ENCAUSTIC TILES AT TINHEAD.

HE four patterns of encaustic tiles here reproduced are found in one of the upper rooms at Becket's Farm, Tinhead. They are laid in front of the fireplace, forming a raised hearth. How long they have occupied this position is uncertain; they are now much worn and broken, and it is with difficulty that some minor details of the original design have been recovered. In one case this would have been impossible had not a more perfect specimen of the same tile been obtained from a different source.

They are interesting from having most probably belonged either to the church or some other of the monastic buildings at Edington. The designs, also, so far as known to the writer, are somewhat uncommon. The two heraldic ones are:

No. 1. A shield between two nondescript animals (evidently not intended as supporters) bearing On a chief two mullets—apparently the arms of the ancient family of St. John—and we find the name of John St. John as Rector of Edington Monastery, A.D. 1494-1515.

No. 2. On an eagle with two heads displayed, a shield charged with a lion rampant sinister—a coat apparently not given in Papworth, but which it ought not to be difficult to identify—and may perhaps be looked for either as another Rector, or a benefactor to Edington monastery. Of this tile, fragments only are found at Tinhead, but a perfect specimen, said to have come from Ivy Mill, also in Edington parish, is in possession of Mr. H. Medlicott, of Potterne, to whom the writer is indebted for permission to make a tracing, thus enabling him to complete the design.

Nos. 3 and 4, although non-heraldic, are patterns of somewhat uncommon occurrence.

The four tiles are about 6½ inches square, and of uniform size.

The fine old room at Becket's Farm, in which they are preserved, is fitted with oak panelling, apparently of the time of James I. Two panels occupy the space above the fireplace, the subjects between them, also carved in oak, being 1, Justice— with sword and scales; 2, Vanity—a female gazing in a mirror; 3, Music— another figure with a musical instrument. In one of the panels is a shield bearing a clenched hand in armour; the corresponding shield in the other panel is missing.

To the late Mr. Cullimore, the tenant of Becket's Farm, the writer is indebted for the facilities given him in making tracings of these tiles. Any further information on the subject— the locality of their manufacture, or other known specimens belonging to the same series— would be most acceptable.

The following list is taken from the well-known Britannia, a fine thick folio, consisting of 501 pages, printed in London, "by Tho. Roycroft for the Undertaker, Richard Blome, mdcclxxiii". This work, dedicated to Charles II, has been described, I think somewhat unjustly, "as a most entire piece of theft out of Camden and Speed", for in the preface the writer says, "I do not own myself the Author but the Undert-taker of this Work, it receiving Birth from divers Manuscripts, from all Books yet extant that they writ of the same subject, as well in general as in particular, and from some hundreds of experienced persons in the several parts of this Kingdom of England, who have freely contributed their assisting hands in promoting the same", etc.

After this preface succeed twenty-five pages containing 812 coats-of-arms (numbered with an alphabetical index) under which are written the names of the owners, with a description of their titles and offices; there are several other coats on the maps scattered throughout this work; all are for the most part untinctured, and when a coat is tinctured it is almost always only partial; all the peers' and bishops' shields are ensigned with their respective coronets and mitres; the King's shield alone bears a crest. All of these Arms (now being blasoned in The Genealogist) are those of the "Benefactors & Promoters of this worke".

There is a long account of our county, "no less fertile then delightful, and enjoying a most sweet and delightful air, hath delectable hills well clothed with woods and watered with fresh streams, exceeding fertile in corn and grass, feeding great flocks of sheep". It relates the now discredited legendary accounts of men, places, and things, and gives short and somewhat indifferent notices of the following: Salisbury, Stonehenge, Wilton, Downton ("the sometime habitation of Beavois of Southampton"), Amesbury, Hindon, Mere, ("but at present of little account, by reason of the late damage it suffered by fire"), Stourton, Westbury, Trowbridge ("situate on a hill"), Edington, Lavington, Devizes, Bradford, Castlecombe, Chippenham, Corsham ("now of mean account, but in former time the Mansion-house of King Ætheldred"), Calne, Marlborough, Auburne, Swindon ("a Town of no largeness"), Wotton Bassett, Highworth, Cricklade, and Malmesbury. "There are other Borough towns which have the election of Parliament men, viz., Heitsbury, Bedwin Magna, and Lugersall."
On the map of Wiltshire are engraved the arms of Lord Brouncker, which are similar to those of Brouncker of Melksham and Earlstoke, viz., Argent, six pellets, three, two, one, a chief embattled sable. Some of these maps were printed earlier than the book, that of England in 1669; that of London, surrounded by the Arms of sixteen City Companies, is engraved by Hollar.

Preceding our List of Wiltshire Generosi we print the Arms of Wiltshire "Benefactors" of the work, and a list of the Members of Parliament.

Wiltshire Notes and Queries.
PECULIARS OF THE DEAN AND CHAPTER OF SARUM.

There are a number of Visitation Books, dating from 1600, mainly composed of Citations, Visitations, and Faculties, but amongst these are a good many scattered Allegations as well. The earliest Allegation is dated June 6, 1629, and there are also notes on Probate of Wills. The Bonds do not begin till 1638, and are in bundles. No. 1 consists of two rolls, (1) 1638 to 1640; (2) 1640 to 1645.

There are a number of small seals affixed to the Bonds, many of which are simply office seals, such as a star, a lion rampant, a pelican in its piety, a fretty device, a ragged staff between two leaves, a branch fruited, anchor, etc. Many of the Lyme Regis Bonds are sealed with merchants' marks, e.g., "T. H." between a cross on a triangle, and a circle in the middle of the cross. Angels also occur, and the stars are extremely varied in shape. The usual size is half-an-inch in diameter, and besides these there are a number of private armorial seals, some well preserved, others not. Some, too, of these have been used for several Bonds, which would imply that they were the coat of someone attached to the Dean's Court. The names of the witnesses to the Bonds vary; many are the official witnesses, but there are also a large number which contain the names of local witnesses, and which are, for that reason, of considerable interest to the local antiquary. I have transcribed all of these I found.

The valuable Bishops' Allegations are being printed by the writer in the current numbers of The Genealogist, and it is hoped that by the concurrent issue of the Peculiars Courts that they will all be finished in measurable time.

EDMUND NEVILL.

OLD WILTSHIRE CUSTOMS.

The explanation of many customs, the meaning of which has long been lost and forgotten, lies in the interpretation of ancient myths and folk-lore tales, about which much has lately been written.
Practices still in use in Wiltshire can thus be traced back to heathen myths, showing continuity of thought and the deathlessness of ideas once deeply rooted in the human mind, customs which are now observed either from superstitious dread of evil attending their neglect; or from a feeling of reverence for what our ancestors did before us, but in ignorance of what the custom originally meant.

These two characteristic ways of thought have been taken by Mr. L. Gomme (in his Ethnology of Folk-Lore) as indicating two different races of men, shown by their different ways of regarding the spirits of the departed:—

1. — Venerating their ancestors.
2. — Fearing them as evil spirits, fairies, or goblins, etc.

The Wiltshire practice of telling the bees when a death occurs in the family, is an instance of a survival in practice of a custom which has lost its meaning.

The bees were the providers of the sacred mead, the food best beloved by the gods, and consequently they were greatly in their favour; so when a death took place it was those "little winged messengers of the gods" that were at once sent off to warn them to expect and prepare for the arrival of the new comer, "their one desire being to procure a safe and speedy passage of the soul to spirit-land, or as it is put in modern folk-lore, lest the devil should gain power over the dead person".—(L. Gomme, Ethnology of Folk-Lore.)

Other Bee myths are still believed in, in Wiltshire; such as:

1. — They can foretell weather changes sooner than we can.
2. — They foretell death, by the swarm alighting on dead wood.
3. — They bring good luck by alighting on live wood.
4. — They awake at midnight on Christmas Eve and hum loudly in their hives to salute the new-born king.
The superstition connected with the swarm alighting on dead or live wood, may be illustrated by the "Tree of Life or Immortality", which occurs in so many mythologies, such as in the following Polynesian story:—"The dead assemble on a huge tree with dead and living branches, and only those who tread on the living branches come back to life."—(Macculloch in The Childhood of Fiction.)

W. A. Cox, in Notes & Queries, Ser. X, viii, 329, says in the Greek Anthology, vii, 717 (xi, 8, in Mr. Mackail's selection) is a poem, by an unknown author, on the death of a bee master, in which the words "tell it to the bees" occur; and in a letter to me he calls attention to the "Ætheries haustus", the divinely imparted knowledge, or capacity for it, implied by Virgil in the Bee Georgic.

WILTSHIRE SUPERSTITIONS.

A well-known clergyman in Wiltshire has given me two interesting ones. He was born in Cambridgeshire many years ago, and lived with his father, who was also a clergyman in that part. He tells me that wart charming existed in that parish, and has given me the following description:—"The woman who possessed this power was of a respectable farmer family, and not, as she should be, old and haggard. My friend's sister had warts on her hands, and she went to the charmer, who took her hands and muttered some incantation over them, and the warts absolutely died away." The second one is:—"That it is very unsatisfactory to kill pigs during a waning moon, as the bacon is no good to the housewife in her household, as it wastes in the frying."

John Benett-Stanford.

["White Witchery" we believe to be prevalent all over the world. The late Mr. William Wiltshire, for nearly sixty years parish clerk at Seend, was reputed to possess this gift of charming away warts, sprains, thorns, etc., and to have Proof of Age of Richard de Loueraz.

The following translation of a "Proof of Age" may not be uninteresting by reason of the careful manner in which the witnesses were examined. I take it that the family name of the heir would now be spelt Loveridge. My reason for printing it is to see if anyone can identify Haldeway with some existing parish. That there is no mistake as to the county is proved by an Inquisition ad Quod Damnum [L. P. M., 8 Ed. III, No. 47 (2nd Nos.)], from which it appears that Stephen Loueraz owned "the rent of a messuage and a carucate of land with the appurtenances in Haldeway, in co. Wilts, which is held of the Abbot of Hyde, by Winchester, for the yearly service of 1d." Stephen was the uncle and heir of the Richard of the Coram Rege Roll.

John Dyke.

(Wilts.—The sheriff was ordered that— because Richard de Loueraz, son and heir of John de Loueraz, deceased, who held of the king in chief, says he is of full age and seeks of the king lands and tenements, which are of his heritage now in the custody of William de Bynteworth until the lawful age of the heir of the same John by commission of the king, to be returned to him—wherefore the lord king wills that foresaid Richard, who was born at Haldewey, in foresaid county, and baptized in church of same village, as it is said, prove his age, etc.; to make come before the king (coram Rege), etc., all such, etc., of foresaid county

And to make known to foresaid William, etc., that he should be before the king, etc., to show if for himself he have or know anything to say wherefore foresaid lands and tenements ought not to be returned to foresaid Richard as to him who is of full age, etc. And now comes foresaid Richard and said he is of full age, and sought lands and tenements which are of his heritage, to be returned to him, etc. And the witnesses of the proof came, etc. And foresaid William came hither into the King's Court and said that foresaid Richard was of full age, etc., and well allowed that proof of age of same Richard should be admitted, and the lands and tenements returned to him. Reginald Way, of the age of 50 years, dwelling at 6 leagues from foresaid village of Haldewey, swears and diligently examined agrees with the others about age of foresaid Richard. Asked how he knows this, he says that his mother died in the same year in which foresaid Richard was born, and forthwith after the death of his mother he served foresaid John, father of foresaid Richard, and remained in his service for three years, and then foresaid John died, from which time 19 years are now elapsed, etc.

William le Chanberlayn, of the age of 30 years, dwelling at 3 leagues from foresaid village of Haldewey, swears and diligently examined agrees with the others about age of foresaid Richard. Asked how he knows this, he says that he knows this by report of Mabill, his mother, who was present when foresaid Richard was born, and by report of many of the country, etc.

Philip Sturmi, of the age of 33 years, dwelling 5 leagues from foresaid village of Haldewey, swears and diligently examined agrees with the others about age of foresaid Richard. Asked how he knows this, he says that a certain Margaret, sister of Philip himself, was married in same year in which foresaid Richard was born, etc. He says, also, that he knows this by report of the country.

William Lillebon, of the age of 30 years, dwelling in parish where foresaid Richard was born, swears and diligently examined agrees with the others about age of foresaid Richard, and says that he knows this by report of a certain Peter de Fisebury his uncle, and Alisie his sister, who was married in same year in which foresaid Richard was born, and also knows it by report of the country.

And because foresaid Richard, sufficiently by foresaid William and the others, has proved his age, and also it appears by aspect of body of Richard himself that he is full age, viz., 21 years, the same Richard may have seisin of lands and tenements which are of his heritage, etc.

AN OLD CIBORIUM.

On February 27th, Mr. Durlacher bought at Messrs. Christie's, for £6,000, a Ciborium, said to have belonged at one time to Malmesbury Abbey, the property of the late Mr. Jerdone Braikenridge, of Clevedon; in 1874 it was exhibited at the Victoria and Albert Museum, and again in 1897 at the Burlington Fine Arts Club, illustrated in colours in the Catalogue. What is its pedigree? It is described as follows in Messrs. Christie's Catalogue:

A Ciborium of copper-gilt and champlèvé enamel—7 in. high, 6 in. diam.—probably English, 13th century.

The design is arranged to form, both on the cover and the bowl, six roughly circular medallions enclosing subjects from the Old and New Testaments. The figures are mostly in engraved gilt metal, but those of our Lord, Angels, and the most sacred persons, are delicately enamelled, the flesh translucent and of a pale jasper tinge. The medallions on the cover are on chrysophase green ground with a lilac centre, separated by a streak of white; the cross and some of the drapery, &c., shaded apple-green, and introducing, in addition, turquoise and lapis blues. Between the medallions is a conventional treatment of foliage, in blue shading to white on lapis ground, but with regions of black, red or turquoise surrounding the flowers. The bowl is treated almost as richly, but with lapis or chrysophase within the medallions, and a bright turquoise ground outside. On the gilt ribands framing the circles are inscriptions, the letters on the cover being in black, and on the bowl scarlet. The knob which surmounts the cover is a flattened sphere similarly enamelled with leafage and supported by four petals. There are borders round the rims and the foot, with enamelled designs on a gold ground. In the interior, on the cover, is a medallion representing Christ in glory, and another on the bowl with the Agnus Dei. The subjects depicted on the cover are: The Nativity, The Circumcision, The Baptism, The Road to Calvary, The Crucifixion, and The Resurrection. The subjects on the bowl represent Aaron with the Ark and the rod that budded, The Sacrifice of Abel, The Circumcision, Abraham's Sacrifice, The Brazen Serpent, and Samson Fighting the Philistines.

Queries.

Heytesbury Seal.—Had the Collegiate Church of Heytesbury any arms? I think there must have been a seal, but cannot trace an impression; the Church is dedicated to SS. Peter and Paul. I am acquainted with the Borough Seal. I am inclined to think that the Deans of Salisbury must have used the Decanal Seal upon the Heytesbury Collegiate Church deeds.

Quoit.—Is this word known in Wiltshire, and can any one explain its meaning as used for the Cromlech capstones in Cornwall and Wales, and to which word a legend is appended at the Portisham Cromlech, in Dorsetshire?

William Parsons.—"An abandoned rake named William Parsons, described as one who had been engaged both in the army and naval service, returning from transportation, committed a robbery on Hounslow Heath, and was subsequently hanged thereon in chains in 1705. He was the son of a Wiltshire baronet." The above paragraph occurs in a chapter on "Roads and Travelling", on p. 31 of vol. ii of England and the English in the Eighteenth Century, by William Connor Sydney. Was there ever a Wiltshire baronet named Parsons? If not, can anyone suggest any reason for such an error in a book published in 1892?

Rush Knots or Crosses.—I have lately come across the recollection of a custom, no longer practised in this part of Wiltshire, but remembered as having been seen some forty years ago, of making knots or crosses of rushes or grass; but I cannot find out anything more about it than that they were made and thrown down. Similar knots or crosses are made by the women and children in Ireland at the present day, on St. Brigid's Day, Feb. 1st, and are hung over their beds and doors in honour of St. Brigid, and renewed every year; just as the fire kept burning in her honour was renewed once a year at Kildare, on St. Brigid's Day (our Candlemas Day), till put an end to by the Church in A.D. 1220, as superstitious, and finally extinguished, after revival, at the Reformation.

In Wales a similar knot was made and called "Cwlwm Cariad", which in former days was thrown with a silent wish into the Sacred Wells.

The history of the Cross or Knot—whether, as in Wales, called a "True Lover's Knot" or, as in Ireland, "St. Brigid Cross", is unknown or forgotten in this part of Wiltshire. Can anyone rediscover it or any other custom bearing on these traditions, which apparently have a common origin, and may belong to Celtic parts of the country, though remembered even here.

A Black Figure.—A cousin of mine, a widowed sister of the late Mr. Richard Walmsley, of Lucknam, desires to find out where exists (or did exist) the following "adornment" to some church porch, which she remembers visiting with her late brother, the Rev. Edward Walmsley, sometime Rector of Hilperton:—"A black figure of a man, over the porch, the principal entrance; the figure seated, one leg resting on the other knee, apparently unimpaired—but that was about sixty years ago." As my cousin's brother drove her and others to see this church, he being then at Hilperton, the church could not have been far from that neighbourhood—that is the only clue I have. S. K. L. Earle.

Henry Dugdale (vol. v, p. 474).—In his will, dated 1589, he is described as of Weston, in the parish of Bury Pomery, co. Devon, gent., where he desires to be buried; he mentions lands in Lancashire, inherited from his father, John Dugdale, which he bequeaths to his eldest son, George; among the overseers are Mr. Edward Seymour, and his three brothers, John, Christopher, and William Dugdaill; his wife, Anne, one of the Executors. Any information as to her, and his descendants would be most acceptable. I believe there are extant no memorials to this family at Berry Pomeroy. Sage.

Walter Scott (vol. v, p. 190).—The Wiltshire friend of Sir Walter Scott was not Daniel Webb, but his great grandson, Lord Webb John Seymour, baptized at Monckton Farley in 1777, and buried at Edinburgh in 1819—five years after the publication of Waverley. Both belonged to a social literary group, who were wont to congregate at Edinburgh through the winter months for the purpose of mutual intercourse. To Lord Webb Seymour Sir Walter is said to have been indebted for several Wiltshire tales, more particularly that of "Wild Darrell, of Littlecote"—which he has introduced into his well-known poem of Rokeby.

Monasticon Wiltonense (vol. v, p. 239).—Of this volume, compiled by Sir Richard Colt Hoare, a limited impression was printed by Mr. Rutter, of Shaftesbury, in 1821. It preceded the issue of Modern Wiltshire, and was, it is believed, intended as a guide—so far as the monastic history of the county was concerned—to Sir Richard's friends and coadjutors in the compilation of the history of the various Hundreds contained in that work, which was then in progress. Notes on Books.

In the publication of these volumes, each of which contains a complete transcript of Baptisms, Marriages, and Burials, extending over a period of more than two centuries, including also a full index of names and places, Mr. Parry has done good service by thus recording, in a form at once complete and easy of reference, the local genealogy of two well known and by no means unimportant Wiltshire parishes.

The Registers of Alcannings begin in 1579. Here are entries of no less than four families—Bartlett, Gough, Nicholas and Provender—whose pedigrees are recorded in the Herald's Visitation of 1623, whilst among other names of earlier parishioners, we note more particularly those of Audrey, Corderay (also of Chute), Cromwell, Filkes (also of Devizes), Hiscock, Noyes, Parry, Pottinger, Springbatt, Stratton, Swauborow, and Typper—some of which are still well known either in the village or its immediate neighbourhood. An entry, in 1613, records that "all the names above written were delivered up at the Archbyshope's Visitation at the Devizes", on the 31st of May in that year. From other occasional memoranda, we learn also that Robert Byng read himself in as Rector in 1625, Henry Kinninmonnd in 1669, and John Fullerton, LL.B., was inducted in 1770, whilst Mrs. Blanch Lloyd, widow, and Mrs. Jane Smith (widow of Mr. Michael Smith, formerly Secretary to Dr. Sheldon, Archbishop of Canterbury, 1663-77), were the respective donors of "a fine large damask cloth and napkin", and "a large fine purple cloth, with a silk fringe" for the Communion Table.

The hamlet of Etchilhampton possesses a separate Register, beginning at a latter date (1630). Here, among the names of principal parishioners, are Ernele (sometime lords of the manor), Bayly (of which family a female member was the early patroness of Archbishop Laud), Goddard, Merewether, and Dorchester—two members of which were benefactors to the village poor. Among the sums collected by Briefs from 1673 to 1699, two items only are of local interest.

1685. For relief of the inhabitants of Barford, Wilts—2s.
   For relief of William Knight, of Donhead—1s. 2d.

What is the meaning of this, on p. 243:—

"Jane Smith, Anne Stoodley, Madame Stansteed, we will all go a fishing and met some more of our friends, some call them geepses."
Bishop's Cannings Registers, included in the second of these volumes, begin in 1591. Here we find Nicholas of Coate (a younger branch from Roundway), and Weston, also of Coate and Cannings, the two principal families with recorded pedigrees in 1623. Other early names are Bayly, Brown, Calow, Cooke (one at least of whom was "Reeve" of the Bishop of Salisbury as lord of the manor), Cox (from whom descended Sir Richard Cox, Lord Chancellor of Ireland, 1706), Cromwell, Dorchester, Ettry (for several generations the village carpenters and clock makers), Ernele (lords of the manor of Bourton), Neate, Parry, Pound, Ruddle, Shergoll, Skeate, Sloper, Snell (whose name survives in their old residence), Stevens and Unwin—which Bishop's Cannings phraseology has, of course, easily corrupted into "Onion".

From 1653 to 1657 the Marriages were principally before a Justice of the Peace, after three publications "at close of morning exercise", or perhaps, as was less agreeable, "in Devizes Market Place, on three several market days, between the hours of 12 and 2".

In 1597 we find the burial of "three poor walking people", in 1628 of "a travelling soldier", in 1644 of William Collett, "a soldier dying at Roundway", in 1677 of Philip Hitchcock, of Westbury, "found dead and killed with cold at Horton, low down", and in 1716 of Mary Gray, "a poor widow that was barbarously murdered".

The Vicar—Thomas Etwell—records that "I did new lay and point the tiles of my house, and build the kitchen and chamber chimneys in the year 1663".

Lastly, on January 8th, 1811, "the organ, the gift of Mr. William Bayly, was opened, and the organist's pay began the 13th instant, the interest of £600 for the salary".

Whereas he has made use of £100 out of sale of his wife's estate, to her the like sum in lieu thereof to be paid 6 months after his decease, making all his estate chargeable for payment thereof; also to his said wife all her own goods before marriage with him, all her own maiden-rings, with three diamond rings, ear-rings, gold watch-chain and

But if his son Thomas shall not reclaim and marry a wife with £1,000 he bequeaths to him only the sum of £500

in satisfaction of a bond wherein he stands bound to him in £200 in case he disinherit him; the £500 to be raised for Richard his son in this case to be void, the estate in the premises being, in the case of the disinheritance of Thomas, in trust for him, Richard the son, on condition he marry a wife of £1,000, and under the other conditions aforesaid, and to be similarly entailed, the said sum of £500 to Thomas to be paid half-yearly at, or 28 days after, Feaste of Michailmas and Lady Day, after his forfeiture of said estate. To daughter Eleanor Stokes annuity of £35, payable half-yearly, out of his other estate in Yate and Wapley, co. Gloucester, and such part of Stanshaves as is not before mentioned, viz., the grounds called Ston Leaze, Old Orchard Whitehorne Leaze, the further Broad Leaze, Little Can Leaze, Great Can Leaze, and 3 meads called Long Meade, Little Mead, and the further Meade, with power to said Eleanor to distraint for said annuity if in arrears; also to her £20 to be paid 6 months after decease, also his late wife's gold watch and ruby ring set with small diamonds, and two small ear-rings set with one diamond; also her own silver cup with two handles and a cover, and be delivered to her one month after his decease. To his brother Samuel Stokes, and William Endfield, and John Neate the other part of Stanshawes, called the Barn or Heyhouse Stables, formerly in the occupation of Edward Stokes, deceased, father of the testator, together with the gardens and backsides, and the Great Orchard and the Red Streake Orchard, and the several closes belonging in the parishes of Yate and Sodbury and Wapley, called Crooke's Leaze, Lower Downe House Leaze, Upper Down House Leaze, with power to work the lime kiln there for use of my wife, and to demise it to any tenant not exceeding term of 7 years, as the same is now demised to James White; the several closes called Stew Leaze, Old Orchard, Whitborne Leaze, with part lately converted into arable, the further Broad Leaze, Little Paddock, which leads from Whitbourne Leaze to Great Can Leaze, Little Can Leaze, Great Can Leaze, the three meades called Long Meade, Little Meade, and Further Meade, the lower wood and the ground called Botneage in the parish of Iron Acton, co. Gloucester, all which premises are in the several occupations of John Pearse, John Clarke, Thomas Hathway, James White and Edward Gifford or their assigns; to hold to them in trust with power to demise the premises at the best profit they can for a term of 7 years; the profits to satisfy the above said annuity to Eleanor and other sums herein mentioned; the remainder of rents, after these and his debts are paid, to go to his wife for life if she remains a widow; and after her decease, to pay annuity of £15 to his son Charles; with power to his trustees to mortgage the last said estate after his wife's decease, if they find Charles a careful man capable of exercising any trade for the raising of £300 to set him up, and of £400 more to his son Richard and of £200 to his daughter Eleanor if his estate will bear it; all these being paid, the profits of his said estate to go to his son Thomas, and his heirs in tail male under the conditions above stated or failing these to Richard, and his heirs in tail male and for want of issue to the next heir male entitled to the same; to his wife all his ready money and moneys due; also power to let his coalmines about Stanshawes; to said trustees all his “Vicountill” Rents or certainty money out of the hundred of Kingsbridge, co. Wilts, purchased of the Countess of Bridgewater in trust for use of Richard Stokes his son for life and heirs male of his body to his tenth son, and for lack of issue to right heirs of testator, with power to make a jointure out of the same to Richard’s wife if she has a fortune of £1,000 as aforesaid; if his trustees advance any sum to his sons, it shall be deducted from their legacies, and so also in the case of his daughter, or if he himself advance her any sum on her marriage. In the case of failure of heirs male to his sons, the said estate shall descend to an heir female, and when such heir female be married [if] her husband shall not as soon as he is in possession take the surname of Stokes upon him, and shall in writing use any other surname than the name of Stokes after his baptismal name, and shall not bear the arms—a lion rampant argent ermin’d with the tongue and claws red in a field sable, being the present coat of Arms of the testator’s family; and shall not within a year after such marriage procure an act of Parliament for him and the heir female and the heirs of their bodies to bear the surname of Stokes and the arms aforesaid, or give security to do so in the penalty of £10,000 to the next heir male in the testator’s own family, in such case he gives all his estates to the next heir male in his family, however remote he may be, and to the heirs male of his body for ever. His father Lambert’s picture set in gold is to go along with the freehold inheritance of the paternal estate called Stanshawes, the heirs male to have possession of it only for life so that it may be kept in the family in memorial of his “late dear wife” who gave it to him, and “who always sett the highest value upon it imaginable”, and for that reason he conjures his sons and the heirs males entitled to the inheritance of the said estate “to observe the same as he or they shall answer to the contrary and expect God’s blessing upon them in this world and in the world to come, and I doe hereby declare to the whole World that the only reason which induces me to have this picture so kept in my familie is to perpetuate the memorie of so deare and valueable a woman as will more plainly appeare by the inscription upon her monument in this parish church of Calne”; £40 or so much more as is sufficient to buy a treble bell, and to wheel-stock and set the same up in the tower of Yate, to make a ring of 6 bells to be set up within a year after his decease if he does not do it in his life time, any overplus to be given in bread to the poor of the parish by his executors; to Robert Milksham, late of Calne, tailor, now excise-man, £10, to be paid 6 months after his decease; poor of Calne £10, and poor of Yate, co. Gloucester, £5, to be disposed of in bread at the discretion of his executors a month after his decease; ministers of Calne and Yate a gold ring each, of the value of 20s., and to all his children mourning; appoints his wife Judith and his brother Samuel Stokes his executors, giving his said brother £50 to buy himself mourning and for his pains in performance of the will; to William Enfield and John Neate £5 each to see the will performed, any expense his executors and trustees incur is to be satisfied out of the rents and profits of his estate, and any dispute among his legatees to be settled by his executors and trustees, and by William Northey, esq., whom he entreats to assist his wife with advice in the management of his affairs, leaving to him a gold ring of 25s. value, and their judgment in such dispute to be final; any legatee refusing to accept their judgment shall ipso facto lose his benefit in the will, and the legacy or sums of money so refused shall be divided among the other children acquiescing share and share alike; revokes all other wills. Signed on three sheets of parchment, Richard Stokes. Witnesses, Thomas Heath, Ann Smith, Isaac Hannum.

Whereas John Peirce, of Stanshawes, in the parish of Yeate, yeoman, stands indebted to him, Richard Stokes, in £200, secured to him, Richard Stokes, by two bonds of £100 each, he bequeathes said two bonds to his wife Judith, to hold the same immediately after his decease. His snuff-box, given to him by John Glanvile, esquire, on which there is inlaid a "scarramouch" with the word "Vigo" on the lid, he leaves to Mrs. Elizabeth Hodges, now wife of William Hodges, of Alderton, co. Wilts, esquire, and a ring of 25s. value to the said William Hodges.

To Sam. Sandys, Esq., Chancellor and under Treasurer of Exchequer, &c.

A.D. 1742-43.—William Darwin of the parish of St. Dunstan in the West, co. Wilts, yeoman, and Jane his wife, both deceased, and the said Jane was sole daughter and heiress of Roger Pickett, of Escott, co. Wilts, yeoman, deceased, who in or about the years 1715 and 1716 made his will, devizing sundry acres of pasture and arable land in the parish of Urchford [sic] to the value of 10 pounds yearly, on which ground great number of timber trees grew to the value of £300, to Anne his wife for term of life and after her death to said Jane, his daughter, mother of the oratrix Anne Darwin; that after the marriage of Jane Pickett with R. Davies, Anne Pickett her mother requiring £25 applied to Catherine Lady Dowager of Abingdon, to whom with Jane and R. Davies she executed a deed of mortgage on the premises, and the said Dowager intermarried with Francis Wroughton, esq., who dying, appointed William Wroughton, the defendant, his brother, his executor; they complain that the Dowager felled quantity of the said timber without accounting to your orator's father, nor after his death to your orators, and that William Wroughton refuses to account for the same, alleging that he intends to lessen the value of the premises, and to defeat the orator's estate therein, and hinder the redemption thereof; wherefore they pray that the defendant may be made to come to an account with them, &c.

Answer of William Wroughton, defendant.

Anne Pickett, late of Eastcott, widow, aforesaid Richard Davies and Jane his wife, by indenture of mortgage dated 1 May 1714, in consideration of £25 paid to them by Francis Green, of Imber, clerk, sold to the latter the ground in Eastcott called Watmans Ball, with timber growing thereon, for 500 years, redeemable on payment of £25 on 1 Nov. next ensuing; that being behind in principal and interest she made a fresh deed (the £25 having been his brother Francis Wroughton's money) for £10, advanced by defendant, for 50 years, dated 9 Sept. 1724, through which deed he is still in possession; he does not remember that any timber has been felled, though some of small value may have been cut for repairing hedges, etc., and none has been felled since the death of the Dowager Countess of Abingdon, wherefore he prays to be dismissed, etc.

THE WILTSHIRE SOCIETY.

Under this title have been published from time to time in this magazine the particulars of the meetings of Wiltshiremen at London, Bath and Bristol in byegone days, who attended church, proceeded to a dinner, and finally subscribed their quota for the laudable object of apprenticing some poor Wiltshire child, or some other act of special charity towards a native or natives of the County of Wilts. The late Mr. William Cunnington has shown that the Wiltshire Feast held in London dates back to as far as 1654, while the Invitation Card reproduced in vol. ii, p. 35, showed that the meeting of the Wiltshire Society in London dated back as far as 1734. Having on various occasions picked up some Wiltshire sermons at second-hand booksellers, it may be interesting to your readers to know that the Wiltshire Society in Bristol must date from before 1729. This is evident from the following titles:

“A sermon preached at All Saints Church in Bristol, before the Wiltshire Society (at their Annual Feast) held at the Merchants Hall of the said City, on Thursday, August the 21st, 1729, by Joseph Horler, Master of the Free School and Curate of Wilton, Sarum: Printed by Charles Hooton, for the author, and sold by Edward Easton, Bookseller near St. Thomas's Church in Silver Street.” There is a dedicatory address

“To my very good friends, Mr. James Still, President, Mr. Thomas Gibbs, Treasurer, and to the Assistants and all other worthy members and supporters of the Wiltshire Society,”— in the course of which he states:

“God seems not to want his agent among you already, who have warmly espoused this cause of his, and are bent on carrying it on; who endeavour with a commendable zeal and a bright example to spirit up the members of this Society to answer the end of their annual meeting, to make handsome collections for some poor children, natives of your county, to procure for them some honest and respectable trade, and secure to them a comfortable living in the World.”

At the end of the sermon he says:

“For the design of our meeting (if I deem aright) was not merely to hear the voice of singing men or singing women, or to eat and drink and rise up to play; but to support a spirit of charity and friendship and brotherly society; that our plenty might put us in mind of other's wants, and that we might remember those that are in affliction acting ourselves also in the body. It would redound much to your honour and credit to improve that custom, which has lately been revived, of selecting a minor of the household [sic] of faith to be the particular object of your bounty; who might date his happiness as it were from this little æra of your Feast, by being plac'd abroad in such circumstances, as never probably could have attended him without your friendly care and assistance."

"A sermon preached at Temple church, Bristol, before the Wiltshire Society at their Annual Feast, held in that City, August 16, 1750, by Joseph Horler, B.A., Master of the Free School at Wilton. Published at the request of the audience. Printed for the publick good. Price Fourpence. It is dedicated to Mr. Richard Smith, President, the Assistants, and the other worthy members of the Wiltshire Society."

"A sermon preached at St. Mary Le Bow, Nov. 27, 1682, being the day of the Wiltshire Feast, by Edward Pelling,¹ Rector of St. Martin's, Ludgate, and Chaplain to his Grace the Duke of Somerset. London: Printed for John Crump at the Three Bibles in St. Paul's Churchyard; and William Abington, at the Three Silkworms in Ludgate Street, 1683. It is dedicated To my Worthy Friends and Countrymen Mr. John Davies, Mr. Cornelius Dyer, Mr. William Cleere, Mr. John Hunt, Mr. William Davies, Mr. Edward Odell, Mr. Thomas Jones, Mr. Stephen Palmer, Mr. Anthony White, Mr. Tho. Fitz-Rudell, Stewards of the Wiltshire Feast."

Lastly I would add to these the title-page of—

"A sermon preached at the consecration of a chappel in the house of John Collins, Esq.; of Chute in Wiltshire. Performed by the Right Reverend Father in God, Seth, Lord

¹ Of Wiltshire birth, educated at Westminster, matriculated 1658 at Trinity College, Cambridge, Fellow 1665, D.D. 1689, Rector of Petworth, Chaplain to William and Mary, a stout defender of the Anglican Church against Catholics and Dissenters. As the death of Sir Victor Houlton, in 1899, presumably has terminated the succession of this well-known Wiltshire family, it may be considered a not unfitness time briefly to record a few facts relative to its history.

In compiling this short monograph, the writer has laboured under distinct disadvantage by reason of the omission of any reference to the Houltons in the three Visitations of Wiltshire, and the fact that whatever printed information there is extant deals solely with one branch—that of Farleigh Castle.

Nevertheless, the family which settled in the county at the end of the sixteenth century had risen to some importance by the time of the Restoration, and afterwards so enhanced its position that several members, beginning with Joseph Houlton in 1696, were pricked for the office of High Sheriff.

On referring to the pedigree it will be seen that John Houlton, the founder of the family, had established himself at Bradford-on-Avon by 1597. He is again mentioned in 1607, when he is described as being one of the chief inhabitants of that town. His son Robert Houlton, a clothier, is mentioned in Sir Thomas Phillipps' Freeholders' Book as the owner of freehold property in Trowbridge. He married, about 1625, Anne Yorke, and by her had a large family. He was a friend of the Yerbury family, and was appointed an overseer of the Wills of both Gifford Yerbury and of his wife Frances Yerbury. There is little doubt that Robert and his sons were Roundheads during the Civil War, and after 1662 some members refused to conform to the Church of England.

It is to be regretted that no Wills belonging to any mem-

3 Burke, in his Commoners and Landed Gentry, mis-calls Robert, Joseph. He states that Anne Yorke's father was Recorder and M.P. for Devizes. This is clearly wrong, as the earliest Yorke who was Member for Devizes was William, M.P. in 1660. This man was not born until 1608. He had a sister, Anne Yorke, born circa 1612, but she married Henry Kemp, of the Inner Temple. An Anne, daughter of Bartholomew Yorke, of Calne, was born in 1608.

ber of the first two generations seem to be in existence. In the absence of these, it may reasonably be contended that sufficient proof is not given to justify their inclusion in the pedigree. It must, therefore, be stated that this information (and some later detail) has been taken from an MS. pedigree in the British Museum, after having been checked as far aspossible, the Vicar of Bradford having kindly made several searches for the writer in his Parish Registers.

The main object of these notes being to correct and amplify the very imperfect and often erroneous pedigrees hitherto printed, it has been thought unnecessary to continue the Abstracts of Wills after 1750, and any reader who may wish to trace the history of Houlton of Farleigh Castle down to the present century is recommended to consult Burke's Landed Gentry, which seems reliable from this date onwards.

Morris Family.—In a recent number of the Ex Libris Journal was an article concerning an old book of account of a London silversmith of the eighteenth century, in which are designs for engraving arms on silver plate; amongst many examples of these occurs one to Morris, of Broadfield, near Devizes, bearing the following arms: Sable, a saltire engrailed argent, on an escucheon or a cross gules. Burke, in his General Armory, attributes them to Morris, of "Wingfield House, Bath, co. Somerset, 1770". What family is this, and is Broadfield the same as Broadleas? Sagax.

Walter Raleigh's Portrait.—In one of his Notes to Kenilworth, Scott says, quoting from Aubrey's Correspondence: "In the great parlour at Downton is a good piece, an original of Sir Walter, in a white satin doublet, all embroidered with rich pearls, and a mighty rich chain of great pearls about his neck. The old servants have told me that the real pearls were near as big as the painted ones. He had a most remarkable aspect, an exceeding high forehead, long-faced, and sour-eyed. . . . his beard turned up naturally, which gave him an advantage over the gallants of the time, whose mustaches received a touch of the barber's art to give them the air then most admired." Is this picture still in existence, and where? A.

John of Salisbury (vol. v, p. 424).—The following occurs in a letter (on the authenticity of the Bull Laudabiliter) to the Guardian, April 29, 1908:

Archbishop Ussher quotes from the Metalogicus (Lib. iv, cap. ult.) of John of Salisbury, a very intimate friend of Adrian IV, at whose request the Pope sanctioned the English invasion of Ireland. His words are:—"It was at my request, too, that Adrian granted and gave Ireland to the illustrious King Henry of England, to be kept in possession by hereditary right, as his letters testify to this day . . . . . He sent over with me likewise a gold ring, set with an emerald of the choicest description, as a symbol of investiture, for conveying to the Prince the right of governing Ireland, and the said ring has hitherto been ordered to be kept in the archives among the public records of the Court."

Notes on Books.

The Tropenell Cartulary, being the contents of an old Wiltshire muniment chest, edited by Rev. J. Silvester Davies, M.A., F.S.A., etc.; in two volumes, published by the Wiltshire Archaeological and Natural History Society, the Museum, Devizes, 1908; with a list of the subscribers.

This MS. is the best key to open the knowledge of the old and lost families, which is my search.—Aubrey.

The fact that a subscription list, sufficient to justify its publication, was immediately forthcoming is sufficient proof of the interest excited by the announcement that this famous MS. had been recovered; at the same time it must be a matter of considerable satisfaction to the Council of the Society, and particularly to their Secretary, that what they recommend to their members should be thus approved. To the subscribers generally, and in an especial degree to Lord Fitzmaurice and to Mr. Fuller, of Neston, very sincere thanks are due. The story of its recovery, and of the happy accident by which it came into competent hands, is recounted in the preface; as result, a MS. admired by John Aubrey, of which the loss has been so often deplored, has been transcribed and edited with infinite skill and patience, and is here presented in a most agreeable form.

Of ecclesiastical cartularies there is a limited supply; of lay cartularies, such as the “Great Cowcher” of the Duchy, and the book compiled for the Hill family of Spaxton, very few remain; nor is it probable that any register will ever come to light comparable in interest with this volume, in which a notable man has recorded the sum of his personal achievement. In 1464, one John Play, clerk, in certain deeds (ii, pp. 123, 124), describes Thomas Tropenell as his cousin and heir; apart from this reference there is nothing in these pages to indicate that Tropenell inherited anything at all. He died possessed of upwards of seven manors, and he achieved this result during the least tranquil century of our history.

Incidentally, we are introduced to nearly every process of mediæval law; there are illuminating passages on mediæval morality; the litigiousness of society, encouraged by a multiplicity of entails, difficult to ascertain, and almost impossible to bar, is wonderfully illustrated; it is, in fact, difficult to study any single one of the many titles to lands here detailed without some addition to our appreciation of that expiring mediævalism in which Tropenell thrrove. This is the real merit of the book; for the topography of the county it is invaluable, and there is scarcely any limit to the information—social, economic, and ethical—to be recovered from it for the study of the fifteenth century, which is still a dark age. For earlier and later centuries abundant materials from the public records are in print, and to those periods accordingly historical study has been chiefly directed. At present, however, it will be enough to consider what gives the book its unity, namely, the problem of Tropenell himself. This enquiry he invites; he not only informs his descendants of their title to their lands, but he informs them whence they came.

Here a question at once arises. These ancient knights, Sir George, Sir Osbert, and Sir James Tropenell (ii, 163 et seq.) have left no traces of themselves in printed records. Nothing, on the other hand, is more obvious than the humble status of such Tropenells as there occur—a bond-woman at Yatesbury, a virgater at Whaddon; the name itself probably belongs to the class derived from opprobrious or derogatory appellations. Its occurrence, though not frequent, ranges from York to Exeter. In the pedigree, prefixed to the second volume, the editor has incorporated one reference from extraneous sources to illustrate his text. Walter Tropenell, son of Sir Osbert, married the daughter of Sir William Percy, lord of Great Chalhield, a match the subject of some pride to his descendant, himself the lord of Chalhield and a great builder there. Now, in the pipe roll for 1195-6 occurs the entry which proves the existence of this Walter, and informs us that his tithing was in mercy for the flight of two robbers of sheep. But is it really permissible to suppose that a tithing-man was so well born or had married so high?

Doubtless, now that this book has called attention to the matter, mention of the name where found will be noted. Memorable among them will be John Tropenell, weaver, of Bradford, in 1518, burned, apparently (History of Salisbury, p. 223), for heresy. In this list the virgater, mentioned above, will cut some figure, for it is recorded (p. 163) that Philip Tropenell “departed his londes, and ordeyned to his eldest son Roger all his londes, etc., in Whaddon and Combe". There happens to be a terrier extant (Sarum Charters, Rolls Series, p. 284), of the tithes due to Alderbury Church from Whaddon in 1243, and there we find Roger Tropinell with his nineteen acres, but neither date nor acreage seem to accord precisely with the pedigree.

The proof or disproof, however, of Tropenell's statements is bound up, by his own definite assertion, with the descent of the manor of Sopworth, which, normally, should be easy of verification. Sir James Tropenell's daughters divided the manor. Margaret, and her husband Hugh Parvus, gave their moiety to Monkton Farleigh. Lucy, and her husband Leonard Maltravers, handed on their moiety, or most of it, to their descendants. The lords of Sopworth, in 1316 (Nomina Villarum), were "Prior de Farley et Johannes Matrevers". It is clear, therefore, that Tropenell's statement of the pedigree explains the facts as found in 1316, and it should surely be possible, either by means of the Maltravers pedigree, which is confessedly obscure, or by the cartulary of Farleigh, which appears to be mislaid, to establish his credibility in this particular, and by inference in the whole.

The pedigree, which he accepted, may well have inspired Tropenell's ambitions, but it certainly did not furnish him with the means of gratifying them. It is conceivable that he had a useful relative in the person of William Tropenell, citizen and tailor of London (1424), tailor or serjeant of the great wardrobe at the time of his death in 1432, when Thomas Tropenell, by Mr. Silvester Davies' computation, was about 27 years of age. His career, and his connexion with the court—he had the liveries of two kings—may in such case have coincided with that of his contemporary and future father-in-law, William Ludlow. But this is pure conjecture.

To whatever cause he owed his marriage, whether personal qualities, or court or county connexions, it was to his marriage, we may feel confident, that he was indebted for the control of capital. His wife's identity is undisclosed, beyond the fact that she was Agnes, the widow of Thomas Burton. It appears probable, however, from external sources, that she was entitled, in her own right, to lands in Lockington and Alderton, and possibly in Cowlston. It is an interesting question whether he had issue by her. There is a release in 1465 (ii, 162) by Thomas, and Christopher his son. His son and heir Christopher, the issue of his second marriage, must have been born after 1456, and was actually born, if the inquisition taken after the death of Thomas is correct, in or about 1463. Is it possible that so young a lad, or, indeed, any person under age, would have executed such a release? If not, Thomas had issue a son Christopher by his first wife, who predeceased him. The books of Lincoln's Inn mention the special admission of Thomas Tropenell in 1470, and the admission in 1482, and the subsequent follies, of Christopher his son. The first was, presumably, the complimentary admission to the Society of a better lawyer than themselves, vide the charming description of him (ii, 341) discussing points of law at the "Cardynal's Hatte"; the second was undoubtedly the admission as student of the young son by his second marriage, who succeeded him. It is, perhaps, worth mentioning here, that as early as 1429 he had been returned to Parliament for the borough of Bedwin, and in 1449 was one of the two members for the city of Bath, the first of these returns being prior to his marriage (in 1431) to his first wife.

Not content with recording the titles to his purchased lands, this wonderful man must needs also record whatever else he could discover having relation to his estates. Thus the customs of the manor of Corsham, and the charter upon which they rested, are fully set out. The invaluable chapters on the customs of Salisbury are similarly due to the stake that he acquired there as the result of his second marriage.

Deverill, butler to three kings of England. The editor (Introduction, p. xi) notes, doubtless on the authority of some document in the collection, that they were cousins. However this may be, the Cartulary adds considerably to our knowledge both of her family and herself. A strange charter, copied into the book (i, p. 151), but marked as spurious (Ibid., note), describes her father as "William Harper", just the sort of alias to be expected at the time, but it is probable that the description is merely a blunder, of some not very obvious kind. He was styled "William Ludlowe" in 1414, when, as one of the servitors of the cellar, he had a grant of three marks a year for life from Carnarvon mill. In 1427 he had a grant during pleasure, being then described as one of the yeomen of the cellar, of the office of clerk of the statute merchant in the city of Salisbury, to be discharged in person or by deputy. In 1429, he obtained the office of parker of Ludgershall, co. Wilts, from Queen Joan, confirmed to him in 1432 and 1437. In 1433, he was deputy in the port of Bristol to Thomas Chaucer, the chief butler. He had a joint grant with another in 1434, they being described as the king’s servants, of the office of gauger of the port of Hull. In 1437 he had successive grants of the office of gauger of the port of London, during pleasure, and for life. He had a grant, in 1437 also, for ten years, and in 1440, by the description of "William Ludlowe, yeoman trayer of the cellar," for life, of the manor and town of Ludgershall, and in the same year, with another, by the description of "yeoman of the cellar" of the office of launder of Clarendon Park. A brother possibly, Richard Ludlowe, had a parallel career, being described in 1436-1439 as butler, or yeoman, of the cellar for the mouth.

It was presumably his duties as clerk of the statute merchant which first brought William Ludlowe to Salisbury, and there presumably he married. In the pedigree entered by his descendant at the Visitation of Wiltshire, in 1565, he is stated to have married Margaret, daughter and heir of William Rymer, by (as the printed copy has it) his wife, daughter and heir of William Warnell. It is not difficult to amend this latter name into "Warmuell", to identify the bearer with "William Warmwell", witness to many Salisbury charters (e.g., i, 213-219) contained in the Cartulary, and to assume that the Robert Warmwell, who by will (i, p. 238) bequeathed tenements in Salisbury to Margaret, then wife of John Erley, daughter of William Ludlow, and afterwards (i, p. 233) the wife of Thomas Tropenell, was her uncle or other near kinsman.

We thus see Tropenell mated for the second time, not only to the daughter of the yeoman of the king's cellar, but to a descendant of citizens of Salisbury. Jointly with his father-in-law, apparently, he buys land in the southern part of the county, and the rise of the family of Tropenell is intimately associated with the first settlement in the county of the not undistinguished family of Ludlow of Hill Deverill.

Mr. Flower's valuable appendix (ii, pp. 354-359) of documents entered in the Cartulary, which occur also among the public records, establishes the good faith and accuracy of Tropenell in compiling this register. Of the immense number of deeds, etc., entered in the Cartulary, by far the greater number of the originals must long since, however, have been irrecoverably lost; and this may well be the measure of our gratitude to Mr. Silvester Davies, who has transcribed the whole, and prefixed an abstract in English of their contents. The work, as printed, represents months and years of patient and most scholarly labour. All this was a free gift to the Society, to the county, and to learning.
The labour of utilizing and elucidating the material thus provided must be the work of many hands; as it proceeds, a sense of gratitude to all concerned in the production of this book will be ever on the increase.

A. St. J. S. M.

It is due to the liberality of Mr. Heward Bell, of Seend, that the above has been printed, the original MS. still remaining in his possession.

Amongst the mass of interesting matter is a long account of the foundation of the City and Cathedral of New Sarum, a history of the Tropenell family and its connexions, with the blazon of their coat-armour; we think the writer may be mistaken in denying the relationship of Percy of West Chalfield with Percy of East Chalfield, because the arms of the one were "a felde of Ermy, the chief of gowles, with a lyon passant of gold crowned with azure in the chief in a wyndowe at Attewarde's churche", and those of the other differed only in having the lion argent and uncrowned; the latter coat being thus differenced perhaps to distinguish two branches of the same family.

Many names of trades, and numerous place-names, can be gathered from its pages. We also learn the names of several constables of Trowbridge Castle, with their dwelling, "the logge-place, otherwise called a syte with a gardyn, and a wey to the same by the space of vii fote of brede"; this office seems to have been attached to the Manor of East Chalfield, and was not infrequently a subject of contention.

It is to be devoutly hoped that the issue of this cartulary will encourage some one to print that of Edington.

SIR WALTER RALEIGH'S PORTRAIT.
(See p. 58.)

His portrait is in the National Portrait Gallery. The circumstances of its purchase, which you may perhaps deem worth recording, have been kindly communicated to me by Mr. E. P. Squarey, of The Moot, Downton. He writes:—"You ask me for my knowledge of the portrait of Sir Walter Raleigh by Zuchero, which was formerly in the Parsonage Manor House, at Downton. My first remembrance of it was at least sixty years since, when it was hanging in what is now the dining-room of that house, which was then owned as lessee and occupied by Mr. John Gibbs Bailey. I understand that it had been removed from the 'Great Parlour' mentioned in Aubrey's reference to the picture.

"The Raleighs were copyholders, under Winchester College, of this house and some lands in Elizabeth's reign. Sir Carew Raleigh¹ resided there, and his brother Walter, then rising into fame, was, doubtless, a visitor; the portrait was painted when Sir Walter was 34 years old (the date is on the picture), and remained in the Manor House till it was sold, by Mr. John Gibbs Bailey, in the year 1857 or 1858, to the Trustees of the National Portrait Gallery,¹ where it now is. Mr. Sydney Herbert (afterwards Lord Herbert of Lea), who had been a pupil at Downton Vicarage, knew the picture, and, when Mr. Bailey desired to sell it, the late Mr. James Rawlence, of Wilton, mentioned the circumstance to him. Mr. Herbert, knowing Lord Mahon, who was the leader in the establishment of the National Portrait Gallery, informed him of it. The late Sir Charles Eastlake, President of the Royal Academy, saw it at our offices in London, and at once bought it for the Gallery for 100 guineas. Sir Carew Raleigh represented Downton in Parliament from 1st to 21st James I. The copy of the picture, in my possession, is in ‘pastels’ and was made after its purchase by the Trustees of the National Portrait Gallery, by their permission. The frame in which my copy of the picture is hung is the original frame in which it existed in the Manor House. I am happy in having so excellent a copy of the portrait of a really great man, whose family were connected with Downton.”

Rogers that he, Edward, and Elizabeth, should, before the end of Hilary term next following, by fine sue cognizance de droit to John Taylor and J. Hulbert convey the manor house or capital messuage of Titherton Lucas, co. Wilts, with lands, etc., to the intent that a recovery might be had thereof, that is to say concerning that half of the capital messuage of farm house of Titherton, called the new building with a garden and the moiety of the orchard, and all that pasture ground called Steeple House Leaze and Bowling Alley, and the closes called House Field, Little Leaze, Broadfield Breaches, etc., and a coppice with appurtenances in the parishes of Titherton Lucas and Langley Burrell, to the use of Edward Stokes for life, then to the use of Elizabeth his wife for life for her dower, and after her death to the use of Abjohn Stokes, defendant's father and heirs male of his body begotten by said Anne for lack of issue to the heirs male of said Abjohn, the father, with remainder to right heirs of Edward Stokes forever; and concerning the closes, Great Mead Leaze, Starr's Close, 9 acres of meadow in West Ham, in Titherton Lucas, to the use of Edward Stokes for life, and after his death to the use of Michael Naish and Henry Rogers their executors and assigns in trust for the term of 99 years, and after the expiration of the term to the use of Abjohn Stokes the elder and his heirs male, and for default to the right heirs of Edward Stokes; and concerning the rest of the capital messuage and lands, and the closes called Calve's Close, Dat Close, Gasson's, Bull Mead and Hamborn, Long Mead, Warr's Leaze, and the Home Ground, to the use of Abjohn, the father, for life, and after his death to the use of Ann Stokes his wife, for her jointure, and concerning other parcels of property at Titherton to the use of Abjohn Stokes the father, for life, and on his decease to the use of Michael Naish and Henry Rogers, their executors and assigns for 99 years, in trust then to the use of the heirs male of Abjohn Stokes the father, and for lack of issue to the right heirs of Edward Stokes, the said terms of 99 years being limited that the said Michael Naish and H. Rogers should out of the premisses, by the rents and profits and fines for leases or sale out right for the said term, or part of the term, or of parcels thereof, should raise portions for the daughter or daughters of the said Abjohn Stokes the elder, to be paid on their majority or day of marriage, and for the raising of £420 for their maintenance until they came of age, and for the defraying of any expenses incurred by said M. Naish and H. Rogers in the performance of the trust. Further, Abjohn Stokes the defendant saith that his mother's fortune worth £10,000 being spent, Abjohn Stokes the father for payment thereof, by Indenture 12 December 1678, between him and Anne his wife on the one part, and the said Henry Rogers and William Dyer of the other part, for barring all former estates and for raising £1,200 to pay a debt, and in consideration of the personal estate he had received with his wife, and for providing a jointure to her in lieu of a former jointure covenanted by fine suæ cognizance de droit, that he would convey to them, H. Rogers and W. Dyer, the capital messuage of Titherton Lucas, then in possession of Abjohn the elder, various parcels of property mentioned, lying in Titherton, Chippenham and Langley Burrell, to the use of said Rogers and Dyer and their heirs forever in trust to raise out of specified parcels of the said property sufficient sums by sale or otherwise for the payment of the debts of Abjohn Stokes the elder, and for the payment of their own expenses in the execution of their trust, this being done the remainder of the said parcels to be surrendered to him to whom the remainder expectant belonged; the part of the property unsold to be held by them to the use of Abjohn Stokes the defendant and the heirs male of his body, and for lack of issue to the right heirs of Abjohn Stokes the elder, and the property limited for a term of ninety-nine years in the former indenture to Michael Naish and H. Rogers for uses therein expressed after the expiration of the said term to be in trust to the use of Abjohn Stokes the defendant, and his issue male, and for lack of issue to the use of the heirs male of Abjohn the father, begotten by Anne his wife, or for default to the use of the heirs male of his body or of his right heirs. And by this indenture it is granted between the parties that the several terms of 99 years in the lands, etc., before limited to Michael Naish and H. Rogers, should be upon this further trust above the trust expressed in the former indenture, that in case Abjohn Stokes the defendant, or any other heir male of Abjohn the father, on the body of the said Anne, should happen to live, yet, notwithstanding, M. Naish and H. Rogers should, out of the premisses, raise a sum not exceeding £1,200 for the portion of the daughter or daughters of Abjohn Stokes the elder, as he should appoint by his last will, to which for more certainty the defendant refers himself, as it is not now in his possession. Further the defendant, Abjohn Stokes, quotes sundry indentes of lease and mortgage of the manor of Titherton Lucas, and parcels of the property made between his father and himself and Richard Stokes of Calne, gentleman, and other persons, for the raising of various sums. Besides the foresaid indentes he knows of no other settlements and conveyances made by foresaid Edward Stokes, Abjohn Stokes the elder, or Anne his wife, for any trusts or uses than hereinbefore or after mentioned by him or the other defendant, John Gaspar Keeling. He further says that true it is that Abjohn his father had only one daughter, Mary, the complainant's wife, but what discourses passed between the complainant and Abjohn the elder, touching Mary's portion, he knows not, nor does he know that his father was indebted to her in a bond for £50 given to her by her friends or other sum, or that he gave any bond to her, or promised her £1,200 chargeable on his estate by virtue of the said deeds, but he hath often heard him say that he would "not give her a farthing for that she had very much disoblged him", but he hath heard that his father entered into a recognizance in this court to pay £200 for the use of the said Mary, given to her by relations, "but by whom otherwise then the sum of £50 given her by the will of her uncle, Mr. John Stokes, he cannot set forth"; and that by the marriage agreement between his father and the complainant the former was to pay £300, to be vested in trustees, to the use of Mary in full satisfaction of all claims which she and the complainant might make on him on his estate, but when the complainant tendered him a bond for the payment thereof he refused it, because he had already entered the recognizance aforesaid for payment of £200, and another for payment of another £100. A suit being begun against him the defendant's father was necessitated to agree that the complainant should receive the profits and rents of Water Leaze, Long Mead, and Great Mead, part of the estate at Titherton Lucas, at the rate of £44 per annum, which three closes he (Merrywether) enjoyed for about twelve or thirteen years following, but he knows of no deed executed for that purpose. By litigation over these matters the complainant put his father to heavy charges, but he does not know what was decreed. And this defendant further saith that he (Abjohn the younger) never desired his father to live in the house at Titherton where he formerly lived, and never forced him out of doors as falsely alleged in the bill. For what time his father and his man were boarded by the complainant he cannot tell, but he knows that he did board with him, and may have ridden his horse, but does not know that the complainant was employed as a solicitor in his business. The last wife of Abjohn Stokes the elder was buried with money raised out of said Abjohn's goods, and he believes the complainant was at no charge for "physitian, apothecary, or chyrgeone" in his father's sickness, nor does he believe that his father used the kind expressions towards the complainant as mentioned in the bill, nor had he any reason so to do, having been sued and prosecuted by the complainant with the utmost rigour and unkindness. Whether his father told the complainant of the agreement between him and the said Richard Stokes, in which J. G. Keiling had an interest, he does not know. He does not know of the conveyances, alleged in the bill, made by his father to the complainant of property therein mentioned, because it was settled before (as above said) by Edward Stokes, father of Abjohn the elder, and by the later indentures quoted by the defendant. The defendants Abjohn Stokes and J. G. Keiling say that H. Rogers, W. Naish, and W. Dyer are dead, and they do not know where are their heirs, executors, and assigns. The hay left by the complainant in the three closes was eaten by the cattle because he neglected to carry it off. Abjohn has not the deeds recited in his possession, if he had it could be proved that the property was entailed as he maintains, and that his father had no power to charge the estate as set forth. He and J. G. Keiling only base their title by the deeds already set forth. J. G. Keiling details agreements between himself and Abjohn Stokes the elder, for payment of sums of money for the said Abjohn the elder, and other negotiations between them at different times concerning the mortgage of some of the property. Abjohn the father died on the 5th or 6th February 1706. And these defendants deny all combination, and hope that they shall not be compelled to make any further answer, etc., and humbly pray to be dismissed this court.

[These answers were taken, and the two defendants sworn, 9 May 1709, at Titherton Lucas.]

Merryweather v. Stokes.

[Depositions taken at the White Hart, Chippenham, on behalf of both the defendants and the plaintiff, 7th April 1712.]

Jeffery Matthews, of Bowood Park, co. Wilts, carpenter, aged 70, knew Abjohn Stokes, deceased, Anne his first wife, and Elizabeth his second wife; by Anne he had two sons, one dying in infancy, and Abjohn the heir-at-law, and a daughter, Mary, wife of complainant Mereweather. Abjohn, defendant, has three children, and Mary has issue, but how many he knows not. He often heard Abjohn the elder say the portion of Anne his first wife amounted to £8,000, part in lands, part in money. The money raised by sale of her lands was converted to the proper use of Abjohn Stokes, deceased, the part which consisted in money other than the said sale was paid to Edward Stokes, Abjohn’s father, on his relinquishing to Abjohn the greater part of the estate at Titherton Lucas; he believes he spent her fortune in waste, payments of debts, and prosecuting many; he was present at the agreement between Abjohn and J. Mereweather, and heard that the latter was to have £300 with Mary, and the three closes as security. Abjohn, sometime before or after the marriage, read to the deponent a bond of £500 penalty, executed by Mary, the daughter to Abjohn (the conditions he cannot remember) which he saw Abjohn lock up in his escritoire, and since then Abjohn informed him the bond had been taken out, and he suspected his daughter, the complainant’s wife. John Mereweather, since his marriage, had sold much of Abjohn’s cattle, corn, fat oxen, etc., off the estate at Titherton, worth about £450, he and Anne his wife for some time boarding with Abjohn the father, at Titherton, and that Mary had a child born there and christened, “at which time great entertainments were there made” at her father’s charge, and before her marriage he had maintained her in very good and rich apparell, and had maids in his house to wait upon her many years, and gave her very good education, all this costing him about £50 per annum.

Hugh Matthews, of Redhill, in the Liberty of Bowood Park, aged 43, says that Anne, the first wife, died about 14 or 15 years since. There was “a difference” between Abjohn Stokes the elder and the complainant, because as the latter alleged his father-in-law would not pay Mary's marriage portion, and Abjohn mortgaged the three closes to him for security. He heard Abjohn the father complaining of the breaking open his escritoire and the taking of the bond (as above).

Abraham Angell, of Stanley, co. Wilts, deposes much as the foregoing, also mentioning the theft of the bond executed by Mary, being in the penalty of £600 conditioned with payment of £300. The complainant owed money to Abjohn the elder for the sale of corn, etc., from Titherton Lucas.

Richard Stokes, of Calne, gent., aged 43, deposes lengthily and much to the effect of the answer of defendant Abjohn Stokes, as to the various mortgages and leases and negociations between himself and the two Abjohn Stokes, and suits brought by the complainant Mereweather against his father-in-law Abjohn the elder.

John Edwards, of Chippenham, deposes as to the extravagance of Abjohn the elder, the mortgages to Richard Stokes, and the quarrels of complainant and his father-in-law, and the boarding of Mereweather and Mary at Titherton, and Mary's “genteel” keep before marriage.

Other deponents witness as to leases and debts and the other matters above mentioned.

Witnesses examined on the part of the complainant.

Richard Stokes, gentleman, formerly examined on behalf of the defendant Abjohn Stokes, says he very well knew Abjohn Stokes, deceased, and that he was a man of very fickle and uncertain temper, and would usually speak fair to people's faces and abuse them behind their backs, especially such people to whom he owed any moneys, or was any ways indebted to; he has often heard him declare that he did not owe money to people when at the same time he was really indebted to them, as this deponent hath good reason to believe. He was a vain man, and did usually in his conversation endeavour to represent himself in such a manner as he thought would make himself look great in the world.

The other witnesses depose as to signatures, and the handwriting of deeds produced to them, and as to the dates of the deaths of John Taylor, Michael Naish and Henry Rogers (named in the trust deeds quoted by Abjohn Stokes, defendant).

Merryweather and Stokes.

[Abstract.] Depositions of Witnesses in behalf of John Merry-

John Bithasea, of Trowbridge, aged 37, deposes that he has known J. Merryweather for 16 years, knows Abjohn Stokes, deft., but not other defendants, and knew A. Stokes the father. He knew Edward Sly, now deceased, a witness to various deeds made by Abjohn Stokes the elder, and verily believes that Edward Sly subscribed as a witness to a paper writing, dated 4 February 1706, signed A. Stokes, purporting to be a will, and heard him say on 30 January 1709, that said paper was executed by A. Stokes, and that he set his hand thereto as a witness. Abjohn Stokes, deceased, for a considerable time boarded with complainant who kept a horse for Abjohn's use, and "it was reasonably more than forty pounds per annum to table or bord" said Abjohn Stokes, deceased, and his man servant, and his horse beast in such manner as complainant kept them. And for that said Abjohn Stokes loved strong drink, and to drink plentifully thereof." And Abjohn being under fear of arrest for some proceedings at law complainant asked this deponent to board him or to find some friend to do so; accordingly he procured him board at a friend's house in Somersetshire for six months, and complainant promised payment for the same, but complainant and deponent having other dealings together have not yet accounted for such boarding. Abjohn died at the house of complainant, who carried him in a hearse to Titherton, above 11 miles distant, and buried him "in a very commendable manner", at what costs he knows not.

William Sartain, of Broughton Gifford, maltster, aged 60, knew Thomas Hood, whose name is subscribed as a witness to a bill obligatory, dated 16 Oct. 1688, signed A. Stokes, now produced, said Thomas Hood being his brother-in-law and deceased in the king's service at a hospital in Ghent about 18 years ago, and that he was well acquainted with his handwriting and believes the signature to be his on this and another bond.

Martin Slade, the elder, and Martin Slade, the younger, of Hilperton, and Solomon Spragg, of Hilperton, make similar depositions with regard to signatures on the bonds, etc., produced.

Stephen Orrell, of Corsham, and other persons make similar depositions with regard to signatures of witnesses, and of Abjohn Stokes and the witnessing of the writing purporting to be the will.

Robert Plaisted, of Titherton Lucas, yeoman, very well knows the three closes, Warrs Leaze, Long Mead and Great Mead Leaze, which for many years have been let at yearly rent of £44. and for some years at rent of £42; he believes them to be worth £44 including taxes. Complainant possessed them in the summer of 1706 and for several years previously, and he looked after them as bailiff to complainant for many years. And in 1706 Merryweather lett the after-feeding of said closes to one Thomas Cooke until 8th January 1706, when Abjohn Stokes the defendant made an entry on the same, and put in a mare and colt and locked the gate, and advised deponent not to meddle any more with the closes, for there would be trouble in the matter, and Abjohn the son cut the grass there and enjoyed the same until ousted, and complainant cut down another part of the hay grown there; Abjohn's tenant is now in possession; at the time of the death of Abjohn senior there was about 27 or 28 tuns of hay in rick, and that he sold about 18 tuns for complainant, paying him the money; and Isaac Williams, servant of the defendant, pulled down part of the rails, and defendant's tenants' cattle eat and spoiled the residue, which he believes was worth 200l. the tun.

John Fido, of Hilperton, clerk, aged 39, deposes that he was with Abjohn Stokes the elder 3 or 4 days before his death and on the day of his death, when he prayed with him, and that Abjohn was of perfect mind and understanding, and "behaved himself decently and humbly like a Christian".

Anne, wife of William Petticary, of Trowbridge, clothier, aged 22, deposes as to her signature as witness before her marriage, to deeds subscribed by Abjohn Stokes the elder, she signing under her name Anne Meriwether. She lived at the complainant's house at the time of Abjohn's last sickness, and he was sensible and of sound mind and behaved "like a good Christian".

Walter Webb, of Bradford, Robert Mitten, of Hilperton, deposes as to the witnessing of bonds and deed, etc., of Abjohn the father, and as to the latter's boarding and burial at expense of complainant as above. R. Mitten says that at the time of sealing them he was very sensible and of perfect mind and judgment, and "amongst other discourses [Abjohn] told this deponent that he could not meet with any ale that he could relish or taste and askt this deponent if he had any that was good, and this deponent went home and fett to the said Abjohn a tankard of this deponent's ale which the said Abjohn drankt off, and said he liked it very well and it pleased him better than any beer he had drankt in his sickness".

Abjohn Mereweather, of Hilperton, gentleman, aged 18, deposes as to the handwriting of Abjohn in the deeds and signatures of the witnesses, and says that he, Abjohn, is a witness to the paper purporting to be a will, dated 4 Feb. 1706.

Merryweather contra Stokes, etc.

[Abstract.] Depositions on behalf of defendants.—Depositions of Anne Petticary, wife of William Petticary, formerly Anne Mereweather, and Robert Milton and John Mereweather, all formerly sworn and examined on the part of the complainant. Plaintiff did pay some money to Abjohn Stokes, deceased, in his life time as the consideration money mentioned in a parchment writing of lease and release dated respectively 2 Feb. and 3 Feb. 1706, according to A. Petticary, but the others say not. Mitten never heard the writings nor the will read so does not know their contents, and he doth not know that said Abjohn appointed by will or writing £1,200, or any other sum, to be paid to his daughter or daughters begotten lawfully of Anne his wife. John Mereweather does not know of the appointment of £1,200 or other sum for the daughter or daughters; he witnessed the will dated 4 Feb. 1706, which was executed at Hilperton, in complainant's house. At the time of executing the will, complainant offered to have read the will and the other writings executed there, unto the said Abjohn, but the latter saying he was very well satisfied therewith or to that effect, they were not read, and this deponent has never heard them read, nor knows their contents.

ERCHFONT WITH STERT.

The following deeds relate to the tything of Stert before the Manor became finally vested in the Warden and Scholars of New College, Oxford; some of those of a later date, by the kind permission of the owners, have been abstracted from the very handsome Cartulary at New College.

Domesday [Vol. I, f. 70b.]

Wiltshire, Lands of Humfrey de L'Isle.

Humfrey himself holds Sterte. Aluric held it in time of King Edward, and it gelded for 5 hides and a virgate and a half with appendages. The land is 3 carucates. Of it are in demesne 4 hides; and there are 3 ploughs and 6 serfs and 15 bordarers, and one Freeman having a virgate and a half. There are two mills returning 8s. and 30 acres of meadow and 10 acres of pasture and 2 acres of wood. It was worth 100s., now it is worth 6li.

Testa de Nevill. [Pp. 141, 156.]

Walter [de Dunstanvill] holds a knight's fee in Sterte of the lord King.

[Chapter House Hundred Roll. 39 Henry III.]

A.D. 1254-55.—Hundred of Stokfolde.—Walter de Dunstanvill holds a whole knight's fee in Sterte by serjeancy to Castle of Devizes, and it is worth 10l. yearly, and he returns yearly in time of peace 20s., and in time of war he ought to be in the same castle for 40 days as a knight, and then he shall be quit of foresaid 20s.

Borough of Devizes.—Walter de Dunstanvill owes 20s. yearly in time of peace towards the Ward of Castle of Devizes for this land in Sterte.

Inquisition Post Mortem. [54 Henry III, No. 10.]

A.D. 1270.—Inquest taken at Castelcumbe Saturday next after Purification of St. Mary, 54 Henry III. Jurors say that Walter of Dunstanville died on Tuesday next after feast of St. Hillary in above said year, and that he was seized in his demesne as of fee of manors of Cumbe, Cullerne, Hurdecote, Hegtredeburi, and Sterte, which is worth 22l. and 15s. Petronil, daughter of said Walter, is his nearer heir, and she will be of the age of 22 years on day of St. Peter in Cathedra, and that Robert de Montfort has taken her to wife. That Walter owed for foresaid lands service of 3 knights; that all the tenants are free and pay a certain rent yearly at four terms of Easter, Feasts of the Nativity of St. John the Baptist, St. Michael, and St. Thomas the Apostle. He had also advowsons of churches of Combe and Colerne.

[Roll 3, Edward I.]

A.D. 1274-75.—The King receives yearly for the ward of his Castle of Devizes 20s. from Sterte.

Petronill de Montefort holds manor of Sterte of the King in chief belonging to the barony of Combe, but by what fee or service the Jurors do not know.¹

The Vill of Sterte, which is in the hand of Dame Petronill de Montefort, ought to pay to the King at the two sheriff's turns yearly 4s., and it was withdrawn for 10 years and more by Walter de Donstrevile.

Elyas Cotel, sub-eschaetor of Wilts, seized manor of Sterte into King's hand after death of Walter de Donstrevile about the feast of St. Hillary, 54 Henry III, but they [the jurors] do not know how much he received therefore.

Placita de Quo Warranto. [Calendar, p. 801.]

[Placita at Wilton, 9 Edward I, in the Octaves of Easter.]

A.D. 1281.—William de Gyselham, who prosecutes for the King, demands against John de la Mare and Petronill his wife 4s. rent, with appurtenances in Sterte.²

And John and Petronill by her attorney, come and say that their men of Stert were wont to pay the 4s. to the sheriff's turn twice a year in Hundred of Stodfolde. And they well understand that Walter de Dunstanvill in his time did not promise that the foresaid men should return the said 4s. And because they understand the 4s. ought to be paid to the King, they grant that as much as in them is the men of Stert shall for the rest return the 4s. at the sheriff's turn in Hundred of Stodfold. Therefore the King has his seizin thereof, &c. And the sheriff is bidden to answer for said 4s. at the Exchequer.

Sterte.—Jurors say that in manor of Sterte is a court with garden curtilage and vines worth yearly 13s. 4d. The rent of free and customary tenants is 48s. 2½d., of which 20s. ought to be paid to the Castle of Devizes, and thus there remains clearly 28s. 2½d., and 1 lib. of cummin worth 1d., and 15 geese worth 14s. 1½d. The customary tenants give of Churschot 87 fowls worth 7s. 3d. The pleas and perquisites of court, with fines and heriots, are worth yearly 13s. 4d. The several pasture there is worth yearly 60s. "A SCANDALOUS MISDEMEANOUR" AT BIRTFORD.

Articles conteyninge the relacion of the scandalous misdemeanour in the Church of Birtford hard by Salisbury, beinge in the Episcopall Jurisdiction of the Deane and Chapter there vpon the daie of the Kinges Ma\textsuperscript{tis} inauguration w\textsuperscript{h}th was the xxiiiij\textsuperscript{th} daie of March last past by S\textsuperscript{t} George Wrotesley, knight, his servantes and complishes, tennant to the said Deane and Chapter of the Rectory of Birtford.

The late viccar of Birtford, deceased on Sundaie, the xxiiij\textsuperscript{th} of March last past, and the Mundaie following, S\textsuperscript{t} George Wrotesley, tennant to the Deane and Chapter of Salisbury, of the Rectory of the said Birtford, did offer them ten poundes to stay the collacion of the said Viccaridge vntill the time he might retorne backe from a journey, w\textsuperscript{ch} behoofed him instantlie to performe bycause he pretended that in the Lease of the Rectory, w\textsuperscript{ch} he hath bought from the assignes of Mr. Blacker, Clerke of the Chapter of Sarum, that the Advowson of the said viccaridge doth apperteigne to him althoughe there is no mencion of it in the same Lease. And the Mondaie in the afternoone he sent a procurator of the Spiritual Court to the said Deane and Chapter to enter a Caveat, to impatch anie Clerke, to be collated to the said Viccaridge, alleadging his said pretencion.

But the said S\textsuperscript{t} George, heareinge that Doctor Gorden was alreadie collated to the Viccaridge, the xxiiiij\textsuperscript{th} of the said monneth of March, he did absent himself from his house at Birtford, Leaving direction w'th his wif and men to possesse themselves of the Church and keyees thereof.

And the xxiiiith daie of March followinge, beinge the daie of the kinges ma'tis inauguration, the Deane of Salisbury and two of his brethren went to the Church of Birtford, of the which they are ordinaryes, having of it the Episcopall Jurisdiction to celebrate devine service and to preach for the solempnization of the Kings Ma'tis Daie, and comminge thither they founde the Church dores shutt against them and the possession of the Church kept by John Bowyer and John Man, servauntes to Sir George Wrotesley, knight, and William Estman, Clerke of the parishe; the said Doctor Gorden and his assistantees requireing them to open the doore that thaeie might come in to celebrate divine service and to preach and to solempnize the Kings Ma'tis daie, weare denied by them, alleadging that they weare there to kepe possession for theire Mr. Sr George Wrotesley, and there vpon the Clerke in particular beinge commanded to open the doore answered he could not because the Lady Wrotesley had the key.

Wherevpon the said Doctor by order and those of the Chapter present w'th him sent a grave minister w'th two others to require her to send the key, that all duties might be performed both to God and the king the same time, but she refused to send the key, saieinge that she would not doe it bycause shee would not preiudice her husbandes right, where vpon maine of the parish at the same time being assembled to heare divine service and sermon were faine to depart w'thout hearinge the same.

Alsoe vpon the xxvith of March, beinge the feast of the Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin Marie, the said Doctor Gordon, beinge assisted by three justices of peace, to witt Sr. Jesper Moore, knight, Doctor Tooker, Deane of Leechfeild, and Mr. Blacker, dwellinge in the Close of Sarum, whoe went w'th him that noe violence might be offered; vpon there comming thither the doores were opened, and he, being put James Eyre.—He was Rector of Winterbourne Stoke and Nettleton, 1801-12, the patron in each case being Lord Chedworth; headmaster of Solihull Grammar School, co. Warwick, for 30 years, where he died in 1813. He was the son of John Eyre, gent., Coventry. Can any of your readers help me to place him in either the Wiltshire or Derbyshire branches of the Eyre family?

John Eaton, with his wife Anne, and Children—John, Anne, Elizabeth, Ruth, Thomas, Esther, was in Colchester, Mass., now Salisbury, as early as June 26th, 1640. Other families who settled there with him were: Batt, Biley, Dow, Dummer, Kimball, Rolfe, Sanders, and Singletery. It has long seemed to me probable that John Eaton came from Wilts; can anyone throw light on his ancestry, or give the parish where he was born?

Edward Gibbon and Devizes.—In his autobiography the author of the Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire, states that whilst out with the Militia, in 1760, he "was quartered in the populous and disorderly town of Devizes, where we met with scant hospitality from the neighbouring gentry". Are there any reminiscences of his sojourn in Devizes? Why was the capital of our county described as "disorderly " at this period, and why was the Militia called out for two years?

Browne of North Wilts.—On page 59 of Kite's Brasses of Wills, I find it stated that John Browne of Calne, to whom a licence to eat flesh in Lent was granted in 1615, was a grandson of Robert Weare, als. Browne, who was seven times Mayor of Marlborough. I should be glad to know what authority there is for this relationship? May I also ask whether anything is known of the parentage, place of birth, or any other antecedents, of Richard Browne, whose will is set out in W. N. & Q., vol. v, p. 537.

Chitterne Registers.—The following occurs in our Registers:—

Stephen Swain, of the Parish of Sutton Veney, in the County of Wilts, and Tamor Martin, alias Hinderson, of the Parish of Chittern St. Mary, in ye same County, were Married in this Church by Licence this ninth Day of February, in the year One Thousand Seven Hundred and Seventy Four, by me, John Edwards (Curate).

This marriage was solemnized between us in the Presence of William Allford, John Grant.

The mark x of Stephen Swain. The mark x of Tamor Martin, alias Hinderson.

A note at the side, in lead pencil, states: "Both hung", and the writing looks like that of the next curate, whose formal entries commence in 1783. When, why, and where did this take place?

These further extracts may be of interest:—

1655, Dec. 4.—Margaret, the wife of Dositheus Wyer, Minister of ye Gospel at Chitterne, deceased, the first day of Decemb., and buried on ye 4th of the same.

The Agreement of Marriage between Dositheus Wyer, minister of Chitterne, and Miss Siscella Wannerton, of Cloford, in ye County of Sumerset, was published three severall Lord's Days in ye close of ye morning exercise, viz., Januarii ye 18th and 25th days, and the first day of Feb., according to ye tenor of a late act made 1656, March 25. The above Dositheus Wyer, minister of the Word, and Miss Siscella Wannerton were married on the 24th of March, 1656.
Wyer was evidently placed here under the Cromwellian regime, as his name does not appear in any list of Vicars I have seen. This godly man buried his wife on Dec. 4th, and had the banns published for another in six weeks' time. The proper clergy at this time were in many cases turned out by Cromwell as being "unworthy and scandalous", but if this is a sample of the men introduced, there could not have been much improvement, I fear. Is there anything more known of this man and his wives?

John T. Canner.

Notes on Books.

Under the above title Mr. Russell Gillman has issued a most useful and interesting little work, at the low price of sixpence. In his preface we learn “the Annals down to 1865 were compiled by Mr. James Waylen, the well-known historian of Devizes and Marlborough, and from that date until 1893 the work was continued by my late father, and since that time it has been done on similar lines by myself.” They have mostly been reprinted from the columns of the Devizes Advertiser.

The Editor has happily induced Mr. Kite (perhaps the best living authority on the history of his native town) to write an Introduction, which is a clever condensation of 800 years. May we be allowed to enter a mild protest at the “abdication of James II in 1688”, a Whig (legal?) fiction; James II and his heirs never abdicated; they continuously and boldly asserted their rights, using regal titles and exercising regal rights until the death of the “Cardinal King”, Henry IX, in 1807.

Mr. W. A. Bones contributes an article on the town from the Universal British Directory, 1791, and the Editor has added a list of Mayors from 1302–1906. Under the date of 1761 is mentioned Gibbon’s presence in Devizes.

WILTSHIRE TOPOGRAPHY [1659-1843],
With some Notes on the late Sir Thomas Phillipps, and his Historical Collections for the County.

As early as 1659, at the close of the Civil War, Aubrey, with several other Wilts gentry of the time, had contemplated a survey of the entire county and its antiquities, on the plan of the then recently published Illustration of Warwickshire, by Sir William Dugdale; but his literary friends failing to fulfil in due course their promises of co-operation, Aubrey was left to pursue his researches alone, and his manuscript collections, preserved in the Ashmolean Museum at Oxford, remained for a future generation to publish.

As the earliest independent collector of topographical material, and an unwearied toiler in the then unexplored field of Wiltshire antiquity, the name of John Aubrey will ever deserve a kindly mention in this, his native

1 Jeffrey Daniel, of St. Margaret's, Marlborough, Sir John Erneley, of Whetham, Thomas Gore, of Alderton, Judge Robert Nicholas, of Roundway, and William Yorke, of Basset's Down.

2 The topographical notes on Wiltshire, previously taken by Leland, on the authority of a Royal Commission from Henry VIII (from which Camden is said to have 'borrowed'), were known only in Aubrey's time by a rare first edition of his Itinerary, 64 leaves, 12mo size, printed in black letter, by John Bale, 1549.
county. Writing, in 1696,\(^1\) when at the age of 70, to his patron, the first Earl of Abingdon, in whose mansion, at West Lavington, he had found shelter and hospitality in days of adversity, he says:

"It was my intention to have finished my Description of Wiltshire (half finished already) and to have dedicated it to your lordship, but my age is now too far spent for such undertakings. I have, therefore, devolved that task on my countryman, Mr. Thomas Tanner, who hath youth to go through with it, and genius proper for such an undertaking."

Aubrey's youthful friend, then about 22, and afterwards the learned author of Notitia Monastica, was a native of Market Lavington, his father being vicar there for nearly half a century. He became successively Canon of Christ Church, Oxford, Chancellor of Norwich, and Bishop of St. Asaph. In 1715 he issued A Scheme of the intended History of Wiltshire, appealing to the nobility, clergy, and gentry of the county "to encourage such a public design", but it apparently met with very little response.

Other similar appeals, of a later date, were alike unsuccessful. In 1788 Mr. Henry Penruddocke Wyndham, of the College, Salisbury, published, in a thick octavo volume, the Wiltshire portion of the Domesday Survey, together with an English translation, suggesting in the preface "a plan for the general history of the County", and liberally offering, at the same time, to contribute the sum of a hundred pounds either in support of his own, or any other plan that may be considered more desirable; but the challenge was not accepted, and the matter still continued to slumber.

Lastly, in 1799, the Rev. Dr. Davison, of Froxfield, once more made a similar appeal, but also in vain. That the design of a County History, thus initiated by Aubrey, should have been allowed to lie dormant for the next century and a half, notwithstanding these frequent attempts to renew an interest in the subject, must be attributed wholly to a want of necessary support is fully evident, there being at the time no lack of literary talent at disposal; for, besides Bishop Tanner, now engaged in compiling for the press his great work the Notitia Monastica, Wiltshire had, in the interim, given historians to two other counties—Collinson to that of Somerset,¹ and Hasted to Kent²—the published volumes of each being still recognized as standard works of reference on matters of county history.

But at the beginning of the last century a fresh impetus was given to Wiltshire Topography, first by the publication, in 1801, of two volumes of the Beauties of Wiltshire;³ and a third in 1825, by the late John Britton, F.S.A., who was also the author of the Wiltshire volume of the Beauties of England and Wales, and the History of Salisbury Cathedral; both issued in 1814. The Architectural Antiquities, and other later works of Mr. Britton, also contain much valuable Wiltshire material.

It was at this time also that Sir Richard Colt Hoare, the resident owner of Stourhead, with a strong love of topographical research, and abundant means at his disposal, became the historian of this, his adopted county; first of its pre-historic remains, in the two sumptuously printed and illustrated folio volumes of Ancient Wiltshire [1812-21], including the British and Roman periods; and lastly in the Modern History of South Wilts, divided into Hundreds, and with the History of Salisbury (published after Sir Richard's death), completing six other folio volumes [1822-43], which as a whole constitute one of the most elaborate works of its kind, but too costly, in fact, to be within reach of the ordinary lover of topographical literature, and a re-print in a much cheaper and more readable form, with additions and corrections to date, is much to be desired. In the Northern Division of the county, which also needs some kind of regular and uniform history, there are still many parishes wholly unexplored, and much virgin soil yet remains for some careful topographer who, as Aubrey said of Mr. Thomas (afterwards Bishop) Tanner, at the age of 22, "hath youth to go through with it, and genius proper for such an undertaking".

With the name of Sir Richard Hoare, as the historian of Wiltshire, is, or ought, also to be associated that of his contemporary and coadjutor, Sir Thomas Phillipps, who, for many years, was an enthusiastic collector, and the editor—in a way somewhat peculiar to himself—of much topographical and genealogical material relating to this, as well as to other counties.

Sir Thomas Phillipps, the only son of a wealthy manu-

1 In 1818 Sir Richard issued a pamphlet entitled Hints on the Topography of Wiltshire, addressed to "my countrymen," in which he says, "Wiltshire, among the very few counties within our island, still remains unexplored and undescribed . . . and in works of early antiquity, and elegant architecture, what other county can vye with it?"

facturer, of Middle Hill, near Broadway, co. Worcester, was born at Manchester in July 1792. He claimed a Welsh descent from Phillips of Cilsant, and a Wiltshire one from the old families of Webbe, of Salisbury, and Foster, of Mere, as shown in the accompanying pedigree; which will, perhaps, account for his early interest in the City of Salisbury and its Cathedral records. He married in 1819, and is believed to have resided for a while at Basset's Down, near Swindon, removing after his father's death to Middle Hill. Here he maintained a large establishment, but at the death of his wife, in 1832, he had broken it up, and devoted himself wholly to antiquarian research. Here, with a press of his own, and a printer and bookbinder, both regularly employed on the premises, he produced much of his privately printed material, his three daughters being often engaged for the whole day in preparing copy for the compositors. As a collector of books, and more especially of manuscripts, his enthusiasm knew no bounds. He was a client of nearly every English bookseller, and purchased library after library, collection after collection. When on one occasion, a bookseller (Mr. Thorpe) sent him a newly issued catalogue of about 1,400 volumes of manuscripts, Sir Thomas was not content with a selection, but at once ordered the whole. His other large purchases included the entire series of Battle Abbey Charters, and the celebrated Meerman library of Greek manuscripts. He also purchased largely at the Heber and other sales during the first half of the last century. A writer in the Quarterly Review of May 1843 questioned if "all Europe could produce another individual gentleman who, in his ardour for collecting books and manuscripts, had dis-

1 He has himself told the writer that when he first became acquainted with Salisbury (about 1820), he sometimes paid £2 or £3 a day in fees for searching wills, etc., at the Diocesan Registry. The windows of the Cathedral Library were at that time broken, and the jackdaws, with free ingress and egress, nightly found both "perch" and "dormitory" on the piles of choice volumes, including an Anglo-Saxon MS., which were heaped up in a state of "chaos" on the tables within.

The library kept continually increasing until the mansion of Middle Hill was filled from basement to attics. The books were in boxes, which were piled one on the other, the lids being on one side, and hinged at the lower end, so as to open outwards and downwards independently of each other. They were kept locked, and no one outside his own circle of personal friends was willingly allowed to see his library.

After the death of Lord Northwick, and the sale of his splendid gallery of pictures at Thirlestaine House, Cheltenham, in July 1859, the residence was taken by Sir Thomas Phillipps, and he at once began to remove his library thither—an operation which extended over some two years—the books and manuscripts being conveyed in an omnibus, which, in charge of two men, plied twice a week, and Thirlestaine, an enormous building, surrounded on all sides by high walls, and in every way suited to the purpose, was filled, as Middle Hill had previously been, with the mass of literary material which kept continually accumulating until the death of its owner, which took place in February 1872, in his 80th year.

Sir Thomas, who had taken the degree of M.A., was elected a Fellow of the Society of Antiquaries of London as early as 1819. He was also F.R.S., F.G.S., M.R.G.S., Hon. M.R.S.L., and a Governor of the British Museum, which it was confidently hoped would have benefited largely under his will, but such was not the case. One of his strictest testamentary injunctions was that neither his eldest daughter, nor her husband, Mr. James Orchard Halliwell, afterwards Halliwell-Phillipps, the eminent Shakesperean scholar,¹ nor any Roman Catholic, should enter his house, and the whole of his great library was bequeathed to his youngest daughter, wife of the Rev. John Edward Addison Fenwick, for life, with remainders to her children; and the dispersal of his enormous accumulations under the hammer of Messrs. Sotheby, Wilkinson, and Hodge, has been going on, at irregular intervals, since 1886; the thirteenth of which sales took place at their rooms, Wellington Street, Strand, on 15 June 1908, and three following days, up to which date, as summarised in the Times of April 6, 1903, the twelve previous sales had realised a total of £41,274 15s. 6d., in addition to various private purchases from the Phillipps executors; much more of the collection yet remaining for disposal.

We may, at this point, enumerate, as far as possible, the various printed books and separate sheets relating to Wiltshire, which have from time to time issued from Sir Thomas Phillipps' private press\(^1\)—as well as some of the more important of his manuscript collections illustrative of the history of the County.

As already mentioned, he was elected F.S.A. in April 1819, not having then reached his 27th year. He had at this time already commenced printing Wiltshire material, viz.:—

Collections for Wiltshire, by Tho. Phillipps, Esq., jun. 8vo, 1818.

This was followed by a Salisbury printed volume, of which he was the Editor:—

The Herald's Visitation of Middlesex, began in the year 1663, by W. Ryley, Lancaster Herald, and H. Dethick, Rouge Croix, Marshals and Deputies to Sir

1 As the first editor of Aubrey's manuscript, Sir Thomas Phillipps seems to have considered that he had some amount of copyright interest in the volume. In a letter to the present writer, 7th April 1862, he says: "I fear I must bring an action against the seller of Aubrey (i.e., the new

Wiltshire Freeholder’s Book, 13 Charles I [1637].

Herald’s Visitation Disclaimers. Folio, pp. 76. 1854.

To these we may add many separate pedigrees of Wiltshire families, including those of Flower, Goddard, and others, of which a few copies only were printed from time to time at the Middle Hill Press, and are now very rarely to be met with.

At the close of the year 1856 Sir Thomas proposed to print fifty copies of his genealogical collections for Wiltshire, in three volumes; and in a letter to the present writer, dated 17 December, desired the insertion of the following in the local papers:

"We hear that Sir Thomas Phillipps intends to publish his collections for the History of this County, in three volumes, small folio, containing:—

"1. Annals of the descent of property in the County.

"2. Pedigrees of ancient families prior to the Visitations of the Heralds.

"3. Pedigrees of families entered in the Visitations, and others, to the present day, so far as he at present possesses them, or can obtain them previous to the issue of the volume from the press.

"The whole to be in alphabetical order for more easy reference. Fifty copies to be printed."

The proposal, however, met with insufficient response, and the "good design", like that of Aubrey, and others mentioned in these pages, came to nothing.

We may next add, from the privately printed Catalogue, Part I, of the Bibliotheca Phillippsiana (of which there is a copy in the British Museum), a summary of the more important manuscripts in the Phillipps' Collection relating to the County of Wilts:

Transcripts of Monastic Chartularies, including that of Bradenstoke (by Careless), Edyngdon (in two volumes), Malmesbury (by Hensley), Salisbury Cathedral, the College de Vaux, and Wilton (by Hensley); with extracts from the register of Maiden Bradley, the Glastonbury Cartulary at Longleat, and copies of Charters of Stanley Abbey.

Miscellanea: Papers found in the library of Ferdinando Gorges at Ashley; valuation taken at Box; rental of Calne Manor, 1509, and papers relating to an election there; extracts from Torre's MSS., and pension of the Vicar of Chippenham; Orders and regulations of Corsham Almshouses founded by Margaret [Halliday], Lady Hungerford; Osborne's letters from Wilts; Seudamore Papers; and Star Chamber proceedings against Henry Sherfield, Recorder of Salisbury, 1632, for breaking a stained-glass window in St. Edmund's Church.

Forest Charters, Inquisition of Braden, Bounds of Selwood, and extracts from deeds relating to Savernake.

Drawings of Monumental Brasses, Wilts and Oxon, 4to; Wilts Fonts and Arches, by Hensley; and views in the County drawn for Watson Taylor, Esq., of Erlestoke, folio.

In conclusion we reprint from the thirteenth and last sale catalogue, in June last, a few of the Wiltshire items which are of especial interest:—

"An account of the Hospital or Priory for Canons of the Trinitarian Order for the Redemption of Captives at Eston, co. Wilts, with the orders appointed, by Robert Wyvill, Bishop of Salisbury, 1368, for its better government. Folio, xvi cent." This unique MS. was unknown to Tanner or the Editors of Dugdale.

"To all and synguler wellbelovyd chyldren of oure Holy Mother, the Churche, etc. Robert, by the permission of God, Byshope of Sarisbury. Truly, the request of our wellbelovyed in God, Henry Estormy, patron of the Hospitale Howse of the Holy Trynyte, of Eston, of our diocesse althought yn tymes past hys antecessors, predecessors, progenytores, had foundyd the said Howse in the honor of the Holy Trinite, and sufficiently had ynduyd the same and ordyned hyt under a certen forme, that amonge the brederyn of the for-sayd howse fyve prestys proffessyd the rule of the sayde Howse, subjectyd unto the Bysshope of Sarum, schulde syng dayly fyve masses for the soulys of the founders, progenitors, etc., of the sayd Henry Estormy shoulde keep contynewall resydence yn the same howse, and shuld receive passingers, cokyng, logyng, & shuld exhybete to them hospytalyte.' etc. It goes on to say how Edmund of Pollesdon, the governor of the house, had absented himself for a long time, and wasted the goods, so that all services were suspended, and the brethren 'abhomynably wanderys yn streys, townys, and beggys as vacabowndys, mychars, and loyterars, ech of them wandryng severally after hys owne pleasure and they byn sees to ryde forth to worldly common gamys, and playes,' etc. How he had ruined the place turning the buildings into stables for his horses, sold corrodies, etc., kept the common seal in his own purse, etc. For these and other reasons Henry Esturmy had complained to the Bishop to remedy the abuses and appoint Robert Inland as governor, and reform the statutes, all of which are here fully set out."

"An exact and perfect survey and view of the mannor of Aldrington, or Alderton, co. Wilts, 1665, by Chr. Jacob." 8vo.

"It is entirely in the autograph of the celebrated antiquary, Thomas Gore, of Alderton, and is the book he desires in his will to be kept as an heirloom. This volume also contains 'The Customes of the Manor of Alderton', and 'An exact & perfect Survey of Surrenden, co. Wilts.'"

1 Aubrey and Jackson, p. 381.

This MS. is evidently the work of one of the heralds, probably St. George. It contains upwards of 600 very fine coats-of-arms, beautifully emblazoned, and formerly belonged to Thomas Gore, who has added some notes, and whose very fine book-plate is pasted at the beginning.

This fine volume, with full index, is entirely in the autograph of Thomas Gore; opposite the title-page are his arms, very finely emblazoned on a large shield; throughout, the arms are emblazoned and in trick.

This curious collection relates to Long, of Wraxall, co. Wilts. It was at one time in the hands of Joseph Hunter, the Yorkshire historian, and he notes that they were bought from the executors of Walter Long, of Wraxall, by Binns, a bookseller of Bath, from whose widow he purchased them.

"The Original Petitions of the Farmers of Wilts against importation of foreign corn, 1821; of Sarum, against the Roman Catholic Claims, 1821; of Sarum and Trowbridge for promulgating Christianity in India, 1813; of farmers of West Wilts respecting Agricultural Distress, 1820." 6 long rolls.
"An Assessment, made in the reign of William III, for granting to him certain rates and duties upon Marriages, Births, Burials, and upon Bachelors and Widowers, for five years, for carrying on the war against France with vigour," etc. Fol., 102 pp.

The grant by Edward I of this church and manor to Romsey Abbey is recorded at the beginning of these volumes, which contains 661 charters.

It contains 468 charters, referring only to Saxon and early Norman times.

Besides the above there are deeds, court rolls, musters, institutions, etc., relating to various places in the County.

A writer in the Times of April 6, 1903, reviewing the various sales of the Phillipps' MSS. to that date, remarks, "The manner in which they are catalogued by the auctioneers cannot be too highly praised, and all the more important lots are described in the most exhaustive fashion. If Messrs. Sotheby could see their way to adding to the last sale of all, an index, of however summary a nature, to the entire collection, they would confer an immense boon on students generally."

Brother-in-law

1 I.e., Boucher, son of John Boucher and Anne (Houlton). Either father or son may perhaps have been the brother John Boucher mentioned in the Will of Thomas Boucher, of Ogbourne St. George, who was M.P. for Malmesbury, and died in 1708. (W. Y. & Q., vol. v, p. 143.) There seems to have been a family of Boucher or Bucher living at Bromham about this time, as an Elizabeth Bucher, of Bromham, married Moses Raylings, at Seagry, in 1684. Is anything known about such a family?
Roger Lilington and his wife, sister Mary Berry,¹ sister Woolley, cousin John Scott, Esq., and his wife, cousins Joan Rainsford,² Lister Tye,³ and Mary his wife, Samuel Watts and his wife, £10 each. ¹ Widow of Daniel Berry, of London, merchant, who in his P.C.C. Will (proved March 1698-9, by Mary Berry, the relict) mentions his brother Nathaniel Houlton and Elizabeth his wife, and their children. He also mentions his daughter Mary, wife of John Scott.

³ Lister Tigh, of Hardenhuish als. Harduish, co. Wilts., gent. He was Lord of the Manor of Hardenhuish, and died in 1711. In his P.C.C. Will he leaves to his brother-in-law, Mr. Robert Houlton, “my best saddle and horse and my fishing tackle”, and to nephew Joseph Houlton, a saddle, bridle, etc., and “my best fowling piece, setting doggs and all my rests”. He also mentions:—Wife, Mary; bros.-in-law, Mr. Adrian Moore, Mr. Richard Bridgman, Mr. Richard Gibson, sister Ursula Venner, wife of Samuel Venner, and nephew Robert Rhodes.

P.C.C. Admon., 1753.

On 8th Dec. 1753, another administration of goods, etc., of John Houlton, of Clapham, co. Surrey, was granted to Nathaniel Houlton, the son, the relict Lydia Houlton having now deceased.

The following note should have been added to Robert Houlton's Will, p. 113:—

His mother, Elizabeth, was the widow of Thomas Slade of Warminster, gent., who died in 1659. From Thomas Slade's Will it appears that he owned considerable property in Warminster, and also property in Trowbridge, Studley, and Steeple Ashton. He was probably a lawyer, as he owned a collection of law books. For proof that she was dau. and heiress of Bayley, and that she married Robert Houlton in 1661, see Chancery Proceedings, 1681, Collins, 606-195.—[Communicated by Colonel Mortimer.]

And your Orator further sheweth that such recovery was duly suffered; and that soon after death of your Orator's great grandfather, Abjohn Stokes the elder, being indebted to several persons to amount of £1,200 and upwards, prevailed on said Anne his wife to join with him in levying a fine, as well of the said premises so limited in tail as of the premises so limited to her, Anne, for life in order to satisfy his debts; and to that end by indenture dated 12 December, 30 Charles II, A.D. 1678, between him and his wife by the names of Abjohn Stokes, of Titherton Lucas, esquire, and Anne his wife, of the one part, and the said Henry Rogers by the name of Henry Rogers, of Heddington, co. As for that part of the capital messuage of Titherton Lucas called the New Buildings, the garden enclosed with a pale, the moiety of the orchard and backside belonging to the said farmhouse as the same was then laid; and as to the buildings, the closes called Sheephouse Leaze and Bowling Alley, Homefield, Littlemead Leaze, the 3 closes of arable land called Broadfield, the 4 closes of pasture called Breeches, and that part of the coppice belonging to the farm then lately allotted to lie to the said New Buildings with their appurtenances in Titherton Lucas and Langley Burrell for corroborating of a former estate limited in use to Elizabeth Stokes, widow, your Orator's great grandmother, and her assigns for the term of her life, as expressed in the above indenture, quadrupartite and from and after her decease as for all the rest of the said capital, messuage, etc., and premisses not limited to use of Elizabeth Stokes for her life, except Greatmead Leaze, Starr's Close, the 9 acres of meadow in Westham, Longmead, Warr's Mead, the messuage called Great Snowes with 2 closes adjoining, 4 closes called New Leazes, the coppice meadow, the 3½ acres of meadow in Westham, the common of pasture in Humborne and Washball, the messuage called "Beames his Tenement" [called Barnes above] with orchard and home-ground belonging, the messuage called Angell's with the garden, etc., belonging. To use of Henry Rogers and William Dyer and their heirs forever, in trust. First to the end that they, Henry Rogers, etc., at their discretion should bargain, sell or convey what part of the same he or they should think fit to raise money for discharge of the debts of him, Abjohn, mentioned in a schedule annexed; and if any overplus should be of money raised by such sale or mean profits of the premisses before the sale of said lands or any part thereof more than sufficient to discharge those debts and growing interest for the same, and all costs at law which might happen in respect of those debts and the charges and expenses of Henry Rogers, etc., in executing said trust; then the trustees, their assigns and administrators should pay the overplus to Abjohn Stokes, Anne his wife, or such person or persons to whom the immediate trust of the reversion or remainder expectant upon the decease of the survivor of Abjohn and Anne should belong according to the limitation and true intent thereof; and after such debts, etc., satisfied upon trust that they the trustees should settle all the said lands, etc., and premisses as should remain unsold to use of Abjohn Stokes, the elder, and his assigns for 99 years, and after the expiration of that term to use of said trustees and their heirs for life of Abjohn, to preserve the contingent use therein after mentioned that the same might not be destroyed; and after decease of Abjohn Stokes, the elder, to use of said Anne and her assigns for term of her natural life in part of her jointure; and after deceases of Abjohn and Anne to use of Abjohn Stokes, the younger, and heirs male of his body lawfully to be begotten and for want of issue of all and every the other son of Abjohn, the elder, by Anne, and of the heirs male of the several bodies of such son and sons lawfully to be begotten according to seniority of age, and for default of issue to use of right heirs of him the said Abjohn Stokes, the elder, forever, and to no other use whatsoever. And concerning the lands called Great Mead Leaze, Starr's Close and the 9 acres of meadow in Westham to use of said Michael Nash and Henry Rogers their executors, administrators and assigns during remainder of the term of 99 years unto them limited in use by the before mentioned indenture quadrupartite without impeachment of waste to the intent by the said indenture quadrupartite mentioned; and after the expiration of the 99 years, to use of Abjohn, the elder, and Anne his wife during their lives and the life of the longest liver, and after their deceases of Abjohn the son and of his heirs male lawfully begotten, and for want of issue to the use of the heirs male of Abjohn the father lawfully begotten on the body of the said Anne, and for lack of issue to right heirs of Abjohn the father. As for the messuage called Greater Snowes with 2 closes adjoining, 4 closes called New Leazes, the coppice meadow, the three acres of meadow in Westham, and common of pasture in Hamborne and Washball, the messuage called Beames his Tenement with orchard and home-ground, the messuage called Angell's with garden, etc., belonging, to use of Abjohn the father for life; then to use of Michael Nash and Henry Rogers, their executors, etc., for 99 years upon trusts mentioned in the said quadrupartite indenture and on upon further trust for said Anne for life, and after her decease to the use of Abjohn the son and his heirs male, etc. (as before), provided always and it was declared between all of the said parties that the aforesaid several respective terms of 99 years of and in the land, etc., before mentioned, limited to use of Michael Nash and H. Rogers, etc., were intended on the further trust that in case Abjohn Stokes the son should happen to live (or any other heir male of Abjohn the father on the body of Anne), that yet Michael Nash, etc., should out of the premisses to them limited, either by rents and profits vesting in them respectively or by fines for leases or sales outright of the premises, should raise portions not exceeding the whole sum of £1,200 for the daughter and daughters of Abjohn Stokes the father begotten on the body of said Anne, to be paid at the times and manner to be appointed by Abjohn Stokes the father in his last will, provided that it should be lawful for Abjohn the elder by any writing sealed with his seal and signed and executed before witnesses to appoint, in case he survived the said Anne his wife, to the use of any woman that hereafter should be his lawful wife an annual rent of not more than £50 out of said premisses, or any part thereof, to said Michael Nash, etc., subject to such sales as Henry Rogers and Wm. Dyer, or their heirs, should make of the same in satisfaction of said debts. Your Orator further sheweth that a fine was duly acknowledged pursuant to the last-recited indenture; and afterwards the Trustees mortgaged the premisses to James Wallis, of the City of Bristol, esquire, since deceased, for securing the sum of £1,200 for payment of the debts mentioned in the schedule annexed in the last-recited indenture; also that Abjohn the elder had contracted several other debts to the amount of £2,613 17s. 11d., and prevailed with Abjohn the younger, your Orator's father, that his debts should be paid by sale of part of the premisses; therefore by indenture dated 19 June 1698, between Abjohn Stokes, father and son, and Richard Stokes, of Calne, they granted the premisses to said Richard and his heirs, on trust to raise money by sale thereof for payment of the debts, and to settle one moiety of the residue to use of Abjohn the father for life (except the house, garden, and orchard which he was to have over and above during his life), and after his decease to Abjohn the younger, his heirs and assigns, and the other moiety to only use of Abjohn the younger and his heirs and assigns forever, as might appear had your Orator the said indenture to produce. After which Richard Stokes sold parcel of the premisses, but not sufficient to pay the debts. And Abjohn Stokes the younger, being about to marry Sarah Burgh, by indenture between him and Thomas Burgh, of Gray's Inn, esq., and Sarah, eldest daughter of said Thomas, and William Twyford, dated 29 June 1700, agreed to marry Sarah on the 10th July, and that he would convey to said Thomas Burgh and Thomas Twyford the capital messuage, etc., of Titherton Lucas, the Sheephous Lease then converted into an orchard and garden, the Home Field, Little Mead Leaze, Great Mead Leaze, Starr Close, meadows in Westham, Calves Close then converted into a garden, Oat Close, Longmead, Warr's Leaze, and parcels of land in Westham, the reversion of a messuage leased for 99 years by Abjohn the elder to Thomas Beames, the reversion of an estate for 3 lives granted to — Watts, deceased, then in possession of John Watts his son, and the reversion of Starr's new leases granted for 40 years to Henry Goldney, 6 Feb. 1641, all which premisses, with the other property in the occupation of Caspar Keiling, John Therewe and Thomas Crooke, were granted by the two Abjohns to Richard Stokes, of Calne, as aforesaid; the said settlement power to Thomas Burgh and William Twyford to sell all or any part of the premisses to raise money for the payment of the aforementioned debts and for purposes such as Abjohn Stokes, the younger, and his intended wife, Sarah, should by their writing under their hands and seals with consent of Thomas Burgh and his heirs appoint: the settlement to be upon trust that Abjohn the younger should be allowed to receive the profits of the premisses unsold by Richard Stokes during his life, he paying the interest and charges on the same for the payment of debts, and after his death on trust to raise £40 yearly, for the said Sarah, out of the rents and profits of the same, the residue of such rents, etc., to be paid to the first son of the said Abjohn and Sarah and his heirs male, and, for want of issue, to the second, third, fourth, etc., son, and the heirs male respectively of such son according to seniority of age, and, for want of issue, to the daughters of Abjohn and Sarah and their issue; and by the articles of settlement Abjohn the younger desired Richard Stokes to convey to Thomas Burgh and William Twyford, and the heirs of Thomas, all the said messuages, etc., settled in him as soon as the other trusts were duly executed, as in the said articles had your Orator the same to produce might appear. And your Orator is the eldest son of the said Abjohn and Sarah, and Richard Stokes prepared indentures of lease and release of 23 and 24
May 1706, of the premises to Abjohn Stokes the elder and younger, but died without executing the said indentures, and your Orator is advised that his interest in the premises is vested in Thomas Stokes of [blank], his eldest son, in trust nevertheless for your Orator, who has survived his father and grandfather, and in pursuance of said marriage settlement became entitled and received the profits, rents, etc., of the premises remaining unsold and well hoped to have gone on doing so, but one Townesend Andrews, gentleman, of London, entering into confederacy with Thomas Stokes, pretends title to the same by a settlement of the premises executed by John Townsend, citizen and soapmaker, of London, on the marriage of his daughter Sarah with Thomas Andrews, of Highgate, and as the issue of that marriage and that John Townsend had full power to make such settlement by indenture tripartite dated 13 March 1716, between Abjohn Stokes and Sarah, and Thomas Burgh and Wm. Twyford and said J. Townsend, witnessing the absolute sale of the premises to the latter for the sum of £2,330, and that John Townsend by indenture of 5 July 1720, leased the premisses to Abjohn, your Orator's father, for a certain number of years under yearly rent of £106. Townsend Andrews being legally entitled to the rent and arrears or pretended arrears of rent has lately destroyed your Orator's stock on the premisses and threatens to do so from time to time, and has caused one or more declarations of ejectment to be served on your Orator and his tenants. In tender consideration whereof, your Orator's witnesses being dead or beyond sea so that he can have no manner of benefit of their testimony at any trial at law, he desires that Thomas Stokes and Townsend Andrews may be made to answer to the premisses, etc.

THE ANSWER OF TOWNSEND ANDREWS, DEFENDANT.

[This contains all the steps of the purchase of the premisses by John Townsend from Abjohn Stokes, father and son and Sarah, wife of the younger Abjohn, etc., the defendant referring himself for further proof to deeds which shall be produced, etc.]

THOMAS BENNETT.

NORMAN PENNEY.

In the third line of the Will, on p. 135, your correspondent has the word “Chan’lour”. When I made an abstract of the Will a few years ago, I was doubtful of the word, and wrote “chauncō”, thinking it was a contraction for “chancellor”, but the Editor of the P.C.C. Calendar of Wills for the Index Library correctly gives the designation “chauntour”,¹ and this is, I think, confirmed by the 19th line of the Will, where the word “subchauntor” occurs.

In an article in the D. N. B., on William Benet, LL.D., Canon of Leighlin 1522, Cardinal Wolsey’s commissary, Canon of Salisbury 6 April 1526, Archdeacon of Dorset 20 Dec. 1530, applicant for the Deanery of Salisbury, Ambassador to Rome 1528, till his death at Susa, in Piedmont, 26 Sept. 1533, Will proved 11 May 1534 [which I have not seen], the writer states:

“Of his family nothing is known, except that he had an uncle John

¹ Canon Jones, in his Fasti, describes him as “Precentor”, and does not mention him as “Chancellor”.—[Ed.]
Benet, a citizen and merchant taylor of London, and that Thomas Benet, chancellor [the italics are mine] of Salisbury, was probably his brother."

Has the writer in the D. N. B. fallen into the same error with this word, or was Thomas Bennett really chancellor?

The early pedigree of the Benets is very difficult to elucidate. They were landowners and clothiers, seated especially at Westbury, Heytesbury, and Norton Bavent, with branches in Berkshire and London. It is quite true that the above Thomas Bennett had a brother William, but he was not the Ambassador at Rome, only a quiet country gentleman of Norton Bavent, as appears by the following abstract of his Will:—

P.C.C. [19 Martyn] 17 Nov. 1573.—Will. Bennett of Norton Bavent. To be bur. in church of Westbury at my seats end. Poor of Westbury 40s., of Norton Bavent 10s., of St. Martyn's in Sarum 10s. Tho. B. my son the lease of the sights of the manor of Norton Bavent, commonly called the fferme there, with all tenements & tucking myll, lease of a tenement lying at the Crosse called the church house, four yard landes, late Will Moorys. To Kath. my wyf bedding of her 2 chambers, & to enjoy the parsonage of St. Martin's, Sarum, & certain tenements in N. Proved 6 May 1574 by Tho. & W. B., the sons.

By deed of 15 Dec., 1 & 2 Philip & Mary, this William Bennett releases to Bryan Chamberlayne his messuages in Newbery & Enborne, co. Berks, & in another deed of 12 Aug. 1553, 2 & 3 Philip & Mary, he is described as of Westbury, clothier.

Price of Wool.—In The Larchfield Diary of Mr. Mewburn, of Darlington, occurs the following, under 1829: “In consequence of the withdrawal of the £1 notes, the finest wool in Wiltshire, which, in 1827, was sold for 2s. 3d. per lb., was offered, in 1829, at 1s. 3d.” Why was this? Sagax.

Dositheus Wyer (vol. vi, p. 142). It is here stated by your correspondent, Mr. J. T. Canner, that this vicar of Chitterne buried his wife on 4 December 1655, and that he “had the banns published for another in six weeks time”, and he proceeds to suggest that “this godly man” did not exhibit much improvement on the “unworthy and scandalous” ministers turned out by Cromwell. Mr. Canner has been misled by the “double date”, and the confusion thus arising between the historical and civil years. Dositheus Wyer’s wife, Margaret, died on 1 December 1656, and he married again on 24 March 1656, i.e., in 1657 according to our reckoning. Consequently his second marriage took place not six weeks, but nearly sixteen months, after his first wife’s death.

Dositheus Wyer matriculated at Magdalen Hall, Oxford, in 1618, as “filius plebis”, at the age of 17, and proceeded B.A. on 12 June 1621. He was vicar of Cam, in Gloucestershire, from 1633 to June 1635. He occurs as curate of Leonard Stanley, Gloucestershire, in 1642. Millicent Wyer of Chitterne, presumably his daughter, married, 12 May 1657, Robert Atkins of Sutton Benger, gent., but the date of his death is not ascertained. He was ejected for nonconformity in 1662. The unusual Christian name is that of a monk who flourished about 530, and is commemorated on 23 February.¹

W. P. W. PHILLIMORE.

Dositheus Wyer matriculated at Magdalen Hall, Oxon., 17 Apr. 1618, aged 17, being entered as of plebeian birth, and of the county of Gloucester; B.A., 12 June 1621,² Vicar of Chiltern, Wilts,³ ejected 1662 for nonconformity. I cannot give the date of his institution; but he was ordained by Dr. Godfrey Goodman, who was Bishop of Gloucester 1625-43. Calamy, in the Continuation to his Account of Ejected or Silenc'd Ministers, writes as follows:—

"P. 764. . . . Chiltern.⁴ Mr. DOSITHUS WYAR. He was ordain'd by Bishop Godfrey Goodman, who, by his name, took him for a Puritan: but when he told him his Father took his name out of the Apocrypha [2 Macc., xii, 19, 24, 35] he was very well pleas'd with him. If the reading of the Liturgy, without declaring unfeigned Assent and Consent, would have satisfied the Law, Mr. Wyar might have continu'd Vicar of

² In his most interesting Index, ix, to the Oxford Historical Society's Register of the University (1889), the Rev. Andrew Clark shows (vol. ii, part iv, p. 38) that Mr. Wier was the only matriculated person who owned the name "Dosithens" between 1571 and 1622. Of names from the Apocrypha, "Toby" occurs for thirty-four Oxford men in that period, Accepted Frewen, Sussex, 1604, Purify Midleham, Somerset, 1610, Renewed Jessop, Surrey, 1616, Calirn Humfre, Essex, 1619, and Deliverance Wilton (Magd. C.), 1605, certainly look like veritable Puritan names.

⁴ Edmund Calamy names him among the Ejected or Silenc'd Ministers (Wilts), under the name "Chiltern" (sic) Account, 8vo., ed. 1713, p. 764. He names also one James Wyar as ejected minister of Baddington, Oxon. (id. p. 541. See also Dr. W. A. Shaw's Church under the Commonwealth, ii, 593). Jonathan Wyer occurs in Essex, Shaw ii, 379, under Rochford Classis.

⁵ This name also occurs in Esther, xi, 1.—[Ed.]
Chitern.\(^1\) For some Years after his Ejectment, a certain Church being vacant by the Death of the Incumbent, he officiated for some time, with the Allowance and at the Request of the Patron, who was his very good Friend. But, as he was burying a Corpse, he was taken with some Disorder, which prevented his reading all that is appointed on such Occasions. This he never recovered; tho' he liv'd some time after, and was visited by his Nephew Mr. Samuel Sprint, who was ejected from South Tidworth in Hampshire. He found his Uncle unable to speak above two or three Words at a Time, so that those about him could only guess at his meaning. While Mr. Sprint was with him, he apprehended by his Gestures and Motions, that he was not so intirely satisfied as he should have been, in what he was about when his Disorder seiz'd him. He had with some Application in Earnestness studied the Revelation of St. John, and had wrought himself up (as many others had done) to a sort of Assurance, that Antichrist would fall in 1666: but liv'd to see himself mistaken."—Continuation, vol. ii (= tom. iv), p. 881.

In his MS. Notitia Episcopi Sarum, begun about 1669, Bishop Seth Ward enters under Archidiaconatus Sarum, Decanatus Wyly, Hundred Hor[mer]: "V. Chittern All Saints, Patronus Episcopus Sarum, æ. \(^1\) I have carelessly assigned D. Wyar to "Chilton" (instead of Chitterne, alias Chitern) in my List of Wilts Ministers, 1640-62, in Wilts Archaeological Society Magazine, vol xxxiv, p. 188.

\(^2\) I believe that the monogram "IB" is Bishop Ward's manner of noting his reference to a record of the Appropriatio Ecclesiae, folio 516, of a register at Salisbury. (Institutions, B.)

\(^3\) I suppose by stet, Bishop Ward meant to say that on further enquiry he found his predecessor's estimate more accurate than what he himself had put down on his coming to the See. He kept his note-book "posted up" from time to time.
Chitterne during the Commonwealth. Gervase Bland, according to Phillipps' Institutiones, became vicar of All Saints in 1661, on the death of a predecessor (apparently not explicitly named in the record). W. Napper [B.C.L., Trin. Coll., Oxon.] had been vicar, instituted in 1643; while for the benefice of St. Mary's no account of any institution of a vicar between those of G. Ditton, 1629, and G. Birstall, 1683, is there recorded. "Jn. Readman" is named, without date, by Bishop Ward as having served the cure.

Mr. Wyer was not one of the 82 "Ministers in the Countie of Wiltes' who signed the Concurrent Testimony" with those of the Province of London to the Covenant, etc., in June 1648. But Edward Mitchel, of Chittern, was one of the Commissioners appointed for the County by the "Ordinance for the Ejection of Scandalous, Ignorant and Insufficient Ministers and Schoolmasters", 29 Aug. 1654. So no loyal "Church and King" man would have been able to remain at the vicarage.

I can supply no information about Mistress Margaret or Siscella Wyer. But surely the entries cited by your correspondent from the Chitterne register of weddings, etc., imply that a twelvemonth elapsed between the decease of one spouse and the taking of her successor;—viz., from 1 Dec. 1655, to 24 March 1656-7. This seems to me indubitable, since the publication is stated to have been made in January and February under an act (previously) passed at Lady-Day 1656. Moreover, Jan. 18 old style was a Sunday in 1657, and not in 1655-6.

Chr. Wordsworth.

The Rev. Dositheus Wyer suffered with others who were thrust into Church livings during the Commonwealth, for he figures in Calamy's list of those who were ejected in 1662, but it is hardly fair to charge him with marrying in undue haste after his first wife's death. The fact seems to be that he waited for over a year; and this will be plain when it is remembered that the ecclesiastical year, commencing on 25 March, was commonly used in Parish Registers at that time. This must have been the case at Chitterne, because the Agreement of Marriage was published in January and February "according to ye tenor of a late act made 1656, March 25", that is to say in January and February after 25 March 1656. The proper date for the publication of the Agreement in January and February and the marriage in March would therefore be 1657, according to our present reckoning.

Browne of North Wilts (vol. vi, p. 142).—From a MS. pedigree of Robert Weare, als. Browne, which has come into my hands, I gather that Robert had one son, Richard, who had three sons, Thomas, Clement, and Robert; there is no mention of a John (Visit. Berks, 1623, Ashmole MS.).

In another MS. pedigree, John Browne is stated to be the son of William Weare, als. Browne, of Salisbury, innholder (Will, Brudenell 33). E. Llewellyn Gwillim.

Eyre of Wilts (vol. v, p. 54).—Samuel Eyre, son of Kingswill Eyre, married again after the death of his first wife. I am not able to give the family name of the second wife, but the fact is recorded in a Local Act of Parliament (46 Geo. III, cap. cxlvi) which authorised the sale of part of the settled estates. By indentures dated 3 and 4 May 1776, the Wiltshire property was re-settled to the use of Samuel Eyre for life, and of his daughters, Susannah Harriott Eyre and Charlotte Louisa Eyre, after the death of his then wife Margaret Eyre.

Notes on Books.

A Genealogical Account of the Mayo and Elton families of Wilts and Herefordshire, and some other adjoining counties, together with numerous biographical sketches. By Charles Herbert Mayo, M.A., Vicar of Long Burton with Holnest, Dorset; Rural Dean, and Non-Residentiary Canon of Sarum. Demy 4to. 1908.

A new edition of a volume first issued in 1882, the impression being limited to two hundred and fifty copies, and the original text extending to some one hundred and sixty-five quarto pages, reviewed at the time as a pattern family history. The additional material accumulated by the author in the succeeding quarter of a century has necessitated the publication of a second edition (also limited to two hundred and fifty copies), in which the scope of the former work has been extended and its bulk increased to six hundred closely printed pages—the new volume, in its present form, at once illustrating the manner in which scattered material, treasured up by distinct members of old families, thus brought together and properly arranged for publication, may become of permanent interest, when otherwise it might eventually have been either lost or destroyed—and we heartily congratulate its author on the satisfactory completion of a work which must necessarily have involved much laborious research, containing as it does a most carefully compiled and exhaustive genealogy of a family for generations connected with our own, as well as several adjoining counties, and now honourably represented, both in the United States and South Australia.

The name, variously spelt—Mayhowe, Mayhew, Mayow, Mayo, Maio—is found in the counties of Cornwall, Dorset, Gloucester, Hereford, Northampton, Middlesex, Kent, Norfolk, and Suffolk, but Wiltshire, as the author remarks in his introductory chapter, still remains reserved to the last as particularly interesting to those who are concerned in the contents of this volume. More than one family of the name are here found. Mayow of Dinton figures in the Heralds' Visitations of 1565 and 1623, and from this source probably sprang Thomas Mayhew, who emigrated to Boston from Salisbury between 1630-40, and whose descendants are numerous in New England. Berwick St. John had also, for some generations, a family of the same name. Poulshot was the home of another family which also has given its offspring to the New World; and from William Mayo, who emigrated before 1720, has arisen one of the most influential families of Virginia. It may be remarked that in the Poulshot register the name is written as May previous to 1635, as May and Mayo indiscriminately between 1635 and 1640, and as Mayo after the year last named. At Potterne was a family at first named Mayow, whose name eventually crystallized as May. Somerford Magna was the home of another Mayo stock, and from Melksham sprang a family of May, branches of which became landowners in Broughton Gifford and Charterhouse Hydon, Somerset. At Devizes was married, in 1671, John Mayo, from whom are deduced the numerous offspring whose generations are chronicled in no less than six distinct chapters of the present volume.

From this John Mayo, of Devizes, who settled in St. John's Parish, and on the 25 April 1671 married, at St. Mary's, Joan, the second daughter of William Hayes the elder, gent., by whom he had eight sons, descended in the male line no less than thirty-eight University men, four of whom held in succession the Vicarage of Avebury, from 1712 to 1851. A grandson, the Rev. John Mayo, was Rector of Beechingstoke, where he rebuilt the Parsonage House in 1743-4, and in 1762 was presented to Wilcot. A great grandson, the Rev. Charles Mayo, who is still remembered as the liberal founder of two Exhibitions for sons of Wilts Clergy, was successively Chaplain of Froxfield, Rector of Huish 1775, and of Beechingstoke 1779, both of which latter he held until his death in 1829.
From Charles, eighth son of the elder John Mayo, of Devizes, descended the Rev. Joseph Mayo, for eighteen years [1788-1806] Curate of Seend, who married Mary Jane, only daughter of the Rev. George Gibbes, D.D., Rector of Woodborough. Of their children, Joseph, baptized at Seend in 1793, was Curate of Poulshot, and Chaplain of the New Prison at Devizes [1823-39], in which latter year he left England, with his family, for the United States, where, dying in 1859, he has left many descendants.

To the medical profession the family of Mayo has also given several distinguished members, e.g., Thomas Mayo, M.D., F.R.S., F.R.C.P., President of the Royal College of Physicians, London; and in this brief notice of the contents of the volume we must not omit mention of Mr. John Horsley Mayo [1838-95], Assistant Military Secretary in the India Office, and grandson of the Rev. James Mayo [1789-1822], Vicar of Avebury. He was the author of a History of Medals and Decorations of the British Army and Navy—a sumptuous work, in two volumes, dedicated to Her late Majesty, Queen Victoria, in the year of her great Jubilee. He was a frequent visitor at Avebury, where he purchased a small house, and was a generous contributor towards the restoration of its ancient church, completed in 1883, the new clock then placed in the tower being a memorial of his sister, who predeceased him, and whose remains, with his own, now rest peacefully in the adjoining graveyard, beneath its shadow.

A chapter is also devoted to an account of certain families which have intermarried with John Mayo of Devizes [1671-92] and his descendants; and much interesting matter, both genealogical and historical, is scattered throughout the volume. It is printed at the Chiswick Press, in Messrs. Whittingham's best style, on hand-made paper—its numerous illustrations indicate the latest improvements in the processes of photo-engraving—and, what is essential in such a work, it also contains an excellent index.

Pedigree.

HIS is about three-quarters of a yard wide, and four yards and a half long, composed of several skins glued together. The Arms, amounting to over sixty coats, are well blazoned in colours; and where those of any family have not been ascertained, blanks are left. ASSOCIATION OATH ROLLS FOR WILTSHIRE.

The Association, the lists of the Wiltshire signatories to which I propose to print in this and the successive numbers of Wiltshire Notes and Queries, was the outcome of a burst of popular feeling in favour of William III, engendered by the discovery of a plot, said to have been formed by the more desperate of the adherents of James II, to assassinate William, on the 15th February 1695/6, as he was returning by way of Turnham Green from hunting in Richmond Forest.

The King was induced to postpone his hunting, the plot fell through, and when the ringleaders were arrested the details of the alleged conspiracy, with its French support, became public knowledge; these details will be found fully set out in a letter written from Kensington about 13 March 1695/6 by Lord Portland to Lord Lexington, then British Minister at Vienna, and published in the Lexington Papers, 1851.

Another letter from Paris to Lord Lexington, dated Paris, 26 March 1696, says: “Many persons here assert that there never was any real conspiracy against King William’s life. They say that the alleged plot was a contrivance of the Government, who, when they heard of the preparations at Calais, used this artifice to ascertain the sentiments of the Parliament with regard to King James and to revive the popular feeling against him.”

Whether this be true or not I am not concerned to say; whatever the object, at least (from the point of the searcher for records) it had most gratifying results: the House of Commons at once passed measures to suspend the Habeas Corpus Act and to provide for the continuance of Parliament in the event of William’s death; and, most important of all, the Commons drew up an Association by which it bound itself to defend William, to avenge him should he be slain, and in any event to carry out the provisions of the Bill of Rights.

This Association in the prevailing excitement was signed by thousands of all classes throughout the kingdom, and in my opinion forms, within its own limits, a Directory of the population of England, second only to the records of the Hearth Tax, and deserving of a place among printed records.

As there is no golden rule, known to me, for deciphering masses of original signatures, should some of these 17th century signatures have proved themselves too enigmatic for my ingenuity, the assurance of considerable time spent on them will, I hope, be allowed to me as a good defence.

A.D. 1328.—The King by Letters Patent grants the reversion of the Manor of Hegetredbury with the parcels of Colerne and Stoerte, with the appurtenances, co. Wilts, after the death of Margaret de Badelesmere, to Henry, Bishop of Lincoln, and his heirs. Tested by the King at Westminster, 22 February, 3 Edward III. By writ of privy seal.

Ibid. [and Patent Roll 3 Edward III, pt. 1, m. 21.]

The King grants to Henry de Burghersh, Bishop of Lincoln, to make up for the losses he sustained while his temporalities were in the hands of the King's father, Edward, for certain causes, and for the expense he was put to on the King's account, at Stanhope, after he had taken the government, the reversion of the Manor of Hegetredbury and all its lands and tenements, with the appurtenances in Colerne and Stoerte, co. Wilts, held by Margaret de Badelesmere for life, the said reversion belonging to the King and his heirs, together with all knight's fees, advowsons, fairs, markets, chaces, etc., and all liberties belonging for the accustomed service. Tested by the King at Wallingsford, 15 April, 3 Edward III. By writ of privy seal.

Patent by the same ratifying the above. Tested at New Castle on Tyne, 18 June, 8 Edward III. By writ of privy seal.

Patent Roll. 4 Edward III, pt. 1, m. 2.

A.D. 1330.—Exemplification at the request of Margaret, late the wife of Bartholomew de Badelesmere, and of Giles de Badelesmere, Bartholomew's heirs, of Letters Patent 5 Edward II, 15 July, granting the estate in Kent and elsewhere in exchange for the manors of Heghtredebury, Colerne and Steurt [ut supra]. Tested by the King at Lincoln, 25 August.

Close Roll. 7 Edward III, pt. 2, m. 13. [Calendar 1333-37, p. 145.]

A.D. 1333.—To the Treasurer and Barons of the Exchequer. Order to cause the exaction which they made on Margaret, late wife of Bartholomew de Badelsmere, for the issues of the manors of Sturt, Heghtredebury and Colerne, and of property in Orcheston and Knouk, co. Wilts, and in co. Bucks and Kent, for which answer has not been made to the King or his father, to be superseded, and to cause Margaret to be discharged and acquitted at the Exchequer, releasing her without delay from any distraint made for that reason; as the late King, on 14 December, in the 20th year of his reign, granted to Margaret the custody of the said manors and lands, to hold during pleasure so that she should answer to the said King for the issues thereof at the Exchequer: and in the parliament at Westminster, in the first year of the King's reign, it was agreed that all those who were of the quarrel of Thomas, late Earl of Lancaster, for prosecuting Hugh le Despenser the elder and Hugh le Despenser the younger, should have their lands again, and also ladies and widows should have their hereditary lands, joint acquisitions, and dowers, which had been taken into the King's hand by reason of the said quarrel, together with the issues thereof, for which answer had not been made to the late King, because the said quarrel was adjudged to be just, and the judgments given against those who had been of the quarrel were entirely annulled, and Margaret held the said manors and lands jointly with Bartholomew at his death, as is found by the inquisitions taken thereupon, and the said manors and lands were taken into the late King's hand by reason of the said quarrel, nevertheless the treasurer and barons intend to charge Margaret both with the issues of the said manors and lands from the time of the said agreement, and with other issues of the same for which answer was not made to the late king, and to cause her to be distrained therefore, as the king has learned from her plaint, whereupon she has besought the King to provide a remedy. Dated at Hereford, 22 October.

PECULIARS OF THE DEAN AND CHAPTER OF SARUM.

In continuing these Bonds, I feel more and more certain that not only most of the witnesses are local but that the seals are also local, particularly the armorial seals, e.g., Bere Regis for a long time has a lion rampant in a border of buckles. Lyme Regis a chief and a bend indented, on it three roundels. Salisbury, a dove or bird, holding a bough, and so on. I should like at the same time to express my gratitude to Mr. A. R. Malden, F.S.A., the Diocesan Registrar, who has most kindly deciphered many of the seals for me.

"To the right Worp" my good friend Mr. Doctor Baylie, Deane of Salisbury, deliver these.

"I thought fit to make known unto you that there is an agreement on a marriage to bee had (yf God so please) betweene John Turbervill, of Woolbridge, in Dorset, Esqr., and a daughter of myne, namelie, Joane Strode. And because my dwelling house at Parnham, being scytuate in the parish of Beamister, is within the peculiar of yo' Deanery of Salisbury, and because likewise I am an oulde man and soo disabled by infirmitie that I cannot gowe (noo, not in coach) soo far as to my parish church, my desire to you is that you will please to grant your lycence for the uniting of those two wch are fitting in years and all other respects as is known by the frinds of both sides; and that likewise you will farther extend yo' lycence to the marrying of them in my house at Parnham, for I desire to be present at it and to give them an oulde father's blessinge. This gentleman, Mr. Sprat (my kinsman), being the preaching minister of my parish, can knowingly enforme you of all necessary circumstances, and soo recommending my speciall love and service to my good Lord Bishopp of Salisbury, not forgetting all due respects to yo' selfe, I rest, yours to demand, Queen Anne at Whetham.

In the autumn of 1703, Queen Anne visited Whetham House, on her way from Bath, and remained there one or more nights. Her host on this occasion was John Kyrle Ernle, Esq., grandson of Sir John Ernle, of Whetham, who had been Chancellor of the Exchequer in the reigns of Charles II and James II. A fine old table, of carved oak, in the possession of the late Mrs. Starky, of Battle House, Bromham, is traditionally said to have been the one on which dinner was laid for her Majesty on this occasion.

The wife of Mr. Ernle, the owner of Whetham at the time of the Royal visit, was Constantia, sister of Edward Rolt, Esq., of Sacomb Park, Herts. The latter married the heiress of Baynton of Spye Park, and their son, Sir Edward Baynton Rolt, of Spye Park, M.P. for Chippenham, died in 1800, aged 89. The ownership of the table can thus be easily traced. It was taken by Mrs. Starky some years ago from an old manor house at Chittoe, formerly the property of the Baynton family.

On the Queen's departure from Whetham some horses belonging to the neighbouring farmers are said to have assisted in drawing the Royal cavalcade up the steep ascent towards Beacon Hill and Beckhampton, which was then the main road from Bath to Marlborough.

The present Whetham House is only a wing of the old mansion as it stood at the time of the Royal visit.

Edward Kite.
EARLY BEQUESTS TO WILTSHIRE HIGHWAYS.

By a deed dated at Chippenham, 12th June 14 Edward IV [1474], Matilda, relict of John Hethe, of Tytherton Kelloways, conveyed certain lands and tenements in Chippenham to feoffees, for the construction and maintenance of a Causeway in that neighbourhood—still well known as "Maud Heath's Causey". The original deed of conveyance is printed in the second volume of Wills N. & Q., pp. 233-4.

Two years later, Robert Hynde, goldsmith and burgess of Bristol, by will dated 17 May 1476, bequeathed the sum of vjs. viijd. "to the King's way between Chepnam and Calne towards London"—indicating the line of road used by the merchants and tradesmen of Bristol in their journeys to London during the 15th century.

Nearly a century earlier, Elias Spelly, burgess of Bristol, by will dated 13 January 1390 [14 Richard II], made a bequest to the fabric of a certain bridge between Calne and Chiriell [Cherhill].

And the will of William Bekeswell, another burgess of Bristol, dated 1392, contains a legacy "to the mending of the Common way in Chippenameslane and of that near Calne".

Other similar bequests will probably occur to some of our Wiltshire correspondents. Where was the bridge between Calne and Cherhill mentioned in 1390?

Queries.

Steeple Ashton Vicarage.—Dr. Thomas Tanner, Bishop of St. Asaph (who was a native of Market Lavington), in a letter addressed to Peter Le Neve, Norroy King of Arms, dated 25 October 1698, mentions a very pretty benefaction of a Norfolk man, "that died at the Devizes when I was last in Wiltshire", to Magdalen College, Cambridge, namely, the Queries.

impropriation of Steeple Ashton, worth £100 per annum, for the maintenance of a Fellow abroad travelling (a Norfolk man born). Also the perpetual advowson of the Vicarage of Steeple Ashton, worth £150 per annum. (See Nichols' Illustrations of the Literary History of the 18th Century, vol. iii, 412.)

The individual here alluded to was Mr. Drue Drury, of Riddlesworth Hall, co. Norfolk, who in 1698 gave by will the impropriate Parsonage of Steeple Ashton to Magdalen College for the maintenance of "The Norfolk Travelling Fellowship", the Master of which College now nominates the vicar.

How did this Mr. Drury, as a Norfolk man, become possessed of the patronage of Steeple Ashton; and, if he died at Devizes, was he a resident there at the time, or is he buried there? I do not remember any memorial of him in either of the Devizes churches.

Scriba.

A Wiltshire Labyrinth, or Miz-Maze.—Gough, in his edition of Camden's Britannia, thus notices an ancient turf-maze cut on the greensward of the village common at West Ashton:

"In this parish, on a common, is cut in the ground a circular maze 64 feet diameter, the central circle 8 feet; formed on the principle of those in Dorset and Essex. Tradition makes it a work of the shepherds for their amusement in running it, which the boys still do."

Two turf-mazes of this description—one at Pimpern, in Dorsetshire, which covered nearly an acre of ground, and was ploughed up in 1730; the other, a very ancient example, 110 feet in diameter, from the common adjoining Saffron Walden, in Essex—probably two of those alluded to by Gough—are figured in the Journal of the Archæological Institute.

Dr. Stukeley, in his day, claimed for these mazes a Roman origin—but on comparing the English specimens cut in the turf with similar designs found in French mediæval churches, it seems more probable that both are to be referred to the ecclesiastics of the Middle Ages—and after the Reformation the English turf mazes were converted into a medium of recreation, as referred to in several passages of Shakespeare.

Aubrey, in his History of Surrey, says that there were many mazes in England before the Civil Wars, and that the young people used on festivals to dance upon them—or, as the term was, to tread them—as Gough says the West Ashton boys did in his time with the one in that village.

The great skill required to trace out these complicated devices seems to negative the idea of a pastoral origin, as claimed by Gough for the West Ashton example, but that they were afterwards re-cut by them is not improbable.

Is anything more to be found respecting the maze here alluded to, or are any other examples known to have existed in Wiltshire?

Colonel Richard Townesend.—Information desired concerning his pedigree. Is believed to have married a Hyde, of Lord Clarendon's family, between 1637-47. Born 1619-20; served at siege of Lyme Regis 1644; Commissioner at surrender of Pendennis Castle, with Lyme soldiers, 1646; assisted in bringing Cork over to Cromwell 1649. Died at Castle Townshend, co. Cork, 1692. He bore the arms of Townshend of Norfolk. Tradition states that the favourable terms of the grants of his Irish lands, and his pardon at the Restoration, were due to his connexion with Lord Clarendon and the first Viscount Townshend, after whom one of his sons was named. Tradition also says he descended from a Roger Townsend, but no documents earlier than his land grants, in 1666, have been preserved in Ireland.

Kent of Berks and Wilts.—Can any of your readers supply any genealogical notes about the members of these families in the time of Queen Anne, and a little earlier:

Wilton Cedars (vol. v, pp. 435-6, 523).—The date of these beautiful trees, which I have given as 1640, is apparently correct. Mr. J. Landfear Lucas, writing from Hindhead, in August last, to the Pall Mall Gazette and Morning Post, communicates the following particulars respecting their history, with which he had recently been favoured by the Earl of Pembroke:—

"The third Earl of Devonshire [William Cavendish], the fourth Earl of Pembroke [Philip Herbert], who was Lord Chamberlain of the Household to Charles I, and Chancellor of the University of Oxford, together with the Bishop of London of that day [William Juxon, afterwards Archbishop of Canterbury], sent out two collectors to the Holy Land, who returned from Lebanon in 1640, with, among other things, the cedars now flourishing in Wilton Park."

1 He was third cousin of the grandchildren of Griffith Kent, of Southwark, Norway Merchant, born at Sunning, Berks, who married a granddaughter of Lord Forbes, and widow of John Shorter, of Staines. Some of Clement's branch were buried in the Chancel at Goring.—Genealogist, ii, 185. [Ed.]
One of the most beautiful examples of the tree in full growth is at Titchmarsh Rectory, Northamptonshire, said to have been planted at a still earlier date, in 1627—the tree itself being then some twenty years old. It is now over seventy-six feet in height, and its spread at least one hundred yards in circumference.

John Evelyn, who was born in 1620, can therefore hardly have been the first person to introduce the cedar of Lebanon into England, as some persons have supposed.

Greenhill (vol. v, pp. 189, 329).—There are mistakes at these pages. Henry Greenhill was the son of John Greenhill. If he had a brother David, a fact which the Register of Stockton would prove, his father too was John. M.I. in Stockton Church.

“Henry Greenhill, Esq., son of John Greenhill, of Stipleaston, in the County of Wilts, Esq., & Penelope his wife, daughter of Richard Champneys, of Orchardley, in the County of Somerset, Esq., born in this Parish the 21st of June 1646, went to sea young, made many Voyages to the West Indies, and visited most other Parts of the known World. In the Year 1676 he did the Dutch signal Service by Burning and Destroying several French Ships at Petit Guavas, for which he was Generously rewarded by the Lords of THEIR Admiralty. In 1680 The Royal African Co. sent him to Cabo Corso Castle, their Agent General and Chief Governor of the Gold Coast of Africa. In 1685 He was elected Elder Brother of the Trinity House of Deptford, Stroud, To the Poor of which Corporation He was a Good Benefactor. In 1689 made Commissioner of the Transport Office, and in 1691 appointed one of the Principal Officers and Commissioners of the Navy: he laid the foundation and Finished the Buildings of Her Majesty's Dockyard near Plymouth, where He died the 24 of May 1708, and lies interred near this Place.”

The following authentic Relation is to deter all Persons from calling down the Vengeance of God, or taking his holy Name in vain.

Thursday, Jan. 25th, 1753.

RUTH PEIRCE, of Pottern, agreed with three other Women, to buy a Sack of Wheat, one of the three collecting the Money, and discovering some wanting, demanded it of Ruth Peirce, who said, she had paid her share, and rashly wished the might drop down dead if she had not; which she instantly did, on repeating her Wish, with some Money concealed in her Hand, to the Amaze and Terror of the crowded Market.

This is the Inscription of a monumental Stone, erected in the Market-Place of Devizes, in Wilts. As Witness my Hand this 27th of December, 1760.

RALPH GOOD, Mayor.
HE inscription on the Market Cross at Devizes, recording the sudden death of one Ruth Pierce, of Potterne, in that market, on Thursday, 25th January 1753, is well known. Under the title of "The Lie Punished", the story forms the subject of one of the publications of the Religious Tract Society.

From the very rare leaflet which is here reproduced in facsimile, it will be seen that, as early as 1760, the narrative of the event, "Copied from a monumental stone in the market place", and verified by the signature of Ralph Good, mayor of the borough, was printed and circulated as a warning "to deter all persons from calling down the vengeance of God, or taking His Holy Name in vain."\(^1\)

The "monumental stone" on which the event was at first recorded, by order of the borough authorities, was an inscribed tablet placed in the Butcher's Shambles, an erection consisting of several rows of stalls standing nearly in the centre of the market-place, and shown on Dore's plan of the town published in 1759. These old shambles were taken down about 1790,

\(^1\) In the fine old fount of type we at once recognize the work of Mr. Thomas Burrough, the Devizes printer of this date. The border of skulls, crossed bones, and hour glasses is not inappropriate.

Ralph Good, the Devizes mayor of 1760, died during his year of office. The name is of frequent occurrence in the register of Broadchalk, in South Wilts, from 1579 downwards.
when Mr. William Halcomb, the then landlord of the "Bear", caused the tablet to be affixed to his own sign—a structure of stone with solid basement, supporting a double column, with the figure of the chained bear (now over the entrance doorway) on the top. This stood in the open market-place, at some distance from the front of the Inn, and was removed in 1801.

On the erection of the present Market Cross, by Lord
Sidmouth, in 1814, his architect, Mr. Benjamin Wyatt, having rejected a proposition to insert into the new building the original tablet descriptive of Ruth Pierce's death, it was finally discarded, and is now in the Devizes Museum; a new and somewhat altered version, of which we give a photograph by Dr. Leech, of the County Asylum, being eventually inscribed on the east panel of the new Cross, where it still remains.

To the above may be added a copy of the inquisition on the body of Ruth Pierce, taken 26th January 1753—the day following that of her death—the original of which is now in the Devizes Museum.

"Wiltshire | An Inquisition indented, Taken at the Burrough of to Witt \ Devizes, in the County of Wilts aforesaid, on the Twenty-sixth day of January, in the Twenty-sixth of the Reign of our Sovereign Lord George the Second, by the Grace of God of Great Britain, France, and Ireland, King, Defender of the Faith, etc., before me, John Clare, Gent., one of the Coroners of our said Lord the King for the County aforesaid, Upon View of the Body of Ruth Peirce (late of Pottorn in the said County, Widdow), then and there lying Dead, and upon the Oath of

| William Slade | John Williams | Robert Hayward |
| Gabriel Bartlett | Ambrose Portch | Joseph Chandler |
| Robert Pipp | Joseph Akers | William Lewis |

Good and Lawfull men of the County aforesaid, who being sworn and charged to inquire how, in what manner, when, and where the aforesaid Ruth Peirce died and came by her death, upon their Oaths aforesaid do say and present, that on the Twenty-fifth day of January, in the Twenty Sixth year aforesaid, between the hours of Ten and Eleven of the Clock in the forenoon of the said Day, a Great Quarrell arose between four Women, in the Market Place at the Burrough of Devizes aforesaid, Whose Names was Elizabeth Slade, Sarah Slade, Mary Parker, and the aforesaid Ruth Peirce, who joined together and bought one sack of wheat of one farmer Nathaniel Alexander, at the Price of Seventeen Shillings, which makes four Shillings and Three Pence each; when the farmer summ'd up the Dividends it wanted three pence of the price agreed, for which by Evidence it appeared to be this Ruth Peirce's right to pay; she, the said Ruth, was accused with it, she declared she had paid it, and called upon the Almighty for Wittness, and wished she might drop down dead that Minnet if she had not paid it. The Raish wish was repeated a second Time, and immediately, from the Visitation of the Great and Almighty God, was struck dead upon the Same, and as no marks of Violence appeared upon View of the Body, the aforesaid Jurors do present that the aforesaid Ruth Peirce died as aforesaid and not otherwise.

"In Witness whereof, as well I, the aforesaid Coroner, as the Jurors aforesaid, have interchangeably set our Hands to this Inquisition, the Day, Year, and Place first above written."

Perhaps poor Ruth Pierce has been unjustly pilloried through all these generations, for we see in the Inquest no mention of "money concealed in her hand"; in the first inscription "some money concealed in her hand"; in the second inscription are the words "the money concealed in her hand", and if there ever should be a third inscription it may contain "the exact sum of money concealed in her hand", as it has been always told to the writer—thus is history, so called, often written. This is not the place to discuss the propriety of the inscription, or its public position; the writer is amongst those who wish to see the present inscription take its place with the original in the Devizes Museum.

TWO WILTSHIRE INDULGENCES.

Mr. James Coleman, Hon. Sec. of the Cork Archæological Society, in a letter informs us that Robert Macdonagh, a Cistercian monk of great learning, consecrated Bishop of Cork in 1277, sat for twenty-four years, dying on the 7th March 1301-2; in 1292 he was fined £130 two several times for presuming to hold Pleas in the Ecclesiastical Courts for matters belonging to the King's Crown, part of which was levied by Exchequer Process. In the year 1299 Edward I recovered against this Prelate advowsons of several churches, the Bishop's defence being a grant from the King, whilst he was Prince, to Reginald, his predecessor in the See, but judgment was given against him, because the King had no right to grant them, his father being still alive. It seems likely that Robert came over to plead his cause, and, being successful, visited Maiden Bradley and granted these indulgences out of gratitude.

Was Maiden Bradley ever a Cistercian House? If so, being in this country, the Bishop may have taken the opportunity of visiting various houses of this Order; it is known that Hubert, Bishop of Salisbury, turned this Lepers' Hospital into a house of Augustinian Canons in 1190. At the dissolution it did not bear the best of characters, but it must be remembered, perhaps, that the reports of the Visitors must be suspected—they being interested parties and themselves not often of the best reputation. It would be interesting to know what other connexion the Bishop had with our county, and who Richard de Piperharewe was—certainly a person of some repute and sanctity. There has lately come to view in Maiden Bradley Churchyard a large stone, said to have been formerly at the east end of the north transept, apparently the top slab of a coffin, on which is carved what appears to be a large chalice and wafer;1 experts seem to say the probable date is 1220; perhaps this may belong to Richard’s resting-place.

St. Finbar, or Barr (Sept. 25th), “the white-haired”, was the first Bishop of Cork in the seventh century, and is to this day patron of the diocese and cathedral; he founded large schools at Coreagh-Mor, a marshy wilderness, afterwards known as Cork. Only one church in England is known to be dedicated to him, that of Fowey in Cornwall, the name of the Saint being spelt as in the text.

NOTES ON THE CHURCHWARDENS' ACCOUNTS OF THE PARISH OF NORTH NEWTON, WILTS.

North Newton, or Newington, is a small parish (with the tything of Hilcot annexed) in the Hundred of Swanborough, Diocese of Salisbury, Archdeaconry of Wilts, and Rural Deanery of Avebury (Second portion).

The Churchwardens' Accounts, from which these notes have been gleaned, were for many years in private possession; but, falling into the hands of the present writer, they are again restored to the parish to which they belong.

They commence in the year 1576, and are interesting as showing how—by the help of a church ale, and a church flock—the parishioners of North Newton managed to defray their church expenses in the time of Queen Elizabeth.

The Inventory of the Churche goodes of Northenewnton taken before the whole parishioners the seconde of October 1576:—

Inp'mis one Surpeles.
It'm iij olde Table Cloathes.
It'm one Rochett for the Clarke,¹
It'm a Carpett or covering of blewe for the Table.²
It'm on Cloathe for the fonte.
It'm a Bottle to fetche and keepe wyne.
Item one Cloth of silke for the pulpitt.
It. a Com'union cup with a cover.³

² The Advertisements of A.D. 1564 require that the Communion Table shall be covered with a carpet, silk, or other decent covering.

A second Inventory, apparently a little later, shows the discontinuance both of the Clerk's rochet and the cloth for the font:—

Inp'mis one Surples.
It'm ij old Table clothes.
It'm a carpet or coveringe of blewe.
It'm a bottell to fetche wine.
It'm a Silver cuppe and a plate of silver.
It'm a pott to bringe wine to the Com'union Table.¹
It'm a neve Carpet for the Com'union Table.
   " a Clothe and Quesshion for the pulpit.
   " one table Clothe of holland.
It'm j greate Caldron² (sould)
It'm j greate Broache (sould)
It'm a little Bell price vjs. iiiijd. at viijd. a lb.³

The Inventorye of the Churche Bookes of Northenewnton, Anno 1576, the Seconde of November:—

1. Inp'mis a Byble in a large volume.
2. 3. It'm the ij Tomes of Homelyes in two volumes.
4. It'm the Psalter.
5. The Homelye againste disobedience and wilfull rebellion.
6. The Paraphrase of Erasmus vppon the Epistles [Gospels].⁴
7. A Com'union booke in a large volume.
8. A register for marriage, baptizme, and burials.
9. A forme of Prayer to be vsed againste the invasion of the Turke.

¹ This seems to refer to a flagon (probably of pewter) which had superseded the bottle described in the previous note.

² The "great caldron" and "broach" are evidently the boiler and spit which had belonged to the Church House. "In every parish," says Aubrey, "is, or was, a church house, to which belonged spits, crocks, etc., utensils for dressing provision. Here the housekeepers met, and were merry, and gave their charity."

³ This bell, weighing ninety-three pounds, was perhaps the ancient Sanote bell belonging to the Church, an example of which is still remaining in its original cot on the east gable of the nave at Keevil.

⁴ The largest volume of the whole Bible, and the Paraphrase of Erasmus, both in English, were ordered by the Injunctions of Edward VI in 1547, and again by those of Queen Elizabeth in 1559, and were to be read by the parishioners "out of the time of common service". They were usually chained to a sort of desk or lectern, as at Westbury, where is still preserved a copy of the latter volume.
10. A form of com' on prayer to be used on Wednesdayes during the tyme of mortalitye and other afflictions.
11. A Booke of Advertisements.¹
12. Articles for the avoidinge of diversities of opinions and for conseinte touchinge religion, 1562.²
14. Iniunctions gyven by the reuerende father in God, John, Bysshoppe of Sar'.³
15. It'm Iniunctions geaven by the Queene's Ma'tie.¹
16. An Exposic'on vppon the fvyth Chapters.
17. Cannons set out by the Kinge's Ma'tie.

Then follows the Churchwardens' annual account of receipts and expenditure, commencing in 1576, when the out-going Churchwardens, "Edwarde Lavington and Edwarde Elizander [Alexander] the younger", duly rendered their account in the presence of the Parishe on the 2 November, and "yealded upp" to their successors—William and Richard Lavington—the sum of £4 11s. 1od. in the "Churche Boxe".

In the following year (1577) is:

"The accompte of William Lavingeton and Richard Lavington yeaven vp in the p'sence of the Parisshioners of Newton the seconde daye of November, as followeth:

¹ "Advertisements partly for the due Order in the Publick Administration of the Holy Sacraments, and partly for the Apparel of all Persons Ecclesiastical." Anno 1564 (7 Elizabeth).
² "Articles whereupon it was agreed by the Archbishops and Bishops of both provinces; and the whole Cleargie, in the Convocation holden at London in the yeare of our Lord God 1562, according to the Computation of the Churche of England, for the avoyding of the diversities of opinions, and for the stablisning of consent touching true Religion. Put foorth by the Queene's Authoritie." Editions of it were printed in 1563, 1593, 1603, and 1612.
³ Injunctions of John Jewel, Bishop of Salisbury 1560-71.
⁴ "Injunctions given by the Queen's Majesty concerning both the Clergy and Laity of this Realm." Anno 1559 (1 Elizabeth).

Two years later we have the account of John Ryngge and Matthew Chandler, taken 2 Nov. 1579. It consists chiefly of small sums of money lent to various parishioners for the term of a year, out of the church stock. Matthew Chandler (apparently a maltster) is to supply two bushels of malt at the next Whitsuntide towards the Church Ale :-

Inprimis of the Churche money in the hands of James Rawkyns to be paed at the next accompte ... xls.
It. in the hands of William Ringe to be paed as aforesaide ... ... ... ... ... xls.

\(^1\) Query was this Visitation made by Archbishop Grindal in person, and where was it held? The Parish Register of Alcannings refers to two other Archbishop's Visitations held at Devizes in 1610 and 1613.

In the account of John Elizaunder and William Rynge, in 1583, the names of the sureties for persons holding moneys belonging to the Church stock are also given. Thomas Higgins, who borrows 10s. without surety, is to pay it at the next account day, otherwise the Churchwardens to enter his Cowleaze for the space of one year next following. Eventually, in the year 1600, Higgins having become defaulter to the amount of 13s., pays 3s. 4d. in hand, and the parishioners then present at the Church reckoning agree to release him of the remainder of his debt.

The Church stock, besides money thus let out in small sums by the year, seems to have consisted of a number of sheep, also let out to certain parishioners to keep from year to year. In 1584 we have this item:—

Delivt. vnto Will'm Ringe iiiij yewes & a chilver tege to keepe on' yeare savinge halfe the lames & halfe the woolle.

The accounts for several subsequent years contain similar entries. In 1591 William Ringe receives, besides the five ewes, "two hogges, and a wether sheepe", the former to be kept for the wool, and the latter for the sum of 6s. 4d. In 1592 he again has five ewes and "one hogge to keepe for all the woole". Two years later is a payment to Edward Rawkins of 4s. for "a wether hogge".

After the Church reckoning in 1589, and the delivery of the five ewes to William Lavington, the sum of £2 11s. 9d. is left in the Church box, and three ewes to sell. In 1593 there is the sum of £5 "to lett"—out of which sum William Ringe and Morrice Oram have 44s. each.

In 1599 are the two following items:—

Rec'd of Edward Johnson for a bag of wheate ... ... ijs.
The farm' oweth for his fathers buriall ... ... vjs. viijd.

The item "gathered vjd. a yard landes" in 1600 amounted to the sum of £1 2s. 6d. In 1609 the sum of 11s. 4d. is received of the farm for a bell—probably the one noted in the Inventory of 1576, but increased in value. The fee of 6s. 8d. again occurs for “burying of Mrs. Bacon in the Church”.

In 1618 there is the following agreement between the Churchwardens and a Marlborough plumber for the repair of the leads of the Church:

Be it knowne vnto all men that I, Richard ffra blinken, of Marlborrow, in the countie of Wiltes, plomer and glesseire, doe by this p'sent writinge acknowledge my selfe to keepe in reparation the ledes of the Churche and Towre of Northnewnton at the cost and charges of the said Richard ffra blinken duringe the corse of his naturall life for two shillinges the yeare, duly payed vnto the said Richard ffra blinken by the Churchwardens. And farther, the said Richard shall plome and repaire the ledes of the Church and Towre as often as need shall require, the Churchwardens gивeing him warneinge thereof, vnto the which bill the said Richard hath heere put his hand the seventh day of October in the yeere of our Lord God 1618.

Witnesses,
Richard Lavington, John Lavington.

In these items the name of Lavington is of frequent occurrence. There were two branches of the family—one settled at Wilsford, the other at Hicloot, in North Newtton. Both bore the following arms:—Argent, a saltire gules, on a chief of the second three boar's heads erased or. Their Pedigrees are entered in the Heralds' Visitation of Wilts, A.D. 1623.

Sanctuary Close.—James Ley, Earl of Marlborough (1633), and his son Henry (1638), both died seised, inter alia, of a close of pasture called "Sanctuarie Close" in Dilton and Westbury, purchased of Matthew Arundell, knight. Samuel Michell, of Nottin in Lacock, clothier, by will (p. 269) bequeathed to his son-in-law Robert Tarrant two closes also described as "The Sanctuaries". What is the meaning of the word Sanctuary thus applied to a field—was it a shelter for offenders who had transgressed the arbitrary laws of the Forest?

Sir Thomas Lawrence, P.R.A.—The house, No. 3, Little Brittox, Devizes—now occupied by Mr. Batt, fishmonger, etc.—was formerly an Inn, known as "The Bull's Head". The sign board, which bore a representation of the head of this animal, is traditionally said to have been an early production in oil from the brush of Sir Thomas Lawrence, whilst his father was landlord of the "Bear" Inn, not far distant. Can any correspondent of W. N. & Q. throw further light on the subject; or is it known what became of the sign board when the house ceased to be an Inn?

Lenten Veils.—I have recently read in the Church Times some interesting articles on Lenten Veils; the writer saying that they existed well on into Elizabethan times, and are still used in some parts of Italy. Are they mentioned in any Wiltshire Church Inventories or Churchwardens' Accounts?

Mountain Bower.—A small hamlet in North Wilts, partly in the parish of North Wraxall, partly in that of West Kingston. Why is it so called? No raised ground, much less hill or mountain, can be found in the neighbourhood. It is probable that "mountain" is a corruption of "Monkton". The earliest mention of the hamlet occurs in a terrier of the parish of North Wraxall, drawn up in 1608, and preserved in the Episcopal register at Salisbury. It is written either "momitons", "monutons", or "mountons".

Examining recently a MS. copy of the list of Wiltshire freeholders, drawn up in 1637, I found three times the word "mounten" written for "Monkton". "Francus King of Mounten Farley" must be "Francus king of Monkton Farley". "John Sloper of Mounten" must be "John Sloper of Winterbourn Monkton". "Thomas Long of Mounten" is the well known "Thomas Long of Monkton", ancestor of the Longs of Rood Ashton.
But how can we connect this hamlet with a monastery? Here we have the great authority of John Aubrey, not merely born and bred in the neighbourhood, but even the owner of a mill at Ford, in the parish of North Wraxall. He begins his account of North Wraxall with the statement: "This was formerly a commandery", i.e., a possession of the priory of St. John at Jerusalem. West Kington, in which part of Mountain Bower lies, paid a pension of five pounds a year to the Priory of Fulgeis (an alien priory in France), a pension still claimed by Edward VII. Adjoining Mountain Bower is Marshfield, formerly belonging to the Abbey of Keynsham.

A Devizes Coin.—There was lately sold in London "a Devizes penny, a unique coin from the Dartford find, for £16". Is any other Devizes coin known, or is there any record of a Devizes Mint?

A.

"Wiltshiremen will be glad to learn that the unique coin, bearing on the obverse the name of Stephen, and on the reverse that of Devizes, was purchased at the recent Rashleigh sale of coins by Messrs. Earle and Shirley Fox. The piece has thus passed into the possession of two keen lovers of the county, whose early youth was intimately connected with the town of Devizes. Thirty years ago they correctly attributed the coin to that place from its description in Hawkins' Silver Coins of England, although this attribution was not suspected by the then owner, Mr. Jonathan Rashleigh. The present possessors have thus waited over a quarter of a century to secure the object of their desire. It is now their ambition correctly to solve the historical problems responsible for the coin's production. Reference was made to it last winter in a short lecture given by Mr. Shirley Fox in Devizes, under the auspices of the Devizes Field Club, and he then ventured to express a hope that the coin might some day come into the possession of his brother and himself. This event having now fortunately taken place, we shall await with interest the researches of the present owners with regard to the circumstances under which the coin was struck. Although bearing the name of Stephen, it is of quite different workmanship from the ordinary pennies of that king, and the die was certainly not produced by the die sinkers employed at the royal mints. Later on we hope to have more to say upon this most interesting subject, and meanwhile must express our satisfaction that the piece has passed into such appreciative hands. With regard to another coin, of baronial type, also attributed in the Rashleigh catalogue to Devizes, considerable doubt seems to exist as to whether this attribution is really correct. The inscription upon it is very ill struck and the reading extremely doubtful."

An Ancient Wiltshire Custom.—In some printed notes on the extensive property of Lady Meux, in the neighbourhood of Wootton Bassett and elsewhere in North Wilts, which was disposed of by auction several years ago, I find the following:—

"There is still practised an ancient and mysterious ceremony connected with the lands of this estate, by virtue of which some of them are freed from the payment of tithe. The story, so far as I could follow it, is that a long-departed abbot, whose monastery owned the land, remitted the tithe thereon in consideration only of the annual performance of certain rights. Should the said rights be neglected, then the land concerned must once more bear its burden of tithe. Like Herodotus when he touches on the mysteries of the religion of old Egypt, those who have to do with this ceremony declare that 'it is not lawful to speak' thereof, so I did not press my inquiries. It is, however, called 'Wardale', and appears to involve the taking of solemn oaths by the owner or agent of the estate and by the tenants for the time being of the land affected, together with a religious celebration at which these persons only are present, followed by a dinner and the cutting of a notch upon a hazel wand. This wand, which resembles a lath, we saw. It had 170 notches, cut upon it during the last 170 years, and is, I presume, the successor of some older wand. However this may be, it is full of notches, and a new one has now come into requisition. Of course, the interest of this quaint performance lies in the fact that in the present year of grace rights of property can still be affected by the fulfilment or otherwise of so obsolete a secret custom. Those concerned, however, seem to believe—I know not with what justice—that were it neglected even for a single year the burden of tithe would once more fall upon the land. The tale goes, moreover, that in past generations the ecclesiastics who would have benefited by the receipt of that tithe resorted to many artifices to prevent the holding of the annual court, but always without success. So much for the custom of 'Wardale'."

It would be interesting to know something more of this custom, and to what particular part of the property it refers. The estates sold included altogether some twenty-five thousand acres.

Simon Aston (vol. ii, p. 249).—In an article on Sir William Wheler in the current number of the Genealogist, mention is made of John Wheler, citizen and grocer, of All Hallows, Staining, where he is probably buried; he lived chiefly in Holland, dying in 1617. By his first wife, Anne, sister of the first Lord Hervey, he had, with other children, a daughter, Elizabeth, married to Simon Aston, citizen and grocer, of St. Peter’s, Westcheap. The Whelers held “manors of Lye and Ludborne, and lands in Westbury and elsewhere, co. Wilts”. In the original note the crest on the Devizes M.I. was omitted, viz. : a bull’s head couped, charged with a crescent.

Steeple Ashton Vicarage (pp. 236-7).—The Rev. Drue Drury, third son of Drue Drury, second baronet (extinct 1712), of Riddlesworth Hall, Norfolk, entered Magdalene College, Cambridge, in 1654. He came into possession of the inappropriate Parsonage and the advowson of the Vicarage of Steeple Ashton at some time between the years 1688 and 1697. The previous owners were the family of Martyn, formerly of Steeple Ashton, afterwards of Salisbury and Chippenham. When this family parted with the advowson, they retained the right to make the next presentation. In 1738 Samuel Martyn, of Chippenham, gent., exercised the right, hac vice, by nominating Avery Thompson as Vicar, and, as Avery Thompson held the living for the next nine years, it was not until 1747 that the Master of Magdalene College, Cambridge, could make his first presentation, though the advowson had been in the possession of the College for 50 years. The fact of the retention of the next presentation leads to the supposition that the Martyns sold the advowson, as well as the impropriation, to Drue Drury, who bequeathed them both to his old College. Not unmindful of his own county, he left the inappropriate parsonage to found a Travelling Fellowship for a "gentleman’s son of Norfolk". His will is dated 1697.

E. P. Knubley.

[He was grandson of another Drue, the first baronet, who was also the son of another Drue, gentleman usher to Elizabeth and joint warder of Queen Mary at Fotheringay, who died, aged 99, in 1617. Notes on Books.

From the pages of this admirable quarterly we will garner Wiltshire matter worthy of storage in our Magazine, fulfilling one of the intentions of its foundation.

The frontispiece of vol. xxiii is a fine facsimile of a charter of the thirteenth century, with perfect pendant seals, in possession of the Duke of Norfolk, by which Theobald de Verdon, Constable of Ireland (the third, but the eldest son that left issue, of John de Verdon, by Margery, daughter of Gilbert de Lacy), conveys to his son Theobald, etc., for their homage the manors of Stoke and Wilsford, co. Wilts, to be held of the grantor, etc., by the service of one-fourth of a knight's fee.

Edward III, in 1330, granted the manor of Kyneley, co. Wilts, late the property of Edmund, Earl of Kent, attainted, to Geoffrey, the third son of Roger Mortimer, first Earl of March, by Jane de Joinville.

The diary of Christopher Sanderson relates that on "Nov. 24, 1688, Saturday the King came from Salisbury & came to Whitehall Munday ye 26th and ye prince of orange march'd into Salisbury Sunday Novembr. 25th".

Mr. Wagner gives the connexion of the Pollens with the Huguenot family of Laprimaudaye, and the marriage of John Awdry, of Notton, with Susanna Mary, who had a double descent from Olivier and Massé, 1770; she died in 1771, leaving no issue.

Dugdale's Visitation of Yorks, with additions, supplies the marriage of William Estcourt, of Cowitch, co. Wilts, with Mary, daughter of Sir Charles Ingleby, of Austwick, bapt. at Clapham in 1683; and that of Charles Tucker [Tooker], of . . . . . . , co. Wilts, now residing in Rotherham (mar. there 1656), with Anne, daughter of Richard Mountney, of Rotherham, where she was bur. 1671.

There is a memoir of the late Dr. Marshall, York Herald, who printed the Visitation of Wilts, 1623; an appreciative, though perhaps flattering, encomium on W. N. & Q.; the Rev. E. Nevill prints some notes on Nevill of Essex, and commences the valuable Marriage Licences of Salisbury; the Editor of W. N. & Q. prints a copy, with woodcut, of an original Grant of Arms in old French, 1528, to Morgan, of Morgan Hayes, co. Devon, a copy of which has been now placed on record in H.M. College of Arms, the College having only in its books a docket of the arms; he also prints a roll of arms, 1713, consisting of one hundred and twenty-one shields, and has commenced another roll of nearly one thousand shields, 1673.

O make our papers more complete it has been thought fit to add the following notes (considerably altered) contributed by the writer some time ago to Miscell. Gen. et Her., Fourth Series, ii vol.

In 1861 the Archaeological Institute met at Peterborough, when the Rev. the Hon. D. Finch exhibited at Oakham Rectory, co. Rutland, a portrait of Adrian Stokes and the Duchess of Suffolk, which in 1868 was exhibited at South Kensington, and was said to have been painted by Lucas de Heere.¹

Mr. G. E. Cokayne (Clarencieux), sole executor to the late Colonel Chester (that famous and indefatigable genealogist, always most courtesy ready to give information to those who sought it), has given the present writer permission to print the following letter. It is addressed to me, and is in his usual neat script:—

124, Southwark Park Road,
London, S.E.
1 March 1880.

Dear Sir,

The Duchess of Suffolk died too early for my “Abbey Registers”, and hence does not appear in my volume.

The inscription on her elaborate monument is in both Latin and English. The former does not mention her second husband, but the latter is as follows:

“Here lieth the Ladie Frances, Dvches of Southfolke, daughter to CHARLES BRANDON, Dvke of Southfolke, and MARIE ye Frenche Qvene: first wife to HENRIE Dvke of Southfolke and after to ADRIAN Stock, Esqvier.”

There are several shields of arms on the monument, those on the sides containing only the coats of her own family. That on the west end is as follows:—Quarterly: 1 and 4, Ermine, three bars humette azure charged with ears of corn or, viz., four on the first and second, and three on the third; 2 and 3, Or, a lion rampant gules double-queued nowed; impaling BRANDON with quarterings.

The above coats are those of Stock or Stokes. I cannot answer for the blazon, which I find given only in Neale and Brayley’s History of the Abbey, but the tinctures seem to agree with the engraving of the monument printed by Dart. Certainly he makes the field in 2 and 3, Or, and not Sable.

Over this shield are the figures “1563”, the date when Adrian Stokes erected the monument. She died in November 1559. Stokes is spoken of by Fox and other writers as a “Country gentleman”, who married her when she was in distress and disgrace.

I do not find a monument for Adrian Stokes in St. George’s Chapel, Windsor, though he may have been buried there.

I have the will of the Duchess, dated 9 November 1559, in which she describes herself as “Lady Frances, Duchess of Suffolke, wife to Adryane Stocke, Esquire”. She merely leaves all her estate real and personal to Adrian Stoeke, her said husband. . . . She died in November and not December, as is usually said.

I have also a marriage licence granted by the Bishop of London, 10 April 1572, for Adrian Stokes, Esq., and Dame Anne Throgmorton of London, widow. I presume this was the same, who seems to have had a passion for marrying distinguished widows. This Dame Ann Throgmorton, I find, was a daughter of Sir Nicholas Carew of Beddington, Surrey, and widow of Sir Nicholas Throgmorton, Sewer to Henry VIII, afterwards Chief Butler of England, Chamberlain of the Exchequer, and Ambassador to France, who died in London, 12 February 1570-1, of the Plague, and was buried in St. Catharine Cree Church.

The will of a Dame Anne Throgmorton, probably hers, was proved in 1587. I have not got it, but it would probably shew whether Adrian Stokes was still living.

I see, though, just here that this second marriage is quoted in Notes and Queries, First Series, xii, 452, where it is also stated that Adrian Stokes died 30 November 1586, leaving his brother William, aged 60, his heir.

I am afraid that I can add no more to his history from my own resources, and I cannot get out to make any investigation.

Dingley, in his History from Marble, gives the following inscription on the above monument, which he describes as of alabaster:—

Nil decus aut Splendor, nil regia nomina prosunt, Splendida divitiis nil juvat ampla domus.
Omnia fluxerunt virtutis [?] sola remansit,
Gloria Tartareis non abolenda regis.
Nupta Duci prius est, uxor post Armigeri Stokes, Funere nunc valeat, consociata Deo.

According to Nicholls' History of Leicestershire, Beau- manor, consisting of only the hall, house, and a few detached farms and cottages, is an extensive manor, beautifully situated in a fertile valley on east side of Charnwood Forest, long held by the Beaumont family. Leland says it is "a park closi'd with stone waules and a pratie logge yn it, longging alate to Beaumont".

In 1594 it is described as an antient manor-house of greate receipte, moted about with a large mote stored with fish, with a drawbridge, garden, orchard, hop yeard, etc., thereto belonging, all very convenient and answerable. There were two parks, one for red deer and the other for fallow.
The old house was taken down and rebuilt in 1725, of both of which Nicholls gives illustrations; another one has since been built on the same site.

After passing through several families by Royal Grants, it came to Thomas Lord Grey of Groby, second Marquess of Dorset, through which family it passed to Frances, Duchess of Suffolk, who married Adrian Stokes, 1 March 1554-5, by whom she had one child, Elizabeth, who died an infant 7 Feb. 1555-6. Adrian also held property in right of his wife at Astley, co. Warwick. In 1562-3 he obtained a new lease of Beaumanor for 21 years from Queen Elizabeth.

William Stokes, late of Bewmanner, co. Leicester, Esq., declared his will nuncupative in these words or the like, viz.: "I bequeath to my Lady Hastinges, wife to Sir George Hastings, knight, to enjoy after my decease all the furniture and hangings in the great chamber of Beawmannour house, and in the chamber called the 'Duches Chamber', and in the chamber over the parlour in the said house." And speaking to Sir George Hastings, now Earl of Huntingdon, then present, said: "Sir George, I do make you and my Lady your wife my executors, to dispose of my goods after my decease at your pleasure amongst my kindred and servants, and I desire you to have a care of them." And afterwards at sundry times he acknowledged that he had made his will nuncupative and had ordained (as above). At which premisses William Stokes was of perfect mind, being present divers good and credible witnesses.

[Proved at London 5 February 1596-7 on the oath of Thomas Browne, public notary, proxy for Lord George Hastings, Earl of Huntingdon, and Dame Dorothy his wife.]

Memorandum that William Stokes, of Beawmannor, co. Leicester, Esquire, deceased, a little before his death being certified by some about him that it was reported that he had made his will and made Mr. Belgrave and Mr. Sapcottes his executors, he presently declared that Belgrave and Sapcottes should not be his executors, nor that any will should stand wherein they were named executors, and that they should not have anything to do with his goods, and declared his last will nuncupative in form following: He bequeathed all his goods to his kinsfolk and servants amongst them, and made the Rt. Hon. George, Earl of Huntingdon, his executor in the presence of dyvers witnesses.

[Proved, and by definitive sentence approved, 17 June 1602, on the oath of Richard Goodall, notary public, proxy for the Earl of Huntingdon. With sentence for the validity of the will.]

John Stokes was Vicar of Inkberrow, co. Worcester, Prebendar of Hereford, Archdeacon of Ely (1445), Precentor of Salisbury (1457-67). Canon Jones, in his Fasti Ecclesiae Sarisbertiensis, says the Archdeacon and Precentor were “probably” the same person, not having seen this will; Prebendar of Combe and Harnham (1457, void per dimissionem). One of this name was Prebendar of Lyme and Halstock in 1418, whom Canon Jones queries as the same person! Where was he buried? Is there any memorial extant of him? Any further information concerning him will be most acceptable.

SOME OLD WILTSHIRE CLOCKS AND CLOCKMAKERS.

The following notes—the outcome of occasional jottings of names and dates from old clocks by Wiltshire makers—may not, it is hoped, be without some little interest to the readers of Wilts N. & Q. In addition to the professional clockmakers in the principal towns, we find men of the eighteenth century, or earlier, who, in obscure and out of the way hamlets—as at Eastcott and Lydeway (in Urchfont), Horton (in Bishop's Cannings), or Nursteed (in Southbroom)—sons of the village carpenter, or, it may be, the village blacksmith himself, who, with meagre advantages in the way of education, but with a natural mechanical genius, became the clockmakers of their several localities, establishing businesses which were carried on successively by themselves and their descendants for several generations. Of such were Jacob, Joel, and John Ettry, of Horton; Charles, Evi, and John Raymond, of Lydeway; and doubtless others—whose good work yet remaining is a memorial more lasting even than the inscription on their gravestones.

In the unique mechanical clock preserved in the north transept of Wells Cathedral the adjoining county of Somerset possesses perhaps the earliest example of the clockmaker's art. It is traditionally known as the work of Peter Lightfoot, a monk of Glastonbury, about 1325. Its circular dial represents the hours of the day and night, the phases of the moon, and other astronomical details. At the top are mounted figures of knights which revolve round a centre at the striking of the hours, whilst a seated figure in the angle of the transept, connected with the clock by rods, proclaims both hours and quarters with blows from its foot against a bell. Another Somersetshire example, of much later date, is the fine clock in the Grand Pump Room, at Bath, which was given to that city, in 1709, by Thomas Tompion, of London, who is said to have been originally a farrier, and is known as "the father of English clockmaking".

In our own county, and not far from the borders of Somerset, we find in the hall at Longleat a famous astronomical clock, said to be one of three made some century and a half ago by a Wiltshireman—Edward Cockey, of Warminster. It goes for three months at a time without winding.

At Eastwell House, Potterne, is also a fine old astronomical clock, playing tunes at the quarters. It has a handsome brass dial, with open works, and large inlaid wooden case, and bore the name of a Salisbury clockmaker painted on the brasswork of the dial, but this has recently disappeared during the process of cleaning. This clock is said to have been won as a prize through a lottery ticket purchased many years ago by a member of the Hunt-Grubbe family. It was valued at £100.

The Clockmaker's Company obtained its Charter from Charles I, 22 August 1631; but very few Wiltshire names occur in the list of Freemen. On some of the earlier clocks and watches the name inscribed was that of the owner; but, in 1777, an Act of Parliament required the name and place of abode of the maker to be engraved.

Later on, in 1797, a tax was imposed on all persons in possession of clocks and watches, which, seriously decreasing the demand, and consequently depriving thousands of persons of employment, was hastily repealed in the following year.

1 Among the Morrison MSS. at Fonthill is a warrant, dated 23 June 1649 (some five months after the execution of Charles I), from the Committee of Public Revenue to Thos. Fauconbridge, Esq., Receiver General, authorising the payment by him to Mr. Edward East, a London watchmaker, of £40 "for a gold watch and larium made for the late King Charles by directions of the Earl of Pembroke, by order of the Committee, and delivered to the late King's use the 17th January last".

[The King's execution took place on 30 January 1649, thirteen days after the delivery of the watch. Philip, 4th Earl of Pembroke, had been Lord Chamberlain to Charles I, but afterwards sided with the Parliament. He entertained the Protector Oliver at his house at Ramsbury, Wilts, 12 July 1649.]
To this obnoxious tax is ascribed the introduction of a new kind of clock—for many innkeepers of the day, anticipating the difficulty of obtaining correct time, adopted a bold mural timepiece, which they placed in a prominent position for the benefit of their customers. These "Act of Parliament Clocks", as they were called, had a large wooden dial, generally painted black, with gilt figures, not covered by a glass, and a small case beneath enclosing the pendulum. At Devizes two of these clocks are still to be found in good working order—one at the "Bear" Hotel, which has no maker's name, the other in the bar at the "Castle". The latter is by a Marlborough maker (George Hewett), and more elaborately decorated, the front of the pendulum case having a small reproduction in oil, apparently of the well-known picture by Reynolds of David Garrick between the two muses, Tragedy and Comedy; Mr. Edmund Schomberg, of Seend, also possesses one, signed "Wm. Gilbert, Gosport", a ship in full sail being painted on the case.

The following alphabetical list of Wiltshire makers' names is collected chiefly from grandfather clocks of a date earlier than the middle of the last century. As a first attempt it is, of course, by no means exhaustive, and any additions or corrections will be thankfully received for insertion in the pages of Wills N. & Q.

Devizes.

Brittan, Meshach [a fine clock].

   Two generations of this name appear to have carried on business in St. Mary's parish. The following entries occur in the Registers:

   "Meshak Britten and Elizabeth Paradice wase maried ye 13 of April 1708."
   "Meshek, son of Meshek Britten wase baptiz'd ye 28 of March 1713, and of Elizabeth his wife."

   Had lease of house No. 1, St. John's Street.

Gilkes, Richard\(^2\) [1779-1794].

   The Quaker Records of this date contain births of several children of Richard and Letitia Gilkes, of Devizes, clock and watch maker—in St. John's parish 1779-1781—afterwards in St. Mary's.

\(^1\) Daughter of William Mortimer, baker, of No. 1, Little Brittox, the court adjoining which is still known as "Mortimer's Court". He was the noted maker in his day of Simnel Cakes, a local production for which Devizes has long been celebrated.

\(^2\) A Richard Gilkes belonged to the Clockmaker's Company of London in 1686. Britten gives "Gilkes, John, Shipston, on plate of watch, Mary Gilkes on dial, hall mark 1766".
Gilkes, Benjamin Gilbert.

Gough, William [1720].

On a paper from the outer case of an old watch, in the possession of the writer:

"On a watch.
Could but our tempers move like this machine,
Not urg'd by passion, nor delay'd by spleen,
And true to nature's regulating power,
By virtuous acts distinguish every hour;
Then health and joy would follow as they ought,
The laws of motion and the laws of thought,
Sweet health to pass the present moments o'er,
And everlasting Joy when Time shall be no more."

"All sorts of Clocks and Watches clean'd and repair'd by Wm. Harrison, Devizes."

Jarrod, J.

Rogers, Thomas [1783].

Russell, Patrick [silvered dial plate].

Sayer, William [a very old brass faced clock, without case].

The name occurs in a Devizes petition of 1660, and again in a loyal address from the Mayor, Burgesses, and Inhabitants of the Borough, to King William III, on the discovery of a supposed plot for his assassination, in 1695-6.—W. N. & Q. (Quarterly Part, March 1909), p. 200.

West, Robert [brass dial].
Wilkins, William.
Wilks [Gilkes ?], ——

The Melbourne Daily Argus, in the report of a sale of art treasures there (1896), mentions "a grandfather clock, by Wilks, of Devizes, 200 years old, with a set of chimes, which found a purchaser for £50".

Williams, Edward [living in St. John’s Street 1819].

Eastcott [in Urchfont].

Keyte, Thomas [1710— a 30-hour clock].

His marriage—the occasion most probably of his settling here—is thus recorded in the Urchfont Parish Register:

Hilperton.

Swayne, Henry [1714].

The following occurs among the allegations for marriage licences in the Diocese of Bath and Wells:

“Swayne, Henry, of Hilperton, Wilts, clockmaker, and Mary Tily, of Laverton, widow. Bondman, John Yerbury, of Laverton, yeoman. 16 June 1714.”

Ettry, Jacob.

" , Joel [living 1760].

", John.

The marriage of John Itterie, of Horton, husbandman, occurs in the Bishop’s Cannings Parish Register as early as 1625. Later on, from the time of the Commonwealth downwards, we find that several members of the family were village carpenters. Jerom, son of Isaac Ettry, carpenter, was for 42 years Parish Clerk, and was buried on New Year’s Day 1797, having reached the ripe age of 82.

Of the Horton clockmakers we find Jacob the son of John Ettry, carpenter, baptized 18 Jan. 1710; Jacob Ettry, and Catherine Weston,1 both of Bishop’s Cannings, married 31 Dec. 1728; and Jacob, son of Jacob and Catherine Ettry, baptized 6 Oct. 1732. There is reason to suspect that one of these migrated into Hampshire, for the dial plate of a fine clock of the William III period bears the name of “Jacob Ettry, Rumsey”.

Joel Ettry, the second Horton clockmaker, married, in 1751, Hannah, daughter of John and Mary Shipman, of Allcannings.2 He was buried at Bishop’s Cannings in 1786. Village tradition represents him as “cunning” also in astrology, and much sought after and consulted by his neighbours and others in matters of weather lore, the casting of nativities, and such like. Of his clocks, one belonging to Dr. Tayler, of Trowbridge, represents the work of a master hand, having two mechanical figures, or “Jacks”, which strike the bell. In 1760 we find him engaged in repairing the church clock at Little Chiverell, and his bill on this occasion, now in possession of the writer, is an interesting relic of the eighteenth century Wiltshire clockmaker, as seen in his memoranda. It is written in a bold clear hand:

“1760. Churchwardens of Little Chiverl. Dr. to Joel Ettry for Repairing the Church Clock, stoping both hoels of the Varge Scaping the Pallets turning and stoping the Crown wheal Stoping the second wheal hoels and new plant itt macking a new spring for ye diel wheal stoping both hoels of the fley stoping both hoels of the hoop wheal and new running the worke stoping the bottom wheal hoel and Repairing the locking Spring £2 2s. od.

“December 16th Rs’d of Mr. Axford ye full contents of this bill Rs’d by mee Joel Ettry.”

Of John Ettry—the third clockmaker of the Horton family—much less is at present known. The following entry in the Bishop’s Cannings Register may be that of his baptism:

“1716-17. John, son of John and Grace Ettry, baptized 26 Feb.”

1 There is a pedigree of Weston, of Cannings, in the Herald’s Visitation of A.D. 1623. Catherine Ettry [née Weston] appears to have been buried 7 January 1777.

2 A name found abundantly in the Allcannings Register 1600-1800, and at Bishop’s Cannings 1740-1800. John Simms, alias Shipman, and Mary Godman were married at Allcannings 31 January 1715, and their daughter Hannah (afterwards Mrs. Ettry) baptized 4 July 1718. She was buried at Bishop’s Cannings 4 June 1788.
Lavington.

Jackson, Henry.

Lydeway [in Urchfont].

Raymond, Charles.

" Evi.

" James.

The name of Raymond, alias Samuel, or Samme, is of frequent occurrence in the Parish Registers of Etchilhampton and Urchfont from at least 1630 downwards. Charles Raymond, or Samme, and Sarah Cook, or Kinman, both of Stert, were married at Urchfont 21 April 1740, and from these appear to have descended the clockmakers at Lydeway—three of whom carried on business there during the next century.

Their dwelling-house—a low but somewhat picturesque looking thatched building, stood close to the roadside, about three miles from Devizes. A clock, with diamond shaped wooden dial over the doorway, bore the date "A.D. 1773", and, connected with works inside, denoted the business carried on within. Later on, the house was converted into a wayside inn, by the name of "The Clock",1 which still remains over the entrance. Within the last few years an upper storey has been added, and the building altogether much altered. "The Clock", too, which was out of order, has been recently repaired.

Charles Raymond, the first individual who gained notoriety here, was the maker of a good type of clocks, some of which, having brass dials with embossed corners, or spandrels, outside the circle, and still in good condition, are to be found in the immediate neighbourhood. The Stert Parish Register thus records his marriage:—

" 1762, 17 January. Charles Sam, or Raymond, clockmaker, and Ann Alexander, spinster."

We also find in the same year, at Stert, the following entry:—

" 1762, 13 August. James Raymond, clockmaker, and Ann Mannings, of Urchfont, spinster."

Lastly we have, in the Urchfont Register, the marriage of Evi Raymond and Mary Snook, by licence, on the

1 And as such it continued in the hands of the Raymond family until about 30 years ago, when Elizabeth Raymond, the last landlady of that name, died, and was buried at Stert.

Bevan, Thomas.

Gough, — [see also Devizes].

Hewett, George [1797-1805].

A maker of good clocks, one of which, on a brass dial with embossed corners, has an engraved landscape in the centre, and in an open circle above, lettered "Tempus fugit", a figure of Time, with scythe, swaying to and fro with the pendulum. In one of Hewett’s clocks the writer found the following on a printed paper pasted inside the door:

> "Geo. Hewett, Organ Clock-maker, Repeating and Common Watchmaker, Goldsmith and Jeweller, At the Dial and Crown, near the Market House, Marlborough. (Successor to the late Mr. Gough). Makes all sorts of Machine Organ Clocks, Weight or Spring (to play a First and Second) in a very compleat and pleasing manner, with any Motion of the Heavens—Also Repeating, Horizontal, and Common Watches, either in Gold, Silver, or Metal, &c. —Also Jewellers Work, either in Diamonds, Stone, or paste; and all kinds of Mourning Rings, with Expedition—Likewise large Plate, curiously wrought, or plain; and all sorts of small Work in Gold or Silver.

> \[L\] “Watches and Clocks repaired in the compleatest Manner and on the shortest Notice.

> "* * * He also gives the best Prices for Old Gold and Silver, Gold and Silver Lace, Jewels &c."

> Marlborough, printed by J. Smith.

An “Act of Parliament Clock” (1797) at the Castle Hotel, Devizes, already noticed, bears the name of this maker.

Coombe, Joseph.

1 Gough, W., goldsmith, appears as a sufferer to the amount of £1,134 in the great fire at Marlborough in 1653. He was mayor 1648-9, and again 1658-9.
Rudd, Edward [see also Bradford].

Mere.

Avery, Kingston [1730-1763].

His marriage with Rachel Alford, of Mere, on 21 February 1723, occurs in the Parish Register. He erected the present Church Clock at Mere in 1740, and his name is also occasionally found on old household clocks of the period.

The very fine iron scroll-work of the sign of the Ship Inn at Mere is also said to have been made by him.

Newton, George [1666-1678].

Aubrey, writing of the iron ore here, in 1666, says:—

“I went to the smyth, George Newton,¹ an ingeniose man, who from a blacksmith turned clock maker and fiddle maker, and he assured me that he has melted of this oare in his forge, which the oare of the forest of Deane &c. will not doe.”

In a collection made at Seend, in 1678, towards re-building St. Paul’s, after the great fire of London, the name of George Newton, sen., appears as a contributor; in 1680 to

This is the Schombergs' house, and the "shop" is apparently the forge which within living memory stood close by, and also belonged to the Parish. The following occurs in the Churchwardens' Book, St. Thomas, Sarum:—"1672-3 to George Newton for new clock £20 10s.; 1680-1 to George Newton's salary for 6 years £1 1s. 6d." The Parish Register of Seend contains the baptisms of five children of George and Cicill Newton 1630-1641, two of whom died young; the burial of Cicill, wife of George Newton, 1670; the baptism of Richard, son of George and Susan Newton, 1671; and the burial of Susan, wife of George Newton, 1673.

The clock fetched £235. This famous clock is, it is believed, one of three made by Cockey, who flourished in Warminster as a bell founder and clock maker 150 years ago, in, we believe, Common Close. There is another similar to the one mentioned in the hall at Longleat, and it is understood that there is one of similar make at Hampton Court Palace. The clock at Longleat goes for three months at a time. Cockey belongs to the same family from which the famous Frome ironfounders\(^1\) of that name have sprung."

Thomas South of Bossington Hall, Hants.—Information sought concerning his family. He sold lands at Ashmore, co. Wilts, in 1801; his crest and coat of arms closely resemble South’s of Swallowcliffe. He was interested in arboriculture, and wrote, I believe, on that subject.

Lenten Veils (p. 273).—Among ornaments of the Cathedral Church of Old Sarum, found in the treasury, 30 March 1214, and certified by Abraham de Winton in 1222, while the new Cathedral Church at Salisbury was in progress of building, among a larger number of pallia and panni, three silken veils (vela de serico) were mentioned. The first was the Lenten Veil (quadragesimale), the others are described as "over the (Easter) sepulchre", and "over the fonts", respectively. Salisbury Ceremonies and Processions (8vo., Camb., 1901), p. 173. There were also two curtains to cover the crosses in Lent (Ib., p. 176). The ceremonial customs as to the use of the veil and coverings are detailed in the Consuetudinary and the Customary, which are printed in parallel columns in W. H. Frere's Use of Sarum, i (Camb., 1898), pp. 138-141; and in the Ordinale, ib., ii, 58, 65 (1901). It is interesting to trace the introduction of the ceremony of elevation as evidenced by the variation between the earlier and later texts as given by Mr. Frere. A small winch or windlass of iron, which is believed to have been used for the veil, may be still seen attached to one of the northern pillars of the Presbytery in Salisbury Cathedral Church. Dom. H. Philibert Feasey tells us that a similar pulley is preserved at Arundel, Anc. Engl. Holy Week Ceremonial (ed. 1897), 16. Although the printed Sarum Missal (e.g., p. 284) says nothing of the Lenten Veil, the rubric of the Breviary (i, p. dceci) implies that the images were covered as a matter of course; and Clement Maydestone, in 1440, says that both customs were of general obligation in his time (Tracts of C. Maydestone, pp. 15, 48). In Wilts we are not, so far as I am aware, so well off as some other counties are for full inventories of the goods of parish churches, though there is a record of chalices and bells left to the use of the parish churches in 1553. The reference, I think, is "R.O. Augm. Office Miscell. Books, vol. 514". Mr. J. E. Nightingale made use of this in his account of Wilts Church Plate (Salisbury, 1891); and Mr. W. C. Lukis for Church Bells (Parker, 1857; and in Wilts Arch. Mag., 1853-4, nos. 1-4). The document is printed in Wilts Arch. Mag. (1870), xii, 362-370. There are inventories, indeed, of Chantry Furniture, 15 June 1548, in the Chafyn-Grove Papers, edited by Canon J. E. Jackson in 1885, Wilts Arch. Mag., xxii, 318-29; but those, naturally, do not concern the high altars of churches. However, Corpus Christi Brotherhood of Trowbridge had "a clothe of sylke to hang before the aultar" (p. 326). The note about the church goods of "S. Maris in the Devizes", 15 Jan. 1553-4 (Nightingale, u.s., 105 n.), does not concern itself with textiles. Mr. Symonds has recently told us in the Wilts Arch. Mag., xxxvi, 37, in Winterslow Church Reckonings (1542-61), that a procession[er?] for the Litany in English] and a booke for the Communion [in English, to use along with the Latin missal] were bought in 1548. In the following year 33s. 4d. was paid (a monstrous tax, surely!) for "Redemyng of the chalyce", and 20d. "for pullying downe of the allters and Ryddyng of the churche". And then, in 1550, "Imprimis, for the payntyng of a clothe to hang a crose (i.e., across) the church, 3s. 4d." It was not until 1552 that the 8s. "for the boke of Commyn praer" was charged. In 1569 the wardens were called before Q. Elizabeth's vysytors, and three lots of "lynen gere" were sold (p. 39). Here, at SS. Peter and Paul, Marlborough, our regular accounts begin in 1555, after copies of a few earlier documents of 1546 and 1553, though our Parish Registers do not open till 1611. Our Inventories are dated June 1548 (for the Jesus Service, at a side-altar), and for the high altar 29 November 1555, with additions, November 1556; December 1557 (Philip and Mary), with alterations after the accession of Elizabeth; and 1570. I cannot say for certain that we had a Lenten Veil. I find "In primis a fyne shete" in 1555.
"An arys coverlyd" 1557, which in 1570 appears as "Item, one carpet of arys, that covereth the communyon table". This would be of Arras tapestry. Some inventories of church goods in the thirteenth century (early and late), belonging to churches and chapels within the jurisdiction of the Dean and Chapter of Salisbury, are preserved in the so-called Osmund Register (Rolls Series ed.; i, 276-314); and the Liber Evidentiarum (Sarum Charters, R.S., pp. 369-70). But only a few of those places are within our county limits. About 1300 it was noted that there was a velum quadragesimale at Hurste, but none either at Ruscombe or Sandhurst. Perhaps it is a fair inference that at Knook and Heytesbury (p. 370) the veil was duly produced for view of the visitor, as other "defects" are reported there (but not this). Bishop Richard Poore had directed that inventories of church goods should be entered in the missal of each church, and this was done in one, at least, of the prebendal churches (Sunning). We have in the case of Heytesbury the full list of 1220, including a considerable number of pallia, lintheamina, and panni, and 1 cortina (O.R., i, 295). At Knook (i, 296) there were "iii mantilia nova ad altaria, et x alia". The inventory for Mere, in 1220 (i, 291), is more precise, and there we find, "ii panni serici ante altare, et ii alii ad modum thoralis, et i lineus floribus protractus, et i vetus cortina, et i pannus quadragesimalis vetus et attribus, et iii pepla ad Mariolam cooperiendam linea". Among rather later acquisitions were "iii mantilia, quorum i est paratum" [ornamented with "apparels"], "Item iii panni linei incisi et picti ante altare, de perquisitione J. capellani. Item i lintheum ad cooperiendum crucem, tempore quadragesimali" (i, 291-2). At Hill Deverel (i, 312) were, "ii mantilia beneficta et iii non beneficta: et i magnus pannus lineus dependens in muro retro altare; et alius lineus dependens ultra altare B. Jacobi, et ii manutergia. Item pannus i depictus dependens ante altare, et alius lineus parui precii, et tercius ad modum thoralis dependens ante altare B. Jacobi". At Horningsham, in 1224, were, "mantilia vi, quatuor beneficta et duo non beneficta; et i manutergium; et i pannus ante altare lineus, floribus incisis. Et alius similiter lineus minoris precii. Non est ibi superpelliceum nec rochetum" (i, 314). In the Calne Churchwardens' Accounts, which begin as early as 1527, the inventory of 1 February 1551 (5 Ed. VI) contains: "It\textsuperscript{m} j lente clothe called ye vayle". This item was among those which were subsequently erased; History of Calne, A. E. W. Marsh (1903), p. 371. An Inventory of the time of King Edward IV is preserved in "Jornall Boke" of St. Edmund's, Salisbury, Churchwardens' Accounts of St. Edmund and St. Thomas, Salisbury, edd. H. J. F. Swayne and Amy Straton, 1896, pp. 3-7. It appears that in 1472 there were—"j veyle to be drawen in lenton tyme to fore the hye auter. Item j cloth to honge to fore the hye rode" [rood], p. 7. In 1538-9 the wardens paid 4d. "for a corde to drawe vp the clothe byfore the rode" (p. 84). The "roode cloth of canvas" was sold to Rob. Batchat (10 Eliz.), in 1567-8, for 3s. 4d., and Master Ayre, the Mayor, "iij coortyns of sylke and ij lytell clothys that holdeth the nelinge box [containing oil for extreme unction, etc.], and one stole" for 2s., pp. 110, 111. The churchwardens of St. Thomas', Salisbury, in 1546-7 (38 Hen. VIII and 1 Edw. VI), brought to account disbursements for "vij yardes of Oscon' brigges\textsuperscript{1} for to make Seynt Thomas a lenton clothe, at iiiijd. the yarde, summa 2s. 4d.; Philipp Reed for making of the same clothe; Curteyn Rynges, thredde, and settyng of the same cloth" (ib., p. 274). But in the two following years the images were defaced. In the paper of *Inventories of Church Goods and Chantries of Wilt#, which includes the too brief summary certificates of church goods (chalices and bells) of 1553, Mackenzie E. C. Walcott has edited (Wilts Arch. Mag., xii, 356, foll.) the certificates for Amesbury Nunnery (31 December 1539) and Malmesbury Abbey (15 December 1539), but the “bookes of particular sales” of “juelles” and ornaments are not forthcoming. The Inventories of three friaries are, however, given. They show that the Whitefriars or Carmelites of Marlborough, at the Priory, before the dissolution, had “a hangyng of sylke for ye Sepulcre (valued at), 2s. . . ; two hangyngs for ye auter with ye fruntlet, 12d. ; an olde chesabull, 8d. ; a vayle, 2s.” The Black Friars or Dominicans at Salisbury had “a frame for the Sepulchre”, fifteen “altar clouteis to hange before altars; a gret meny of clouteis for lent, a grit cloute to hange before ye rode” (xii, 359-361). The Grey Friars, Minorites, or Franciscan Friars had “an olld blacke clothe”, but no veil nor anything specifically designed “for Lent”, except “iiij sengeill vestmentes for Lent, ye one yelawe” (xii, 362).

[The article in the Church Times, we believe, confined itself to altar veils; it is still the universal custom to veil all the images during Passion-tide.—Ed.]

CHR. WORDSWORTH.

An Ancient Wiltshire Custom (p. 275).—The ancient custom, about which “Scriba” asks for information, has been described by John Aubrey in his Wiltshire Collections, p. 184, and by Mr. Carrington, under the name “Word Ale”;¹ by the late Mr. Parsons, of Hunts Mill, Wootton Bassett;² by the late Mr. Coleman,³ and by Mr. Talbot Baines, late agent to Lady Meux.

² Swindon Advertiser, May 8, 1886.
³ Swindon Advertiser, Nov. 30, 1906.
Mr. Baines is the only one of these writers who has taken part at the ceremony, and, as such, his account, though inaccurate in regard to some historical facts, is extremely interesting. He says that "no actual written record of this Court appears to have been kept before the year 1810, since which time it has been kept regularly, signed by the steward and those tenants of the Manor who attended. The steward is the person who is for the time being the owner of the lands comprising the Manor of Midgehall". In this case Lady Meux deputed her agent to attend the Court in her place.

According to Mr. Parsons, "the late Sir Henry Meux' records relating to the 'Word Ale' do not go farther back than 1752" (which is fifty years earlier than the date given by Mr. Baines). "One Adam Tuck was then steward (agent) of the Wootton Bassett estate, and town clerk at Wootton Bassett. He left in disgrace, about 1752, taking with him the Wootton Bassett Charter, which has since been recovered at Denbigh amongst the papers of his descendants, and most likely the 'Word Ale' documents were taken away at the same time as the Charter."

Till the time when the record of the Court was kept in writing the only evidence of the holding of the Court seems to have been the White Rod, in which one notch was cut annually. The Hazel Rod, when in Mr. Baines' keeping, had something over two hundred notches cut in it, and "it is said that more than one rod, previous to this one, has been lost. The rod in use is in the custody of the tenant at whose house the next Court is to be held, and it is retained by him during his year of office. With respect to the Court itself, a solemn oath has to be taken by the steward on his appointment, and by the tenants when they are admitted as members of the Court, which oath precludes anyone who has taken it from divulging the secrets and ritual that are observed, which is of a sacred character".

At this point I may stop to remark, as Mr. Carrington does, that at the time of the Reformation, and also when the Puritans were in power, secrecy was of supreme importance when singing the chorus as given by Aubrey: "You are to pray for the Abbot of Stanley and all the Monks of the Cistercian order by whom we are all tithe free, tithe free"; and, as old customs die hard, secrecy is still observed, and in this twentieth century it is still supposed by the tenants attending the Court that the tithe free condition of their land depends on the observance of the custom.

Mr. Baines continues: "The dinner or feast that is held afterwards was in ancient times somewhat primitive, and would now be thought unpalatable diet. There is a toast to be drunk in a mixture of cheese, beer, and onions, with various spices".

Mr. Parsons, however, speaks of a "loaf of white bread into which a small White Wand three feet long must be stuck in a perpendicular position, also a thin cheese, and a small barrel of beer having to be provided by the person at whose house the Court is held"; and he says that "when all have arrived they proceed to an upper chamber, where a Bible is placed on a table, and, after the minutes of the previous meeting have been read, fresh holders must be sworn according to the wording of the oath . . minutes of the Court will then be made and signed . . all will kneel down and repeat the Lord's Prayer, and all will go below and partake of the cheese, bread, and ale. The White Wand will then be handed to the person whose turn it is to hold the next Court. The Requirement is read in detail every time upstairs".

This shows that great changes have taken place since the time when Aubrey wrote (circa 1670). He also alludes to changes before his time, by saying "formerly the Custome of Worde Ale was celebrated with great solemnitie, many prayers being made for the Abbot of Stanley and the Monks of the Cistercian order, now forgotten; all that they retain is 'You are to pray for the Abbot of Stanley and all the Monks of the Cistercian order by whom we are all tithe free, tithe free, &c., &c.'" “These words are sung by a chorus while one drinks a Garouse, holding a White Wand in his hand, and so all round.” This old chorus seems now to have given place to the repetition of the Lord’s Prayer.

Midgehall tithing, which in the time of Charles II included Midgehall Court,¹ Costow farm, the two Studleys, and other farms, has been tithe free since 1186-9, when Henry II gave the land to the Cistercian Abbey of Stanley.² All Cistercian land having been exempted from payment of tithe by Pope Innocent II, in 1139, the tithing of Midgehall contributed nothing to the maintenance of the Rectors of Lydiard Tregoze (in which parish it is situated), with the result that the Rectors, deprived of their means of livelihood, petitioned the rich Abbots for redress, and that a composition or arrangement was made between William, then Abbot of Stanley, and John de Winterberg, Rector of Lydiard Tregoze, in 1228 A.D., of which the following is a translation from the Latin copy of the original exhibited in Court in a trial between the Earl of Hertford v. St. John, 4 May 1587:—

Composition between the Abbot of Stanley and the Rector of Lydiard, 1228 A.D.

To all, etc.—William Lord Abbot of Stanley and the Convent there and John, Parson of Lydiard Ewyas, Greeting.

Whereas it is well known to all that the order of Cistercians has been for a long time past by privilege from the Roman Pontiffs exempted from payment of Tythe, and we being of that order have enjoyed that exemption and immunity in our Grange of Mygehall with its appurtenances and in all our lands and possessions within the limits of the said parish of Lydiard Ewyas from the time of the Foundation of our House: to wit that no payment whatever of any kind under the name of tythe great and small hath ever been made by us to the said church or any Rector thereof or even to the said John. In order that all occasion of complaint may in future be put an end to between our House and the said Church of Lydiard Ewyas and the Rectory thereof respecting any kind of Tythes, we of our common consent and will, having a holy respect unto charity, do assign eight shillings to be paid every year, at Michaelmas, unto the said John and his successors in the Church of Lydiard Ewyas, by some one of us for ever. But whereas I John (the Rector) nor the said Church, nor any of my predecessors have ever received anything whatever under the name of tythe out of the aforesaid Grange and its appurtenances nor out of the lands and possessions of the said Monks, being however sensible that the condition of the said Church hath been amended by their bounty I have freely accepted their favour, and give my assent that the said Abbot and Convent shall be exempt from payment of all Tythes which can possibly be demanded of them either of parochial right or in any other way by the said Church or by myself or any other Rector under any pretence whatsoever.

For the better security of this composition both, I, John, and the said Abbot and Convent, have hereunto affixed our seals and at our request the Reverend the Archdeacon of Wilts as: . . . . the see of Sarum being vacant has affixed his Seal.

Witnesses Master Luke,1 Canon of Sarum, William [], Robert Bacon, and others.

[This composition is the translation of a Deed presented by R. Mullings, Esq., of Stratton Court, Cirencester, to the Devizes Museum.]

Another and much later composition (of which I have not seen a copy) between the Abbot of Stanley and the Vicar of Wootton Bassett, dated 1570 (also presented to the Museum by Mr. Mullings), bears on the same subject. This later Deed belongs to the period of the Dissolution of the Monasteries, when these lands had passed out of the control of the Abbot into lay hands, when the tenure by which these lands were tithe free would be likely to be called in question, and when secrecy was of the utmost importance, “giving rise to curious stories as to the efforts made to prevent holding this court, traps being laid to prevent the steward from attending it on the day stipulated by the old Abbot, which day was the 1st Sunday after Michaelmas day”.

1 Luke de Winton, the King’s Treasurer.—[Ed.]
Several Acts passed about this time (to which Mr. Coleman has called attention) throw light on the difficulties which had to be legislated for at this time. Statute 31 Henry VIII, cap. 13, vested the greater monasteries in the king; sec. 21 states that "the King and all persons who should possess lands belonging to these greater Monasteries should hold them discharged from tithe in as ample a manner as the Abbots, etc., had held them at the time of the dissolution"; also "that the lands of these institutions were granted by the Crown to various purchasers, who thus became impropriators of the tithes, and had the same rights with regard thereto as if they were exempted persons".¹

Land, therefore, which had been tithe free continued to be so, and is so to this day. One of the fields in Old Costow still bears the name "Tithe free", testifying to the fact that it was originally in the tithing of Midgehall, which it continued to be down to the time of Charles II, as shown by the Assessment of Inhabitants of the tithing in 1677, mentioned above. It is now in Wroughton parish, but when the change was effected is not known.

The notched rod mentioned by Mr. Baines is of historical interest to all Wiltshire people, and it is to be hoped that Lady Meux (in whose possession it now is) may some day have the kindness to send it to be kept along with the Deeds relating to the "Word Ale" custom, in the Devizes Museum.

"Scriba", too, may be able to tell the Society where the rod with one hundred and seventy notches, which he saw, is to be found, and procure it, too, for the Museum.

The derivation of the names "Midgehall" and "Word Ale" require careful research, to which attention is invited.

LAURENCE HYDE OF HEALE, ELDEST SON OF SIR LAURENCE HYDE AND BARBARA GASTILIAN HIS WIFE.
NOTES ON THE HYDES OF WILTS AND CHESHIRE.

In these notes, it is proposed to show the Pedigree of the family of Hyde, dealing principally with that branch to which Edward Earl of Clarendon belongs. The chief interest in this family centres around him, not only on account of his great position and attainments, but also on account of the marriage of his daughter Anne to James Duke of York, afterwards James II, whereby he became the grandfather of two reigning monarchs, Mary of Orange and Anne. There is a tendency to refer to all the Hydes somewhat loosely, as related to the Earl of Clarendon and related to Anne Hyde, Duchess of York; sometimes the latter's cousins and even uncles are referred to as her brothers. The use of the same Christian names by many of the branches of this family, a particular in which they were not the exception at the time, rather adds to the confusion.

So far as possible, all the authorities quoted in these notes are given with references, and it is hoped that the queries raised by these notes, e.g., the many unidentified Hydes and missing dates of birth, marriage, and burial, may be answered.

Like the Dyers, Farwells, and Kelways, the Hydes derived their wealth from being able, through their position as lawyers, to deal advantageously with the lands, parsonages, and tithes of the then recently dissolved Religious Houses.
The Lord Chancellor, in his Life, states that "He was born at Dinton in the County of Wilts six miles from Salisbury in the house of his father who was Henry Hyde, the third son of Laurence Hyde of West Hatch Esquire, which Laurence was the younger son of Robert Hyde of Norbury in the County of Cheshire Esquire".

The first member of the family of interest, therefore, to Wiltshire readers is

"Laurence, who was placed as a Clerk in one of the Auditors' Offices of the Exchequer, where he gained great experience and was employed in the affairs and business of Sir John Thynne who, under the protection and service of the Duke of Somerset, had in a short time raised a very great estate and was the first of that name that was known, and left the house of Longleat to his heir with other lands to a great value. Laurence Hyde continued not above a year (or very little more) in that relation and never gained anything by it but shortly after married Anne relict of Matthew Colthurst Esquire of Claverton near Bath in the County of Somerset, by whom he had a fair fortune" [Clarendon Life].

No mention is made, by the Lord Chancellor, of Laurence Hyde's first marriage.

Amongst the Pyt House Papers is an Extract from the Books of the Augmentation Office, dated 20th day July, 3 Edward VI, certified to be extracted by "L. Hyde, deputy of John Thynne, Knight, Supervisor".

There is a discrepancy between the Pedigree of Hyde in Ormerod's Cheshire, where Laurence is said to be a son of Robert Hyde by his second wife, a daughter of Robert Skargill, of County York, Esquire, or daughter of Robert Scaregill, Citizen and Skinner of London, and the Pedigree in the Visitation of Wilts, which states that he was a son of Robert, by his third wife Katherine, daughter of [———] Boydell of Pomcroft, county Chester. The latter account seems now to be generally accepted as correct.

Laurence Hyde married, first, Mary, daughter of William Hartgill of Kilmington, Somerset (Hutchins' Dorset, ed. iii, vol. iii, p. 135), and, secondly, Anne, daughter of Nicholas Sibell of Faringham, Kent, and widow of Matthew Colthurst of Claverton, near Bath. He lived for some time at Haune-ferne in the Parish of Gussage St. Michael, which he held (31 Elizabeth) of the Queen as of her Duchy of Lancaster by the 40th part of a fee value £7. Some years before, in 5 Edward VI, a messuage, 282 acres, and common for 500 sheep, was held in chief by Thomas Ludwell, with licence to alienate to Laurence Hide and his heirs, value £3 2s. 3d.

"This family does not seem to have resided here long" (Hutchins' Dorset, ed. iii, vol. iii, p. 134). Upon the execution and attainder of Sir Thomas Arundell, in 1552, Wardour escheated to the Crown and was granted to William first Earl of Pembroke. Laurence Hyde obtained a lease from William Earl of Pembroke, dated 2 July, 5 Edward VI, of Wardour Castle and Park, etc., for 21 years at a rental of £30 6s. 8d., one-third being reserved for Margaret, widow of Sir T. Arundell (Survey of Lands of William Earl of Pembroke, p. 112), and evidently lived at Wardour, because as living at "Wardour, Generosus" he is described in a Statute Merchant Bond to which he was a party, dated 21 December, 5 Elizabeth; and also as "of Warder, Generosus" (not as transcribed by Canon Jackson, "Gent.") he is described in the Wilts Institutions (Phillipps) on presenting, in 1564 to Stratford Tony. His letter to Sir John Thynne, his former patron, dated from Warder Castell, 20 January 1568 (Wills Arch. Mag., vol. xviii, p. 19), discloses the fact, that his lease of Wardour had then only six years to run and, being anxious to obtain some freeholds of his own, he endeavoured to exchange the Rectory of Kevell with Sir John Thynne for the fee simple of lands at Clopton, Somerset, of which he had a lease for the lives of himself and his sons.

Besides the Visitation of Cheshire, the only reference to his first wife, by whom he is said to have had a son, John,¹ seems to be a letter amongst the Longleat Papers, published in the Wiltshire Arch. Mag., vol. viii, p. 329, addressed by him to Sir John Thynne, written "on behalf of my sister Hartgill", who has been assumed to be the widow of the Hartgill murdered by Lord Stourton and so his sister-in-law.

By 27 Elizabeth, he had become "of Westhatch, Armiger", for so he is described in a Statute Merchant Bond given to him by "John Younge of Little Dornforde"; this transaction possibly related to the marriage of his daughter Joanna with Edward Younge, son of John Younge, which took place on the 29th June 1584, at Tisbury. There is a discrepancy, for the Register gives his christian name as Edmund and the brass at "Dorneford" as Edward.

Laurence Hyde attained a position of considerable importance and influence; he seems to have taken part in all local and public business (Wiltshire Arch. Mag., vol. xxix, pp. 194, 247). No doubt, under his influence, his relatives came into Wilts from Cheshire, and it may be convenient to mention them here. Hamonet, William, Edward, and Thomas, D.D., were the second, third, fourth, and fifth sons, respectively, of Robert Hyde, of Norbury and Hyde, Cheshire, by his second marriage with Margaret, daughter of John Dukenfield, and grandsons of Laurence Hyde's eldest half-brother, the issue of his own father's first marriage with Margaret Holond, of Denton, Lancashire. The discrepancy in age is accounted for when it is remembered, that Laurence was the sole issue of Robert's third marriage.

A Hamonet Hyde was presented to the living of Stratford Tony, by Laurence Hyde, in 1560, and died before 1564, when Laurence presented another Laurence Hyde, who has not been identified—unless he was Hamonet's uncle of that name, which seems, however, improbable.

There is a Hamonet Hyde mentioned in Somerset and Dorset N. & Q., vol. iv., p. 310, as an Usher of Sherborne School from 1570-1572.
"1570. Hamonet Hyde, B.A., Rector of Bishop's Caundle 1589, left Michaelmas 1572." Possibly the Hamonet Hyde mentioned as having been presented to Stratford Tony, in 1560, was of an earlier generation, and the Usher of Sherborne School was the Hamonet Hyde, elder brother of Edward and Thomas. All this is very problematical and the evidence scanty.

William Hide is referred to by Anne, widow of Laurence Hyde, in her will, dated 28 November 1604, as living at Salisbury.

Edward Hyde seems to be the Edward Hyde, who was presented by the Bishop of Salisbury to the Vicarage of Boscombe, in 1614, on the resignation of Thomas Hyde, who was then presented to Stratford Tony by Robert Hyde of West Hatch.

In 34 Elizabeth, there was a member of the Corporation of Salisbury named Edward Hyde, but nothing in the Municipal Records occurs to identify him as one of the family.

Thomas Hyde, D.D., was Prebendary of Ilfracombe in Salisbury Cathedral, 1583; Canon Residentiary Chancellor, 1588; Vicar of Boscombe; Vicar of Stratford Tony, 1614; died 1618. He also is referred to by Anne, widow of Laurence Hyde, in her will, as Dr. Hyde, of Sarum. He seems to have been married twice, if the following entries in the Salisbury Cathedral Register relate to him and his family:—

1601, July 27. Mary, wife of Thomas Hide, Canon Residentiary, buried.
1602, Nov. 5. Elizabeth, d. of Thomas Hide, Canon, christened.
1604, Nov. 17. Margaret, d. of Thomas Hide, D.D., christened.
1608, May 15. Katherine, d. of Thomas Hide, D.D., christened.
1609, Apr. 1. Jane, d. of Thomas Hide, D.D., christened.
1611, Sep. 27. Barbara, d. of Thomas Hide, D.D., christened.
1614, Apr. 6. Luce, d. of Thomas Hide, christened.
1617, May 27. Robert, s. of Thomas Hide, D.D., christened.

His daughter Barbara is probably the Barbara Hyde who married, 29 May 1632, Thomas Chafin, D.D., Vicar of Mere, as his first wife, at Tisbury, where, and also in the Mere Registers, the marriage is recorded. Dr. Chafin's sufferings and death at the hands of Cromwell's soldiers are mentioned in Walker's Sufferings of the Clergy.

Their son Thomas was baptized at Tisbury, on the 25th June 1633, and their daughter Barbara, at Mere, in 1636. Barbara Chafin was buried at Mere, in 1636, and her husband soon afterwards married again.

Chancellor Hyde is mentioned in the Tisbury Registers as a person of importance in the record of the marriages of three of Laurence Hyde's daughters—"Mr. Thomas Huyde now Chancellor of the Cathedral Church of Sarum celebrating the marriage". He died in December 1618, and was buried in Salisbury Cathedral.

Laurence Hyde was buried on the 15th June 1590, at Tisbury, where there is a magnificent brass, engraved in Hoare's Modern Wilts and also in Kite's Wiltshire Brasses, with his Arms and those of his wife. He left four sons and four daughters, Robert, Laurence, Henry, Nicholas, Avys, Susan, Elizabeth, and Johanna. His sons Hamonet and Edward died in infancy; Robert and Laurence married sisters, Anne and Barbara, daughters of John Baptiste Castilian, of Benham, in the county of Berks, Esquire; Nicholas married Mary, daughter of Sir Arthur Swaine, of Sarson, Hants; Avys married Thomas Baynard; Susan, Sir George Ivie; Elizabeth, Sir John Saint Lowe; and Johanna, Edward Younge, of Little Durnford, on whose Brass at Durnford Church are the Arms of Younge impaling Hyde.

I. Robert Hyde had a lease for lives of the Rectory of Buckland Newton, Dorset, part of the possessions of the dissolved Abbey of Glastonbury, and resided there. According to Lord Clarendon "He had many children and lived to the age of 80, and left his estate a little impaired by the marriage of many daughters to his son" (Clarendon's Life). In the Pedigree in Hoare's Modern Wilts (Hundred of Underditch, p. 145) he is stated to have died without issue. In the Genealogist, vol. xvii, p. 74, in the Pedigree of Castilion, his wife Anne is stated to have been baptized on the 11th May 1568, and to have been living in 1603, having had issue Robert, Lawrence, Henry, Hamlet, Margaret, and Elizabeth, who died young, but besides these whose baptismal registers have not been found—except Elizabeth, who was baptized in Salisbury Cathedral on the 8th June 1595—there were Anne and Richard. They were baptized at Buckland Newton: "Anna Hide, Filia Roberti Hide, Armigeri, firmarii Rectoriae de Buckland, Nov. 1598; Ricardus filius Roberti Hide, Armigeri, December 1599".

Robert Hyde died in 1642 (according to The Genealogist, vol. xvii, p. 74), at West Hatch, and 2 June 1648 administration of his estate was granted to Anne Hyde his relict (Somerset and Dorset N. & Q., vol. iv, p. 59).

Margaret Hyde married at Tisbury, 4 Sept. 1610, Robert Culliford.

Anne married, as his second wife, Robert Hyde of the Cheshire branch of the family.

Laurence Hyde, it is thought, married a wife whose Christian name was Katherine and had, besides a son Robert, a son Edward. There is a gravestone in Salisbury Cathedral to a Katherine Hyde, and she cannot otherwise be accounted for:

H.S.E. | Katherina Hyde Relicta Laurentii | Hyde Armí juxta reconditur quae | Obit 10 die Augusti Anno | Dni 1661 | Ano 6º ætatis 54.

The Register gives the date of her burial as 10 August 1661.

1646, March 26.—Katherine Hyde is mentioned in the Falstone Day Book (Wilts Arch. Mag., vol. xxvi, p. 370), as having compounded for the 25th part of her estate and that of Robert Hyde, orphan, and for all the estate that was of Laurence Hyde, Esq., "her husband lately dec'd which now is in her possession and belongeth to the said Robert the heir or to some other of the children of the said Laurence Hyde, viz., Heale and Durnford and Cowsfield and Dinton the North Leases in North Wilts and Stratford all in Wilts, the farms of Hollingbourn, Bramshutt, Hartlewintry and Houghton in Hants and Surrey, Mrs. Hyde hath paid £30 and engaged to pay £50 more. After receipts for £70 the following occurs: "The other £10 is respited till it be decided whether Sergeant Hyde shall pay it or the State's Tenant at Dinton".

II. Laurence Hyde, who married Barbara Castilian (she was bapt. 16 Sept. 1574), was of the Middle Temple and became Attorney General to Queen Anne, the wife of James I and a Knight. He had a house in the Close, Salisbury, which stood between the Deanery and the King's House, and purchased the Manor of Heale in the Parish of Woodford. His burial at Salisbury Cathedral is recorded on the 5th January 1641-2, and that of his wife on the 3rd September previous. He had a large family, twelve sons and not less than five daughters, all of whose baptisms, except that of Catherine, are recorded in the Cathedral Register. His sons were: Lawrence, b. 1593, d. 1643, Sir Robert (Lord Chief Justice), William, Alexander (who was Bishop of Salisbury), Sir Francis, Sir Henry, Edward, D.D., Thomas, D.D., Nicholas (of whom only his baptism on 20th April 1611 is known), Sir Frederick, Charles (who died an infant of six months), James (who was Principal of Magdalen Hall). His daughters were Selina, who died an infant, Anne, who married Humphry Hyde, Barbara, who died an infant of five years, Margaret, and Catherine, who married George Gunter and is mentioned as a legatee in the Will of her brother Alexander.

CHIPPENHAM PARISH CHURCH REGISTER.

(Vol. I, p. 299.)

The Clerk's Verses, 1586.

"When I Henry Nash was chosen clarke by the whole consente,
I strayt way wrote thys woordes incontenente;—
The viij day of Auguste as heare may be seenne,
In the xxviijth yeare of the Raynne of our queenne,
M. Wiliam Chauefen, being then Vycar, of this can Recorde
Yt was the datte 1586 of our lorde."

The prose rejoinder is rather crushing, viz:—

"Henry Nashe methinketh that you, beinge suche a learned Clarke as you be, shoulde not in suche vile, abused, and difficulte maner penne the names of the Cristened, maried, and Deceased as they nowe bee; for they be so written nowe that one cannot, without greate industrie and labour, knowe the names of those whose sonne or daughter it is that is baptised, maried, or buried. For the better accomplishinge therefor your Duetye in this behalfe I have set downe a brefe rule at the end of the names of those wch weare baptised in the yeare of our lorde in your vers[es] above wrighten. In fine, hopeinge that you will (cum hastē et scuto) fullfill my desier, I commend you wth my hartye comendacons to the chefe shepehearde of our soules: Otherwise (actum est de amicitia. Vale.)

Yours at all assaye,
Si, M. B.

The Rev. Wm. Chalfont was then Vicar, but who is M. B.? Does Si. stand for “signed”? The expression “yours at all assaye” seems obscure, something follows like “&c.,” but the edge of the page is frayed. What is the special point of cum haste et scuto? The “brefe rule” is set down on page 24 thus:—“You muste set downe the names of theyr fathers and of their godfathers and godmothers.” Then follows a specimen heading for the baptismal entries of 1587, after which is written, “thus you muste write at y° begininge of every yeare, and the monethes as Mf. Walker hath wr[i]tten.”

With a very few exceptions the “rule” was barren of results, and Nash continued to write his surnames as he pronounced them, on the model of his Chavefen for Chalfont, in the manner that makes the names in Elizabethan entries so generally unintelligible.

MORSE, OF RODBOURNE CHENEY, Etc.

In the Articles on Heddington and the Child family (Wills N. & Q., vol. ii, pp. 207 and 261) mention is made of the elopement of Sarah Child with the Earl of Westmorland and their marriage at Gretna Green in 1782; but there was another little marriage episode connected with a partner in the bank about thirty-five years earlier, when Elizabeth Payne, niece of John Morse, married against the wishes of her uncle. This should interest your readers, as the Morses, like the Childs, were a Wiltshire family.

John Morse, of London, goldsmith, being "somewhat weak in body", made his will dated 26 July 1736; he left various legacies, including £10 to the minister and £50 to the poor of Rodburn Cheney, and expressed his wish to be buried in the chancel of the parish church of Rodburn Cheney "where several of my Relatives lye Interred"; he gave his real estate in the counties of Wilts, Oxford, Bucks, and Warwick—that in Wilts being described as houses and lands at Moredon in the parish of Rodburn Cheney, and part of the tithes of the same parish—to Sir Francis Child and Samuel Child "two of my partners" in trust, subject to a life estate given to his sister Elizabeth Morse, for his niece Elizabeth Payne and her children. Within nine months, on 23 April 1737, he added a codicil from which we learn that his niece had without his consent married Peregrine Bertie, esq., and directed the Trustees to pay the profits of the estate to such persons as his niece Elizabeth Bertie should appoint, exclusive of her husband. Ten days later, on 3 May 1737, he made another codicil, and stated that his niece had given him "great offence by marrying with Peregrine Bertie, Esquire, in opposition to my request to the contrary, and his conduct being very disagreeable to me"; he authorized the trustees to appoint such persons as they thought fit, "the said Peregrine Bertie or any person recommended by him excepted", to receive the rents, etc., and pay to anyone his niece might appoint, "exclusive and without any controul of her said husband", £400 a year; which he empowered the trustees to increase to £600 a year if they thought fit, "provided the said Peregrine Bertie have no concern therein". Two more codicils were made, in the last of which, dated 25 July 1738, it is mentioned that the niece had a son, Peregrine Morse Bertie, and his interest and that of any other children to be born of the marriage was limited to a life interest only, the interest of any children they might have being expressly left unaffected. In the will, as already mentioned, was a bequest of £10 to the minister of Rodburn Cheney; in the first codicil was a legacy of £200 to the Rev. Mr. Hinton Haggard, Vicar of Rodburn Cheney; and in the last £50 each to Hill Haggard and Mary Haggard, two of the children of Henry Haggard, deceased.

John Morse died on 28 May 1739, and the will, with the codicils annexed, was proved the 4 June following (P.C.C., Henchman, 134).

Further information is gleaned from a private Act of Parliament (Cap. 46) passed 1 Geo. III. From it we learn that Peregrine Morse Bertie, the first child of Peregrine and Elizabeth Bertie, had died during the life-time of John Morse, and that in 1760 there were six children—another Peregrine, Elizabeth, Albemarle, Sophia, Louisa, and Henrietta, of whom Peregrine only had attained twenty-one years of age. Elizabeth Morse, the sister who had a life interest in the Wiltshire property, was also dead, and so were the two trustees, Sir Francis and Samuel Child, as well as another, Walter Pryse, added by the first codicil of the will; the trust devolved on Agatha Child, the widow of Samuel, and Francis Child, his eldest son. In January 1756, Mrs. Child had obtained from the Duke of Queensbury and Dover a lease of the farm-house and farm of the desmesne of the Manor of Ambrosbury, als. Amesbury Earls, and some other land there, for ninety-nine years, subject to the lives of Peregrine Bertie the younger, Albemarle Bertie, and Sophia Bertie, at two rents of £20 and £5 yearly. Peregrine Bertie the younger having come of age, and being desirous of having an allowance, had filed a petition in Chancery, and eventually the estates were re-settled under this Act.

Who Peregrine Bertie the husband was is not clear; but he was probably a member of the family of the Earls of Abingdon who came in for a large share of the Danvers property.

Of the Morses more is known, but not sufficient to establish the identity of John Morse. The only people of the name of Morse mentioned in the will are Henry Morse, of Old Street, London, and his son who lived in Hounslow, and John Morse, of Pitton, near Wells, Somerset.

There was a John Mors, who died in 1543, who by his will directed that he should be buried in the church of Chesul-dene “before the Rode”. William Morse the elder, of Rodbourne Cheney, who died in 1578, left to his son William lands in Heydon Weeke, Moordon, and Pyrton. He had a brother Thomas, who may have been Thomas Morse, of Badburie Wyke, in Chyssleden, whose will was proved 3 Feb. 1581/2 (P.C.C., 6, Tirwhite). In a note affixed to this will of sums owing to the deceased it is stated that “the Towne of Badberie doe owe me fiftene shillinges, which I layde oute for the Queene”. Others of the name appear at Badbury; and in 1720 Anthony Morse, son of William, of Chisleden, became Vicar of Rodbourne Cheney; in 1737 he was Vicar of Hannington, apparently making way for Hinton Haggard, mentioned already. He would seem, however, to have died early, as in 1747, when the common fields of Badbury were enclosed, we find among the proprietors Theodora Morse, of Swindon, widow of Anthony Morse, clerk, deceased, and William Morse, her son, an infant under twenty-one years of age. These details have been picked up from time to time without special reference to the Morse family, and can no doubt be largely added to by the readers of the Wiltz N. & Q.

STEEPLE ASHTON CHURCHWARDENS’ ACCOUNTS.

Before describing the contents of the old Steeple Ashton Churchwardens’ Account Book, it would be as well to say something of the appearance of the volume which contains them. Its size is $13\frac{1}{4}$ by 10 inches, and it is one inch in thickness. The binding is of smooth dark brown leather, and consists of the two covers and a flap. The book is strengthened by the addition of three brown leather bands, laced with strips of white leather, and a strap and simple iron buckle provide a fastening. Both covers, as well as the flap, are ornamented with impressions of the same stamps as those which are known to occur on a copy of the Queen’s Remembrancer’s Miscellaneous Book, 22, in the Record Office. They are on a border of foliage and flowers, with a falcon, hound, and two escutcheons, one bearing a double-headed eagle displayed, and the other the binder’s trade mark. This latter is like the figure 4 reversed, with a cross crosslet at the end of the horizontal line. The letter Z is intertwined with the lower part of the figure 4, and underneath is the letter R encircled with twigs. Unfortunately this trade mark has not yet been identified. The binding is early sixteenth century, English, and of much interest and rarity.

The book contains one hundred and three leaves of paper and one sheet of parchment, which is placed last. Many of the pages were originally left blank, but a large number of them have been utilised at later dates. The consequence is that several entries are not in chronological sequence. These errant memoranda will be printed in the order in which they occur in the manuscript, while the fact that they are insertions will be pointed out in footnotes.

The period covered by these accounts is from 1543 to 1668 inclusive, that is, from 34 Hen. VIII to 9 Chas. II, but the records are not continuous. There are no entries of accounts from 1544 to 1557, years which include the last four of Hen. VIII, all the reign of Edw. VI, and the first four years of the reign of Mary. Nine years are omitted in the reign of Elizabeth, namely, 1563-1568, 1599, 1600, and 1602. Nor are there any entries for the years 1621, 1631, and 1640, but curiously enough vestries were held all through the time of the interregnum.

We find considerable variations in the spelling of the name of the parish. Beginning with Stipleashton, we have successively Stypleashton, Stypleaysheton, Stypleasheton, Stypleaisheton, Stypleaishton, Stypleassheton, Steple Ashton, and it is not till we come to 1589 that Steeple Ashton occurs. After that date, the following additional variants occasionally crop up:—Steple Ashton and Steepl Ashton.

The ecclesiastical parish at that time comprised the tithings of Steeple Ashton, West Ashton with the hamlet of East Town, Henton, and Semington, with the hamlet of Littleton; but as Semington was in another hundred, and an ancient chapelry with two churchwardens, it managed its own affairs and only appears in these accounts as paying annual dues to the Mother Church.

The church rate was levied on the yard land, of which there were about a hundred and fifty in the first three tithings. Taking the yard land at 30 acres, this would represent 4,500 acres, and as the total area was 5,443, the extent of the common land would be 943 acres. The church rate was supplemented by "ales", especially at Whitsuntide, and by smoke farthings. The rate on the yard land in ordinary times fluctuated between one and two shillings, but during and immediately after the Rebellion and the Commonwealth, it frequently rose to four or even five shillings, the money being required “for the reparacion of the church” or “for the repairing of the church in glas windowes, leades”, etc. This extra expenditure points to damage caused during the Civil War, and accords with the local tradition that after the battle of Roundway, in 1643, Cromwell’s troops, with their horses, were quartered in the church, and at that time destroyed the stained glass windows and defaced the stone carving.

The parish possessed a church house, for which a small quit rent was paid to the reeve of the royal manor. The repair of this house was a constant source of expense. In 1543 there were in the tower, which at that time was surmounted by a lofty spire, five great bells and one small (sanctus) bell. The first three and the great bell were “new founded” in 1607, and the great bell was again recast in 1616. A sixth bell was added to the peal in 1666. The day bell was rung at four in the morning and the curfew at eight in the evening.

The churchwardens' annual accounts are seldom given in full, more often than not only the summary of the receipts and payments being entered, together with a note of the balance handed over to the in-coming wardens. One cannot help being struck by the enormous quantities of wine—Muscadine or Sack at about a shilling a quart—used for the Holy Communion, as much as fifteen quarts being consumed at a single celebration. In 1639, the wine bill came to £4 19s. 6d. for a hundred quarts for seven celebrations.

The volume is rich in inventories, but none of them can compare in interest with the pre-Reformation one of 34 Hen. VIII. The allocation of seats is the subject of frequent memoranda. There are echoes of four law suits—one about the church house in 1587; another, in 1609, about church dues on certain lands claimed by Trowbridge; the third, in the Chancellor's Court, in 1636, relating to a dispute as to the position of the pulpit and “minister's reading place" which, in 1605, had been erected "in the middle alley and common passage". And in the accounts for 1639 are two items showing that the title to the Church House had to be defended in courts of law.

In addition to the management of the affairs of the church by the vicar and churchwardens, with the assistance of the clerk and, for a brief period, of sidesmen, we obtain considerable insight into the civil government of the parish, for we have more than one record of the election of a constable, and annually of the appointment for each tithing of waymen or supervisors of the highways, of collectors for the poor, or overseers, and in 1573 of a distributor.

The following names of families, which are well known to genealogists in this county, are found in these pages, and are here mentioned in the order in which they first appear:—Stileman, Martyn, Marks, Lucas, Boucher, Whatley, Sylvethorne, White, Flower, Long, Greenhill, Crooke, Palmer, Wilkins, Duke, Tanton, Hicks, Webb (George, vicar 1605-36, afterwards Bishop of Limerick), Bennett, Carpenter (Henry, vicar 1636-60, Chaplain of the House of Commons, and afterwards Canon of Windsor), Blagden, Beach, Hicks (clothier), Jeffrayes (merchant), Awdry (merchant), and Harris. Of other names which may still be found in the parish are those of Winslow, Tucker, Hancock, Holloway, Drinkwater, Sims, Griffen, Bartlett, Bull, Miles, and Jordan.

At the end of the book is a continuous record of the dealings with the church stock from 1603 to 1629. There are also detached entries for the year 1634, 1639, and 1644. Of the stock the Churchwardens were trustees, and they lent it, with the consent of the vestry, to the parishioners, at ten per cent. interest, in sums varying from twenty shillings to ten pounds. A man who wished to borrow was required to find two sureties to guarantee the repayment of the loan. The year's interest was paid on St. Stephen's Day, and the income derived from the money thus invested was distributed among the poor, sometimes in clothing—such as frieze, canvass or unbleached linen, and boots—and at other times it was given in money.

Small portions of these accounts have already appeared in print. Under the title "Documents from the Parish Register of Steeple Ashton, Wilts", a few extracts were incorporated in a paper read before the Cambridge Camden Society,\(^1\) March 13th, 1843, by the Rev. W. C. Lukis, M.A., who was at that time curate of Bradford-on-Avon. Canon Jackson, also, in his paper on "Rood Ashton";\(^2\) made some quotations. But the most copious extracts that have been taken from this book were made by Toulmin Smith,\(^3\) to illustrate the government of a parish in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries. He considers that this record gives a good illustration as to the management, by the Vestry and Parish Officers, of parish estates; and as to self-taxation. In the method of dealing with the Parish Stock by granting small loans at interest to help those needing them and in the disposal of the interest for the benefit of the destitute, he sees "a complete and most interesting illustration of the action of the Friendly Society principle."

A few brief explanations will be found in the footnotes, but for the most part the records will be left to speak for themselves.

It only remains to be added that the work of preparing these accounts for the press has been made light and easy through the patient labour of Mr. F. M. Willis, who transcribed the whole book with the utmost care, accuracy, and neatness, more than twenty years ago, when he was living at Steeple Ashton House.

Merriott or Merrit.—I have collected considerable information about this family from several counties, including Wiltshire. I desire to know further about Thomas Merriott, of Stanlynch, in 1418. Did he leave any descendants? I should like to fill up all gaps between that date and 1550.

A Wiltshire Authoress (vol. IV., p. 233).—The "little town in Wiltshire" where Miss Elizabeth Ogilvy Benger, the authoress, resided, and was in the daily habit of perusing the pages of open books in a bookseller’s window, was apparently Devizes. Her father was in business at Wells, where she was born in 1778, but, four years later, he left for Chatham, and was made purser to Admiral Lord Reith’s ship. He died on a voyage to the East Indies in 1796, and in the following year his widow and daughter, then reduced to very slender means, left Chatham and settled at Devizes to be near some relatives—eventually removing, in 1800, to London.

Miss Benger’s literary productions—Memoirs of Mary Queen of Scots—Anne Boleyn—Elizabeth Stuart, Queen of Bohemia, daughter of James I—Mrs. Elizabeth Hamilton—and Mr. John Tobin, author of the “Honeymoon”, and a native of Salisbury, were all published in the early part of the last century. She died in London, in 1827, and in the following year her collected works, with a memoir by Miss Aikin, were issued in five small octavo volumes.

Mr. Beckford’s copy of the Memoirs of Mary Queen of Scots, published by Longman, 1823, fetched £8 10s. at the Fonthill sale. It contained some five pages of manuscript notes by the author of Vathek—and amongst them the following:—“I wish, dear Miss Benger, that your style was a little less ornate, and your information a little less inaccurate.”

It would be interesting to know who were the Devizes relatives of Mrs. Benger, mother of the authoress.
The Western County Magazine (vol. IV., p. 232).—This periodical, which was issued in monthly parts, reached at least four volumes, viz., for the years 1786, 1787, 1788, and 1789. Some of its principal contents are anecdotes, antiquarian notices, biographies (including that of the celebrated Duchess of Kingston), dramatic effusions, comic and other essays, curious facts, hunting songs, jeux d'esprit, innuendos, moral tales (à lacharmontel), law cases, odes and sonnets, humourous songs, travels, &c.

Thomas South, of Bossington Hall, Hants (p. 326).—There were two families of South living in the district in the eighteenth and early part of the nineteenth centuries; the Souths of Donhead St. Andrew and the Souths of Ashmore; the latter came, it is said, from Deptford in Kent. Can these families be connected with the Souths of Swallowcliffe?

An armorial bookplate, of about 1740, of a "Thomas South, Armiger", has the arms of South: Argent, three horse shoes two and one sable, impaling Gules, on a bend argent, three ravens proper; the impaled coat, according to Papworth, being for Dive or Dives county Northampton. Can this marriage be traced?

The Rev. Compton South, whose sufferings are described in Hoare's Modern Wilts, Hundred of Chalke, under Berwick St. John, of which living he was deprived in 1662, may have been a descendant of the Swallowcliffe family. Towards the end of his life he seems to have held some preferment at Warminster, and, when unable any longer, through ill-health, to do duty there, he retired to Donhead St. Andrew, where he died. There are gravestone inscriptions to him and his wife at Donhead St. Andrew. A family of Compton was living at Donhead St. Andrew for 19 December, 7 James I (1610), Edward Farmer, of Shaston, Dorset, grocer, gave a bond for £200 to John Compton, of Donhedd St. Andrew, Wilts, yeoman, Nicholas Compton, of Shaston, aforesaid, yeoman, and Robert Haskell, of the same place, yeoman. [Stat. Mercht. Bonds City of New Sarum.]

Possibly Mr. Compton South was christened Compton by reason of some relationship with them; perhaps his mother was a Compton.

Thomas South, who died at Donhead in 1766, seems to have been a Land Agent, from advertisements in the Salisbury Journal of that period; it is thought that he was employed to manage the estates of the Earl of Pembroke.

Thomas South, the younger, son of Thomas South, and Mary, his wife, married 5 November, 1763, at Donhead St. Andrew, Mrs. Elizabeth Horner (Hoare's Wilts, Hundred of Dunworth); he is believed to have died in 1780, and to have been the Thomas South who, in 1777, presented to the Vicarage of Melcombe Regis (Hutchins' Dorset.)

The Rev. Canon Watson, D.D., in his History of the Parish of Ashmore (1890), mentions a family of South. "Thomas South, of Deptford, Kent, purchased property at Ashmore in 1723, 1725, and 1731. Hutchins' History of Dorset refers to this Thomas South as of Bossington, Wilts" [? Hants]. "He died in 1740, being then resident at Cufnells, in the Parish of Lyndhurst. In his will, he mentions his son Thomas, his daughter Anna, and his nephew Thomas South Newland; he was succeeded by his son Thomas, who, in 1727, married Anne Partington, of Deptford. In 1753 he is described of St. James, Westminster; he died in 1794, and left this estate to his son, a third Thomas South, who sold it in 1801."

The authors of the Hundred of Dunworth, Hoare's Modern Wilts, seem to have been mistaken in the brief statement of the pedigree of South of Swallowcliffe, at p. 69, and to have skipped a generation.

"William Sowthe, of Ambresbury", is there stated to "have married Margery, sister of Thomas Biflet, and to have had issue Thomas, who married Isod, daughter of Anthony Rogers."
In Dr. Marshall's Visitation of Wilts (1623), the pedigree begins with Thomas South, who married Isod Rogers.

The Register of Statute Merchant Bonds of the City of New Sarum affords more complete evidence of the pedigree.

William Sowthe, Gentilman and Marchant, was party to a Bond dated 11 Henry VIII (1520).

Robert Southe, his son (presumably), was Mayor of Salisbury 23 Henry VIII (1532), and married a wife whose Christian name was Joane. In 6 Edward VI (1552), June 18 Thomas Sowthe, of Falleston, Wilts, generous, son and heir of Robert Sowthe, late of New Sarum, generous, deceased, gave a bond to Thomas Chafyn, of New Sarum, draper. Thomas Chafyn, Mayor of Salisbury in 1547, married a South, her Christian name is not stated in 1623 Visitation, and the bond may refer to some transaction connected with this marriage.

In 9 Elizabeth, 1568, and 10 Elizabeth, 1569, Joane Southe, of Falleston, Wilts, relict, was party to two bonds. There are also these bonds, to which members of the family were parties, all of Swallowcliffe:

25 Elizabeth, 1573, Thomas Southe, generous.
35 Elizabeth, 1592, Thomas Southe, junior.
38 Elizabeth, 1595, Thomas Southe, armiger.
1 James I, 1603, Thomas South, armiger.
12 James I, 1615, Edward South, armiger.
13 James I, 1616, Edward South, armiger.
6 Charles I, 1631, Edward South, armiger.

Another Thomas appears in 13 James I, viz., Thomas South, of New Sarum, grocer, and in 14 James I, his widow, Martha South, of New Sarum, late the wife of Thomas South, armiger, deceased, and Richard South, generous, her son and heir; this Richard is party to two other bonds dated respectively 13 May, 4 Charles I, and 19 September, 2 Charles I; in the former he is described "of Lockerley, in the Parish of Mottisfont, in the County of Southampton, generous ", and in the latter " of Odiham, in the same County, generous ".

According to Hoare's Modern Wills " Swallowcliffe belonged, 32 Henry VIII, to Sir Christopher Hales. From the family of Hales (through that of South) it became vested in Sir Robert Hyde, whose grandson Robert, of Hatch, 1721, by will left it to Trustees in trust for sale." [p. 69, ibid.]

This rather unsatisfactory paragraph, lacking all details, suggests that the Hales, Souths, and Hydes were related; apparently Swallowcliffe was the home of the Souths from 1570 to 1630 or 1640 but the connection with the Hydes is not stated, nor the identity of Sir Robert Hyde, of West Hatch, disclosed. Sir Robert Hyde, the Judge, who was certainly not of West Hatch, died without issue. The two pedigrees of that family in Hoare's Modern Wills contradict each other. The pedigree of South would appear to be:

AMPHILLIS, WIFE OF LAURENCE HYDE OF HEALE, AND DAUGHTER OF SIR RICHARD TICHBORNE, KNT., AND HELEN, DAUGHTER OF ROBERT WHITE, ESQ., HIS FIRST WIFE.
WHILE little is known about the family of Robert Hyde and Anne Castilian his wife, there is much recorded about that of Laurence Hyde and Barbara Castilian his wife, and dealing with them we are upon firmer ground.

1.—His eldest son Laurence was baptized in Salisbury Cathedral 10 November 1593, and only survived his father about two years, being buried there on 3 December 1643. He married Amphillis, daughter of Sir Richard Tichborne, Knight, and Helen daughter of Robert White, Esq., his first wife. The date of Amphillis Hyde's death is unknown, and the inscription upon her gravestone in Salisbury Cathedral is almost obliterated; it is intended to recut it, but it would be most desirable to add the date of her death if this can be discovered. She continued to reside at Heale after her husband's death, although, as their only son died an infant, this property had passed to Robert Hyde the next brother, and, while at Heale, she sheltered Charles II for some days in his flight, after the Battle of Worcester. The portraits reproduced of Laurence Hyde and Amphillis his wife are by Cornelius Janssen, and are in the possession of Mr. M. H. W. Devenish, of Little Durnford, who kindly contributes the photographs of these portraits to illustrate these notes. Cornelius Janssen is referred to, in Escott's Society in the Country House, p. 203:—"A Londoner by birth, he almost lived with the Thynnes, till his settlement at Amsterdam, in 1643. In the Studio set up for him in the Wiltshire house, he executed his finest portrait, that of Henry Rich, Lord Holland, himself the founder of the suburban mansion, whose fame does not yield to Longleat." Laurence Hyde died in 1643, aged 50. Possibly these portraits were painted during Janssen's residence at Longleat, and may, perhaps, also be some evidence, that the acquaintance and friendship of Laurence's grandfather, with the owner of Longleat, was continued subsequently by their descendants.

Laurence's three children were:—

1. Laurence, who died an infant.
2. Amphillis, who married, as his second wife, Thomas Chafin, of Chettle.

The inscription upon the gravestone of Lady Lowe, in Salisbury Cathedral, proves that Amphillis Hyde died before her daughter:—

H.S.E. | Domina Hellena Lowe Johannis | Lowe Equitis Aurati Uxor Cha | ra una ex natis et cohaeredibus | Laurentii et Amphillis Hyde | juxta intumulatis quae obiit | Sexto die Octobris Anno Dom | Millesimo sexcentisimo sexa | gesim primo et aetatis suae | trigesimo primo.

2.—Robert Hyde, second son of Laurence and Barbara, was baptized in Salisbury Cathedral on the 24th of February 1595/6. He married Mary Baber, of Chew Magna, Somerset, was appointed Recorder of Salisbury in 1638, and made a Serjeant-at-Law on the 19th May 1640 (Dugdale's Origines). He sat in Parliament as Member for Salisbury. Having joined the King at Oxford, he was declared to be incapacitated from sitting in the House and was committed to the Tower early in 1645, but was released on his own petition in August following. By a resolution of the Corporation on 11th May 1646, he was deprived of his Recordership “on the grounds of his continual absence from the City” (Hatcher and Benson). After the Restoration he was reinstated in that office, which he held till the 24 September 1663 (Salisbury Municipal Records); he became a Judge in 1661, and in 1663 Chief Justice of Common Pleas. He died suddenly on the Bench in May 1665, and was buried in Salisbury Cathedral, where there is a monument to him; above it are the arms of Hyde with the mark of cadency, a mullet sable, as borne by his father and grandfather, impaling argent, on a fess gules, three hawks' heads erased argent, for Baber. On the massive silver-gilt altar candlesticks, which he gave to the Cathedral, are the arms of Hyde with the mark of cadency, together with this inscription:—Ex dono Roberti Hyde Militis Capitalis Justicia'i ad Placita Coram Rege Carolo 2° tinend' Anno Dom'. 1663 (Nightingale's Church Plate of Wilts, p. 11). In 1672 Gardiner painted a posthumous portrait of him for the Corporation of Salisbury, which is now in the Council Chamber. It will be observed, that he appears to have continued to hold the office of Recorder, after he became a Judge, and to have resigned it only when he became Chief Justice in 1663. He is referred to, in error, as a son of Sir Nicholas Hyde (Wilts Arch. Mag., vol. xxii, pp. 54-62) in one of the many able and interesting articles, contributed to the magazine by the late Mr. W. W. Ravenhill, entitled, “On Murder in the XVIIth Century”, and, from a report of the case, he does not appear to have been a very capable or careful judge.

4.—Alexander, baptized in Salisbury Cathedral, 30 April 1598, according to Cassan (Lives of the Bishops of Salisbury), was born in 1597 in the parish of St. Mary's, Salisbury, i.e., The Close. Educated at Winchester, and admitted, 1617, perpetual Fellow of New College, Oxford; B.C.L. 24 April 1623; L.L.D. 1632. He married Mary, one of the fifteen children of Bishop Robert Townson, and niece of Bishop Davenant.

In 1634, he was presented to the Rectory of Wylye by Philip, 4th Earl of Pembroke; became Sub-Dean of Sarum in 1637; Prebendary of Grantham, 5 January 1638/9. He was deprived during the Commonwealth. [Walker's Sufferings of the Clergy, Part II, p. 64.]

"1645, Dec. 1. Dr. Hyde's parsonage at Wiley being sequestered, his brother, Frederick Hyde, hath been here and paid £20, but no composition is yet made." ["Falstone Day Book," Wilts Arch. Mag., vol. xxvi, p. 356.]

"1646, May 14. William Wimbleton, sen*, is become tenant to the State for the Parsonage of Wyley and Little Langford, lately belonging to Dr. Hyde, at £80, besides £20 to Mrs. Hyde for her fifths, if thought fit to be paid; if not, then the said £20 to be paid to us." [Ibid, p. 374.]

At the restoration, he obtained a Canonry, and, afterwards, the Deanery at Winchester. In 1665, he became Bishop of Salisbury; died there on the 22 August 1667, and was buried in the south aisle of the Cathedral [Jones' Fasti, p. 115], where there is a brass with an inscription and, ensigned with a mitre, the arms of the See impaling the arms of Hyde with a mullet for difference, as borne by Laurence and his descendants. The Rev. E. E. Dorling in "Notes on the Arms of Hyde," contributed to the Salisbury Field Club Transactions, vol. ii, p. 120, describes this brass at some length. It is, unfortunately, much damaged from its bad position on the floor of the south aisle.

Alexander Hyde's Will, dated 17 July 1667, was proved 29 November 1667, by Henry Parker and Giles Clotterbook.
(Carr 161), and its contents, enumerated in Cassan's Lives, are of great interest and valuable in proving that Catherine Gounter, whose baptismal register has not been found, was his sister. The Bishop mentions his kinsman, Edward Hyde of Hatch, who was probably, as stated before, a grandson of the Bishop's uncle, Robert Hyde, and a son of Laurence and Katherine; his brothers, Sir Frederick and Dr. James Hyde; his son-in-law, Henry Parker; and John Castilian. To his son Robert, he bequeaths "the Dyamonds given to his Mother by Queen Anne [wife of James I] and a dyamond ring to pass as heirlooms," together with lands at Swindon and Great Durnford. He also mentions Henry Barber, his son-in-law.

The Bishop's children were:

1. Laurence, baptized at Wylye, 12 October 1641.

2. Margaret, born 20 May 1649, baptized at Wylye, 30 May 1649, married Sir Henry Parker.

3. Robert, born 10th, baptized 17 October 1650, at Wylye, married [London Marriage Licences (Foster) 25 April 1674], first, Lady Finetta Pope, daughter of the Earl of Downe, by whom he had two sons, Edward, born, baptized, and buried at Dinton, 24 August 1676; Laurence, buried 19 January 1676/7, at Dinton, aged one year and five months, to whom there is a mural monument in Dinton with a shield of arms Hyde impaling Pope; and a daughter Mary, baptized at Tisbury, 27 August 1658, who died an infant. Secondly, at Baverstock, 26 January 1703/4, Arundell, daughter of Thomas Penruddocke, who died 29 May 1713. Robert died without issue 27 April 1722.

5. Mary, born 24 May, baptized 31 May 1653, at Wylye.
6. Elizabeth, to whom there is a monument in Salisbury Cathedral.

7. Anne, born 10 December, baptized 14 December 1654, married the Rev. Francis Eyre, D.D., Canon Residency of Salisbury; she died 4 February 1735; he died 28 October 1738. [Wilts N. & Q., vol. v, p. 53.] The Canonry occupied by Dr. Eyre is the house now occupied by Archdeacon Lear; it is mentioned and illustrated in Wilts N. & Q., vol. iv, p. 289. Over the doorway is a shield of arms carved in stone, viz.: Argent, on a chevron sable, three quatrefoils of the field for Eyre impaling Hyde, undifferenced apparently; but on the gravestones of Anne Eyre and her husband in Salisbury Cathedral are these arms: Quarterly, 1 and 4, Eyre; 2 and 3, gules, three lucies hauriant argent between nine crosslets or for Lucie. Dr. Eyre, presumably, became entitled to quarter the arms of his mother after his parents' death, and this event had not taken place, when he set up the shield of arms, over the doorway of the Canonry.

It has not been ascertained, which of the Bishop's daughters married Thomas Barber.

There is a portrait of Bishop Hyde at the Bishop's palace; it is said to have been found in an obscure cottage, and to have been given to the collection of portraits of Bishops of the Diocese, at the palace, by Bishop Fisher. By the kind permission of the Bishop of Salisbury it will be reproduced in our next Number.

FIVE ANCIENT DEEDS AT SHERSTON MAGNA.

In the Parvise of Sherston Church there are sixty-five deeds, illustrating the descent of the houses and lands of the Church Lands Trust, a kind of fabric fund, left for the maintenance of the fine old parish church. The series is nearly complete, and the whole number of documents form a catena of evidences ranging from 1404 to 1833. There are leases and releases, a will of 1404, a view of frank-pledge of 1584-5, a building contract (in English) of 1511, a deed of exchange of beast-pastures in Common-Wood of 1784. The whole of these documents are in a good state of preservation, and a credit to their guardians during the five centuries of the existence of the trust. Some of the endorsements of the seventeenth century show that the deeds were required to be produced before a Commission or in a Court of Law.

Five of these documents are here printed in extenso with the exact spelling and contractions of the originals, and with a few notes by way of illustration. These are Nos. 1, 2, 6, 16, and 34. There is a good deal of varied information about chaplains, burgages, Rectors, witnesses, brooches, images, dresses, colours, seals, quarrels, buildings, dimensions, architectural terms, windows, doors, claves, jambs, candlesticks, money, feast days, tradesmen, parish rights, and terms of tenure.

No. 1, a release (Sun. after Aug. 1, 1404) to Dom. Wm. Mollyng and John Farris, in effect constitutes them feoffees for holding 2½ burgages in Sherston for carrying out the purposes of Johanna Pekot’s will dated 27 Nov. following.

The most generally interesting is [No. 2] the will of Johanna, the well to do widow of William Pekot, and wife, by a second marriage, of Symon Baker of Scherston. Her bequests illustrate the history of costume, and before leaving her burgages to the church of Sherston, she disposes of her brooch (firmaculum) to the “Ymage of pytie” together with a “pair of pater-nosters”, a girdle (zonam) to Alice Hale, a red cloak (togam blodii coloris) to Joan ffaris, a pink coat (juppm sturgyn coloris) to Joan Sheriff, a Parisian skirt (folet de paris) to Alice Sainsbury and one to Maggie Baly, a skirt of “mouselin de soie” (folet de serico) to Alice Hemysworth, a green jupe to Alice Taylor. This represents a very fair wardrobe for a tradesman’s wife even in the borough of Sherston in the early years of the fifteenth century. The bequest of vjd to the Mother Church of Sarum is a pleasant reminder of the old connection of North Wilts with that See from A.D. 1078 to 1836 when the ecclesiastical unity of our County was severed at a blow. We have the names of two chaplains of Sherston, Dom. William Mollyng and Dom. Thomas Geffray, who I suppose served the altars of Our Lady, the Holy Cross, and St. Cyr and St. Julitta, mentioned in other ancient wills, besides instructing the children in elementary and religious knowledge. The mention of two burgages and a half recalls the existence of a Borough here, and of the lost charter which Aubrey mentions as being preserved in the parish chest (c. 1657). Half a burgage seems a curious bequest, but our forefathers sometimes bequeathed a single room. Mrs. Pekot’s will was proved before the Official of the Archdeacon of Wilts in 1406, two years after the making of it, and the seal is of great interest and beauty.

Mawde Lekeham’s release [No. 6] to Edward Hachyll of “allmanner of real and personal actions, quarrels and demands which against the aforesaid Edward I had, have, or in any wise can have in the future from the beginning of the world even to the the day of the making of these presents,” is a specimen of the usual form of quittance at that date.

The contract for the re-building of the Church-house in High Street [No. 16] is a fine specimen of English as written and spelt in 1511. The writing and spelling are very similar in the letters of King Henry VIII to the Abbot of Gloucester in 1538 preserved in the Cathedral Library at Gloucester. Probably John Tomffon gentylman, Welyam Pearce, Thomas Bryant, and Rycharde Clarke were the feoffees of the Church Lands, successors to Dom. Mollyng and John ffaris, the feoffees of 1404. The curious reduplication in the expression "the County of Wylteschere" is not unknown even in the twentieth century! It is not stated whether Richard Horsley "fre-maffon" was rebuilding an older "Church house" or whether he was provided with a plan for a new one. It is certain that the house stands on the site of the one burgage and a half given by Johanna Pekot that was in the High Street, and the necessity for rebuilding in the 2nd year of Henry VIIIth seems to confirm Aubrey's statement that "the towne was burnt temp. H. 8 since which time [the Friday Market] hath been disused . . . The charter is in the Church Chest". One half of Richard Horsley's building still remains sadly disfigured with yellow-wash and plaster, and minus the arched doorway of 1511, two of the four-light windows are still there, and there are signs of the former existence of one of the two-light windows above. The other half was rebuilt in 1859. The "graft-table" is gone. The claves and jambs of the chimney seem to imply a very comfortable chimney-nook or ingle-nook, as they evidently refer to the fire place and not to the shaft of the chimney. The prominent mention of the "canstycke . . . of fre stonne" helps to illustrate the meaning of St. Matthew V. 15.

What was a "Church-House"? We seem to know little beyond the use of them for Church Ales at Whitsuntide as a means of raising the wind for Church expenses in the days when money was scarce, and collections in church were confined to rare occasions. It was the duty of Churchwardens to cause ale to be brewed in the Autumn, and nearer the Ale Day there was also a great baking of bread and cakes. Dr. Johnson, in his Dictionary, quotes a passage from Carew in illustration of this:—"This they employ in brewing and baking against Whitsuntide." For as many days as the "Ale" continued to be held the village alehouses were closed to all customers. No such restraint was, I imagine, put upon the bakers’ output. The Churchwardens acted as hosts and the Synodsmen assisted them. On these occasions the mere sordid occupation of eating and drinking was enlivened with many of the quaint amusements of “Merrie England”. There was singing and minstrelsy and dancing, and sometimes a sort of a stage play which gave occasion to the players, all local people, to represent Kings and Queens, Bishops, and Monks, and a great variety of character in high and low life, and witty shots were fired with great impartiality at the great people in Church and State, at the local magnates, and no doubt unpopular characters got a good peppering. It was also the custom to appoint some witty fellow to be lord of this Witsun-revel. Some lines bearing on this may be quoted from Sir Philip Sidney:

“Strephon with leafy twigs of laurel tree
A garland made on temples for to wear;
For he then chosen was the dignity
Of village-lord that Whitsontide to bear.”

Shakspere alludes to the dancing on these occasions, thus:

“Nor with more (fear) than if we heard that England
Were busied with a Witson morrice dance.”

On the spouts of the North Aisle of Cirencester Church are some curious representations of a Whitsun-Ale. One boss bears the label “be merrie”, there are minstrels, some in strange attitudes, with all sorts of instruments; there are various personages, a king, a queen, a bishop, a monk, two men with daggers, a man with a sack of flour (for the bread-making), a woman with a drinking pot, and death with a bell and a shovel. This memento mori would remind the revellers of the perils of intemperance. The whole profits of the merrymaking were applied by the Churchwardens to defray ordinary Church expenses for the year. It would be interesting to know when the practice of Whitsun-Ales was discontinued. The Sherston Church House fell on evil days in the eighteenth century and was let by the Churchwardens. as a Poor-House. It is now divided into tenements, but some traces of the older arrangements still remain.

No. 34 is part of the View of Frank-pledge for 1585, at the April Court. It is a specimen of the kind of document, and of a curious kind of parochial right in a house and premises not a Church-house. It is all the more valuable as most of the Court Rolls of Sherston are lost. A few Elizabeth rolls are in the Bodleian Library, and ten of the reign of Charles the Second are in my hands by the generous gift of Mr. Fox of Yate House, who purchased them at the sale of Sir Thos. Phillipps's MSS.

1 His namesake Dom. Richd. Mollyng was V. of Sherston 1401-1407. He came by exchange from Lower Guiting V. Glones.
2 A burgage is a dwelling house in a Borough Town. Sherston had a Market Charter and a Tolsey.
3 Dom. John Warmynto became R. of Luckington 1378. He is probably the same person as Dom. John Tilley de Wormyngton who was instituted V. of Sherston, 25 July 1354, R. of Langley Burrell before 1375, exchanging in 1378 with John Turk to the R. of Rampton, Dioc. of Bath, and later in the same year with John Elys R. of Luckington.
4 Over-Street is now called the Swan Passage. It leads from High Street to Back Street.
5 St. Mary House seems to have occupied the site of the British School. The Lady Chapel is in the North Transept of the Parish Church, and St. Mary House was probably part of its endowment.

STOKES.

The notes of this family do not appear to contain the match given in the following pedigree:

Edward Stokes\textsuperscript{4} = Elizabeth James, née Jacob, Benjamin Ashe, of Westcombe, marriage = Elizabeth Stokes, of Corsham, settlement 20 May 1670; mar. at Bath Abbey, 18 Aug. 1670; Will (3 May 1673) mentions cousin Susanna Garrett (\textit{W. N. & Q.}, v. p. 105; vi, pp. 4, 5); uncle John Stoakes\textsuperscript{1} (\textit{W. N. & Q.}, v. p. 461); cousin Mrs. Mary Brodribb, uncle Samuel Ashe, wife Elizabeth. Bur. at Beckington, co. Somerset.

How was Mrs. Mary Brodribb a cousin? The match was doubtless made while Benjamin Ashe was visiting his uncle at Langley Burrell, which is contiguous to Titherton Lucas, \textsuperscript{1} These Manor dues are still paid to the chief lord of the fee, R. Estcourt Cresswell, Esq.

\textsuperscript{2} The Ives intermarried with the Tropenells of Gt. Chalfield. There is still a field in the parish at Wick called Ivy's Leaze.

\textsuperscript{3} Lammas or St. Peter chains August 1, the old English festival of first-fruits of the corn.

\textsuperscript{4} Does this show that Edward of Titherton was brother to John Stokes, of Seend, whose Will is given \textit{W. N. & Q.}, v., p. 461?
and his widow may have gone to Corsham to visit Benjamin’s sister, Mrs. Paul Methuen.

Among the Exchequer Bills and Answers in Wills (Mich. 1 Anne, no. 12) is a suit by Abjohn Stokes, of Titherton Lucas (not apparently the one mentioned above), who owed £20 to a victualler of St. Martin’s-in-the-fields, London, and gave a bond for £40. Execution was ultimately levied, according to Stokes, for an excessive amount. He brought the under-sheriff before Chief Justice Holt, who “sent the complainant about his business and said he was troublesome”.

The pleadings mention Stokes’ wife and his tenant Jones.

It is to be feared that Mr. Stokes was somewhat given to extravagant and riotous living (W. N. & Q., p. 105).

PALMER MEMORANDA.

A memorial tablet, now on the North wall of the vestry under the tower in Great Somerford Church, states that Mr. John Palmer, the writer of these notes, was "of Hardywyck, in yᵉ p'sh of Sandon in yᵉ County of Stafford, gent." [Wills Arch. Mag., vol. xxxi, p. 311]. Whether he was connected with the Palmer family, whose pedigree is recorded in the Visitation of London 1634, described as of Marston, co. Stafford, has not been ascertained. He seems to have spent the earlier portion of his married life in London and, no doubt having prospered in business, afterwards to have lived at Sandon. He died at Dauntsey,\(^1\) where, presumably, he was living with his widowed daughter, Mrs. Wayte, and was buried in Great Somerford Church. As the Registers of this parish, prior to 1707, were destroyed by fire, these notes give some information not otherwise obtainable. They are written on both sides of a narrow strip of parchment, 23 in. by 5\(\frac{1}{2}\) in., but are incomplete as a portion has been cut off at the bottom.

THE REV. JOHN COLLINSON, HISTORIAN OF SOMERSET.

In Britton's * Beauties of Wiltshire*, iii, p. 233, he is described as a native of Bromham, his father having been curate of that parish in the early part of the last century.

But a mural tablet, formerly on the north wall of the chancel at Bromham, recording the decease of the Rev. John Collinson [the father] in 1764, describes him as "hujus templi quondam vicarius".

"Deo immortali Sacrum | Hic jacet | In spem beatæ immortalitatis | Johannes Collinson | Baccalaureus Sacerdos | Hujus Templi quondam Vicarius | Obit 4 Septembris anno Christi 1764 | Ætatis inuente 50."

From the Wills Institutions, it appears that he was presented to the living of Rowde in 1762, by Edward Baynton, of Spye Park, esq., and dying in 1764, the Rev. William Higginson became his successor.

From an entry in the Rowde Parish Register, we learn that "Mr. John Collinson was instituted to the living in August 1762", and "Mr. William Higginson inducted 21 Sept. 1764", within a month of Collinson's death.

John Collinson [the son] was the author of an octavo volume, published in 1779, entitled The Beauties of British Antiquity, selected from the Writings of Esteemed Antiquaries, with Notes and Observations by John Collinson. It contained descriptions of Stonehenge, Avebury, Silbury Hill, the Barrows, Rowlright, Bath, Kenchester, Silchester, Verulam, and other like remains of the Ancient British and Roman periods. If I remember rightly, the volume was dedicated to the then owner of Bowood.

Any further notices of him, his burial place, and monument (if any) would be acceptable.

Amesbury Abbey.—In 1788 was published a poem entitled The Abbey of Amesbury, in two parts, by Samuel Birch, Author of Consilia, etc.; copies of which are very rarely to be met with.

The Gentleman's Magazine (March 1788), in a contemporary review, says:—"The Poet, an humble imitator of Mr. Pope, has chosen no uncommon subject, and has interwoven the spectre of superstition with a love tale. Some MSS. chiefly relating to this House, when it is supposed to have been in its first stage of decay, have furnished the Author with materials whereon this poem is principally founded."

Is anything further known of this book, which is printed in quarto size; or of the manuscript materials relating to Amesbury Abbey, said to have been made use of in its compilation? Had the Author access to the papers on this subject preserved at Longleat?

Gawen Family.—Information is sought as to the Gawens of Wilts and, particularly, what (if any) relationship existed between (a) the Gawins of Norrington, of whom, probably, was Nicholas Gawen, owner of lands in Westbury Parish, temp. James I.; (b) John Gawen, who in 1781 and 1785 purchased lands at Westbury; (c) Jeffrey and John Gawen, Mayors of Salisbury 1761 and 1766; (d) John Gawen of Westbury, who died in or before the year 1681. His son John Gawen, junr., was of Hawkridge, Westbury Tanner.

The Last Stuart Queen in Wiltshire.—On p. 172 of the life of The Last Stuart Queen, by Herbert M. Vaughan, F.S.A., 1910, it is related that in August 1791—"The Countess (of Albany, wife of Charles Edward, titular Charles III of Great Britain), accompanied by the poet Alfieri, next passed through Wiltshire, sleeping a night at the old coaching inn at Marlborough (one of the best hostelries in England). She was struck by the poverty and wretchedness of the inhabitants in these rural districts, and at the rags and nakedness of the children in the villages. This sad state of things in so wealthy a country, she attributes to the chicanery practised in regard to the heavy taxes imposed."

Is there anywhere any more detailed account of her visit to this county? A. S.

Hillman Family.—Can any correspondent give me information as to the Hillman family of Wiltshire, its antiquity, earliest record of use of arms, and any pedigree that may exist?

The earliest record of the family, that I know of, is the will of Thomas Hillman of Wylye, co. Wilts, dated Dec. 27th, 1579; proved April 13th, 1580. He mentions "eldest sonne" Thomas, his "youngest sonne" Thomas, daughters Susan, Johann, Anne, and Ester; John Hillman, relationship not specified (in 1607 a John Hillman, of Wilts, pleb., matriculated, Trinity College, Oxford, aged 18), and Johann, his wife, executrice.

In 1637, John Hillman, son of a Raulin Hillman of Semlye, Wilts, pleb., matriculated, Christ Church, Oxford. Several others from Wiltshire, including one from Devizes and three from Salisbury, are mentioned in Alumni Oxoniensis, from that date and as late as 1765.

A Hugh and a Thomas Hillman were living at Devizes in the middle of the seventeenth century [Wilts N. & Q., vol. vi, p. 322.]

There is a will of Robert Hillman of Ramsbury Parke, co. Wilts, gent., dated Dec. 16, 1692, proved July 26, 1694.
Mentions his wife Martha, son Robert, and daughter Martha (both under age), Anne, daughter of John Hillman Clarke, deceased, brother of the half blood, his kinsman, Rawlins Hillman of Thruxton, co. Southampton, Robert Hillman of Andover, same county. It is, undoubtedly, the above son Robert, to whom there is a monument in Chieveley Church, Chieveley, Berkshire, with Latin inscription and arms,\(^1\) viz.: Argent, three bends sable, impaling, wife’s arms, Argent, a chevron vair sable and argent between three crescents argent two and one (wife’s arms unidentified). This Robert died “Sept. 19, Anno Domini 1745, Aetatis 60.” His sister Martha married Roger Farnam, or Farnham, grandson of William Farnham, sergeant of the Counting House to King Charles II, who died in 1669.

In “Notes on Audley House, Salisbury” [Willshire Archaeological Magazine, vol. xxxvi, p. 364], there is mention of a “Raulin Hillman, whose gravestone is in the Morning Chapel of Salisbury Cathedral; it bears a shield of arms Argent, three bendlets azure within a bordure engrailed gules for Hillman,\(^2\) impaling Gules, a cross engrailed between twelve crosses crosslet fitchees argent for Brockhill. Raulin Hillman died on the 23rd June, 1741, aged 48, and Elizabeth, his wife, only daughter of Wingfield Brockhill, on the 22nd October, 1777, aged 60.”

The death of a William Hillman, alderman of Salisbury, is mentioned in the European Magazine of April, 1741; also in The London Magazine, or Gentleman’s Monthly Intelligencer, an obituary notice of a Lt.-Col. Rawlins Hillman, of the 22nd Foot, who died March 26, 1795.

1 I cannot say that these arms are accurately described, but believe they are.

2 This description tallies with that of the arms allowed to the family of Hillman of Atterhill and Furlan (now Furlong), co. Devon, at the Visitation of 1620.

Unknown Parish Registers (vol. i, p. 172).—The memorandum book described by H. J. W. May may have been a note book kept by a parish clerk in which he recorded the Baptisms, etc., as they occurred, previously to the entries being made in the Registers. The Weddings mentioned will be found in the Register of St. Thomas, Salisbury, they appear in the transcript printed by Messrs. Phillimore & Co., of 124, Chancery Lane, London.—Vol. V of the series for Wiltshire, p. 91.

J.S.

Bush (vol. iv, pp. 149, 154-5).—The following is an extract from a Will printed in The Wiltshire Times, Sept. 20:—

1543, Ap. 13. Thomas Bayly of the liberty of Trowbridge, clothman, to be buried in the church there; Keevil and Winkfield Churches each a pair of vestments; 40s. to reparation of roads; Agnes, his wife, 1000 marks and lands in Trowbridge; Christopher, his son, 200 marks, and half the household stuff in his house at Stowford, a salt of silver and gilt with cover, 12 silver spoons, and silver cup; daughter, Marian, £100; daughter, Johan Page, dwelling in London, £2 13s. 4d.; daughter, Margery Bourne, one pack of cloth of the cross mark; George Coper, £20; Philip Coper, his “sustler” £10; William Downes, £3 6s. 8d.; Edmund Page, dit.; Agnes Goldsmith, dit.; daughter, Richolde Longe, silver goblet, brim and foot partly gilded; servant, Agnes Reynolds, 20s.; each of my servants, 3s.; sons, William and Walter Baily, execs. and residuaries; overseers, Alexander Longford and Thomas Longe, both of Trowbridge; witn., Thomas Molence, parson of Trowbridge, Thomas Ireland, Sir Philip Mylton, parson of Winkfield, and John Coffyn.

Kent of Wilts (p. 238).—The Rev. Richard Kent, (1615-1692), Rector of Fisherton Anger and Sub-Dean of Salisbury, was son of Richard Kent of Boscombe, Wilts, who was probably the “Richard Kent of Bescome” who paid £10 in 1631 in the Knighthood compositions for Wiltshire (see W. N. & Q., vol. i, p. 109). He had at least one brother, William Kent, born in 1623, who took his B.A. degree at Oxford. He was probably related to the William Kent of Dinton, Wilts, who bought land at Boscombe in 1629, and who died in 1632 (see Hoare's Wiltshire).

The Rev. Richard Kent married by licence in 1639, Margaret, only daughter of Rev. William Helme, B.D. (who died a month or two before the marriage), Vicar of Bishopston, Wilts (by his wife, Margaret, daughter of William Combe, gent.), and had by her a daughter, Margaret, who married William Boucher, of the Close, Salisbury, gent., and died 20 May 1724, age 83.

Administrations of goods of Rev. Richard Kent, of the Close, Sarum, granted in 1692 to William Bouchier, of the Close, Sarum, gen., his grandson, Thomas Hancock, of New Sarum, gen., and Robert Hall of same, Innholder.

In the chancel of Fisherton Anger Church there is still a tablet as follows:—

"In memory of the Rev. Richard Kent, clerk, M.A., Rector of this Parish, and Sub-Dean of Sarum, buried 13 Oct. 1692, and of Margaret, his widow, buried 11 May, 1711."

And also another inscription, as follows:—

"In this chancel lie the remains of William Boucher of the Close of Sarum, gent., who died the 5th day of May, 1676; of Margaret, his widow, daughter of the Rev. Richard Kent A.M. Rector of this Parish, and Sub-Dean of Sarum, and Margaret his wife; who died 20th May 1724, aged 83."

The following extracts are from the Fisherton Anger Registers:

Mr. Richard Kent, minister of this parish. Buried 13 Oct. 1692.
Margarett, widow of Mr. Richard Kent, Sub-Dean of Sarum and Rector of Fisherton Anger. Bu. 11 May 1711.
Mr. William Butcher. Bu. 8 May 1676.
Mrs. Margarett Boucher widow, Bemerton. Bu. 24 May 1724.

The following marriage, recorded also in the Fisherton Anger Registers, perhaps refers to another daughter of Mr. Richard Kent:—

1663. Mr. George Clements and Mrs. Anne Kent of city of New Sarum.

ALEXANDER HYDE, BISHOP OF SALISBURY.
5.—Francis, baptized in Salisbury Cathedral September 1601, Secretary to the Earl of Denbigh, Ambassador at Venice, where he died without issue (Cassan's Lives, p. 28).

6.—Henry was baptized in Salisbury Cathedral on the 12 May 1606. According to the account in England's Black Tribunal, seventh edition, London, 1747, p. 219, of "the last dying speech and deportment of Sir Henry Hide on the Scaffold at the Royal Exchange where he was beheaded 4 March 1650, he was bred a Turkey Merchant and, after gaining considerable estate and experience, made Consul at the Morea, where his integrity and prudence drew to him such respect in those parts that H.M. King Charles II, having some occasion of correspondence at the Porte, sent him (to use his own words) Internuncio thither for the good of his merchant subjects; whereupon the rebels, by their agents, so wrought upon the Vizier that he sent him in the Smyrna fleet, with other honest persons, that sided with him into England, where, after some months' imprisonment in the Tower, he was by an High Court of Justice (which refused him the liberty of pleading in Italian, the language he was most ready and expressive in) accused of having a design of seizing those merchants' estates there and affronting Sir Thomas Bendish, the old Resident, with his new Commission. To which, although Sir Henry made a learned Defence yet it was all in vain to those who were resolved beforehand to dispatch him; so sentence of death was passed on him on the Friday before 4 March, and accordingly he lost his head 4 March 1650, the axe doing that at one blow, which his many diseases would have done within a few weeks; for he was not able to rise or fall of himself, though he was able to die.

His brother, Dr. Hide, accompanied him to the scaffold; from his conversation he may be assumed to be one of the brothers, who had the degree of a Doctor of Divinity, Alexander, Edward, or Thomas. James was Doctor of Medicine. The Archbishop of Armagh had visited him in prison through the instrumentality of the "honourable lady" (unnamed) upon whom he calls down blessings.

The monument to Sir Henry Hyde in Salisbury Cathedral, where he is said to have been buried, bears a shield of arms: Quarterly, 1 and 4 Hyde; 2 Sable, a chevron between three bulls’ heads cabossed argent for Norbury; 3, Sibbels [as on the Tisbury Brass, see ante p. 342], and was evidently set up after the Restoration; the shape of the lettering is precisely the same as that on Bishop Alexander Hyde's brass, the Bishop's daughter Elizabeth's monument, and his brother Sir Robert's monument. It bears this inscription—

Finivit vitam | Gloria Deo in excelsis | In Terris Pax | Hominibus Eudoxia | A° Aëtatis XLV.

7.—Edward, D.D., was baptized in Salisbury Cathedral on the 12 May 1606. He married Anne, d. of Thomas Lambert, and had two daughters, Margaret, married William Hearst, and Anna, married Richard Coleman, and died 16 August 1659. In 1637 he was presented to West Grimstead cum Capella Plaiteford by "Laurence Hyde, of Heale, armiger, and Hugh Grove, of Chesinbury, generous ex concess’ Henrici Compton, Mil. Baln".

According to Wood’s Alhenæ “he was sometime Fellow of Trinity College, Cambridge, afterwards Rector of Brightwell in Berkshire, from which he was ejected at the usurpation, he retired with his wife and children to Oxford and, hiring an apartment within the precincts of Hart Hall, lived there for several years, studied frequently in Bodley’s Library and preached in the Church of Halywell, in the suburbs of Oxford, to the Royal Party till he was silenced by the faction in 1658: he obtained of his exiled Majesty by the endeavours of Sir Edward Hyde his kinsman (then, though in banishment, Lord Chancellor of England) Letters Patents for the Deanery of Windsor (in the place of Dr. Christopher Wren deceased), dated in July the same year, but dying at Salisbury of the stone a little before the Restoration of King Charles II, he was never installed to that dignity, he hath written books which were taken into the hands of and perused by the Royal Party: A Christian Legacy (1657), Christ and his Church (1658), Vindication of the Church of England (1658), Christian Vindication of Truth against Error (1659), The True Catholic Tenure (1662)".

8.—Thomas, D.D., was baptized on the 31 May 1607, in Salisbury Cathedral. He was appointed to the Prebend of Stratford in Salisbury Cathedral on 21 November 1639, collated Precentor on the promotion of Humphry Henchman to the See of Sarum and to the Prebend of Teynton on the 17 November 1660, and died in 1666. He married a wife whose Christian name was Mary, but her surname has not been ascertained. Their daughter Mary, who died in 1676, married in Salisbury Cathedral 22 January 1662/3, the Rev. Samuel Fyler, who was then vicar of Dinton, and was in 1663 presented by the Bishop of Winchester to the Rectory of Stockton: in 1683 he became succentor of Salisbury Cathedral, and died in 1703.

10.—Frederick, baptized in Salisbury Cathedral 26 July 1614, was also bred a lawyer, and was at Heale when Charles II. came there after the flight from Worcester. After the Restoration he became a serjeant-at-law, and afterwards a judge in South Wales, and was knighted. He married Ann, daughter of Nathaniel Tomkins, by Cecilia Waller, of the family of Waller of Olde Stoke Cheritie, in the County of Southampton. He died in 1677. His widow died 27 June 1687, and was buried at Beaconsfield, Bucks, where there is a monument to her memory. By her will she gave to the poor of The Close of Salisbury £10 a year, charged on a farm called Sembling or Solomon's Place, Wilts.

11.—James, baptized in Salisbury Cathedral 15 May 1617, was Principal of Magdalen Hall, and is mentioned in Evelyn's diary 1604, October 24—"We [Evelyn and Lord Viscount Cornebury, eldest son of the Lord Chancellor, and afterwards second Earl of Clarendon] went in the evening to Oxford, lay at Dr. Hide's, Principal of Magdalen Hall (related to the Lo. Chancellor), brother to the Lord Ch. Justice and that Sir Hen. Hide who lost his head for his loyalty. We were handsomely entertained two dayes." He gave a pair of large footed patens to Salisbury Cathedral, described in Nightingale's Church Plate of Wilts, p. 2, and inscribed—"ex dono Jacobi Hyde", with his arms, viz., the arms of Hyde, azure, on a chevron between three lozenges or a mullet sable. He married Margaret, widow of Richard Saint Lowe of Fisherton Anger, Wilts, esquire. He was buried 7 May 1681, leaving issue:
Notes on the Hydes of Wilts and Cheshire.

1. Robert, LL.D., who died unmarried, and gave by will, dated 25 November 1722, the advowson of the Vicarage of Dinton, Wilts, and the inappropriate Rectory to Magdalen College.

12. —Charles, baptized 24 April 1619, buried 8 Nov. 1619 [Salisbury Cathedral Register].

The daughters of Laurence and Barbara were:—

1. Selina, baptized and buried 1599 [Salisbury Cathedral Register].

2. Anne, baptized in Salisbury Cathedral 1600, married Humphry Hyde of Kingston Lisle, Berks, esquire. He was of the Berkshire family seated there many years, and no relation to his wife. The arms of the Hydes of Kingston Lisle were gules, two chevronels argent. Their son William, baptized in Salisbury Cathedral September 1629, was one of the lives upon which, by a lease dated 20 May 1638, the Bishop's moiety of the workhouse premises, now Audley House, was held.

3. Catherine. No record of her baptism or marriage has been found, but she is mentioned in the will of her brother Alexander. She married Colonel Gunter.

4. Barbara, baptized 1603, buried 1608 [Salisbury Cathedral Register].

WILL OF JOHN DE WALTHAM, BISHOP OF SALISBURY.

The following document decides the birthplace of John de Waltham, Bishop of Salisbury (1388-1395), which has sometimes been ascribed to Bishop's Waltham, co. Hants. He was a native of Waltham, near Grimsby, co. Lincoln, and rising high in favour with the King [Richard II.], became Master of the Rolls, and Keeper of the Privy Seal. On the translation of Bishop Erghum to the See of Bath and Wells, he succeeded to the Bishopric of Salisbury—his consecration, which took place on 20 September 1388, being attended with extraordinary ceremony, in the presence of the King, together with many illustrious personages, and a vast concourse of people.

In 1391 he was appointed Lord Treasurer of England, and shortly before his death obtained from the Crown a grant, or confirmation, of fairs for Southbroom near Devizes, Salisbury, Ramsbury, Marlborough, and Wokingham, Berks; part of which county was then included in his diocese; also a grant of free manor for his episcopal property at West Lavington, Potterne, and Woodford.

His will, which is here printed in extenso from a transcript in the British Museum (Lansdowne M.S., 207 E, fol. 600-610), is dated at Sunning 2nd September 1395, and was proved in the Prerogative Court of Canterbury on the 26th of the same month. The accompanying notes will perhaps help to explain some of the Bishop's munificent bequests for pious and charitable uses.

1 He here desires burial in his own Cathedral Church of Salisbury—in such place as the Supervisors and Executors of his will, and the Dean and Chapter, should think fit—but the King, by whom his death was much lamented, gave orders for his interment in Westminster Abbey, to the Abbot and Convent of which he had, in his will, already made a bequest; and his remains were accordingly deposited in the Chapel of St. Edward the Confessor—the burial place of the Kings of England; where the remains of the fine monumental brass, bearing his effigy, formerly enclosed within a rich canopy, are still to be seen. Vide Wil's Brasses Pl. xxxi.

A Chantry in Salisbury Cathedral was founded by Bishop Waltham, according to the Wilts Institutions, at the altar of St. Andrew; but Dodsworth, Salisbury Cathedral, p. 168, says "the altar of the Holy Relics". It was endowed with lands in the City of New Sarum, and at the final suppression [2 Edw. VI.] John Uppington, B.A., was the incumbent, and the furniture, including books, vestments, &c., together with a chalice of silver parcel gilt, weighing nine ounces, was sold by the Crown officers to Thomas Chafyn, of Mere, 15 June 1547-8.

Bishop Waltham had an obit in the then newly founded Monastery at Edington, to which he had probably been a benefactor. See Valor Ecclesiasticus, vol. ii, p. 142.

2 It seems questionable whether the Crown sanctioned the transfer of the manors and advowsons of Steventon (Berks) and Westbury (Wilts) to the Priory of Sandleford (founded before 1205, by Jeffrey, Earl of Perche, and his wife Maud,) for the purpose intended by B'p Waltham, viz: "the finding of ten additional Canons regular, who, together with the number before appointed, should celebrate therein for the king, and the testator, their parents, friends, and benefactors for ever".

In 17 Richard II. [1393] John de Chalumley and others obtained a licence to grant these manors, formerly belonging to the Abbot of Bec in Normandy, but seized during the French wars, to John, [de Waltham] Bishop of Salisbury, and Roger Walden, Clerk, in fee; and in another Patent Roll, 1 Henry IV. [1399], we find an exemplification of a grant of the manors and advowsons of Steventon and Westbury at the request of the Abbot of Westminster, to whom they had apparently been granted by Richard II. after Bishop Waltham's death.

The Bishop's tenure of Westbury manor and advowson, and its proposed transfer to Sandelford, is apparently unnoticed by Sir R. C. Hoare.

(Benedictine)—all founded originally during the twelfth century—were in the Bishop's native county of Lincoln. Louth Park Abbey has more or less of a Wiltshire interest through its founder—Alexander, Bishop of Lincoln [1123-1147]—one of the nephews of Bishop Roger of Sarum—who figures in Devizes history when the Castle, on the overthrow of his uncle, fell into the hands of King Stephen. It was in this same year (1139) that he became the founder of his Lincolnshire Abbey at Louth Park.

1 The daughter and heiress of Stephen de Waltham, of Waltham, married John Langdale, whose heiress again married into the Yorkshire family of Skerne, who afterwards appear to have settled at Waltham. Langdale bore Sa. a chevron between three mullets arg. See Her Vis. of Lincolnshire, 1562.

2 The Bishop's particular wish that "if the bones of the body of his father could be faithfully found, they may be taken and re-placed near to the bones of his mother, and a marble slab laid down in memory of them both," seems to have been as faithfully carried out; for on removing a pew in Waltham Church (August 1849) a brass plate was found thus inscribed:—

"Hic jacent Joh'is et Margareta ux' ei quond'm pater et mater Joh'is Walth'm nup' Sar' Ep'i quor' ai'abz p'piciet' Deus Ame.'"

2 The internal measurement 60 x 16 x 19 is still the same. The Western half is still much as Richard Horsley made it, though the free-stone door is gone: the Eastern half was rebuilt in 1859 chiefly by the exertions of Mr. Samuel Byam, then churchwarden.
3 I am uncertain what a graft-table means, is it a kind of buttress; The mention of the jambs and clave of the chimney show that the fireplace is alluded to. See Parker's Glossary, vol. i, p. 100.

1 The Gores were seated at Sopworth and at Alderton on either side of Sherston, and several of them were feoffees of the Church lands.
2 The Rectory barn was at the extreme East end of the High St., on the South side of it. The National School is built on the site of it There is now no house East of the site of the barn, except the John Rattlebone Inn.
3 This "le lott subbosci" = a "lot" of underwood to be cut yearly in Silk-wood. These bosalc rights were extinguished by purchase or exchange by the late R. S. Holford, Esq., of Weston-Birt.
4 It is difficult to understand the exact bearing of this Proviso. The parishioners and churchwardens already had their own Church-house for social uses which is on the North side of High Street. This is the only document, among 65, which refers to these rights of a common use of the premises profits, etc., in Alice Watsons' house by the parishioners, the enrolment shows a determination to make them effective.

PELLING FAMILY.

In the British Museum [Harleian MS., No. 4115, fol. 4] is a manuscript entitled "Prophetia S'ti Thomæ Martyris" [a prophesy of St. Thomas the Martyr]. At the bottom is written as follows:—"This Prophesy was found in the Study of one Mr. Pelling, late Rector of Trowbridge, co. Wilts, in a very auncient MS., and is now in his Majesty's custody."

The living of Trowbridge, previously in the gift of the Duchy of Lancaster, had passed in 1561 into the hands of the great historical house of Seymour. In 1595, John Pelling¹ was presented by Edward Seymour, Earl of Hertford; and Nov. 25,

1622, his son Thomas Pelling\(^1\) was inducted to the Rectory on the presentation of William Seymour, Earl of Hertford, grandson of the former patron.

The first of these noblemen, Edward, Earl of Hertford, was eldest son of the Protector Somerset, by his second marriage with Anne, daughter of Sir Edward Stanhope. In his early days he had, as is well known, incurred the displeasure of Queen Elizabeth by marrying, without her consent, the Lady Catherine Grey, for which offence he was heavily fined in the Star Chamber, and both had to endure a nine years' imprisonment in the Tower of London, where several children were born, and Lady Catherine died 26 January, 1567-8.\(^2\) After his release from the Tower the Earl resided principally on his Wiltshire estates at Amesbury, Wolfhall, and Tottenham Park, near Marlborough, and dying in 1621, at the age of 83, was buried in Salisbury Cathedral, where there is a gorgeous monument to his memory.

The Earl's eldest surviving son Edward, born in the Tower 21 September 1561, and created Lord Beauchamp by James I, having predeceased him [at Wick, near Pewsey, he was buried at Great Bedwyn in 1612], his grandson William Seymour, succeeded as Earl of Hertford, and eventually became second Duke of Somerset in 1660. The early career of this nobleman (the patron of Trowbridge in 1622) was almost an exact counterpart to that of his grandfather. Without the consent of James I he had clandestinely married Lady Arabella Stuart, the King's first cousin, and was consequently obliged to fly the country, the unfortunate lady being committed a prisoner to the Tower, where she died in September 1615, and was buried in Westminster Abbey.

\(^1\) Son of John, Rector of Trowbridge [1595-1621]. He was baptised at Burbage, 26 Nov. 1598. Also of Magd. Coll.; matriculated 21 Jan. 1619-20, aged 20; B.A., 23 Feb. 1619-20; M.A., 11 July 1623; Rector of Trowbridge, 1622.

\(^2\) The Bible used by them during their imprisonment in the Tower, and containing entries of the births of these children, is still preserved at Longleat.
In the autumn of 1611, whilst his grandson was absent from England, the old Earl of Hertford appears to have sent to him Mr. Pelling, one of his own chaplains, and in a letter, dated 23 October 1613, speaks of "my instructions sent you by your Tutor Pellinge," perhaps the first of the Rectors of Trowbridge above referred to.\footnote{1}

In Weaver's \textit{Somerset Incumbents} is the institution of this John Pelling, S.T.B., to the Abbey Church of SS. Peter and Paul, Bath, August 3, 1608, on the presentation of the Mayor, etc.; and Dr. Rawlinson, \textit{History and Antiquities of Salisbury Cathedral and Bath Abbey}, 1723, p. 237, thus describes his monument:\footnote{2}

\footnote{1} Several later Rectors of Trowbridge were also Chaplains to the Dukes of Somerset.

\footnote{3} Mr. Pelling was succeeded in the Rectory of Bath by George Webbe, S.T.B., son of Hugh Webbe, Rector of Bromham. He was presented to Steeple Ashton by the Crown in 1605, which he appears to have held, together with the Rectory of Bath, until his promotion to the Bishopric of Limerick in 1636.
The Register of Bath Abbey thus records his burial:—

"Feb. 19. John Pellinge Bachelor in Divinitye and Parson of this Cittye who was the worthie instrument for Building the Church."

From his charitable bequests to the poor, both of Bath and Trowbridge, the following individual was apparently a descendant:—

Walter Pilling [Pelling] gave in the year 1677 a messuage and fourteen acres of land in Hunsden, co. Hertford—one moiety thereof to the use of the poor of Trowbridge—the other to the poor of the parish of SS. Peter and Paul in Bath.

Walker, History of the Sufferings of the Clergy, ii, p. 336, relates the following anecdote, of the Commonwealth period, headed Strabridge, i.e., Trowbridge, which distinctly refers to Thomas Pelling, inducted to the living in 1622.

"Pelling, D.D., Strabridge. Plundered, turned out of doors with his whole family, but immediately restored. The manner of his being reinstated was this—passing along the street with his wife and children, just as the order for his ejectment was executed on him, he fortunately met with a Colonel of Parliament, who had been his old friend and acquaintance; to whom the Doctor, upon inquiry, makes his case known, that he had been ejected for not taking the Covenant, sends for the fellow who had been ordered to tender it to him (and who on his refusal had turned him out of doors) and taking the copy of it from him gives it to the Doctor, and bids him put it in his pocket, which he accordingly did; whereupon the Colonel left him, and going to some men then in power, assured them, upon his own knowledge, that Dr. Pelling had taken the Covenant, and so gets an order for reinstating him in his living, which he was afterwards permitted to enjoy."

The following entry, perhaps, refers to a Restoration Sermon, for which the Mayor and Corporation paid the expenses of the Preacher:—

CHAMBERLAIN'S ACCOUNTS, DEVIZES.

1660 "Paid unto Bathsheba Bell for Mr. Pelling's expences when he came hither to preach—2s. 8d."

1 Canon Bowles' History of Bremhill, p. 188, says he was father to the learned Dr. Pelling, of Petworth, Sussex. A Practical Discourse concerning Holiness by Edward Pelling, D.D., Rector of Petworth, was published in 1695.
A Sermon was preached at St. Mary le Bow, London, on the occasion of the Wiltshire Feast, by Edward Pelling, Rector, 27 Nov. 1682. It is dedicated to "my worthy friends and countrymen Mr. John Davies, Mr. Corn. Dyer, Mr. W. Cleeve, Mr. J. Hunt, Mr. Wm. Davies, Mr. E. Odell, Mr. T. Jones, Mr. S. Palmer, Mr. Ant. White, and Mr. T. Fitz-Rudell".

"A Letter from Major General Ludlow [the Wiltshire Republican] to Sir E. S. [Edward Seymour] comparing the tyranny of the first four years of King Charles the Martyr with those of King James II, occasioned by Dr. Pelling's Lewd Harangues on 30th January,\(^1\) or General Madding Day."—30 pages 4to. was printed at Amsterdam 1691.

Some earlier notices of Pelling occur in Weaver's Somerset Incumbents:

Joh. Pellyn, instituted to Camely 8 Oct. 1424, on the presentation of Abbot and Convent of Bath; resigned 1451.

Richard Pellyng instituted to Stocklinch Magdalen Rectory 5 December 1570; patron Edward Seymour, Earl of Hertford, [who also presented John Pelling to Trowbridge in 1595]. He ceased 19 Nov. 1591.

John Pelling, A.B., instituted to Hardington 30 Apr. 1636; patron the Bishop, by lapse.

John Pelling, A.M., to Elme 23 June 1645; patron, Executrix of Robert Hodges, clerk. He ceased 6 April 1669.

NOTES.

Churchset.—This word, originally ciric-sceat, then church-scot, corrupted into chersetum, means, of course, a payment to the Church. From the earliest times at Martinmas it was duly paid. The tax is recognised in the laws of Knut. Stubbs, Const. History, vol. i, p. 229, asserts that the clergy received church-scot, a sort of commutation for tithe, to be paid by every householder.

Now looking through the postmortem inquisitions from 1250-1325, contained in the volume published by the Wills. Arch. Mag., I find that among the assets of each manor chersetum is entered as paid by the customars and cottars at Martinmas consisting of a cock and three hens valued at fourpence.

Thus 1309 the estate of Matthew Fitz-John is stated. After mention of ten free tenants, eleven virgators, each holding twenty-four acres, twenty-eight half-virgators, twenty-four cottars, each holding a cottage, we find that "all the said virgators, half-virgators, and cottars shall give to the lord of the manor at the feast of St. Martin for chersete six shillings and eightpence." Note that only the villeins, not the free tenants, pay the tax. A similar statement runs through all the valuations from Henry III. to Edward II. The rolls of the forty manors held 1566 by William Herbert, the first Earl of Pembroke, among the stipulations by which the copyholders, the successors of the villeins, held their lands, is the payment annually at Martinmas of one cock and so many hens for cherset.

But why should the lord of the manor receive what was evidently intended for the benefit of the Church? Two explanations are suggested, both improbable, and unsupported by evidence.

The first suggestion is that cherset was paid by the holders of church lands. As all villeins paid, and on lands belonging to the lord, this suggestion must be dismissed.

The other suggestion is that the lord at some time or other redeemed the payment to the Church, just as persons now can redeem tithe and land tax. There is no proof of any such redemption. In the case of so many manors it seems incredible.

F. Harrison.
Yoting and Twyste (p. 372).—The footnote (2) on this page is misleading. Yoting is a word in common use amongst builders. The term is applied to the pouring of molten lead, or cement, into the holes of stones made for the insertion of iron pales, etc. In this case it refers to molten brass used about the bells. Halliwell defines yote as a West country word, to pour in, and yot, to unite closely. Twyste=a hinge. This word is by no means obsolete. It is so called from originally having consisted of a twisted wire with an eye in the form of a loop which was attached to the gate and hung on the hook in the post.

Queries.

In the N. Aisle of Long Newton Church is a copper slab bearing the following inscription:—

"Here lyeth the body of GEORGE ESTCOURT, Dr in Divinity and Grande Compounder, who departed this life the Sixth day of August Ann. Dom', 1664."

What is a grand compounder? Foster (Alumni Oxon.) says "according to the catalogue of Graduates he [Geo. Estcourt] compounded for B.D. and D.D. from Trin. Coll., 3 July 1661", and also "perhaps B.D. from Hart Hall, 5 July 1638", but that hardly seems sufficient reason for calling him "grande compounder" on his tombstone. Does the expression occur elsewhere?

In the same aisle is the brass, figured in Kite's Wiltshire Brasses as that of John Eton, 1503. Canon Jackson (Aubrey, 272, note) also calls this Rector John Eton. Sir Thomas Phillipps (Inst. Wilt.) gives in 1497 the institution of Thomas Everton "per resignationem Johannis Eaton". A careful inspection of the lettering suggests to me that the correct reading of the brass itself is Eaton, the a and t being run together as often happens in monumental lettering. Will some expert come and decide the question?

Notes on Books.

Volume I, Part I, pp. v-vii; List of Illustrations, pp. i-ix, pp. 1-127.

These handsome volumes from the Chiswick Press form a very valuable addition to Wiltshire Books. The circumstances under which they were written, are fully described by Lord Radnor, in the Preface, he says “About 1889, when my Father succeeded to the property, my Mother, Helen Countess of Radnor, began to make a systematic search in the hope of finding, among the family papers in the muniment room, some records, which might throw light on the hitherto obscure origin of the collection. Her labour was rewarded by finding amongst these papers catalogues, lists and M.S. notes, referring to the pictures, etc., from about 1760-1835 and also several account books, which had been carefully kept by the first Viscount Folkestone and by the first and second Earls of Radnor. A searching perusal of these (and they cover a period of over 100 years) resulted in the discovery, not only of the dates of the different sales, where the purchases were effected, but also of the prices given for nearly all the more important pictures bought between the years 1720 and 1823."

The immediate result of these investigations was "The Catalogue of pictures at Longford Castle, and Categorical List of Family Portraits (renumbered and arranged by H. M. R.), 1890, 286 pictures," which Lady Radnor prepared and published: of this a second edition was published in 1898.

This interesting little catalogue is well known. Upon the occasion of the visit of the Wiltshire Archæological and Natural History Society to Longford in 1908, a copy was given to each visitor. In the short history of Longford, given in the preface, a little too much reliance was, perhaps, placed in the statements of the Rev. Mr. Pellatt, Lord Coleraine's chaplain, whose M.S. history is quoted.

Lord Radnor gives a list of the earlier catalogues, the earliest is dated 1760, and mentions that, in the present catalogue, "an attempt has been made to collect various opinions that have appeared in print on the principal pictures. In a few cases former ascriptions have been altered, but it has been felt better in most of the doubtful cases to retain the names, under which the pictures have hitherto passed, rather than accept too hastily the suggestions of modern critics. In the first part of the catalogue the pictures are arranged in the order in which they are hung, while Part II is devoted to the family pictures."

There are illustrations of 63 of the pictures in Part I, and of 38 of the portraits in Part II. The illustrations are done by a photogravure process and are most pleasing in effect and difficult indeed to distinguish from mezzotint. The size of each picture, the name of the painter and, where engraved, the name of the engraver, are given together with a concise account of all that is known about each picture. In some cases the pedigree of family is given, as in the case of the Kingsmill portraits by Cornelius Janssen, to try and identify the persons portrayed.

The portrait of Henrietta Maria, by Vandyke, is referred to as one of the greatest treasures at Longford, and in regard to this portrait, and that of Charles I by the same artist, there is an interesting statement concerning their probable acquirement. "When acquired, doubtful. There is no record of either of these portraits in the Longford Account Books, and the fact that the two pictures were engraved at an early date by P. de Jode, in exactly the same style as forming a pair of portraits, makes it seem probable that they may have been presented by Charles I to the 1st Lord Coleraine, who was a personal friend of the King, and that they were sold with the Castle by the 3rd Lord Coleraine, in 1717, to Sir Edward des Bouverie, from whom they have descended to the present owner." It is stated that the portrait of the Hon. Hugh Hare, eldest surviving son of Henry, second Lord Coleraine, by Kneller, was probably acquired with the Castle, in 1717, and this adds weight to the supposed acquirement of the Van Dycks. But, if Lord Coleraine did not part with Longford, by reason of financial embarrassment, it seems strange that he did not remove these pictures to the residence, Totteridge in Hertfordshire, which he preferred to Longford.

There are other Van Dycks, a charming portrait of a boy by Rubens, but, while the Van Dycks may be regarded by some as the gems of the collection, others would prefer the Claudes, the Poussins, the Teniers and the Velasquez; the truth is the value and charm of this beautiful collection is its variety.

The authors are to be congratulated upon the production of these two handsome and interesting volumes.

THE SIR LAURENCE WASHINGTON MONUMENT IN GARSDON CHURCH.
Wiltshire Notes and Queries,

SEPTEMBER, 1910.

THE WASHINGTON MEMORIALS AT GARSDON.

THERE are, in the Church at Garsdon, certain memorials of the Washington family, the most important being the handsome mural monument to Sir Lawrence Washington, who came into possession of Garsdon Manor in the earlier part of the seventeenth century. It suffered from very rough usage during the restoration of the Church in 1854. Taken down from its position on the North wall of the Chancel, the marble slab, on which is the inscription, was used as a barrow plank by the masons and broken in two. The various stones composing the monument were transferred to the Rectory stables, where they were kept for some years, and afterwards were taken back to the Church and preserved in the tower. Many were lost or stolen, and in 1877 some enterprising Americans obtaining possession of them had carried them off as far as Southampton, when the newly-appointed Rector, Dr. Gray, was luckily in time to recover them. Once more kept in the Church no one could see them without wishing that something could be done for the better preservation of these interesting fragments. A few years ago (1906) the late Bishop of New York, Bishop Potter, arranged with the present Rector to have the monument restored and replaced in its original position, the work being entrusted to Mr. H. Brakspear, F.S.A., who has been most successful in his treatment of a difficult matter. The following description of the monument, as it now is, has kindly been supplied by Mr. Brakspear.

The monument, as at present set up, consists of a black marble slab bearing the inscription, encircled by a wreath of alabaster, having spandrils of roses in the angles. On either side are twisted columns, with capitals of the Composite order supporting an entablature, having a broken circular pediment above. In the pediment is a large coat of arms, and above is a pair of reclining mourners. Below, the monument has a shelf carried by corbels under the columns, and a carved support beneath the middle part.

LAURENCE WASHINGTON

(The pious Son his Parents here inter'd
Who hath his share in Urne for them prepar'd)\(^1\)

In the pediment is a shield, bearing: Quarterly, 1 and 4, Washington (Argent, two bars gules, in chief three mullets of the second); 2 and 3\(^2\) —? (… A cross flory between four cinquefoils, or), surcharged with a crescent, or Impaling, Lewyn (Per pale gules and azure, three bucks' head couped or).

All the old pieces of the monument have been re-used, but as no drawing exists of it before it was taken down, some small details may not be exactly replaced.

The slab bearing the inscription gave the key for the design; it had been roughed for a wreath and spandrils of the size of the new ones; but whether the design of the carving is the same is impossible to say.

Both columns of black marble were left and one of the capitals, which, with a base that the column must

1 Mr. Hay suggests as a more accurate translation: "Here in Urn his parents' ashes their son took care to bury, and now he, that pious one, lies in a tomb."

2 No explanation has been given of the reason for Sir Lawrence Washington quartering these arms, which in Burke's Armoury are assigned to MERCURY.
have had, make up the height of the slab, so there can be no doubt that the position of these features is correct.

Columns always support entablatures, but of this nothing remained; however, one stone of a broken circular pediment did exist, and from its section the cornice of the entablature is ascertained.

The two mourners exactly fit the outer curve of the pediment, so these must be in their original positions. The large coat of arms would naturally occupy the spandril of the pediment and it was probably surmounted by a crest or urn.

Of the part of the monument below the slab, there can be no doubt of the position of the angel and leafwork or the console corbels. There must originally have been some sort of a pedestal as now, as one of the stones of the cornice remained.

The monument was painted and gilded, and some of this colouring still remains on the old capital and the arms.

At the time the monument was preserved by re-erection in the church, considerable "argument" was raised by the Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings against its reparation, but surely it is better to secure part of an old monument by incorporation with new stone so that it can be again erected in a church, rather than have the old fragments as a miniature rockery under the vestry table.

Sir Lawrence Washington was the only son of Lawrence Washington,¹ who was for many years Registrar of the High Court of Chancery, member for Maidstone in King James' first Parliament (1603), and resided much at Great Hadham, Herts, where his wife's family lived. This Lawrence Washington was entered of Gray's Inn in 1571, called to the Bar in ¹ He was the second son of Lawrence Washington of Sulgrave, and Anne Pargiter of Gretworth. From the elder brother Robert descended the first President of the United States.

1582, made Registrar of the Court of Chancery 24 March 1593, and had a country residence at Jordan's Hall, Maidstone. His only son was, however, born at Great Hadham, the Register of Baptisms of that parish containing the entry: "5 April 1579, Lawrence, son of Lawrence Washington, gen.", and educated at Oxford, his name occurring among the matriculations for 1594. "10 Oct., Ball: Washington, Lawrence; Herts, gent., father, 15," Reg. of Univ. of Oxford (A. Clark). We may presume that he assisted his father at the Court of Chancery, and the Calendar of State Papers (Domestic Series) contains this note: "1604, Ap. 16, Grant in Reversion to Lawrence Washington, junr., of the registrarship of books, orders, decrees, &c., in Chancery for life".

The Chrisom Book marriage entries throw a somewhat lurid light on the accuracy of the Parish Register. Eight entries in this part do not occur in the Parish Register at all; five entries are palpably wrong in one book or the other. Mr. Sadler has also pointed out to me a large number of errors of the same sort in the earlier parts. It only goes to prove how doubtful at the least was the accuracy of parish scribes.

III. Henry Hyde, the third son of Laurence and Anne Sibell was educated at Oxford, and was a student of the Middle Temple when his father died, but was not called to the Bar. After travelling abroad in Germany and Italy he returned home and "married Mary, one of the daughters and heirs of Edward Langford, of Trowbridge, in the County of Wilts, Esquire by whom in present and after her mother he had a good fortune in the account of that age". (Clarendon's Life.) "Upon his marriage Henry Hyde settled at Dinton, his mother making over to him her share of the Rectory and purchasing for him the reversion which had been devised by his father to his elder brother Laurence. During the time of Queen Elizabeth he served as a Burgess for some neighbour Boroughs in many Parliaments; but from the death of Queen Elizabeth he was never in London, though he lived above 30 years after, and his wife, who was married to him above 40 years, never was in London in her life." (Clarendon's Life.) He had four sons and five daughters. Laurence, his eldest son, died young. [On 9th October A.D. 1600 Monumental Inscription Dinton Church.] Henry died age 26, "being Master of Arts the Act. before his younger brother Edward came to the University". (Clarendon's Life.) Edward "who came afterwards to be Earl of Clarendon and Lord High Chancellor of England". "Nicholas died young" [1611 Monumental Inscription Dinton].

1597, Jan. 1. Anne christened.
1599, April 26. Elizabeth .
1600, June 15. Laurence .
1603, June 19. Mary .
1605, April 18. Sybble .
1607, June 22. Susanna .

1 This Register is in excellent preservation and is well written. I am indebted to the Rev. J. H. Audland for allowing me to examine it, as I am also indebted to the Rev. F. E. Hutchinson for access to the Tisbury Register.

The Dinton Register begins with an Entry 10 February 1558, and the first volume ends at 20 March 1653-4. It is kept in regnal years, the heading of each year being beautifully illuminated. Volume II begins 25 November 1653 with a certificate under the hand of Walter South, a Justice that Ralph Dew of Dinton had "taken his oath to be ane approved Register for the Parrish of Dinton and Teffont Magna for 3 yrs next ensuing" and ends at 1733.

The first volume from the beginning to end of 1614 is a transcript. The 39th yeare of the Raigne of Queen Elizabeth by the Grace of God, &c., was a light year for the copyist for he had only to record "In this yeare ther was nothinge done"
In new style this would be 20 February 1609.

A Mary Hyde was married at Tisbury on the 27th Sept., 1624, to John Hancock, Gent. Can she be identified with Mary, daughter of Henry Hyde?

About 1625 Henry Hyde removed from Dinton to Pirton in North Wilts, "choosing rather to live upon his own land the which he had purchased many years before and to rent Dinton which was but a lease for lives, to a Tenant". [Clarendon's Life.]

In the year 1634, being in very bad health, he resolved to settle in Salisbury to be near his Family, and took a house there and came to Salisbury, his son Edward accompanying him, on the Friday before Michaelmas day. Lord Clarendon describes how his father selected a spot to be buried in, in the Cathedral, near a kinsman of his own name, and died suddenly on Michaelmas day, Lord Clarendon says in 1632, but the Inquest Post Mortem gives the date of his death as the 29th September 1634, and the entry of burial in the Cathedral Register is " 2nd October 1634 Henry Hyde buried at night". Unfortunately no gravestone or monument to him or "his near kinsman " survives amongst the many Hyde monuments in Salisbury Cathedral.

The Langfords of Trowbridge had long been settled there, carrying on business as "Clothmen", and connected with several well known Wiltshire families. Their pedigree has been dealt with at some length by Canon Jones, in an article entitled "Lord Clarendon and his Trowbridge Ancestry", [Wills Arch. Mag., Vol. ix, p. 282], whose object was to dissipate the stories published, at different times, asserting that Mary Langford was of obscure birth. The Langfords bore arms paly of six gules and or, a bend azure.

Canon Jones refers to the custom, that Lord Clarendon seems to have introduced "which was followed by his family of invariably quartering the arms of Langford and these only with those of Hyde. There were other coats which they might have borne in their shield, but we never find them using them. Upon being raised to the Peerage, Lord Clarendon might have used the arms of Hyde only—he dropped the mark of cadency used by his father and grandfather—and it may be true that he elected to quarter his mother's arms, and in strict heraldry it is doubtful whether he could have quartered any other coats, because his father did not do so; he merely followed the ordinary rules of Armoury, and the expression that he "introduced a custom" was an unfortunate one, for he did not and this statement of Canon Jones, has been copied into other works.¹

That Lord Clarendon bore the arms of Hyde and Langford quarterly with, on an inescutcheon, because she was an heiress, the arms of his wife's family azure, a cross argent [Aylesbury] is evidenced by his arms as blazoned in Dugdale's Origines Juridicales, p. 224, and there stated to be an illustration of them in a window in the Middle Temple Hall, and also by his arms on the piece of plate given in 1684 by one Alice Denham, widow, who has never been identified, to St. Martin's Church, Salisbury. This is also confirmed by the fact that Lord Clarendon's sons bore 1 and 4 Hyde, 3 Langford, 4 Aylesbury, see Notitia Anglicana 1724, pp. 57 and 63. But when Lord Clarendon's MS. was published in 1759, eighty-five years after his death, and the Life first appeared in print, the compiler ascribed another coat to him. This is illustrated on the first folio, edition 1759, page 1, viz.: Quarterly 1 Hyde, 2 Norbury, 3 Sybbels, 4 Langford with, on an inescutcheon, Aylesbury.

There are three entries in the Register of Statute Merchant Bonds in the Muniments of the Corporation of Salisbury relating to bonds entered into by Alexander Langford, the grandfather of Mary Langford, 28 September, 4 and 5 Philip and Mary (1557). Alexander Langforde of Trowbridge, in the county of Wilts, Clothman, gave a bond for £200 to George Strangeways of Winterbourne, Muston, in the County of Dorset, Armiger.

5 July, 4 and 5 Philip and Mary (1558), Alexander Langforde of Trubbredge, in the County of Wilts, Clothier, gave a bond for £300 to Christopher Baylie of Sanfurd, in the County of Wilts, Clothier.

20 September, 5 and 6 Philip and Mary (1558), Alexander Langford and Thomas Wryte of Bathayshton, in the County of Somerset, Generosus, gave a bond for 300 marks to Giles Estcourt, of the City of New Sarum, Generosus.

IV. Nicholas Hyde, the younger son of Laurence Hyde and Anne Sibell, was also bred to the Law and became a Judge; he was made a Serjeant at Law 21 January 1626/7, and ten days later Chief Justice of Common Pleas (Dugdale’s Origines). He lived at Marlborough, married Mary, daughter of Arthur Swaine of Sarson, Hants, and purchased the Manor of Hinton Daubney, in the parish of Catherington, Hants, where he died on the 25th August, 7 Charles I (1631), Inq. P.M. There is a monument to him in Catherington Church. Lord Clarendon in his Life says that his uncle “died of a malignant fever gotten from the infection of some gaol in his summer Circuit”.

His children were, Nicholas, christened at Dinton, 3 July 1603, mentioned in his grandmother’s will, living 1604, but not mentioned again or elsewhere; Arthur, b. 1606, mentioned as living at his father’s death, and aged 24 years in the Inquest Post Mortem, 9 Sept., 9 Charles I (1633); Laurence, b. 1611; Edward, 1617; Robert; Judith, who married, 1624, Edmund Okeden; Anna; Maria; and Elizabeth (Wilts Visitation, 1623), and three children who apparently died in infancy; Robert, buried 24 Jan. 1626; Francis, buried 28 January 1626, and Elizabeth, buried 25 February 1626; to their memory there is a monument in the chancel of St. Peter’s Church, Marlborough, with the arms of Hyde as borne by Laurence and his descendants, viz., azure, on a chevron between three lozenges or; a mullet sable for difference.

The present owner of Hinton Daubney, Mr. Whalley Tooker, is stated to descend from Sir Nicholas Hyde [Church Plate of Hampshire, p. 174]. The chalice and paten at Catherington Church, of which parish Hinton Daubney is a hamlet, were given by Laurence Hyde [the eldest surviving son of Sir Nicholas] and Alice his wife, and bears this inscription "Ecclesiae Parochiali de Catherington Donum Laurentii Hyde et Aliciae uxoris suæ 1660".

The daughters of Laurence Hyde and Anne Sibell were Avys, Susan baptised at Tisbury 21 April 1574, Elizabeth and Johanna. [See ante, p. 342.]

A further piece of information has come to light. In Easter term, 37 Eliz. [1595], Anthony Ellis, the vicar of Rodburne Cheyney, brought an action in the Court of Exchequer against Roger Morsse, of Morden [?], in the parish of Radburne, yeoman, and Nicholas Ball, of Weke, yeoman, to compel payment of an annual pension of £5, which the vicars had received from the Abbey of Hales for about two hundred years. The vicar, in his bill of complaint, stated that the Abbot and Convent were seized of the Rectory of Rodbourne, and had granted the pension in augmentation of the income of the vicarage, which was so poor as to be insufficient to maintain the vicar; that Roger Morsse and Nicholas Ball had purchased the tithes of the rectory, whether in fee simple, fee tail, or for lives he did not know, and, having got into their possession the deeds referring to the pension, had refused payment for the past three years and a half. The defendant’s answer to the charge is not attached to the bill in the Public Record Office, nor has the judgment of the Court been found; but the bill is interesting as showing that the Morse family possessed part of the rectorial tithes of Rodbourne as early as the latter end of 1591. The bill is, here and there, not very legible, and Morden is assumed to be the place in Rodbourne by which Roger Morse is described from the family ownership of property there. The name probably is Morden, but it is not easy to speak decisively. William Morse, the elder, of Rodbourne Cheney, mentioned on page 363, according to his will, dated 25th August, 1578, and proved 16th October following (P.C.C., 37 Langley) had other sons besides William to whom he left lands in Heydon Weeke, Morden, etc.; Edmund his exor., John, Anthony who was under age, and Roger to whom he bequeathed a third of a farm at Weeke and “Gouldings houlde,” and the reversion of the lands left to William should the latter leave no sons. Probably this Roger was the defendant.

J. S.

Peregrine Bertie, whose marriage with Elizabeth Payne gave such dissatisfaction to Mr. John Morse, was the second son of Charles Bertie of Uffington, co. Lincoln, a grandson of Montagu, 2nd Earl of Lindsay. The wealthy banker might have viewed things differently if he could have foreseen that one of the children of this marriage would eventually succeed to the title. Elizabeth Paine was the daughter of Edward Payne, of Tockenham Wick, and Susannah Morse. She was left an orphan when quite young, and probability points to her having been brought up by her relatives in London. The Morse family there consisted of the two bankers, John Morse and his brother Henry, and their unmarried sister. There are some records of the Paine family at Rodbourne Cheney. On flat stones in the church are the following inscriptions.—

Here Lyeth ye Body of | Susanna, Relict of | EDWARD PAYNE
| She died (in London) | Dec. 1st A.D. 1724 | Aged 54

And in the Register the following entries:—

Mr. Edward Payne was buried, March ye 16th, 1722. | Mrs. Susanna Payne, widow, was buried, Dec. ye 16th, 1724. | John, son of Edward Pain, and Susanna his wife was baptized 17th June, 1706.

Peregrine Bertie, "of co. Lincoln, arm" was admitted to Lincoln's Inn, 2nd Nov. 1730 (Foster). His marriage with Elizabeth Paine took place on 23rd Dec., 1736. In the Gentleman's Magazine of the next year appears the announcement—4 Nov. Lady of Peregrine Bertie, Esq., of a son. This child was buried a year afterwards at Rodbourne:—

Peregrine Morse, son of Peregrine Bertie, Esq., and Elizabeth his wife, of Chancery Lane, in the Parish of St. Andrew's, Holborn, London, was buried Nov. 28th 1738 (Rod. Ch. Reg.)

The second son Peregrine Bertie was born 22 June, 1739, (Gent. Mag.) and Albemarle Bertie¹ 17 Sept., 1744. In later years the Berties resided at Wooburn House, Bucks. The Manor of Wooburn was part of the property of the Wharton family. The Duke of Wharton, "the scorn and wonder of our days" in Pope's scathing lines, occasionally resided at the Manor House. His extravagance necessitated the mortgaging of this estate to Col. Chatres who then for some years occupied the house. Soon after the death of the Duke in 1731, it was purchased by Mr. John Morse. In The County Journal or the Craftsman of 9th June, 1733, is the statement that "Mr. Morse, the Banker, in Fleet Street, partner with Sir Francis Child, has lately purchased the estate at Woburne, Bucks, near Maidenhead, late belonging to the Duke of Wharton, for which he paid £10,000, said to be about £1,000 per annum." Mrs. Bertie died 13th March, 1765, aged 50—Gent. Mag.: "11th March, 1765, Lady (of)

Peregrine Bertie (Esq.) in Linc. Inn Fields"—and was buried at Rodborne:—

Elizabeth, the wife of Peregrine Bertie, Esq., of Woburne, Bucks, was buried 23rd March, 1765 (Rod. Ch. Reg.).

Others of the family are buried at Woburn, where in the church are several memorials\(^1\) to them. On a tablet at the eastern end of the north aisle:—

Here lieth the body of the Right Honble. Albemarle, Earl of Lindsey, General of His Majesty's Forces, Colonel of the 89th Regt. of Foot, and some time Colonel of the 81st Regt. of Foot, or Loyal Lancashire Volunteers, which he raised for his country's service in the year of our Lord 1793. He died on the 17th of Sept., 1818, aged 74 years.

On a smaller tablet:—

Maria Bertie, wife of General Bertie, died July 19th, 1806, aged 43 years.

Miss Sophia Bertie, died June 23rd, 1772, aged 28.

Mrs. Elizabeth Bertie, eldest daughter of Peregrine Bertie, Esq., died Nov. the 17th, 1804, aged 64.

Peregrine Bertie himself died 21st June, aged 68, 1777, and was buried at Woburn. His son Peregrine, who matriculated 26 Nov., 1759, at New College, and was created M.A. in June, 1763, died unmarried 12 Oct., 1782, and is buried at Woburn. Shortly after his death, in 1784, this Manor was sold by the Berties to Mrs. Rebecca Duprê.

The circumstances which led to the connection in business between the Morses and the Childs, are not known. On the death of Sir Francis Child, the elder, in 1713, the firm,\(^2\) which for many years had been styled "Child and Rogers," became that of Robert Child, Francis Child, Henry Rogers and Henry Morse, with the title "Sir Robert Child and Company."

Sir Robert Child died in 1721, when the firm was Francis Child, Esq., Samuel Child, Henry Rogers, Henry Morse and John Morse, styling themselves "Francis Child, Esq. and Co." Henry Morse died in 1727. In Rodborne Church on

while the entry in the Register is "Mr. Henry Morse, of London, Banker, was buried 1st Sept., 1727." By his will (P.C.C. Farrant 213), proved 22 Sept., 1727, he left:—£2,000 to his sister Elizabeth; £3,000 to niece Elizabeth Payn; £150 a year to nephew John Payn; £100 apiece to Mrs. Elizabeth and Martha Collins, nieces to Mr. Alderman; £100 to his cousin Jane Morse, of Rowton, and the rest of his property to brother John Morse of the City of London, Goldsmith, and his heirs for ever. In 1736 the firm consisted of Sir Francis Child, Samuel Child, John Morse and Barnaby Blackwell, Henry Rogers having died the previous year. Mr. John Morse died 28th May, 1739, "An eminent Banker at Temple Bar and Partner to Sir Francis Child" (Gent. Mag.), but does not seem to have been buried at Rodborne. He left a large legacy to each of the senior partners of the firm and his fortune altogether was a very considerable one. It would be interesting to ascertain how an opening was afforded him into a business for which he was evidently so adapted.

THE BOY BISHOP AT SALISBURY.

This custom, anciently observed by the Choristers of Salisbury Cathedral, forms the subject of a tract included in the learned works of the Rev. John Gregory, published in 1649-50, and entitled Episcopus Puerorum in Die Innocentium; a Discoverie of an Ancient custom in the Church of Sarum of making an Anniversary Bishop among the Choristers."

The ceremonial was discovered by Gregory in the statutes of the Chapter. On St. Nicholas' day the Choristers elected from among themselves a Bishop, who, until the feast of the Holy Innocents, was appareled in episcopal vestments, and performed all the duties and ceremonies of a Bishop, excepting Mass.\(^1\)

Although long discontinued at Salisbury, and in other Cathedral Churches, it is worthy of note that the custom still survives in a small Essex parish—Berden, near Stanstead—where, on St. Nicholas' day last (6 Dec., 1910) the village choir, "in accordance with ancient custom" elected one of their number as "boy bishop". He walked in procession from the parish church through the village, wearing cope and mitre and carrying a pastoral staff, preceded by another boy as cross bearer, and followed by the rest of the village choir.

E. K.

\(^1\) But the diminutive effigy in the Cathedral, which Gregory connects with this custom, has most probably nothing to do with it, and may, as in some other instances, cover the heart of one of the actual Bishops of the See.

Duston Arms.—In Aubrey's Wiltshire there is figured a coat of arms said to be, or to have been in the Old Manor House of Alderton, viz: Gore impaling 1 and 4 Jenyns; 2 and 3 (although not named) Gules, a bull’s head cabossed argent horned or for Duston.

On a brass in Churchill Church, Somerset, to Ralph Jenyns who died in 1572, he quarters 2 Duston, 3 Burdett; these are the only two instances in which I have found on brass or stone Jenyns quartering Duston, and no instance of the latter alone.

Are there any others known in Wiltshire or elsewhere?
Where did the Duston family bearing the one bull’s head come from?

The Wiltshire coat is anterior to 1563 because when Ralph Jenyns bought Churchill in 1563, his shield already contained the three coats above mentioned, and on his death he willed them to be engraved on his monument.

Emaciated Figures (vol. iv, pp. 181, 255; vol. vi, p. 89)—An instance of this style of monument occurs in Wells Cathedral; we read in Mr. Dearmer’s Guide—

In the South Choir Aisle is the remarkable tomb of Bishop Beckington, surrounded by an exquisite iron screen of the same period. . . . . . . . . . The tomb is divided into two parts, the arcade, which forms the canopy of the lower effigy, supporting the slab, on which rests the figure of the Bishop. . . . . . . . The effigy of the Bishop rests upon it in full pontificals. Below, in strange contrast to the gorgeous vestments, which have still the remnants of the painted pattern on them, lies a corpse, almost a skeleton, in its open shroud. At first one’s feeling is that of repulsion, but it is lessened when we remember that Beckington himself had the tomb made, and consecrated it before a vast concourse of people, saying Mass for his own soul, for those of his parents, and of all the faithful departed in the January of 1542. Thus for thirteen years did this great and famous prelate live with his tomb standing as a witness to all, that . . . . . . . he knew himself to be but as other men, and could wait humbly for his end.

Hillman (p. 430).—The following may be of use. "Argent, three bends sable" is too old a coat for Hillman. Burke’s Armory gives Hillman as "Gules on a bend cotised or, three roses of the field, seeded of the second barbed vert." The bend and its cotises, might look like three bends; the whole most probably having been duabed or partially obliterated. The impaling for the wife is false, as crescents and field are both "Argent." Most probably the "vair" is not "sable and argent" but "argent and azure" which is "vair proper," the azure having got blackened with dirt; since if it was "sable and argent", it should be "vairé." To my mind it is intended to be "Gules, a chevron vair\(^1\) between three crescents argent" Goddard.

Dole Stones (vol. v, p. 140).—In the churchyard, and not far from the south porch of Edington Church, is a massive erection of a much plainer type than the examples at Potterne, Poulshot, and St. Mary’s, Devizes, which may also have served this purpose—the name of some charitable benefactor to the parish being traditionally connected with it. Is it still known as “Tubb’s Stone”? At Bishop’s Cannings there is another example, also near the south porch. E. K.

Compton South (p. 381).—The following is an abstract from Calamy’s Nonconformists Memorial:—

B.D. of Oxford. A branch of a very ancient and genteel family, educated at the Salisbury Free School; first a minister at Odyham, Hants, where he had a numerous auditory; prosecuted often in the civil courts, and in that of Bishop Seth Ward; after Charles II’s Indulgence in 1672 exercised his ministry at Ringwood, where he was frequently entertained by Lady Lisle at Moyles Court; he afterwards ministered to a large congregation at Warminster until his retirement to Donhead.

Grand Compounder (p.p. 475-6).—In Gradus da Cantabrigiam, ed. 1824, p. 53, the following definition occurs: "Grand Compounders; Gentlemen who, being blessed with a tolerable competency, enjoy the enviable privileges of paying double fees on their admission ad respondendum questioni." The earlier edition (12° 1803) gave only the definition of a "Compounder; a person whose living, or livings ecclesiastical, of what kind soever, are rated to the yearly value of 40 marks in the book of firstfruits or subsidy, and whose living temporal has been demised communibus annis at that rate or rent, or by common estimation accounted yearly worth the sum of 40 marks," p. 41. Under an university statute (49) at Cambridge they were required on occasion of any academical degree to present gowns (to*gas*) to the Chancellor, Proctors and other officials, or to pay an equivalent composition. (Stat. xlix, a.d. 1570, interpret. a.d. 1599).

Dean Peacock, in his appendix (p. xx n.) On the Statutes of Univ. of Cambridge, 1841, tells us that besides giving gowns to the Chancellor, Proctors and Scrutators, a compounder was to give 5 yards of cloth to each of the three bedels, a tunic to the bellringer, and to compound on reasonable terms ('rationabiler') Stat. Acad. p. 262) for their other fees. They commonly provided extensive entertainments, which were the subject of sumptuary laws from time to time; and finally a fixed payment of £8 6s. 8d. was accepted in lieu of all claims.

"Cumulatus" appears to have been used as a term equivalent to "Grand Compounder" who at Oxford paid about £14, Register of the Univ. of Oxford, ed. A. Clark, ii, 64, n. 218 (Oxf. Hist. Soc. 1887). If a candidate for his first degree assured the Vice-Chancellor of Oxford that he could not expect to be able to dispense £40 a year of his own, away from Oxford, for the remainder of his life, he was next asked whether he could dispense 50 shillings of his own. If he then answered "yes" he became a Petty-Compounder, and paid certain dues in addition to the ordinary fees of the poorer graduate. The Grand Compounder, who was one of the landed gentry, or a clergyman with a considerable benefice, in as much as his property or freehold was entered on the King's Books, was arrayed in a red gown (coccineus habitus) was escorted on his "round" (circulius) "visiting" by the Vice-Chancellor to the senior Proctors's residence, and so by both dignitaries to the junior Proctor's (see Oxford Statutes, IX, v, 2); and on the morning of presentation for his degree all his college turned out to do him honour, and a trumpet was blown before him. He took precedence of all in his year, excepting Fellows. Andrew Clark (ii, 64-5) shows that in the time of K. James I some of these honours were habitually declined and dispensed with; and Ayliffe speaks of Virger, Beadles, and Library Keeper (or Chaplain) as leading the way. Dr. Johnson, in his Lives of the Poets, mentions that Dr. W. King, of Christ Church, "took his degree [1688] in the most expensive manner, as a Grand Compounder; whence it is inferred that he inherited a considerable fortune."

At Cambridge, a century ago, according to the Univ. Calendar for 1802, p. 179, "A Compounder, i.e., one who has any estate, annuity, or certain income for life, of the annual value of £26 13s. 4d. pays in addition to the ordinary Fees, enumerated for every degree (or Lic. in Medicine) the sum of £8 6s. 4d. to the Proctor." The ordinary fees for B.A. alone, payable to University officials, amounted to £5 2s. 1d; in 1816, to £6 10s. The College fees for the first degree at the same date were, at Clare, £4 16s. 10d. The Camb. Calendar of 1852 (p. 39) mentions that "Ten-year men, B.D., and persons taking a degree per saltum, if Compounders, pay the Composition money for the degree, or degrees, passed over, as well as for that taken". Twenty years later "ten year men" and "compounders" were passing into oblivion, and were no more mentioned in the calendar for 1872; but Dr. (afterwards Archbishop) Benson, about that date, playfully referred to himself as a "Grand Compounder" when he sent his payment on joining the Cambridge Philological Society.

REPRESENTATION OF THE DOOM ON A WOODEN TYPANUM NOW IN NORTH AISLE OF DAUNTSEY CHURCH
THE TYMPANUM OF THE ROOD SCREEN, AS SURVIVING AT DAUNTSEY.

NE of the most striking features in pre-Reformation Churches must have been the Rood with its accompanying figures and adornments, surmounting the screen which divided the Chancel from the Nave.

Sometimes the Rood stood on the screen within the chancel arch and sometimes this arch was filled up and the Rood rested against it. The former was perhaps the more usual arrangement. In Memorials of Old Kent, Mr. Vallance writes:—"Beyond doubt the preference was for detached figures, the Rood, with its flanking images, reared in majestic isolation, and silhouetted against only the receding perspective of the quire". Frequently, however, a background was supplied for the Rood by closing up the chancel arch.

The partition or tympanum thus formed was generally of close boarding, although occasionally perforated with small lights, or hagioscopes, and so placed as to allow space for the carved Rood and figures to stand in front of it, behind and around which the clear space of the tympanum was painted, usually with scenes representing various aspects of the Last Judgment.

The array of figures, with their symbolic background richly coloured, was intended to set forth, with impressive solemnity, the central truth of Christianity.

In 1547 the decree was issued by Edward VI which led to the wholesale destruction of Roods, the order being that all images, without exception, should be removed from our Churches. Many were re-placed in Mary's reign, but, with the returning wave of Reformation on the accession of Queen Elizabeth, Roods were again attacked. In 1561, an order was issued requiring, further, that the Rood lofts should be altered and partially taken down, leaving, however, "a comely partition between the Chancel and the Church".

We can understand that, in many parishes, there would have been a disinclination to destroy beautiful and costly adjuncts of the screens, but the Visitation Articles of both Archbishop Parker and Archbishop Grindal drew attention to the necessity of obeying the order of the Queen.

Although no direct attack was made upon the Chancel tympanum, many, no doubt, perished with the Roods, and the paintings on them may often have caused them to be regarded as "superstitious", and, therefore, subject to condemnation. Peacock's Church Furniture contains definite notice of the removal of several "superstitious domes" in Lincolnshire in 1566. When not destroyed, they were frequently whitewashed over, and the Royal Arms then placed upon them.

Of late years, several have come to light, the best known being that at Wenhaston, which was accidentally discovered in 1892. What was thought to be only a whitewashed partition in the upper part of the chancel arch was taken down, and the boards laid in the churchyard. Heavy rain in the night washed off some of the plaster, exposing various painted figures. This led to further examination and a careful removal of the plaster, with the result that a remarkable painting of the Doom was laid bare. It is thought to date from about 1480.

The earliest Doom now remaining is one painted on the wall over the chancel arch at Patcham, near Brighton. Mr. P. M. Johnston, in Memorials of Old Sussex, dates this as of the last decades of the twelfth century. The treatment of the subject is more refined than in later examples. "A seated figure of our Lord, with cruciform nimbus, showing the wounds, within an aureole of irregular quatrefoil shape, the Blessed Virgin kneeling in intercession on His right, angels bearing the instruments of the Passion on His left, and a background of other angels and apostles fills the circular space at the top, and, before the feet of the Divine Judge, diminutive figures of a king and bishop are rising from their coffins as though summoned to judgment. Beneath these are seen processions of the redeemed, apparently being conducted to bliss by angels, other angels being shown as if repelling the condemned". The following local examples may be mentioned:

At St. Thomas' Church, Salisbury, a Doom painted on the wall over the chancel arch was discovered in 1880. It has been largely repainted. Our Lord in glory with outspread hands occupies the central position with the Twelve Apostles in a row below. On each side is the Heavenly City. Lower down on His right is depicted the resurrection of the just, and on His left the resurrection of the wicked, passing into the mouth of hell. Two saints are on either side of the bottom of the arch, possibly St. James and St. Thomas of Canterbury.¹

At Lydiard Tregoze, when the Church was restored in 1901, much mural painting was discovered, and over the chancel arch traces of a wooden cross² having been fixed there

² So also at Brinkworth Church, with decorations of unusual type on the wall adjoining. Some description was given of this painting by Mr. C. E. Ponting, F.S.A., when the Wilts Arch. Society visited the Church in 1906. It contains not only figures standing near the Cross but heads and busts of persons looking upwards towards the Cross. The exact subject is difficult to make out, but probably incidents connected with the Crucifixion are represented. The whole is apparently late work, the windows of Tudor type inserted in the wall, on either side of the Cross, to light the Rood Loft being of earlier date. The Crucifixion is not usually depicted in this position, but at St. Michael’s Church, St. Albans, and also at Winsham Church, Somerset, this was certainly the case.

At Winterslow, at the restoration of the Church in 1851, portions of a Doom were found which had been hidden from view by whitewash. This was as usual over the chancel arch on the west side. It was not preserved but a drawing was made of it, which is now in the Devizes Museum (Wilts Arch. Mag., vol. xxxvi, p. 19).

Through the kindness of Mr. Bligh Bond, author of Roodscreens and Roodlofts, we are able to give an illustration of a Doom painted on panels, which originally filled in the chancel arch, still remaining in Dauntsey Church. There is no record of the circumstances under which it was removed from its original position, but it is now hung on the west wall of the north aisle. The upper portion is complete, but a panel is missing from the lower part. The lower panels measure 14 ft. by 3 ft. 6 in., the upper 15 ft. 6 in. by 6 ft. in the centre, and 1 ft. 6 in. at the ends. Although some portions have decayed and there are several deep cracks, especially in the middle, the colouring is fairly bright and the design easy to trace. The Doom, according to Mr. Bligh Bond, is “depicted in the customary manner, but with some quaint and curious details”.

sun and an angel sounding the trumpet, on His right the moon. Lower down are on the one side the lost souls being driven away by an angel with a drawn sword, whilst a fiend is standing near ready to seize his victims; on the other the castellated mansions of the heavenly city, with the souls of the blessed ascending and being received at the gate by St. Peter, holding the key of admission, while an angel above sounds the note of triumph. A figure, with a trumpet above, is leaning over the walls of the city. Below, on the sinister side of the picture, is the conventional mouth of hell, depicted by a large fish's head with a swine's snout; into its extended jaws the condemned are being drawn by two fiends, each holding one end of the chain, while one unhappy being is disappearing head foremost into the abyss. Many of the dead are represented in the lower centre of the picture in their shrouds, and this is one of the curious features of this Doom. Higher up, at the feet of our Lord, kneel the B.V. Mary and St. John. The marks of a framework having been at some time attached to the front of the panel are visible. No doubt the Rood with its usual figures occupied this position.

The general treatment of this solemn subject in the Dauntsey Doom is similar to that in the Wenhamaston example and would point to its dating from the end of the fifteenth or the beginning of the sixteenth century.

Another of about the same date survives at Mitcheldean Church, Glos., in its original position, filling the space over the chancel arch, the upper four panels being occupied by the Doom and the lower four with scenes from our Lord's life.

In Gloucester Cathedral is a panel of the Doom considered to be of immediate post-Reformation date. This was discovered in 1741, at the east end of the Nave, on the wall of the Rood screen (Archaeologia, vol. xxxvi). The figure of the Virgin is omitted and the labels are in English.

Although the representations of the Last Judgment were evidently after the Reformation looked upon with disfavour, the actual tympanum structure was frequently left in situ and utilized for other adornments. By an order of 1604 it was prescribed that the Commandments should be placed on the east wall of the Church, and these, with the Lord’s Prayer and scriptural texts, were often painted close to the Royal Arms above the chancel screens. In the little village church of Ellingham, Hants, still exists an early instance of this usage.

In the Church of Little Somerford, until recently, the space above the chancel screen to the ceiling (there being no chancel arch) was entirely filled up with a partition on which was painted the Royal Arms of Elizabeth within an ornamental border, and below the text Rom. xii, 1, in lettering of same date. The lower portion of this partition, for several feet above the screen, was removed some years ago, but the Elizabethan Arms still remain.

At Alton Barnes some boarding, which for many years had enclosed the two bells of the Church, was recently examined. This proved to be the remains of the structure which formerly filled in the chancel arch. The Ten Commandments, with Royal Arms of James I and Scriptural texts in black letter, had been painted over some more ancient decoration, probably a Doom (Wills Arch. Mag., vol. xxxv, p. 10).

Instances of these later decorated Tympana occur at Wyke Champflower, near Bruton, and Molland and Paracombe, both in Devon. The one at Bridestowe, in N. Devon, with fine painted figures of Moses and Aaron on one side and of the Resurrection on the other, removed in 1869, though in private hands, is still preserved.

Modern “restoration” has led to the destruction of a large number of screens and tympanum partitions, often on the ground that such structures hindered the view of the congregation. An effective barrier between the chancel and the nave was however in early times regarded as essential. In the simple churches of the pre-Norman period a small archway in the wall at the east end of the nave communicated with the chancel, as we see in the surviving example at Bradford-on-Avon. No doubt this archway was usually closed by a curtain or veil to shroud the place of the Holy Mysteries from vulgar eyes. The use of the Lenten veil was a survival of this ancient custom, which gradually gave way before the desire of worshippers to gain a view of the chief altar, resulting in wider arches and screenwork. Yet the traditional sentiment has never been completely lost. Sparrow, in his Rationale upon the Common Prayer, 1657, writes "The whole Church typifies heaven, but the Chancel, parted and separated from the nave or body of the Church, so that it cannot be seen into by those that are there, typifies the invisible heaven, or things above the heaven, not to be seen by the eyes of flesh".

MARLBOROUGH POLL TAX, 1379.

Before the establishment of regular taxes, the subsidy known as a Poll Tax, or rate imposed on all lay persons above a standard age, was granted by the Commons in Parliament, while the Clergy were assessed in Convocation at 4s. in the pound upon the valuation of their livings. In the fifty-first year of King Edward III parliament met on 27th January and convocation on 2nd February 1377, and the Lords and the Commons formed a joint committee, on which, among others, the Bishop of Sarum and the Earl of Salisbury were appointed, and Sir T. Hungerford was speaker. A poll-tax, of a groat a head, was voted then for the first time, to enable the country to meet the French who were preparing to renew the war.\(^1\) Within half a year the old king had died, and Richard II came to the throne at the age of eleven years. In May 1379 the grant of 1377 was annulled in favour of an elaborately graduated poll-tax, under which every person above the age of sixteen was to pay at least a groat, and so, in ascending scale, the Earl of Salisbury was to contribute £4, and the John of Gaunt £6 13s. 4d.¹

This poll-tax roll, which Mr. E. A. Fry has kindly collated for us, consists of two consecutive membranes, having entries on both sides. It is headed "Burgus de Marleburgh", and in the original form begins thus:—

D. Petro Rameshull armigero, vjs. viijd.
D. Adam Kyneton libero, iijs. iiijd.
D. Ricardo Polton piscatore, xijd.

The English version which we print was made for the late Mr. Joseph Milburn, and will, we hope, be welcome to the reader. Most of the trades are given in the Latin form with a contracted termination, but some are in English.

² A duplicate of this Roll is marked 196/45. This latter roll is indented on the right hand margin, the indenture agreeing with that on the left hand margin of 196/44, which is the prime authority for our text. The handwriting on no. 45 is not so neat as that on 44. Differences between the two rolls are indicated by square brackets.

\(^1\) A man who shears the woollen cloth in manufacturing it. So 2 Hen. VI., Act iv, sc. 2 (Nares). It appears from a citation, cir. 1503, in Cowel's Interpreter, that "sherman's craft is an art used at Norwich, the artificers whereof do sheere as well Worstead, Stamins, and Fustians, as well as other wollen cloth".

\(^3\) Spelt "mustarmaker" in roll 45; "mustardier" (moutardier) is the fourteenth century form found by Dr. Murray for a maker or dealer in mustard, which was not only eaten with brawn, beef, etc., but was used at one time (according to Evelyn's Pomona) in cider-making.

\(^4\) A maker of coverlets or blankets (cf. "shalloon"), made at Chalons-sur-Marne. "Chalons" = coverlets occurs in Chaucer. "In blue shalloon shall Hannibal be clad," (Swift).

\(^6\) Mangere, old English for "monger". I have not elsewhere met with the trade of honey-monger, but before the importation of sugar this commodity must have been of considerable importance, as in the times of Moses and of Virgil.

After some objection on the part of the rector of St. Peter's, they were allowed, in 1320, to build an oratory. In 1538, T. Crumwell was informed that five Whitefriars of Marlborough were ready to take secular apparel when dissolution was imminent.

1 The rector from 1376 to 1383 was Nicholas Drayton, who had been previously rector of Shipham, Somerset, and subsequently exchanged benefices with Philip Hortford.

1 This may possibly be a female name—Juliana or Gillian.

2 Or Godhyne; but ‘John Goudhyne’ occurs in Wilts Inquis. post mortem, temp. Edw. III. (p. 114, abstract, A.D. 1910), 17 Sept., 1335, as granting lands and rent in Mantone next Marleborgh to the Prior and Convent of St. Margarets (Gilbertines), to find three canons to celebrate for souls.

Proved.

In the total number of 267 persons named in this roll as being of the age of 16 years or upwards we may reckon 206 males, but only 61 females are mentioned. Apart from some number of paupers of their sex, it might have been expected that the population of the town would include something like 150 more women in addition to the 61.³

³ Apparently no married women are mentioned in this roll and must therefore have been exempted, although Holinshed states “euerie man and woman, married or not married, being 16 yeares of age (beggars certenlie known onlie excepted), 4d.” Chron. iii, 428b.
Of the 61 women named on the roll, 2 were in business as brewers, 3 were widows, 5 are entered as daughters of their fathers (named), 41 as servants, and 10 simply by their own names. Besides the paupers unable to contribute, a certain number of clergy, regular and secular, who were taxed upon a different schedule must be added to make up the population of the time. In 1379, Nic. Drayton was rector of St. Peter’s and W. Alynston vicar of St. Mary’s, Marlborough; Ric. Syvet, Master or Prior of the Hospital of St. John the Baptist; J. Elys, Chaplain of St. Nicholas, in Marlborough Castle; Ric. Wadenho, Vicar of St. George’s, Preshute; J. Winarick was Master of “St. Thomas’s Hospital, Marlborough” (probably the same as Easton Royal) but the name of the prior of the Gilbertines of St. Margarets’ or of the Whitefriars (Carmelites) of the Priory, at that date, and the number of their respective canons or friars, I have not been able to ascertain. There was an incumbent (a friar) serving the church of St. Martin, which existed in Marlborough in 1240-1491; but I have not been able to trace the existence of any chantry in this town earlier than the middle of the 15th century. It appears from the subsidy roll of of 7° Edw. III (1333) that there were then 33 wealthy or substantial burgesses to be assessed. Their names have been given by Mr. James Waylen, Hist. of Marlborough (1854) p. 104, and should be compared with those in our poll-tax, nearly half a century later in date. The population of Marlborough in 1891 (before the boundaries were extended) was 3012; in 1833, 3038; in 1676, 3200. Marlborough Castle, vill and barton, and the warren and forest, were granted to Roger de Bellocampo (Beauchamp) in 1376. I doubt whether the inmates of the Castle were included in our roll.

WILL OF JOAN TRYE [1533], MOTHER OF THE LAST ABBESS OF LACOCK.

The document which follows is of somewhat more than usual interest. The testator, who is described merely as "Joan Trye, widow," can be easily identified as one of the eighteen children represented on the fine monumental brass in Lacock Church, commemorating Robert Baynard, Esq., of Lackham, who died 1501, and his wife Elizabeth, daughter of John Ludlow, Esq., of Hill Deverill. This memorial has already been described and illustrated by the present writer in Wilts Notes and Queries, vol. iii, Wilts Archaeological Magazine, vol. iv, and Wilts Brasses, pl. xi, p. 39.
Of the thirteen sons and five daughters, represented on the Lacock brass, the names of three only appear in the Baynard pedigree as entered by the Heralds in their Visitations of the County, namely—Philip Baynard, the heir, a younger son George, and a daughter, there described as Jane Baynard, who will be identified as Joan Trye, the present testator.

Born, no doubt, and brought up at Old Lackham House, in Lacock, which had then for more than a century been the residence of the Baynards, her paternal ancestors, she married, for her first husband, William Temmes, Esq., the then representative of a family for several generations seated at Rood Ashton. By this marriage, according to the Herald's pedigree, she had five sons, namely Robert Temmes, the heir—who is mentioned in her will—2, Philip; 3, George; 4, Christopher; 5, Thomas; and a daughter Elizabeth, married to Robert Bathe, clothier, of Bishopstrow, near Warminster.

But her will introduces us also to a more conspicuous personage in "My Lady Abbess of Lacock," who, although not really described as such, must have been another daughter, and named after herself. This is Joan Temmes, who, unlike her sister Elizabeth, had in early life taken religion, and become Lady Abbess of Lacock, her mother's native village. Here, at the date of testator's will [1533] she had already presided for some seventeen years.

So far we have the descent of Joan Trye, as well as the issue of her first marriage. Her last husband has yet to be identified. He most probably belonged to an old Gloucestershire family, but his Christian name, or his place of residence, does not occur. From a bequest in her will to her daughter-in-law Elizabeth Trye, we gather that, as he was a second husband, she also must have been his second wife.

In her last widowhood we may imagine that Joan Trye retired to Lacock—perhaps as a lay inmate of the Monastery—to spend the evening of her days under the immediate eye of her more exalted daughter, the Lady Abbess, whom she appoints overseer of her will, and whose counsel she charges and commands her two sons, as executors, upon her blessing, to follow. She desires also, because she leaves but small store of money, that after her death, her plate and best goods may be delivered into the hands of the said Lady Abbess, whom she humbly prays, in the way of charity, to advance a sum convenient for the speedy execution of her will—the plate and goods to be retained as a pledge, until such time as her executors do content and repay the same.

The executors, Christopher and Thomas Temmes, the testator's younger sons, both held office under their sister, the Lady Abbess—the former as Steward of her household, and the latter of her manor courts.

The will contains many items of interest, some of which introduce us to Lacock Abbey, and its inmates, in the days which immediately preceded its final dissolution.

In the first place the testator desires burial at Lacock, "within the Church of the Monastery, in our Lady Chapel there, beside the tomb of Dame Elinor Blewett." The Bluets, or Blewetts, were anciently lords of Lackham, which property Elinor, the heiress of Sir John, and Dame Elinor Blewett, had, about the year 1349, conveyed by marriage to Edmund Baynard, of an Essex family, testator's paternal ancestor. With Sir John Bluet apparently originated the erection of the Lady Chapel in question, which, from its date, must have been a "Decorated" addition to the "Early English" Church of the Monastery. The lords of Lacock and Lackham had, it seems, at an early period, the alternate presentation to the Rectory of Lacock. Ela, Countess of Sarum, the Foundress, had already bestowed her moiety, or half share of the advowson, on the Abbey—as did also, at a later date [1310-11] Sir John Blewett, the lord of Lackham; and consequent, it is presumed, on this latter appropriation, we find an agreement, dated 1315, between Sir John, and the then Lady Abbess—Joan de Montfort—concerning the erection of a "Chapel of our Lady adjoining the Abbey Church".\(^1\) This Chapel was evidently the burial place both of Sir John\(^2\) and Dame Elinor Blewett, and here, beside the tomb of the latter, their descendant, Joan Trye, six generations later,\(^3\) also desired burial. The Lady Abbess, too, may at this time have intended finally to rest in the same spot beside her mother.

The bequest, in lieu of forgotten tithes, to the use of the Church or Chapel of St. Edmund's, within the said Abbey of Lacock, may refer to the dedication of the Abbey Church.

Nor was the testator unmindful of the home of her first marriage. To the Chapel of Rood Ashton, and to the Holy Rood there, she bequeaths her silver pax, and two ells of holland for an altar cloth. The chapel, traditionally said to have stood here, and the Holy Rood, from which the manor—anctently held under Romsey Abbey—takes its name, are both distinctly mentioned. With the inmates of Romsey Abbey, from Saxon times, the Holy Rood seems to have been an object of especial veneration. In their Abbey Church was a Chapel thus dedicated, and, among the interesting remains of early sculpture still to be found there, are two "Roods"—one remarkable as a work of the Saxon period—the other, nearly life size, and of Norman date.\(^4\) With the devotion shown to the Holy Rood by the nuns of Romsey, within their own monastery, we may perhaps connect the his-

\(^1\) This document has been printed in Wilts Magazine, vol. xvi, by C. H. Talbot, Esq. It was purchased from a London bookseller by the late Mr. Job Edwards, of Amesbury, who bequeathed it to Mr. Talbot, and it has now found an appropriate resting place among the Abbey records preserved in the muniment room at Lacock.

\(^2\) At the tomb of Sir John Blewett there was a daily celebration, as a benefactor to the Monastery, during which four tapers were lighted. See Valor Ecclesiasticus (A.D. 1534).

\(^3\) The Baynard family appear, in the interim, to have used the south transept of the Parish Church of Lacock, as their place of burial.

\(^4\) In the earlier of these, besides the Crucifixion with the attendant figures of the Blessed Virgin and St. John, two soldiers are represented beneath, one holding a spear the other a reed and sponge. This is now preserved in the apse of the south choir aisle. The later example is tory of the Chapel, and the Holy Rood, in their Wiltshire manor of Rood Ashton, which has given the prefix to its name. Whether the “Rood” here took the form of a sculpture within the Chapel (which may have been thus dedicated) or the head of an adjacent cross, it would yet be interesting to learn—as also when both Chapel and Rood finally ceased to exist—and whether its site is known by tradition or otherwise.

We now come to the text of Joan Trye’s will:—

\textsuperscript{1} The "mountenance," or quantity of wheat thus given, we may reckon the distribution of bread, on each of these occasions, to have amounted to some 240 loaves of 2lbs. each.

\textsuperscript{2} The kerchief, or coverchief, was a square of fine linen used as a covering for the head.

\textsuperscript{3} Corporas, or corporale—the white linen cloth placed upon the altar at the consecration of the Host. It was sometimes folded and used to cover the chalice.

\textsuperscript{4} As a Canoness of St. Augustine, the Abbess would necessarily wear the habit of her order, and the fur thus bequeathed her was perhaps the only addition that could well be made to it.

\textsuperscript{5} This "bord carpett" was the covering for a table.

\textsuperscript{6} Besides the Lady Abbess and Prioress, there were in Lacock Monastery at this time 14 professed Nuns and 3 Novices. The rest of the convent consisted of 4 Chaplains, 3 waiting servants, 9 household officers, Clerk and sexton, 9 women servants, and 15 servants in husbandry —the ordinary staff thus numbering altogether some sixty persons.

\(^1\) The harness, or dress girdle, with its buckle, and pendant of silver gilt reaching to the feet, was a principal feature in the female costume of the period. It is seen in the effigy of testator's mother on the brass in Lacock Church.

\(^2\) "Nowche"—a clasp or buckle.

\(^3\) This kirtle or tunic of tawny satin of Bruges would be worn also as a waistcoat.

\(^4\) Apparently the Elizabeth Baynard, of Chippenham, whose will was proved in the Prerogative Court of Canterbury, 1540.

\(^5\) The Christian name of Ela, found at this date among the rural population of Lacock, is interesting, as showing that the memory of the foundress of the Monastery three centuries before, was not forgotten. The daily mass of requiem, maintained throughout the whole of that period within the Abbey Church, would, no doubt, have gone far towards keeping her in remembrance.

[Proved at Lambeth 9 March 1533.]

The testator could scarcely have imagined when mentioning in her will "the Lady Abbess and her successors"— and desiring burial within the Abbey Church—that in less than seven years the Monastery—as such—would be extinct, and, with its revenues, in the hands of the Crown—its inmates scattered—and the Abbey Church (the place of her burial) doomed quickly to be levelled with the ground.
Shortly after her mother's death, in 1533, the Lady Abbess must have seen evil days approaching. In 1536-7 the King's visitors (by no means friendly guests) acknowledged that the Monastery by common report was a great relief—that they can find no excesses, the inmates being, by report and in appearance, of virtuous living, all desiring to continue religious—that the house is in good state, very clean, well repaired, and well ordered—and that nothing is owing either by the Monas-

1Sir William Man and Sir William Odson were most probably two of the chaplains attached to the Abbey. John Man, a native of Lacock, and a contemporary if not a relative of the former—was educated at Winchester and New College, Oxford, where he became Fellow and a Proctor of the University. Afterwards, siding with the Reformers, he was Chaplain to Archbishop Parker, Warden of Merton, and Dean of Gloucester. In 1567 he was sent as Ambassador to Madrid by Queen Elizabeth, but recalled, and soon after his return died in London, 1568, and was buried in the Church of St. Anne, near Aldersgate St. See Woods tery or to it. Such was Lacock Abbey under the firm rule of its last Abbess—the testator's daughter—Joan Temmes.

On the 30th Jan. 1537 Lacock had a grant of "licence to continue," for which a fine of £300 (representing its net income for two years) was paid into the Court of Augmentation—but the Monastery was nevertheless dissolved, and the Abbess finally surrendered on 21 July 1539.

The estate in Rodborne Cheney of which Mr. John Morse was seized at his death, was one which had been gradually formed. A small paternal estate was increased by the purchase of various adjoining properties. The whole was sold by Peregrine Bertie, jun., in 1767, to the Rev. Arthur Evans, whose father was High Sheriff of Wilts in 1754. The deeds of this estate give some information about the Morse family. The earliest deed now existing is an Indenture of Fine between Roger Martilwright, als. Morse, Plt., and William Saunders, als. Milles, Def., Easter Term, 41 Eliz., of a messuage and certain land in Heydon Wick. This Roger Martlewright, als. Morse, was alive in 1618 when, by Indenture dated 30 Oct., he made over a messuage and certain land in Haydon Wick to Henry, one of his sons, whose will is as follows:—

In the name of God, Amen, I, Henry Martlewhte, otherwise Morse, of Luddington, in the County of Wilts, yeoman, being weak in body . . . . First I commend my soul, etc., and my body to be buried in the Churchyard of Luddington, etc. Item: I will . . . unto my son Roger and his heires all those my several parcels of freeland situate and being in Heydon Wick, in the County of Wilts, now in the possession of me the said Henry . . . Item: I will . . . unto my son Thomas . . . one tenement or dwelling house with orchard . . . in Heydon Wick, now in the possession of Joseph Armon and Margery his wife . . . Item: I give . . . unto my son John one tenement or dwellinghouse with

Proved before the Judges for Probate, etc., London, 7 Dec., 1655.

In an Indenture, dated 10th Oct. 1660, the Roger Morse mentioned in the above will is described as "yeoman, of Rodborne Cheney", but in another Indenture dated 10th March 1663, as "gent, of Bourton in the county of Berks", Anne, being his wife. Roger Morse was alive in 1697, but the following entry in the Rodborne Register probably refers to his wife. . . . Anne, wife of Mr. Roger Morse buried 20th October 1687. There were at least four children of this marriage—John, Henry, Elizabeth and Susanna.

As early as 1692 "John Morse of St. Dunstan's in the West, goldsmith," and in 1697, "John Morse of the city of London, goldsmith, son and heir apparent of Roger Morse of Haydon Week, gent., and Henry Morse of the city of What may have been another branch of the family is connected with the purchase by Mr. John Morse in 1730, from John and Francis Eyles of "the third part of the Manor of Wicke" and various messuages and lands. This "third part of the Manor of Wicke with appurtenances in Heydon" was by an Indenture, dated 11th April 1568 conveyed by Thomas Walron to William Martlewrite, als. Morse, whose son and heir apparent, John Martilwrite, als. Morse, in 1607, purchased from his father some of these messuages. The property passed into the hands of another William Martlewright, als. Morse, whose daughter, Susanna, in 1679, married John Isles—Mr. John Isles, of Charlford, in parish of Minchin Hampton, co. The only child of this marriage, Mary Iles, in 1702, was married to John Eyles, the son and heir of Sir John Eyles, Knt., and her property was put into settlement with remainder to the children of the marriage. Ultimately in 1730 Mr. John Morse purchased the property for £2,450.

Where is Horslebreadegate?—It is mentioned in a "publication of marriage" in the Chippenham Register, 1656, as though it was a parish, the other party being of Calne. Can it be a broadening of Haselbury-gate, if there is such a spot?

I shall be greatly obliged for any notes which will help me to extend this pedigree, and especially for proof that John Buckeridge of "Gersdon", was the same man who was baptized at Clyffe Pypard in 1653. I am trying to trace who Wild, father of the Rev. Theophilus Buckeridge of Lichfield, was. It is possible there was some connection between Samuel Wild and Wild Buckeridge.

NOTES.

A Great Chiverell Church Book.—A London bookseller's catalogue, of recent date, includes a volume which, from its local interest may perhaps be worthy of a note. It is a folio edition of Certaine Sermones or Homilies appointed to be read in Churches in the time of the late Queen Elizabeth of famous memory; reprinted in 1640. On the obverse side of the old calf binding, in gilt letters, is "This belongs to Cheverel Magna, 1693," and on the fly leaf a contemporary autograph—"Henrice Hammond"—perhaps that of Dr. Henry Hammond, the sequestered Canon of Christ Church, Oxford—late Chaplain to Charles I—and one of the eminent scholars employed in Walton's Polyglot.
Somerset as a Surname.—Charles Somerset created Earl of Worcester 1513-14, and died 1526, married secondly Elizabeth West, by whom he had several children. Are the names of these children known? In 1549 the Manor of Pewsey was granted to the Protector Somerset.

In 1568 an Edmond Somerset, a man of property, lived at East Martin. In 1609 an Edmund Somerset was churchwarden at Pewsey. In 1648 John Somerset, alias Cooke, was married at Pewsey to Ann Bullen. The family of Somerset alias Cooke, continues at Pewsey down to 1701, when my ancestor, Thomas Cooke, married Dorothy Summerset, alias Cooke.

It would be interesting to know the origin of the Somersets and the Somerset-Cookes around Pewsey who seem to have been always landowners, but have now died out. I am fifth in descent from the marriage in 1701, noted above—my ancestors all born in Pewsey and, so far, all buried there.

Local tradition ascribes the building of the house at Pewsey Manor to a Duke of Northumberland, who, it is said, used it as a hunting box. It was more probably erected by the "Proud Duke"—of Somerset. The Phœnix Inn at Pewsey probably owes its origin to the presence of the Duke's family—the Phœnix being a part of the Somerset Crest.

Some place names—Court Gardens, Cow Grounds, Bowling Alley, would also seem to suggest a similar origin. Other names—the Westbury, the farther Westbury Buckleaze—carry the mind further back. One may also mention in this connexion Rafin,¹ Rainscombe, Sutton Denny.² Altogether a not unworthy succession of Saxon, Dane, and Tudor memories is suggested, reaching down to the hardier yeomen of recent centuries.

Dickensiana.—In the January number of The Dickensian (vol. vii., p. 9) appears an article on Yorkshire Schools, which describes a school situated at Bowes, 300 miles from London, kept by Mr. Shaw, considered by many, apparently unjustly, as the prototype of the nefarious Squeers; in the churchyard of the parish is a stone with the following inscription:—Here lie | the remains of | George Ashton Taylor, | son of John Taylor, | of Trowbridge, Wiltshire, | who died suddenly at Mr. William Shaw's Academy, | of this place, April 13th, 1822, | Aged 19 years. | Young reader, thou must die, but after this the judgment.

Licences to Eat Flesh in Lent.—The strictness with which Lent was observed in old times is well known. Even after the Reformation its observance was enforced by proclamation, and heavy fines were levied upon butchers who ventured to kill any flesh in the time of Lent. "Consideration might" however "be had toward sick and infirm persons, and some few butchers had a license to kill flesh" (Stripe's Life of Whitgift, ii, 456). In 1562 a statute was passed which prescribed that "every Wednesday in the week was to be kept as a fish day as the Saturdays be or ought to be," also other fast days of the Church, the penalty for wilful disobedience being a fine of £3 or imprisonment for three months. By a later statute, innkeepers¹ were forbidden to provide supper for their guests on Friday night. Similar statutes were enacted from time to time, the last being in 1641. The law in this matter was enforced with stringency, especially during the Primacy of Archbishop Laud. Licenses, however, in case of need, were to be obtained, as laid down in the various statutes, when a payment had to be made graduated according to the station of the applicant. After
