-Mere, where he died and was buried in 1634. There is a curious monument to two of his children in the chancel of this church.

A.S.

Tobias Crispe (p. 385-7).—With reference to existing memorials of Tobias Crispe in Brinkworth Church, there are the following:—The pulpit (on supports of a probably earlier date), with sounding board and back bearing the inscription, "Wo be unto me if I preach not the Gospel. Anno Domini 1630." The holy table, of black oak, finely carved, with date 1633. Silver chalice, 1631. Silver flagon, 1637. These were all presented to the church during Dr. Crispe's incumbency, 1629 to 1643. In addition to these is a chained copy of Foxe's Book of Martyrs, presented by his brother (or perhaps his son), "Mr. Samuel Crispe of London, J. Salter".

J. LEE OSBORN.

It may be of interest to note that Samuel Crisp, whose name occurs so often in Fanny Burney's Diary and Letters under the familiar title of "Daddy" Crisp, was a descendant of Tobias. His father was Samuel Crispe [d. 1717, Will P.C.C. 26 Tenison], eldest son of Samuel Crispe, of Clapham [see page 387, d. 1703]. "Daddy" Crisp is described by Macaulay as being in his later days "a cynic and hater of mankind", but he is presented in a much more amiable light in the Burford Papers of W. H. Hutton, recently published, where some of his letters are printed. He died at Chesington in Surrey in 1783, and a mural tablet in the church records his burial there.

John Crispe, Rector of Lydiard Millicent (1579-1603), was an uncle of Tobias. His will (P.C.C. 75 Harte) directs that he is "to be buried in the Churchyarde on the Northe syde neare to the Chauncell".
